CHANGES MADE IN SOUTH SIDE TEACHING CORPS

Three Teachers Leave Faculty and Six New Ones Join the Remaining Ranks.

LUNDY WELBORN COMES TO AID WITH COACHING

Al Heine, New Haven Athletic Coach Last Year, Will Teach Biology.

Six new teachers will come to South Side High School this year and three of our former teachers will be missing.

Those who will be absent this year are Miss Devitt, Miss Harden and Miss Curtis. Both Miss Devitt and Miss Harden decided to depart on a voyage over the sea of matrimony aboard the good ship "Wedlock." Mr.
Curtis will become principal of a high school at Oklahoma City, Okla.

The six new instructors will consist of Miss Ethel Bert, Miss Olive Perkins, Albert W. Heine, L. C.
Schmalzried, Miss Emma Kiefer, and Lundy E. Welborn. An assistant librarian, Miss Helen Waterfield, will help in the library this year.

Miss Bert will fill the vacancy left by Miss Harden in the Spanish department. Miss Bert studied at the Indiana State Normal School at Muncie.

Miss Perkins, from the Indiana
State Normal School at Terre Haute, will take Miss Devitt's place in the French department. Miss Perkins taught at South Side last spring for about two weeks at the end of the term when Miss Devitt became ill.

Mr. Heine will fill Mr. Curtis' vacancy. Mr. Heine served as athletic coach at New Haven High School last year. He is well qualified to teach biology as he received his B.S. degree at Purdue University.

Mr. Schmalzried will become an addition to the History staff. He studied at DePauw University where he received his A.B.

Miss Kiefer, A.B., Indiana University, will teach English. Miss Fredericka Tucker, who was on a leave of absence because of illness last year, will not be able to resume her place in the department next year.

Mr. Welborn will work with Mr.
Gilbert in training South Side athletes. He will have charge of classes in physical education and will be mentor of the football team. Mr. Gilbert has charge of the teams in baseball, track and basketball. Mr. Welborn received his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Butler College.

The new assistant librarian graduated from Central High School in 1920, later studying one year in Sul-lin College for Girls at Bristol, Virginia, and for three years at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, where she received her A.B. degree.

A few changes of duties within the staff will be made. Mr. Gilbert will have one class in Chemistry and Mr.
Welborn will teach one class in Botany.

GIVE OUT BOOK LIST TO BENEFIT PUPILS

Pupils Will Save Much Time by Having Exact Change Ready.

In order that time and confusion may be saved in buying books, the following list of school-books was announced. Students will have money ready to purchase books at the price given.

SCHOOL AND STADIUM IMPROVED THIS SUMMER

Walls and Doors Painted; Tennis Courts Built; Grass Grown on Stadium.

South Side High School looks much different and a great deal better, both inside and out, as the result of the changes and improvements made during the summer vacation.

The outer doors, which were formerly brown, are now painted green and white. The floors were all cleaned and varnished. The walls are painted brown below and yellow above while before they were yellow. The globes were all washed and polished. The lockers, desks and chairs were cleaned and polished.

The floor of the gymnasium has been scraped, sanded, painted and varnished and new letters have been painted in the center of the floor. The basketball backstops have been repainted, and decorated in green paint.

All of these improvements and changes have been made possible by Mr. Stahl, custodian of South Side High School, and the co-operation of his helpers, Mr. Mason, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Brown, Mr. Zimmerly and Mr.
Junk.

Improvements were not only made inside of the school, but the stadium has also been subject to many changes; for instance, the new tennis courts are now ready for use, grass was sown on the stadium and watered daily, requiring almost a thousand gallons of water per day.
The football goals were repainted, and the new drinking fountains on each side of the stadium are now ready for use.

FOOTBALL COACH HAS GOOD RECORD

—Courtesy of News-Sentinel.

LUNDY WELBORN
Meet Lundy Welborn, football coach, whose likeness is pictured above. He comes to South Side as Coach Gilbert's partner, and he brings an enviable record with him.

He's from Butler College, and is a disciple of Pat Page, the great coach.
During the past four years Mr. Welborn coached at Wilkinson High.
While there his teams only lost one and tied one of the last twenty games played. One of the defeated teams was coached by Mark Bills, who is the present grid mentor at Central.

Mr. Welborn was also a baseball and track star at college.

FIVE FOOTBALL GAMES WILL BE PLAYED HERE

Tech, of Indianapolis, and Central Games Expected to Draw Huge Crowds.

Five of the nine football games scheduled will be played on South Side's stadium. These include the two most important, the contest with Tech of Indianapolis and the annual clash with Central.

The schedule is as follows:
Auburn—Sept. 20, there.
Portland—Sept. 27, here.
Peru—Oct. 4, here.

HAS PART INTEREST IN NEW RIALTO BUILDING

Charles Lambrakis

TIMES GIVEN TODAY TO ALL SOUTH SIDERS

Subscription Campaign Will Begin In All Rooms During Latter Part of the Week.

NEW RECORD SYSTEM TO BE INTRODUCED

Staff Has Not Been Completed;
New Members Needed for Various Positions.

The South Side Times, best high school paper in the United States, is given free of charge today to everyone in school, to all the alumni and to some of the grade children. The next regular issue, to be published on Thursday, September 18, will be given only to subscribers.

The subscription campaign will begin the latter part of this week as soon as room agents have been chosen and the class enrollment has become settled. Teachers and pupils are asked to aid in getting the campaign under way promptly.

To Have Subscription Cards.
A new system of keeping subscriptions will be introduced this year.
Each room will be furnished with a separate record which will be identical with the one kept by the circulation manager. Any change or correction can be checked up by the room list. This room record will also enable the room agent to see that the right people will get the papers that are sent to the room, a remedy that is badly needed.

Pupils are asked to give "their money to the room agents as soon as they are appointed instead of making it necessary for the agent to hunt up the pupils, a thing that is difficult to do with the short intermission between classes.

Call Issued for Candidates.

The Times staff has not been completely organized yet. Many of the major positions and most of the minor ones are still in doubt. Pupils who are interested in doing any work on the editorial or business end of the paper are asked to come to Room 20 this week and talk it over with Miss Harvey.

A short meeting of the staff will be held Tuesday after school.

NEW QUARTERS ARE OPENED BY MUNGOVAN

South Side Undertaker Has Seven Rooms to Meet Every Need of Clients.

The Mungovan Undertaking establishment has moved from its old quarters at 1908 Calhoun street to 2114 Calhoun street.

The home occupies the whole building and is divided into seven different rooms. There are two rooms facing Calhoun street, the office and reception room. The reception room is furnished with a rug, several comfortable chairs, and a library table, while the office has the latest business equipment.

Leading from the office is the display room, which is a large place and suitably adapted to its purpose. In this room about fifty different kinds of caskets are displayed. Back of this is the stock room where the caskets that have not been opened are placed.
Next to this is the garage. Here the ambulance and two hearses are housed.

The new gray hearse is the one that President Harding was carried in.
Next to the stock room is a brightly lighted room called the morgue.
This is where the dead are embalmed, and is very white and sanitary. Connected with this is the slumber room where the dead are taken after being embalmed. This is a small room with a couch in it.

Beside this room is another small one opening off into the chapel. This is called the family room where the relatives may sit and watch the funeral.

The chapel is an extremely large room. Mr. Mungovan is planning to have regular church pews and a piano installed here, thus making it the finest equipped funeral home in the city.

RIALTO ADDS TO GROWTH OF THIS DISTRICT

New Building Houses Seven Different Occupations; the Offices Are Very Attractive.

ALL ADVERTISE IN SOUTH SIDE TIMES

Theatre Is a Masterpiece in Convenience and Beauty; Gives High Class Shows.

The south part of the city has even more than before taken on the appearance of a separate community by the opening of the new Rialto building.

On the ground floor the Rialto Theatre, the Rialto Sweet Shop, and the Wilson Dry Cleaning Company are to be found. Mrs. O. H. West's beauty parlor, Dr. Stark's offices, the office of Dr. S. G. Welty, physician and surgeon, the office of S. J. G. Zurbuch, chiropractor, and the office of the new theatre, are on the second floor. All these establishments are advertising in the Times.

The theatre was opened August 21.
Costing $150,000, it will seat 800, and is classed as one of the best in the Middle West. The management promises only the best of pictures.

The outer lobby and the box office are finished in terra cotta, with polychrome terra cotta walls and barrel ceilings. Massive drinking fountains add greatly to the attractiveness.

The inner lobby is finished in the same manner with false mirror doors and plaster-run cornices. Both the outer and inner lobbies are equipped with octagonal lighting fixtures.

Has Beautiful Dome.
The dome, the only one of its kind in the city, is an immense elliptical dome with 250 lights, and is located in the center of the ceiling. It contains dim lights of blue, amber, white and yellow, and affords many novel and entertaining lighting effects.

Ornamental plastering designed to conform to the architecture of the building, is around the walls and ceiling of the auditorium. Indirect lighting is provided by huge bowls on the upper side of each wall.

Unusual Floor.
The floor is specially built in a saucer effect, sloping toward the center, which adds to the comfort of each person in the audience and insures an unobstructed view of the screen for all. Taupe Wilton rugs are used to cover the aisles and are given velvet softness by ozite floor padding.

The chairs are provided with spring seats and padded backs and have genuine silver gray Spanish leather upholstering. A ladies' rest room is located off the auditorium on the first floor.

Stage Is Artistic.

Close attention was paid to the planning and construction of the stage and its fittings. Across the arch of the stage are puffed valance silk side tabs with decorative ornaments dropping down on each side of the covers. The covers on both sides of the screen are set off with handmade silk vases.

The latest type screen has been installed and insures bright and clean pictures. It is surrounded by genuine velour shadow boxes in front of which are the two covers, which are lined with metallic cloth. These covers are flooded with various colors of light, giving unusual effects for the stage.

A large pipe organ, the type used by the most modern theatres, is centered in the orchestra pit. The ornamental railing about the pit is draped in velour.

Lunch Parlor In Building.

The Rialto Sweet Shop occupies the corner store room of the first floor and is decorated and finished in keeping with the fixtures in the theatre.
It has the same lighting fixtures and is finished with plate glass and walnut trimmings.

Buesching & Hagerman were general contractors for the theatre building.

Officers of the theatre company are James Helotes, president, and Charles Lambrakis, secretary and treasurer. Henry Myers, formerly manager of a theatre in Lima, Ohio, and for many years connected with motion picture theatres, will be manager of the new house, with George Helotes as assistant manager.

NEW DEVICE USED TO GIVE OUT PROGRAM CARDS TODAY

Mr. Harris Originates System To Save Space and Time; Files
Made at School.

Filing boards, holding the grade cards, will be used this year to give out cards, instead of placing them on tables in the gymnasium entrances.

These boards hold 150 cards each in alphabetical order and this will make it much easier for the teachers to give out the cards. They will be hung on the wall in the gymnasium and will therefore take up much less space than they used to on the tables.
The boards also hold the remaining cards in order.

While these are not being used for this purpose, they will be convenient for use in the office.

Mr. Harris was the originator of the plan of using these boards and, together with Mr. Stahl, made them at the school.

TOTEM VOTED SECOND BEST IN COUNTRY

Qualified Judges Place It Next to Quiverian in Beauty and General Merit.

EVERY SECTION OF BOOK RATED HIGH

Score Card Indicates That Annual Has Few Weaknesses;
Cup Will Be Awarded.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Thirty-one Totems are left over from last year. One may buy one by paying the regular price of two dollars.

The Totem more than lived up to the hopes of the editors by being voted the second best annual in the United States in the national high school annual contest conducted by the Art Crafts Guild of America.

The judges were the director of the Art Institute of Chicago; Harry Hillman, editor of the Indiana Printer, and Morton Gibbons-Neff, publicity director of the Dill Collins Paper company of Chicago and an annual specialist.

The annual that placed first is the Quiverian, published by the Kansas City High School. This annual has been first in the contest for the past two years and by being selected as the best will retain permanent possession of a huge silver loving cup. The Times will be awarded a cup later.

Not Yet Official.

Official announcement of the award will not be made until later in the month, when the September issue of the Arts and Crafts Guild will be published. This magazine will tell about the contest and will contain illustrations of the Totem.

Most of the credit for the success of the book belongs to Ehrman Kiekley, who was editor of the book.

SOUTH SIDE GIRLS WIN TENNIS TITLES

Maxine Schmieder and Gertrude
Brouwer Become City
Singles Champs.

MANY CENTRAL PLAYERS

Maxine Schmieder and Gertrude Brouwer brought honor to South Side by winning the Senior and Junior titles in the girls' city tennis tournament. These were played about three weeks ago at Weisser Park.

Most of the contestants in the Senior fray were Central girls. It was the same in the Junior tilt. In the Senior affair the Central girls seemed to have an edge over the Green lassies, for only Maxine Schmieder and Veda Stevens were able to carry the colors after the second round. These two met in the finals. However, Max triumphed in the end. The games were all battles. Maxine had to fight through three games in the finals in order to carry off the honors. Gertrude had to play long sets in the finals and semi-finals in order to "bring home the bacon." The runner-up in the Junior play was also a South Side girl.

FIRST ROUND OF SENIOR PLAY.

D. Miller defeated D. Weigman—
6-3, 6-0.
V. Havert defeated E. Newell—6-4, 7-5.
D. Minier defeated J. Weiss—11-9, 6-3.
H. Hormel defeated E. Jacobs—6-4, 6-0.
M. Schmieder defeated V. Lipkey—
6-0, 6-0.
L. Ponsot defeated M. Monroe—7-5, 6-0.
V. Stevens defeated L. Bonham—
8-6, 35-6, 8-6.
A. Ferguson defeated L. Zwick—
4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

SECOND ROUND OF SENIOR PLAY.

V. Havert defeated D. Miller—8-6, 6-4.
E. Jacobs defeated D. Minier—6-3, 6-1.
M. Schmieder defeated L. Ponsot—
6-4, 7-5.

CLASSES WILL ORGANIZE SECOND WEEK OF SCHOOL

All Groups Will Elect Officers; Candidates Must Be Eligible
by Same Rules as Athletes.

The classes at South Side will not organize until the second week of school. Formerly, the Senior class would organize on the first Friday, and the other classes would hold their class meetings every Friday after that. However, Mr. Harris thinks that the pupils should have more time to get accustomed to school life before electing class officials. All the meetings will be held in one week.

There will be a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and three people on the social council, in every class. The same eligibility rule is used as applied to athletics. A pu-nil must be passing in all his studies if he wishes to hold an important position in his class.

CAFETERIA EMPLOYMENT OFFERED BOYS AND GIRLS

Miss Dixon, manager of the school cafeteria, needs help during the fourth, fifth and sixth periods. She requests that any boys or girls wishing to work during these periods see her some time Monday morning.
There has always been a big demand for these places as the work is pleasant and the remuneration satisfactory.

ALDRICH WILL LEAD TEAM THIS SEASON

—Courtesy of News-Sentinel.

Captain Eddie Aldrich needs no introduction to the football fans of South Side.

He has been a member of the squad
since the birth of the school itself.
Last year he won a place on the all-city eleven. When the Green and White lost to Tech of Indianapolis Ed was on the sick list. Rooters claim that if he had been in the line-up the score would have been different.

The captain's passion is forward passing, and he does practically all the hurrying for the team. He is a good kicker and a terror at smashing the line.

V. Stevens defeated A. Ferguson—
6-2, 1-6, 6-0.

SEMI-FINALS.

E. Jacobs defeated V. Havert—9-7, 4-6, 6-3.
M. Schmieder defeated V. Stevens—
4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

FINALS.

FIRST ROUND OF JUNIOR PLAY.

G. Brouwer defeated L. Steiss—6-1, 6-1.
F. Koegel defeated H. Gerberding—
11-9, 6-3.
L. Redding defeated P. Todd—6-4, 7-5.
R. Pape defeated L. Foster—2-6, 6-1, 6-4.
W. Kronmiller defeated R. Linde-mann—6-0, 6-0.
A. Benhoff defeated I. Miller—6-3, 6-1.
L. Newell defeated E. Dammeier—
6-33, 6-0.
M. Phipps defeated V. Todd.

SECOND ROUND OF JUNIOR PLAY.

G. Brouwer defeated F. Koegel—
6-3, 6-3.
R. Pape defeated L. Redding—6-1, 6-2.
W. Kronmiller defeated R. Benhoff—
6-1, 6-0.
L. Newell defeated M. Phipps—6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

SEMI-FINALS.

G. Brouwer defeated R. Pape—6-2, 10-8.
W. Kronmiller defeated L. Newell—
6-0, 6-0.

FINALS.

G. Brouwer defeated W. Kronmiller.

Supplies at Sanders.

School supplies, other than text books, which are to be purchased here, can be obtained at Sanders' Book Store, 3234 South Calhoun street, one block north of South Side.
This school supply house is the nearest to the building.

SCHOOL OPENS WITH LARGER STUDENT BODY

Our business in life is not to get ahead of others, but get ahead of ourselves.

So live that when your summons comes you won't have to stop and burn your books.

If the old adage, "Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder," is true, there should be a lot of joyous reunion of students and faculty. However, we're glad to see you all back, and hope that you have had a splendid vacation.

Last year South Side was successful in almost every branch conceivable. Laurels were garnered in Athletics, Journalism, Latin, Music, and in practically everything in which we competed. We're out to repeat and to try to go that record one better!

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." So runs an aged maxim. Probably last term you worked hard, but received a low grade. Here's a good chance to try the old proverb. Maybe you went out for Athletics, and failed to make the team. Here's another chance to give the adage a trial. You'll never succeed if you give up.

We are returning to books, assignments and study after about twelve weeks of vacation. Of course, it is hard to settle down for a forty-five minute period, after three months of playing, hiking and continuous activity, but it must be done. In many courses, the whole term's work centers about the principles taught during the first part of the work. One's inability to settle down and make the best of the situation, might possibly result in one's failure and would doubtlessly make the work harder throughout the year.

Today, you are receiving the first edition of the Times for this semester. Last year at Madison at the C. I. P. A. convention, the publication was judged "Best High School Paper in the United States." This is a valuable title and one which we would like to retain. We received the title through the co-operation of the staff, student body, and faculty, and this is the only way in which we can hope to hold it. You ask, "How can I help?" You can help a great deal by subscribing and urging others to do so when the subscription drive gets under way. The money received through subscriptions is only a very small part of the amount necessary to publish the paper. The other part is secured from the advertisers. The more money that is brought in through the subscriptions, the more cuts, cartoons and features the staff will be able to give you. To repeat at Madison the Times must contain them, and making them possible depends on you. Subscribe right away, and don't wait until your room agent has to chase you down.

WELCOME, CLASS OF '25!

Today, with your registration, you are making yourself a part of this democratic institution, South Side High School. How large or important a part you will become, depends almost entirely on you. So, realizing how much depends on your efforts and determination, it seems only logical that you put your best into every undertaking, in the class room, on the athletic field, or in any activity in which you might engage.

The four years which you will spend in this school can mean four years of study alone, or four years of study combined with South Side pep and enthusiasm, which means a whole lot to those who have it. The best way to get it is to begin everything with a vim and zest and a "never say die spirit."

To enter into school activities outside the class room need not result in lower grades or only partly prepared recitations. Indeed not! A real South Sider excels not only in the outside activities, but shows himself a real, earnest student.

PERSONALITY!

Is yours strong and outstanding or are you one of the multitude who are just alike? What are the strong and weak points in your personality?

Your personality is "you." Everywhere you are judged and very often by your personality. Many people, not at all beautiful, are attractive and popular because of their personality.

One's personality is made up of many small parts, each a tiny bit of you. Possibly one of the reasons you are without a host of friends is because you have not developed your personality.

Some factors in your personality are: determination, ability to judge people fairly, friendliness, dependability, neatness, self-confidence, earnestness, and cheerfulness. Do you have these?

the Toughest Thing about Vacations---

Open Letter

To the Student Body:—

It is the custom of all newspapers to have a policy by which the standard of the publication is set and maintained. The success of the Times in the past has been due largely to the high ideals and the faithful co-operation of the staffs.

We believe that it is timely, now in the first issue of the year, to announce the Times' policy. It is hoped that the members of the future staffs will endeavor to uphold the following principles as faithfully as those have done in the past.

This paper is a democratic organization. It will support all the activities and organizations of the school and will offer to all individuals who have the ability and the will to work, equal opportunity.

It will, at all times, be kept in concord with the laws of good journalism, which stand for authentic news, constructive editorial policy and correction of any chance error.

It will be ordinarily self-supporting. Any money obtained from sales or entertainments shall be used for office equipment, special editions or anything which will be of aid in the actual running or writing of the publication.

The editor-in-chief will hold office for one semester only. Other positions may be changed as work varies. No position shall be used for personal interest.

HUBERT BECK.

EATS! EATS! EATS! EATS ALL AROUND

Two Food Emporiums Across From School and a New One in Square North.

Physical food will be supplied in abundance outside of school to counteract the harmful overdose of mental nourishment that pupils will begin to absorb in great quantities tomorrow.

In addition to the high school cafeteria, two food shops will be in operation across from school and one will be in full blast a square north of the school.

One of the eateries across from school, the one in the center store room, was in operation last year, but the one to the south of this was attracted by the fact that he had heard that few pupils would be able to go home for lunch.

The one a square north of the school was formerly run by Mr. Hiron but he sold out to the Kaufmans this summer.

If pupils patronize these places as well as they do their books, there will probably be three bankruptcies, but those who know high school pupils' appetites believe that three new Rolls-Royces will beseech in this end of town.

LIBRARY WILL BE OPEN EVERY PERIOD IN DAY

As Miss Waterfield will become an assistant to Miss Schulze in the library this year, it will be possible to keep the library open every period in the day and for two hours after school. Formerly the library had to be closed at noon when most pupils and teachers desired the most to go to it.

Many new books for all departments were received this summer and have been placed on the shelves. The librarians reported to work some time before school opened and have everything in readiness for pupils and teachers.

The history and English pupils are expected, as usual, to put the library to the greatest use.

The silver trophies in the library have been recently polished.

ORGANIZATIONS

U. S. A.

The U. S. A. club, an organization of high school girls in the Freshman and Sophomore years, is the High School Girl Reserve club, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The initials in the name stand for unity, service, and appreciation respectively. The purpose of the club is "to promote friendship through working and playing together, to be loyal to the school, and to be earnest and truthful at all times. The club meets once every two weeks on Monday. The cabinet, composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and the chairmen of the program, social, service, and membership committees, together with the club advisors, make the general club plans for the year.

The U. S. A. cabinet, together with the cabinets of the So-Si-Y and U. P. D. and Friendship club of Central, attends setting-up conference at Camp Yarnelle for the purpose of discussing club problems, plans and ideas. They also plan the inter-club meetings. The members of the cabinet also automatically become members of the Inter-Club Council, which meets monthly in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms.

The various activities of the club, besides the regular meetings, are banquets, picnics and parties. Many of the holidays are also celebrated. In each semester's program there is also the installation of officers and the initiation of new members. The officers for this semester are:

President—Marjorie Reeves.
Vice-President—Marguerite Luecke.
Secretary—Phyllis Loothill.
Treasurer—Greta Astrom.

The committee chairmen have not yet been appointed.

The Junior and Senior girls are members of the So-Si-Y.

JUNIOR HI-Y.

Just what the U. S. A. means to Freshman and Sophomore girls, the Junior Hi-Y means to the boys. It is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and is affiliated with the national organization.

The organization meets every week at 6 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. The meetings are in form of banquets and cost each member 25 cents. After the feed, the business meeting and program are held.

The purpose of the club is "to develop religiously, intellectually, physically, and socially." The motto is "Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God."

Each year the club gives a Father-Son banquet, a Mother and Son banquet, two ladies' nights, a reception for the U. S. A. and a picnic.

A point system is used in the club. All the boys engage in it, and the points won by the boys through tests and services are awarded at the business meetings. There is also competition with the Central Junior Hi-Y, for at the end of the semester a banner is awarded the club having earned the most points.

THE BAND.

The South Side Band is an organization of the musically inclined. In order to encourage membership last year free lessons were given to those who were interested. The band played at many of the athletic contests and at the various "pep" meetings. It was a great factor in bettering the school spirit. Mr. Schafer, assisted by Mr. Jones, directs and teaches the members.

THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra is another of the musical organizations. It, too, is under Mr. Schafer's direction. The orchestra played at several meetings in Room S, at the "Gypsy Rover," and for the Christmas cantata, "The Nativity." They also played at the Commencement exercises.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS.

The glee clubs are composed of students from all four years. The purpose is to develop an interest in music appreciation and dramatics. The two clubs last year joined forces in giving the "Gypsy Rover" and "Nativity."

The Principal Says

South Side welcomes the beginning students and those who have come from schools outside Fort Wayne.

Teachers and pupils will be glad to help you to get started at South Side High School. Courtesy, co-operation and good will make South Side spirit.

EVOLUTION.

Freshman—I don't know.
Sophomore—I am not prepared.
Junior—I do not remember.
Senior—I don't believe I can add anything to what has been said.

TRUE! TRUE!

In grammar schools pupils skip grades. When they get to High School they skip classes.

THE SENIORS' TEN COMMANDMENTS TO FRESHMEN.

1. Thou shalt not skip classes.
2. Thou shalt not talk back to a teacher.
3. Thou shalt not bear false witness against any fellow student to get a stand in with the teachers.
4. Thou shalt not run upstairs or down.
5. Thou shalt not say the name of the Professor in vain or he will flank you.
6. Honor the Superintendent and jolly the Faculty that you may get good grades.
7. Thou shalt not ride a pony during exams for he will balk.
8. Thou shalt not bluff for verily I say unto you he will see through the ruse.
9. Love thy teachers and neighbors as thyself for on those two depend your grades.

YOU CAN'T DRAW NOTHING.

First drawing illustrating a cross section of student's brains the first day of school.

WHY STUDENTS GO CRAZY.

"Report at 8:20 Monday."
"Take the next ten pages."
"You'll have a written lesson on Friday."
"The material can be found in the library."
"Have your report cards in by Monday."
"William, hurry home now and get your lessons."
"Where to, brother?"
"The longer it takes you to settle down, why—"
"Pick up that paper."
"You can't afford any more zeros."

We spend more for chewing gum that for books. It's so much easier to exercise the chin than the mind.

TO MY BELOVED.

Her smoothest face was still and cold,
No longer did she scream;
Her rounding form I used to hold
In fondness of esteem.
She gave me now a glassy stare,
Her heart did beat no more;
Those little hands so thin and bare
Did not move as before.
Her lifeless form could only mock
And tell me of the past;
My faithful old alarm clock
Had ticked its very last.

OUR WEAKLY STORY.

The huge wave dashed angrily against the bank. He saw her white and still lying near the shore. He must save her. He had just been longing for her and there she lay still and silent. He rushed down the bank and out into the water. He would rescue her! Then a sudden wave hid her from view a moment. She was there still. He struggled on in the surging water. At last he reached the spot where she lay and picked her up and began his way back again. He struggled on through the water. Then a sudden wave tore them apart and flung him ashore. He glanced backward and with a groan of agony saw her suddenly whirled from view. Thus the poor dog turned back up the bank with a mournful look for he had lost the bone for his dinner.

PROOF?

Given: A Freshman.
Required: To prove a Freshman is an affliction.
Proof: A Freshman is new; new equals not stale; not stale equals fresh; fresh equals smart; smart equals pain; pain is an affliction. Therefore, a Freshman is an affliction.

THE DIARY OF A FLAPPER'S HAIR.

Um! I'm so long! Mary can almost sit on me. Oh! I wish she wouldn't. It hurts! Just the same I'm proud of myself. I'm so long and glossy.

Next Day:

Wish Mary would do me up. I'm so tired of being in a big pigtail down her back. Besides Lillian has her hair that way.

Few Days Later:

Mary has me all stuck full of hairpins. I'm marvelous! I overheard some one say I was "perfect mess."

The old cat!

One Year Later:

Mary says I'm a perfect nuisance to take care of and she guesses she will have me bobbed. That hurt, but perhaps I will look lots better bobbed anyway. Besides, Lillian has her hair bobbed.

Later:

I'm bobbed! I'm marvelous, free, wild, but now I dread that hot curler. It burns! —but I'm willing to endure it if I look so marvelous!

A Few Months Later:

I've been cut again. There's almost nothing left of me. Those old shears cut me off half way up the back of Mary's head. Mary wants me to curl onto her cheeks but I simply won't! Oh! how she tortures me! Curlers, glue, everything! Besides Lillian has her hair that way.

One Year Later:

Mary is trying to make me grow out again. She says bobbed hair is so common. She says in a little while she will be able to do me up under a net and no one will know I have ever been bobbed. Besides Lillian has her hair that way!

Faltering Steps of Freshmen May Be Guided By This Map

The above drawing is a map of the first floor of the school building which will be especially helpful to all newcomers to the school. The high school will occupy all of the building but the southeastern section, which will be the home of the grades for at least another semester.

This map does not indicate the rooms on the second floor. The general office and the private offices of Mr. Harris, principal, and Miss Martha Pittenger, dean of girls, are on the second floor over the Calhoun street entrance.

The cafeteria, which will be open tomorrow, is above the entrance opposite the stadium. It may be reached by the north incline or by going through the gymnasium.

The large rooms are the laboratory rooms: 76, botany; 98, physics; 2, chemistry; 14, physical geography; 24, bookkeeping; 6, typewriting; and 38, music. All of the manual training classes are held in the industrial wing, which is east of the main building.

This same incline from Calhoun street, by following it to the east the full distance, will lead to rooms 138, 140, 142, 144, 146.

Kendallville Athletic Star With South Siders

Gerry DuWan

Folks, meet Gerry DuWan, star basketball player, who is the hope and pride of this season's quintet. He hails from Kendallville, and brings a basketball record with him that will cause many eyes to pop out.

He was all district center last year, and one of the high point men on the Kendallville team. When he played against the Wardmen last year he totaled 23 points.

He's a big boy, for he stands a little over six feet in his bed-room slippers. (That's why they had to have such a long picture). And he weighs 165 pounds, is light and graceful on his feet and is an athlete every inch of the way.

Perhaps the South Siders will meet him before the basketball season opens, for he has been practicing faithfully with the football squad, and hopes to win a berth on that ship. Track will also see him next spring. If South Side had a swimming team he'd probably make that, for he is adept in that branch of sport.

All in all, Gerry is one of the best bets the South Siders have in the sport world.

SPORTS

Station Sport Shorts broadcasting first number on the program is a welcome to football and the new coach Mr. Welborn.

++ ++ ++

We might revise our yell to read "How do do, Mr. Welborn, how do do." We hope you will like our school.

++ ++ ++

Ho-hum. That song "Lazy" surely suits us today. And can you imagine that twelve days from now our padded heroes will be perspiring for the honor of South Side.

++ ++ ++

And two months from now we'll be freezing to death when we watch a game.

++ ++ ++

Which do you prefer—perspiring faces or cold feet?

++ ++ ++

We'll take both, because it's all in the game.

++ ++ ++

Doesn't the stadium look nice? The football team has been warned to treat the grass gently.

++ ++ ++

Sport Shorts signing off now. Good-night (or should we say, "good-bye") everyone.

SCHOOL BOOK STORE SAVES PUPILS MONEY

About $260 Discount Given In Total of $1,700 Worth of Business Done
This Fall.

MR. PARKS APPOINTED IN CHARGE OF SALES

Returns From Vacation Early to Have Stock Ready for Distribution.

About $1,700 worth of books were sold during the first week of school through the school book store with a saving to pupils of about $260.

The approximate amounts purchased by the different departments are as follows: English, $500; mathematics, $225; history, $270; foreign languages, $225; science, $200; modern language, $200; music, $50, and domestic science, $30.

The book room will be closed for the remainder of the semester. Any pupils not supplied should get them at the administration building at Clinton and Lewis streets.

Mr. Parks, head of the commercial department, who had charge of the selling, came back from his vacation a few days early in order to get the books properly checked up.

At the teachers' meeting on Saturday, the approximate number of books needed by the various departments was decided upon and Mr.
Parks, with the assistance of Mr.
Whelan, had the books checked to the different departments ready for sale
Monday morning.

After the eight short periods, Monday, the books were placed on sale and at the close of the day the unsold books were returned to the book room where they have been on sale each day up to Friday.

ALUMNI MAY TAKE I. U. FRESHMAN WORK HERE

Extension Division Course Will Enable Student to Enter as Sophomore

The University of Indiana has established a branch of its courses in Fort Wayne for the benefit of high school graduates and others who cannot attend college immediately.

By taking the extension courses
many Fort Wayne teachers, bankers, clerks, salesmen, stenographers, correspondents, efficiency experts, and representatives of more than seventy-five other vocations have been able to secure instruction which has made them better fitted to do their work well and to advance to better paying positions. A great many people take it merely for cultural value. Others take it for regular university credit to apply toward a degree.

A full freshman course which will enable one to enter any university or college with a sophomore standing can be taken, or just one or two courses in professional, business, and cultural subjects.

The tentative outline of the freshman course is: (First semester) English, French or Spanish, hygiene, and mathematics or chemistry. The second semester instead of hygiene is physiology or eugenics.

Other courses which are not strictly freshman subjects, that may be taken are: Dramatic art, vocal expression, music, literature, public speaking,
radio, accounting, and many others that are listed in the bulletin which is sent out by the Fort Wayne Extension Center the office of which is on the third floor of the Allen County Court House.

The classes meet evenings in the Central High School beginning September 22.

SPOTLIGHT INCREASES SIZE TO SIX COLUMNS

The Spotlight, weekly paper at Central High School, followed the trend of other publications, and is now publishing a six-column paper. Last week they printed six pages, and will put out a paper this size from time to time.

The Spotlight will also be issued to subscribers on Thursday. The old method of selling the papers exclusively in the halls has been abandoned as a subscription list will be maintained.

HI-YERS WILL CONFER AT TRI-LAKE SATURDAY

The conference of the Hi-Y clubs in the Fort Wayne High Schools will be held next Saturday at Tri-Lake to plan the activities of the coming year.

It is planned to take the boys to the lake in automobiles. Any member may go if he pays his expenses, which will not be more than five dollars, Y. M. C. A. officials announce.

THURSDAY PICKED FOR GLEE CLUB MEETINGS

That the Girls' Glee Club will meet for the rest of the year on Thursday evenings was decided at the first meeting of the year held Tuesday in Room 38 under the direction of Mr. Schafer.
The next meeting will be held a week from today, when officers will be elected.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS PLAN MANY ACTIVITIES

Mr. Schafer Will Be Able to Devote
All of His Time to South Side.

A big year is predicted by Mr.
Schafer for musical organizations for this year. Mr. Schafer will devote all of his time to South Side and promises a much larger band and orchestra than those of previous years.
There will be a boys' glee club and a girls' glee club. A boys' and a girls' quartet will also be included in the music department.

Music history and harmony are taught by Mr. Schafer, and this year's classes are larger than ever before.

Mr. Schafer will not have to give part of his time to Central, as William Sur will teach at Central. Mr.
Sur is an accomplished musician, having studied at Yale, Northampton and the University of Iowa. Last year he taught at Angola, Ind.

NINE NEW TEACHERS ADDED TO GRADE SCHOOL FACULTY

New Teachers From Other Local Schools; Twenty-Nine Teachers Compose Faculty.

The faculty of the South Side Grade School has been changed considerably by the addition of nine new teachers.

They are Elizabeth Murphy, Mabel Greenwalt, Harvey Brand, Gladys
Kennel, Helen Lowry, Verna Sullivan, Maybelle Glover, Eva Kneisley and Leona Dunkel.

Several of these, although they are new teachers in South Side grade, are well known in Fort Wayne grade schools.

Miss Elizabeth Murphy, history instructor, formerly taught at the James H. Smart school.

Miss Leona Dunkel came from the Miner school. She is now one of the kindergarten teachers here.

Miss Helen Lowry, who teaches the fourth grade, claims Fort Wayne as her home and taught third grade before entering South Side.

Miss Verna Sullivan comes from Harmar where she taught the third grade.

The second grade is taught by Miss Eva Kneisley, who formerly taught the fourth and fifth grades at the South Wayne school.

Miss Maybelle Glover comes from Lansing, Michigan. Her pupils consist of 3 B's.

The junior high of Greentown, Indiana, formerly had Miss Greenwalt in its faculty. English is the subject which she teaches.

Harvey Brand, who teaches Physiology and Geography, came from Clay City, Indiana. There he taught Science and Mathematics in high school.

Goshen, Indiana, is the home of Miss Gladys Kennel. Her pupils are 4 B's.

The complete list of the faculty is as follows:

8 A 1 Elizabeth Freeman, English;
8 A 2 Edna M. Carter, Mathematics;
8 B 1 Alice V. Quivey, English; 8 B 2
Clara Kirby, Science; 8 B 3 Elizabeth
Murphy, History; 7 A 1 Olive G.
Wear, Mathematics; 7 A 2 Verda Mae
Zeigler, Music, Spelling; 7 B 1 Nell
Galvin, Art, Penmanship; 7 B 2 Mabel Greenwalt, English; 7 B 3 Harvey
Brand, Physiology, Geography; J.
Paul Cairns, History; 6 A Cora A.
Huss; 6 B Blanche Jean; 5 A Louise Gelard; 5 B Callie Trinkle; 4 A Louise Lankens; 4 B 1 Gladys Kennel; 4 B 2 Helen Lowry; 3 A Verna
Sullivan; 3 B Maybelle Glover; 2 A
Esther Miller; 2 B Eva Kneisley; 1 A Mary Belle Cooper; 1 A Margaret
Hickett; 1 B Mabel Holland; 1 B
Florence Gruber; Kindergarten, Esther Erickson and Leona Dunkel.
Charles E. Agnew is principal.

There are now 850 students enrolled in South Side Grade School. Two hundred sixty-seven of these make up the seventh and eighth grades.

On account of the crowded conditions in the first grade, half-day sessions are held.

MORE BOYS ATTRACTED TO MANUAL TRAINING

One New Teacher Added to Department; Colleges Recognize Work Done Here.

The enrollment in the manual training department is larger than it was last year. One new teacher, Mr.
Spaulding, has been added to the department. The other instructors are
Mr. Arnold, Mr. Schellschmidt, Mr.
Chappell, and Mr. Thomas.

In manual training during the first part of the semester the boys will practice on blocks of wood. They will do required exercises with this wood, and then during the latter part of the term they will make any large piece of furniture they wish that involves the principles they have practiced.
They usually choose to make a cedar chest or a table. In forging the boys make tools and various projects.

When the students who have already taken the manual training course go to Purdue or other engineering schools, they are given credit for their high school work. They are allowed to begin with more advanced work, and are thereby aided in progressing with their intended course.

FIRST VACATION COMES IN LESS THAN A MONTH

The knowledge-seekers of South Side will rejoice to hear that there will be the annual State Teachers convention at Indianapolis October 16, 17, 18. That is the first vacation this year, but time will disclose whether we have two and one-half days or only two days vacation at that time.

AGENTS REPORT MANY SUBSCRIBE FOR THE TIMES

Two Days of Campaign Find Many Rooms With Good Starts Towards Success.

ROOM SIX FIRST WITH PERFECT PERCENTAGE

Lottie Dignan, Agent, and Mr.
Murphy, Teacher, Help Room
Show School Spirit.

Lottie Dignan, one of the most enthusiastic Times' workers, the first subscriber to this semester's Times, has the honor of being the first room agent to have her room 100 per cent.
She is a real live-wire in all things concerning the Times and is always glad to do things for its benefit.

Mr. Murphy also gets much credit as he, as all teachers are asked to do, made a few fitting remarks and worked up the enthusiasm in his room which enabled it to "go over the top."

There are about 40 other room agents besides Lottie. Some are just as enthusiastic but do not have the co-operation of the students, or are not getting results as they do not work up enough interest in their respective rooms and therefore can't expect results.

The standings of the room agents who had reported by Tuesday night are as follows:

Agent	Room	Per Cent	Teacher
Lottie Dignan	6	100	Mr. Murphy
Bernadine Benna	14	72	Mr. Whelan
Tom Ward	90	66	Miss Perkins
Mary Monroe	22	50	Mr. Murch
Jack Bodasch	44	44	Miss Spaulding
James Wilson	74	39	Mr. Schellschmidt
Robert Bell	50	33	Mr. Schellschmidt
Ruth Fairfield	34	32	Miss Fish
Hilma Hixon	32	26	Miss Worn
Veda Stevens	8	26	Miss Miller
Gladys Kohrer	85	25	Miss Rehner
Ruth Stroebel	22	25	Miss Mereness
Mary A. Tannehill	10	22	Miss Woodward
Marjorie Reeves	142	20	Miss Kiefer
Clara Sherborn	20	18	Miss Rinehart
Maurice Felzer	94	18	Mr. Greeley
Helen Rastetter	61	17	Miss Ley
Virginia Danham	18	17	Miss Thorne
Helen Foeckling	138	16	Miss Paxton
Maynard Patterson	26	12	Mr. Morris
Esther Shaw	24	10	Mr. Parks
Marx Lucke	75	9	Miss Rinehart
Arnold Beske	30	7	Mr. Rother
Gertrude Linneimier	52	7	Miss Rinehart
Maxine Schmidt	28	5	Miss Fiedler

The rest of the rooms have either not turned in subscriptions or their list of pupils in their class.

In case of any errors kindly notify Chester Wyneken, circulation manager, and corrections will gladly be made.

MANY HELPERS SERVE HUNGRY SOUTH SIDERS

Twenty-eight Pupils Assist Miss Dixon In School Cafeteria
During Noon Hour.

The increased number of one-percent lunch hours and the larger enrollment has greatly augmented the sales in the high school cafeteria. An average of 325 pupils and teachers have been eating there daily and the average cost of each meal is 18 cents.

Twenty-eight students working part time are necessary to serve the noon meal during the fourth, fifth and sixth periods. Miss Dixon employs four women full time and one part time.

The following students assist during the fourth period: D. Mercer, G.
Pollock, Ray Schaffer, Garnet Bly,
Collier Koeber, Ruth Bolinger, Vesta
Johnson, Helen Buscher and V. Parks.
The fifth hour helpers are: Geraldine Grover, Iva Riley, Wilma Keyser, Minnie Kopp, K. Diggs, Gilbert Col-liver, M. Brooks, H. Budigan, R. Bolinger, F. Hansen, Barguerite Wol-ford. Those working during the sixth period are: C. Ryberg, Janet Walker, Stanley Ewell, Marjorie Crick, Garnet
Bly, Leilla Severtzer and Edward Wilson.

The only new equipment in the cafeteria this year is a steamer which is used to cook vegetables.

SENIORS WILL HOLD ELECTION NEXT WEEK

The senior class election, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed until next Thursday, September 25.

Ward Dildine will preside at the meeting until the new president has been elected. The officers to be elected are: President, vice-president and secretary. The faculty advisor will act as treasurer. There will also be a social committee of three members elected.

ART CLUB WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS MONDAY

The Art Club will hold a special meeting next Monday, September 22, in Room 20 at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of electing officers.

All old members are urged to attend as well as any others interested in art.

The purpose of this club is to promote interest in art work. At each meeting an interesting program is given, besides the usual business.

Francais Will Organize.

"A French club will be organized this year, but as yet no definite plans have been made," stated Miss Brigham, faculty advisor, when asked if this organization which was started last year, would be continued.

SIGN FOR TOTEM.

Two subscriptions are in for the 1925 Totem!
Gladys Muny had her subscription in before the 8:20 bell Monday morning, the first day of school.
Gladys is a sophomore this year.
Oren Flaugh, who is a junior, also subscribed the first week.

These pupils have set a fine example for every loyal South Side High School pupil by subscribing for the 1925 Totem early.

SO-SI-Y COMMENCES YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Miss Symons, New Girl Reserve
Secretary, Introduced to the Organization Tuesday.

Sixty-five members were present at the first So-Si-Y meeting, held Tuesday in Room 52. The meeting was in form of a pep meeting. Miss Arletta Schmuck led the singing of "The Keeper," "In the Winter Time" and other songs.

At the beginning of the business meeting, the president, Betty Merrill, introduced Miss Esther Symons, the new high school Girl Reserve secretary. She is filling the place left vacant by the resignation of Miss Martha Simonds. Miss Symons is a graduate of Oxford College, Oxford, Ohio.

Mary Travis gave a report of the Millhurst conference. Dorothy Eyman, last year's chaplain, conducted the devotionals. Margaret Rose was elected to succeed her.

Miss Thorne has been made general advisor of the club. The committee chairmen were announced during the meeting. They are:

Program, Dorothy Eymen; social,
Elizabeth Kline, service, Cornelia Bade; membership, Ruth McKeehan, and publicity, Marjorie Malack.

The entire cabinet, together with those of the U. S. A., Friendship and U. P. D. will attend the "setting-up" conference at Camp Yarnelle this week-end.

PUPILS' PLANTS SHOWN AT FLOWER FESTIVAL

Flower Lovers Invited to Attend Exhibit Being Held This Week at Court House.

The school children's flower show will be held Friday and Saturday at the fall flower festival now taking place at the courthouse. On these two days, the seven thousand plants distributed to the grade schools last spring are to be on exhibit.

The festival is open every afternoon and evening throughout the week and every flower lover is welcome to attend.

Masses of cut flowers, huge banks of ferns and shrubs, and rows of potted plants have been converted the first floor of the building into a veritable beauty of beauty. Music, a part of the entertainment program each evening, adds to the enjoyment of the scene, and short talks by flower and plant experts make the festival instructive as well.

Much of the interest in things beautiful which has resulted in the city's attractive appearance is due to the efforts of a committee of citizens which, for the past several years, has conducted "Better Yards" campaigns.
Four years ago, a "Better Yards Committee" was organized for the purpose of stimulating citizens to take pride in the appearance of their home surroundings. A better yards contest was planned and carried out, in which the yards in various parts of the city were entered in competition.
Although only a few yards were scored at the close of the first year, enough interest was aroused to cause
the committee to continue its work, and in the succeeding years rapid increases were made in the number of yards scored in the contests. The work has expanded until this year it embraced every yard in the city.

Organizations from many parts of the country are making interested inquiries about Fort Wayne's beautification work, and several national magazines have published articles on the beautiful homes in our city.

MORE ALUMNI SEEK HIGHER EDUCATION

Several more alumni have made last-minute decisions to attend institutions of higher learning along with 34 of their classmates who have already had their credits sent. Those of the 1924 class who have just decided to go to college and the schools of their choice are: Pauline Sigrist, Indiana University, and Sylvia Wein-raub, either Chicago or Northwestern.
Dorothy Verweire, '23, has entered Indiana University.

Due to an oversight, part of the list of alumni going to school this year was omitted. These names belong in the list: Vera Stevens, Muncie Normal; Harriett Weiser, Ann Arbor; Miriam Yoder, Indiana University; Joseph Zahrt, Michigan University; Hazel Weiser, Ann Arbor; Jack Gilliom, Northwestern University;
Loydell Nichols, Indiana University;
Paul Rother, Wisconsin University;
Manetta Schmieder, Indiana University, and Edna Pawlish, Northwestern College, Naperville, Ill.

Miss Wingert In Cleveland.

Miss Freda Wingert, formerly dean of girls at Central, is now in Cleveland, Ohio, where she is principal of a large exclusive girls' school, the Harriet Wheeler High School.

JUNE'S HONOR ROLL LARGEST EVER RECORDED

Freshmen Lead the List With Twenty-Four; Seniors Have Highest Per Cent
Of Class.

FOUR GIRLS TO ONE BOY ACHIEVE HONOR

Sixty-nine Girls Make at Least Three A's; Boys Total Nineteen.

Last June's honor roll is the largest South Side has ever had. Eighty-six made at least three A's while carrying not less than four subjects.

The freshmen lead with twenty-four; the juniors came in second with twenty-two; sophomores, twenty-one, and seniors nineteen. Although the freshmen have the largest number on the honor roll, the seniors have the largest percentage of students on the honor roll.

There are only seventeen boys on the honor roll and sixty-nine girls.
Gertrude Scheulke and Margaret
Patterson, both sophomores, made five A's each.

"BOBS" CAPTIVATE MOST OF FACULTY

Sixteen of Twenty-Seven Feminine Teachers Flaunt
Short Tresses.

Sixteen feminine members of the faculty now have their hair bobbed, making approximately fifty-nine and two-tenths per cent of the fair sex victims of the style.

When Miss Hadsell came last September, there were only two bobs in sight, Miss Mendenhall's and Miss McAdams', and gradually even Miss Hadsell's disappeared, concealed by a hair net. However, this was too much misery, and soon her bob blossomed forth again.

Last term, Miss Burns, Miss Fish,
Miss Brigham, Miss Harvey, Miss Rehorst and Miss Dixon swelled the crowd. Miss Bart, Miss Perkins, and Miss Watershed came with their hair cut, but weren't surprised to see Miss Rinehart, Miss Thorne, Miss Mereness, and Miss Mott arrive in the ranks of the bobs?

In style, we see almost everything, although the bevel and shingle predominate.

WEEDS ARE STUDIED IN BOTANY CLASSES

Anyone desiring to learn a bit about the source of hay fever should wander down to the botany room and hear
Mr. Gould lecture on weeds. The botany classes have begun to study about these interesting and abundant fall plants and Mr. Gould brings so many to school that he has been dubbed
"The Walking Weed Patch."

NEW P. G. EQUIPMENT PURCHASED IN SPRING

Mr. Whelan, apparently, supports the time-worn adage: "Do not leave tomorrow the things that should be done today." In abiding by that he secured last spring all the materials and equipment that he would need in his P. G. classes for this fall. Among the most important new equipment are stereopticon slides.
Mr. Whelan is contemplating taking his classes on field trips if the weather permits. However he can not definitely state the time and place at present.

MISS PITTINGER GOES TO RELATIVE'S FUNERAL

Miss Pittinger was absent Friday on account of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. O. Pittinger. Mrs.
Pittinger was a resident of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, where her husband was controller of Swarthmore College. Mrs. Pittinger was ill three weeks from complication of diseases.
She died September 10 and her body was brought to Connorsville, Indiana, for burial.

LITERARY DIGEST ADPTED FOR CURRENT EVENT WORK

Over One Hundred Copies Will Be Received Here Weekly By History Pupils.

All of the history classes are taking the Literary Digest this term in place of Current Events as the magazine for current event work.

It has been agreed that the history students form a club, each paying twenty-five cents. That entitles them to the use of the Digest. These magazines are to be placed in the library for everyone's use.

There are some students who wish to pay the full subscription price of $1.20 and thus be able to have their own copy to take home.

The number of copies to be ordered has not yet been determined but it is thought that it will be about one hundred to one hundred twenty-five.

OTHER CITIES YIELD SOUTH SIDE PUPILS

Twenty Enter School This Year From High Schools Outside of Indiana.

Pupils from schools as far west as Seattle, Wash., and as far east as Allenton, Pa., have joined the South Side student body this year. Practically all of the new out-of-the-state pupils are from the surrounding states of Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Kentucky.

Twenty-two pupils have come from other Indiana schools, most of them being in this region, but one is from Indianapolis and one is from Vincennes in the southern part of the state.

Room agents and standings to be announced next week.

An all-round pupil is good, but an all-square pupil is better.

Heaven preserve us from the girl who says it with a giggle.

Once get a taste of flattery and it is almost impossible to keep from swallowing it.

Saturday we meet Auburn in the first gridiron fray of the season. "May the best man win"—and here's hoping that's the Green and White.

By now we are beginning to wonder how we ever got along without our geometries, Caesar, rhetorics, and histories for three long months.

Much credit is due Mr. Harris for the organization of the school this fall. Program cards were given out, pupils signed into classes and books sold, all with promptness and dispatch, and with complete absence of confusion. A few necessary changes in programs were made, later, but the great majority of teachers and pupils were able to proceed without interruption in their work after the first day. The smooth working organization showed that careful preparedness pays.

An old Egyptian proverb reads, "Man has a back and obeys only when it is beaten." This proverb was true in the early days because the Egyptian peasant, in all his labors, tilling the soil, working in the brickyard, or making pottery and ornaments, was under the lash of a severe taskmaster. We have emerged from the time and cause of this proverb, but the truth of it still remains in a greatly modified sense. Although, at times, we know we should and could do many things for our own good or that of some one else, we do not do it without being told or compelled to do so. We are the possessors of an intellect which enables us to see things for ourselves. Yet we wait for the prompting of our actions by someone else. It is unsolicited help and kindness that is truly appreciated.

HUMOR.

Humor is probably one of the most essential parts in human nature. The greatest writers throw tiny bits of humor into their works to hold the reader. The speaker drops a witty remark to keep the attention of his audience. A tactful person displays his sense of humor in getting people to come or see his way.

What a world this would be, if we had no humor! Imagine two people who have just met for the first time. It will not be long until the things they have in common will become exhausted. Each wonders what will happen next. If there were some way to touch their sense of humor, the formality and stiffness would disappear, and the people would see each other in a totally different light.

Suppose one of the teams is on the field competing, and the opponent is playing a real game. The substitutes sit on the side-lines, tense. The players, possibly a little worried, wonder about the score, and are not giving their very best. The rooters, although displaying a fine brand of yelling and sportsmanship, are a little bit afraid. Should something humorous happen just then, the tension would be removed. The "subs," the team, and the rooters would forget that they were behind, and go into the spirit of the game with everything they had.

Suppose a settlement worker had no sense of humor. What would she do if she felt discouraged, and could not see any progress in her work? She would worry, appear sad, and be less capable of helping others find happiness. If she did have a sense of humor, she would remember some humorous incident which happened during the day. This would cause her to forget her worries, and enable her to go in to the work with more life and spirit.

Some people think the sense of humor unimportant and trivial. Our greatest men had a sense of humor. Practically everyone has a sense of humor in some form or other. Some have it well developed and near the surface. Others keep theirs in seclusion, and seldom does anyone catch a glimpse of it.

To have a sense of humor need not make the possessor the jester or clown of the crowds, but gives him the power to see a little hope in the things that discourage others.

A fine, developed sense of humor is almost invaluable. Do you have one?

Vast Amount of Detail Work Required in Making Programs

Fifty More Operations Are Required If a Change Is Made; Pupils Fail to Realize Task Office Has When They Ask for Readjustments on Flimsy Excuses.

"I want to drop public speaking. I can't talk." "I want two periods for lunch." "Will you change my Latin back to French?" are a few of the many requests which found their way to the office during the first week of school.

To the students concerned, having "only one study period in the morning" is a question of emphasis on death. Yet, if he realized how many details were necessary to make out his program, he would understand how trivial such difficulties are.

There are about eleven hundred students enrolled in the school. Six and often seven periods must be arranged for each student. In assigning a student to a class at least four details are necessary—room, period, teacher, and subject. This means twenty-five or thirty details for each student. A little multiplication shows that twenty-seven thousand, five hundred details are necessary to start off the school for cards alone. Then there are seat assignments in Room S and the sale of locker keys.

To make even a small change in a program, necessitates the working out of at least fifty details.

The programs for the seniors and 9B's were practically completed before the close of school. The others were taken care of between June 15 and July 4. Mr. R. O. Virts helped Deane McAfee in arranging the programs.

People from out of town and different schools were taken care of the last two weeks before school started.

TRAFFIC SYSTEM TO STOP NOISE

Ban Against Loiterers in Hall Ways During Class Hours; Gym Is Open.

Eventually, why not now?

The heavy traffic noise of the "City of Students" has so often lately prevented the class rooms from having peace, that the second step in the silent zone enforcement has been made.

Last year students were asked to "kindly refrain" from the halls. This year the officials are saying it with signs.

These signs, TRAFFIC STOPPED DURING CLASSES, hung from the ceiling, are perfectly visible. The art classes have helped by making these warnings.

Before the signs were put up, one gay student walked down the hall singing, "I'd Love to See That Old Gang of Mine." What he saw was a seething teacher.

If the officials could have scaled the voices of the girls down about five notches from the screaming treble, the traffic signs would not have been necessary, but it was easier to put up the signs than to get down the voices. Our gym seats people. Have a seat.

TREES

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the sweet earth's flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose boughs snow has lain,
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

JOYCE KILMER.
Born 1886 at New Brunswick, N. J.
Killed in action in France, 1918.

The Principal Says

School started off the smoothest and best this term. Pupils received their cards and were assigned into classes in eight short periods in the morning. They were assigned to 1,000 locker keys and purchased most of their books in less than an hour.

SOUTHERN SPICE

Bob Miles: "Why are telephone girls called operators?"

Charles Tribolet: "Because they usually cut you off in the midst of conversation."

Porterfield: "There is something eating on my mind." Mr. Murphy: "Never mind, Dick, it will starve."

"Bud" Beck: "I thought you took this English last semester?" Chaplain: "I did, but they encored me."

THE FLUNKER.

Fierce lessons.
Late hours.
Unexpected company.
Not prepared.
Kicked out.

Mr. Virts: "How does it happen all you fellows got the same answer to these problems?" Aldrich: "Team work, sir."

Chet Plasket: "I had my picture taken today." Simon: "Who on earth would steal a thing like that?"

Miss Work: "Any question to be asked in Cicero today?" George Wyss: "Was Mutt Cicero's father?"

Mr. Schafer: "Why, Helen Crawford learned to play the piano in no time." Hazel Sloan: "Yes, I heard her playing it that way the other day."

Mr. Morris: "Why, there are Freshmen in this class that aren't as dumb as you are." Currie: "I know, sir, but they haven't been here as long as I have."

It's Wink'em, Blink'em and Nod at night
When there's lots of studyn' to do;
When to keep awake you got to fight
To get your lesson through.

You think of the dates that you had last night!
But not the dates t'be learned.
You try to study with all your might,
But your mind—it can't be turned
And you'll let the work be durned,
And Wink'em and Blink'em and Nod.

Eddie Rahe: "I'm a little stiff from football." Tillie Jurgensen: "Where did you say you were from?"

Miss Smeltzly: "Has not fortune ever knocked at your door?" Loree Bergel: "He did once but I was out; ever since he has sent his daughter." Miss Smeltzly: "Whom do you mean?" Loree: "Miss Fortune."

Miss Pittenger: "Now I want you to name some beautiful song that is sad in its emotion." Ward Dildine: "Darling, why don't you answer me?"

Mary Falk: "He dances as stiff as a board." Clara Sheabondy: "Of course, he's a post-graduate."

Florence Phillips: "I think I will get my machine out and drive over to see my fellow." Mable Fells: "Sedan?" Florence: "No, his name is Ed."

When Bridget climbed into the chair
Her nerves were in a fidget,
The dentist couldn't crown her tooth,
So he proposed to Bridget.

NOW FOR A SPREE.

Why do Sophomores resemble real estate?
They are a vacant lot.

Woman has hair
And wants to wave it;
Man has little
And wants to save it.

Teacher: "James, give some quotations you've learned from the Bible." James: "And so Judas went out and killed himself." Teacher: "Good, give another." James: "Go thou and do likewise."

AND SO IT GOES.

A horse can travel a mile without moving more than four feet.
Funny, isn't it?

Maurice: "What can I do to avoid falling hair?" Helen: "Jump out of the way."

"Here's to the faculty,
Long may they live,
Even as long
As the lessons they give."

YES, THEY ARE, AT THAT.

Some athletes are like Bermuda onions, big and strong. "I certainly am absorbing knowledge," said the janitor as he erased the blackboard.

Caesar wrote a Latin book,
So did Cicero;
And where those two men went,
I wish their books would go.

"That's the guy I'm laying for," said the hen as the farmer crossed the barnyard.

Teacher: "Where was Caesar killed?" Freshman: "On page 84, ma'am."

Professor's Wife: "Why, my dear, you've got your shoes on the wrong feet." Professor: "But Henrietta, they are the only feet I've got."

"This is a new one on me," said the pedestrian as the wheels of the 1925 model passed over his chest.

I threw a note into the air,
It fell to the floor, I knew not where
For so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a whisper into the air
Who heard it, I did not care,
For who is it not in this old high
Who has not whispered in days gone by?

Long, long, afterwards on my report,
I found the results of my sport;
And the note from beginning to end
I found was not in the hands of a friend.

Mr. Murphy: "What's the difference between labor and capital?" Dick Porterfield: "Capital is what you loan and labor is what it takes to get the loan back."

Many a man has built castles in the air from the beams in her eyes.

Father: "My son took chemistry from you last year." Mr. Voorhees: "I beg your pardon. He was exposed to it but it didn't take."

Teacher: "Where did Caesar defeat the greatest number?" Student: "In that last exam."

THE END.

"Well, this ends my tail," said the "monkey" as he backed into the lawn mower.

EVENING CLASSES

—AT—
CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL, Cor. Barr and Lewis Streets

Most Classes Meet One Evening a Week

Indiana University has established a branch of its courses which are offered in evening classes in Fort Wayne for the benefit of HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES and for others who for one reason or another cannot leave home this fall to begin their college education. You can take a full Freshman course and enter some college next fall with practically Sophomore standing; or you can take only one or two college courses.

The University Extension classes begin Monday evening, September 22nd. These credits can be transferred to other universities. For further information call at the University Extension Office, third floor, Courthouse, or call Main 2552.

SEASON TICKET SALE ENDS FRIDAY EVENINGStudents Have One More Day to Save Half of Admission
Price

The season tickets for the football games have gone on sale, and tomorrow will be the last chance to purchase the pasteboards. The price is one dollar for the five home games. Mr. Greely announced that the separate admission to each game would be fifty cents. If one buys a season ticket he will save one dollar and a half.

The cardboards for this year are green and white, and the names of each contending team are printed on them.

Central High School has seven home games and their season tickets are selling for one dollar for any five of the games. Straight admission to their games is also fifty cents. Central expects to sell about 800 tickets. The schedule for Central is as follows:

Columbia City, Sept. 20—Here.
Open, Sept. 27—There.
Bluffton, October 3—Here.
Emerson of Gary, Oct. 11—Here.
Decatur, October 18—There.
Plymouth, October 25—Here.
Portland, November 1—Here.
Elkhart, November 8—Here.
South Side, November 15—Here.
Open, (Probably Howe Military) 22—There.

FIVE SPORTS ON BILL
FOR GIRLS THIS YEARTennis, Hockey and Soccer Will Be Played This Fall; Basketball in Winter.

Tennis, hockey, soccer, basketball and baseball are the sports that Miss Hadsell, the girls' athletic mentor, will offer the girls this year. Tennis is already under way and soccer and hockey will be begun in a short time.

A field hockey team is planned by Miss Hadsell, if the equipment arrives in time. If it does not, the girls will revert to their old love, soccer.

Hockey is a new sport for most girls. As Miss Hadsell says, "It's a combination of football and golf." The hockey sticks correspond to the golf clubs, and the positions sound like a football line-up. Soccer is an old favorite with the Mildredites, and there will probably be a team.

An exceptionally strong basketball team is predicted by the coachess. Four varsity stars have graduated, but their places will be ably filled by some members of last year's scrappy freshman team. Fans will remember Ev Bales, elongated center of last year's varsity, and Dorothy Dix, the fighting guard. Kathryn Diggs and Holly Shively also left a gap.

The sophomores who are expected to uphold South Side's honor are: G. Brouwer, D. Bauer, G. Rohrer and N. Merica. There will be two class tilts each with Central, and two varsity games with the Blue and White lasses.

Baseball, basketball's rival, is expected to draw a number of enthusiastic girls next spring. There were four very, very peppy class teams last year, and Miss Hadsell expects to push the indoor sport farther than ever.

SPORTS

Well, are you all acclimated to school and the snappy weather?

Speaking of weather, it seems to have been ordered specially for the football season. The players have been full of zip in the practices and are eager for the start of the game Saturday.

The roads to Auburn are good. Our team is good. Our coach is good. Let's have a good time and drive up to Auburn.

Every one is wondering what has become of the familiar face of George Wyss. Though he can't play this year, the fans would like to see him back. He says he's coming soon.

The football candidates who have been working in drug stores this summer, now know what it is to TRAIN—or get left.

Gerry DuWan couldn't be held at home with the flu and Monday found him attending classes at South Side.

Remember that the dollar for a season ticket represents the single admission price to just the Central and Tech games.

By the way, the Indianapolis papers report that the capital city Green and White institution has a squad of 126 out for practice. And they say that the team looks good. Well, Napoleon was bumped off at Waterloo. Come on, Tech.

With the Central and South Side coaches respecting the other's ability as they do, the teams of both schools are due for some hard work-outs for the annual classic.

Well, we'll see you at the auto town Saturday.

White Lights for the Green

On every hand, one hears discussions in regard to some phase of the game of football. Opinions and interpretations are numerous and various. Correct knowledge and actual facts are much needed.

It is to be the policy of this column to give the correct interpretations of rules, to clear up doubtful points, to act as a medium in student discussions of athletics, and to aid in cementing a firmer spirit of loyalty in the student body.

All athletic questions and opinions are welcome.

A football field is 120 yards long and 160 feet wide. The playing field is 100 yards long and 160 feet wide. The ten yards at each end are known as the "end zone."

The following is the customary position of players on the offense:

X	X	X	X	X	X	X
left	left	left	center	right	right	right end	tackle	guard	guard	tackle	end
			X quarter back
	X	X		X left	full		right
	half back	back		half back

A player who has been withdrawn during the first half may not again return until the second half. A player withdrawn during the second half may not again re-enter the game.

The official length of halves is 15 minutes, with 15 minutes between. The time of halves may be shortened by mutual agreement. Length of halves can never be lengthened by mutual agreement. However, the time is always extended in case the ball is in motion on an uncompleted play when the actual playing time is up.

A touchdown counts 6 points. A successful try after touchdown, 1 point. A goal from field, either a "drop kick" or a "place kick," scores 3 points. A "place kick" is made by kicking the ball from its position of rest upon the ground while being held upright by a player.

A "drop kick" is made by dropping the ball from the hands and kicking it immediately after it reaches the ground.

A "safety" by opponents gives 2 points to the offending side. A "touch back" does not score points.

A safety is scored when the ball is thrown or carried back of own goal by own side and is downed there. A touchback is made when the other side kicks or throws the ball across the opponents' goal line.

After a safety the ball is put in play on the 30-yard line. After a touchback, the ball is put in play on the 20-yard line.

If the ball goes out of bounds on the kick-off before it is touched by any player or before it crosses the goal line, it is brought back and re-kicked. If on the second kick the same conditions prevail, the ball "goes over" and is put in play by a scrimmage on the opponent's 40 yard line.

"Goes-over" means the ball changes possession. DON'T FORGET TO DROP INTO THE TIMES' BOX AT ROOM 5 ENTRY, ANY FOOTBALL QUESTIONS YOU WANT ANSWERED.

South Side Girls Take Honors In Tourney

WILMA KRONMILLER

GERTRUDE BROUWER

The winner and the runner-up in the junior division of the city tennis tourney for girls both belong to South Side. Gertrude Brouwer is city champ now of girls sixteen or younger, while Wilma Kronmiller had to content herself with second honors. The tournament was played in August at Weisser Park.

Gertrude Brouwer is especially well known in South Side athletics as she has taken part in basketball and all other sports.

The senior division of the girls' tourney also found South Side girls walking off with the honors. Maxine Schmieder won the championship after a hard last match with Veda Stevens, also a South Sider. Both are well known in the activities of the school.

AUBURN CAN BE REACHED BY AUTO OVER GOOD ROADS

Mr. Harris and H. S. A. A. Gives Directions For Getting to Battle Scene.

Auburn, where the Green and White grid machine has its first game of the season, can be reached by two good roads. That place is located about twenty miles from here and one can get there in about an hour's driving. The Hoosier State Auto Association says that State Route 13 is good. Part of it is under construction, but the detour is good. To reach this road, go north on Wells street till you hit the paved road. This leads into the state route, so follow the state sign 13 until you get to Auburn.

Mr. Harris claims that the road to Huntertown is the best. Just before you reach Huntertown, you turn east at the school building. Travel this road for three miles until you come to the Auburn road. He said, "Keep on the Auburn road until you reach the football field."

PORTLAND IS NEXT Foe
KELLY GLADS WILL MEET

Game Will Be Played at the South Side Stadium; Season Ticket Will Admit.

Portland will be the next foe after Auburn that the gridsters will attack. The boys from Portland will meet the Green and White men a week from next Saturday on the South Side stadium.

The kick-off is scheduled for 3 o'clock. In October the games will begin at 2:30 o'clock because it gets dark earlier.

A season ticket or twenty-five cents will admit one to the game. The rest of the schedule follows: Auburn—Sept. 20, there. Portland—Sept. 27, here. Peru—Oct. 4, here. Logansport—Oct. 11, here. Huntington—Oct. 18, here. Wabash—Oct. 25, there. Kendallville—Nov. 1, there. Indianapolis Tech—Nov. 7, here. Central—Nov. 15, here.

SOUTH SIDE BOYS WIN
IN CITY TENNIS MEET

Jim Willson and Ad Grodrian Win In Singles; Green Also Triumphs in Doubles.

South Side's racket wielders who lost a match to Central early in the year redeemed themselves in the city junior tennis meet, winning all events. Jim Willson defeated Howard Buck of Central for the junior singles title, while Tom Summers, paired with Bolyard, copped the junior doubles.

In the boys' class, Addison Grodrian won the singles, defeating Bill Rastetter, another South Side youth, in the finals. Bill Dammeier and Pierce Summers won the boys' doubles.

Among the other South Side youths who played well in the meet are Roland Smith, George Dieststein, Howard Miller and Edwin Clapham. Smith played through to the semi-finals of the junior event, defeating Clint Mitchell, of Chicago, in the previous round.

This was the most successfully conducted boys' tournament ever held in Fort Wayne. Tennis, which is rapidly becoming a more popular game in high schools every year, will be conducted on a larger scale here next year, as four good courts have been constructed at the north end of the stadium. These courts will probably be evenly divided between the girls and boys.

WEISSER PARK SCENE OF TENNIS TOURNEY

Girls To Play Off Net Games This Week On Park Courts.

The girls have officially opened their season of sports by staging a tennis tournament at Weisser Park.

It was originally planned to initiate the new South Side courts with this tourney, but they were not completed in time.

So far all but two games of the first round have been played. The remaining rounds and the doubles will be played off next week. Because of the shortness of time one set is being played instead of the usual two out of three.

First Round.

V. Stevens defeated A. Mason, 6-0.
M. Schmieder defeated M. Monroe, 6-1.

E. Miller defeated D. Troendle, 6-2.
B. Newell defeated A. Stroebel, 6-2.
S. Newell defeated M. Frazier, 6-1.
D. Minier defeated M. Rahe, 6-1.
C. Wagner vs. G. Brouwer.
W. Kronmiller vs. L. Lapp.

Second Round.

V. Stevens vs. M. Schmieder.
E. Miller vs. B. Newell.
S. Newell vs. D. Minier.

Winner C. Wagner-G. Brouwer vs. winner W. Kronmiller-L. Lapp.

The lists have been made up for the first round of doubles and are as follows:

M. Schmieder-M. Monroe vs. M. Rahe-D. Troendle; L. Newell-R. Stroebel vs. G. Brouwer-B. Newell; M. Brothers-E. Williams vs. D. Minier-V. Stevens; L. Lapp-C. Bade vs. M. Frazier-E. Miller.

NEW YELL LEADERS TO BE CHOSEN AT PEP MEETING

Probably Will Be an Assembly Next Week; All Prospectives To Try Out.

South Side has no yell leaders as yet. There will be an assembly probably some time next week, at which all prospectives will be given a try-out.

Mr. Harris states that he does not know whether or not the rosters' corps will be reorganized this year, but will decide this question later.

The yell leaders will come out at the first football game here.

Do You Buy Ice Cream by Name?

When you buy ice cream ask for Muldoon's High Quality Ice Cream. Taste the difference—it's not only a name—but a distinction with a difference.

Many find that Ice Creams sold by brand names are merely names—a distinction without any difference. Those who want better Ice Creams insist on Muldoon's High Quality Ice Cream. Special Brick each week.

MANY NEW BOOKS ADDED TO SOUTH SIDE'S LIBRARY

Every Department Increased; Twenty-Five Beautifully Illustrated Volumes Presented to School.

There have been 322 new books added to the library. Every department has been remembered. South Side was presented with 25 beautifully illustrated books by renowned authors.

Miss Harvey's sophomore History classes have been spending their study periods in the library, and have learned how to use the files and indexes there.

Miss Schulze has made two rules for the benefit of the new students at South Side. They are as follows:

Every student must sign up before the beginning of the period.

No textbooks are to be studied in the library unless library books are needed for reference.

Miss Schulze and her new helper, Miss Waterfield, are glad to help anyone who needs their help.

PLANS FOR DEBATING ARE STILL INDEFINITE

League Members Will Meet During Northeastern Indiana Teachers' Convention.

"Exact plans for debating have not yet been mapped out," Mr. Makey, debating coach, said when asked concerning the plans for the coming debating season.

There will be a meeting of the members of the league during the Northeastern Indiana Teachers' Association convention in October to determine whether schools that have applied for admission will be accepted or not. Plans will be made for the season's debating.

Hubert Beck is the only debater of last year's team who is left. Although there are a few that appear capable of getting on the team, Mr. Makey would like at least ten more pupils to sign up for this work.

GIRLS TO MAKE HATS AND DRESSES IN CLASS

Miss Rehorst has the advanced sewing classes this year. The first two or three weeks of the semester her classes are going to play with "paper dolls," and make paper hats. These will be the models for the hats they will make later on. When the girls finish the hats, they will take up the study of silk, and then they will make silk dresses.

PENNY FEE CHARGED FOR OPENING LOCKERS

Pupils who have forgotten or misplaced their locker keys will be able to have their lockers opened by seeing one of the following teachers: Miss McCoskey, of Room 140, is taking care of the lockers on the east incline. Mr. Greeley, of Room 94, is the person for boys who have lockers off Room S to see, and Miss Rinehart, of Room 52, is looking after the girls' lockers off Room S.

A charge of one cent is being made for opening each locker. This money will be added to the General High School Fund.

NO DRAMATICS TO BE SPONSORED THIS YEAR

There will be no dramatics at South Side this year, other than the regular senior play. The absence of a dramatic club is due to the lack of a dramatic director and a suitable place to hold meetings.

The time and date of the regular senior play will be arranged some time next semester.

Only 32 school days remain until mid-semester grades are issued. Will the first or third letters in the alphabet grace your pastebare? Work, perseverance and determination mixed in the right proportion usually yield an "A."

Do not relax in your care of the school equipment. Be careful not to mar the furniture just because the novelty of its being new is wearing off. If you can not be remembered by your good deeds, do not be thought of unfavorably by your carved initials in the desks.

There is only one way in which any student can keep well informed on all the departments of the school. That is by subscribing for the Times. Possibly you are taking part in a few of the school's activities, but it would be impossible for any one student to engage in all branches of school life. Yet he would doubtless be interested in those branches in which he could not participate. To keep posted, it would be necessary to secure some means which would give a fair account of all the activities. This means is the Times.

We all have certain ideals or standards which we are striving to attain. Our every effort and ambition is put forth in trying to reach it. All around us we see others, striving to reach the same goal.

We, trying to gain these treasures, can well be compared to hikers starting out for the same destination. Some have access to shorter routes, some can walk faster, and some are better prepared for the jaunt. This is true also in our attempts to gain our ideal. Take wanting to go to college as an example.

To some their going is merely a matter of fact. Their parents are financially capable of sending them, and are perfectly willing for their children to continue their education. Not much effort is needed in this case to gain the ideal, and in terms of a hike they have access to an easier and shorter route. Then there are those whose parents either cannot send their children to college, or can see no reason for their going. In this case, the route is longer and rougher, and a lot more effort is necessary to overcome these difficulties. Yet, a real hiker reaches his destination, and so a real determined person gains his ideal.

Some will go to college the first fall after they graduate, without so much as thinking of having to work a year or two until the necessary cash can be saved. Others will have to work for the money, which their attendance will require. So the person with the ready cash seems to be able to walk a little faster. Both get there, however, and the latter most likely appreciating it just a little more.

Getting good grades seems to be easy for some folks and most difficult for others. The former is in one respect better equipped for the jaunt. A little more effort is required by the latter to attain that degree of scholarship which will admit one to any college. One of the hikers may have an outstanding personality or be very accomplished. She will make friends easily, while the other, who lacks these attributes will find it a difficult task to gain friends and respect from the fellow hikers. In all cases, however, both get there, and the one who had to work for it is none the worse for the display of greater effort.

What type of student is the outstanding one at South Side? Is it the book worm, the one intent only on having a good time, or is it the one who can study, be a good sport and real booster at the same time?

A few of the book worm type, who in their endeavor to acquire an education solely from books, are missing the real vital parts of high school life: companionship, school spirit and the hustle and bustle of continuous interest and activity.

Then there is the never serious individual, who comes to school only because it is his parents' desire. He sits through recitations wondering how much longer it will be until the bell rings, and hoping and praying that the teacher will not call on him. He has heard that ignorance is bliss, and believes it. It is this type of student that thinks that he is a real sportsman, because he turns out for all the games, subscribes for the school's publications, and joins the various clubs.

The outstanding type at South Side, in our estimation, is a cross between the two types analyzed above. The ideal type is a student, not so taken up with books, that nothing else matters, or so frivolous that nothing at all matters, but one in whom these elements are so combined that he comes out a person giving his best in his every attempt.

A Pedagogical Nightmare

Teachers Stray Far and Wide During Three Months' Vacation

Some Attend School, Others Travel, While Some Merely Loaf Vacation Away; Eastern States and Western Coast Visited by South Side's Instructors; All Report That They Had a Good Time.

"We went, we saw, we returned to school," is the way that most of the teachers' experiences during the summer vacation may be summed up. Europe, historic places in the east, the climate in the west and familiar scenes around home all had their devotees among the faculty.

Mr. Makey, English and debating instructor, pursued a variety of occupations during the summer. When interviewed by a Times reporter, he said that besides doing private tutoring, he built a garage, graded his yard, and tried to sell insurance. Evidently Mr. Makey was not a member of any labor union, for he declares that he worked sixteen hours a day regularly. Mr. Noll, head of the English department, spent about half of his summer as a farmer. During the other half he worked improving his property.

Miss Burns, another English teacher, attended the University of Chicago for a six-weeks' course. After that she spent a delightful vacation at Chautauque Lake, New York.

Miss Esarey was at her home at Bloomington, going from there on an auto trip through the southern part of the state.

Miss Brigham spent the summer months at her home in Toledo, Ohio. Miss Work enjoyed her vacation with her sister out in Pasadena, California.

Miss Fish rested during the summer at Louisville, Kentucky. "I tried my hand at gardening on a small scale," says Mr. Rothert. "I also tried to catch a few fish up in Teal River, Wisconsin, and spent a few weeks resting."

Did Sculpturing Miss Ley was occupied during the large part of the summer with her art work, mainly clay modeling and commercial art. She spent some time at the lakes.

Miss Mereness studied at the University of Wisconsin during the summer. Miss Mendenhall spent her vacation at her home in Westfield, Indiana.

Miss Mott was at her home in Noblesville, Indiana the entire summer except for two weeks spent at Riverwood, a summer resort on White River.

Mr. Parks, although a successful commercial teacher, studied most of the summer, taking higher accounting at the University of Michigan.

Miss Pittenger spent ten weeks of the summer teaching English in the Indiana State Normal School at Muncie. However, she did not work the entire summer. She spent a delightful vacation at Saranac Lake, New York, which is located in the Adirondack mountains.

Wedding Bells Mr. Schafer began his vacation by embarking on the "Sea of Matrimony," and then going honeymooning. He later studied at Northwestern University. The remainder of the summer he spent motoring in northern Michigan—with Helen, of course.

The west lured Miss Thorne to Colorado and Oregon. She also speaks enthusiastically of the two weeks she was in Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Davis and Mr. Gordy must have had a nice vacation. As Riley said, "They just got out an' rested an' nothin' else."

Most of Miss Fiedler's vacation was spent at the University of Michigan. She credits herself with but four weeks of real rest.

Miss Paxton can tell of being on the North American steamer that was destroyed by fire last month. Oh, no! she wasn't on it at the time. Her vacation can be envied if you like Chicago, Mackinac Island, Detroit, Lexington, Connecticut, or Paris, Ontario.

Work, Work, Work "A principal's job is not much of a vacation," Mr. Harris informs us. His entire vacation was just a few days spent at Lake James and Hamilton.

Mr. Greeley's new garage and fence are actual proofs that some math work was done.

Miss McCloskey attended the National Education Association convention at Washington, D. C., and visited in Atlantic City, Harrisburg, and Philadelphia this summer. The remainder

The Dean Says

It is inspiring to note the enthusiasm with which teachers and pupils are entering into school work this semester. Every one seems to be determined to make this South Side's best year.

Martha McCullough

The saddest words,
The words I hate,
Are, "Get up,
It's after eight."

Teacher—"What is play?"
Legs Ryan—"Play is a very important business that school interrupts."
Teacher—"Well, what is work?"
Legs Ryan—"Work is something that I have never undertaken so I know nothing about it."

Not For Us.

Everybody has money in Indiana; even the ducks have bills, frogs wear green backs, automobiles have diamond tires, in fact you can hardly open the window but what a draft will blow in.

"I'm going to sue my English teacher for libel."
"What for?"
"She wrote on my English theme, 'You have bad relatives and antecedents.'"

Too Often, Maybe.

Mr. Morris—"Isn't there anything you can answer, Miss Joseph?"
Rose Joseph—"Yes, sir, the telephone."

Those Embarrassing Moments.

Soph theme, describing a fire: "They climbed up the ladder, followed by two firemen pulling up their hose."

"Sayings Of The Great."

Plutarch—I am sorry that I have no more lives to give to my country.
Samson—"I'm strong for you, kid."
Jonah—"You can't keep a good man down."
Cleopatra—"You're an easy, Mark Anthony."
David—"The bigger they are the harder they fall."
Helen of Troy—"So this is Paris?"
Columbus—I don't know where I'm going but I'm on my way.
Nero—Keep the home fires burning.
Noah—It floats!
Methuselah—"The first hundred years are the hardest."
Queen Elizabeth to Sir Walter Raleigh—"Keep your shirt on, Walt!"

An Irishman was seated in a train beside a pompous individual, who was accompanied by a dog.
"Foine dog ye have," said the Irishman, "phwat kind is it?"
"A cross between an Irishman and an ape," said the grouch.
"Shure an' it's related to both of us," the Irishman replied.

Freshie—"Do they ring two bells before I'm late?"
Senior—"No, they ring the same one twice."

In the Laboratory.

Ether bottle
Flame too near it
Careless chemist
Now a spirit.

Freshman—"You know more than I do."
Soph—"Of course."
Freshie—"You know me and I know you."

Weather Wit.

"I've got an awful cold," said the weather.
"What are you taking for it?" asked the wind.
"A drop of mercury every hour."

He is a mighty Sophomore,
Whose head is large and round.
But nothing in it can be found,
Except a hollow sound.

Jimmy—"Your forehead reminds me of a battle."
Max—"How's that?"
Jimmy—"A couple of bangs and some powder."

We have heard of lazy loafers,
But the laziest man we've found,
Waits in the revolving door,
For someone to push him around.

Laugh and the class laughs with you
But you laugh in ninth period alone.

To Marj.—Gawd Bless'er.

Margy is an awful mess,
I love her.
She is the height of ugliness,
I love her.
She isn't much on countenance,
She doesn't savor of romance,
She's dumb and coy and can not dance
I love her.
Marj. will use no rouge or paint,
I love her.
She's built like Aphrodite ain't,
I love her.
She's knock-kneed and she's angular,
With me though she is popular,
Marj. let's me use her motor car—
I love her.

Teacher—And the father of the prodigal son, fell on his neck and wept. What did he weep for?
Student—I guess you'd weep too, if you fell on your neck!

Geom. Class—The triangle H. O. G. is congruent to triangle P. I. G.

Hot Dog!

Puppy Love leads to a Dog's life.

Jack—"Haven't you been losing flesh lately?"
George—"Yes, I'm learning to shave."

The Random Shot.

I shot an arrow into the air
It fell in the distance, I knew not where,
Till a neighbor said that it killed his calf
And I had to pay him six and a half.
I bought some poison to slay some rats,
And a neighbor swore it killed his cats,
And rather than argue across the fence,
I paid him four dollars and fifty cents.
One night I set sailing a toy balloon,
And hoped it would soar till it reached the moon,
But the candle fell on a farmer's straw,
And he said I must settle or go to law.
And that is the way with the random shot—
It never hits on the proper spot,
And the joke you sprung, that you think so smart,

GREEN SCORING MACHINE PILES UP HUGE COUNT

Regulars Amass Total of Sixty-Eight Points in the First and Fourth Quarters.

INTERFERENCE OPENS HOLES FOR BACKFIELD

Many Substitutes Given Chance; Younger Players Surprise Crowd With Ability.

Coach Welborne's fighting Green and White football squad trounced the Auburn high school team by the top-sided score of 68 to 7 in the initial game of the season for both teams.

Playing in a sweltering heat throughout the game, the South Side aggregation showed the results of intense early season training. Very few times was play suspended that the players might recuperate from the heat.

South Side's first string men were used only during the first and fourth quarters in which all of its points were scored and between which Auburn crossed the Green and White goal line for the first and only time in three seasons.

Auburn's defense was too weak to withstand the onslaught of the Green's battering and scampering backfield, which played behind a line which was a veritable stone wall.

The Fighting Green showed wonderful ability at blocking and tackling. The South Side team, which was assumed to be wrecked by the graduation of five of its regulars, appeared to be probably the best eleven to represent the school in its three years of existence.

The flankers are very adept at handling passes and sifting through interference for tackles. From tackle to tackle the line has weight and a fighting quintet of gridsters. In the backfield it has men who can pound the line, skirt the ends, pass and kick.

The Game
South Side kicked off to Auburn. Auburn was forced to kick on its third down. The Green gained possession of the ball. After a series of line bucks and end runs placed the ball on the three-yard line. Staley, playing at quarter, carried it over on a sneak play. Currie drop-kicked for the extra point. Aldrich and Currie each made a touchdown before the quarter ended. Currie drop-kicked both points. Score—South Side, 21; Auburn, 0.

Second Quarter
Coach Welborne started practically all second string men in the second quarter. This quarter did not add to the score but the Green second-raters battled Auburn on even terms. Nulf, a sophomore, who replaced Aldrich, played a good game and gained consistently against his larger opponents. The ball sear-sawed back and forth. Nulf was downed on Auburn's 30-yard line as the half ended. Score—South Side, 21; Auburn, 0.

Third Quarter
The Green's regular team played throughout the third quarter. Auburn scored her lone touchdown of the game when, after a series of forward passes, Berg received the ball behind South Side's goal line for his marker. Dennis skirted the right end for the charity point. From this time on the Green players worked well and made Auburn fight for every inch she gained.

Score—South Side, 21; Auburn, 7.

Fourth Quarter
South Side's regulars re-entered the fray and swept the small town lads off their feet when they opened up with a varied attack of straight football and battered the weakening Auburn line for seven touchdowns. Captain Aldrich, Welsh and Brubaker scored one apiece. Currie and Richendollar each scored a pair. Currie added five points after touchdowns by drop-kicks.

Score—South Side, 68; Auburn, 7.

CENTRAL TIGERS STAGE
FIERCE RALLY TO WIN

"Fighting Central" certainly lived up to her name Saturday afternoon when she whipped the Columbia City gridsters by the score of 20 to 15.

In the last quarter of the game, with the score 15 to 0 in favor of the Columbia City lads, Central with a succession of line plunges and end runs finally gained the victory by scoring three touchdowns.

ALUMNI WILL COMPETE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS

Former South Side athletes will make strong bids for berths on their respective college teams. Word has already been received that "Our Own Red Fromuth" is working hard for a position in the freshman backfield at Indiana. Louis Norris, another member of the original "Big Four," is out for freshman football at Northwestern University.

Louis Ridgway, at Ohio State, and Harry Springer, at Y. M. C. A. College, Chicago, also made known their intention before leaving for school that they would enter sports.

CURRIE PIERCES LINE FOR CONSISTENT GAINS

Don Currie.

Currie stepped to the fore in scoring honors when he counted 26 points against Auburn Saturday, 18 of them coming on touchdowns and the other eight when he booted the ball over the standards for extra points after touchdowns. Currie thrilled the crowd time and again with his long runs. He knew how to pick the holes that the splendid interference opened, and it usually took more than one Auburnite to stop him.

MAX SCHMEIDER WINS
SCHOOL TENNIS TITLE

Defeats Gertrude Brouwer In Finals of the South Side Girls' Tournament.

Maxine Schmieder won the girls tennis championship of South Side by defeating Gertrude Brouwer, 6-2, 7-5 last Thursday at Weisser Park.

The match was interesting all the way through, as it was a battle between champions, Max having won the senior girls' city title this summer and Gertrude the championship among the junior girls.

Miniature gold and silver tennis racquets will be awarded the winners. Maxine Schmieder will have the honor of being the first girl to win a gold racquet. Gertrude Brouwer, runner-up in the tilt, will receive the silver trophy.

The same plan will hold good for the doubles. However, if a girl is eligible to receive both singles and doubles awards, she will get only one. Miss Haddell is planning to buy a large silver cup later in the season. This will remain in South Side and will have the names of all the tennis champs engraved upon it.

The second round brought about the defeat of some of the city tourney players. Wilma Kronmiller and Veda Stevens, both runners-up in the city play, were stopped.

The results of the second round are: M. Schmieder defeated V. Stevens, 6-3.

B. Newell defeated E. Miller, 6-1. D. Minier defeated L. Newell, 6-3. G. Brouwer defeated W. Kronmiller, 6-2.

Semi-finals: M. Schmieder defeated B. Newell, 6-0, 6-3.

G. Brouwer defeated D. Minier, 6-2, 6-3.

Four games have been played so far in the girls' doubles tennis tourney.

Maxine Schmieder-Mary Monroe defeated M. Rahe-D. Troendle, 6-1.

D. Minier-V. Stevens defeated M. Brothers-E. Williams, 6-0.

G. Brouwer-L. Newell defeated L. Foster-B. Newell, 7-5.

M. Franzier-E. Miller defeated L. Lapp-C. Bade, 6-3.

The match between C. Wagner-V. Fell and W. Kronmiller-E. Suter is yet to be played.

The second round schedule: M. Schmieder-M. Monroe vs. G. Brouwer-L. Newell.

D. Minier-V. Stevens vs. M. Franzier-E. Miller.

No other sports will be started by the Mildredites until this tournament is finished.

GIRLS' GYM CLASSES
TRAIN FOR EXHIBITION

Plans are already under way to make this year's gym exhibition a wonderful success. Miss Mildred Haddell, physical director of South Side, has started drilling her girls in the "daily dozen," showing them how to trip the light fantastic, and teaching them some gymnastic stunts. Under the capable direction of Miss Haddell, the exhibition will undoubtedly be as big a success as last year's.

Pianist Wanted.

A good pianist is wanted to play for girls' gym classes any period from the first to the sixth. Any pupil who is willing to do this for a little extra spending money is asked to see Miss Haddell at once.

ALDRICH LEADS TEAM TO GLORIOUS VICTORY

Eddie Aldrich.

Eddie Aldrich, captain of the Kelly Klads, who made history last Saturday when they piled up a 69 to 7 victory over Auburn, was in the thick of the fight as long as he was in the game and showed the rest of the players how to fight, though all had an adequate supply. Eddie gives promise of being a sensation among high school gridsters this year. He made two of the ten touchdowns Saturday.

SPORTS

Here's hoping that Saturday dawns bright and cool. And here's hoping that the stadium will be crowded with football fans doing homage to the team and the coach. In other words, let's fill the arena for the first home game.

South Side has been lucky in the matter of football injuries. So far only a few minor injuries have been reported. Bill Thiele is carrying an injured hand around. Wilson McCormick injured his knee in the pre-school training but it is gradually getting better.

A new score board will grace the field for the first game on Saturday. It will record which down it is, how many yards to go, and such things that go in football scoring.

Mae: "Eddie Aldrich was held up Saturday after the football game."

Fay: "Where?"

Mae: "All the way home."

The squad now numbers fifty. Some of the new members who helped swell the list are: Weirich, Zurmuehlen, Smith, Haven, Mercer, Weldy, Matlack, Azar, Fred and Albert Hoffman, Lake, Murray, and Miles.

A freshman team will be organized this week. They are the future football stars of the varsity. Coach Welborn said that inter-class football may be started if some of the athletically inclined teachers will help with the coaching.

Coach Lundy surely is enthusiastic over the football material for this year. According to him, South Side has a world beater of a team, and we ought to clean up on all our foes, ancient and modern.

No Hope.

After the ball is over, After the field is clear, What did you do with me eyebrow? Where is the rest of me ear?

Well, the team looks good to us. Forty-seven points in one quarter is good against any team.

By the way, Coach Welborne is about the mightiest little man seen on a local field. Have you noticed the perfect control he has over the players?

A call has been issued for basketball players, who are not out for football. In this way the players who are not out for football may get in shape.

Saturday and Sunday seemed more like tennis and baseball days. It's too bad there are no net posts on the tennis courts. However, the courts are splendid and will be all ready for use next spring.

Portland comes here this week with a big reputation. After the last game everyone is anxious to see the "Fightin' Green" in action against a stronger team.

Central has an open date this week and their whole school will be out to see the Emerald Clads in action. Here's hoping we give them something to think about.

THREE BANDS BEING ORGANIZED AT SO. SIDE

In Addition to Advanced Band, Beginners' and String Bands Will Be Formed.

Three bands, under the direction of Mr. Schafer, are being organized this year. They are the advanced, a beginners' and a string band.

The advanced band will play at all the games. It will play marches, secular and popular selections this year. It has twenty-four members and an effort is being made to get more.

The beginners' band will start using text-books for instruments. The members are given free instructions and the instruments are furnished to those who want them. If anyone has his own instrument and wishes to get in the beginners' class he can do so by informing Mr. Schafer, Room 38.

New String Band

A string band is also being organized which consists of mandolins, ukeleles, and guitars and all other string instruments.

PERU GRIDSTERS COME FOR NEXT HOME GAME

Welborn's Men Hope to Get Revenge For Last Year's Drubbing at Peru.

Next week's game for the Green and White will be a home contest with Peru. The kick-off is booked for 2:30 o'clock.

Peru and Tech are the two teams that South Side wishes especially to beat this year to wipe out the sting of defeats last year. Peru won in 1923, 20-6, with Aldrich on the sick list.

Peru has not been going as strong this year as it did last season. In its opening game with Jefferson, of Lafayette, last Saturday, it was defeated, 10-5.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

Portland—Sept. 27, here.

Peru—Oct. 4, here.

Logansport—Oct. 11, there.

Huntington—Oct. 18, here.

Wabash—Oct. 25, there.

Kendallville—Nov. 1, there.

Indianapolis Tech—Nov. 7, here.

Central—Nov. 15, here.

PARTS IN TROPHY CASE
READY FOR ASSEMBLING

The trophy case, which has been ordered made by the pupils of Mr. Arnold and Mr. Chappel, of the manual training department, is still in the making. The wood has all been cut and most of it has been fitted and is ready to assemble.

At present the manual training department is very busy getting organized and this will delay the delivery of the finished product until some time before Christmas.

Alumni

That "grade" still think of their "alma mater" occasionally, was evidenced Saturday by the large number of alumni that attended the South Side-Auburn game at Auburn Saturday. Among those who attended the game were: Helyn Shimer, Valette Wellman, Helene White, Margaret Diserens, Louis Wilkens, Ehrman Kieckley and Louis Ridgway.

Sigrid Ekblom has just recently announced her engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Walter B. Chapman. The wedding will take place on Saturday afternoon, October 4, at four o'clock at the home of Sigrid's parents.

Mary Wasson, '24, is taking an apprentice course at Wolf's Millinery store.

Zoe Marahrens and Lucile Rasmus, both of the class of '24, are working at Wolf & Dessauer's department store.

Donald Smith has accepted a position with Wolf & Dessauer's. Donald graduated last year.

AT THE RIALTO.

"Riders Up," Universal all-star picture to be shown at the Rialto theatre Friday and Saturday, is the screen version of Gerald Beaumont's Red Book story, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." The filming was done at Tia Juana, while the racing season was on. Creighton Hale has an important role. Others in the cast which Irving Cummings directed, include Kate Price and George Cooper. Depicting that strange phase of high tensioned business and over-keved pleasure which marks the lives of so many of those to whom has come success in the commercial and the social worlds, "Alimony," coming to the Rialto Theatre next Sunday and Monday, graphically illustrates the error into which modern civilization has fallen. Out of all the shallowness and hysteria of these surroundings rises the figure of a woman who still sees in the marriage relationship a sacred trust and who refuses to abandon her faith in her husband's eventual regeneration when he, too, is sucked into the vortex and becomes a votary at the shrine of perdition.

"The Unknown Purple," which has its initial showing at the Rialto next Tuesday, is an adaptation of the sensational success of the stage play of the same name by Roland West. After playing a solid year on Broadway, New York, it was seen in the principal cities of the country during two succeeding seasons. The theme is one of mystery, centering about the purple ray of light in which a human being can make himself invisible to the eye.

TEACHERS STRAY FAR AND WIDE DURING VACATION

of the time she spent in a camp at Indianapolis.

Miss Rinehart spent six weeks of her vacation studying at Chicago University. Afterwards she visited her mother in Elkhart and friends in Kendallville.

Mr. Schellschmidt spent the first part of the summer in Chicago and Milwaukee and spent the latter part at Tippecanoe Lake with his parents.

Goes with Wife

Mr. Spaulding left Fort Wayne the day after school closed and went to Mexico, Missouri, the home of his wife and operated a separator on a threshing machine. A few weeks before the opening of school, he motored to Salem, Indiana, where he spent a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. Chappell thought variety was the spice of life. He sold shoes at the Walk-Over Boot Shop, insured lives for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, and later took a trip through southern Indiana.

Mr. Morris spent his vacation by taking auto trips ranging from a week to twelve days, covering all of Indiana and Ohio. He also visited his mother at Swazee for a few weeks. A portion of his time was taken up by study. In the interval between trips he was in Fort Wayne.

Miss Rehorst spent the summer touring France and Switzerland. While on this trip she spent three weeks in Normandy where she visited Deauville, Rouen, Honfleur, and Caen, all of historical interest. She studied French under a private teacher at Besancon, and also attended the university there. She then toured Switzerland. "It is just wonderful," she says. "I mean to go there to live sometime soon." While on this trip Miss Rehorst met many delightful and worth-while people. She says that the trip is within everyone's reach and that nobody should miss it.

Miss Schulze in order to rest from her work as librarian, became a pupil herself this summer. She took an academic course at Harvard University. Of course, she visited all the surrounding country and enthusiastically declares that she had a wonderful time.

Miss Waterfield, assistant librarian, attended the Michigan University Summer Library School at Ann Arbor.

Miss Perkins spent the whole of her summer vacation in Middlebury, Vermont, teaching French and Spanish, which are the only languages spoken there.

Mr. Huddleston spent most of the vacation at Bloomington, Indiana. He also spent eight days at Lake Erie.

Mr. Arnold was in Fort Wayne this summer with the exception of one week which he spent in Cleveland, Ohio. While in Fort Wayne he built and designed four houses.

Real estate attracted Mr. Heine this summer. He built and sold houses for the Friend & Heine firm.

Mr. Voorshees had the best part of his vacation at the home of his mother-in-law at Brookville, Indiana, where he spent ten weeks reading, eating and sleeping.

State Normal claimed most of Miss Bert's time this summer, the remainder of which she spent at home.

Society

The South Side teachers, both high school and grades, will hold their annual get-together and luncheon at Foster Park after school today.

The rules are that all formality and class room dignity be left at home, and that everybody devote themselves exclusively to having a good time.

The "eats" committee under Mr. Parks has arranged a real feed. The other members are: Mr. Murphy, Miss McCloskey, Miss Harvey and Miss Dixon.

Mr. Chappell has charge of the entertainment committee, and he is quite certain that all will have a good time. Mr. Schafer, Miss Esarey and Mr. Cairns are assisting him.

Those comprising the social committee are: Miss Burns, chairman; Mr. Null, Miss Brigham, Miss Wear and Mr. Greely.

The members of the fuel committee are: Mr. Arnold, chairman, and Mr. Schellschmidt.

Mr. Harris and Mr. Agnew are the members of the attendance committee.

Lottie Dignan spent last week-end in Lima, Ohio, visiting relatives.

Geraldine Remmel entertained a number of her friends last Saturday evening. Those who enjoyed her hospitality were Irene Drummond, Mary Forker, Ethel Masterson and Hilda Schwieler.

Catherine Roe entertained with a dinner party for Paul Harmon, who recently returned from Europe. Covers were laid for fourteen guests.

The Misses Demaree, Woodward, Esarey and Miller attended "Mitzi" last week at the Majestic.

Elsbeth Crane was hostess to a number of her friends last Saturday evening. A pot luck supper was the main feature of the evening. The guests included Mary Alice Tannehill, Mary Pocock, Dorothy Emrich.

Helen Crawford entertained a number of her friends last Saturday evening. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Lucile Grosvenor, Mary Barnes, Mary Travis, Helen Masters, Lillian Rolf, Beatrice Riecke and Helen Mitchell.

Margaret Diserens visited school last Friday afternoon. Margaret is leaving next Tuesday for Rockford, Ill., where she will attend school.

Elizabeth Schmidt will spend this week-end at Clear Lake.

A marshmallow and wiener bake was enjoyed Tuesday evening at Stethorn's bridge. Those who enjoyed this bake are Catherine Roe, Naomi Crummit, Josephine Guin, Jeanette Glass, Kathryn Bell, Paul Harmon, Paul Cottrell, John Sauers, Bob Szink and George Sauers.

Eleanor Barz was surprised by a number of her friends last Friday evening, the occasion being her birthday.

Marguerite Schwieler entertained last Friday evening. Five hundred was played during the evening, after which a dainty two-course luncheon was served. The guests were: Mervyn Welch, Catherine Fries, Margaret Mailand, Margaret Rake, Virginia Trier, Mary Hale, Fred Sieman, Fredrick Pierce, Oscar Zeisig, William Dammeier, Richard Zurmuehlen, Fred Knocke and Carl Murray.

Autz Huffman gave a delightful wiener bake Thursday night along the St. Joe river. Those who enjoyed this good time were Marcella Conners, La Von Blue, Emma Riggs, Alice and Agnes Wehmeyer, Marie Rudolphson, Anna Henry, Bertha and Ruth Reech, Wayne Gaylord, Lee Williamson, Naruo Girardo, Lawrence Wetche, Kenneth Wyatt, Walter VanDusen, Wayne Bohling, and Howard Rine.

TIMES TO GET SILVER TROPHY AT CONVENTION

Indiana High School Press Association Judges South Side Paper Best of Kind In the State.

JOURNALISM DELEGATES TO MEET AT FRANKLIN

Journalist Institution Will Be Host to High School Writers October 23 and 24.

In the contest for high school newspapers, held by the Indiana High School Press Association last spring, the Times was awarded first place as the best of all Class B newspapers in Indiana and will be presented with a silver cup at the third annual convention of the I. H. S. P. A., a recent letter announces.

There are three classes of high school newspapers in Indiana. Class A is composed of dailies and includes only one paper, that of Shortridge High School of Indianapolis; Class B, the largest section, takes in the weeklies, semi-weeklies and dailies. It is in this class that the Times comes. Class C includes all the monthly and semi-monthly papers. A cup is being given to the best paper in each class.

A letter to Hubert Beck, Raymond McKell, the executive secretary of the I. H. S. P. A., states: "The South Side Times won first award in Class B of the newspaper contest. The cup will be presented at the annual press convention banquet to be held at your victory. Yours is a real newspaper and the decision was well earned."

U. S. A. TO HEAR TALKS BY OFFICERS MONDAY

Stunt Will Also Be Given; Members Enjoy "Gypsy Trail" On Outing.

The next meeting of the U. S. A. Club will be held Monday, October 6. All officers will give short talks and a stunt called "Storage Battery" will be given.

Thirty members of this club had a delightful time on a "Gypsy Trail" Wednesday evening, September 17. Six girls started out with Miss Simmons and laid the trail up and down alleys, in weeds and odd places. The rest of the twenty-four girls followed it with Miss Rinehart. When the end of the path, which led to Foster Park, was found, the members and advisors sang songs, played games and had refreshments.

A change of faculty advisers was made when Miss Perkins was appointed to take Miss Esarey's place as the advisor of the membership committee.

Rebecca Colestock is chairman of the service committee, Virginia King, of the membership, Mary Hughes of the social, Margaret Nichols of the publicity and Marguerite Lucke of the program.

MATH-SCIENTISTS PLAN WEINER BAKE TOMORROW

Club To Frolic at Devil's Hollow; Pauline Baumgartner Elected President at First Meeting.

A wiener bake will be held tomorrow at Devil's Hollow by the Math-Science Club if sufficient automobiles can be secured.

At the first meeting of the club held last Friday in Room 96, Pauline Baumgartner was elected president; Bertly Merrill, vice-president; Morris Felger, secretary, and Elinor Carlson, treasurer.

After the business meeting, Elvuh Miller gave a talk on "Weeds" and Lucille Lapp gave one on Sir Isaac Newton, the discoverer of the law of gravity.

Five members of the faculty were present: Miss Paxton, Miss Thorne, Mr. Greely, Mr. Gould and Mr. Wheeler.

MANY POSITIONS OPEN ON 1925 TOTEM STAFF

Seventeen Positions Still Remain To Be Filled; Seniors Required for Many.

The Totem of 1925 needs a staff that is willing to work. The staff usually is composed of seniors for major staff and lower class members for minor staff and assistants. Seniors are preferred for all positions but many cannot fill them. So far no positions have been assigned.

The business manager had been appointed but because of his leaving the city, another manager will have to be appointed. This position is on the major staff and must be filled by a senior.

One can apply for a position on the staff by seeing Miss Harvey in Room 20.

The positions open are: Business manager, who handles all business concerning Totem. A senior is required. Advertising manager, who handles all advertising concerning Totem. A senior is required.

Circulation manager, who manages the subscription campaign and general circulation. A senior is required. Senior editor, who edits all events concerning the class, the seniors and the class history. A senior is required. Junior editor, who edits all events and history of junior class. A junior is required.

Sophomore editor, who edits events and history of sophomore class. A sophomore is required.

Freshman editor, who edits all events and history of freshman class. A freshman is required.

Sports editor, who edits all events connected with athletics, and writes up members of teams and team as a whole. Anyone is eligible.

Art editor, who takes care of all art work connected with book. Anyone is eligible.

Organizations editor, who edits events connected with all clubs and organizations about the school. Junior or senior is required.

Humor editor, who edits all jokes for humor section. Anyone is eligible.

Music editor, who edits all events concerning music. Someone who is interested in band, glee club, and so on is eligible.

Literary editor, who handles all stories, poems, etc., to be published in Totem. Anyone is eligible.

Cartoonist, who draws all cartoons to be used as illustrations in humor section. Anyone is eligible.

Stenographer, who typewrites all copy that is handed in to Totem office by staff. The job usually requires two or three people. Anyone is eligible who can typewrite.

Girls' sports editor, who edits all events concerning girls' athletics.

Snapshot editor, who manages snapshot campaign and takes care of faculty snapshots.

EDWARD HULSE CHOSEN TO LEAD CLASS OF 1925

Ward Dildine, Tom Shulze, Robert Miles, Dorothy Cline and Robert Hanna Given Offices.

HULSE HELD OFFICES IN FIRST TWO YEARS

Was President of the Freshman Class and Member of Social Council as Sophomore.

To Edward Hulse falls the honor of being elected president of the senior class. He was chosen at a meeting of the class of 1925 held last Friday afternoon in Room 96. Other officers elected were: Ward Dildine, vice-president, and Tom Shulze, secretary. Robert Miles, Dorothy Cline and Robert Hanna compose the social council.

Due to the fact that much of the senior business has to be transacted through Mr. Harris, he will act as treasurer.

Edward Hulse was president of the freshman class at Central, a member of the social council in his sophomore year, and during his high school career has been an excellent student.

The nominees for each office were: President, Ralph Welch, Bertly Merrill, Robert Miles, Tom Shulze, Tom Staley and Edward Hulse; vice-president, Ward Dildine, Mary McCurdy and Bertly Merrill; secretary, Tom Shulze and Edna Van Tilbury; social council, Bernice Richart, Frances Wagner, Ruth Richey, Kenneth Hart, Robert Miles, Robert Hanna and Dorothy Cline.

PHILATHELIANS PLAN ACTIVITIES FOR YEAR

Parties Will Be Held at Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

That the Philatelians are going to have a Halloween party, a Thanksgiving party, a Christmas party, a play, chapel, and a musicale during the semester, was decided by the members at a meeting Monday at Foster Park.

The Halloween party is to be held in Fletcher's barn, November 1. The committee in charge of it are: Prelina Fletcher, decoration; Helen Rastetter, refreshments; and Dorothy Bales, program. These girls are to choose the other members of their committee.

The program Monday consisted of a talk on birds by Lucile Grosvenor, and some autumn poems by Margaret Rose. After this program, the members enjoyed a wiener bake.

Meal service has been started by the domestic science pupils and Miss Mereness. Their first meal was breakfast.

HAROLD BRIDGE HEAD OF BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club elected officers for the ensuing semester at its second meeting, held Wednesday, September 24, in Room 38.

The following were elected: President, Harold Bridge; vice-president, Robert Miles; secretary, Calvin Bill; treasurer, Dick Porterfield.

About thirty-five boys are now enrolled in the club but still more are wanted. James Allen will be reporter for all boys' musical organizations this year.

SEASON GRID TICKETS WILL REMAIN ON SALE

"Season tickets will remain on sale as long as people wish to buy them," was the announcement made by Mr. Greely this week. Over 400 have been sold. There was a large attendance at the South Side-Portland game. Between 1,200 and 1,250 people were present.

MANY MORE PEOPLE SERVED IN CAFETERIA THIS YEAR

Increase of More Than One Hundred Brings Daily Average to Over Three Hundred.

One hundred more people are served in the cafeteria this year than patronized it last year, the total now being about 325 daily.

"I should think that the boys of South Side High School would rather eat at the school than at the lunch counters near school," Miss Dixon said in commenting on the situation.

The kitchen force has a new member, Mrs. Koehn, who has the position of second cook.

Last year fifteen gallons of ice cream were sold every day. This year, the students consume only five gallon lully.

To Have Drum Major.

North Central High School of Spokane, Wash., is to have a drum major to lead its band. Plans have not yet been completed for the try-out of drum major. New suits, cadet caps and trousers have been ordered with the money made at the Mothers' Club concert. In two years the band increased from thirty to fifty members.

REPORTER KEPT BUSY BY HI-YERS

Club Plans Coming Year's Program; Meeting for New Members October 8.

A Times reporter had his job doubled at the Junior Hi-Y organization meeting last Friday. Intending to "cover" the meeting, he attended and began to take notes. Thinking he was an enthusiastic member, the club leader was soon constantly calling on him for suggestions as to the season's outline. Now the reporter knows the year's outline by heart.

Although but ten members attended, the leader states that comparatively more was accomplished than usual. What a help reporters are! Also, the leader said that this year the club must, and is, going to be better than the preceding year. The reporter was president last fall.

A banquet at the 10 October 8 is planned for the new members and invited freshmen and sophomores are invited. 10-A's are asked to remember that they will not be admitted to the Senior Hi-Y even with the understanding that they will be a junior at the mid-term graduation. Only reliable and enthusiastic boys can be members this year, the Y leaders stated.

It is requested that said outline not be published until corrections and approvals are made.

HI-YERS DISCUSS MEANS TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Twelve South Siders Attend Organization Meeting; Hear Mr. Veal Talk About Lima Club.

"Apple Dumplin's and Ever'ing" were served at the Hi-Y organization meeting of fifteen Central and twelve South Siders last Thursday. This meeting was the first of this semester and was attended by the old members who discussed several ways of enlarging its membership.

After the supper, the two schools separated into assigned rooms to discuss the club business. Eddie Hulse was appointed temporary chairman, and presided for South Side.

Having planned the majority of its business, the South Siders visited the Centralists, who were listening to Mr. Veal give an interesting talk. He was formerly of Fort Wayne, now residing in Lima, Ohio, and one of the most liked men of the Y. He told of what the Lima Hi-Y was doing and what he expected of the Fort Wayne club.

The South Siders who attended are: Maynard Patterson, Horace Agnew, Edward Hulse, Hubert Beck, Ralph Welch, Allen Mason, George Simon, Charles Rice, Robert McAfee, Clinton Neuman, Ed. Cook.

Mother Is Ill.

Mildred Enz has been absent on account of the illness of her mother.

New Freshmen.

New 9-B pupils are Ralph Tait, from the William A. Bell School at Indianapolis; Delbert Westerman and Walda Bievericht from the Zion Lutheran school.

STUDENTS SPEND $205.17 FOR CURRENT MAGAZINES

3,300 Copies of Literary Digest Ordered for Nurse in Department; 165 Delivered.

The history department has spent $205.17 already this term for magazines. Of this amount $198 pays for 3,300 copies of the Literary Digest at six cents per copy. There will also be ordered one subscription each of the Current History, History Magazine and World's Work Magazine at $3.00 and $4.00 respectively. The cost of delivery of these magazines will be 17 cents.

The total money received from the students is $205.25. A balance of eight cents is left in the treasury.

These magazines are to be delivered at the rate of 165 per week. One hundred and two of these are club subscriptions and sixty-six are individual.

Of the individual subscriptions Miss Miller gets fifteen, Miss Smelzley one, Miss Harvey forty-three, Mr. Schmalzried five, and Mr. Murphy two.

The club copies and the Current History and World's Work Magazines will be placed in the library.

The Literary Digest will begin with the September 20 issue and will continue for twenty weeks from that date.

ATHLETIC FIELD FOR HIGH SCHOOLS ONLY

South Side and Central will have exclusive use of the stadium this fall. L. C. Ward, superintendent of schools, stated that there had been no requests for the athletic field as yet, and that he did not expect any.

MANY LOST ARTICLES TURNED INTO OFFICE

Although there have been only four weeks of school, many things have been lost and turned in to Deane McAfee at the office. (The following articles have not been claimed: Four purses containing money, two protractors, four compacts, one comb, six fountain pens, six eversharp pencils, two rings and one pair of glasses. There were also twenty locker keys turned in. They are numbers 13, 66, 281, 292, 308, 356, 366, 373, 402, 488, 509, 961, 1329, 1358, 1438, 1447, 1623, 1738 and 1727.

PROGRAMS MAY BE FILLED OUT FOR NEXT TERM

All Pasing Students Can Select Own Classes and Study Periods for Spring Semester.

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

Programs Will Be Checked Over By Office; Thirty-two Is Maximum for Class.

All pupils who are passing in all subjects at mid-term, will be allowed to make out their own programs for next semester, according to an announcement by Mr. Harris.

A complete schedule of rooms, classes and periods of recitations will be published in the Times on November 6 for the spring term.

After the programs have been filled out by the pupils, they will be turned into the office and checked.

There will likely be enough classes to care for all pupils, but should a class be filled to its capacity of thirty-two students, no others may elect that class. Those who make out their programs first will, of course, have first chance.

Any questions concerning the arranging of programs, subjects, and classes will be answered in next week's issue of the Times.

Rememberers School.

Lillian Lockridge, who is now a resident of Bloomington, where her father teaches at Indiana University, has sent her subscription for the Times. Lillian was a junior here last year.

SPEAKERS DESCRIBE SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Pep Session Held to Acquaint Students With Work Done By Organizations.

A pep meeting to interest the pupils in the different activities and organizations of the school was held Thursday and Friday morning at the third period in Room S.

The musical organizations were the first on the program, showing what has been accomplished so far this term. The band and orchestra played three selections, the first being the school song. The band played one selection. Dorothy Bolt, formerly of the South Side High Glee Club, sang two selections, accompanied by Mr. Schafer at the piano. Mr. Schafer explained the different musical organizations and their work.

Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Welborn spoke on the athletic organizations and the right kind of sportsmanship.

Among the other speakers were Mr. Makey, who talked on the debating team of this year, and Chester Wynken and Charlie Tribolet, who talked on the Times and the Totem.

DECIDES TO HAVE TWO MEETINGS THIS TERM

The State Parent-Teacher Association is going to have a display at the Anthony October 9 and has asked South Side High School to contribute. Two Parent-Teacher Association meetings will be held this term. The first of these meetings will be October 24, and the last will be December 5. As yet the programs have not been planned. Mrs. Harry Bowser is chairman of the program committee.

ART CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING OCTOBER 13

The Art Club will hold its third meeting Monday, October 13, at 3 p. m. in Room 61. A special program has been planned and all members are urged to attend. Plans for the coming year will be discussed. A special invitation is given to all juniors and seniors who are interested in the study of art.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS ACTIVITIES FOR AUTUMN AND WINTER

Forums Will Be Held Again on Sunday Afternoons; Athletics Will Be Featured.

Last Monday morning officially opened the fall and winter term of the Y. M. C. A.

This year during the winter there will be Forum meetings on Sunday afternoon in the boys' lobby. Also a glee club and a dramatic club will be organized under the direction of a competent instructor.

There will be a series of big events throughout the year. Many gym classes will be held and swimming and life-saving lessons will be given. The gym will also be used for handball, volleyball and basketball.

Miriam Yoder Pledged.

Miriam Yoder, former editor of the South Side Times, is now residing at the Chi Omega House at Bloomington. For a few days she lived at Residence Hall, but on the whole found the Chi Omega House more agreeable. The Times arrives there remarkably each week and is devoured with joy, she says. It is said that the Y. M. C. A. is almost as much of a sensation as a letter from home.

STUDENTS COOPERATE TO ORGANIZE SAXAPHONE BAND

Beginning Band Shows Much Enthusiasm; Several Girls Join; More Players Needed.

A fourth band is being organized under the direction of Mr. Schafer. This is a saxophone band which, if given the co-operation of every student who can play a saxophone, will be sure to prove a success.

The beginners band has begun its work with a great deal of enthusiasm. Several girls have signed up for membership in the band.

The string band is coming along fine. Every person who can play a stringed instrument is urged to join this band.

The school band played at the game Saturday. The members will use the same uniforms for this year as they did last. These are the green sweaters and white trousers.

TIMES SUBSCRIPTIONS COME IN GRADUALLY

Ten Rooms Have Reached 100 Per Cent; Ten Rooms Under the Half Way Mark.

Subscriptions for the South Side Times have continued to trickle in steadily during the week and practically all of the rooms improved their percentage. Ten rooms now have proved their appreciation of the Times by subscribing one hundred per cent.

The agents in these rooms are Jack Rodebaugh, Maxine Schmieder, Clement Gasser, Thelma Gasser, and Cornelia Bade, Jimmy Willson, Robert McAfee and Marguerite Lucke. Rodebaugh has his room at this time last week, but an error in tabulation gave him a lower ranking. Clara Sherbondy's room was also figured incorrectly, as she had 80 per cent instead of 58.

"I think that many room agents are really eager to get their rooms into the one hundred per cent school spirit class, but are not receiving the proper assistance from the pupils in their rooms," Chester Wynken, circulation manager, stated this week. "I feel sure that there are a few agents who are not working. If they are not bucking the line for the paper, I want persons in their rooms to report them to me or Miss Harsey, so that we can replace them with pupils who are really interested in keeping the paper the best in the country."

The standing of the rooms Tuesday afternoon follows:

South Side's New Teachers Laud School Spirit Shown by Students

This Year's Additions to Faculty Comment Upon Noticeable Characteristics in School; Speak of Friendly Attitude of Student Body and Co-operation Between Students and Teachers.

"One characteristic I have especially noticed about South Side is the friendly attitude of the student body," stated Miss Ethel Bert, an addition to the Spanish department. Miss Bert formerly taught at Fort Wayne Central High School.

Although Miss Bert is particularly interested in all athletics, her chief hobby is swimming and basketball.

"South Side does not lack school spirit by any means," declared Miss Olive Perkins, formerly of the French department of South Whitley.

Besides being fond of the various forms of athletics, such as football, basketball and baseball, she especially delights in hiking and swimming.

"The school spirit of the student body at South Side is wonderful," stated Mr. Heine, the new biology teacher. Mr. Heine formerly taught in the high school at New Haven.

Likes Co-operation.

"What I admire most about South Side is the co-operation between the student and teacher and I hope that this condition will always exist," said Miss Kiefer, when interviewed. Miss Kiefer comes to us from the Harmon school.

Praises Cordiality.

"I like everything about South Side but I was greatly impressed with the cordiality of the teachers and students," exclaimed Mr. Schmalzrieder enthusiastically.

For a time he coached football and basketball, which shows that he is in-

TEAM READY TO AVENGE DEFEAT OF LAST YEAR

Peru First School to Win Over South Side; Send Strong Team Here Next Saturday.

KICKOFF AT 2:30 P. M. ON HIGH SCHOOL STADIUM

Captain Aldrich Confident That His Men Will Give a Good Account of Themselves.

Next Saturday South Side meets the team representing the school which first made a Green and White football team take the short end of a score. As the school remembers, Peru handed South Side a 20 to 9 drubbing on Peru's field last year.

Peru is loaded to whip South Side in the second gridiron battle between the two schools. South Side is more than anxious to keep her slate clean and to administer a dose of defeat to the Peru aggregation.

Coach Welborn's men came out of the Portland game without injuries and are in fine trim to meet the downstagers. Welsh and Thelie, who were knocked out temporarily last Saturday, are little the worse for their experience. Captain Aldrich is confident his men will give a good account of themselves and make South Side's one time vanquishers over the coals.

Peru was defeated 10 to 8 by Jefferson High, of Lafayette, in its opening game, but nearly won the victory with its brilliant end runs and forward passes. The Jefferson players credit Peru with having a hard fighting, dangerous team.

O'Brien, the Peru center, weighs 245 pounds. Martin, who will oppose him, weighs 162. Kestle, Peru left halfback, scored Peru's touchdown.

Last Saturday Peru swamped Lebanon by the score of 31 to 0.

Coach Welborn will probably start the following line-up: Ends, Bu-baker and Thelie; tackles, Seno and Kake; guards, DeHaven and Springer; center, Martin; quarterback, Welsh; halves, Captain Aldrich and Currie; fullback, Richendollar.

Peru will probably begin with the following line-up: Ends, Garretson and Rizzila; tackles, Boker and Thayer; guards, Hull and Gron; center, O'Brien; quarterback, Baltes; halves, Church and Hanson; fullback, Cain.

The game will be played on the stadium grounds and is called for 2:30 p. m. The officials will be Stone-braker, of Logansport, referee; Reno, of Wabash, umpire; Cleary, of Fort Wayne, head linesman.

The balance of the football schedule is as follows:

Logansport—Oct. 11, there.
Huntington—Oct. 18, here.
Wabash—Oct. 25, there.
Kendallville—Nov. 1, there.
Indianapolis—Nov. 7, here.
Central—Nov.

Use your will power, mind your main clock.

Strong men have strong wills, weak ones have only wishes.

Wonder what spring fever is called when we have it all year.

It's better to keep silent and be thought a fool than to speak and remove all doubt.

You may have observed that when a mule is kicking he is never pulling; and that the same is true of students in this school.

Anyone studying our Honor Roll would be forced to conclude that the female of the species is more studious than the male.

If students went to their classes with the same speed and zest they display in their effort to get to the cafeteria, it may not doubt they were a knowledge seeking bunch.

The music department is indeed ambitious this year. Starting out with eager glee clubs, a much larger orchestra and two bands, it has hopes for several new musical organizations.

"Oh where, oh where, could my note book be?" So think we all of us when our history teacher says that he would like to look over our outlines. Note books certainly can be mighty inconvenient things at times!

Thrift is the gateway to success. It is a byword of the business man, the motto of good students and the foremost word of all great men. It should be the guiding principle of scholars in the South Side High School.

In high school, outside activities do not mean quite as much as to one in college. Yet they can be made to mean a whole lot. To join a club, to go out for athletics, to work on the school's publications, or take part in debating can mean little or something really worth while.

If belonging to a club means only the paying of dues, attendance at meetings, and the presence of your name on the membership lists, you are not getting the best out of the club. You should feel, and make others feel that you are a part, and a real active part, of the organization. You should be interested in its activities and concerned about its progress.

If taking part in the other activities means only doing the prescribed work and nothing more, you are not getting the vital part out of them. If you find that you are throwing yourself right into the spirit of it, you are getting at least some of the things for which they were begun.

To get the most and best out of these things put your best into them.

We take forty-two periodicals in our High School library. They are selected to provide material for use in preparation for class work or for general information and recreation. Under the first head are included magazines on current events, music, literary, and so on.

Under the second heading are the better general magazines and magazines of popular science. When students have finished their assigned work they can find the current numbers of all the magazines near the door.

These are good to pick up for a few extra minutes while waiting for the bell. Business and professional people find it necessary to keep abreast of the times. Study of newspapers and magazines trains in this direction.

The student will find the following magazines helpful for current event work: Current History, Current Opinion, The Forum, Congressional Digest, Independent.

For literary work the Atlantic Monthly and Scribner's Magazine would be a great help.

A history student should use the Survey for reference work, for it discusses all movements public and private, whose purpose is social improvement.

Science can be made more interesting if the student would take a few minutes each day and read articles from the Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, Radio News, Scientific American.

Music has not been forgotten in the ordering of the periodicals. Musical America, Etude, Menthonome and The Observer are taken for those interested in music.

On the new list of magazines subscribed to for this winter is Design. This magazine will be of interest to art students. Other magazines helpful to students taking art are School Arts Magazine, House Beautiful, Industrial Arts and Industrial Education.

Exchanges

One of the first exchanges received this semester was from "The San Mateo Hi," San Mateo High School, San Mateo, California. The Hi is a four-column paper and, according to the staff head, was published by only four people.

More than 674 freshmen entered the portals of Austin High School, Chicago, Ill., this semester. This is the largest class entered in the history of the Austin High School. This number is more than half of all the students of South Side High.

The senior class of North Central High School, Spokane, Wash., has organized a novelty music class for the first time in the history of that school. Any person having an instrument and any knowledge is eligible for membership.

Surveyors are laying out and measuring ground for a "million dollar" addition to Austin High School, Chicago, Ill., which will be begun within the next two months. The amount of money spent for this addition to Austin High School would cover the total cost of our South Side High School.

Austin High School, Chicago, Ill., has attracted nation-wide attention, due to the publication of the Austin High School "Hand Book." It is given to beginning freshmen, imparting knowledge to them that it has taken some of the upper classmen three years to learn. This book was compiled by the journalism classes, under direction of Virginia Huss, editor-in-chief.

BRAINS AND BULK.

Once upon a time, perhaps 140 millions of years ago, there lived in North America a big reptile by the name of Triceratops Dinosaurus. He was a big brute in spite of his funny name. When in trim for track or football he weighed in at approximately 38 tons. He, with his fellows, lived upon the largest and greatest animal of his time. From nine to 100 millions of years he was ruler of all he surveyed. Then all of a sudden this titan of the swamps and marshes began to die off. In a few centuries the last of his race passed into extinction.

What was the cause of this sudden and complete destruction? The reason is this. The Triceratops were the original boneheads. They had no brains, so to speak. The size of their brain was about two pounds, in a body of 38 tons. They knew enough to sleep when tired and eat when hungry, but such a problem as "coming out of the rain" was altogether too complicated for them to grasp.

Now there was a little mammal who began to develop at about this time. The little runt was only about the size of a fox, but he had a brain. He saw that it would never do to have to live with a beef fellow that was six times the size of an elephant, so he made use of his keen little brain. "I can never get the best of old Triceratops by force," the little Eohippus said. Accordingly the little shaver gathered his fellows around him and together they set out to eat the eggs of all these great reptiles. Every egg they found they destroyed. In a few years very few reptiles were hatched, and in a few more years their once magnificent race was exterminated by a little Eohippus with a brain.

Here's the moral, students; don't underestimate your opponent. He may be small; you may be large. The Eohippus was small, the Triceratops was a veritable mountain, but the Eohippus had a brain and used it.—North Central News.

With The Classes

Mary Gatwood, a sophomore, who attended South Side for the first few weeks of this term, has moved to Muncie, Indiana. She will resume her studies as a sophomore there.

Mildred Krick, a freshman, has entered the Convey High School at Convey, Ohio. She moved to Convey from Fort Wayne last week.

Francis DeWitt has returned to school after a few days of illness.

Miss Mereness, the domestic science teacher, was absent Tuesday.

Margaret Frederick was absent from school all last week.

Elizabeth Shaner and Mildred Soest were out the latter part of last week. Paul Kniffen was absent the first part of last week on account of illness.

Hazel Bridgeham was absent the first of last week because of illness but returned Thursday.

Gladys Rohrer was out all last week on account of illness.

Helen Clapesattle was out all last week with a sprained ankle.

Robert Tieman met with an accident. Both bones in his left forearm were fractured.

There are many pictures of fall flowers on the bulletin board in Mr. Gould's room.

In the greenhouse, Mr. Gould is growing a grape-fruit plant. At present it is about one and one-half feet high.

Erwin Wiebe has left school to go to work.

I lost five dollars the first day of school. There was no identification on it because it was just an ordinary bill. I notified Mr. Harris about it and in a few days I was told that my money was waiting for me in the office. I would like to thank the finder of the bill for his honesty.

Some South Side students might benefit themselves by following the example of George Wyss. George has just entered school two and a half weeks late but he came with the Latin lessons that he had missed, fully prepared. I know some who have not had their work as well, although they have been in school every day.

ONE OF HIS TEACHERS.

I am glad to see that South Side is showing aims for better things along musical lines. The new plans and organizations of Mr. Schafer for the music department in our school are excellent. I am sure every one will agree that musicals are almost if not as good an entertaining feature as any basketball, football or baseball game. I think it is the duty of every loyal South Sider who can sing or play an instrument of any kind to report to Mr. Schafer and join either the Glee Club, Orchestra, Band, Saxophone Band, or Stringed Orchestra, and help make the planned musicals a success. In so doing we will show our city that we are developing one of the finer arts as well as the athletics in the student body. Let's every one help boost for the music at "Dear Old South Side."

Taste can be cultivated—and I certainly do not know a better standard point than this, if one is really desirous of cultivating his taste. Do not pretend to like what you do not like. # EMERALD-GLAD GRIDDERS TAKE SECOND GAME Defeat Portland High, 25 to 7, Scoring Three Touchdowns In Last Two Quarters After Half-way Tie.

OPEN UP BAG OF PLAYS DURING FINAL PERIOD

Welbornites Play a Defensive Game First Half But Finish With Smashing Attack.

The South Side gridders romped away to its second victory of the season last Saturday afternoon at the stadium, when they took into camp the Portland High School eleven by the score of 25 to 7. The Green and White played a defensive game during the first half but during the final periods she opened up with a smashing attack that swept the fast living Portland team off its feet. Each member of South Side's team acquitted himself in dandy style.

The first half of the game was very interesting, although the smooth playing of both teams was marred by frequent fumbles. Each team made its touchdown on a break received by misplays.

The Game.

South Side kicked off to Portland's 20-yard line. Money returned it to midfield before being downed. After a series of plays failed, Portland was forced to punt. Brubaker blocked the punt. He recovered it and reached the remaining distance for a touchdown. Welsh drop-kicked for the extra point. Score: South Side, 7; Portland, 0.

Second Quarter.

South Side again kicked to Portland. Stone received the ball, carried it to South Side's 5-yard line. South Side's defense strengthened and Portland could not make the necessary yardage. South Side punted out of danger. Money returned the punt to South Side's 10-yard line. Money carried the ball to South Side's 3-yard line. Hogan plunged the line for a touchdown on the third down. Money drop-kicked for point after touchdown. Score: South Side, 7; Portland, 7.

Third Quarter.

Coach Welborn entered Currie into the fray. Currie had been kept out of the game because of his leg. South Side kicked off to Portland's 20-yard line. South Side gained possession of the ball after three consecutive fumbles by Portland. On a series of line bucks and end runs, South Side carried the ball to Portland's 10-yard line. Here she failed to make yardage. Portland punted to South Side's 40-yard line. Aldrich gained nine yards off tackle. Currie hit through tackle, dodged and twisted through secondary and ran sixty yards for a touchdown. Currie failed to kick goal. Score: South Side, 13; Portland, 7.

Fourth Quarter.

South Side again kicked off to Portland. Portland could not gain ground and booted to South Side's 40-yard line. Aldrich, Currie and Richendollar pounded the line for three first downs. South Side was in possession of the ball on Portland's 20-yard line. Aldrich hit off tackle for seventeen yards. Staley crossed the goal line on a quarterback sneak. The kick failed. South Side kicked off to Portland, who started a steady march to the Green's 20-yard line, where her defense braced and held for downs. Currie gained fifteen yards around end. South Side stayed a procession down the field to the visitors' 6-yard line from which Richendollar battered the line for the Green's final touchdown. Currie missed goal. South Side was well on its way to another touchdown as the game ended. Score: South Side, 25; Portland, 7.

SOUTH SIDE BATTLES AT LOGANSPORT NEXT WEEK

Rooters Asked to Accompany the Team; Route to Be Described in the Times.

Logansport will be visited next week by our Green gridders. It's a small town 73 miles from here, and rooters are encouraged to attend this second out-of-town fray. Mr. Greely does not know whether the team will motor or go by traction or train. Next week's Times will publish full details of the route so that a large number of rooters may attend the game.

Last year the Wardmen defeated the Loganberries by a 13 to 12 score. The small difference in the score was due to over-confidence on the part of our team and a let-up after the Central fray. This year the Red Devils are supposed to be a strong team, but last week Huntington beat them to the tune of an 18 to 0 score.

SPORT SHORTS

Football fans will be pleased to hear that Captain Eddie Aldrich has recovered from his severe cold. He contracted this illness last Thursday and Friday during the pep sessions.

++ ++ ++

The girls have not started hockey yet, because the equipment hasn't arrived. If it doesn't come soon, the minicricket will be playing ice-hockey instead of field-hockey.

++ ++ ++

Wilson McCormick and George Nulf have been earning newspaper recognition. Both of them played well in the opening contest, and the coaches and critics are looking favorably upon them. George is the brother of Bob, who was a famous Blue and White griddler.

Last year we battled Logansport to a 13-12 win on the Lincoln Life field. The close score was due to over-confidence. This year, as there is no over-confidence, the 13 ought to be doubled or trebled.

Did you notice how viciously that Portland team could tackle?

++ ++ ++

Let's make it three in a row and sock Peru.

++ ++ ++

Nobs Schopf showed the Portland boys what it takes to make Fort Wayne's all-city team.

++ ++ ++

If Don Currie had had legs Saturday, Portland would hate to try stop him when he is all right.

++ ++ ++

Boy Scouts will help to park the cars on the vacant lot south of school during football games.

Elwood High will play the eleven from Mooseheart, Illinois, on October 15. South Side was forced to cancel its game with Mooseheart last year according to I. H. S. A. rules, as it would have come after the close of the grid season.

Did you notice how the Green's line held Saturday?

++ ++ ++

South Side now has two decisive victories to her credit. However, the reason has just started. Wait till we play Tech.

++ ++ ++

Currie certainly thrilled the crowd in the third quarter. His run came after a fairly slow game on account of the continual punting.

++ ++ ++

Little cartoons of the players have been pasted on some of the first team's lockers. Wouldn't the girls like to see those, though?

++ ++ ++

Among "Who's Who" ought to be placed Frank Robertson, the all-state trainer. Frank has worked hard for two seasons as trainer of all South Side teams.

++ ++ ++

While we're speaking of star linemen, Rahe and Schopf, tackles, and Brubaker and Thiele, ends, are not to be sneezed at.

++ ++ ++

Portland has as fast a backfield as the Green will stack against except Indianapolis Tech.

++ ++ ++

At Auburn the South Side students outnumbered the Auburnites five to one. A motor caravan can keep the Logansport ratio being against us.

South Side vs. Peru—Here.
Kokomo vs. Huntington—At Huntington.

South Side will enter the fight to win the Wabash Valley Football Conference silver trophy, symbolic of the championship, this Saturday when the team meets the Peru eleven on the high school stadium.

The Green and White lost the chance to walk off with this emblem last year when the locals fell in defeat before the Peruvians. This year the team hopes to surmount this jinx in the very first game.

Wabash and Huntington lead the league as the result of their victories last Saturday over Kokomo and Logansport. If South Side wins, the Green will mesh with the leaders, as Wabash does not play and Huntington, if victorious again, will have the same percentage as the Kelly Klads, though they will have played one more game. A defeat of Huntington will let South Side and Wabash remain in the lead.

The league is made up of six teams, those from South Side, Huntington, Logansport, Wabash, Peru and Kokomo, the latest addition. Coach Clifford Wells, basketball and former football mentor at Huntington, organized the conference during the spring of 1923.

The schedules of the different teams with other members of the organization follow:

South Side of Fort Wayne—October 4, Peru, home; October 11, Logansport, there; October 18, Huntington, home; October 25, Wabash, there.

Wabash—September 27, Kokomo, there; October 25, Fort Wayne, home;

FOOTBALL COACH ISSUES CALL FOR FROSH MATERIAL

Yearlings Will Be Given Chance In Special Squads to Show Their Gridiron Ability.

THREE DRILL SESSIONS TO BE HELD EACH WEEK

Members of Varsity Will Assist With Squad; May Get To Play Central Rhinies.

A call for freshman football candidates to report for practice Monday afternoon has been issued by Head Football Coach Lundy Welborn. He wants at least fifty out to learn the fundamentals of the game and any over that number will be welcome.

The candidates will be divided into two squads, and will receive instructions from selected members of the varsity squad on how to play the various positions. Currie, Thiele, Ed Rahe and Martin will instruct one squad and Staley, Brubaker, Hanna and Martin will work with the other.

Three practice sessions a week will be held. The one on Monday, from 3 to 4:30 p. m., will be devoted to practice on the stadium. On Wednesday from 3 to 3:30 the squad will have skull drill and on Friday, from 4 to 5:30, they will cavort on the stadium again.

The final try-out for the freshman team will be held October 20, when the best twenty-two will be chosen. An attempt is being made to arrange a game with the Central freshmen for November 4 or 5. The freshman team after it is chosen will be fully equipped and will be coached entirely by the varsity coaches, Welborn and Gilbert.

The frosh candidates are asked to give their names to Coach Welborn by Friday and are asked to report for practice in old clothes on Monday.

Makes Benches.

Mr. Stahl has made four new benches for the football players to use in the stadium.

November 1, Logansport, home; November 8, Peru, there.

Peru—October 4, Fort Wayne, there; October 11, Kokomo, there; October 25, Huntington, there; November 8, Wabash, home.

Kokomo—September 27, Wabash, home; October 4, Huntington, there; October 11, Peru, home; October 25, Logansport, there.

Logansport—September 27, Huntington, home; October 11, Ft. Wayne, home; October 25, Kokomo, home; November 1, Wabash, there.

Huntington—September 27, Logansport, there; October 4, Kokomo, home; October 18, Fort Wayne, there; October 25, Peru, home.

SCHMIEDER-MONROE WIN NET CHAMPIONSHIP

Will Receive Small Gold Tennis Racquets for Capturing the Finals In Doubles.

Maxine Schmieder and Mary Monroe won the doubles championship in the girls' tennis tourney by defeating Doris Minier and Veda Stevens in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

The victory gives miniature gold racquets to Maxine and Mary, and tiny silver ones to the runners-up. Max also won the singles championship, and as the prize for that is also a gold charm, she will only receive one racquet as a reward for both winnings.

The first game in the opening round was as freakish as it was thrilling. The champs defeated Gertrude Brubaker and Louise Newell, 9-7, but it wasn't until they came from behind a 5-0 set score to win. The game score was forty-love in the losers' favor, it was the set point, and then they blew the point, and eventually the set.

Scores of the Second Round.

D. Minier-V. Stevens defeated M. Frazier-E. Miller, 6-3, 6-2.

C. Wager-V. Fell defeated W. Kion-miller-E. Suter, 6-3.

Semi-Finals.

M. Schmieder-M. Monroe defeated C. Wager-V. Fell, 6-1, 5-7, 6-2.

D. Minier-V. Stevens drew a bye to the finals, and were defeated by Mary Monroe-Maxine Schmieder.

The tennis trophies will not be given until the gold basketballs are awarded after the basketball season.

SWIMMING CLASSES WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Pool Will Be Formally Opened Tomorrow Night; New Classes Organized.

The rules and regulations governing the use of the Y. W. C. A. swimming pool, which will be formally dedicated tomorrow, have been announced by the association officials.

The classes, which will begin October 6, are under the directions of Miss Laura B. Chandler, Miss Esther I. Thomas and Mrs. Mary McD. Yapple.

Due to the large number enrolled, five new classes have been added. Each class has been increased from fifteen to twenty members.

A fee of twenty-five cents for a medical examination is required. Appointments must be made at the desk for the examinations. The bathers must wear "Y" suits and furnish their own caps. Soap hovers are also required before one enters pool.

The complete swimming schedule and rates may be obtained at the main desk or at the health education office.

With the Classes

The 10-A physical geography class enjoyed a diversion from the regular class room work last Friday when stereopticon slides illustrating the various land forms were shown. The slides were selected from a very fine set of 200 which was purchased for the department last year. A great many excellent mountable pictures from our own library are also often used for illustrations.

Miss Mott has a large sewing class and it keeps her "hopping." The girls are to make various garments and also take up the subject that every girl should know: How to entertain and how to receive guests. Later in the year they will study the woolen product thoroughly. After this is finished they will make a woolen blouse. The girls are all very interested in their work and, this being the case, much can be accomplished.

The first person to finish her hat in home economics is Jeanette Duray. Miss Rehner is very much pleased with it and hopes that the rest of her pupils do as well.

Miss Demaree's colchicums are in bloom. They are a genus of melanthaceous bulbous old world herbs. These bulbs do not require water or soil. The flowers are crocus-like, with a long tubular perianth.

Miss Mereness has assigned her domestic science pupils the special topic "The Manufacture of Sugar and Starch" to report upon.

The beginning classes in Spanish were overjoyed to learn that the Spanish text-books had finally arrived.

Mr. Voorhees gave a test in Chemistry II. last Thursday. The grades ran from six to one hundred per cent. Only one person, Forrest Weddie, got one hundred. The average grade was fifty-six and two-thirds per cent.

Joe Underhill, who graduated from Central in 1918, and is a Purdue graduate and Scout Executive of Detroit, was well pleased with the science department, library, gymnasium and manual training rooms when he visited here this week.

Mr. Chappell's class can now start working full force with the rest of the classes as he received the lumber which will be used by his classes this year. This wood is bought in rough boards. It is surfaced and cut into correct dimensions for the many uses it is put to by our own machinery and tools. Various kinds of wood are used.

The 10-A forging class this week is finishing its exercises in welding. The next time they report for work they will begin the making of tongs, which are part of the shop equipment. The boys are learning at what temperature the iron must be before it can be welded, and also what effect oxygen has on a piece of hot iron. This course is very similar to that given in an engineering school.

Mr. Spalding has a few grade school classes in manual training. The eighth grade classes are doing woodwork while the seventh grade classes are practicing lettering in mechanical drawing.

Memories of the past were called up in the chemistry class, third period, last week when Mr. Voorhees displayed a box of snail shells which he had gathered when he was a boy. He was at the time demonstrating his remarkable memory and he used the shells to an advantage. He learned the long Latin names of the shells when he was gathering them and now he can repeat them one after another. When he learned the names he did not know their significance but they are all remembered by him now.

Mr. Arnold's classes are still on the elementary work in mechanical drawing. The reason for this believed slowness is due largely to the fact that each mechanical drawing student has forgoing every other week.

Before leaving for vacation last June the manual training teachers, Mr. Arnold, Mr. Chappell, Mr. Spalding and Mr. Schellischmidt, had the job of oiling and storing all the machinery and tools. When school opened this fall all the tools had to be cleaned and placed in their respective places.

Mr. Gilbert's 12-B chemistry class had its first examination this year. The students' grades on the test ran from 17 to 100 per cent.

Velma Puff visited the music department last week.

The music department wishes to express thanks to Miss Ley for her co-operation in helping to make the music room attractive.

The music department will give monthly programs this year to be known as "South Side Musicals."

Mr. Parks' class in beginning book-keeping has completed the preliminary exercise set, and they are now working on the regular sets.

Each student in Mr. Schmalzried's United States history class will be responsible for a state during the coming election. They will get the information of the election returns from the Literary Digest. They will cast their vote in class on election day.

In Miss Smeltzley's history classes floor talks, lesson reviews, and an original talk were given this week. Miss Smeltzley gave a talk on "The Valley of the Nile." The floor talks were given by Mildred McCune, Maynard Patterson, George Simons and William VanNess. The lesson reviews were given by Richard Wiener and Edward Wilson. Splendid pictures on Egypt were supplied the class by Elizabeth Schmidt, Clara Doegenes, Richard Biekel and Junior Groth.

Alumni

A great number of South Side students who are attending Indiana University for their freshman year were pledged to various fraternities and sororities at that institution. Among those listed as new members are: Irene Hiler, Phi Mu; Dorothy Bennett, Alpha Omicron Pi; Vivian Crates and Miriam Yoder, Chi Omega; Manetta Schmieder, Delta Zeta; Alan Fromuth, Sigma Chi.

Eleanor Crowe has left for Charleston, Illinois, where she is to attend Eastern Illinois State Teachers' College.

Joe Gosney, '24, has been pledged to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at Franklin College. Joe has already put in his bid for helping to entertain the Times delegates who go to Franklin, October 25.

Josephine Braden, '24, spent a very enjoyable vacation touring in California and Canada with her family.

Robert Jurgensen, '24, left three weeks ago for LaGrange, a suburb of Chicago, where he has accepted the agency of the Wayne Oil and Tank Company. He sells and installs water softeners. Robert plans to go to school next fall, either to Purdue or Illinois.

The marriage of Grace Johnson, of the class of '23, to Mr. John Phelps, took place Friday, September 12, at the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. J. R. Gunn officiating. The couple were unattended. After a short wedding trip they will come to Fort Wayne to reside.

Dwight Meyers, Donald Smith, Josephine Dinklage and Deane McAfee are among the South Side grads who are taking Indiana University extension work.

AT THE RIALTO.

In "The Right of the Strongest," E. K. Lincoln's latest starring vehicle, showing at the Rialto Theatre Friday and Saturday, admirers of this popular star will have an opportunity to see their favorite at his best, both as a romantic screen lover and as a rough and tumble fighter. The story is a vivid picture of life in the Alabama hills, where a group of squatters determine to drive out a newcomer to the region, who wants to acquire their land for water-power purposes. There is a girl, of course, a part played by Helen Ferguson.

"Wife in Name Only," Bertha M. Clay's well-known and very popular novel, has been made into a photoplay, which will be the feature attraction at the Rialto Theatre Sunday and Monday. The picture was directed by George Terwilliger and has an excellent cast, which includes Edmund Lowe, Florence Dixon, Mary Thurman, Edna May Spooner, Tyrone Power, Arthur Housman, Ora May Jones and William H. Tooker.

"Her Own Free Will," the screen dramatization of Ethel M. Dell's famous novel, takes up many interesting questions, among them whether it is wise for a girl to marry a man fifteen years older than herself and whether it is worth taking the chance of marrying for money. It also shows just how a girl who has always had her own way reacts to a certain masterfulness in a husband. Helene Chadwick makes her debut as a star in this picture. This picture will be at the Rialto Theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

EIGHTY-SEVEN GIRLS JOIN U. S. A.; HOLD BIG MEETING

Accept Invitation To Meet With the So-Si-Y For Recognition Service at Foster Park.

Eighty-seven members were present at the meeting Monday of the U. S. A. club, the largest membership that that club has ever had. At the meeting the organization accepted the invitation to meet with the So-Si-Y for its recognition service and initiation at Foster park.

Last Monday's meeting called "storage batteries" resolved into a series of talks by the club officers.
Miss Symons, Miss Rinehart and Miss Mereless discussed some of the club's aims and purposes.

BILLY STIFF

THAT HUMOROUS COLLEGE FELLOW, who amused us last year as a member of the frosh is now a sophomore and funnier than ever. Created for the purpose of "filling a hole" in college papers, Billy Stiff has outgrown the field and is now offered to high school publications.

The TIMES is exceedingly fortunate in being able to run this comic strip weekly. Look for him in this issue.

TEACHERS' MEETING CONVENES HERE TODAY

Northeastern Indiana Teachers' Association Will Hold Two-Day Session in City.

The annual meeting of the Northeastern Indiana Teachers association will be held in Fort Wayne on Thursday and Friday of this week. A number of very prominent men are on the program and the meeting promises to be one of the best the organization has ever held.

The Hotel Keenan will be the headquarters of the session.
Two of the more prominent men on the program will be Dr. S. Cadman Parkes, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, Brooklyn, who will speak on the subject, "The Future of Democracy," Thursday, and Dr. Richard Burton, New York dramatic critic, who will speak Friday evening on the subject, "The Movies and the Multitude." Both of these sessions will be held at the First Presbyterian church.

There will also be a program by the Twelfth District convention of the Parent-Teachers association at the Anthony Hotel, Fort Wayne, Indiana, October 9, in connection with the Northeastern Teachers convention.
Mrs. Holcomb Ritter, district chairman will preside at all the meetings.
Mrs. Ross Shockley Lockridge will give a talk on high school associations. Mr. Schafer will direct the community singing. He will also sing a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Schafer.
Mrs. Frances Long will give a reading.

After the program the guests will be taken on an auto ride to the historic places in Fort Wayne. The annual banquet will be held at South Side cafeteria. The tickets will be $1.00 and reservations can be made by phoning or writing Mrs. Ross La Mar, 424 West Rudisill boulevard.

NEW MEMBERS ATTEND JUNIOR HI-Y MEETING

Enthusiasm Shown By Recent Additions to Roster; Purpose
Of Club Discussed.

The most successful and rousing meeting on record of the Junior Hi-Y was held with the new members Wednesday. Having elected the officers the preceding week, everything was "all set" for the new members, who attended with pep and enthusiasm. It is said that if the same fellows attend and help in the progress of the club, with the willingness displayed at the meeting, the Junior Hi-Y will have a record to be followed.

Two old members and one new, arrived this year. Tom Ward, the president last fall, was again elected by the old members to preside this semester. With the co-operation of the other officers and the advice of Mr. Davis, their leader, he hopes to bring the South Side club to what is always expected of the South Siders.

The officers are: Mr. Davis, leader; Tom Ward, president; Dick Bell, vice-president; Fred Pearce, secretary and treasurer.

The banquet was a "beano." The few green, blue and white decorations added to the fine spirit shown by both schools.
The entertainment was furnished by Fred Pearce and his sisters, who played a few selections on the violin and piano.

The whole club took part in the discussion of "What is the Purpose of the Junior Hi-Y?" led by Mr. Brunson. Then after the two school songs were sung, in a manner that would have pleased the yell leaders at a game, the two clubs adjourned to their club rooms for further discussion of club affairs.

Ready for Final.
Fred Knoche, a pupil of Mr. Spalding's 9-B manual training class, has completed all of his preliminary exercises in wood-working. He is now ready to take his final test for the term which is the making of a piece of furniture.

Wins Certificate.
Rebecca Andrews, a student in Mr.
Morris' typing class, won an Underwood certificate for writing at the rate of thirty-one words a minute for fifteen minutes.

Gets New Plants.
New plants have arrived from an Ohio nursery for the botany laboratory. These plants are: a flowering cactus, a small orange tree, dracena, and sansevieria.

SOUTH SIDE SWIMMERS HELP DEDICATE "Y" POOL

Three South Siders participated in the swimming and diving exhibition at the opening of the Y. W. C. A. pool Friday evening. Demonstrations were given of the side stroke, breast stroke, back stroke, running dive, standing dive and swan dive.
Those who participated were Dorothy Bales, Lucille Lapp and Maxine Rohe.
Relay races were conducted in the gymnasium by Miss Schwen, physical director at Central. Other gym exercises were conducted by Miss Esther Thomas, assistant physical director of the Y. W. C. A. Those who took part in these were Maxine Schmieder,
Mary Monroe, Pauline Baumgartner, Betty Newell, Cornelia Bade and El-vah Miller.

FOUR ROOMS EXCEED SUBSCRIPTION GOAL

Pass Hundred Per Cent Mark By Getting Outside Subscriptions; School Improves.

There will be an important meeting of all room agents in Room 20 at the end of the eighth period. Every agent must be there or be excused by Miss Harvey.
CHESTER WYNEKEN,
Circulation Manager.

Four rooms are now above the hundred per cent mark set as the goal by bringing in outside subscriptions from friends of the school, relatives or former students. Rows M and N, with Thelma Gasser agent, has, in addition to every one subscribing, obtained three extra subscriptions. The other agents who have passed the perfect mark are Mary Monroe and Jack Rodebaugh, who have the highest percent, and Olive Prine.

The whole per cent of the whole school has improved during the week, a number of new subscriptions having come in, principally from freshmen who are coming to realize the value of the paper.

CENTRAL WINS SECOND GAME; DOWNS BLUFFTON

Scores Three Touchdowns to Opponent's One; All Kicks for Goal Fail

The Blue and White added another victory to their belt by defeating Bluffton, 18 to 6. The Centralites used straight football, pounding the line and skirting the ends.

Baker, the Blue and White half, was the most consistent player of the game, making two of the touchdowns and gaining ten and twenty yards every time he carried the ball.
Bluffton scored in the last two minutes of play when a Central pass was intercepted on Bluffton's 40-yard line.
Central lost several opportunities to score more touchdowns through off-side penalties and bad passing. Tom Popp, who started at center, was forced out of the game with injuries.

OVER ONE HUNDRED PUPILS ENROLL IN GERMAN CLASSES

Sixty-Seven Begin Language This Semester; Department Is Expected To Grow.

One hundred and fifteen students are enrolled in Mr. Rothert's four German classes, a number that is considered unusually large as this is the second semester that this language has been offered.

The 9-B classes are the largest, with thirty-four and thirty-three in them. Thirty-three are studying 9-A German and twenty-six are in the 10-B class.
With such a rapid growth in the department, it is believed that another teacher will be needed soon to assist Mr. Rothert, who is welpleased with the interest that students are showing in this language.

Hear Dawes.
A large number of South Siders attended the Dawes address at the gym
Friday night.

Margaret Pocock is a real student.
She is constantly delighting her English teacher by the thorough way in which she looks up all allusions in her literature lesson.

SCHOOL CLOSSES NEXT WEDNESDAY FOR CONVENTION

Teachers Will Attend State Teachers Meeting at Indianapolis Thursday, Friday and Saturday

CLASSES WILL MEET
AGAIN MONDAY OCT. 20

Excellent Program with Nationally Known Speakers Has Been Arranged.

School will be closed next Wednesday at noon to enable South Side's fifty high school and thirty grade school teachers to reach Indianapolis in time for the opening session of the State Teachers convention Thursday morning. Classes will be resumed the following Monday.

The plans for the three-day general session program has been announced.
Sectional meetings will be held Thursday morning and afternoon.
The first general session Thursday will be a meeting of the members of the association by districts for election of members of the executive committee from the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth districts, and selection of a vice-president and member of the nominating committee from each district and selection of delegates to the National Educational Association meeting in 1925. This session will be held at the Cadle Tabernacle.

The session Thursday evening, at the tabernacle, is to be opened with music by the Arsenal Technical high school band. The inaugural address of Benjamin J. Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, whose term as president will begin then, will be given, and addresses will be made by Olive Jones, retiring president of the N. E. A. and Ernest C. Harwell, superintendent of the Buffalo
schools.

Two sessions will be held Friday forenoon, October 17, one at the tabernacle and the other at Tomlinson Hall. The tabernacle session will be opened with music by the Peru high school band. A report of the educational survey of the state will be made by H. L. Smith, of Indiana University, and addresses will be given by Eldo L. Hendrick, president of Missouri State College, and Carolyn Hedger, of St. v. McCormick Foundation. At the Tomlinson hall session addresses will be made by Dr.
Coffman, president of Minnesota University, and Hollis Dann, state music supervisor in Pennsylvania.
Music will be furnished by the Arsenal Technical high school orchestra and the Terre Haute high school glee club.

Likewise the sessions will be held both at the Tomlinson hall and the tabernacle Friday afternoon. At the tabernacle session the speakers will be Dr. Coffman, A. O. Thomas, state superintendent of Maine schools, and
J. O. Engleman, an officer of the N.
E. A. A business session will follow the addresses. The Manual Training
High School band will provide music.

The afternoon session at Tomlinson hall will be featured by addresses by Edwin R. A. Seligman, of New York, and Thomas H. Briggs, of Columbia university, together with a survey report by Mr. Smith and music by the Peru high school band.

A session, Friday evening, will be held at the tabernacle, with addresses by Mr. Seligman and Gail Harrison, of Columbia university. Music at this session will be provided by the Short-ridge high school orchestra.

Addresses by two candidates for governor, Ed Jackson, Republican, and Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Democrat, will feature the closing session of the Indiana State Teachers' association program, Saturday, October 18, it has been announced by C. O.
Williams, secretary.

An address by Jesse Newlon, of Denver, Colo., president of the N.E.A., at the same session, Saturday forenoon, will bring the annual meeting to a close. The girls' glee club, of the Arsenal Technical schools, will sing at the closing session, which will be held in the Cadle tabernacle.

WARNING NOTICES SENT OUT END OF NEXT WEEK

Warning notices will be sent out the last of next week, Mr. Harris announced yesterday. Last year at on-time 600 warning slips were sent out

Art Meeting Postponed.
The art meeting which was to have been held October 13, has been postponed. The meeting will be held some time this month. The date will be given later.

NO TIMES NEXT WEEK.

As school will be dismissed next Wednesday at noon, no Times will be issued October 16. The six-page issue today will partly compensate for its omission and the number of six or eight-page issues that will be put out during November and December will greatly exceed the number of column inches of news that the staff originally planned.

The great amount of live news brought in by the new staff and the steady growth of advertising demand more space for publication.
However, no attempt will be made to print "filler" just to put out a larger paper.

NEW DRESSING ROOM TO ACCOMMODATE MANY

A new dressing room will be installed in the high school immediately to accommodate the many athlete who make use of the stadium. It will be located underneath the manual training department and will contain 150 lockers and many showers, and will provide room for 150 players.
The showers will be of the newest type. This room will be used by all football, baseball and track men before and after the games.

The dressing room which is connected with the gym proper will be used exclusively by the basketball men.

GIRL RESERVE CLUBS TO HAVE STEAK ROAST

So-Si-Y and U. S. A. To Meet Together for Recognition
Service and Outing.

A recognition service and steak roast will be the big features of the joint meeting of the U. S. A. and So-Si-Y clubs, which will be held October 21 at Foster park.

Seventy-six girls were present at the last So-Si-Y meeting, which was held Tuesday in Room 24. During the business meeting, a brief review of the "Setting Up" conference at Camp
Yarnelle was given by Miss Esther Symons, girl reserve secretary. She also told of the plans of the clubs for making money by selling cookie pans and subscriptions for magazines and co-operating with the Hi-Y clubs in giving the play, "Nothing But the Truth." She also urged the girls to try to earn the girl reserve ring.

The plans of the service committee were explained by Cornelia Bade, chairman of that committee. Membership cards were distributed, and each girl was allowed to state of which committee she would like to be a member.

Lucille Grosvenor told of the lives of Stephen Foster and Fanny Crosby, whose songs have come down to us.
To carry out the idea of the meeting, "Songs I Can't Forget" were acted out. Florence Hazlett portrayed "The Star Spangled Banner," Mary Travis and Ruth Brown "When You and I Were Young Maggie," Mary Falk the South Side school song, and Dorothy Wagoner "Follow the Glean."

After the regular program, the girls were divided into groups of ten.
Each group was given some character in the comic section, which it was to portray.

The program for the rest of the semester is as follows:
October 21—Recognition—"Steak
Your Claim."
November 4—Four Square—"Earning in Purpose."
November 11—Joint meeting—
"Loyal to Friends."

December 2—The Charm School—
"Eager for Knowledge."
December 6—Foot-Feet-Fun.
January 6—Famous Women of the Bible—"Reverent to God."

January 20—Where are You Going My Pretty Maid?—"Reaching Toward the Best."

MATH-SCIENTISTS ENJOY FROLIC AT FOSTER PARK

Thirty Partake of "Eats" and Indulge in Games; Girls Win in Baseball.

The Math-Science wiener bake was held at Foster Park last Friday after school. About thirty people enjoyed the frolic. Wieners, pickles, marshmallows, doughnuts and ice cream cones constituted the "feed."

The greatest feature of the afternoon's entertainment was a baseball game between the boys and the girls.
The latter being victorious. Volley ball and tennis were also on the program.

The eats committee, composed of Miss Mabel Thorne, Kathryn Chapman, Florence Hansen, Carl Rohrer, and Tom Shulze were in charge of the affair.

The chaperones were Miss Thorne,
Mr. Greely, Mr. Virts and Mr. Davis, all of whom are faculty advisors of the club.

TEACHERS AND ALUMNI TAKE EXTENSION WORK

Seven Faculty Members and Many Alumni Are Getting Indiana University Credit.

South Side is well represented in the Indiana University extension classes that began last week, the recitations being held at Central High School. Seven faculty members have enrolled, and a number of alumni from both of the graduating classes.
The teachers who are taking work are Mr. Schellhammer, Mr. Heim, Mr. Schafer, Miss Burns, Miss Pitenger, Miss Rehner and Miss Havey. The alumni include Deane M.
Afee, Theodore Huger, Josephine
Dinklage, Paul Pepper, Mary Forke, Donald Smith, Dwight Myers and Dorothy McDougall.

Only one of the usual three extension scholarships was awarded this year. This was won by Paul Popp, the only one to try for the awards.

Comes from Hometown.
Raymond Warnock, from Eel River-Perry Consolidated High School at Huntersville, has entered South Side

Dorothea McKowen has returned after an absence of three weeks due to pneumonia.

SOUTH SIDE IS THE D IN POSTER CONTEST

Mary Travis Wins Prize In State Wide Exhibition; Poster
To Be On Display.

Mary Travis, a South Side senior, has been awarded the third prize in a state-wide poster contest, conducted by the Indiana Parent-Teacher association, the judges have just announced. Mary Travis has been studying art with Miss Ley for several years.

The judges consisted of some of the best artists and art critics in the state. These were chosen by the Indiana P. T. A. as follows: Mrs. Rollin Thomas, Pendleton; Dr. Theodore Steele, honorary professor of painting, Indiana university, Bloomington;
Mrs. H. Z. Dietz, Southport; Miss
Roda Selleck, Shortridge high school, Indianapolis; W. Z. Heitman, art editor, Indianapolis Star; Felix F.
Bruner, art editor, Indianapolis Times; Joseph Myers, art editor, Indianapolis News.

It had been originally intended to give only one set of prizes but because of the marked difference two sets will be awarded.
Representatives from the schools winning prizes are requested to be present at the afternoon session of the State Parent-Teacher convention in the assembly hall of the Severin hotel, Indianapolis, Thursday, October 16, at 1:30 p. m. Awarding of prizes will be made at this time.

The collection of posters that were submitted in the contest will be on display in the assembly hall of the Severin hotel during the convention of the Indiana Parent-Teachers association, which is in session from October 14 to October 16. The public is cordially invited to see this exhibit.

HI-Y ELECTS OFFICERS; TALK ABOUT ATHLETICS

Dick Porterfield Will Head Club; Football Coaches Could Not Be Present.

One hundred fellows attended the election meeting of the Hi-Y last Thursday. As this number could not all be seated in the banquet room, a few were forced to dine in the cafeteria. There, they said, a much larger meal was served.

The majority elected:
Dick Porterfield, president.
Ward Dildine, vice-president.
Allan Mason, secretary and treasurer.

One large event was greatly missed.
Coach Welborn and Gilbert, scheduled to give speeches concerning athletics, could not attend.

The business meeting led to "private opinions publicly expressed." Each member gave his opinion as to the problems of an athlete. Then the athletes gave their opinion of the same. Here, Mr. Harris took part.
He told that he played football when he was in high school and said that,
"There is something about bumping the other fellow" and that "the game is really enjoyable, yet the practice is hard to keep going."

S. S. at Wisconsin University.

Esther Palmer, a '24 graduate of South Side, is now resuming her studies at the University of Wisconsin. She has registered in the college of journalism. Other student from South Side attending Wisconsin are Paul Rothert, '23, and Paul Hes-
'23. In a letter she says: "I wish times all possible success and I sincerely hope that when the staff come up here in November that they will again 'bring home the bacon'."

Studies In New York.

Miss Mary Ebersole, a member of last year's graduating class, and one of the honor students in the dramatic department of the European School of music, has gone to New York City to further her training prior to becoming a professional. Miss Ebersole, who was a talented pupil of Mrs. Virginia Phillely-Withey, will study in New York this winter at the Alviani School of Stage Arts. Mary played the part of "Mandy" in last year's senior play.

Another Freshman.

Helen Bleeke, a freshman, has en-

Ralph Tait and Francil De Witt are Youngest in South Side High

Both Are Only Twelve Years Old; Were Able To Enter High School so Young By Skipping Grades In the Elementary School.

Ralph Tait and Francil De Witt have the distinction of being the youngest boy and girl in South Side High. Both are twelve years old. They are nine years younger than the oldest pupil who is twenty-one years old.

Ralph Tait was born February 1, 1912 in Toledo, Ohio and graduated from the Wm. A. Bell School at Indianapolis with high honors. While attending grade school he skipped two grades, the third and sixth. Ralph has lived in Fort Wayne only a few months. His favorite subject is English. He has shown his school spirit by subscribing for the Times and is considering joining the clubs. Ralph thinks South Side is the finest and largest school he has ever seen and thinks everyone in South Side has true school spirit. He is taking a commercial course.

Francil was born in Roanoke, Ind., in 1912. She is the youngest girl in South Side and is also taking a commercial course. She has lived in Fort Wayne since last winter and graduated from the James Smart school of this city. Previous to this she attended a little country school and was the only one in her class. Here she took the third and fourth grades in one year. Commercial arithmetic is her favorite subject.

Make someone happy. Celebrate Candy Day Saturday.

"Time and tide wait for no man."
"Too true," we realize as that last bell rings just as we rush into the building.

Did you realize that it costs three dollars to run this school for one minute? We'd say that it's a pretty expensive proposition when you figure up the cost for a day or even a period.

Gone are the days when we thought that two problems in arithmetic, a new spelling lesson, and a little home work in geography were too much for a teacher to expect. Gone, indeed, but not forgotten.

Last year the Green and White gridders battled Logansport to a 13 to 12 win on a Fort Wayne field. With a bunch of rooters, we can repeat the performance at Logansport with even a more decisive result.

The alumni certainly have proven their loyalty by the way in which they have subscribed for the Times and the manner in which they have turned out for the games. Yet, what else would one expect from the graduates of South Side?

We want to make the Totem the best in the United States. To do so the help of every member of the school is needed. Snapshots are very important to the book. Everyone has snapshots of one kind or another. You can help the staff and the Totem by handing in all your snapshots. If you have a roll of films hand them in to Room 20, and they will be developed for you. All negatives and pictures turned in will be returned to their owners after the copies have been made.

Many High School boys and girls fight shy of poetry. They do not know what they are missing. There is a little book, one of recent purchase, on our library shelves called "Verse of One Day." Pick it up some time when you have an extra five minutes. The poems are short and snappy and full of inspiration. They are classified by subject in the contents; as, "Peace and Patriotism," "Melody," "Experience." Try first one poem and think about it. We are sure you'll want to read another.

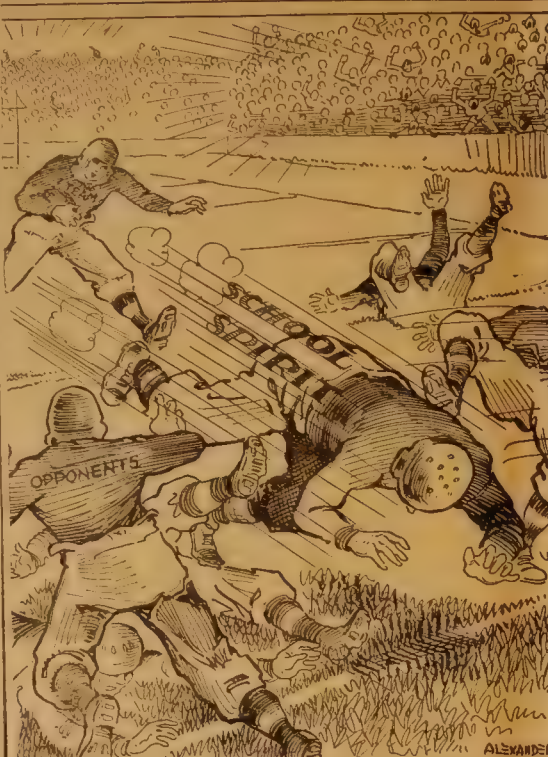

Spare time and how to spend it, is today one of the greatest problems of those people who are interested in the progress of the nation. All of us have time, some a great deal, and others very little, when we have nothing pressing to do. Finding something to do is easy, but finding the right thing to do and doing it in the right way, is where the difficulty comes in. The school has for this purpose organized clubs and sponsored athletics, public speaking and music, journalism and dramatics. Any student can take part in most of these organizations if he wishes.

PERSEVERANCE is one of the most helpful attributes that one can acquire. Sometimes we allow conditions to overcome us, when, with a little grit and determination, we could conquer them easily. Time and time again tasks are given up when the end is almost in sight. We ought to be more like the small colored fellow who was trying in vain to crack a large rock. Each time the sledge struck it, the stone was as defiant as ever. Still Sam persisted. Finally a friend, noticing his stock-to-it-iveness said that he never would succeed. "Never mind," exclaimed Sam. "I've been softening it for an hour."

Many times we let "hard ones" conquer us in getting our studies. Many times we give up when we should try our hardest. The very things that overcome us are those which we most need. Just the other day a certain person said "I know I'll flunk this course! The teacher's 'got it in' for me!" Undoubtedly this fellow would get more benefit if he buckled down to work and passed than if he flunked a hundred courses just because he had an idea that the teacher had a grudge against him.

The thought we want to leave is this: Mountains are stepping stones, not stumbling blocks.

OCTOBER CONTRAST.

I.
The surging, bustling, hustling day:
are done,
The night with growing steps pursue:
the day,
And with an ever feeblier, chillier ray
To southward veers the winter-fearing sun.
Dull stands the straw of harvest:
long since reaped,
Brown cling the leaves of hickory
and elm,
The garden waits for winter to o'erwhelm
The ebbing pulses where once nature leaped.
Gone is the rapture of my early youth,
Dead are the hopes of throbbing yesterdays.
With fear I slack my vain pursuit o truth
And shiver with the chill of formal praise—
Declining years let in the bitter cold
Of utter nothingness—for I am old.

II.
The maple, oak, and sumac flaunt their red
In proud defiance of the coming blast;
While hickory and walnut careless cast
Their fruit, which ere the winter, will have fed
The chattering squirrels and loquacious boy.

Grimes, Goldens, Jonathans, and Northern Spies
Invite to bobbings, call for fragrant pies,
And promise spur to every winter
joy.
And through the rustling of the fallen leaves
There come soft thrills that whisper of the spring,
How every tree and shrub in secret weaves
Unaccounted emerald flags to greet the king—
How after winter's gray and silent reign
Come bird and flower and golden sun again.

Read A Bit

"Great things thro' greatest Hazards are achieved,
And then they shine."
—Beaumont and Fletcher.

Do you want to go to college?
There is a way if you want to hard enough. Read the little book on "Working Through." It gives lots of ideas and suggestions that you can work towards. It is on the library display shelf.

Girls especially will like to read the "Log Cabin Lady." Born in a log cabin, the writer marries into a prominent Boston society. She tells of her humiliation and discomfort which resulted from ignorance of social customs and rules of etiquette. It is entertaining reading yet is a true portrayal of the conquest of self-consciousness and fear through mastery of manners and customs.

NEW SCHOOL SONG.

South Side has adopted a new song. The words are as follows:
Here's to our high school,
Here's to our team,
Fight to the finish,
Never give in.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
You do your best, boys,
We'll do the rest, boys,
Fighting for the South Side High.
Rah! Rah! Rah! (slower)
(Repeat once)

The Dean Says

It is always a temptation to make up for lost time by running through the halls. We believe that when our students are reminded of the danger to others, which going at top speed results in, traffic rules will be obeyed.

Martha McBulenger

Open Letters

Traffic System Good.

I want to express my approval of the new traffic system. Before this system was installed you could see pupils standing here and there in the halls when you would walk through them. The halls were so noisy during lunch hours that you could not study in the session room and could not recite in the class rooms.

This method as it is now not only makes the class rooms more quiet but also prohibits parking in the halls. This system has worked very nicely so far and with every pupil and teacher co-operating it will continue the same.

MARY ALICE TANNEHILL.

Spare That Floor!

We notice that boys in street shoes are staying off the gym floor. What's the matter, girls? Come on, show your pride! Keep the gym floor in good condition. Several hundred dollars have been spent this summer to make the gym more desirable, and it should be kept this way. We all know it is more convenient to walk across the gym floor than to go around, but wouldn't you rather take a 50-cent extra steps and have a respectable looking gym floor than to have one scratched and scarred?

MILDRED.

Blinds Again.

The appearance of a school may be considered as one of its main attributes. But what I am going to write is not about appearance in general, but especially about the window shades. Since we have such a beautiful school and surroundings, why not improve the appearance by keeping the blinds at the same length?

I. K.

A Winning Football Team.

A winning football team is never turned out by the coach and players alone. If there isn't the football atmosphere in the entire school, if the whole sentiment of the institution isn't interested and loyally behind the football squad they will never win the championship, no matter how much native talent they have nor how hard they work. It's spirit in the last analysis, that wins in football, and much of the greater part of that spirit must be infused into the squad by the rest of the school: principal, faculty, alumni, under-graduates, and friends.

WE THANK YOU.

Mary B.: "This class is so dead my feet's gone to sleep."

He'll Park In It.

Senior: "Boy! I got a new 'coup' today."
Freshie: "Coop? Why coops are for chickens."
Senior: "Well—"

"I sure am behind time," said the back of the clock.

Ruth Eickmeyer: "Where is Miss Harvey?"
Margaret Pocock: "I don't know; go ask her."

"Oh, dear!" sighed the budding young journalist, "I wrote an article on fresh milk and the editor condensed it."

Did you know that buying a radio outfit is a SOUND INVESTMENT?

With Thanks.

Latin Professor: "Charles, decline the verb 'amo'."
Charlie (sighing): "I'm afraid I'll have to, sir."

Math Teacher (citing an example for the rest of the class): "Frederick had an 'A' paper today."
Then speaking to Frederick, he said: "Did the problems require much exertion?"
Frederick: "I don't know. My brother worked two hours on them."

R. Wiener (studying history): "Say, when was the camera invented anyhow? Here it says that Hercules was PICTURED with a lion skin hanging over his shoulder."

Mr. Davis: "James, what is the hypothesis of this circle?"
James remains silent.
Mr. Davis: "Louder, please, louder."

Modesty.

Mr. Schmalzried in history class: "Who is the outstanding Greek poet, Homer?"
Homer Altevogt: "Homer."

How To Win Success.

"How shall I win success in life?" the young man asked; whereat
"Have push," replied the Button, "and a purpose," said the Cat.

"Find out the work you're suited for," the Chimney Sweeper said,
Just as the Match and Pin remarked, "And never lose your head."

"Aspire to greater, finer things!" the Nutmeg cried; the Hoe
Said, "Don't fly off the handle;" and the Snail cried, "Go slow."

"Be deaf to all that's told you," said the Adder. "Mid the strife,
"I've found it best," remarked the Heart, "to beat the way through life."

"Select some proper task and then stick to it," said the Glue "Look pleasant," said the Camera, "and tie-dy," said the Shoe.

"Have nerve," exclaimed the Tooth; the Hill remarked, "Put up a bluff."

"And keep cool," said the Ice; whereat the young man cried, "Enough!"

Mr. Schaffer: "I have decided on the date for the cantata, but just now I can't remember what it is."

Ruth McKeeman (translating a Spanish song): "At the door of heaven they sell shoes to the little angels who are bare-headed."

Jack Rodabaugh (studying Merchant of Venice): "How old was Bassanio?"
Miss Rinehart: "If you'll tell me how I can find out I'll tell you."

Jack: "I just thought their names sounded old."
Miss Rinehart: "I suspect they had the same names when they were small boys. Don't you?"

Miss Kiefer: "Are we all here this morning? All who are absent, please respond."

Them Good Ol' Days.

Pupil (describing a Grecian funeral): "The male relatives followed the funeral bier (beer). The rest of the day was spent in rejoicing."

Ned P.: "My ancestors were Scotch on both sides."
And Mr. Mungovan.

Miss Harvey: "What people are interested in the article 'Child is Scolded to Death at Anderson'?"
I. Guenther: "Doctors and old ladies."
M. Welsh: "Say, how about the undertakers?"

Atta Boy!

Mr. Voorhees (working electrolysis experiment): "Ed Clapham, go tell Mr. Hull to give me more juice."

When he came back, Mr. Voorhees said, "Mr. Clapham. I think there is a hammer in the other room; get it for me."

Then Mr. Voorhees explained to the class "Mrs. Clapham was at our house last night, and she told me to make Eddie do something."

Jinny: "I waved my hat at Bob and he waved his back at me."

Thank.

Bright Sophomore (translating Latin): "They held up the bridge for the Helvetians."

Sad But True.

Dorothen Kohlmeier was called on to diagram a sentence in English. When she started to the board, she dropped her compact and everyone turned to look. The sentence she was to diagram was "They all stopped, looked and listened."

A little "green" freshie came into the office one day and asked: "Where can I find Missesary?"
It took Miss Pittenger quite a while to find out that the freshie was asking for Miss Esarey.

Helen Gaskins (translating Latin which should be read thus: "The clamor of the men and the creaking of the rigging of the ship continued.") "The noise followed the creaking of the rigging of the men."

Miss Smeltzley: "Jack, when was Lincoln born?"
Sophomore: "I don't know. I was absent from school that day."

GRIDDERS GAIN REVENGE OVER PERU SATURDAY

Muddy Field Fails To Stop the Administering Of a 26 to 6 Defeat to Peru.

MEMBERS OF SECOND TEAM GIVEN TRY-OUTS

South Side Shows 'Ole Fight' In Several Spectacular Plays Throughout Game.

On a wet and soggy playing field South Side's fighting football team avenged its defeat of last year when it downed Peru by the score of 26 to 6 at the local stadium. This was South Side's first game in the Wabash Valley Conference, in which the team bids well for first place.

Coach Welborn started his whole second team with the exception of Brubaker, Martin and Thiele. The Green and White second-raters held Peru scoreless during the first quarter, while they established a six-point lead, when Brubaker blocked a punt in Peru's territory and Thiele recovered it and ran for a touchdown. On a series of well executed passes, Garritson, of Peru, scored the lone touchdown for his team at the beginning of the second quarter.

Pile Up Points
In the final half during the greater part of which the South Side regulars played, the Green unraveled the tie and piled up twenty points. By applying nothing but straight football, the fast Green and White players, taking advantage of their opponents' tiring condition, battered the Peru forewell for three touchdowns. Several other times they were within striking distance but lost the ball on penalties, fumbles, and failure to make yardage.

Aldrich, Currie and Nulf made long and consistent gains. Richendollar's line plunging was creditable. The work of the whole South Side line and especially the blocking and tackling of Brubaker and Thiele, were features. Welsh played his usual steady game at the pivot position. Dildine, substitute for Richendollar, electrified the fans when he intercepted a Peru pass and ran fifty yards before being downed.

The Game
DeHaven booted off to Peru's 15-yard line. After several line bucks failed, Balter was forced to punt out of danger. Brubaker blocked the kick. Thiele recovered it and ran for a touchdown. Nulf's attempt at drop kicking failed. DeHaven again kicked off to Peru. With neither team able to make gains through the line because of the heavy field, they resorted to punting. The ball was worked up and down the field with neither team gaining an advantage.

Second Quarter
Starting the second quarter with a renewed fighting spirit, Peru, after a number of short passes had been completed, scored a touchdown on a pass from Balter to Garritson. From this point Peru seemed to play with a hard-fighting spirit and was on its way to the second touchdown when Coach Welborn inserted his first team and completely broke the morale of the visiting aggregation. However, there was no scoring during the remainder of the half.

Third Quarter
Thiele kicked off over Peru's goal line. The ball was put in play at its 20-yard mark. The Peru backs found the South Side line impregnable and were forced to punt. Currie received the punt and ran for thirty yards through a broken field. Aldrich gained twenty yards by skirting Peru's left flank. Richendollar hit the line for a touchdown. Welsh kicked goal. Thiele again kicked off to Peru's 10-yard line. Peru fumbled and Brubaker recovered it on the 5-yard line.

Fourth Quarter
Currie and Aldrich made good gains around end. South Side was held for downs and lost the ball on Peru's 6-yard line. Nulf replaced Aldrich. Balter punted to Nulf, who returned the ball to Peru's 10-yard line. A pass from Currie to Brubaker resulted in the final touchdown. Welsh kicked for the extra point. Coach Welborn made several more substitutions. South Side was penalized 15 yards for holding. Peru's line held for downs. Dildine intercepted one of Balter's passes and returned the ball to South Side's 10-yard line after making a 50-yard run. South Side was penalized again. South Side's second string backs could not pierce Peru's heavy line. Balter punted to Welsh as the game ended.

BASKETBALL BALL WORLD TO START OCTOBER 22

Popular Hoosier Basketball Publication Starts On Volume III. This Month.

"The Basketball World," Indiana's basketball publication, will again be published this year, the first issue of Volume III, making its appearance October 22.

The popular publication devoted to the hardwood court game will again be printed at Frankfort, but the editorial and business office will be located at Thorntown as Eldred D. Cissell, owner and publisher of The Basketball World, is also publisher of the Thorntown Times.

The Basketball World will be issued in an improved style this year and considering the enthusiasm with which the fans, coaches and school officials of Indiana have greeted the paper during the past two years, an even greater success is predicted for this year.

Numerous features have already been planned, including a column by "Shootin' 'Em and Stoppin' 'Em," a column by Robert C. Starr and feature articles by well known coaches.

The Basketball World is the only publication of its kind and the circulation last year reached 680 cities and hamlets in Indiana.

The World publishes more box scores perhaps in one issue than any other paper in the state does during the season.

Mr. Cissell is now pushing his plans for the subscription canvasses in every town in the state and it is expected that the final circulation will be more than 10,000.

The sale of the publication on news stands will also be pushed this year.

The subscription price for the year remains at $1.00 and members of the Times staff have been appointed representatives in South Side. All interested should get their subscriptions in time for the initial issue.

Boots Found.
A pair of Russian boots bordered with astrakhan was found in Miss Hadsell's office. The owner should call at Miss Hadsell's office.

A new member of our sports staff included this in his list of sport shorts. We know not whether he was thinking of indoor sports or outdoor sports. Anyway this is what he sent in: "A kiss is always a pronoun because it stands for it. It is masculine and feminine gender; therefore it is common gender. It is a conjunction because it connects. It is an interjection because it signifies an act. It is plural in number because it calls for another. It is usually in apposition with a hug, at least, it is sure to follow. A kiss may be conjugated, but never declined."

Nulf, sophomore back, featured with long runs in the second half.

McCormick, another sophomore kicked exceptionally well in the first half.

"Eddie" Aldrich, captain, played as fine a game as anyone. His blocking and off tackle dashes were perhaps the most valuable to the team.

"Chic" Brubaker played the entire game and played well.

Somewhere remarked that Welborn could make a football player out of a bootlegger. Wilkinson beat Greenfield 45 to 0 Saturday.

Nulf and Dildine did their stuff.

Many people who saw the game Saturday didn't understand why when either team was off sides the ball was not always brought back. If a team executes a play and makes a gain, but a man on the opposing team is off side or commits a foul for which a penalty is due, the team making the gain has a choice of taking either the gain or bringing the ball back and accepting the penalty. In this way if a player on the defense sees a big gain is being made he cannot foul intentionally to bring the ball back.

What do you say, team? Let's take the Loganberries.

"Chug! Chug!" went the Fords over the hill.

"I have never in all my life seen such a crowd. Have you?" said Matilde to Josh.

"Not since old Johnson was buried, anyhow."

The Fords continued to pass in flocks.

FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT REQUIRES BIG OUTLAY

Nearly One Thousand Dollars Additional Spent To Buy Outfits for Gridders.

Nearly one thousand dollars has been spent this fall to purchase needed equipment for the football squad. The item for shoes represents the largest amount, as forty pairs were bought at $8.00 a pair, the total cost being $320.00. Twenty pairs of pants cost $200.00.

The equipment is of college style and is of the best quality. Fifteen new uniforms will be issued to regulars and substitutes. The equipment is light in weight but will afford complete protection.

The itemized list of purchases follows:
12 helmets at $6.50.....$ 78.00
20 pants at $10..... 200.00
25 shoulder pads at $6..... 150.00
40 pair shoes at $8..... 320.00
30 pair socks at $1..... 30.00
15 sweaters at $7..... 105.00
Incidentals..... 150.00
Tape..... 100.00
Medicine..... 25.00
12 balls at $8..... 96.00
Total.....$984.00

YELL LEADERS WILL BE NAMED AT PEP SESSION

Mr. Harris is going to select two boys and two girls for our yell leaders this year.

Those that tried out for leaders at our pep meeting and at the game Thursday and Saturday were: Mary Alice Tannehill, Mary McCurdy, Alva Miller, Dean Metzner, and Murrel Travis. There will be more try-outs at the next pep meeting.

Honor To Red.
The name of Allan Fromuth, '24, was included in the list of promising candidates for freshman football, published by the Indiana Alumnus last week.

SPORT SHORTS

Bill Kingsley and Joe Bolenbaw have been seen limping around on crutches. Both sprained their right ankles at football practice last week.

Melvin Richendollar severely injured his right shoulder in the Portland game.

Don Currie has been suffering with charley-horse. This is caused by the binding of a muscle and sometimes is very painful. However, this won't keep "Doc" from the next battle.

Class teams were started in basketball last Monday.

"Wardo" has been looking over new basketball equipment, and the team will shine forth splendidly in new jerseys and "everything" when the first basketball game comes around.

Coach Welborn has a good motto: "Learn to be good losers as well as good winners and not to alibi for defeats."

Currie well deserves the nickname "Snaky Hips," judging from his performance against Peru.

Brubaker and Thiele proved to be a good pair of teammates. Brubaker blocked a punt and Thiele picked it up and ran for a touchdown.

Captain Aldrich didn't act like he had a bad knee when he made that twenty-yard run.

Martin stopped O'Brien, the hefty center on the Peru team.

Bill Thiele looked like Ecklund of Minnesota when he side-swiped Peru's interference.

Central has won two games. South Side has won three. Both have won all games played so far. Fans are predicting one "grand" struggle when the Blue meets the Green.

After that fateful game one school is going to be both Blue with defeat, and Green with envy.

Here's hoping that Central and South Side keep on winning every game, because then the two will be so evenly matched it will be the closest inter-city game in history.

The new score board which was in use during the Peru-South Side game was a big benefit to the fans, who could easily gaze to the northeastern part of the stadium to see the score and downs at all times of the game. Sidney Peers was the artist.

LEADERS OF W.V. CONFERENCE ON GRIDDER'S LIST

South Side Football Team Will Meet Huntington on the Local Stadium October Eighteenth.

DOPE TO BE GAINED IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Huntington Now Leads Wabash Valley Conference With Two Victories and No Defeats.

STANDINGS
WABASH VALLEY FOOTBALL CONFERENCE
	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Huntington	2	0	1.000
South Side	1	0	1.000
Wabash	1	0	1.000
Peru	0	1	.000
Logansport	0	1	.000
Kokomo	0	2	.000

Last Week's Results
South Side, 26; Peru, 6.
Huntington, 19; Kokomo, 9.
Others not scheduled.

This Week's Games
South Side at Logansport.
Peru at Kokomo.
Others not scheduled.

On Saturday, October 18, South Side will clash with the fast Huntington team, which is in the lead in the Wabash Valley Conference, at the South Side stadium. So far Huntington has won two games and South Side has won one in the Conference. Huntington defeated Logansport and Kokomo.

From Saturday's score a considerable bit of dope on the comparative strength of the two teams can be gained. If South Side can pile up more than an eighteen point lead on the Loganberries, it will be evident that she has more offensive strength than Huntington.

The Kinseymen have always been strong rivals of South Side but have never been fortunate enough to come out on the long end of a football score in the two previous years of competition. In the two past year the games have been played at Huntington. This game will mark Huntington's first visit to South Side for a gridiron contest.

YELL LEADERS TRY OUT AT PEP MEETING IN GYM

The practice of some of our yell and songs was held on Thursday and Friday, the last ten minutes of the sixth period.

Five new yell leaders tried out. They were Mary Hughes, Naomi Wilkey, Morel Travis, Dean Metzner and Alice Tannehill.

The new yell which was practiced is:
He's a dandy,
He's a daisy,
He's always there to get it.
(The names of each one of the team is yelled.)

WINNING FOOTBALL

Takes More Than Speedy Backs

You've got to have team-work and interference. You can't win all life's battles by speed, either. You need "assistance" to gain success, and wealth, and the other things you want, just the way the man carrying the ball on the gridiron needs it.

Money in bank will "take out" the opposing obstacles and open the way to victory.

OUR SCHOOL SONG.

Due to the many requests received at the library for a copy of the school song, the Times is reprinting it below:

OUR SCHOOL SONG.

To the school that has no equal,
To the dear old South Side High,
To those teams there are no equal,
For you will gladly die!
Though the odds may be against you,
We'll still stand for your right,
And in the end we'll greet you,
Our dear old Green and White.

Visit Grades.

Teachers from the James Smart school were visiting South Side last week. Their school building was closed on account of the lack of heat.

TWENTY-NINE FRESHMEN TRY OUT FOR FOOTBALL

The freshmen who are coming out for the freshmen football team are: Robert Epple, Sid Peer, Foster Newell, Fritz Feustel, Richard Jefferies, Clayton Matlock, Millard Bennett, Wilfred Talmage, Luther Pahl, Bartlett Fletcher, Harry Hallstein, Billy Bassett, D. Bell, R. Barry, H. Gebhart, Jack Niebergall, Harold Shoakman, Bruce Grosvenor, C. J. Shimer, Otto Barbar, Ed Vogel and Bob Campbell.

ENROLLMENT INCREASING RAPIDLY AT SOUTH SIDE

Fifty Teachers Are Employed To Instruct Eleven Hundred Students This Year.

South Side is growing year by year. When South Side was put on the map of Fort Wayne there were only 800 students enrolled. There are at the present time about 1,100 students at South Side.

There are about 355 freshmen, 324 sophomores, 101 seniors and 260 juniors.

As the students increase in numbers more teachers are needed. At present 50 teachers are employed at South Side. Besides the teachers there is a dean, Miss Pittenger; principal, Mr. Harris; clerk, Miss McAfee; and a study hall teacher, Miss Chapin.

Six janitors and three engineers are employed at South Side.

WHO KILLED SCHOOL SPIRIT?

Who killed School Spirit?
"I," cried no-effort made,
"For right at home I stayed,
While football games were played,
I killed school spirit."

Who saw him die?
"I," said Sir Laggard One,
"That late to school did come,
"Legging it on the run;
"I saw him die."

Who'll make his shroud?
"I," said Miss Careless-owned,
"I'll strew lunch papers round
O'er the neat school ground;
I'll make his shroud."

Who'll to his funeral go?
"I," chided Miss Modesty,
"But eulogy from me
You'll neither hear nor see;
I'll to his funeral go."

Candy Day Will Be Observed In Fort Wayne On October 11

"Make Somebody Happy Candy Day—the Sweetest Day," Is Slogan Adopted For 1924 Candy Day by Local Candy Manufacturers at Recent Meeting.

A few years ago by concerted action the American Candy Manufacturers instituted what is known as Candy Week. Locally, Saturday, October 11, will be celebrated as Candy Day.

Candy Week had its inception in sentiment. The obligation one owes to loved ones—mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, wives, sweethearts, and friends—are partially paid during this week, as on Mothers' day, Fathers' day, Flowery day and so on. Candy Week, as well as those mentioned above, is used as a means of instilling within the sender as well as in the receiver of the gift, that obligation of friendly consideration and well wishes for relatives and others, so necessary for a solid foundation of American forms and institutions.

Creates Love.

This consideration of the subject is borne out by the fact that sentiment is rare, if not altogether lacking, in that rougher type or element of our citizenship which we deplore. By the fostering of that sentiment that prompts the giving of gifts to relatives and friends we at once foster and multiply in various forms a lasting regard for our people and our institutions.

People make institutions—love binds these people—a love for people creates at once a love for the people's institutions— which they love; there fore, Candy Week, while in a sense commercial, lends a material influence in its practice toward the strengthening of, and in line with, other phases of American ideas of the nation's welfare, an aid to American institutions.

Candy Week is but another of the many opportunities offered to us to pay our obligations to those we do love and to the ideals and forms of the nation we should love.

Greater Volume Sold.

Each year has witnessed a larger volume of sweets made up into tasty, enchanting, and alluring combinations for mothers, sweethearts, wives, and friends. Beautifully decorated boxes, baskets and containers of various materials in innumerable shapes and designs have absorbed the time and equipment of builders as well as taxed the ingenuity of hand designers and decorators, illustrators, printers, embossers, color printers, and box makers; in fact, the numbers and variation of shapes, designs and colorings are so wide in their ramifications that one delving into the matter

NET HOPEFULS WORK DURING GRID SEASON

Al Heine, coach at New Haven last year, who is now teaching at South Side, has been leading the Green basketballers through some light workouts the last two weeks.

A large number of players have been out, including Garwood, Simon, Bechtol, Fleming and Willson from last year's squad.

Mr. Gilbert states that regular practice will start immediately at the close of the football season.

The Weekly Quizz

What do you consider the worst or best day in the week? Why?

Gerry DuWan—"I think Monday is the worst day because I'm all tired out from practicing football." (We wonder if Gerry practices on Sunday?)

Flora Baer—"Sunday is the worst day for me, 'cause I have to play the organ at the Redeemer Lutheran church."

Mary Falk—"Monday is the worst day because I never have my lessons."

Betty Zoll—"I think Monday's the worst day because I spend all my time thinking over the good time I had over the week-end."

Miss Bert—"Wednesday is the best day in the week for school because the pupils work the best on this day as activity has reached its highest point."

Bob Steger—"Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays are the best because— (well, we all know that Bob gets letters from Ypsilanti on those days).

Dorothy Bales—"Monday is the worst day because I'm still recuperating from the week-end." (We must remember that Dorothy isn't such a good roller skater.)

Helen Rastetter—"Friday is the best day because I don't have to worry about getting my lessons for the next day."

Tom Wolfrum—"Friday is the best day because Saturday is the day after."

MISS REHORST TO ADDRESS PHILALETHIAN CLUB MONDAY

Will Tell of Experiences in Paris; Frances Wagner to Give Piano Solo.

Miss Rehner, who traveled in Europe this summer, will give a talk on "Gay Paris" at the meeting of the Philalethians Monday in Room 10. Frances Wagner will give a piano solo. The roll-call is to be answered by a quotation from Riley.

The new members who were admitted to the society are urged to be present. They are: Ruth Barber, Kathryn Chapman, Eleanor Colson, Dorothy Dungan, Mary Falk, Elvah Fashbaugh, Florence Hazelt, Thyra Jurgensen, Mildred Kesterson, Ruth Kettering, Helen Masters, Geraldine Markwalder, Evelyn Metker, Doris Minier, Mary Pocock, Marcella Reitz, Maxine Schmieder, Loretta Sell, Ruth Wehmhoff and Kathryn Wenzel.

Six Leave School.

Six persons have left South Side. Dallas Goin is now going to I. B. C. Ruth Bennett has left school in order that she may work. Constance Smith is going to St. Catherine's Academy. Dorothy Mason is also going to I. B. C. Gladys Rohrer and Margaret Fredrick have left school, but it is not known what they intend to do.

JUNIOR CLASS TO HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION FRIDAY

President, Vice-President, Secretary, Social Council, and Two Advisors Will Be Chosen.

The junior class will hold its annual election of officers for the coming year tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Room 96. A president, vice-president, secretary, two faculty advisors and a social council of three members will be chosen.

Nominations for these offices must be handed in to the office by 3 p. m. Thursday," stated Chestnut Plasket, class president last year.

The officers of the class of '26 for last year were: Chestnut Plasket, president; George Simons, vice-president; Maxine Schmieder, secretary; and Margaret Metzner, Pauline Baumgartner and John Simmers, social council. The faculty advisors were Miss Work and Mr. Greely.

BROADCASTING SET WILL BE ADDED TO OUR RADIO

Radio Club Or Class Will Probably Be Organized Later In the Term.

The receiving set of the school radio in Room 96 is working, but as yet the transmitting set for broadcasting is not completed. Early this fall a license was sent for from Washington, D. C., which, as soon as it arrives, will give us permission to broadcast. The parts of the set will be put together and the school radio, entire, will work.

Because of lack of time, plans have not yet been made as to a club, but there probably will be a radio club class further on in the year. If it is at all possible, the doings of South Side will be broadcasted. An attempt of this was made last spring when Bob Dreisbach broadcasted our program for National Music Week.

Plan Quartets.

Plans have been started for both a boys' and girls' quartet. There will also be a faculty quartet. These organizations will aid a great deal in programs given by the musical department.

LEARNS SWEDISH ON FOREIGN TRIP

Greta Astrom Returns to School After Five Months Of Vacation in Europe.

Greta Astrom, a member of the junior class, went to Europe last April knowing one language. She returned to school this fall the master of two, the latest acquired being Swedish, which she learned while visiting relatives in Finland. In addition to stretching her vocabulary, she had many delightful experiences and saw strange and beautiful things.

Greta's knowledge of Swedish came in handy when she saw the movies, for the reading matter was either in Swedish or Finnish.

The Swedish system of schools is different from ours, Greta says, as the boys and girls go to classes in different buildings. All of the pupils have to pay tuition, as public schools are not maintained.

"Just gorgeous," is the way that Greta describes the king's palace in Stockholm. Almost equally interesting to her was the one yellow taxicab that plied the streets of the Swedish capital.

Greta left the United States April 15, on the steamship The Stockholm, with her mother and brother. They landed at Gothenburg, Sweden, after a very rough eight-day voyage. From Gothenburg they went to Stockholm, where they remained a few days to see the sights.

Leaving Stockholm, they traveled to Helsingfors, Finland, where they visited some of Mrs. Astrom's relatives. They started back from Finland on August 20, crossed the Baltic Sea to Sweden and went through Sweden by train to Gothenburg and from there sailed to America on August 28.

The voyage home was spoiled by a tropical hurricane when just two days' sail from New York. It lasted for six hours and the sun shone brightly during the whole period. The captain told them that the wind was blowing at the rate of 90 miles an hour.

They arrived at New York September 6, where Mr. Astrom and Dorritt, '22, who had motored there from Port Wayne, met them. They all motored home, stopping to see Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

They arrived home after five months of wonderful vacation.

GIRLS' QUARTET CHOSEN; CANTATA IN NOVEMBER

First of South Side Monthly Musicals Will Be Given Some Time Next Month.

The girls' quartet, the best in the history of South Side, has been organized. A very beautiful quality of tone is present and the blending of the voices is delightful. The members are Ruth Wehmloff, first soprano; Thelma Birely, second soprano; Marjorie Matlock and Dorothea Kahlmeyer, alto. The regular rehearsals of the quartet have begun.

The first of the South Side musicals will be given some time in November. These will be monthly affairs. Talents from both glee clubs will be exhibited at these programs.

The first cantata will be given in November. It is entitled "Three Springs," by Paul Bliss. The story is of three springs that wound their way down from very high mountains to streams below, then out in the ocean, where they are lifted up into the heavens and carried about until they are dropped to the earth as rain. The cantata consists of solos, choruses and quartets. As a whole it is very musical and harmonious.

In musical appreciation students are allowed to take notes for reference when given current event assignments. They may use these when reciting.

INCREASE IN COLUMNS SHOWN IN MANY PAPERS

Many of the schools with whom we exchange papers have increased the size of their papers. The Spotlight has been enlarged from five to six columns, the Hyde Park Weekly of Hyde Park High School, Chicago, from five to seven; the Morton Register, of Morton High, Richmond, Ind., from three to six; the Hartford City Insight, from four to five; the Scroll of Washington High School, Milwaukee, from five to six; and the Optimist, of Bloomington High School, from four to five.

Cantata Selected.

The Girls' Glee Club is working on a cantata called "The Three Springs." This will be publicly presented in the near future.

BOTANY CLASSES TURN GARDENERS

Raise and Transplant Tender Vegetables and Flowers; Fine Results Are Obtained.

Big cabbage heads, large tomatoes, beautiful asters and snapdragons were grown from the plants that were started in the botany classes last spring. The pupils and teachers reported that a fine quality of these vegetables and flowers were the result of the miniature gardens which were in the greenhouse in June.

Mr. Virts, Mr. Harris, Mr. Greely and Mr. Gould are among the teachers that reported big cabbage heads and fine tomatoes.

Last spring Mr. Gould planted seeds of these plants and allowed the pupils who were interested to transplant the small flowers and plants into boxes that were especially prepared for them. Then at the end of the term the plants were taken home and transplanted into gardens. So many pupils took an interest in this experiment that Mr. Gould has decided to repeat the plan next spring.

EDUCATION WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED AT SOUTH SIDE

"Open House" Will Be Held Some Time Between Nov. 17 and 23; National Program Planned.

The week of November 17 to November 23, inclusive, has been set aside by the educational board, department of the interior, as American Education Week.

Mr. Harris states that South Side will probably have an "open house" night during American Education Week. The day has not yet been decided upon.

The program has been mapped out, each day having a special purpose: Monday, November 17, is Constitution Day; Tuesday, November 18, Patriotism Day; Wednesday, November 19, School and Teacher Day; Thursday, November 20, Illiteracy Day; Friday, November 21, Physical Education Day; and Saturday, November 22, Community Day.

TEACHERS ASSIGNED TO ROOM'S REST OF YEAR

One Each Period Will Assist Miss Chapin In Session Room Management.

Because of the large amount of work to be done in keeping the records and looking after the management of the session room, one teacher a period for a period of a month has been assigned by Mr. Harris to assist Miss Chapin, who has charge of the room.

In addition to maintaining order they will look after the tardy and absence records and will issue admits to classes.

The teachers have been scheduled for this semester and their periods follow:

From September 8 to October 6—1, Davis; 2, Makey; 3, Gordy; 4, Work; 5, Miller; 6, Brigham; 7, Rothert; 8, Greely.

From October 6 to November 3—1, Huddleston; 2, McCloskey; 3, Rinehart; 4, Murphy; 5, Schafer; 6, Fish; 7, Virts; 8, Greely.

From November 3 to December 1—1, Schmaltz; 2, Kiefer; 3, Burns; 4, Virts; 5, Perkins; 6, Pittenger; 7, Greely; 8, Smeltz.

From December 1 to December 29—1, Esarey; 2, Bert; 3, Whelan; 4, Virts; 5, Null; 6, Pittenger; 7, Paxton; 8, Greely.

From December 29 to January 26—1, Demaree; 2, Welborn; 3, Thorne; 4, Heine; 5, Fiedler; 6, Pittenger; 7, Parks; 8, Greely.

FOUR PAPERS RECEIVED DAILY AT S. S. LIBRARY

The News-Sentinel, the Journal-Gazette, the Indianapolis News, and the New York Times are the daily papers taken at the South Side library. These papers are taken for the pupils as well as the teachers, as it is thought each pupil should read a newspaper daily. Clippings are cut from the papers and classified and filed for public speaking and history students.

Club Practices Songs.

Instead of holding a regular meeting Thursday, the members of the Boys' Glee Club spent the time in practicing a few songs and in learning the new high school song.

MANY MAKE USE OF BULLETIN BOARDS

Boards Used to Show Best Papers, Pictures and Current Event Topics.

A tour of South Side reveals the fact that, although nearly every teacher could make good use of a bulletin board, only one-half of the rooms have one. In most of the rooms that are equipped with them, good use is made of them, but in a few, they remain blank.

Room 14, an English classroom, displays upon its bulletin board pictures of various authors and incidents in their books. In Room 12, another English room, the stories of Shakespeare are emphasized by an array of pictures dealing with Julius Caesar and the Merchant of Venice.

Room 94 gives evidence of its being a mathematics room by the one hundred per cent arithmetic papers upon the bulletin board.

The history rooms which use bulletin boards are Rooms 8 and 20. In the former, the pupils see the portraits of explorers, the makers of the Constitution, and President Coolidge with his cabinet, while Room 20 devotes one of its boards to pictures of former presidents, the Whitehouse, and the present presidential candidates. Room 20 also has an improvised board which is devoted to the Times.

The chemistry and botany rooms display upon their boards material peculiar to the subjects. In botany the space is filled at present with pictures of wild flowers, and Room 4 occupies the board with instruction sheets and special exercises.

Room 26, the typewriting room, has four boards. On these are pinned pictures of the world's champion typists, rules for typing contests, and certificates that have been awarded to successful pupils.

Wabash Teachers Here.

Last Friday South Side had several visitors from Wabash. Mrs. Olive and Miss McCarthy came from the Wabash grade school and Miss Blaney and Miss Troxel, interested in Latin and history respectively, were from the Wabash High School. Miss Troxel spent the week-end with Miss Harvey.

Louis Dirks, assistant principal of Shortridge High School, Indianapolis, also visited here Friday.

TOTEM CUP TO ARRIVE SOME TIME NEXT WEEK

Trophy Will Remain Here Until June; Mr. Nason Sends Letters Of Congratulation.

The loving cup which was awarded South Side for taking second place in the Art Crafts Guild National Contest of Yearbooks for 1924, will be here either the last of this week or the first of next week. This cup will remain in the school's possession until the latter part of May, when it will be awarded to the 1925 second prize winner.

Mr. Harris received a letter the first of this week from R. H. Nason, general manager of the Art Crafts Guild, who congratulated South Side on its fine book and wished the school every success for the coming year.

South Side must win the second prize twice in succession or for any three years to get permanent possession of the cup.

TWO ALUMNAE WIN HIGH HONORS IN COMPOSITION

Vivian Crates Makes Highest Grades In Freshman Class Of Over One Thousand.

Vivian Crates, former editor-in-chief and general manager of the South Side Times, distinguished South Side recently by making the highest grade in the freshman composition entrance examination at Indiana University.

Vivian made a grade of 98 per cent, the highest ever given a freshman in the university.

Miriam Yoder, former Times editor, proved she was from South Side also by successfully passing the examinations and entering the honor section, consisting of about fifty people, picked from over one thousand students.

To Complete Score Board.

The new score board which was to be erected for the game with Portland was not completed, but will be ready for the Peru-South Side clash. Mr. Stahl, who has been kept busy working on it, promises that it will be ready.

With the Classes

Harry Kesler is out of school with pneumonia.

Mildred Krick, 9B, has moved to Convey, Ohio. Ruth Johnson, 9B, has moved to Bellefontaine.

Miss Troxel, of Wabash, Indiana, visited the history classes last Friday. She visited Miss Smetley's second hour general history class. The topics for discussion were taken from the "Literary Digest." Miss Troxel complimented the members of the class on their ease in giving talks to the class, and their ability in discussing the topics. She was very favorably impressed with the studiousness of the history pupils.

Richard Smith has been transferred from Mr. Davis' fifth period class to the seventh period class to alleviate congestion in room S during the third period.

George Anna Hodgson of the James Smart school visited the eighth period geometry class, and commented on the wonderful equipment at South Side.

John Desloshen and Helen Clapesatt, who have been absent for two weeks on account of illness, have returned. Others who have been absent are Mrs. John Reeves, eight days; Clifford Staffel and Helen Richle, four and a half days, and Agnes Sorg, four days.

Mr. Schafer's harmony class has been studying intervals up to this time. They have now started the study of triads.

William Kinsley was absent from school two days last week because he injured his foot on the football field.

Two teachers from Wabash visited the 10 A Latin class the fifth period on Friday.

In order to more clearly illustrate facts about leaves, the stereoscopic lantern was used recently in the botany room.

Mr. Voorhees' third hour class had a test in chemistry I on Thursday, October 2. Five pupils made one hundred per cent. The lowest grade was thirty-two and one-seventh per cent. This is an improvement over the last one.

The following pupils gave interesting reviews of poems in Miss Demaree's English class: Eleanor Colson, "Evangeline;" Ruth Barber, "Snowbound;" Cornelia Bado, "Courtship of Miles Standish;" Willis Kline, "Grandfather's Story of Bunker Hill;" and "How the Old Horse Won the Bet."

AT THE RIALTO.

Dorothy Mackaill, who is starring in "What Shall I Do?" the new Frank Woods production playing at the Rialto Theatre Friday and Saturday, is an English girl. She was born in Hull and educated there and in London. Before entering pictures, she was on the stage at the London Hippodrome, the Century Theatre, New York, and in the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic. In "What Shall I Do?" she plays the part of a young wife faced with the problem of supporting herself and caring for her baby. Others in the cast are John Harron as the male lead, Louise Dresser, William May, Betty Morrissey, Ann May, Ralph McCullough, Joan Standing, Tom O'Brien and Danny Hoy.

"Not One to Spare," a dramatic gem of the screen, replete with heart interest based on the poem "Not One to Spare," by M. E. L. Beers, will be at the Rialto theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a simple home life tale, a story that is going to grip every mother's heart and bring tears to the eyes of those who see it. It is a sob picture pure and simple, and as such it will go down in film history with "Over the Hill." Directed by Renaud Hoffman, it is the first of a series to be made from the famous heart interest poems of history.

Lois Wilson, the star of "The Covered Wagon," in "Another Scandal" is the coming attraction at the Rialto Theatre, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Cosmo Hamilton's story. At last, lovely, lovable, perverse Beatrice, heroine of Cosmo Hamilton's latest and greatest novel, "Another Scandal," has been brought to life on the screen in the person of charming Lois Wilson. As the modern girl who has not quite outgrown her "girl-stuff" even though she has become a wife and a mother, Miss Wilson adds another splendid characterization to her already long list of screen portrayals, among them "Miss Lulu Bell," "The World's Chaggin," "I Matrimony a Failure," "Our Leaning Citizen," "Man-Laugher," "Bell Donna," "Only 18," "I'm Bound," that great epic "The Covered Wagon," and "Monsieur Beaucaire," in which she played opposite Rudolph Valentino. Of all her pictures, "Another Scandal," she said in the one she likes best.

A pretty but simple wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ekblom, on South Webster street, when their daughter Sigrid was married to Mr. Walter Chapman. The house was effectively decorated with palms, Columbia roses and smilax. Preceding the ceremony Dorothy Bolt sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left on a wedding trip to be gone two weeks. After their return the young couple will be at home at 2722 South Wayne avenue. Sigrid was graduated from South Side last year and the groom graduated from Central in 1920.

Mervyn Welch gave a delightful party last Friday evening. The guests were Marguerite Schiwer, Mary Hale, Virginia Trier, Marguerite Rahe, Margaret Mairland and Catherine Fries.

Hortense Wolfe and Wilma Jeffries entertained the Petage Campfire Girls of Huntington at the home of Hortense Wolfe Friday evening. After a pleasant evening a three-course luncheon was served. Those present were the Misses Pauline Mehrling, Mable Chriss, Glens Griffith, Helen Bridge, Ruth Adams, Ethel Swain, Geraldine Sheets, Mary Swain, Alberta Newell, Josephine Hawkins and Mrs. D. H. Adams, the guardian. Althea Pearman, of Chicago, was a guest.

Pauline Hilbish delightfully entertained at her home the Girls Friendship Club. Bunco was played and later a dainty luncheon was served. Those present were Dorothy Einsiedel, Marie Einsiedel, Evelyn Jacobs, Madelyn White, Vera Burns, Velma Rolf and the hostess.

Hortense Wolfe had as her home guest Geraldine Shuts, of Huntington, last week-end.

Jane Stringer entertained last Friday evening with a dinner. The guests included Josephine Dinklage, Bertha Branning, Camilla Waterfield and Hazel Cruse.

Ferdona Willson entertained a number of her friends recently. Five hundred was played and prizes were won by Margaret Welsh and Lucile Henkel. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the game. The guests included Margaret Welsh, Mary Lucile Otten, Mary Jane Florance, Ruth and Lucile Henkel, Evelyn Miller, Evelyn McGinley and Marguerite Turner.

Irene Drummond entertained a number of her friends last Saturday evening. Those who enjoyed this affair were Ethel Masterson, Geraldine Remmel, Grace Hall, Mary Fowler, Deane McAfee, Alma Busche, Mary Hall and Edith Jennings.

A wiener bake was enjoyed recently by the following: Jean Gillie, Margaret Pocock, Mary Horstmeier and Ruth Buist. Mr. and Mrs. Hillty were chaperones.

Pauline Bowerland entertained at dinner last Friday night. Covers were laid for Dorothy Martin, Dorothy Bales, Dorothy and Ruth Horstmeier, Ethel Fishman, Dorothy Cline, Dorothy Wilkey, Valette Wellman, Katherine Bechtel, Evelyn Metker, Prelina Fletcher, Mary McCurdy, Amelia Dildine, Edna Tilbury, Josephine Hyman, Margaret Lucke, Alice Diserens and Wilda Bower.

Lottie Dignan and Hazel Menefee spent last week-end in Dayton, Ohio, where they attended the air races.

THEME OF FIRST TWO DEBATES OF LEAGUE DECIDED

Question of Censorship of Motion Pictures Choice of Coaches at Teachers' Convention Here.

CHAMPIONSHIP WINNER CANNOT BE DETERMINED

Would Require Too Many Debates; Better Schools May Challenge Each Other.

Whether or not Indiana should censor movies will be the theme of the first two debates of each team in the Northeast Indiana High School Debate league, it was decided at the annual meeting of coaches and representatives of the league held during the district teachers' convention.

The complete question was: Resolved, that the State of Indiana shall be empowered to censor the motion picture films presented for commercial purposes. Other questions considered were prohibition, direct primaries, immigration, and Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway. There will be two more debates for each team upon a common subject not yet chosen.

Huntington Coach Elected
Mr. Day, of Huntington, was re-elected executive secretary over Mr. Makey, local coach, by one vote. A motion was passed that Mr. Day should determine the schedule for the league. It was decided that no attempt will be made by the league to pick a winner, because of the long and drawn-out debates it would cause. No restriction was made, however, preventing the more successful teams from challenging each other.

The local league has an invitation from two other debate leagues which center around South Bend and the Michigan City-East Chicago district to meet in a triangular contest for the championship of the whole of Northern Indiana on the subject of Resolved: That Indiana should repeal its Direct Primary Law. Whether the unofficial champion of the local league, if one be chosen, will represent the league in the triangular contest is undecided.

Change Eligibility Rules
The eligibility rules were changed from those of the State Discussion Contest to those of the State Athletic Association, because of the leniency of the former.

The schools represented at the meeting of the league were: South Side, Central, Huntington, New Haven, Leo, and Bluffton. There were delegates from Auburn, who left when it became known that they were outside the boundaries of the league. All the others, excepting Bluffton, were in the league last season, and renewed their membership for this year. Bluffton will probably join.

Local prospects for debating are bright, although there is but one letterman.

STRING ORCHESTRA ADDED TO MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS

Boys' and Girls' Quartets Picked; New Uniforms for Band Will Come Soon

A string orchestra has been added to the music department, bringing the number of musical organizations to seven. These are the band, the orchestra, the girls' and the boys' glee clubs, the string orchestra, and the girls' and the boys' quartets.

The quartets have been practicing every week. Ruth Wehmhoff, Thelma Birely, Marjorie Matlack, and Dorothea Kohlmeier, the girls' quartet, will have a special part in the cantata, "Three Springs."

Bob Nossett, Joe Little, Robert Thompson and Donald McLucas have been named for the boys' quartet.

The band has been drilling on a special stunt that will be first used at the Central-South Side football game. It will form a special part of all the basketball games.

Plans have been made for new uniforms for the band and these will be in time for the Blue-Green game. John Verweire will drill this band and also the beginners' organization.

Silver Trophy Awarded Totem For Ranking Second In Nation

Arts Craft Guild Cup

A handsome silver loving cup was received at school this week, the trophy for second place in the national Arts Craft Guild annual contest.

This prize was won last summer when the 1924 Totem, in competition with hundreds of other year books, was judged by Mr. Harsh, director of the Chicago Art Institute, and Harry Hillman, editor of the Inland Printer, to be second only to the Quiverian of Kansas City, twice first prize winner.

The cup will be on exhibition in the library the rest of the year.

SENIOR CARNIVAL TO COMBINE TWO FESTIVE EVENTS

Senior Circus and Gym Jam Will Be Given Together On the Same Evening.

ORGANIZATION FORMED TO GET WORK STARTED

Dancing To Be Held In Addition to Usual Shows; Refreshments Will Be Sold.

"We have made a number of general plans and have our organization perfected, ready to start work on the Senior Carnival," Ed Hulse, president of the senior class, stated this week, "but we are not ready yet to announce any specific plans."

"The Senior Circus and the Gym Jam will be combined this year because of the crowded school calendar and also because we want to conserve all the talent and energies for this one big all-school event," he added.

"We have decided to hold it on Friday evening, November 14, the night before the Central-South Side game. With every one on their toes for this game and ready for a good time, we expect a record breaking crowd and a good time."

Dancing will be held in addition to the usual main show and side shows. All varieties of refreshments and noise-making instruments and novel ties will be on sale.

The following appointments have been made: Poster committee, Dorothy Cline, chairman; ticket committee, Ward Dildine, chairman; main show committee, Robert Miles and Edward Hulse; side show committee, Robert Hanna and Tom Shulze.

These committees have not made any definite arrangements as yet, but they promise all who come a splendid time.

PICTURE TAKING FOR 1925 TOTEM GETS UNDER WAY

Seniors Will Make Annual Pilgrimage to Photographer Sometime This Coming Week.

PLAN INDIVIDUAL PHOTOS OF ALL STUDENT BODY

Next Week Has Been Set Aside to Have Junior Pictures Taken; Sophs Follow

All of the senior class is scheduled to have their pictures for the Totem taken by Saturday night, as the juniors will start having theirs taken Monday. This year's annual differs from former ones as every member of the student body will have a chance to have an individual picture in the annual.

A plan is being worked out whereby the seniors will have fewer and larger pictures to each panel while the underclassmen will have more pictures put in each panel. The pictures of all are being included this year because the group pictures are never satisfactory and yet the underclassmen should be made to feel that they are a member of the school.

Get Reduced Rates
Through a special arrangement with the Jefferson studio, anyone having his picture taken for the Totem will be given a special price reduction on all pictures ordered. A dozen pictures, mounted on a rich deckle-edged folder, can be purchased for four dollars a dozen. This folder will be ordered specially for the South Side and those who have seen the sample copy state that they are beautiful. A discount will also be given on more expensive pictures.

Plans for other parts of the book have been going forward steadily during the past month. The staff has about been selected and will be announced, in part at least, in next week's issue of the Times.

Talk Over Plans
O. H. Worley, of the Indianapolis Engraving company, and R. H. Nason, of the Arts Craft Guild, visited South Side recently and talked over plans.

At that time, the art layout for the book was discussed but it was not decided whether to have a historical design or to use a simple conventional motif. The final plans in regard to the dummy and art work will be decided this week when Charles Tribolet, editor of the book, and Miss Harvey stop off at Indianapolis to hold a conference with Mr. Worley.

Some action pictures of the football team have been obtained, but the editor states that the big and ever-present need is for more snapshots. Only a few have been turned in so far, though fall is the best time for taking snapshots. The most desirable pictures are those in which the persons are not posing to be "shot," Tribolet says.

PUBLIC SCHOOL GRIDIRON TOURNAMENT IS PLANNED

Contest Under Auspices of Indiana University to Consist of Passing, Drop Kicking, Punting

An all-Indiana public school football tournament, under the auspices of the Indiana University Athletic department, will be staged this fall. Competition among boys of approximately the same weight will take place, according to plans.

Enrollment cards are being mailed to principals of all schools in the state. Events for competition will be limited to punting, forward passing and drop-kicking. Twelve weight classifications have been worked out ranging from class A, up to 85 pounds, to class L, 175 pounds or over.

Principals and coaches are asked to vouch for the accuracy of the record made by each contestant. Winners of each event in each weight class will be awarded a gold emblem. The tournament will close Nov. 15, it was announced.

INVITATION RECEIVED TO HOUSE S. S. DELEGATES

An invitation to house some of the girls from South Side attending the C. I. P. A. convention to be held during the Thanksgiving vacation at Madison, Wisconsin, was received this week from Esther Palmer, a former South Side student and now enrolled at the University of Wisconsin. As only two delegates will be lodged at the expense of the association, this offer is extended to any girl going.

Shoe Leather Being Saved by Many Who Have Bicycles or Automobiles

Census Reveals That Nearly a Fourth Come to School In Private Conveyances; Boy Bicycle Riders Outnumber Girls Nearly Nine to One; Great Variety of "Busses" Stand Along the Curb and Even a Velocipede and "Scooter" Are Pressed Into Service.

One hundred sixty-nine bicycles were parked at South Side Tuesday, nearly all of them being in the "bike room," which has stalls for about two hundred bicycles. There were almost eight and a half as many boys' "wheels" as there are girls', as the boys were represented by one hundred forty-nine "bikes," while the girls had brought only twenty to school. The rule that all bicycles must be left in the room provided for them was kept fairly well, there being only two bikes left against the side of the school.

On the same day there were thirty-eight automobiles parked near the school. A few of these belonged to the faculty, but most belonged to students. While many teachers drive, only a few bring their cars to school regularly. Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Welborn, Miss Harvey and Mr. Schmalzried regularly leave their Ford coupes near South Side. Mr. Harris and Mr. Murch soon such lowly things as Fords, however, as they always bring a Jewett and Maxwell, respectively.

Some other faculty members who sometimes bring cars are Mr. Greely, Mr. Hull, Mr. Morris, Mr. Null, Mr. Gould, Mr. Thomas, Miss Keep, Mr. Spaulding and Mr. Clark, the engineer. Mr. Greely and Mr. Hull each drive Ford sedans, and Mr. Spaulding drives a Chevrolet. The Times was unable to learn what the others drive.

NEW REGULATIONS HIT SCHOOLS HERE

Change in Tournament Finance Rules May Cause Center School Actual Loss.

ENTRIES TO SHARE ALIKE

South Side and Central have been hit hard by recent changes made in regard to the financing of tournaments, at a meeting of about one-half the total number of the members of the Indiana High School Athletic association, at Indianapolis, during the state teachers' convention last week.

The proposal which affects Fort Wayne schools directly reads: "No distribution of funds will be made on the basis of season tickets sold by any school or schools in any community or communities for any basketball tournaments or track meets."

Last year, the profits were divided on the basis of season tickets sold. As Fort Wayne people were the ones who, in the main, supported the tournaments, the money when it was divided up remained for the most part in Fort Wayne. Under the new arrangement, each school entered will share alike.

In this way, a school that does nothing more than send a team here will share alike with the Fort Wayne schools that turn in most of the money.

The schools are further hit by the ruling that certain expenses must be paid out of the center school's special grant. This means, with the large expenses necessary to operate our huge gym, that the school would undoubtedly lose money if it undertook to stage the tournaments again.

A change in the method of awarding points for track meets and in the number of players that can be entered in a regional tourney was made.

The most important proposals that were passed, defeated or tabled are: XII. (Passed) Subject, Expenses—Sectional tourney contract.

1st—All legitimate expenses except for travel shall be paid from the gross receipts.

2d—The center principal shall receive one hundred dollars ($100.00).

3d—The I. H. S. A. A. shall receive ten (10) per cent.

FIRST P-T. A. MEETING TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Convention Report Will Be Given and Well-Known Persons Will Appear on Program

The first parent-teacher meeting of the term will be held at 3 o'clock Friday, October 24, in Room 98. The following program has been arranged.

A talk on "Human Values," by J. F. Haughton.

A solo by Katherine Stover McDonald.

Reports from the convention at Indianapolis will be given.

Several selections by the South Side band.

Mr. Haughton is connected with the Connecticut Life Insurance company and has always been interested in the civic life of Fort Wayne. Miss McDonald is the soprano singer at the First Baptist church.

The officers of the Parent-Teachers association are: President, Mrs. Wm. J. Rastetter; vice-president, E. S. Gould; secretary, Mrs. A. G. Barry and treasurer, Mrs. Henry Beadell.

The chairman of the various committees chosen by Mrs. Rastetter include: Program, Mrs. Harry Bowser; membership, Mrs. E. E. Dildine; publicity, Mrs. W. O. McBride; publicity, Mrs. Oscar Foellinger; ways and means, Mrs. Byron Somers; and social, Mrs. Harry Fletcher.

No Election Date Set.

No date for the sophomore election has yet been set, Mr. Harris stated yesterday, as the sophomores have made no move towards holding their election.

THREE DELEGATES LEAVE TODAY FOR PRESS CONVENTION

Faculty Advisor of Publications and Two Editors Go to Franklin College Meeting.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCES ON PAPERS AND ANNUALS

Silver Cup Will Be Awarded Times for Being Best in Its Class in Indiana.

Three delegates representing both publications of South Side left today to attend the third annual convention of the Indiana High School Press association to be held at Franklin college, Franklin, Indiana, tomorrow and Saturday.

Bud Beck will represent the Times, Charles Tribolet will look after the interests of the Totem and Miss Harvey will attend meetings of both publications.

Meetings Begin Friday

The convention will open at 8 o'clock Friday morning with registration, and the rest of the day and Saturday will be spent in attending lectures and round table discussions of the problems of high school publications. The leading feature will be a banquet to be held Friday evening. "A journalist of national importance will address the meeting, state officers will be present and greetings will be read from state and national officers and from journalists of national and international fame," the executive secretary states.

The silver cup won by the Times for being the best high school weekly or semi-weekly paper in the state will be presented at this time. Bud Beck, who will represent the Times, will receive the cup. Entries for the newspaper contest were sent to Franklin last May.

A number of entertainment features have been worked out for the convention. These will include a visit to the Masonic home, a tour of Franklin, the sophomore-freshman class and the Franklin-Rose Poly football game. It is doubtful if the delegates will attend the last two events as the greater part of a day is needed to make the trip between Fort Wayne and Franklin.

Central to Go

Central high school of this city is also planning to send delegates.

About four hundred students interested in newspapers, annuals and magazines are expected to attend, these representing at least one hundred high schools. Heretofore, approximately sixty-four high schools have sent representatives, the total attendance at the convention last year being about 200.

During the convention, the delegates will be the guests of Franklin college, the Franklin Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis club, Rotary club, Business and Professional Women and other civic organizations.

V. C. SHELTON ENTERTAINS GRACCHI WITH READINGS

Gives Several Humorous Selections Before Meeting at Y. W. C. A.; Club Has Fifty-three Members

Vernon C. Sheldon, of the Sheldon School of Speech, was the principal speaker last Monday evening at the Gracchi meeting. Mr. Sheldon gave several humorous readings, making up his appearance to suit the characters.

Sixty-three girls, including Miss Jones and Miss Symons, of the Y. W. C. A., attended the meeting. The Gracchi club now has fifty-three members, composed of young business women and high school graduates.

The next meeting will be held at six o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. on November 10. Anyone who wishes to attend must call at the Y. W. C. A. for a ticket, price 35c, before the meeting Saturday evening.

"Lessons Come First," Opinion Of South Side Student Body

Pupils State That One Should Enjoy Outside Activities, But Should Take Enough Time to Uphold Scholastic Standard; Opinions Vary on Question of "Fussing."

That adequate time should be given to lessons in order to do justice to the reputation of South Side high, was the unanimous opinion of students here when asked this week how much time should be given to school work, to outside activities and to "fussing." However, all are equally emphatic in upholding the principle of having a good time when assigned school work has been accomplished.

Margaret Welsh, '25, using a bit of logic, says: "A student should spend as much time on his studies as it takes to get them fully prepared, and one should attend all school activities." With an exasperated ejaculation she added, "Fussing is not worth the time it takes!"

Lottie Dignan, '25, in a trifle more definite statement declares enthusiastically: "I believe in spending about three hours on studies outside of school. I believe in having all outside activities, especially showing school spirit by attending the games. As to fussing—well—I spend about an hour fussing every morning waiting for Hazen Sloan to get ready for school."

"Spend three to four hours on studying is my motto," is Victor

OUR NEW SELF

HERE WE ARE, eight pages, and in our new dress. After a search for a better quality paper, the TIMES has adopted a stock called "news halftone" in place of newsprint. This new paper is whiter and clearer than that which was used previously to last issue, with no loss of "newsy" appearance.

The eight pages of today are due to the activity and energy of the advertising staff, as well as the industry of the editorial department in covering the school so thoroughly.

An hour a day keeps those low grades away.

It's a lot easier to "put in the day" than to try to put something into the day. But that makes it the harder to get something out of it.

A little less wishbone, a little more starch in your backbone, and a little more jawbone will get you somewhere.

Don't let a non-subscriber read your Times. It dwarfs his soul and sucks the nourishment from your future papers.

The co-operation of the teachers in filling out the class room news blanks and in helping the circulation department by encouraging students to subscribe for the Times has indeed been admirable. The staff appreciates it, faculty.

The reason the school is only seventy-five per cent for the Times is because there are certain people in each room who have failed to subscribe. These same people go around school proclaiming how earnestly they hope the Times repeats at Madison. How can we have a hundred per cent paper, with a seventy-five per cent average?

At Mr. McMillen's death, South Side as a whole and each student individually lost a real friend. During the twenty-six years of his service in the Fort Wayne schools, many of them as head of the English department at Central, he has been an inspiration to many because of his tremendous sincerity in his work and his great love for his profession.

Athletics and other outside activities are one important way in which we can show school spirit, but the real purpose for which we are coming to this institution is to acquire a higher and more complete education. Therefore real school spirit is shown only by him who stands for high scholastic standards and is anxious to see his school gain a name as illustrious in scholarship as in athletics.

A distinctive feature of the teachers' convention this year was the music furnished by high school bands and orchestras. These came from high schools all over the state. Our own teachers felt that it would be a "grand and glorious time" when South Side's orchestra appears on the stage of that tabernacle in Indianapolis. Let's show them, orchestra, that we can reach that stage of progression even though it does mean hard work.

Character consists of a number of distinctive qualities that a person possesses. A person with real character is one whose mental and moral qualities are high and above reproach. They will not permit him to stoop to cheating, dishonesty, or taking advantage of one who is weaker or dependent upon him. Then, the ideal person is one with a spotless character. Character can be acquired and developed. To be the individual you aspire to be, develop a little more character and the rest will take care of itself.

Everyone cannot be spectacular or brilliant, but it is within every one's reach to be reliable. To be worthy of trust and confidence is no common trait, and one that is hard to gain. Yet it is worthy of all the effort we put into it trying to cultivate it.

A student who can be depended upon to get his assignments in and to get them in on time is more appreciated than one who does spectacular work once a month and must be reminded and nagged at the other days to get even the assigned work done.

A person may have a most pleasing personality and be a source of pleasure to every one, yet, if he cannot be relied upon to keep an engagement or even a promise, our estimation of him is greatly lessened.

A football player may at times play a brilliant game and then other times be void of fight and pep. A player who may be counted on to give his best in every game, and to display the same brand of skill in each encounter is invaluable to the school and the team. It's this way in every-day affairs, too, and reliability is no less valuable.

PHILAS TO PRESENT POSTPONED PROGRAM

Miss Rehorst Will Give Talk On "Gay Paris;" Club Now Has Fifty-four Members

The program which was to be given at the last Philaethian meeting, postponed from October 15 to October 27, will be given next Monday with Miss Rehorst, who traveled in Europe this summer, giving a talk on "Gay Paris." Frances Wayne will give a piano solo. The roll call is to be answered by a quotation from Riley.

The club has the largest membership it has ever had this early in the year, thirty-four old members belonging and twenty new ones having been taken in.

The old members are: Cornelia Bade, Dorothy Bales, Marjorie Bell, Mildred Berlien, Eleanor Church, Dorothy Cline, Helen Crawford, Mildred Crane, Elisabeth Crane, Dorothy Eymann, Ethel Fishman, Prelina Plotcher, Helen Gaskins, Lucille Groves, nor, Geraldine Groves, Rose Joseph, Vianna Keesbury, Elizabeth Kline, Geraldine Lower, Elvah Miller, Helen Rastetter, Ruth Richey, Bernice Richhart, Lillian Rolf, Margaret Rose, Beatrice Riecke, Edna Vunthbury, Frances Wagner, Margaret Welsh, Isabel Walters, Dorothy Tucker, Kathryn Twining, Dorothy Somers and Jeanette Stults.

RADIO TRANSMITTING LICENSE HAS ARRIVED

Apparatus To Transmit Messages Will Be Installed Immediately in Room 96.

"Radio fans will soon be able to pick up messages sent from South Side," Mr. Hull, physics teacher, stated yesterday, "as our government license permitting us to transmit code has arrived. Our station will be 9DUY."

Plans have been under way for some time to rush completion of the broadcasting set as soon as the government gave the school permission to transmit messages and the like. The receiving set has been in operation since last spring. The radio outfit is located in Room 96, the physics class-room, and the steel aerial towers are on the roof over this room.

A radio club will be organized as soon as the pupils are far enough advanced in the study of the principles underlying radio operation.

Mr. Hull is also teaching on Wednesday nights an Indiana University extension class of fifteen people who are studying the principles of radio. This is a class "for everybody." Mr. Hull states, as it is intended to be "popular" rather than a technical course.

PUPILS SHOW RESTRAINT IN LUNCHING ON CANDY

That candy is eaten in proper proportion to the rest of the food consumed in the cafeteria at noon is stated by the persons in charge of serving the meals. Most pupils usually buy their candy after they have eaten their lunch, often substituting it for some other form of dessert. It is said that very few pupils make their entire lunch from candy.

Works in Bakery.

Violet Jackson, '27, works at the Foster Park bakery when she is not going to South Side. She works after school and on Saturdays. Here she waits on customers, makes doughnuts and all sorts of bakery goods. The Foster Park bakery has first recently been built. Violet has worked there for about a month and is filling her position capably.

Record in Attendance

The freshmen of Miss Work's Latin class have established a record in attendance which will require some effort on the part of other classes to beat. Of the fifty-four students comprising these classes, fifty have been present every day for the last six weeks.

Must Get Excuses

There are several girls that take gym who have unexcused absences. The names of the girls are posted on Miss Hadsell's door. Every girl should check up and get hers excused before it is too late.

Sister Visits Here

Miss Mary Chappell, sister of Mr. Chappell, visited South Side high school Saturday. Although no sessions were held, Miss Chappell thought we had a wonderful building and equipment.

Hears Candidates

Saturday morning, Miss Rinehart heard the speeches given by the candidates for governor. A very large audience was present.

To Visit Church

Specifications of the new organs of the Presbyterian church will be explained by Mr. Schaefer. A visit to the church has been planned by Mr. Schaefer's music classes.

Plays Solos

Kathryn Goyer, new violinist from Kentland, Ind., plays several numbers at the concert given by the orchestra at the opening of the Y. W. C. A. swimming pool.

Seigel Is Assistant

La Verne Seigel is assisting Mr. Schaefer in taking charge of the band uniforms and the music.

Begin Wool Garments

Miss Motts' girls have begun work on their wool problem. Some girls are making dresses, some middies, and others blouses.

Romance Mingled Among Names Of Many High School Students

Hearts, Belles and Suitors, Influenced by the Law, Cause an Interesting Experience for the Carpenter as He Reached Berlien After Traveling Many Miles.

Many Miles (Stephen) were covered by the Carpenter (Ruth) that day. He reached Berli(en) (Paul) by noon. He met the Bell(e) (Dick) of the day. At once he decided to be her Su(i)tor (Elizabeth). He wished for her H(e)art (Doris). He was very Meek (Hester) about proposing but she accepted. He took her to the first Ball (Dorothy).

His Kapp (Arthur) in hand, he waited at the Barg (Eleanor) for her. The Hall (Grace) was large with a pretty Bower (Doris) at one end. The Bell(e) (Virginia) became so weak in Bade (Cornelia) that she could stand no Moore (Wayne) and Fell (Violet) into his Lapp (Lucille). He felt (Herman) like a Baer (William).

"You're not my Ward (Tom), are you? You are Hale (Mary) and Strong (Kenneth). Read Emmerson (Leslie) and you won't do that again."

She left him and soon began flirting with a Fish(er)man (Ethel). He first threw a Mason (Allen) jar at her and then Pierce(d) (Frederick) her so that she was Brown (Dorothy) and Blue (LaVon).

She jumped over the Crick (Marjorie) and met Scott (Mildred) who gave her a Rose (Margaret). She went to the Park (Ruth) with him and there she met the Nobles (Velda) who formerly lived in (A) Meric (Nelle). They said that the Price (Thelma) of Grub (George) was terrible. They also said that the Mill (Virginia) had gone to pieces. The couple, however, were interested in the town of Florence (Mary Jane) and therefore decided to go there. They had to Hire (Virgil) the Masters (Helen) to go with them. The Joker (Geraldine) disregarded them so they hid Underwood (Dorothy) and were seen no Moore (Tom).

Moral: This may seem crazy, but blame the names.

With The Classes

Maynard Patterson and Clara Doenges, beginners in typing, have handed in all required work with no errors.

The 9B girls are finishing their third garment and starting on light dresses of voile, gingham, linen, cotton pounce, and like materials.

Approximately ten pupils every day come for help in mathematics. More are expected to come after the mid-term grades are given out. Miss Paxton is in charge of the pupils in room 138.

In grammar tests given to three 9A classes, Irene Keene and Helene Foellinger made the only A's.

Miss Motts' first and second hour class has just finished posters showing appropriate dresses for party and theatre wear. These are in contrast to posters made by the seventh and eighth hour class showing proper dress for school and office wear.

Mr. Schaefer's class in music history is studying about air vibrations respectively to the study of musical instruments. They will soon complete the study of the instruments.

The cantata to be given at Christmas by the glee clubs has been decided upon. The name of the cantata and the date on which it will be given will be published in the near future.

The members of Mr. Gould's classes were very interested in a display of rare flowers and fruits such as closed gentian, fringed gentian, ladies' tresses, white hancberry and wild cranberry. Mr. Gould gathered these while on one of his jaunts.

Mr. Gould has planted some tomato seeds which are now growing. He expects to have the plants bear about Christmas time.

Miss Mendenhall assigned her 9-A cooking class the special topic, "Tapiooca" to report upon.

Constance Smith has left South Side. She is attending school at St. Catherine's academy.

Miss Mendenhall thinks it would be a benefit to the school to place a waste paper basket near the cafeteria exit to put candy wrappers in. Too many are seen in the halls.

A map to aid in the studying of Caesar has been placed in Room 18.

Unguentine is the most popular article in the forge shop at present. The boys are learning to use their tongs and not their fingers in picking up hot iron. The rapidity with which they drop the "red hots" always brings forth the same question from Mr. Schellschmidt, "Is that piece of iron really so heavy?"

GYMNASIUM TO BE USED FOR POLITICAL MEETINGS

Democratic Pow-Wows Scheduled For October 23 and 24; Republicans
Here October 29.

Four political meetings are to be held in the South Side gymnasium before the coming election. The first of these will be a democratic meeting on Thursday night, October 23. They will also hold a meeting here on October 24.

The republicans will have the gymnasium scheduled for October 29. They have already held two meetings here. Dawes, candidate for the vice-presidency, spoke at the first of these, while Ed Jackson, republican candidate for governor, spoke at the last one.

The United States Marine Band will play here on November 6. Mr. Harris says that this will be one of the biggest events of the year.

PARENT-TEACHERS USE SOUTH SIDE CAFETERIA

The banquet of the Parent-Teachers' convention of the Northeastern Indiana Teachers' convention was held in the South Side cafeteria, the most suitable place in the city for such a meeting. The banquet was prepared and served under the direction of Miss Dixon, manager of the cafeteria. Mr. Harris, principal of South Side high, Mr. Agnew, principal of South Side grades, and Mr. Ward, superintendent of schools, spoke at the banquet. Mr. Ward stressed the need of a spiritual backing by the fathers and mothers of the teachers who have charge of their children.

Serve Meals
The 10A domestic science pupils of Miss Mereness are serving breakfast and luncheons.

Enters School
Lothar Lindhorst has entered South Side, coming from the high school at Decatur, Indiana.

New Pupil
Kenneth R. Beckes is a new 9A student in our high school. He comes from Kendallville. Mr. Chappell is his manual training teacher.

Make Tongs
Mr. Thomas' forging classes are making tongs, which will be used as part of the shop equipment. This experience requires a great deal of previous experience in forging and welding.

Inspects Houses
Mr. Arnold, while in Indianapolis, inspected many new homes as he is interested in contracting work and architecture. On Mr. Arnold's return trip he spent a few hours at Marion with Mr. Melliss, formerly of the local Y. M. C. A.

Dorothy Bennett, '24, is now living at the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority house, Bloomington. She lived for a few days at St. Margaret's Hall, but likes it better at the Alpha Omicron house, as she says it's more "home like."

Elizabeth Jordan, '24, is now taking a hospital course at the Lutheran Hospital. She visits school after during her time off. She has been forced by hospital regulations to let her auburn locks grow long again in spite of this, she likes her work very much.

Harriet Weiser, now living at Jackson, Mich., has sent in a year's subscription to the Times and wishes the paper continued success.

Park Williams is now on the editorial staff of the Journal-Gazette.

In an unusually interesting letter written to Miss Harvey, Leo Tardel expresses his regrets at leaving South Side. Leo was to have been business manager of the 1925 Totem but the event of his family moving from Fort Wayne, and it being necessary for him to go along, he was forced to resign his position. Leo writes of the Cleveland High School and its paper, the "Black and Gold." Five periods a day are held, the fifth being a "floating" period. That is, whatever subject taken the fourth period, it studied then, unless the student is very good in that certain subject then he is excused for the day. The periods are eighty minutes in length forty minutes recitation and forty minutes supervised study. Four years of English and three years of English are required for graduation. Also four years of gym is required. Graduation exercises are held in both February and June in Cleveland which, Leo says, is one of the nicest things about the Cleveland schools. With his interesting letter Leo sent a check for 75 cents for his Times subscription, which makes his letter even more interesting.

Dwight Meyers is working with the Grand Leader Dry Goods company in the shoe department.

Harriet Scott, a alumnus of '24, is leaving Sunday for Muncie where she will enter Muncie State Normal.

Joel Carpenter, a '24 South Side graduate, is working at Bennett's grocery store.

NO PLANS MADE FOR PROM; JUNIORS MAY ABOLISH IT

"No plans for the Junior Prom have yet been made," Richard Wiener, newly elected junior president stated this week when asked if his class would continue this social affair. He said the class officers have not yet chosen a faculty advisor and no arrangements will be made until one is obtained.

Rumors have been gaining strength that many of the juniors wish to substitute a more popular form of entertainment for the Junior Prom this year, so that the majority of the class can meet together at least once in a "real party."

FIRMS MENTION TOTEM TO ADVERTISE PRODUCTS

Molloy Company That Furnished Covers and Paper Company Honor Year Book.

Two of the leading firms in the country that furnish materials for college and high school year books are giving the 1924 Totem prominent places in their advertising this year to prove that they produce quality merchandise.

The David J. Molloy company, of Chicago, names the Totem at the head of the high school year books for which it supplied covers last year. It makes annual covers for the leading universities and colleges and the larger high schools, and its advertising is sent throughout the country.

The Dill-Collins Paper company, of Philadelphia, Pa., also puts the Totem at the head of the list of the better grade annuals for which it furnished paper. Its paper was used last year from Massachusetts to California and from Wisconsin to Texas. It furnished paper to practically all of the great universities in the country, including Columbia, Wisconsin, Princeton, Chicago, California and a host of others. The Totem used this paper, though more expensive, because of its superior quality. The paper company now is able to include South Side in the list of eminent schools that produced good annuals. Its advertising campaign is nationwide.

The Indianapolis Engraving company's salesmen are carrying in their trips through Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Kentucky copies of the Totem, which they exhibit to show the high quality of work they can produce when they work with a capable staff.

Dean Shaffer III

Dean Shaffer is absent on account of sickness. He is in the Hope-Methodist hospital.

Pages of 1924 Totem Reproduced in September Art Crafts Review

Four pages and the cover of the 1924 Totem are shown in the September issue of the Arts Craft Guild Review, a national publication that goes to most of the colleges and high schools in the country and to many of the engraving firms.

The pages shown are those that were distinctive. Two of the pages of teachers snapshots were worked out in a manner that has not been used before in high school annuals. The Conde Nast and other high grade magazines have been treating their pictures in this way.

TEN STUDENTS GIVEN TYPEWRITING AWARDS

Speed and Accuracy Basis for Granting Prizes; Mary Monroe Gets Bronze Medal.

Ten typewriting pupils from the classes of Mr. Murch received recently the June and September awards given by the various typewriter companies for speed accuracy.

Dorothy Thompson, Irene Hiler, Zelma Shaffer, and Ralph Wilkey received the Underwood certificate for typing thirty words per minute for fifteen minutes. Rebecca Andrews is the only one to qualify for this certificate in the September test.

Mary Monroe was awarded the Underwood bronze medal for typing forty words per minute for fifteen minutes.

The Remington company awards a certificate for typing twenty-five words per minute for ten minutes with not more than five errors. Helen Toay Underwood, Lucile Countryman, Frances Cozik and Frances Alger qualified for this certificate on the June test last semester.

Music Appreciated

"The thing I enjoyed most in the entire convention was the music furnished by the orchestras and bands of the various high schools," states Miss Work. She continues: "To see those boys and girls sitting upon that stage playing before the public was a source of pleasure to me because the thing for which I am working is to get young people to express themselves in some way. Of course, some of the music was faulty while others was beautiful, but each program was representative of hard work and great effort."

Play Inspires

Miss Kiefer seemed to enjoy herself at the convention. She said that she went to the history meeting to hear ex-Senator Beveridge. She was greatly disappointed when he did not appear. She said that she obtained the greatest inspiration from the production of "Romeo and Juliet" by the Jane Cowl company.

S. S. STUDENTS EAT MANY HOT DOGS

Two Hundred and Forty Wieners Consumed Daily By Girls and Boys.

Hot dogs seem to be a very important item in the menus of many South Siders.

This can be proven by the fact that 20 dozen are sold daily at the Star Confectionery, or in other words 240 hot dogs are consumed by girls and boys each day.

Nine hundred and sixty inches of dogs are used each day and 4,800 inches a week. If a day's wieners were in one continuous string they would stretch from curb to curb on Calhoun street three times.

FEWER PUPILS SIGN FOR BIBLE STUDY THIS YEAR

One Class Is Being Conducted Each Week at South Side by the Rev. M. K. Richardson

Twenty-two South Side students attended the first class of Bible study held Tuesday the ninth period in Room 16. It is being taught by the Rev. M. K. Richardson, who has been teaching Bible study in the school for the last three years.

Only one class is being conducted here this year. This is the smallest Bible study enrollment that the school has ever had, but it is believed that the number of pupils will be increased to about thirty at the next meeting.

About 160 pupils throughout the city are taking this course. One class is being conducted at Central and there are several in different churches.

The pupils will take their test the second Saturday in February at Central high school. For one semester's work they will get one-fourth credit or one-half a credit for a year's study. The class is expected to cover the first half of the Old Testament.

McAfee Returns

Robert McAfee returned to school after being absent for one week on account of a cold.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED IN SCHOOL CAFETERIA

Mothers Invited to Inspect Kitchen and Dining Room; Arrangements Draw Praise.

Several special dinners have been given this year in the school cafeteria. The first came when the South Side football squad entertained the Peru team at dinner on Saturday, October 4. There were about sixty fellows present at the dinner, which was pronounced a huge success by everyone present.

The Parent-Teacher association gave a banquet in the cafeteria October 9. About seventy women were in attendance at this affair.

"The cafeteria is a most delightful place" is the comment made by many people who visit our cafeteria. Miss Dixon says that visitors from all over the country praise the splendid and up-to-date kitchen equipment.

"South Side cafeteria will feed the contestants in the basketball tournament this year, as usual," stated Miss Dixon. "That will be the big event of the year."

Many mothers have asked whether they could come at noon and eat at the cafeteria. "Every mother is welcome to come and see the cafeteria and eat there if they care to. Many mothers have already done this and are very well pleased with the food equipment and atmosphere of the cafeteria," said Miss Dixon.

Visits Bloomington

Miss Demaree spent the week-end with friends in Bloomington. "The most interesting thing at the Teachers' association was Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," said Miss Demaree.

Enjoys Kindergarten Drill

Miss Mott said the best thing at the convention was the drill of Little Tin Soldiers, given by the primary pupils from Terre Haute. She also enjoyed the lecture given by Dr. Hedger on Friday morning.

Miss Mereness reports that the Home Economics lecture at the convention were very interesting and helpful.

W. L. MC MILLEN, SUPERVISOR, DIES

Was Director of Both High and Grade School English Since 1921.

RECORD DRAWS PRAISE

"Our feeling is expressed in Whitman's poem, 'O Captain, My Captain,'" Mr. Null, head of our English department, said in paying a tribute to the memory of W. L. McMillen, supervisor of English in the schools of Fort Wayne, who died at his home 215 East Woodland avenue, at 9 o'clock Saturday evening, October 11, after a week's illness with pneumonia.

School was dismissed at both Central and South Side in order that the teachers and pupils could attend the funeral services. The house and yard were crowded by the many friends of Mr. McMillen.

Mr. McMillen has been connected with the schools of this city for twenty-six years. He was appointed supervisor over the English department for all the schools of the city three years ago, in which work he was active up until the time he was taken ill, one week ago Friday.

During the remaining twenty-three years, Mr. McMillen was head of the English department of the Central high school. L. C. Ward, superintendent of the schools of Fort Wayne, said that he considered Mr. McMillen "the most valuable single person in the Fort Wayne school system."

Mr. McMillen for the past several years has been called to Bloomington to assist in planning the English courses of Indiana University. This last summer he was at Harvard University and wrote to friends stating that his visit had resulted in his teaching practically all of the time at the summer school.

VIGOROUS COLONY LIVES IN THE BOTANY AQUARIUM

Animals and Plants, Including Many Microscopic Varieties, Flourish in Small Glass Tank.

The aquarium in the botany room has more plants and animals in it this year than it ever had before.

A turtle, five goldfish of different varieties, a water beetle, water snails and cyclops call the aquarium their home. The microscopic animals which also occupy room in the aquarium are rotifers, paramecium and round worms.

The plants which lend to the picturesque beauty are: coratophyllum, najas, elodea, duckweed and myriophyllum. The microscopic plants are: oscillatoria, cladophora and diatoms.

The aquarium is three feet long, one and one-half feet high, and one and one-half foot wide. The water is changed at least twice a week. The animals live off of some of the microscopic plants and animals and a small cake made of rice flour.

OHIO PAPER COMMENTS FAVORABLY ON TIMES

The Hyphonian of Mansfield (Ohio) high school gives much praise to the South Side Times. It states in a recent issue:

"One of the best high school papers published is the South Side Times, of South Side high school, Fort Wayne, Ind. Last year at the convention of the Central Interscholastic Press association, this paper was given first All-American rating."

"Not only is this paper one of the best publications but it is also one which is presented at a much lower price than most papers are able to maintain."

ALUMNUS IS HONORED FOR SUPERIOR TYPING

The picture of Velma Puff, a 1924 graduate of South Side High School, is one of the 128 whose pictures are being sent to all parts of the United States on the Royal Typewriter Company roll of honor. The school department of the Royal company has made a special roll of honor of all Royal operators who make perfect records when trying for Royal awards. A copy of this sheet is on the bulletin board in Room 26. On this sheet are printed the names, pictures, and words per minute of the students who made perfect records. Velma Puff wrote 51 words a minute without error. She was a pupil of Mr. Murch.

Take Botany Excursion.

Science classes of the Austin high school, Chicago, took an excursion to Columbus Park lagoon in order to study water plants, or as they are called in their scientific name, hydrophytes.

To Regulate Traffic.

Junior traffic corps have been formed at the Lima Central high school, Lima, Ohio, to supervise the traffic in the congested districts around the school.

Designs Planer Guard.

A guard for the planer has been designed by Gerald Bottem, a pupil of Mr. Arnold's 10-A drawing class. This guard will be made by the sheet metal department of Central High.

Have Hello Week.

"Hello Week," the first of a series of campaigns planned by the Civic Industrial committee of Englewood high school, Chicago, will be inaugurated the latter part of this month. At the beginning of "Hello Week" cards will be distributed among the students upon which they are to write their names. During the week all students are to exchange greetings and names.

PINS TO BE GIVEN TO TIMES STAFF

New Plan of Awarding Recognition Is Given Much Favor By All.

DESIGNS BEING RUSHED

"All efficient members of the Times staff will be given awards," stated Hubert Beck, manager of the Times, in a recent interview. "Newspaper work deserves an award as justly as athletics or debating," he gave as a reason for his opinion.

Pins will undoubtedly be given, if present plans are carried out. However, it is hoped that lapel pins and watch charms can be offered. The basis for awarding them is on the amount of work turned out, rather than effort, because of the fact that results are to be rewarded rather than efforts. Points are earned for each bit of work, and pins will be given for a certain sum of points. Department heads will be rewarded upon the success of their departments and upon their general attitude toward the publication.

Designs have already been submitted but were not accepted. "The drawings that were received were very poor, but new ones are being made at present," Bud continued. "The job is being done with all possible speed, and there is a chance that some of the pins will be completed by Thanksgiving."

The quality of the pins has not been decided upon, but there will probably be at least three grades, so that a person may work for a higher recognition. Copper or bronze, silver, and gold pins are planned.

No action has been taken by the Totem in regard to awards, but it has been suggested that both publications give the same emblems.

FORM SIX-PIECE ORCHESTRA WITHIN JUNIOR HI-Y CLUB

Six South Side Musicians Make First Appearance at Meeting Last Night.

A six-piece orchestra, composed of South Side boys, has been formed within the Junior Hi-Y. It is the only musical club in that organization which is composed of members from both high schools.

The orchestra made its first appearance last night and was very well received. The members and their instruments are: Tom Ward, piano; Ned Perkins, violin; Paul Berlien, saxophone; Fred Pierce, cello; Gerald Ammerman, saxophone, and Dick Bell, traps. Other members will probably be admitted during the year.

The orchestra has been meeting every Monday and Wednesday night since the first of October and has mastered six of the latest popular pieces. They are meeting at the Y. M. C. A. or at the houses of members. They expect to play at the Junior Hi-Y Halloween party.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS READY FOR SPEECHES

Mr. Makey's public speaking class has completed the lecture part of the course and this week began the study of the brief. From now on their time will be taken up by practicing what Mr. Makey has told them about public speaking.

They are planning to make a speech every week till after the Christmas vacation. After that they will make their final speeches which will take the place of an examination.

These last speeches will be memorized; for all others the pupils will be allowed to use notes.

Weak Students Aided.

Two new courses of study have been added to Edison high school, Minneapolis. One is for the benefit of pupils with poor eyesight, and the other for rehabilitation. All the literature used in the sight class will be in large type. The purpose of the rehabilitation class is to restore students to their former good standing.

New Student.

Gretchen Bennett entered South Side last week. She is a 9-A from Central of Fort Wayne.

Buy Desk Tray.

A desk tray, made of three tiers, has been added to the equipment in Room 20 for use by the Times staff. The tray contains places for new copy, copy for the desk editors and copy ready for the printers.

May Take Out Digests.

The great number of Literary Digests which come through the library each week will be taken out by the students the same as any library book, Mr. Murphy stated last week. The students are expected to take a good many magazines out over the week-end and return them Monday because the history and civics classes have "Literary Digest" day on Monday.

Will Represent Times and Totem at State Convention in Franklin

"Bud" Beck

Miss Harvey

Charles Tribolet

Three delegates, Hubert Beck, Miss Harvey, and Charles Tribolet, will represent South Side at the annual Indiana High School Press association convention which is being held at Franklin this week-end. The TIMES will be presented a silver cup which was awarded as first prize in the state. The cup will be received by Bud Beck. Miss Harvey and Charles Tribolet will stop off at Indianapolis to consult with O. H. Worley, of the Indianapolis Engraving Company. Beck will attend all newspaper meetings, while Tribolet plans to take in all the annual conferences.

DICK WIENER NAMED JUNIOR CLASS PILOT

James Willson Made Vice-President; Pauline Baumgartner Chosen Class Secretary.

Richard Wiener was chosen to head the junior class this year at a meeting held October 10 in Room 98. James Willson was made vice-president, and Pauline Baumgartner, secretary. Chestine Plaskett, Cornelia Bade and Jack Clayton were selected for the social club.

It was decided to allow the officers to choose the faculty advisor. Nominations for class officers were turned in to the office until Friday noon.

The nominees for president were: Richard Wiener, Jack Clayton, Chestine Plaskett, Cornelia Bade and James Willson. Jack Clayton ran a very close second in the race for the presidency.

The competitors for the vice-presidency were: George Simmons, James Willson and Maynard Patterson.

Those named for class scribe were: Jeanette Stults, Pauline Baumgartner, Maynard Patterson, Cornelia Bade, Elva Miller, Dorothy Somers, George Simmons and Margaret Metzner. Pauline Baumgartner came out ahead with Elva Miller very few votes behind.

Gertrude Schuelke, Margaret Metzner, Jack Clayton, William VanNess, John Simmers, Cornelia Bade, Elsbeth Crane, Howard Welsh, Kathryn Twining, Beatrice Riecke, Dorothy Somers, Chestine Plaskett and Jeanette Stults competed for positions on the social club.

GUMPPER AVENUE WILL BE PAVED AT COST OF $6000

Central Band Given Appropriation; Appraisers Do Not Have Report On North Side High Ready.

A contract for the paving of Gumpfer avenue, just south of the high school building, was awarded the Grace Concrete company at a recent meeting of the school board. Trinidad asphalt will be used and the cost will be approximately six thousand dollars.

Five hundred dollars was also appropriated for the purchase of band instruments for Central high school. Three hundred dollars was given to H. J. Collier, Jr., business agent, for the purchase of a second-hand automobile for F. M. Price, assistant superintendent of schools.

The report of the appraisers of the proposed North Side high school was not ready. There seems to be a controversy among the appraisers themselves regarding the value of the proposed site.

FRESHMAN GIVES VIOLIN LESSONS

Jack Teeters, a Hoagland Grade School Graduate, Has Established Reputation.

A freshman in high school and at the same time a teacher of music, is the dual role played by Jack Teeters, who graduated from Hoagland grade school last June and who entered South Side at the beginning of the fall term.

He has been studying and playing ever since he was old enough to wield a bow and hold the violin. Since he had absorbed about all the knowledge that local music masters can impart to him, he has himself turned teacher. He has a number of pupils as he is well known for his musical ability. He has joined the high school orchestra and Mr. Schafer considers him a very valuable addition to that organization.

MATH-SCIENCE MEETING TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

Interesting Program Is Promised by Committee; Games Will Be Enjoyed After Meeting.

A very interesting program will be given at the next meeting of the Math-Science club, to be held in Room 96, October 24. The members of the newly appointed program committee, Ruth Eickmeyer, Allen Mason, and Mr. Whelan will take part in the program.

Ruth Eickmeyer will talk on "Reel-foot—an Earthquake Lake," Allen Mason will illustrate and explain "The Virtues of Lemonade," and Mr. Whelan will discuss "Our Programs for the Year."

After the program games will be played in the gym.

All members are asked to suggest topics which they think will furnish interesting discussions during the year.

EXPERT DEMONSTRATES MIMEOGRAPH OPERATION

The mimeograph in the general office recently received a complete overhauling by William P. Walker, of Indianapolis. Mr. Walker is a mimeograph expert. He has worked many years for the A. B. Dick company, manufacturers of our mimeograph. For several years he worked in the duplicating business in Europe and Canada. After the machine had been completely overhauled, Mr. Walker gave a lecture on how to use it. The science and commercial teachers, also Mr. Makey, Miss Miller and Mr. Rother, as well as the office force, attended the demonstration.

PREVENT GOITER BY MAKING USE OF IODINE SALT

Dr. Charles R. Dancer, Head of Medical Staff for Schools, Gives Points Regarding Goiters.

EXAMINATIONS GIVEN IN SCHOOLS YEARLY

Throat Enlargements Are Said to Be More Prominent Among the Girls Than Boys.

"Use common table salt, preferably iodine salt, for the prevention of goiter," stated Dr. Charles R. Dancer, chief of staff for the medical examinations made yearly in the schools when asked what should be done to prevent the further increase of thyroid enlargement.

"Approximately sixty-two per cent of the girls between the ages of 11 and 18, or from the fifth grade to the last year in high school, inclusive, have goiter in some form," he continued. "This was shown by our recent examination."

The examination this year was made from the standpoint of slight, moderate or marked thyroid enlargement, or goiter, and the work was done by a single examiner in order that the standard might be constant and the data uniform.

Both tonsil and thyroid figures are included in the report for the reason that a marked relationship has been observed between tonsils and thyroid enlargement. The examination was conducted among the girls because goiter is said to be from two to six times as prevalent among girls as among boys.

"We have graded closely," also stated Dr. Dancer, "so that the figures include the cases of very slight thyroid enlargement."

The results of the survey were as follows:

Total examined	2,875
Tonsils	1,121
Corrected tonsils	504
Thyroid enlargement:
Slight	1,374
Moderate	373
Large	27
Total	1,779

Fort Wayne is located in the center of the most densely populated goiter district in North America, the Great Lakes basin.

Dr. Dancer stated in conclusion that the prevention of goiter means vastly more than preserving the outlines of the neck. It means in addition the control of those forms of physical and mental degeneration, such as cretinism, mutism and idiocy, which are dependent on thyroid insufficiency.

Less milk is consumed in the cafeteria this year than last year, when one hundred bottles were consumed a day by two hundred and fifty pupils. This year there are only seventy bottles consumed a day by three hundred and fifty pupils.

"Boys and girls should know that milk takes the place of meat and furnishes the mineral and vitamins needed in our diet," Miss Dixon urged yesterday when commenting on the student's diet. "If the pupil has only the price of one dish he should choose the milk and deprive himself of dessert."

"Although potatoes and beans are filling, it is better to vary our diet and eat more green vegetables and salads," she added.

LARGEST SENIOR CLASS COMPLETES WORK THIS YEAR

About One Hundred and Sixty Pupils Expect to Graduate; the Present List Is Unofficial.

SENIORS NOT ON LIST SHOULD REPORT NAMES

Corrected List Will Be Used By Totem Editor to Plan Senior Panels in Annual.

The 1925 graduating class, the third one to complete its work at South Side, will be about twice the size of the first group of seniors who received their diplomas in 1923. The unofficial list include the names of 160 pupils, about two-thirds of whom are girls.

Seniors who expect to complete their work either in January or in June of this year and whose names are not on this list should see Mr. Harris immediately. The panels for the senior Totem section will be made from the corrected list.

The senior list follows:

Discuss Suitable Day

Mr. Null has been discussing with his senior students whether it would be better for his senior English classes to have composition on Friday hereafter instead of on Monday. A has been the custom heretofore. There are benefits both ways. When composition is on Monday, the student have a longer time to collect their thoughts when writing a theme. One disadvantage for Monday is that visitors come frequently on that day and a composition lesson seems drab and dull to them. Friday would be a better day in all respects except that the student has a very short time to polish a theme or any article he has written.

Ridgway Subscribers

Louis E. Ridgway, '24, now attending Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, has sent his subscription to the Times. He said he wished the staff and advisor "a world of luck" and hopes the paper would keep it All-American title.

Moves to St. Louis

Leslie Taylor, a pupil of Mr. Thomas' forging class has moved to St. Louis, Mo.

Liverworts Obtained

Some live liverworts were found on the plants that came from the Ohio nursery. These are the first live liverworts that have been here at school.

Illustrates Wild Flowers

On the bulletin board in the botany room there are some new pictures of wild flowers. In the News and Sentinel there appeared an article telling about a wild flower that killed several cows. The picture of this plant is among those on the bulletin board.

Tomatoes for Christmas

The tomato plants will soon be set in the botany greenhouse and to matoes are expected by Christmas.

Says Considerable Damage Has Been Done; Threatens to Prosecute Trespassers.

A warning has been issued by Mr. J. Metzner stating that nobody is allowed on the roof of his building, the one opposite the school.

It seems that several people have been getting on the roof to act as spectators to football games. Mr. Metzner says that nobody has been given permission to get on the roof nor will anyone be given permission as the roof has been badly damaged. "Everybody found on the roof will be prosecuted!" says Mr. Metzner, "and I hope that no South Side students will be found there. I believe that I can positively say that South Side students are too loyal to the school to act in such a manner."

Last Week's Results
Huntington, 13; South Side, 6.
No other games scheduled.

South Side's hope of annexing the championship of the Wabash Valley Football Conference was severely jolted and its desire to enjoy another gridiron season without a set-back was shattered Saturday when the red-clad Huntington eleven earned a 13 to 6 victory at the stadium before a capacity crowd.

Huntington Checks Varsity.
Huntington deserved the glory of winning. It had a team consisting of eleven hard fighters who took advantage of every break that came their way. Its march was well balanced. It has a heavy line, clever ends and a lightning-fast backfield. Huntington was playing its best brand of football this season, Huntington's own rosters admitted.

The absence from the line-up of Captain Aldrich, Brubaker and Currie, who were out with injuries, greatly handicapped the South Side play. Aldrich and Brubaker were out with wrenched knees and Currie had a contusion in his right hip. Not only was the strength of the team sapped by injuries, but every chance of victory was thrown away by the team's playing the worst brand of ball, without a doubt, that it has shown this year.

Title Hopes Dimmed.
The defeat Saturday shows the Green and White down into third place. Huntington could lose one of its two remaining games and still finish higher than South Side, as the Kelley Klads have but one more conference game to play, that with Wabash on Saturday. A victory over Wabash would give the Green and White a chance to finish in second place, but hopes have practically been given up of overtaking the fast stepping Red Devils of Huntington.

Following his usual custom, Coach Welborn started his second string performers, with the exception of Bill Thiele. Huntington uncorked some clever playing and scored a touch-down within a few minutes after the first whistle.

Sends In First Team.
The South Side second team started a gallant march down the field and only failed after it had reached the 11-yard line. Practically all the first team were entered there.

A penalty of forty-four and a half yards, or half of the distance to the goal, was administered to South Side for an illegal substitution.

After this, Huntington scored its second touch-down on a pass which caught South Side napping. The Green made its touch-down in the second quarter but did not have the punch to force over the winning marker.

The Game.
Thiele kicked off to Sheiber of Huntington's 5-yard line. Sheiber returned the ball to mid-field. Sheiber, Harlow and Smith pounced out two first downs which placed the ball on South Side's 20-yard line. On a long sweeping end run Sheiber crossed the Green's goal line. Sheiber dropped kicked successfully for the extra point after touch-down. Score: Huntington, 7; South Side, 0.

Thiele booted off to Huntington's 7 yard line. Herzog dodged through the South Side team and advanced the ball to his 40-yard line. The South Side defense braced and repulsed the Line City attack. The Green back field could not gain consistently and was forced to punt. McCormick got off a pretty spiral which was good for forty yards. The ball was in Huntington's possession on its 20-yard line as the period ended. Score: Huntington, 7; South Side, 0.

Second Quarter.
The South Side line held and Sheiber kicked off to danger. Staley returned the ball to his 45-yard mark. Lighthill, McCormick, Dildine and Staley slashed Huntington's forward wall for four first downs that netted forty-five yards.

South Side failed on a line back. At this time Coach Welborn sent in seven first string men who received great applause from the Green and White section, which had been thrown into a near panic as a result of Huntington's lead. Because of an illegal substitution, South Side was penalized half the distance of its goal which meant a 44 1/2 yard setback.

South Side was in possession of the ball on its 45-yard line. Two line rushes failed to net yardage. Welsh pointed to Sheiber. Three of Huntington's attempts to smash the line failed. South Side seemed to be strengthened by the playing of Martin, Schopf and Rahe in the line. Sheiber punted out of danger. The punt was fumbled and Hummer recovered it on South Side's 30-yard line. A cleverly executed pass from Sheiber to Hummer resulted in Huntington's second touch-down. Sheiber's

SCHOPF PROVES MOST AGGRESSIVE LINESMAN

Robert Schopf is to the left side of the line what E. Rahe is to the right side. He is without a doubt the most aggressive player in the line. 'Nobs' always has pep and keeps the remainder of the squad in good spirits. Bob is a husky, raw-boned sophomore who is just a natural born football player. He has the art of blocking and tackling well near to perfection. Bob is playing his second season in the Green and White colors.

KENDALLVILLE ROUTE SAID TO BE IN FINE CONDITION

Many Routers Expected to Accompany Team For Nov. 1 Game; Special May be Chartered.

The roads to Kendallville are reported to be in fine condition, and it is expected that all students having cars will motor through to see the Kendallville-South Side grid classic, which will be held there November 1.

Kendallville is about thirty-two miles from here. The road is paved to within about two miles of the town and is open all the way. According to the Hoosier State Automobile association, the best route to Kendallville leads out North Harrison street to the Catholic Orphans' Home, where that street ends. The motorist should make a jog to the left to the next street and then to the right again onto the Lima road.

It is probable that the players will go down in a bus. A special car may be scheduled if enough routers contemplate accompanying the team.

SOUTH SIDERS WITNESS MICHIGAN-ILLINI FRAY

Miss Thorne, Mary Monroe and other South Side people attended the Illinois-Michigan game last Saturday at the University of Illinois. Seats for 66,000 people and space for 10,000 cars were provided. If it cost $25 for each person to attend, the attendance cost more than a million and a half.

The formal dedication was Friday, October 7, 1924, and the dedicatory game was Saturday, October 18. The stadium is a memorial to the former Illinois students killed during the World war. Each one of the 200 columns is dedicated to some Illinois student killed in the war.

drop-kick went wide. Score: Huntington, 13; South Side, 0.
DeHaven kicked off over the goal line. Huntington could not gain through the Green line. Sheiber punted to Welsh. The ball went high and fell short. Now South Side was in position to score from the 20-yard line. A pass from Welsh to Rahe, who was across the goal, resulted in South Side's lone touch-down. Welsh's drop-kick failed.

Third Quarter.
DeHaven again kicked off over Huntington's goal line. Huntington failed to gain through South Side defenses. Sheiber kicked out of danger. Welsh exchanged punts. Thiele and Brubaker nailed Sheiber on two at tempted end runs. Sheiber's punt fell short and Welsh signalled for a fair catch, but was tackled. South Side was in possession of the ball on its 15-yard line. South Side made its down. Richmonder plunged line 1-yard mark. Welsh again called Richmonder for a plunge. He crossed the line but South Side was penalized for its back field being in motion. Huntington braced and South Side could not score. Sheiber kicked out of danger. The entrance of Currie, heralded by the frenzied crowd, Currie immediately tore off two first downs on an end run and an off-tackle smash.
Score: Huntington, 13; South Side, 6.

Fourth Quarter.
South Side had the ball in mid-field. Huntington held for downs. Coach Welborn inserted Captain Aldrich in to the fray. Aldrich's knee bothered him much. South Side opened up with its aerial attack. Huntington was fully prepared to meet it. Harlow intercepted a pass and dimmed South Side's last hope. Sheiber kicked out of danger and the game ended. Score: Huntington, 13; South Side, 6.

CENTRAL SUFFERS TWO DEFEATS IN TWO WEEKS

Emmerson High School of Gary and Decatur High Victors Over the Local.

Central high school's football team played the losing role in two defeats in the last two weeks. Emmerson, of Gary, handed Central the first drubbing by the score of 77 to 0. Decatur beat them last Friday by seven points, 13 to 6.

In the Gary game Central was unable to solve the whirlwind attack displayed by the Steel Mill team. Gary had a backfield composed of probably the fastest quartet in Indiana high school football. Gary's line was not so heavy but was well versed in its style of play.

Gary made most of its touchdowns by intercepting passes and by returning punts and kick-offs. Few of Gary's long gains were made through the line, but when once the fleet-footed backfield skirted the end, it took little less than a miracle to stop it.

At Decatur Central should have won easily but it seemed to be greatly disorganized. Baker made Central's only touch-down on an end run. Many other chances to score were not taken to good advantage.

TEACHER ENJOYS BEING BOOK WORM

Miss Hadsell, Gym Instructor, Likes to Spend Evenings Reading Serious Books.

"Ch, I just love to read books!" replied Miss Hadsell when asked her what her hobby is. It is hard to picture Miss Hadsell spending her evenings at home, pondering deeply over Gen. Hu or Caesar's Gallic War. And yet she said that those are the kind of books she reads.

After a day of physical activity on the gym floor, she finds relaxation and a mental stimulant in reading.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE TAKEN FOR "BASKETBALL WORLD"

Paper Is Official State Net Publication; Gives Brief Review of Every Game.

Subscriptions for the "Basketball World," the weekly official publication for the hardwood court game in Indiana, are being taken by Gerry DuWan. The price is one dollar for the entire season from October 20 to the end of March.

Students are urged to subscribe because this paper keeps everyone in touch with all phases of the basketball world. A brief summary of every game played during the week throughout the state is published, and feature articles are written by well-known net coaches.

Coaches Gilbert and Heine want players and routers to subscribe as it increases the interest in basketball.

SPORT SHORTS

Raymond Warnock, former basketball star at Huntington, is a new pupil at South Side. He will try for a berth on our team. Ray has three years of varsity experience. He played one year on the Jackson, Ohio team and two on the Huntington squad.

Part of the new football equipment makes our Green gridlers look like Eskimos. This new article of clothing appears to be a cross between a sweater, an Eskimo-hood, and a sweat shirt. It's gray, and we presume the hood is meant to keep the player's ears from freezing in this cold October weather. It's awfully clumsy, but it needs a name. Ch, Coach Landy, won't you please name this new "thing-a-mijig" for us?

Football is getting rougher and rougher. One awful casualty report was that one of the Princeton joy leaders threw his arm out of joint while leading the routers at the Princeton-Lehigh game.

The valiant faculty team was composed of three members: Messrs. Davis, Gilbert and Heine. However, two little sophs (Wardo was bigger than both of them put together) helped the pedagogues out by filling the gap in the line-up.

Wardo and Al Heine shone brilliantly in their first game of the season. Our coach netted seven baskets, while the biology prof tossed in six.

The support of Emmerson high students for their team is one reason why they piled up such a huge score on Central. Quite a few Gold rovers drove over 150 miles to see the game. If they can drive so far, can we drive 45 miles to Wabash, where our next out-of-town game will be staged?

BRUBAKER UNEQUALED AT LEFT END POSITION

Charles Brubaker, left end, is a flankman who has few equals in high school football. He is a speed merchant and is a sure tackler. He is very adept at breaking into the open and handling forward passes. He can block in the line to perfection. He is speedy going down the field under punts. Charlie is a continual threat to kickers because of his keen ability to break through the line and rush them. Chuck is playing his second and final season on the South Side eleven.

STATE ATHLETIC BODY HAS MANY ELIGIBILITY RULES

School and Pupils Will Be Punished for Any Infraction of Regulations.

The eligibility of athletes taking part in high school athletics in Indiana are definitely regulated by rule of the Indiana High School Athletic association. Many misunderstandings arise in regard to them, but school and athletes alike are punished when these rules are broken, no matter how innocently. This was proven here two years ago, when South Side had to forfeit three games for unknowingly using a player who was judged to be a "five-year" man.

With the coming of the basketball season, the rule in regard to an athlete playing on any team other than the high school team is rigidly enforced and many athletes are declared ineligible under it. Whether or not the two basketball stars that came to South Side this year from Kendallville and Huntington would be eligible to play, was decided by these rules.

The rules in full follow:

I. Scholarship.
1. A pupil must have passed in fifteen hours of regular work in the semester preceding the semester in which he plays gym, chess and other subjects meeting less than five hours a week. A deferred grade will not count as a passing grade unless the condition is removed BEFORE THE FIRST DAY OF THE SEMESTER, during which the pupil desires to play.

2. A pupil must be passing in fifteen hours of regular work during the semester in which he plays. In motion, eligibility in this respect is determined each week.
II. Residence.
A pupil who changes from one school to another is eligible in the new school provided his parent change their residence to the new town also. In case parents do no change residence, the pupil is ineligible until he has been in the new school for one semester.

III. Attendance and Length of Playing Career.
1. A pupil who enters in the fall semester is eligible for only four full semesters and four spring semesters. Not include gym, chess and other subjects meeting less than five hours a week. A deferred grade will not count as a passing grade unless the condition is removed BEFORE THE FIRST DAY OF THE SEMESTER, during which the pupil desires to play.

2. A pupil must be passing in fifteen hours of regular work during the semester in which he plays. In motion, eligibility in this respect is determined each week.
IV. General.
1. No school in the I. H. S. A. may play an Indiana school not belonging to the I. H. S. A. Team outside the state may be played, provided they have similar eligibility rules.

2. No pupil or team may play football after November 30; no play or team may play basketball before October 1, or after the state final tournament.
3. Any pupil who plays on ANY team outside school is ineligible for the school team in that same sport for the entire semester.
4. Only amateurs may play on school teams.

V. Penalties.
The punishment for any school that violates the above rules is generally suspension, which means that the school would be deprived of the right to play any inter-school games. It is important, therefore, to know these rules and observe them.

NOTE—Whenever "play" is used above, it means participating in INTER-SCHOOL games; inter-school games include games with alumni teams and second team games with other schools.

SOUTH SIDE TRIMS SCARLET SCOURGE

Currie and Welsh Score Touch-downs in Fray at Logansport; Opponents Count First.

ALL RESERVES PLAY WELL

South Side defeated the Scarlet Scourge of Logansport high school, 13 to 7, in an interesting football battle on the opponents' gridiron, October 11.

South Side scored its first touch-down when, after the ball had been worked well into Logansport territory, Currie crossed the goal on a de-layed buck. Coach Welborn then inserted his second string players.

Logansport took the lead in the third quarter when it crossed the South Side goal line and successfully kicked for the extra point. However, South Side had its reserves in the game at that time and they gave a splendid account of themselves.

In the fourth quarter, after the regulars re-entered the game, South Side made a steady march down the field and scored the winning touch-down when Welsh pulled a quarter back sneak when the Logansport team was off guard.

MARY McCURDY IS LEADER OF YELLS

Is Voted First Yell Leader at Big Pep Session Held in Gym.

Mary McCurdy
"McCurdy! McCurdy! We want McCurdy!" yelled the bunch in the gym when cheer leaders were elected by popular vote at a pep session held before vacation. Because of the favor of the student body, Mary McCurdy was elected head cheer leader of the school. She has been leading yells for two years.

To assist her Mary Hughes, Elvah Miller and Deane Metzner were chosen. As two more boys are wanted, try-outs at the next pep meeting will probably be held.

Mr. Harris gave a short talk in regard to our band. He announced that they are planning to have one of fifty members who will appear some time in the near future in new uniforms.

Mr. Gilbert gave a short talk on the Huntington and South Side game.

FACULTY WINS BASKETBALL TILT FROM FRESHMAN FIVE

Two Small Sophs Aid Pedagogue; Annex Victory; Seniors Lose Close Contest.

The faculty defeated the freshmen in their first inter-class basketball game by a 40-17 count on October 13. The game was fast and furious, but only three pedagogues played. Those who upheld the honor of the teachers were Davis, Gilbert and Heine. However, two diminutive sophs, Somers and Yaggy, played on the side of the faculty, and were instrumental in the phenomenal win.

The juniors walloped the sophomores with a 38-15 score. This makes the third win for the upper-classmen. These boys hold the lead in the class league because they have three wins to their credit, twice having stopped the sophs, and having whitewashed the freshmen.

The most exciting game played so far has been the sophomore-senior clash. The under-classmen defeated their older brothers, 14-13, but they had to have an overtime period to do it in.

The round of games will continue until the official basketball season begins.

WELSH ACTS AS BRAINS OF SOUTH SIDE ELEVEN

Howard Welsh
To Howard Welsh is conceded the distinction of being the brains of the team. From his position at quarterback he directs the offensive plays of the team without an equal. He can get splendid team co-ordination from the players because of their great confidence in his ability. He has a keen, clever football brain. Howdy knows each of his teammates' qualities and knows what to expect from each one. Howdy very seldom makes a miscue calling signals.

NEW Y. W. C. A. POOL DRAWS MANY SOUTH SIDE GIRLS

Majority Sign Up for Instructions; Dorothy Bales Considered Best Diver in Group.

Twenty South Side girls are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the new Y. W. C. A. swimming pool.

Though a number of the girls are good swimmers they have signed up for lessons, for the instructional period is thirty minutes long, double the length allowed for a dip.

Dorothy Bales, who spends her summers at Sylvan lake, is an exceptionally clever diver. Her picture is to appear in the News-Sentinel.

SOUTH SIDE AND CENTRAL DRAW SAME SIZED CROWDS

Green and White Has Small Lead in Attendance at Home Football Games.

South Side and Central are having a close race in the matter of attendance at home football games. According to figures given by Mr. Greely, South Side athletic manager, and by Mr. Northrup, Central manager, the Green has a slight edge over her Blue sister in the matter of fans.

Mr. Greely reports that about 420 season tickets have been sold and Mr. Northrup, from the downtown school, says that approximately 400 Centralites have secured season admits.

Between 1,000 and 1,200 rosters fill the stadium on South Side days while 900 to 1,000 occupy it when Central plays.

"The attendance at these games has been fine," Mr. Greely said yesterday. "With our two biggest games yet to be played, those with Central of Indianapolis, and with Central, we expect all attendance records to be smashed."

FIFTH HOUR WINS FIRST NEWCOMBE TOURNEY

Closely Matched Teams Battle for Honors; Two More Tournaments to Be Held Soon.

The fifth hour girls' gymnasium class is winner of the first Newcombe tournament. Two more tournaments will be played and if the fifth hour girls win another round of play, they will be Newcombe champions of the school.

The games played were exceedingly close. The champs won by defeating their sixth hour sisters with a 12 to 10 score. Other results of the first joust are:

Sixth defeated Fourth, 21-15.
Third defeated First, 19-5.
Fifth defeated Second, 14-13.
Sixth defeated Third, 10-9.

Finals in the second tourney will be played tomorrow. The drawings for the second set are as follows:
Fourth vs. Third.
Sixth vs. Second.
Fifth vs. First.

The remainder of the schedule, or the third set, is as follows:
October 27—Fifth vs. Sixth, and Fourth vs. First.

October 29—Third vs. Second, and winner Fifth-Sixth vs. winner of Fourth-First.
October 31—Finals.

GAME SCHEDULED WITH NEW HAVEN BASKETEERS

South Side Team To Be Composed of Men Who Are Not Out For Football.

The basketball bid will be unofficially tried off November 8 when a team composed of players who are not on the football squad will journey to New Haven for a game with the high school team of that place.

This game is not included in the regular schedule because it will be staged to arouse interest in the game at New Haven. Al Heine, who was coach at New Haven last year, and who has been working with the net met in early season practice, was the one largely responsible for carding the tilt. He will continue to drill the South Side team until the end of the football season, when Coach Gilbert will be able to take charge of the varsity.

The team for the New Haven game will probably be picked from the following: Garwood, Fleming, Kline, Bechtold, Simon, Barnett, Mars, Bell, Doty, Willson and Smith.

ONE HUNDRED JOIN IN Y.W. CEREMONY

So Si Y and U. S. A. Hold Joint Recognition Services; Celebrate With Steak Roast.

CONDUCT USUAL SERVICE

Recognition services and a steak roast were the big features of the joint meeting of the U. S. A. and So-Si-Y clubs held Tuesday afternoon at Foster park. About one hundred members were present.

The social committee chairmen, Mary Hughes and Elizabeth Kline, were in charge of the games. Rebecca Colestock and Cornelia Bade, chairmen of the service committees were in charge of the "eats." Betty Newell was in charge of the fires and securing fuel.

The regular girl reserve recognition service was employed. A triangle was formed. The club presidents in girl reserve uniforms took their positions at a table, where both the old and new members lit their candles. The old members formed the sides of the triangle, while the new members formed the base.

After roasting the steaks and consuming the rest of the "eats" songs and games were enjoyed.

The following took part in the recognition service and have become club members:

So-Si-Y--Mildred Obenour, Cornelia Bade, Elviah Fashbaugh, Virginia Bell, Doris Burley, Thelma Builey, Eleanor Colson, Mildred Crane, Eleanor Church, Lucy Dutton, Dorothy Dunagan, Elfinia Dennis, Ruth Eickmeyer, Dorothy Eymann, Violet Fairfield, Hilis Fitch, Helen F. ## GIRL RESERVE CLUB PLANS INTERESTING MEETINGS

Next Meeting "Down Petticoat Lane," Will Be Held November 5; Five Meetings Are Planned

The U. S. A. club has five programs planned for the rest of the year. The next one will be held November 5. The events to follow are: November 5--Down Petticoat Lane. "Seeing the Beautiful." November 17--Joint meeting. "Loyal to Friends." December 1--The Long and Short of it. "Eager for Knowledge." December 15--The Toy Shop. "Ready for Service." January 12--Choose Your Own Party. "Impartial in Judgment."

Janitors Give Tips on "How to Keep South Side Spic and Span"

Ask Everyone To Co-operate In Keeping School Tidy; Denounce Practice of Strewing Paper Around; Say That Chewing Gum on Floor Is Worst Of All.

"It is very bad practice to throw gum on the floor," said Mr. Mason when interviewed by a Times reporter regarding the ways in which students can help make the school and grounds more attractive. He explained that the gum is very hard to get off, and makes the work of the janitors harder, and requires a great deal more time.

He also told that it is very discouraging to find hand prints on the glass doors only a few minutes after they have been washed. "This," he explained, "is due to the carelessness of students as they rush out the door." He urges the students not to throw papers on the school grounds. He also thanks the teachers and students for their co-operation, and says that he would greatly appreciate their help in the things mentioned above. Mr. Stahl requests that pupils should not run down the inclines because of the danger.

NEW REGULATIONS HIT SCHOOLS HERE

4th--The transportation shall be paid.

5th--The center high school shall receive one hundred dollars ($100.00).

6th--The balance shall be divided equally among the competing schools.

7th--Ticket sellers, ticket takers, ushers, janitors, water carriers and helpers to be furnished by the local school and paid for out of the funds it receives as its share for holding the tourney and not charged to the association as tourney expenses.

XIII. (Passed). Subject, Expenses--Regional tourney contract.

1st--All legitimate expenses except for travel shall be paid from the gross receipts.

2d--The center high school or university shall receive two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00).

3d--The I. H. S. A. A. shall receive 10 per cent.

4th--The transportation shall be paid.

5th--The center high school or university shall receive two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00).

6th--The I. H. S. A. A. shall receive 50 per cent of balance.

7th--The remainder shall be divided equally among the competing schools.

8th--Ticket sellers, ticket takers, ushers, janitors and water carriers to be furnished by the local school and such remuneration as they receive to come from the treasury of the local school and not charged to the association as tourney expense.

III. (Passed). The number of places and scoring in the state final track meet shall be changed so as to give five places in each event with the scoring as follows: First, 5 points; second, 4 points; third, 3 points; fourth, 2 points; fifth, 1 point.

IV. (Passed). For the regional state basketball tourneys, the teams shall be allowed ten players instead of eight. Eight players shall be used in the district tourney as before.

V. (Defeated). The winner and the runnerup in the state final basketball tourney shall be allowed to compete in the national interscholastic tournament at Chicago.

VI. (Tabled). The number of basketball games shall be increased from twenty to twenty-two for the regular season, providing that the schools that schedule twenty-two games do not take part in the extra tourney as now provided for.

VII. (Passed). The high school tourneys shall be held under high school auspices. Final arrangements and selection of centers to be left in the hands of the I. H. S. A. A. board of control.

XIX. (Tabled). Some consideration should be given relative to holding an I. H. S. A. A. baseball tourney in 1925.

AT THE RIALTO

Edith Allen, whose Broadway film premiere was made in "Scaramouche," has the principal role in "Virtuous Liars," the Whitman Bennett production, which will be shown at the Rialto Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Miss Allen is one of the most promising of the younger leading women, and her role in this picture offers her marvelous opportunities. Mr. Bennett selected her after seeing her performance as Climeine Binet in the picture of Rafael Sabatini's great romance.

David Powell will be seen in the principal male role, and others in important parts are Maurice Costello, Ralph Kellard, Naomi Childers, Burr McIntosh and Dagmar Godowsky.

Probably the first time in the history of motion pictures, the hero is the loser of the fight in Hunt Stromberg's production of "The Fire Patrol," which will be shown at the Rialto theatre starting Sunday, for four days.

Usually, when a big fight scene is scheduled for a picture, the audience knows immediately that the handsome hero is going to come out victorious and without a scratch.

Therefore, there is a real punch in "The Fire Patrol," when the hero, played by Johnny Harron, is unexpectedly knocked to the floor unconscious. He puts up such a tremendous struggle that there is no danger of the audience losing sympathy with him and then, too, he is fighting with an older and braver man. And the dramatic effect on the story is so interesting and unusual that this working out of the scene is as intelligent as it is original.

MR. AGNEW INTERESTED IN BIOLOGY MEETING

sense, a rather personal interest took me to the sectional meeting of biology teachers," Mr. Agnew reported in regard to the convention. "Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, of Indiana university, proposed the teaching of biology under its own name and distinct and apart from either botany or zoology. He clearly showed not only why this should be done, but how the thing could be admirably accomplished. It will be of interest to many to note that Clara McMillen, daughter of our own departed Mr. McMillen, is the wife of Dr. Kinsey, and that his work at Indiana is in the department of Entomological research. His findings come as a direct help in the control and elimination of insect pests.

"Under the heading, 'The Tax Problem,' Edwin R. A. Seligman of New York City, gave some very practical solutions for the equitable levying and collection of taxes sufficient to continue our educational endeavors on their present high standards. Mr. Seligman spoke before the general meeting of the association on Friday afternoon."

CARNIVAL TICKET SALE TO START WITHIN A WEEK

Senior Officers Will Have Charge of Distribution; Tags Will Be Given to Ticket Buyers.

ATTRACTIONS FOR ALL AGES BEING PLANNED

Anyone Who Can Put On an Act
Is Asked to See One of the Class Officers.

"Tickets for the Senior Carnival will be on sale next week," Ward Dildine, chairman of the ticket committee, announced this week. They will be distributed to the class officers and can be obtained from them. Each person purchasing a ticket will receive a tag to wear indicating that he is going to the Senior carnival, Dildine explained.

The affair will start promptly at 7:30 p. m. with the various side shows and the big performance, which will be given in the gym. Attractions will be held for all regardless of age, and everyone will be welcome whether from Central or South Side. Music will be furnished for dancing by the MacDonald Trio.

The different committees are at work on their plans but they are not ready to announce them. They ask anyone who can put on an act to see one of the class officers.

The poster committee, of which Dorothy Cline is chairman, is arranging for posters to be placed in each room, in the gym, and around the halls at South Side, at Central, and in several prominent business houses. "We want no one to say he knew nothing about it," Dorothy declared emphatically.

PUPILS PRAISE VIRTUES OF FAVORITE NOMINEES

The political speeches of Mr. Makey's public speaking class are well under way. If the country votes the way the class goes, it seems that Coolidge will be elected by a large majority, for out of the ten speeches already given Coolidge has been supported in eight, while Davis and La Follette each have one ally. However, only about half of the class has spoken, so no one is yet completely out of the running.

GYM EXHIBITION WILL BE HELD DECEMBER 13

Various Classes to Participate in Most Spectacular Affair Ever Given in the City.

The girls' gymnasium exhibition will be held December 13, the night of the big South Side-Kendallville basketball game, before the contest takes place. This was definitely decided this week by Miss Hadsell, girls' physical director.

"The fete will be far better than the exhibit last year and the most spectacular exhibition ever given in the city," stated Miss Hadsell.

The program will be given by the gym classes, the basketball squad, and the seventh and eighth grade girls. This is the only way the girls' athletic department has to get money.

A complete program of the different events will be announced soon.

NAMING OF STAFF FOR TOTEM BEGUN

Further Selections To Be Named
Next Week; Pictures Are To Feature This Year's Book.

HISTORICAL IDEA CHOSEN

Part of the 1925 Totem staff has been chosen and the rest will be named within a week by Charles Tribolet, editor.

A change has been made this year in the organization of the staff. All positions will be considered in the nature of a tryout until the latter part of January when the final selection will be made and the pictures of the staff sent to the photographer. In most cases where but one person has been named to a place, it is fairly sure that that person will hold his place permanently, but in several cases, it was found impossible to select one person from several applicants.

Harold Bridge has been named as business manager and Mary Monroe as circulation manager. The advertising management lies between Richard Porterfield, Esther Hafert and Noble Miller.

The editorial positions are: Edward Hale, picture editor; Mary Falk, Tom Ward, James Miles, Mary Reeves, Margery Burres and Edna Van Tilbury, snapshot editors; Marguerite Luecke, freshman editor; Rose Joseph, senior editor; Dorothy Somers, junior editor; Beatrice Birely, organizations editor; George Wyss, sports editor; Tom Staley, assistant sports editor; Bertryl Merrill and Ruth Mae Dawkins, literary editor.

A number of positions are yet to be filled and applications will be gladly received for them. Further applicants for some of the places already named will be considered.

This year the Totem will be made a picture book throughout. The senior class heretofore has been the only class to have individual picture in the book, but this year everyone may have an individual picture by seeing Miss Harvey or Charles Tribolet. There will probably be nine hundred or a thousand pictures in the book if everyone will co-operate with the staff. If prints are desired they can be obtained from the Jefferson Studio for $4.00 a dozen. This is a special price given to South Side by the Jefferson Studio.

The art work will be selected for the most part from work done in the school. The design will be carried out in the historical idea to get away from the Indian motif. No artist has been selected but it is expected that one will be appointed soon.

ALL DEPARTMENTS USE MIMEOGRAPH

Machine Prints Bulletins, Test Papers, Outlines and Promissory Notes.

Have you ever wondered how so many notices are circulated each day? Credit for this is due the mimeograph machine which is one of the most essential parts of the office equipment.

To Dean McAfee, office assistant, this machine is especially important, as she turns out bulletins, letters and important notices daily.

The science teachers find it most useful for printing outlines and other science papers. In the English department Mr. Makey and Miss Esurey make good use of it for turning out outlines and text papers. It is also used for the same purpose by Mr. Parks of the commercial department.

In dealing with the promissory notes and lists of Times subscribers the mimeograph machine is considered of great help to the Times staff.

GOBLINS ASSIST IN BIRTHDAY FROLICS

Thirteen South Siders to Observe Their Natal Days During Next Week.

Hallowe'en will be especially celebrated this year by two girls of South Side, for Nadyne Verweire and Harriet Goyer will celebrate their birthdays on the "Night of Goblins." They will be fifteen and eighteen years old, respectively, on October 31, better known as Hallowe'en. Eleven other students celebrate birthdays in the coming week.

There are three advances in age on November 1, C. J. Shimer and Draker Lombard both reaching the great age of eighteen, while Bartlett Fletcher, the third, becomes fourteen. Esther Enz, the only observer of November 2, will also be fourteen.

November 3 is more popular for it has three celebrations. Eugene Phipps arrives at the age of fifteen, Versal Mullen will be exactly one year older, and Esther Roush gets to the much anticipated age of seventeen. Jane McBride will be fifteen years old just one day later.

November 5 is like November 3, as there are again three celebrants, but there is one difference in the point of age. For on this day Martha Swanson is fourteen, Walter Bonar fifteen, and Howard Welsh eighteen.

BOY GLEEMEN DRILL FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Club Now Consists of Forty-Eight Members; Largest in History of School.

Many old southern songs were practiced at the regular meeting of the boys' glee club Wednesday in preparation for the minstrel show they are going to give soon.

Forty-eight boys are now members of the organization, the largest in the history of the school.

Andrew Wehsle acts as accompanist for the boys' glee club.

MEMBERS OF TIMES STAFF PLAN HALLOWEEN FROLIC

Will Be Given Tomorrow Night; Committees Appointed by Mary Falk, Chairman.

The witches and ghosts will meet the members of the beginners' and advanced journalism class, and members of the Times staff at a Halloween party Friday night, October 31. The party will be given in Room 38 at 7:30 o'clock. Dancing will form part of the entertainment.

The following committees have been appointed by Mary Falk, who is in charge of the party: refreshment committee, C. Sherbondy, chairman, Flora Baer and Elsie Crane; entertainment committee, Lucille Groves, chairman, Dorothy Schirer and Helen Crawford; decoration committee, Maurice Miller and Chester Wyneken. All members have been requested to come masked.

GRADE PUPILS MAY STAY HERE UNTIL SEPTEMBER

School Officials Doubtful If Harrison Hill Building Will Be Ready In February.

That the South Side grade school will probably not be housed in its own building until next September is the opinion of both Mr. Ward, superintendent of public schools, and Mr. Agnew, principal of the South Side grades.

The new building, located in Harrison Hill, is about one-third completed. The workmen are now plastering but an enormous part of the outside work has not yet been begun. The contractors have promised to have the school completed by next February, but the school officials are not counting too much on its being done.

SOPHOMORES WILL ELECT OFFICERS THIS AFTERNOON

The sophomore election will be held this afternoon in Room 96 at 3:00 p. m. A president, a vice-president, a secretary and three members of the social council will be elected. Nominations were handed into the office yesterday afternoon.

Experiment Is Success

An experiment in photosynthesis, which proves that plants give off oxygen, was performed recently in botany. To illustrate that oxygen was given off, a lighted splint was put in the tube that had been over the plants and it immediately burst into a bright flame.

CONTINENT WIDE ESSAY CONTEST IS BEING STAGED

$15,000 Home Will Be the First Prize in Contest; University Scholarship Also Offered.

ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY SPONSORING CONTEST

Additional Prizes To Be Offered by Fort Wayne Electrical League.

A $15,000 home will be the first prize in a continent wide essay contest having as its object the safeguarding of eyesight through better lighting. This contest is being sponsored throughout the United States and the Dominion of Canada by the electrical industry in both countries and locally by the Fort Wayne Electrical League.

Not only is this home to be given away, but there will be $6,000 additional in scholarships in United States or Canadian universities. Then there are a number of valuable local prizes offered for Fort Wayne contestants to augment the international prizes.

The contest, which is under the direction of the electrical industry in the United States and the Dominion of Canada, is entirely educational. Its purpose is to inform school children and their families in the proper use of electric light so that in future years there will be less eye trouble. Many people have poor eyesight today because the lights in their homes are not well shaded, or because there is not enough light, or because the lights are not in the right place.

Every school child ten years of age and over may compete, including children of public, private and parochial schools, as well as business colleges, provided they are not graduates of high school.

What Contest Will Be.
Here is, briefly, what the contest consists of:

Children are invited to register, when they will be given a Home Lighting Primer. This primer contains a series of brief, simple lessons in home lighting, and the rules of the contest. Contestants will then be required to:

1. To cut out of catalog pages in the primer the proper lighting fixtures for each room in the home, and paste them in pictures of the several rooms provided for that purpose. A wide variety of specially designed non-commercial fixtures will be provided, drawn to scale. The selection of shades and designation of wattages will be a part of this feature.

2. To fill in, on brief forms provided for the purpose, a list of the lighting equipment in the child's own home and in the homes of two neighbors.

3. To write an essay, not to exceed 600 words, on good home lighting, telling how the contestants would re-light their own homes.

Backed By Educators.

It is well known that the majority of houses are poorly lighted, resulting in eye trouble and poor health generally. Educators and health authorities are endorsing the activity wholeheartedly, realizing that better lighting is vitally necessary. This does not mean that more light should be used, but rather that it should be properly placed and shaded.

Local Prizes Given.

The contest is being conducted in Fort Wayne by the Fort Wayne Electrical League. The essays, which must be sent in on or before November 29, will be judged by a local committee, and the top prizes awarded. Then the best of them, according to a quota set for each city in respect to population, will be sent to New York to be judged with the other essays from other cities for the international prizes.

Large manufacturing companies and other electrical firms have subscribed $600,000 for this contest. A large portion of this amount is being spent on advertising the contest in numerous magazines, besides providing the national prizes.

Announcement folders, registration cards and Home Lighting Primers will be distributed through the Fort Wayne schools on and after November 1st.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TO BE CONDUCTED IN STATE

Mr. Makey Issues Call For Contestants; Interest Shown Was Very Poor Last Year.

South Side will take part in the state oratorical contest according to Mr. Makey, the public speaking coach.

Last year's contest was a success in spite of many difficulties, due to the fact that it was the first time such a contest had been tried. This year the officials will have less difficulties, and interest has already increased.

Last year the only student to turn out for the oratorical contest was Marjory Matlack, but now Mr. Makey feels confident that more will sign up. He is ready to receive volunteers for the contest at any time.

Experiment In Botany

The experiments on transpiration and respiration are now being used by the botany students.

Absent Six Weeks

Isabelle Menneth just returned after a long illness since September 12.

JOURNALISM CLASS NAMES NEW CITIES

Miss Harvey's Absence Utilized; Students Name Places After Themselves.

The black chalk map in Miss Harvey's room was decorated during her absence, last Friday, and the face of the poor old United States was changed radically. Many new cities sprang up "over night" in some of our oldest states. Even the seas and oceans were changed. After puzzling over this for a while, it was discovered that each city was named after a member on the Times staff. For instance, there was: Craneville, Baumgartnersburg, and McCuneville.

On the Pacific coast was found the DuWan Bathing Beach (no bathing allowed). The Times Ocean (very deep) washed the shore of El Clayton—where Lower California is "supposed to be." The Totem sea upped the place of the Atlantic ocean. The Harve Journalism school was located in Mississippi, while the Patterson penitentiary was "way up north." Ward's flum-running station was prominently located on the Totem coast.

Other important places were: Digman's Skating rink, Tamehill Mountains, Sans Harvey in Mexico, South Side Island and the Falk Island of Spices.

STATE LATIN CONTEST TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

Teachers at State Convention Decide To Conduct Affair
Like Last Year's.

That the second annual state Latin contest would be held this year was decided by the high school teachers of the state at the state teachers' convention last week.

The teachers decided to conduct the contest in much the same way, using the elimination method like last year's. The same style of questions will be asked with the exception that passages of sight translation will be used and some work on prose may be introduced. Of course these additions will add to the difficulty of the work.

South Side won all four places in the district contest and third place in the third division of the state contest last year. The school will have entrants again this year.

In addition to entering this contest, South Side hopes to send two contestants to the Bi-State contest between Indiana and Kentucky, held at Louisville. This has been an annual event for five years but Indiana has never won. Although any school in either state may send two contestants, South Side has never entered. Only seniors are eligible and the contestants must pay their own transportation expenses.

ROOM 85 TO BE USED BY HOME ECONOMICS CLASSES

Crowded Conditions Make It Impossible To Have Miniature House-keeping Department.

Due to the crowded condition in the home economics department, the little apartment consisting of three miniature rooms will not be used this year. When it is possible to have more rooms, No. 85 will don the garb of a "little house" and be put to its original use.

Room 85 is now used as a regular classroom by Miss Mendeshull's and Miss Meness' classes, alternating with cookery laboratory work and Miss Thorst with sewing.

The classes that attend this room daily are: Periods 1 and 2—Miss Rehst, advanced sewing; periods 3 and 4—Miss Mereness, advanced cooking; periods 5 and 6—Miss Mendeshull, meal service in 9-A kitchen; and periods 7 and 8—Miss Rehst, advanced sewing.

"HAMS" QUALIFY AS FIRST CLASS RADIO OPERATORS

Local Amateurs Will Operate Station 9DUY at South Side This Winter.

L. R. Hull, J. S. Windt, G. I. Grubb, Jon Botterhorn, Kenneth Hart and Eugene Baker are now by special permit first class radio operators and operate the school radio.

On Saturday, October 25, the supervisor of radio made a visit to Fort Wayne and gave a test to local amateur radio operators for a first grade license. Everyone who entered from South Side passed the test.

There are twenty-one radio sets owned by students of the physics classes of this school, fifteen of which are home-made.

SOUTH SIDE POSTERS SHOWN AT UNIVERSITY

All six posters submitted by South Side in the state contest are on display at Indiana university. They were created by Mary Travis, Evelyn Jales, Ralph Wilkey, Thelma Buifley, Mary Wasson and Flora Baer. Third prize was won by Mary Travis.

To Make Maps

Miss Smeltzley's 11-B history class are studying ancient times. Each student received seven maps last week which are to be filled out in connection with this work. One hundred and sixty students received 1,120 maps. The maps were ordered from the McKinley Publishing company of Philadelphia, Pa.

"HUMAN VALUES" IS P-T. A. TALK

Mrs. Houghton Chief Speaker; Year's Officers Installed; Mrs. Rastetter Is President.

BAND PLAYS SELECTIONS

"The economic world has two great values, property values and human values," said James Houghton, of the Connecticut Life Insurance company, in an address delivered to the South Side Parent-Teacher club last Friday at 3:00 p. m. in Room 8. "Property values are safeguarded by bonds. Human values should be safeguarded by insurance. A father should protect the lives of his children by providing that, in case of his disability or death, they will be provided for," he explained. "Property values, if destroyed, can be replaced, but human values, if once destroyed, are gone forever," continued Mr. Houghton.

Mrs. W. C. Rastetter
At this meeting, the officers for this year were installed. They are: president, Mrs. William C. Rastetter; vice-president, Mr. E. S. Gould; secretary, Mrs. A. G. Bury, and treasurer, Mrs. Henry Beadell.

Mrs. Katherine Stover MacDonald, soprano, sang a group of three solos. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harry Meyer.

Mrs. Rastetter gave an account of the state Parent-Teacher convention at Indianapolis. She also urged every member, as a loyal citizen, to vote at the coming election.

The South Side band rendered two selections at the beginning of the meeting.

The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer.

The next meeting will be held December 5. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

GRIDDER CARESSES COWSKIN IN GAMES

Football Oval Is No Longer Made From Much Heralded Pigskin; Early Balls Were Fragile.

"The quarterback tucked the cow skin under his arm and smashed through the line"—reads a newspaper. This should be seen instead of "pigskin," since the latter is incorrect.

What are footballs made of? When football was first played the balls were not manufactured wholesale. The players went to the butcher and got a pig's bladder, put a quill in it, and blew air into it. They then tied it up with a piece of string. Consequently it was not unusual for four or five balls to be consumed in one game. Thus it was that footballs became known as "pigskins."

Now the name "pigskin" is a misnomer. No longer can the swarthy football squads pass or kick the well-known for it is a cowskin that is used. As far as the playing is concerned, pig has three letters as well as cow, and what's the difference whether we win with a pigskin or a cowskin?

Ancient's Hallowe'en Differed From Ours in Nearly All Ways

English Druids Used "All Hallow's Eve" as Time for Religious Festival; Hallowe'en Was Thought Accursed in Medieval Times; Is Now Time for Fun-Making and Devilry.

Once again we are rapidly nearing the night when the ancients supposed that witches, goblins, spooks and mischief-making elves were abroad, roaming through the world at will until the breaking day caused them to scamper for their respective abodes to wait in hiding for another year.

The source of some of the customs pertaining to All Hallow's Eve extend back to the time before Christ when the Celts held sway over England. Three times a year, a religious order called the Druids, built bonfires on the hills in honor of the sun. One of these times was October 31, the fire being built at that time for harvesting. Since this was in the fall of the year, apples and nuts were leaved in great quantities at the feasts.

The simple country folk believed that on this night the spirits of the dead came back to earth to haunt them. They thought that people born upon this day could hold communion with the returning spirits. Mischief was supposed to have been performed upon this night, such sup-

CUP PRESENTED TO THE TIMES AT PRESS MEET

Awarded as First Prize to Best Weekly or Semi-Weekly
High School Paper
in Indiana.

MISS HARVEY TALKS ON EDITORIAL POLICY

Copies of Times Distributed at Convention to Delegates From All Parts of the State.

A silver loving cup, awarded as first prize in Indiana for weekly or semi-weekly papers, was presented to the Times at the third annual convention of the Indiana High School Press association, held at Franklin on October 24 and 25.

The trophy was received by Bud Beck, at the banquet on Friday evening. The cup could not be brought back by the returning delegates because of an error made in engraving it. As soon as the mistake can be corrected, the cup will be sent to the Times.

Miss Harvey and Charles Tribolet, the other two delegates from South Side, arranged conferences at Indianapolis and at Franklin with O. H. Worley, of the Indianapolis Engraving company, on the art work of the Totem.

A clever stunt was put over by the Times when just before the biggest newspaper meeting on the program a hundred copies of the latest edition were distributed among the delegates, representing almost all of the high school newspapers in the state. Much favorable comment was received.

The biggest event on the program was an address at the banquet by Elmer Davis, a distinguished writer of New York City. Although his talk was "The Cultural Value of News Hunting," Mr. Davis digressed to a very interesting discussion on journalism as a profession.

Miss Harvey addressed the faculty advisors on "The Editorial Policy of a Paper," at a meeting Saturday evening. The talk was very interesting and instructive, a copy of the Times being used many times in illustrating.

After the closing meeting the delegates were invited to the Franklin-Ross Poly football game. Instead of attending the game, the local delegates "flivvered" to Bloomington, where visits were paid to Miriam Yoder and Vivian Crates, both of whom were prominent in journalistic circles in South Side.

MATH-SCIENCE HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

Talks by Ruth Eickmeyer and Allen Mason Are Headliners on Program.

"Reelfoot—an Earthquake Lake in Tennessee," and "The Virtues of Lemonade" were discussed by Ruth Eickmeyer and Allen Mason at the Math-Science meeting held Friday, October 24, in Room 96.

Mr. Whelan spoke a few words on the programs of the club for the coming year. By means of papers passed out to the members, suggestions for programs were procured. A few were "The Electron," "The Fourth Dimension," "The Einstein Theory," "Photo Telegraphy," "Glass Blowing" and "Radio."

Dr. Gecly, advisor of the social committee, conducted games during the remainder of the meeting.

The following committees and advisors were chosen recently at a cabinet meeting: social committee, Mr. Greely, advisor, Mary Monroe and Ruth Brown; program committee, Mr. Whelan, advisor, Ruth Eickmeyer and Allen Mason; eats committee, Miss Thome, advisor, Florence Hansen, Carl Rohrer, akthryn Chapman and Tom Schulze.

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

Nearly everyone has some idea that he would like to present to the school—some suggestion that has occurred to him sometime or other. The inspiration usually ends here, however, for the putting over of the hunch seems too difficult. He seems to think that no one will listen to his suggestion or bit of praise. Then, at times, he cannot understand the "why" of a certain policy and knows of no place to find it out.

In order that the school may benefit in getting the "slant" of the other fellow, and receive information upon doubtful questions, the TIMES has inaugurated its OPEN LETTERS column. The purpose is two-fold: to serve the subscribers of this paper, and to provide a highly interesting feature.

All worthy contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in the TIMES' box in the hall.

Too many of us crave the paths of least resistance.

Seven weeks of school have already passed. Have you put your best into them?

Many are the people who know what must be done and go around talking about it, but few indeed are they who can sit down and do it successfully and without complaining.

Why wait until it is necessary for some poor critter to chase you down for the payment of your promissory note? Pay it now and retain the confidence that folks have in you.

"You do your best, boys,
We'll do the rest, boys,
Fighting for the South Side High."
You can't sing this with meaning, and stay at home the days of the Central and Tech games.

If pictures make an annual, the 1925 Totem certainly should be a prize winner. Individual pictures of both upper and lower classmen will appear in the book, besides many new features. Having your pictures taken promptly is one way in which you can help the staff. If we want to put across the idea of having every one's picture in the book, we must have each class represented one hundred per cent. Think what the book will mean to you in several years. Last year the Totem was judged the second best high school annual in the United States. This year's staff is determined to go to its record one better. This achievement necessitates your co-operation.

In a recent issue of the paper, an advertisement for a church supper appeared. Several of the South Side faculty as well as a number of the student body attended the supper and were recognized by those in charge. As a result, we have the promise of advertisements for the future functions of that church. On the other hand, a local florist's shop advertised in the Times last semester, but the flowers for one of the class functions were procured from a florist not advertising in the Times. Consequently, we have not been able to secure a single advertisement from this concern for our paper this semester. Drawing the natural conclusion from these incidents, we had better patronize our advertisers.

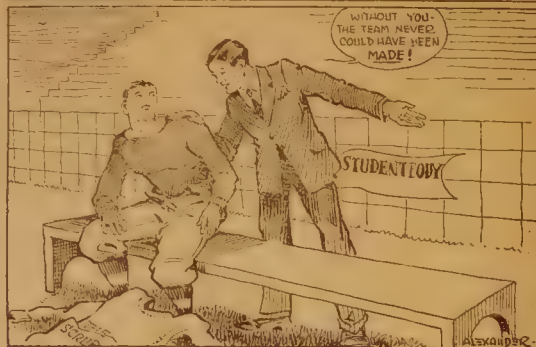

ORGANIZED yelling is about as important a factor in a modern athletic contest as a good team. Although many older people can see nothing but foolishness in the jumping and wild gesturing of the acrobatic cheer leader of today, these same cheer leaders are applying a psychological principle very effectively. Great players and teams depend largely upon great circumstances, and situations depend upon the crowd. These yell leaders control the crowds, and in turn they control the circumstances and the team and players.

The quality of a school's yelling depends greatly upon the yell leader and school spirit. If an institution has good school spirit, every member will feel that it is his duty to yell and yell the very loudest he can. To be a good cheer leader one must possess personality and the power of leadership. The yell leader must lead the thinking of the crowds, and can control almost entirely the sportsmanship and attitude of the crowd. The yell leader is not a fool, despite his enthusiastic movements, but a leader of great crowds and the holder of a very responsible position.

Yelling has changed the results of many games. If the Princeton rooters had not pulled the Princeton-Chicago victory out of the fire by their never-say-die spirit in 1922, Princeton, a comparatively weak team, could never have won the championship.

Saturday we meet Kendallville in the last "away from home" game of the season. The roads are good. The rooters can go in great numbers. May their organized enthusiasm aid the team in breaking its losing streak.

He Made The Team!

Scrubs! How inglorious and yet how important a part they play! Not good enough to make the team, but yet the makers of the team. Every night after practice, the scrub team trudges off the field, as tired and worn out as the first string men. So it goes night after night. The varsity men get all the glory while the scrub gets all the knocks.

During the real fray, the scrub sits on the bench, playing the game from the side-lines with the same eagerness and fight that the man on the field displays. He cannot gain glory by a spectacular run or touchdown. Only his dependability and steadiness count. He can only dream.

A man in the game is knocked out. He is too weak to re-enter the fray. The coach looks down the line of scrubs. Each sees himself the hero of the battle. Each sees himself make a glorious run and the winning touchdown. But, the mentor's eye travels on down the line, dashing dreams and hopes to pieces.

Yet, these men by their constant efforts, really make the first team. We do not realize how much we owe to these aspirants, real men who do not know the meaning of defeat. They deserve our admiration, and have it.

A Mite of Verse

BLASÉ.

I have lain beneath the apple tree
And feasted at my will;
At first the taste was ecstasy,
But now I've had my fill.

Tis years since father planted it,
Long years ere I was born;
In youth with sweat he watered it,
And now with age he's worn.

THIS apple tree is large and strong,
My children there may eat;
To grow another takes too long—
THIS fruit I know is sweet.

Observes Latin Classes.

Dr. S. E. Stoute, head of the Latin department at Indiana University, visited our Latin classes last week. He said that since South Side had sent four representatives to last year's state contest at the university, he wished to see how we did it.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

Likes Math Aid.

To the Editor:
I think it is a great help to the students of South Side high school to be able to have help in mathematics during school time. Pupils who need help in math ought to take advantage of this study room since Miss Paxton is willing to give her time.

GRATEFUL.

Step On the "Rahs."

To the Editor:
I am very much in favor of our new school song for it is inspiring and rouses the pep of the rooters, but it could be improved upon if it were sung a little lower and if much more volume would be put on the "Rahs."

A ROOTER.

A Big Question.

To the Editor:
Probably the biggest question of the day is: "Is South Side losing her pep?"

If some stranger would walk up to you, or if some Central student would, and tell you that "South Side is losing her pep," you would instantly tell him he was out of his head.

Seriously speaking, however, if you go off by yourself and say, "Am I losing my pep?" and if you answer yourself honestly, you will know whether or not South Side is losing her pep, because there are others just like you.

When you get right down to facts, are you supporting the Times, Totem, athletics, your teachers, the rules of the school and the rest of the school life, as you should?

Answer this question and then decide on your future course for a better South Side.

A HUNDRED PERCENTER.

The Dean Says

One of the important advantages of participating in extra class room activities is that the student who takes part in the various activities has an opportunity to develop initiative and executive ability. A possible danger is that he may become so involved or so interested in the extra activities that he may neglect his regular class room work.

In Other Schools

Has Typing Club.

A typing club will be organized at the Lima high school, Lima, Ohio. The club members will make fancy designs for title pages, place cards and programs.

Teach Interior Decorating.

A course in interior decorating has been introduced in the Central high school of Detroit, Michigan. Another new course at that school is the craft course which includes basketry.

School Holds Straw Vote.

A regular old-time political campaign will be held Tuesday, October 28, at the Flathead high school, Kootenai, Mont. Two speakers have been chosen for each party and each speaker will have five minutes to persuade his audience to vote for "his man."

New Rules Are Made.

Students of the Atlantic high school, Atlantic, Iowa, will have the opportunity of being excused from tests if their subject and department grades and their attendance are up to a certain standard.

Gets New Flag.

In dedication of the school's new flag, sixteen hundred members of Roosevelt high school, Seattle, Wash., stood at attention in front of the building last Thursday. The flag salute and singing of the national anthem followed an assembly in the auditorium.

Alumni Stage Play.

Former students of central high school, Minneapolis, Minnesota, will stage a play, "Rollo's Wild Out," in the school auditorium on October 30 and 31. The proceeds will go into a fund for the construction of an athletic field wall in memory of alumni and students who died in service during the world war.

Inspect Tribune Plant.

The journalism class of Austin high school, Chicago, inspected the Tribune plant last Friday evening to see how much better the Maroon and White was made than "The World's Greatest Newspaper."

Read A Bit

The thin little volume, "Monsieur Beaucaire," by our Hoosier author, Booth Tarkington, is a fascinating drama of intrigue laid in Bath, England, during the days of Beau Nash, wherein a French nobleman masquerades as a barber and falls in love with an aristocratic English woman. Valentino is starring in this story for the films. Be ready when it comes to Fort Wayne.

"Son of the Middle Border," by Hamlin Garland, is a good picture of pioneer life in Wisconsin and Iowa after the Civil War for it is a true story.

Mr. Schmalzried (in History class): "When did Lee surrender to Grant?"
Harry Collier: "1865."
Mr. Schmalzried: "Ch, so it took all year?"

E. S.: "Where do you go next period?"
H. C.: "Chemistry exam!"
E. S.: "Oh, going to take the acid test, eh?"

Joseph was a solemn-eyed, spiritual looking child. "Nurse," he said one day, leaving his blocks and laying his hand gently on her knee, "nurse, is this God's day?"

"No, dear," said the nurse, "this is not Sunday, it is Thursday."

"It's so sorry," he said sadly, and went back to his blocks.

The next day and the next, in his serious manner, he asked the same question, and the nurse tearfully said to him: "That child is too good for this world."

On Sunday the question was repeated and the nurse with a sob in her voice said: "Yes, Lambie, this is God's day."

"Then where is the funny paper?" he demanded.

Fred H. (after Caesar exam): "That exam was easy; I knew every question. Only trouble was, I didn't know the answers!"

"Your face is like a poem."

Advertising.

"Waiter," growled a customer, "I should like to know the meaning of this! Yesterday I was served with a portion of pudding twice the size of this."

"Indeed, sir!" replied the waiter. "Where did you sit?"

"By the window," answered the customer.

"Oh, that explains it!" said the waiter. "We always give the people at the windows a large helping. It is a good advertisement."

She was bidding her lover a fond farewell, for he was going on a prolonged business trip around the world.

Tearfully she clung to him and asked: "My Adolph, will you be true to me when you are far away? Promise me that you will write me from every town you visit."

And as he gathered her in his arms he cried, "Oh, Ada, is it true love that prompts you to say this? Ada, swear to me, do you really love me—or are you merely collecting foreign postage stamps?"

CANTATA TO BE GIVEN BY GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Organization Preparing "The Three Springs" To Be Given In November.

Many girls have signed up for membership in the Girls' Glee club. These girls are working hard and expect to accomplish many things. The cantata entitled "The Three Springs" will be presented by this club in November.

The following girls are already members: First sopranos—Mildred Abe, Virginia Althouse, Flora Baer, Thelma Bireley, Margery Burris, Kathryn Chapman, Eldora Colson, Beulah Corwin, Lottie Dignan, Leona Doehrmann, Lucy Dutton, Mary Falk, Hills Fitch, Ilo Foster, Lorna Frauenfelder, Geraldine Grover, Winifred Gunter, Esther Hafert, Grace Hall, Chrystal Jackson, Virginia King, Elizabeth Kline, Neenah Knight, Mary Lang, Loretta Layman, Helen Masters, Evelyn McGinley, Evelyn Miller, Marie Moellering, Mildred Obenour, Mary Lucille Otten, Ruth Paulish, Ruth Park, Louise Pollock, Thelma Price, Mable Pratt, Ina Riley, Asineath Rodebaugh, Georgiana Rodebaugh, Margaret Rose, Zelma Shaffer, Agnes Schmieder, Lillian Springer, Catherine Thompson, Edna Van Tibury, Clara Wager, Ruth Watkins, Ruth Wemhoff, Mabelle Wiseman, Margaret Wolford and Elizabeth Zoll.

Those who sing second soprano are: Ruth Albright, Dorothy Bales, Ruth Barber, Mary Barnes, Eleanor Barz, Thelma Binkley, Esther Bowman, Bertha Branning, Mildred Chenoweth, Dorothy Cline, Mildred Crane, Hazel Cruise, Ethel Fishmann, Mary Jane Florence, Helen Gaskins, Kathryn Gunder, Florence Hazelett, Vesta Johnston, Thyra Jurgensen, Mildred Kesterson, Louise Larwell, Mary Larwell, Marjorie Matlock, Louise Mee, Margaret McClintic, Helen Ostermeyer, Bernice Richart, Ruth Richey, Marcell Roth, Caroline Ryberg, Hazel Sloan, Dorothy Somers, Jane Stringer, Dorothy Underwood, Noma Wiley and Vera Young.

The contralto singers are: Esther Ballard, Garnet Berrier, Virginia Bourns, Ruth May Dawkins, Hildegarde Destinon, Irene Drummond, Dorothea Falls, Thelma Gasser, Georgiana Gilliom, Katherine Henline, Beatrice Huguenard, Elizabeth Kline, Dorothea Kohlmeier, Marguerite Lew, Mary McCurdy, Virginia Pollock, Wilhelmina Rapp, Louise Ryberg, Gertrude Snider, Ruth Switzer, Mary Travis, Jane Walker, Francis Wagner, Camilla Waterfield and Elizabeth Zoll.

STEREOPTICON VIEWS IN HI-YERS PROGRAM

Stereopticon views were shown at the last Hi-Y meeting as a plea for help for the unfortunate boys in China. About seventy fellows attended the meeting and showed great interest in joining the Five-Thousand Dollar club, thus helping the Chinese boys who lack our possibilities because of no support.

Mr. Gould spoke on "The 'Y' In China." He urged the assistance of American boys in Chinese "Y" work. After this part of the program, the clubs separated and South Side discussed the misfits of the high school. About thirty South Siders attended the meeting.

SILVER MAPLES WILL BE PLANTED IN SPRING

Over a hundred Japanese barberry bushes have been planted along the west and east side of school this fall. Mr. Price, son of F. M. Price, assistant superintendent of schools, furnished the bushes.

Mr. Stahl said, "Some silver maple trees will be planted along the west side of the building in the spring." At the south of the building the spiraea bushes, which were planted earlier, are growing nicely.

These bushes and trees will add greatly to the beauty of the premises.

MODERN GIRLS PRAISED BY MARTHA PITTENGER

Miss Martha Pittenger, dean of girls, spoke at the annual Mother-Daughter banquet of the World-Wide Guild of the South Wayne Baptist church, October 21. Her theme was "The Girls and Mothers of Today." She brought out the fact that modern girls are the same as they were years ago except that they are more efficient and practical.

Gain Three Students.

Two freshmen and one junior have entered South Side within the last week. The first year students are Katherine M. Hodgson from Benjamin Bosse high school of Evansville, Ind., and Dwight Winner from New Haven high school, of New Haven, Ind. The junior is LaVerna Winner, also of New Haven, Ind.

New Books Furnished.

The Caesar classes all have new text editions now. As these were purchased for the use of the school in recitations, they are school property. The old text editions did not conform to the book now in use and, besides, they were showing evident signs of long usage. Both teachers and pupils were glad to get these new texts.

Mr. Stahl Busy.

Mr. Stahl, custodian, has built benches to be used by football and baseball players in the stadium. He also constructed a table and file cabinet for Room 24, protection around shrubbery, and shelves in Rooms 140 and 52 for dictionaries.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY DEVOTEES OF HANDBALL

Handball ranks as a major sport among some of the faculty. Mr. Murch, Mr. Virts and Mr. Hull are ardent advocates of this sport and play two or three times every week. Sometimes Mr. Greely, Mr. Davis and Mr. Whelan do their "daily-dozen" on the hardwood court.

The game is very interesting and requires much skill. A small rubber ball is used. This is served with the hand, but instead of being served across a net, it is served against the wall. A point is scored every time the opponent fails to return the server's ball.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR DRILL PAD OFFERED TEACHERS

W. H. Howland, of the MacMillan Publishing company, visited South Side Tuesday. He wanted to sell a Business English pad to the school. This pad contains exercises on such forms as "sit and set," "rise and raise," "lie and lay," and so on.

A sample copy of this pad is to be sent to Mr. Null, although no arrangements have been made for its adoption. Two points to be considered before adopting this pad, Mr. Null said, are: "The cost of English books would be higher" and "The program for English is already filled to its capacity."

With The Classes

Those students of Miss Demaree's literature classes who have been studying poetry have read several short poems from an author of their choice. Of these they chose the one which they liked best, and read it to the class.

Mr. Null demonstrated recently the stickleness of our spelling. He said that if we would spell the word "potato" with the same degree of foolishness that we spell some words we would spell it "peaputtheighptheau."

Mr. Gould has some white narcissus which will blossom next week some time. There will be some flowers in blossom about every two weeks.

Mr. Morris read an interesting piece from the Gregg Writer to his second period shorthand class.

"Girls seem to have a faculty for learning things quicker than boys," Mr. Null says. "A girl grasps the details of a thought quicker than a boy does. This fact is disclosed in the grades of the recent Burke test. The boys do not compete with the girls in average mental ability, and that is all very fine, but I do wish the boys would work harder."

After some discussion, Mr. Null has changed the day for senior composition from Monday to Friday. Seniors are not required to write as many themes as the under-classesmen. One theme every two weeks is the regular assignment.

New brown curtains are being made for the music room to go with the others. New mottos are being printed on the walls.

Mr. Verweire is busy teaching both the beginners' and advanced band. However, Mr. Schafer still has charge of these organizations.

Mr. Makey has started a new method of reciting and grading in his third hour 12-B English class. He calls upon only those who volunteer to recite, those who do not volunteer are not called upon and therefore receive a zero. By this method he expects to progress more rapidly in the work required for the semester.

The boys in Mr. Thomas' forging classes are now preparing themselves for their several tests in forging.

The work on the trophy case and on the cabinet for the drawing class has been resumed.

Mr. Chappell's manual training class has spent much of this week doing repair work for the school. The ironing boards of the home economics department and table shelves have been put into shape.

A new map of Europe and also a map of ancient Italy have been put up in Room 30.

Lela Daugherty is confined to her bed, suffering with rheumatism.

The visitors from Roan showed special interest in the kitchen laboratory equipment of Miss Mendenhall's room.

The subject of "Cheese" was a topic of special interest in the 9-A cooking classes of Miss Mendenhall last week.

In Miss Rehorst's 10-B sewing classes the girls have finished their hats and are now working on their "made over problem."

Miss Rehorst's girls have been interested in the motto, an "If" for girls, by Elizabeth Lincoln Otis, which has been hung in Room 55.

Mrs. Yost, from Reading, Pennsylvania, mother of Elizabeth and Florence Yost, teachers in the grade schools, visited Miss Mott's sewing classes Monday.

Alumni

Dorothy McDougall, '23, is taking a library apprentice course at the Wayne public library. She began her work in October and says that she finds her work very interesting.

Vivian Crates and Miriam Yoder, '24, report a very interesting week-end trip last week when they forgot about their studies at Indiana University and visited friends in Hymeyria, Indiana, about sixty-five miles south of Bloomington. While they were there they took a trip through a mine. "Viv" says she got the thrill of her life when she dropped 130 feet into a black hole, surrounded by coal.

Arthur Bireley has been given a position in the Purdue band and the Purdue orchestra. Arthur is a South Side alumnus of '24.

News has reached South Side of the marriage of Josephus Braden, '24. The wedding took place last Saturday, October 25.

FIFTEEN STUDENTS SIGN FOR INTER-SCHOOL DEBATE

Eleven Turn Out at Meeting; Subject Will Be "State Censorship of Movies."

The third debate meeting was held Monday afternoon. Mr. Makey was very much pleased at the number who turned out. There are fifteen people at for debating at the present time, at only eleven were there.

Those who were present are: Louise Platt, Lucille Lapp, Power Karr, Carl Rohrer, William P. VanNess, Thelma Gasser, Elsbeth Crane, Ruth Eickmeyer, Gertrude Schuelke, Franklin Smith and Dorothy Emerick. Seven of these are members of the public speaking class.

The subject for the debates will be, "State Censorship of Movies." At the meeting, briefs for both the affirmative and negative teams were started.

New Uniforms Ordered.

New uniforms for the band have been ordered. Measurements have been taken. These are very "classy" uniforms and are expected to arrive soon.

The band played at the Wabash game. Comments on their good work have been heard from everyone.

WABASH ELEVEN
SHATTERS HOPE OF LOCAL CREW

South Side Gridders Forced To End Season With Fifty-Fifty Break in Football Conference.

WABASH GRIDMEN USE
SUPER AERIAL ATTACK

Thiele and Brubaker Play Exceptional Game at Defense; Richendollar Out.

South Side met with a terrible reverse when Wabash's heavy and fast team swept over it for a 32 to 19 defeat. With Aldrich and Richendollar out of the line-up, South Side played Wabash on practically even terms throughout the first half. During the second half, with the exception of the last five minutes, in which South Side scored two touchdowns, Wabash completely outplayed South Side by opening up a bewildering aerial attack which resulted in three touchdowns.

The "Fightin' Green" was a game bunch of losers, for in spite of almost certain defeat, every green-clad gridder was in the battle, fighting and making the Wabash team earn everything it gained. The stubborn fight South Side staged when the score was 32 to 6 against it, showed that there was something in the game outside of winning.

Instead of being demoralized by the almost hopeless lead which its opponents held, South Side was seemingly spurred on to fight harder and harder, a fight which resulted in the last two touchdowns.

The game was loaded with thrills. Ross twisting, dodging, speedy runs, for Wabash brought thrills to all the down state's followers and made shivers chase up and down the spinal column of all the South Side rooters. Currie and Lighthill manufactured the heart throbs for the South Side spectators.

Currie ran back a kick-off and dodged through ten of Wabash's team but was lassoed by the safety man. He again caused the hair of the Green fans to take an upright position when he twisted, dodged, hurdled and outran the Wabash eleven in a thrilling seventy-five yard dash; but Currie lost the benefits of his run when the referee caught a Green gridden jumping the gun on the play.

Lighthill boosted the South Side stock when he intercepted a Wabash pass on his 40-yard line and led a rapid procession down the field to his goal line.

Thiele and Brubaker played probably their best defensive game of the season. This pair of stellar wing-men was in practically every play that Wabash used. They were in there following the ball in catlike precision. They leaked through interference like water and tackled with deadly accuracy. Seldom was a Wabash play successful that involved the clearing of Thiele and Brubaker from the defense. Howdy Welsh, at his position behind the line, strengthened the defensive play by his untiring efforts to stop the Wabash onrush. Rahe broke through the Wabash line time and again and made many tackles before the backfield was organized.

Aldrich was in the game for only one play when an injury to his bad knee required his withdrawal from the game.

The Game.

Knee kicked off for Wabash. The pick-six sailed over the South Side goal line and necessitated play to be resumed on the 20-yard mark. South Side gained little through the Wabash line and Welsh punted out of danger. Wabash tried a few plays and Ross, following splendid interference by Knee, failed on an attempted drop-kick.

Knee kicked off to Currie who dodged through the entire team until he came to Knee on the 40-yard line and was downed. South Side started a smashing line plunging attack which carried the ball to the 5-yard line, from which Welsh scored on a quarterback sneak. Welsh dropped-kicked successfully but a linesman was offside.

Currie again received the ball on the kick-off and returned it to midfield. South Side started another driving attack which ended on the 15-yard line when the Wabash defense braced. Wabash was then in possession of the ball for the first time since it made its first touchdown. Wabash opened a sweeping attack which resulted in the second touchdown for Ross, who got off one of his usual long end runs. Knee failed to kick goal.

DeHaven kicked off over the Wabash goal line. Wabash made ten yards and was then held for downs. Currie skirted his right end and dodged through the entire Wabash defense for a seventy-yard run but was called back and South Side was inflicted with a five-yard penalty. The half ended with the score 12 to 6 in favor of Wabash.

Second Half.

In the beginning of the second half Wabash cut loose with a well executed

The girls' basketball season will officially open November 3. All girls expecting to play must have a heart examination by Miss Hadsell or present to her a blue ticket showing that they have been examined at the Y. W. C. A.

All girls coming out for class or varsity teams sign up immediately in Miss Hadsell's office. Appointments for heart examinations should be made at once.

CHEMISTRY AND EATING
ARE WARDO'S HOBBIES

"Studying chemistry and eating are my hobbies," Coach Gilbert said when interviewed by a Times reporter this week.

If one surprises him in his office, one would probably find him studying formulas, or working out test problems for his fourth hour class. Sometimes he is forced to augment his chemistry with very advanced algebra, so that the formulae works out all right.

We presume that when he isn't studying, or coaching, he's eating, because he says, "I just love to eat."

overhead attack which resulted in three touchdowns. Knee kicked over the South Side goal line. South Side made a march which transported the pigskin to midfield where it was lost on downs. Wabash attempted a pass but failed. On the next play Cornell hurled the ball to Showalter, who was on the 10-yard line, and scored a touchdown. Knee drop-kicked for the extra point.

DeHaven kicked off to Ross. Wabash attempted another aerial attack but was set back at every point by the South Siders. Knee punted out of danger. No scoring was done before the quarter ended.

Wabash again started a hurling attack. Again a pass from Cornell to Showalter resulted in a touchdown. Knee failed to drop-kick the extra point.

DeHaven kicked to Cornell. Ross was taken from the game and was given a roaring applause. Smith substituted for him. Wabash made another rush to the South Side goal line. Knee battered the South Side line for many gains which brought the ball to the 5-yard line. Knee smashed the forewall again for a touchdown. He added a point by a drop-kick.

Knee kicked off over the South Side goal line. Knee went out of the game because of a slight injury. Coach Welborn had his second string backs with the exception of Currie in. South Side smashed its way to the 2-yard line, from which Staley scored on a quarterback sneak. Currie missed goal.

South Side attempted two on side kicks as the game ended.
Score: Wabash, 32; South Side, 19.

TAKE STEPS TO HAVE TOURNEY RULE REVISED

Wabash Valley Football Conference Says That New Ruling
Is Unfair to Sectional Center Schools.

SEEKS TO FIND VIEWS OF OTHER NET CENTERS

Letter Sent To Schools Holding Sectional Tourneys Last Year.

Measures to have the ruling revised that governs schools conducting sectional high school basketball tournaments are being taken by the Wabash Valley Football Conference, of which South Side is a member.

The rule was adopted at the last state teachers' convention and distributes the fund equally to all competing schools instead of on the basis of season tickets as has formerly been done. It is claimed that under the existing rule schools holding sectional tournaments will lose money. It is the aim of the Wabash Valley association to bring about a revision which would allow the schools holding sectional tournaments to operate the tournaments on a basis which would repay the school for its work in connection with the contests.

A letter will be sent to all high schools in the state which held sectional tournaments last year, asking their views on the present rule. The letter follows:

"We believe that sectional tournaments cannot be held successfully under the present plans. The following centers of the Wabash Valley Athletic association approve the above statement: Huntington, Wabash, Peru, Kokomo, Logansport and South Side of Fort Wayne.

"We suggest that the board of control make provision for submitting contracts that can be accepted by centers holding sectional meets.

"Are you willing to apply for a sectional tournament under the present plan?"

The letter is being sent out and replies are to be sent to R. M. Gibson, secretary of the association, at Logansport.

R. C. Harris, principal of South Side high, was elected vice-president of the association at a conference just closed at Wabash. L. E. Singer, of Peru, is president.

The association has decided that football schedules of member teams will be retained next year, with the reversal of playing places.

CENTRAL PLAYS PORTLAND AT STADIUM ON SATURDAY

Defeated Plymouth By Overwhelming
Score Last Saturday; Team Appears Greatly Improved.

Central will line up to take Portland at the South Side stadium next Saturday. Portland was beaten earlier in the season by South Side, 26 to 6. Central should beat Portland by a decisive score.

The Blue and White gridders romped to a 66 to 0 victory over Plymouth last Saturday at the South Side stadium. Baker was by far the outstanding player of the game with spectacular end runs and line plunges.

The Blue and White line held like a stone wall. The Centralites line and backfield drove Plymouth to destruction. Plymouth was outplayed in every department.

MANY PLAN TO GO TO KENDALLVILLE GAME

As Kendallville is only twenty-eight miles from here, and as the road is in such excellent condition, many football fans are planning to drive up.
Kendallville is directly on the Lima road. This road is reached by going straight out Wells street. The Lima road is paved all the way with the exception of three miles.

ALAN FROMUTH PLAYS
AGAINST I. U. VARSITY

Alan Fromuth, who is going to school at Indiana university, has earned a position at left half on the freshmen crew. The varsity and freshmen varsity put on a game to assist the band in raising funds for Ohio trip. "Red" played with plenty of fight throughout the game. He will be a bidder in his sophomore year for a berth on the varsity.

SOUTH SIDE DROPS TO THIRD PLACE IN W. V. CONFERENCE

WABASH JUMPS TO LEADERSHIP IN GRID LEAGUE

Gains First Place in Wabash Valley Football Conference by Defeating South Side.

SOUTH SIDE GRIDDERS PUT OUT OF RUNNING

Wabash Game Is South Side's Last One On Conference Schedule.

STANDINGS WABASH VALLEY FOOTBALL CONFERENCE

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Wabash	2	0	1.000
Huntington	3	1	.750
South Side	2	2	.500
Peru	1	2	.333
Logansport	1	2	.333
Kokomo	1	3	.250

Last Week's Results. Wabash, 32; South Side, 19. Peru, 47; Huntington, 0. Logansport, 19; Kokomo, 7.

Saturday's Schedule. Wabash vs. Peru at Peru.

By virtue of its win over South Side and by Huntington's unexpected defeat by Peru, Wabash has gone into the undisputed lead in the Wabash Valley Football conference with a clean slate. Wabash has two games to play, one with Peru and one with Logansport; but these teams should cause the Wabash eleven little trouble. Peru gave the dope bucket an awful jolt when it handed Huntington a lop-sided setback by the score of 47 to 0.

South Side was taken out of the running for the conference leadership when the strong Wabash team walloped it 32 to 19. There is a possibility of a tie between Huntington and Wabash, if either Peru or Logansport can beat Wabash, but this is not probable.

Huntington, South Side and Kokomo have finished their schedules in the conference. Kokomo bids well for the cellar position with its per cent of .250. But Kokomo has the consolation of the probable company of Peru and Logansport.

Sport Shorts

Well, one consolation, we were beaten by a good team.

South Side finished fifty-fifty in the W. V. F. C. Don't mind that, boys. We'll sock them next year.

Food for thought: South Side beat Peru, 26 to 6; South Side was beaten by Huntington, 6 to 13; Peru beat Huntington, 47 to 0; Wabash beat South Side, 32 to 19. How will the Peru-Wabash game come out Saturday?

Louis Norris and Louis Wilkens, former South Side grid stars, attended the game at Wabash last Saturday.

Wasn't that a dandy crowd we had at Wabash?

Let's go to Kendallville Saturday.

When the Green of South Side and the Red of Kendallville appear on the field Saturday, it will remind the people that there are only fifty-seven days in which to do their Christmas shopping.

Eddie Aldrich suffered another injury to his knee. Too bad, Eddie!

Wasn't that tragedy about Doc's seventy-five yard run that counted for nothing?

A Wabash fan wanted to know what the Fort Wayne boys ate to make them run so fast. He was referring to Lighthill's dash.

Good work, Jack! but we didn't tell the man what it was.

Thiele and Brubaker were surely smacking everything that came their ways.

Currie and Ross had a hard time convincing the fans who was the better.

Doc wins hands down.

Ross, Wabash's speedy halfback, is only a sophomore. At the rate he is going now he should be all-state half before he leaves school.

Knee's kicking was one of the big factors in the Wabash victory.

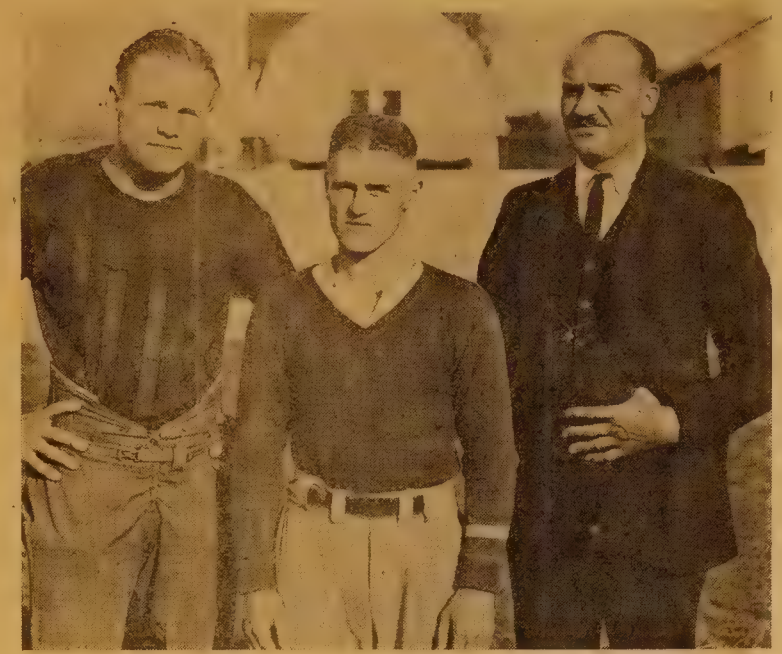

We will meet both Wabash and Huntington in basketball. We hope to get sweet revenge then.

A newcombe tourney involves about seventy-five girls. More real value is derived from this sport than any other because in newcombe seventy-five girls can take part while in other games not more than fifteen or twenty can compete.

TEAM SCORING

Three Leaders of South Side's Team That Faces Hardest Games of Year

Captain Aldrich, Coach Welborn, Coach Gilbert. The three leaders of the 1934 football team of South Side high school are shown above. Coach Welborn in the center is the little Napoleon of the trio. Though his army of gridders has met two Waterloos in the last two weeks, the school feels confident that the team has three wins ahead of them—over Kendallville, Technical and Central. Captain Eddie Aldrich has been under a big handicap with injuries all year and for the most part has not had a chance to show what he can do. The other corner of the football triangle is Coach Gilbert, who had charge of the team for the last two years, giving way to Welborn this year when the dual coaching system was introduced.

COACHES WILL TRY OUT FUTURE GRID MATERIAL

Welborn and Gilbert To Find Coming Varsity Prospects By Testing Grade School Boys.

A grid tournament will be held for the boys in the grade schools who are interested in football. The purpose of this tournament will be to find out the coming grid material.

The plan of this tournament is to have three events: passing, drop-kicking and punting. The one who is most accurate and active in these three events will be the winner.

The tournament will be held in the South Side stadium with Mr. Welborn and Mr. Gilbert acting as the judges.

SECOND NEWCOMBE SET IS WON BY FOURTH HOUR

Fourth and Fifth Hour Class Will Fight For Championship at Next Set.

The second newcombe tournament was won by the fourth hour gym class. The girls share honors with their fifth hour sisters, who won the first set. One more tourney will be staged for the championship.

The fourth hour girls defeated the first winners, 14 to 9, in the finals played last Friday, October 25. If the fifth hour class had won this last game they would be proclaimed champs of the school for having won two out of three sets. As the matter stands now, either the fourth or fifth period classes will have to win the final set to get the championship. The team that does win will be the official champions.

The results of the second round are:

- Fourth defeated third, 12-9.
- Sixth defeated second, 21-99.
- Fifth defeated first, 21-6.
- Fourth defeated sixth, 199-11.
- Fourth defeated fifth, 14-9.

JUNIORS LEAD CLASS BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Faculty Runs Close Second With Two Games; Sophomore In Cellar Place.

	Won.	Lost.
Juniors	4	0
Faculty	2	0
Seniors	1	1
Sophomores	0	4

The juniors are still heading the inter-class basketball league with a perfect percentage. On Tuesday, October 22, they beat out the seniors with a 22 to 17 tally. On the same afternoon the frosh defeated the sophomores, 7 to 3. The junior-senior game was the hottest played, because at times the juniors held only a one point lead.

The faculty walloped the sophomores on Thursday, October 24, while the seniors trounced the freshmen. No definite score was kept at these games, but referee Heine said that the score of the faculty game was about 60 to 10.

Fleming was the basket-shooting star for the juniors in the Tuesday game, for he netted five pretty baskets. Ray Warnock, basketball star, who came from Huntington recently, counted four baskets for the seniors, while Bechtold, their captain, sank three shots. Warnock is a contender for a berth on the varsity and his playing on the class team is being watched by the coaches.

Doty sank the only field marker for the sophomores in the soph-frosh battle, while Bell, Feustel and Newman contributed one apiece for the freshmen.

LAST TWO GRID BATTLES TO TEST TEAM'S METTLE

Technical of Indianapolis and Central Will Present Strong Line-Ups; Locals Work Hard.

The last two football games of the season to be played at South Side stadium with Technical of Indianapolis and Central, probably will be the hardest of the season.

Technical defeated South Side last year at Indianapolis but will come to the South Side stadium to stack against the fighting Kelly Klags who have blood in their eyes and will fight till the last to beat Tech.

The last and most spirited game of the season will be with Central which will decide the city's championship in football. Both teams are working hard and looking forward to this game.

Central will be out with their drum corps and backed with plenty of rooters. The drum corp and band of South Side will be out to check the howling Centralites.

FIGHTIN' GREEN TO PLAY K'VILLE TEAM SATURDAY

Captain Aldrich Expected To Be In Line-Up Though Slowed By Injuries Received In Wabash Fray.

TEAM HANDICAPPED BY LOSS OF TWO PLAYERS

South Side Determined To Win After Two Consecutive Unexpected Defeats.

The South Side team will invade on Saturday the athletic town of Kendallville, the land of Sawyers and former home of Gerry LuVan. The Green came out of last week's fray little the worse for its experience. It is thought that Captain Aldrich will be in the line-up, although the gravity of his injury is unknown.

Kendallville has been enjoying only a fair season which was marred by many setbacks. The Kendallville team is composed of a bunch of huskies and should give South Side some trouble if ever they start hitting. The team is greatly handicapped by the loss of Young and Prentice by graduation. These two stars were the nucleus of Kendallville teams for the past several years.

South Side will enter the game at Kendallville Saturday with a firm determination to win. With a record of two consecutive defeats on its list, the green-clad gladiators will have perked up and will be ready to trounce the Noble county lads.

The Green and White mentor is not worried about the Kendallville game but wants his team to be in proper running order for the following Friday, when the Green takes on Tech of Indianapolis for a hard game. Coach Welborn will start all his first string men in order that they may get good team play.

The following men will most likely start for South Side: Brubaker and Thiele, ends; Schopf and Rahe, tackles; DeHaven and Sprunger, guards; Martin, center; Welsh, quarter; Aldrich and Currie, halves; Richendollar, full.

RAHE IS PLAYING SUPER GAME AT RIGHT TACKLE

Ed Rahe

Ed Rahe is again playing at right tackle as all the opposing teams will grant. Eddie is a senior and is performing his third season with the Green and White. Ed is a cool-headed, consistent player. He is always at his best in a close game. He has sterling qualities which make him bid well high honors as a tackle in high school football. On offense Eddie can block his man out of the play and still go through for secondary. Defensively, he is a good tackle and is a Rock of Gibraltar on the right side of the line.

DEHAVEN PLAYS GOOD GAME AS RIGHT GUARD

Lester DeHaven

Lester DeHaven has been playing a most creditable game at right guard. He is well skilled in line play and is always a most dangerous man. This year Tina has developed the art of kicking. On his kickoffs he gets better than fifty yards. He is a dependable kicker from placement. Lester is also a fair drop-kicker. He is a full-fledged linesman owing to his size and to his previous experience on the Fightin' Green eleven. He is a bear for work and is at the height of his glory when he is given plenty of action. Lester is a sophomore and is wearing the Green for the second season.

The following enjoyed a wienner bake at Foster Park last Friday night: Lucille Lapp, Lucille Grosvenor, Helen Crawford, Lillian Rolf, Howard Bengs, Walter Roembke and Ray Thomas.

Mildred Oberoner spent last week-end in Crestline, Ohio, visiting with friends.

Mary Falk has as her guest for several weeks her cousin, Delores Falk, of Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Helen Payne entertained a number of her friends recently at a delightful theater party at the Palace. After the performance refreshments were served at Evans'. The guests were: Clara Sherbondy, Velma Puff, Gladys Payne, Lottie Dignan, Nina Richardson and Lorna Frauenfelder.

Clara Sherbondy entertained the following girls last Friday evening: Flora Baer, Mary Falk and Elsbeth Crane.

Marguerite Luecke, Dorothy Wagner, Hildegard Seibel, Hermione Hill, Robert Whipple, Paul Mills, Elmer Loeschner and Eddie Hale enjoyed a theater party at the Strand last Friday evening.

Lucile Grosvenor entertained a few of her most intimate friends at her home last Friday evening. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served to Mary Barnes, Lillian Rolf, Beatrice Riecke, Helen Masters, Helen Crawford, and the hostess.

Last Friday evening Edna Dean gave a Halloween taffy pull. The guests came masked. Those who enjoyed the affair are: Dorothy Horton, Dorothy Sudner, Waneta Barker, Charlotte Surers, Virginia Kinck, and Eddie Kelly, Raymond Gerard, Paul Menzing, Garth Remmel, Lester DeHaven and Charles Hegstler.

The following South Side people took part in a pageant given at the South Wayne Baptist church: Noma Wilkey-Cinderella, Kenneth Uran-Prince, Harming, Helen Mitchell-Minehaha, Fred Pierce-Hiawatha, Eleanor Wilson-Robinhood, Mattie Cook-Maid Morrison, and Edward Cook-Huckleberry Finn.

Norma Sprandel and Dorothy Collins recently united in giving a marshmallow-wienner bake. Those who enjoyed the good time were: Velma West, Margaret Mairland, Marguerite Rahe, Anita Haugk, Marcella Boudi, Isabelle Collins, Hulda Horstmeier, Carl Murray, Fred Sieman, Gerald Doty, Addison Grodman, Bill Dammeier, Wilmer Knake, Bob Nosset, Walda Bliedernicht and the hostesses. They were chaperoned by Esther Sprandel and Linden Grenard.

Dick Welch entertained a number of his friends at his home Friday evening. Prizes in five hundred were won by Ruth Wendell and Carl Murray. At a late hour a two-course luncheon was served to Marguerite Schwiier, Catherine Fries, Mary Hale, Mervyn Welch, Ruth Wendell, and to Carl Murray, Fred Sieman, Harold Wendell and the host.

Mary and Martha Sherman entertained with a Halloween party Saturday evening. Halloween games and dancing were enjoyed, followed by a delicious luncheon. The guests included Virginia King, Mildred Grosvenor, Betty Rider, Marjorie Homsher, Mary Hale, Helen Sellers, Katherine Homsher and Winfield Ray, Bob Sell, John Simmers, Frederick Peirce, David White, King Skerman, Walter Hallstein, Ralph Frank and Duncan White.

A theater party was recently enjoyed by Margaret Mairland, Marguerite Rahe, Velma West, Anita Haugk, Hulda Horstmeier, Anna Gehle, Gertrude Doege, Lenora Lufman, Myrtle Sheefel and Dorothy Collins.

Agnes and Claude Bauwerman entertained a number of their friends at a clever Halloween party Saturday evening. Those who enjoyed the affair were: Esther Roush, Florence Hazlett, Margaret Lew, Dorothy Bennett, Catherine Gunder, Madge Roush, Louise Petre, Marguerite Howard, Eleanor Williams, Jane Bittner, Hulda Burgene, Maynard Patterson, Dick Coral, Jesse Grace, Gerald Ammerman, Dick Knox, Noble Miller, Vilber Hazlett, Dwight Meyers, Dick Norris, Kenneth Flaig and Doc Burrier.

Garnet Criegh entertained with a delightful party last Monday evening. Music and dancing were the main features of the evening. Those present were Frances Alger, Maxine Charney, Corrine Hoover, Catherine Merer, and Evelyn Zern.

AT THE BROADWAY

The Broadway theatre will celebrate its first birthday with a special added attraction and Gloria Swanson, playing the leading role in "Society Scandal." Roses will be given to adults and balloons to the children during the anniversary week, November 2 to 8. South Siders ought to appreciate a near-by theatre and ought to patronize it.

Miss Marjorie Mossman visited Columbia City over the week-end.

The chilly nights and warm, glorious Indian summer days pleasantly recall to mind October days and festivities. The mood of this autumn month is precisely in keeping with the joyous Halloween activities. For does not the brisk fresh air incite us to entertainment and mischief? Indeed! these days incline to produce an abundance of energy and it is good that we have one day whereby we may rid ourselves of this excess energy. Halloween is only the culmination of a month changed with vigorous activity.

Evelyn McGinley and Evelyn Miller were hostesses to a delightful Halloween party Saturday evening at the home of the former on South Anthony boulevard. The decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season. Games and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening. At a late hour a cafeteria luncheon was served to the following: Ruth Henkel, Lucille Henkel, Mary Jane Florence, Margaret Turner, Noma Wilkey, Mary Lucille Otten and Earl Hambrick, Louis Worden, Elmer Stellborn, Eugene Keenan, Homer Miller, Ronald Rudolphson, Harry Beitel John Sonnenberg.

Louis Norris, of Northwestern University, spent last week-end in Fort Wayne with friends and relatives.

Bovere Potts spent last week-end in Indianapolis visiting friends. While there she attended a football game.

Dorothy Dix, of Alliance College, spent last week-end in this city visiting relatives.

Kathryn Twinn entertained Amelia Dildine and Doris Minier recently.

Maxine Schmiider entertained Doris Minier, Mabel Fell and Mildred Berlien last Friday evening.

Last Thursday evening the following young people enjoyed a wienner-marshmallow bake at Foster park: Helen Crawford, Lucille Lapp, Lucille Grosvenor, Lillian Rolf, and Walter Roembke, Howard Buck, Ray Bengs and Al Bengs. After the bake Helen Crawford entertained the group at her home.

Margaret Rose was hostess to a number of her most intimate friends last Friday evening. The guests were Jeanette Stultz, Bernice Richhart, Edna Tilberry, Phyllis Toothill, Margaret Jane Hoffman, Evelyn Metsker, Sara Miner, Kathryn Dye, Camilla Waterfield, Mary Copper, Marcella Eyanstein, Frances Wagner, Greta Astrom, Margaret Holden, Florence Sterling, Bernice Centlivre, Marjorie Reeves, Kathleen Grier, Mary Elizabeth Hughes, Mary Martha Snook and Dorothy Troundel.

Ethel Fishman entertained at dinner last Saturday evening. The guests were Maxine Groth, Virginia Curdes, Rosella Pollock, Florence Blosser, Dorothy Blosser, Virginia Seymeyer, Maxine Kennedy, Josephine Hyman, Dorothy Cline, Josephine Hyman, Dorothy Cline, Dorothy Martin, Helen Pape, Katherine Bechtel, Wilda Bowser, Hazel Menefee and Esther Lowery.

Dorothy Cline entertained a number of her most intimate friends with a delightful dinner party last Friday evening at her home on Indiana avenue. Covers were laid for the following guests: Dorothy Horstmeier, Josephine Hyman, Kathryn Bechtel, Ruth Horstmeier, Ethel Fishman, Dorothy Martin, Pauline Bowerfield, Louise Horstmeier, Dorothy Wilkens, Marguerite Luecke, Didi Dildine, Edna Tilberry, Helen Shimer and Dorothy Bales.

Home to be given FREE!

ALL of the school boys and school girls of this city over ten years of age have a chance to win this $15,000 home.

The home and ten scholarships to universities or colleges will be given as prizes to school boys and girls of the United States and Canada in the Home Lighting Contest.

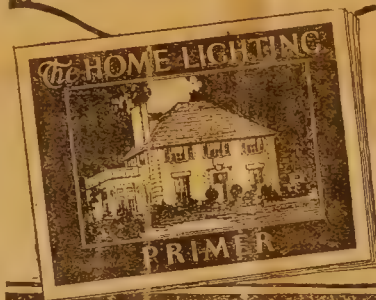

The purpose of this Home Lighting Contest is to conserve the eyesight of the children. Improper lighting in the home is injurious to eyesight. Teaching the children the proper use of light will help to solve this problem.

Here is an opportunity to win any one of the valuable local prizes and possibly one of the 11 International Prizes. No unusual skill or experience is required to enter the contest or win a prize.

PASSING PUPILS
WILL MAKE OWN
CLASS PROGRAMS

Schedule Of Periods and Subjects Published Today; May Be Changed To Suit Needs.

PROGRAMS TO BE MADE AFTER GRADES ARE OUT

Seniors Asked To Report Conflicts; Other Questions Should Be Asked Promptly.

Pupils who are making passing grades in all subjects will be allowed to select their own periods and classes for next semester and will make out their own programs when grades after the first ten weeks are issued on November 17. This is the first time that this method has ever been employed in Fort Wayne high schools, but its announcement has met with unanimous approval by pupils and by teachers.

Mr. Harris requests that the seniors look through the program to see whether or not they have any conflicts. Seniors should report to the office if they cannot get the subjects they should have for next term. It may be possible to revise the program to fit their needs, Mr. Harris says.

Senior arithmetic has been included this time, coming the third period. Juniors and seniors will not be allowed to elect biology or physical geography. Those who wish to take orchestra, band or glee club should indicate this upon their elections. In botany, chemistry and physics the day of the laboratory is indicated as M2, meaning Monday the second period, and Tu2, meaning Tuesday the second period.

Any question concerning the program should be turned in to the office not later than Tuesday, next week, so that the answer may be published in the Times.

Pupils who fail in even one subject at the mid-term will not be allowed to make out their programs for next term, as their whole program (Continued on Page 6)

STYLE SHOW GIVEN TO ILLUSTRATE LECTURE

Y. W. C. A. Representative Speaks on "The Charm of Dress."

"There is no harm in a girl's studying herself and trying to dress attractively," said Miss Margaret Lange, of the membership department of the Y. W. C. A., when she spoke at the last U. S. A. meeting held last Monday afternoon in Room 24. Her subject was "The Charm of Dress."

She said that it was no sin to know what things looked well on oneself, and urged the girls to study their appearance. She stressed the importance of cleanliness.

"A girl may dress attractively and yet inexpensively," she continued. Shoes, hats and dresses were each discussed by her. She explained that the school dress should be simple and neat and not a short-sleeved silk frock. High heeled shoes should not be worn to school and small hats are usually more becoming to a high school girl.

A style show followed Miss Lange's talk, in which the U. S. A. members acted as models while Dessauer Brothers furnished seven dresses and four coats. Virginia Hackney played several selections while the models appeared. Marcell Bales, Marguerite Schrier, Elizabeth Suter and Dorothy Hoffman each showed a school dress, a silk frock and a coat. Mary Hughes, Devona Kaehr and Dorothy Hoffman exhibited the dresses the yhad made in the sewing class of the domestic science department.

Miss Pittenger led the devotional service by reading a Psalm, giving a short talk, and offering a prayer.

The meeting was closed by singing the Girl Reserve song.

The U. S. A. club members are giving a candy sale today and another one Friday.

Warning Notices Spur Pupils
To Harder Work, Teachers Say

Most All Failures Due To Outside Attractions Taking Up Too Much of Pupils' Time, Faculty Believe; Teachers Think Few Failures Are Due To Lack of Mentality.

One thing seems to be uppermost in the minds of the teachers as to why warning notices are sent out. All believe that the faulty work done by some students is due to outside influences.

Mr. Murphy, expressing his views regarding this subject in economic terms, says: "I am fully in favor of sending warning notices to students, even though very few are sent by me. Circular letters and advertising are very effective in bringing a person to notice something different. The warning notice has this effect."

"It will arouse the parents and will usually bring direct response. Perhaps, the greatest factor in determining why so many students fail is that there is too much outside influence."

When asked as to how many failures could be avoided he said precisely, "At least one-half, with any amount of effort by the students!"

Mr. Null also seems to voice the sentiment prevalent among teachers that the great number of notices sent out and failures are not due to lack of mentality.

"I think," Mr. Null asserted, "that not one student in my classes would fail if he worked to his fullest capacity. One warning notice out of twenty perhaps is really due to insufficient mental ability."

"I believe," he said when commenting upon the reasons for failures, "that the chief trouble of failing students is that their lessons are not their major business; most of them consider their school duties as incidents."

WITH CARNIVAL
STUNT PROGRESS

Senior Class President Says: Plans Are Coming Along Fine; Side Shows Being Organized.

TICKETS NOW ON SALE; ADMIT TO SHOW IN GYM

Purchasers Asked To Wear Tags Showing They Have Bought Tickets.

EDWARD HULSE

"Everything is just going fine," declared Edward Hulse, president of the senior class and chairman of the main show committee for the Senior Carnival, when asked how plans for the Senior Carnival were maturing.

"Thus far we have secured the promise of a rousing good act from the Times staff and Vesta Johnson has volunteered to perform a dance for us. The South Side band will be there to furnish music and we assure everyone a delightful time."

"The side show committee has been considering a number of side shows but have not definitely settled upon any particular ones as yet. There will probably be one dealing with wireless and broadcasting and several comic ones," Tom Schulze, chairman of the committee, said. He expects to complete all plans at the next committee meeting.

The poster committee has been hard at work and South Side pupils are greeted on every hand by "Yee Senior Carnival." Other posters remind us by alluring pictures that there are "eats and fun for all" at the Senior Carnival.

The tickets for this affair have been distributed to the class officers and to each member of the ticket committee of which Ward Dilline is chairman. Each ticket costs twenty-five cents and will admit its owner to the main show given in the gym. Admission to the side shows will be extra.

The tag accompanying each ticket is to be worn by the purchaser so that everyone may know he is going to attend the Senior Carnival.

Bernadean Bennett and Bob a Vn Ness Win Prizes For Best Costumes.

The Junior Hi-Y's Halloween party, given October 29 at the Y. M. C. A., was attended by almost one hundred members and their girl friends.

Seventy-six people came dressed in some fine masquerade costumes. The "Queen" of all costumes was that of Bernadean Bennett, who, dressed in royal purple and wearing a crown, took first prize. The king of the carnival was dressed in a manner far different from the Queen's. He was Bob Van Ness, who impersonated a "chick." Neither prize lasted long as they were candy and were eaten when awarded.

After the refreshments were served the crowd was entertained by an importation from the Hawaiian Islands. It is rumored, however, that the dancer is a Centralite.

DISCUSSION SUBJECT IS ANNOUNCED BY TEACHERS

"The Child Labor Amendment" Chosen To Be Discussed Throughout State at Contests

"The Child Labor Amendment" has been announced as the subject for the State High School Discussion League contest, when it is held in Bloomington next April, it was announced by Mrs. Adela Bittner, of the extension division of Indiana university. This is a timely subject for the contest, since the amendment was passed by the last congress and will be up for ratification in most of the state legislatures this year.

A list of questions was sent by the extension division to the teachers of the state who have discussion classes and they selected the subject.

The extension division prepared a pamphlet on "The Child Labor Amendment" and will send it out to all the schools of the state along with an application blank.

The first elimination contests will be held in each county of the state, the winners of which will engage in district meets. The winners of the districts will meet at Bloomington next April where the final contest will be held.

Adopt Traffic Regulations. Traffic regulations will probably be adopted very soon by the Fort Collins high school of Fort Collins, Colorado.

Eight Hundred Windows Throw
Plenty Of Light on Subjects

Nine Hundred Light Bulbs Are Called Into Service When Windows Do Not Provide Enough Illumination; One Thousand Shades Help To Hold Out Excess Light.

"The youth of today is light-minded," say the elder generation. Well, if light-mindedness goes with living in light rooms, the South Side students must be a mighty frivolous bunch, for the school certainly has excellent lighting facilities. For instance, there are 838 windows in the building, or, in other words, nearly all of one side of each class room is made of glass.

In spite of all our windows, sometimes the pupils get too little light through them. To remedy this we have electric lights strung throughout the building and surrounding them are 750 bowls and shades. These bowls and shades are of three patterns, different from each other in several ways. (We almost quoted Jaecar and said in language, customs, and laws). There are 100 twelve-inch light bowls, 350 celestite bowls, and 400 cora shades.

It takes nearly half a mile of chain to hold these bowls and shades in place, or almost enough to be stretched around the stadium track 100 times. To those particular people who demand concrete numbers, the length of chain is 2,000 feet.

The lights are wired with almost twenty-eight miles of wire, or from the main entrance of the school on Creighton avenue. A more exact measurement finds the wire to be 1,500 feet long.

Sometimes the days are too bright, and the pupils have to have less light in school. The school is provided with .006 shades for this purpose. These shades are of two sizes, 6x2 1/2 feet, and 3x2 1/2 feet. If these shades are evenly divided there is 10,563 square feet of shading in our high school. If the shades were placed end to end they would be 4,527 feet long, enough to go around the square that South Side is in, one and a half times. The rollers that the shades are on have a total length of 3,018 feet. They would go all the way around South Side, following the sidewalk, and there would be 3 1/2 rollers to spare.

Our shades are held in place by 700 brackets, most brackets having two shades depending upon them. As they are each held in place by two screws 1,401 screws were used to hold up the shades. The extra screw is the one that was lost while the building was being made.

South Side's 300 doors have varying degrees of popularity and are popular at different times. For instance, the classroom doors seem to hold one in while one always is glad to go through the door of the cafeteria. Then the outer doors look good to go through if school is out for the day, but their appearance is forbidding enough in the morning, especially if one didn't study the night before.

Most of these doors let in their share of light, too, and if light causes light-headedness our only allies who keep our brains working in school seem to be the shades.

PICTURES BEING TAKEN OF ALL ORGANIZATIONS

Many Students Have Class Photos Taken; Necessary to Have It Done Soon.

Several more places on the Totem staff have been filled. The tryouts will include Clara Wager, girls' sports editor; Jack Clayton, joke editor; Thelma Bureley, art editor; Hazel Sloan and Clement Gasser, sophomore editors, and Thelma Gasser, organization.

The athletic section will be a feature in itself. The pictures will be mostly group or action. The picture of the whole team will head the section. Groups of the team in action will be in prominent places. Many other pictures will be used to carry out the idea of football.

Senior and junior pictures are being taken and so far most of the students have turned out. However, as here are some pictures to be taken, those who have not been to the studio are asked to go as soon as possible so as to save the Totem staff from unliminly delay.

Scenic pictures of the school will be taken soon.

All organized clubs will be "shot" some time within the next two weeks.

Enjoys Exchange of Ideas

Mr. Spaulding liked the sectional meeting at Indianapolis most of all, but he thought the most benefit was derived from the exchange of ideas between the individual teachers.

COLLECTION FOR CHARITIES WILL BE TAKEN NEXT WEEK

Joney Will Be Distributed by Council of Social Agencies; School Contributed Last Year

"Sometime next week a collection will be taken for the Council of Social Agencies," Mr. Harris stated yesterday.

The money is used to support the charitable enterprises in Fort Wayne, instead of having each one make a separate collection. The pupils and teachers are urged to give as much as possible.

Last year the contribution from the pupils amounted to $85 while the teachers gave $326, or an average of $7.09 each.

FACULTY ADVISORS SELECTED BY JUNIORS

Miss Burns and Mr. Schmalzrieder were selected to act as faculty advisors for the junior class during the coming year. These teachers were chosen by the class officers at a meeting in Mr. Harris' office last Wednesday afternoon.

Those who attended the meeting were Mr. Harris, Richard Wiener, James Wilson, Pauline Baumgartner, Cornelia Bade, Chester Plasket and Jack Clayton.

May Be More Seniors.

So far no other seniors have been added to the present senior list. Lawrence Siegel, Raymond Warnick, Maurice Wolf, Joseph Clausen, Elizabeth Clauer, William Katz, Clifford Mann and Leslie Swank may be added to the list. Mr. Harris has not yet looked up their credits.

Star In Minstrel.

Miss Haddell and Miss Wear played the part of end men in the minstrel given by the Mizpah Shrine on October 22, 23 and 24. This act was specially honored by being chosen to represent Fort Wayne Mizpahs at Logansport on October 28.

TOTEM CAMPAIGN WILL COMMENCE
MONDAY MORNING

Goal For Sales Has Been Set at One Thousand; Co-operation Of School Is Needed, Manager Says.

MARY MONROE APPOINTS FIRST PERIOD AGENTS

Receipt Books Can Be Obtained In Room 20; Subscribers Are Urged To Pay Promptly.

The goal in the 1925 Totem circulation campaign, which opens next Monday, is one thousand subscriptions. There are one thousand one hundred and seventy-nine students enrolled in South Side high school and several hundred more freshmen will come in February. If one hundred outside subscriptions are obtained, nine hundred will have to be secured among South Side students and teachers. Although there are, in a number of cases, two or more pupils from one family, the quota can be attained if every South Sider does his or her part in helping to put over a bigger and better Totem, Mary Monroe, circulation manager, stated.

The class of '25 is hoping and are working for a Totem that will surpass any previous year book put out by any high school of the same size. This can be done if the class and Totem staff is backed by the entire school. Under those conditions only, can such a feat be accomplished. In backing the class and the Totem the student body is backing South Side high school, for the class of '25 and the annual are very much a part of the school.

The circulation campaign will be conducted through the first hour classes. It is very desirable that the full amount be paid at once so that the campaign will not drag out. Small amounts will be accepted as signs of good faith. All pupils should sign up immediately though only a small payment is made the first time. Sufficient time will be given in which to pay off notes.

Chosen By Large Majority; Winfield Ray Vice-President; Carl Murray, Secretary.

Dale Shimer was elected president of the sophomore class by a large majority over Dean Metzner and Robert Scheuman, last Thursday at the sophomore class meeting.

Winfield Ray became vice-president, defeating William Rastetter, who had just two less votes. Carl Murray was named secretary. His opponents were Gertrude Brouwer and Mattie Cook.

Cecil Parvin, Jack Rodabaugh and Greta Astron, who had 27, 26 and 23 votes, respectively, triumphed over Craig Laubenstein, Florence Phelps and Bernadine Bennett for social council.

Eddie Hiale explained the Totem's system of pictures for this year and urged the sophomores to place their pictures in the book.

Plan to Allow Each Student to Make Own Program in Future

Students Enthusiastic Over Plan Giving Them Choice of Teachers and Hours; Many Are Satisfied With Present Programs But Others Want Afternoons Off, or Other Changes.

Never before has an ingenious method, such as the new one allowing passing students to select their own hours and teachers for the following term, raised so much wholesome comment throughout the school. Students plan with eagerness the hours and teachers they would like to select for next term.

No one seems to feel indifferent to this opportune privilege. Students, of course, will be more satisfied if this policy can be carried out successfully, and when students are satisfied with their curriculum, better school work results.

Helen Clapesattle, our Latin prodigy, summing up her opinion in a precise statement says: "It will only take a short time to make out my program because at present in three of my classes I have the only teachers teaching those subjects and my hours fit in so satisfactorily that I believe, if possible, I will simply duplicate this year's program."

"As my program is now, I have three studies in the morning," declares Hilma Hixon, another Latin worshiper. "I can work much better in the morning, and so I will not alter my program if it is possible to keep it as it is."

Emily Waters, whose program runs almost the same as Hilma Hixon's, believes she will not change hers. "I am very well satisfied with my program as it is now," she says. "I have nearly all my studies in the morning. The rest of the day I do not need worry about them and can start studying my lessons for the next day."

"If we are allowed the privilege of choosing our own hours and teachers for next term," Lucille Grosvenor said enthusiastically, "I believe I know how I shall select mine. There are especially two periods I would like for study: the period after I have lunch and the eighth period. I find it difficult to devote my entire attention to a recitation after eating, and so I would rather have that period for study. If I have a class the eighth, I also cannot grasp the lesson as easily as during some other period; whereas if I have that period for study my home work is not so heavy. I would like to have the same teachers that I have now; I prefer them because I am acquainted with their methods of teaching."

Vera Young, however, is in a different situation from all those who have been interviewed before. "I would desire all my classes in the morning, if I could arrange them so. I must, however, change all my subjects because I will be an 11-B in February," she said. "That means that I will have new teachers to select for every subject. If I can not have all my classes in the morning, then I would prefer to have my lunch periods the fifth and sixth. If I can, though, I prefer to have all my classes in the morning and that would leave the afternoon free."

"Since I will graduate in June," Ruth Mae Dawkins states, "my selection of subjects for next term must necessarily be the continuation of this semester's work. The hours I have, however, are very satisfactory and I trust that I may select the same one again. As for the teachers, I wish—well, that doesn't particularly matter. I hope, however, that I may have the same hours and teachers because then there will be less of a break in work in February."

SELL IT!

How many things do you have lying about your house that you no longer want, but hate to throw away? How many South Siders would gladly buy them if they only knew where they could be gotten? There is a ready market in any school for used typewriters, books, bicycles, fountain pens, sweaters, and roller skates.

A new want ad service is being offered by the TIMES. The rates are only one cent a word, payable in advance. The want ads will be placed by themselves and will be classified, if a great number are received. Ads should be made brief, but descriptive.

Now that the elections are over, nothing more will mar our quietude until Thanksgiving comes.

"If you want a thing well done, do it yourself." The foregoing is especially true in getting your lessons.

When you make out your own program November 17 you can be glad once more you are going to South Side.

Try to spend at least one period during Book Week in our own South Side library. It is beautiful and complete and is directed by a gracious librarian.

You can fool some of the teachers all of the time. You can fool all of the teachers some of the time. But, you can't fool all of the teachers all of the time.

Maybe there are only fifty-three more days in which to do your Christmas shopping, but what is more important to everyone right now is the fact that there are only six more school days in which to bring your work up to the high point.

The co-operation of the seniors and juniors in having their pictures taken for the Totem has been admirable. Only a very few have not at the present made their pilgrimage to the studio. The sophomores and freshmen have their turn the next two weeks. To equal the record of the upper classmen, they'll have to "go some."

What—Football game, South Side vs. Tech of Indianapolis.
When—Friday, November 7th.
Where—Stadium.

Everyone should turn out for this game with colors flying and a bucket full of hope. Remember, that this is next to the last football game of the season and every loyal student should want to see his team in action.

Pupils can now appreciate the amount of work necessary to make out the programs for the student body each semester. This term each pupil passing in all subjects will be permitted to make his own selection of teachers and periods. Last term thousands of details were taken care of by the office. This year, with the proper consideration, the student will take care of many of these problems himself and will realize how unreasonable it is to ask the office to go to countless work to change programs. Besides relieving the office of much work, this plan should tend to develop the student and make him realize the burden of work the office has.

About eighty-four cents is the value of the human body from the neck down according to Dr. Charles H. Mayo, president of American College of Surgeons. During the war the body was worth about ninety-eight cents. Dr. Mayo says that if an attempt were made to compute the commercial value of the ingredients of the body, we would find enough potassium for a single shot of a toy pistol, the product value of several bars of soap, iron enough for an eight-penny nail, enough sulphur to keep the fleas off a dog, enough lime to whitewash a chicken coop, enough magnesia for one dose for a person with sour stomach, and enough phosphorus to cover 2,200 matches.

Aside from the importance and value of that part of the body which is above the neck and what is in it, we are almost a worthless bunch of mortals. The value of the food we put in our body and of the clothes we drape on it greatly exceeds the value of the body itself.

Moral: Remember you're worth only eighty-four cents. Don't overestimate yourself.

The Pedagogue---An Unheralded Victor!

How small and insignificant the rewards of a teacher seen at present! Yet, how great is their satisfaction when in the future they see their students come to the front and make good! It is not a brilliant recitation or a high test grade that gives him satisfaction, but the sure proof that he has put his ideas across which can be seen only in the success of the student in later life. Every classroom has its dull days when students are hopelessly unprepared, when discussion is lagging, and when even interest is entirely lacking. It is then that a teacher feels discouraged and, without the essential quality of perseverance, would doubtlessly feel like giving up. His true reward lies not in the classroom of the present, but in the success of his students in the future.

A Mite of Verse

SHADOWS.

She sat behind the window all day long
Receiving bills and handing back the change,
Apparently intent upon the task—
Unerring, rapid, smiling out the thanks,
Which custom has decreed cashiers must speak.
The firm had long ago accepted her
As one whose heart and mind alike returned Complete devotion for her weekly check.

How should it know what romance filled her heart
And overflowed into her ready brain?
How over land and sea she drifted far
Pursuing phantoms gleaming like the stars,
As unattainable and yet as dear?
How should it know that it was but a shade
Intruding on reality's domain?

Read A Bit

Libraries were ancient factors in man's development.

November 9 to 16 is Children's Book Week—nationally celebrated. This week is set aside annually to get people interested in books and reading.

Did you know that classified libraries existed as early as 625 B. C. in Nineveh? Egypt too, had its libraries, the one at Thebes being called the "Dispensary of the Mind." The first of the Ptolemies collected the turn libraries at Alexandria containing 700,000 volumes, carefully arranged and catalogued. These were burned when Julius Caesar set fire to the shipping in the harbor. The great library of Pergamum in Asia Minor, which Plutarch said contained 200,000 volumes, was ultimately sent to Alexandria as a gift to Cleopatra from Antony. The Greeks had two of the greatest of the ancient libraries of the world. Though Rome was slow to develop an interest in literature and her first libraries were those which she took as spoils of war, its library facilities by Imperial times were far ahead of those of Europe before the middle of the eighteenth century.

In 336 A. D. Constantine the Great founded a library at Constantinople which grew until it contained 200,000 volumes, among the more valuable manuscripts being the manuscript of Homer written in letters of gold on serpent's skin which measured 120 feet in length. Among present day libraries the Bibliotheque Nationale at Paris, with its more than 5,000,000 printed books, outranks all others. The British Museum library claims second honors for size and an even score with its rival on the value of its contents. The Library of Congress at Washington, with its more than 3,000,000 volumes, stands third upon the list of the world's greatest libraries.

A library is a starting point—a gateway to the whole world. Are you making the best use of it?

Among the many interesting books on the shelves of the library is that entitled "The Virginian," by Owen Wester. It is the story of a cowboy and a school teacher. This book is of equal interest to boys and girls alike. "The Virginian" is now playing at the Rialto this week.

in Other Schools

The orchestra of the Stadium high school, of Tacoma, Washington, consists of twenty-four boys and fourteen girls. Saxophones are quite numerous.

The Brown and White from Greensburg high school gives the Times this compliment: "A paper to be proud of. It shows a hundred per cent school spirit. Your local color is exceptionally good."

Fourteen rooms of the Newton high school, Newtonville, Massachusetts, now are one hundred per cent for their school paper, the Newtonite. This shows good school spirit.

The dedication of the new high school auditorium at Kalamazoo, Michigan, was observed October 13 to 16. This auditorium is the second largest in Michigan, seating approximately 2,700 persons.

All the history students of the Champaign high school, Champaign, Illinois, have subscribed for some current event magazine. There is a special day every week for current event topics taken from these magazines. This helps the students to keep in touch with the happenings of everyday events.

In the South High Beacon, of Cleveland, Ohio, there is a column called "Wanted to Know." The pupils can find out many things through this column.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room 5.

To the Editor:

Last week's issue furnished an interesting article. Stuck way up in the corner of page three, in fine type, was the announcement there might be no Junior Prom this year because there was a growing rumor that many of the juniors did not want it.

I have talked to many juniors about it, and I have not discovered one who is not in favor of a prom. I know many persons, who are not even officers, who are filled with many ideas which will make the prom a success, both financially and socially. I am sure that a great majority of the class want the prom. Then why abolish it in favor of a few? We want a vote!

Moreover, last year the "25's" were told that if they did not make the prom successful, the "26's" could not have one. This was one of the incentives that made the prom last year successful; not as successful as we intend to make it, but, at least, they did not go into debt. Then why should we be made to suffer for a mistake that was never made?

Let's hear from other juniors.

MERELY A "26'ER."

[The article referred to was written after over ten juniors, including at least three of the class officers, had been interviewed. Practically all of them were against it. Some said that they would vote for it, but would not attend as they would not enjoy it. They said they would prefer a social affair which all, not just the "society gang," would enjoy.—The Editor.]

Professor: "When you examine a dog's lungs under the microscope, what do you find?"
Student: "The seat of his pants, I suppose."

"Prisoner," said the magistrate, "You have already been sentenced eleven times for vagrancy, violent assault, embezzlement, theft, etc."
"Would you mind not speaking so loud, your Worship?" was the reply. "My intended father-in-law is in court, and might damage my prospects."

Teacher: "Now, Johnnie, what does C-A-T spell?"
Johnnie: "Don't know, sir."

Teacher: "Now, Johnnie, what does your mother keep to catch mice?"

Johnnie: "Trap, sir."

Teacher: "No! No! what animal is very fond of milk?"

Johnnie: "The baby, sir."

Teacher: "You stupid, what scratched your sister's face?"

Johnnie: "A pin, sir."

Teacher: "No! See that animal on the fence?"

Johnnie: "Yes, sir."

Teacher: "Well, what does C-A-T spell?"

Johnnie: "Kitten, sir."

Teacher: "Sit down!"

The new teacher was hearing the history lesson, which dealt with the career of George Washington. Turning to one of the scholars, she said:
"James, what was Washington's 'Farewell Address'?"
"Heaven, Ma'am," was the lad's confident reply.

Mother (sharply): "James, did you break that vase?"
James (who had read the cherry tree story): "Mother I cannot tell a lie. I chased the cat and she did it with her little scratchet."

It's A Hard Life.

Student (reading): "They hanged her in China."

Teacher: "Shanghai?"

Student: "Not very."

Small Boy (waiting with others to be served): "Say, mister, hurry up and 'tend to me; my father's waitin' for his breakfast."

Grocer: "All right, sonny; what is it you want?"

Small Boy: "A broom and a bar of soap."

"Indade!" said Pat. "O've often heard of the Board of Health, but, bejabbers, it's the first time O've seen it!"

Nth Foolish Question.

Bella: "Did you graduate from high school?"

Donna: "Yes."

Bella: "What class?"

Donna: "Senior, of course, you dumbell."

Miss Miller: "If George Washington came back to life what would he do first, do you suppose?"
Dale Shimer: "Get a pair of long pants."

Father (glancing at son's report card): "My son, do you know that when George Washington was your age he was at the top of his class?"
Son: "Yes, but I have my history correct and when he was your age he was president of the United States."

MISS REHORST TELLS OF TRAVELS ABROAD

Interesting Sideights Thrown On Scenes and Customs in Paris and French Countryside.

"Paris and France as I saw them last summer," was the topic of Miss Rehorst's address at the Philanthropic Literary society on Monday in Room 12.

Miss Rehorst illustrated her talk by showing many interesting snapshots which she took on the trip. Among the snapshots was a picture of the summer house of Marie Antoinette and a picture of the cathedral in which the trial of Joan of Arc was held. There was also a picture of the prison in which Joan of Arc was held.

It was announced that $6.15 was made at the candy sale. The programs for the year, which were carried out in the shape of the club pins, were distributed.

Miss Rehorst not only told of Paris but of many other things of interest. About the baggage men, Miss Rehorst stated, "They must be the best tipped people in the world."

At Caen, a city in northern France, Miss Rehorst visited the Cathedral of William the Conqueror and the Cathedral of Mortain. "Both of the cathedrals are in very good repair."

Her best meal which was had at Honfleur, consisted of "a meat something like our head cheese. The next course was rabbit, followed by another meat dish with string beans. Then we had a salad which was served at almost every meal. For dessert a fancy basket of strawberries was carried in and served with slightly soured cream."

In Honfleur there were religious rites and "I saw some real monks, bare footed and sandled."

"The peasants come to market with their vegetables in a hand basket or one fastened around the neck. They barter their supplies at market. The more progressive peasants have carts. They wear little white caps on their heads and black dresses and wooden shoes."

"Deauville is the famous resort for the real people of Paris, as Atlantic City is the resort for the society people of New York. There are many pretty bath houses there, not plain cement but decorated. This is just a little proof that the French people take time for beauty. There are few true French people in Paris in the summer. They all go to this resort."

In Rouen Miss Rehorst and her party visited the cathedral in which Joan of Arc had her trial, and the prison in which she was kept is still standing. While at Rouen they attended a movie. In the entire theater there were only eighteen people! The show lasted until after midnight with several intermissions "when the people would promenade or drink wine and then return to the show."

"Paris is beautiful, exciting, fascinating. When you leave you long to return. It seems to be calling to you. There are seemingly no traffic regulations. Taxis dart every which way and it is most difficult problem to cross the street. The fare for a taxi is very low, sometimes only ten or fifteen cents for quite a distance."

"The French people know how to take their time. They are a most leisurely sort of people, lingering over their coffee and chatting for two or three hours in the evening."

"The French women have their dresses made. They don't buy them in stores." While in Paris Miss Rehorst bought several dresses. The models were sent out. Then an order was taken for the style dress she wanted which was made to order.

Miss Rehorst studied French at Besancon where no English at all is spoken. She did not know this when she signed for the course and had rather a difficult time at first. At this school they were given exceptional liberties as they were foreign students. Miss Rehorst was invited to a commencement exercise which was very different from ours. "The platform was full of notables, professors and military men." The university professors wore various colored costumes, blue, orange, green, and so on to indicate the department in which they taught. The prizes that were given to the students were books.

They visited a military school and Miss Rehorst said that "the quarters were miserably dirty." Five legions were given rank at the assembly. They seemed to be knighted on each shoulder and then kissed on each cheek. In France the departing salutation is a kiss on each cheek.

Of Switzerland Miss Rehorst said, "No words of mine can express the beauty and wonder of it all. The mountains were such a wonderful inspiration I want to go again and live in the mountains for a month or more."

At the next meeting of the Philanthropians, November 10, the roll call will be answered with a quotation from Shelly, Keats, or Wordsworth.

NO PLANS FOR FORUM MEETINGS MADE SO FAR

"No Forum plans have been made yet, as the weather has been so pleasant that it would be difficult to get the girls and boys together," stated Mr. Brunson of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A., when asked when the Sunday afternoon Forum would begin this year.

Mr. Brunson said there would be at least four or five meetings before Christmas and several after.

The Forums are held every Sunday in the boys' lobby of the Y. M. C. A. Many interesting topics are discussed by the South Side and Central students who attend.

Society

The Girl Scouts, Troop 1, enjoyed a Halloween party Saturday evening in Lindemuth's garage. The decorations were in keeping with the season, Jack o' Lanterns and black cats, ghosts, and weird noises greeted the girls. After a while they had a guessing contest. The costumes were judged by Captain Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. Newell and Mrs. Lindemuth. Betty Ward had the best costume, a Queen Elizabeth costume. The evening was spent in going through the Jack o' Lantern tomb, having a windmill contest and dancing. Refreshments were served later in the evening. Hester Meek won the prize for having the most points for all the games. Those who enjoyed this were: Captain (Miss) Crane, Betty Newell, Betty Ward, Louise Tenensburg, Maxine Rahe, Alice Elda, Virginia Hackney, Hester Muk, Hazel Rabie, Laura Heaton, Mildred Burt, Virginia Mills, Marciel Baals, Ruth Stroebel, Louise Fredrick, Dorothy Emrich, Helen Hilgemann, Betty Hackney, Frances Gerard, Ruth Egan, Ann Barrett, Frances Fitch, Wanda Hall, Dorothy Smith, Mary Frances Goodrich and Lura Louise Rohrer.

The members of the West Creighton Avenue Christian Endeavor society participated in a Halloween party Friday night at the church. The decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season and games were enjoyed throughout the evening. Everyone had a delightful time.

Bob Miles, Howard McCurdy, Eddie Clapham, and Eddie Hulse motored to Kendallville Saturday to attend the football game.

Mary Hale entertained a number of her friends at her home Saturday evening. Prizes in hearts were won by Marguerite Rahe and Mervyn Welch. Refreshments were served at a late hour to Bonnie Fries, Mervyn Welch, Marguerite Schwiier, Margaret Mail, and and Marguerite Rahe.

Helen Sellers entertained with a Halloween party Friday evening. A two-course luncheon was served to the following at a late hour: Marjorie Homsher, Mildred Grosvenor, Mary and Martha Sherman, Betty Rider, De Neal Pfeiffer and David and Duncan White, Walter Adams, King Sherman, and John Simmers.

Mervyn Welch entertained a number of her friends at her home Wednesday evening, with a Halloween party. Five hundred was enjoyed during the evening, prizes being won by Virginia Trier, Marguerite Schwiier, Walter Hallstein and Carl Murray. A delicious two-course luncheon was served to the following: Virginia Trier, Bonnie Fries, Mary Hale, Margaret McClintic, Marguerite Schwiier, and James Rosenberger, Dick Zurmuehlen, Dick Welch, Oscar Zeissig, Carl Murray and Walter Hallstein.

New Maps Come.

Three new sets of American history maps, published by the Denoyer-Gepert company, of Chicago, have been placed in the following rooms: Miss Harvey's, Room 20, Miss Miller's, Room 8, and Mr. Schmalzried's, Room 52.

Gets Totem.

Glenn Hadley, a pupil who went from South Side to Louisville, Kentucky, is enjoying a Totem which he ordered for his birthday, October 21. He writes that he takes great pleasure in showing the picture of South Side to his new friends.

Evansville Student Here.

Kathryn Hodgson entered Miss Mott's 9-B sewing class last week. Kathryn came from the Benjamin Bosse high school at Evansville, and there she had Miss Mott's niece, Miss Elsie Mott, as gym teacher.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS ENJOY HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Delightful Frolic Is Held In Room
38 For South Side's Journalists.

Many mysterious looking creatures were seen entering Room 38 on Halloween. When unmasked they proved to be the members of the journalism classes and Times staff.

The room was decorated in orange and black paper, and corn stalks and pumpkins were placed in the corners. At first every one had his fortune told by a gypsy and then the game o. pumpkin was played. Other forms of amusements were ducking for apples, charades, Virginia Reel and dancing. Olive Prince won a prize for having the prettiest costume, and Helen Foellinger for being the most cleverly disguised. Other prizes were won by Mary Falk, Maynard Patterson and Bernadene Bennett.

The guests then marched to Room 20, where they enjoyed a delightful lunch.

MRS. THOMPSON SELECTED AS ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN

Succeeds Miss Waterfield, Who Resigned After Marriage; Was Substitute at Main Library.

Mrs. Tourist Thompson started her work as assistant librarian of the South Side high school library this morning. She had been a substitute in the main library prior to her coming here.

The position was left vacant by the wedding of Miss Waterfield to Mr. Shause. The event took place three weeks ago in Covington, Kentucky. Mrs. Shause will reside in Belfast, Ohio.

Miss Price, of the children's department of the main library, assisted Miss Schulte during the time intervening between the departure of Miss Waterfield, last week, and the arrival of Mrs. Thompson.

DEBATING SQUAD DECIDES TO CHANGE MEETING TIME

Interference Between Debating and Other School Activities Cause of Change to Wednesday.

At Monday's debate meeting, it was voted to change the regular meeting day from Monday to Wednesday. Due to the fact that Monday is the busy day for the Times staff, and that a majority of members of the debating squad are also workers on the Times, Wednesday was selected. The time for our debates has been officially decided as December 12 and 19, Mr. Makey stated this week.

BROADWAY THEATRE HAS BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Presents Many Special Musical Attractions; Covered Wagon and America to Be Shown Soon

The Broadway theatre opened its first anniversary celebration November 5, to last until next Sunday. Special features will be shown in addition to the regular screen attractions.

The management of the theatre is composed of H. L. Mollet, president; J. P. Mollet, manager, and R. H. Mollet, secretary and treasurer.

The policy of the theatre is to obtain all the best pictures they can. It has just closed a contract with Paramount for their entire product including "The Covered Wagon" and the second run on "America," one of the biggest pictures of the season.

The seating capacity of the theatre is 600 persons. The seats are placed in a semi-circle, which is a new way of seating. The floor is inclined toward the stage, which makes the seats very comfortable.

The organ is a combination of an organ and a player piano and is called the American Photo-player. It is built especially for pictures, as it is equal to a five-piece orchestra.

At the anniversary celebration souvenirs were given to everyone who attended the show. Roses were given to the adults, and Nursery Rhyme balloons to the children.

AT THE RIALTO.

Audiences at the Rialto Theatre last week, when the opening chapter of the Pathe police serial, "Into the Net," featuring Edna Murphy and Jack Mulhall, was shown, discovered that when a police chief turns author he can write a real story of thrills, adventure, mystery and romance. Richard E. Enright, commissioner of police of New York City, wrote "Into the Net," chapter two or which is showing today and tomorrow and Saturday at the Rialto. This episode shows Bob Clayton, hero of the story and brother of the girl kidnapped in the first chapter, with the over-eagerness characteristic of the amateur detective, rushing headlong into danger and getting himself into a tight situation. As for Natalie Van Cleef, the role portrayed by Edna Murphy, it is feared by Clayton, who fell in love with her at first meeting, that she is slated to be the twentieth victim of the kidnappers, as she has been invited to the opera by Dr. Vining.

Wandering Husbands

Has the woman the right to spy on her husband? Is it ethical for her to hire a detective to watch him if she thinks he is "wandering"? Or should she disdain to do such things, deeming it unworthy? This is the problem in "Wandering Husbands." Her husband has been philandering, but for the sake of their child and because he promised to reform, she forgave him. In spite of his assertions to the contrary, she knows that he is not keeping his promise. She is not a spying, suspicious woman, but because she believes that Aosemary's love for her father should not be destroyed, she engages a detective to watch her husband and see that he is worthy of his child's love. His reports are not very gratifying to Diana, but she has brains and uses them to preserve her home. James Kirkwood and Lila Lee have the principal parts. C. Gardner Sullivan wrote the story of "Wandering Husbands" which comes to the Rialto Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Admitted to Orchestra

Art Birely, '24, has obtained admission to the Purdue university band as clarinetist. He was known to South Siders as one of Mr. Schafer's most valuable players. He is taking an electrical engineering course and has this to say about it: "It's a wonderful course if you don't weaken."

Takes Extension Work

Mr. Murphy's history class had a discussion on Japan, the League of Nations and the World Court.

MARINE BAND WILL PLAY IN GYM THIS AFTERNOON

Will Be for Public School Children Only; Evening Program to Be Given for Adults

The United States Marine band, which will give a program in the gymnasium this afternoon at 3 o'clock for school students, affords an opportunity of a lifetime. South Side and Central students and also those of the grades of the various city schools will attend. Four hundred tickets were sold at twenty-five cents at South Side. The evening performance, costing a dollar, will probably produce an immense audience of adults.

Each year interested senators secure permission to have the band play in their states. This season Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan are the fortunate ones. Such famous musicians as Captain Santelman, director; Taylor Branco, second leader; Arthur Whitcomb, cornetist and Robert Clark, trombonist will appear.

Night School Started.

At Augusta, Kansas, the high school started a night school, in which students may take chemistry, sewing and millinery. In these classes a small entrance fee is charged.

Employment Agent Speaks

Mr. Morris enjoyed the meeting of the commercial department which was addressed by the employment agent from Ayres' store.

With The Classes

The string quartet composed of Herbert Shive, Jack Teeters, Frederick Pierce and Mr. Schafer are rehearsing each week and will soon be heard on a program.

Last year at the opening of the McCullough school the audience was so favorably impressed by the music given by the South Side orchestra that it has been honored by being asked to play for the art exhibition to be given November 20 at that school.

Ralph Welch has charge of the drilling of the band. At the Central-South Side game the band will play several new numbers which they have been working on. At this game the new class uniforms of the band will be worn for the first time. They are white suits trimmed elaborately with green. The caps match the suits.

A large filing cabinet for the drawing department has been completed. It will be used for storing drawings made by the mechanical drawing classes.

Mr. Arnold's classes have never before done as good work as they are doing now, he says. It gives him great pleasure to notice this.

Repair work which was done for the sewing department on ironing boards and table shelves was done by the 9B woodworking classes of Mr. Arnold instead of by Mr. Chappell's. Mr. Chappell is making the shelves for the dictionaries which will be placed in each English class room shortly.

Miss Rupert, of Huntington, visited the eighth period 9-B grammar class. Miss Rupert teaches all the English classes in the Huntington high school.

The all day session of the Latin teachers at the Manual Training high school, Indianapolis, on Thursday during the teachers' convention was interesting. The high school girls accommodated the teachers by serving a delicious three-course luncheon at noon.

Discuss Japan

Mr. Murphy is enrolled in the I. U. Extension class in education—educational measurements.

Go in Ford

Mr. Murphy, Mr. Makey, Mr. Virts and Mr. Suter of Central went to the Indianapolis State Teachers' association in a Ford piloted by Mr. Makey. "It went; it stayed its time; it came back," says Mr. Murphy.

THREE HUNDRED PICTURES TAKEN FOR 1925 TOTEM

Most of Seniors and Many Juniors and Sophomores Have Made Trip to the Photographer

ORGANIZATION GROUPS WILL BE TAKEN SOON

Football Pictures Almost Completed; Some Action Views of Games Turn Out Distinct

Over three hundred pictures for the 1925 Totem have been taken during the last two weeks at the Jefferson studio. About one hundred of these are seniors and the rest are divided equally between the juniors and seniors. Very few freshmen pictures have been taken as the first year class has not yet organized.

Lists of the members in the different classes have just been completed and have been turned over to the class editors who will see each person individually to arrange a time for having his picture taken. An effort will be made to have all of the pictures taken by the beginning of December as the studio doing the work for the Totem will be so rushed with their Christmas work that they will not have time for further high school work until after the holidays.

All of the senior and junior panels will be sent to the engravers before Christmas. Those who have had their pictures taken will be included in these panels in alphabetical order. Those who have procrastinated will have their pictures put in the book at the end of the section. The pictures will be rushed to the engravers as fast as possible so that the staff can get a discount of over twenty-five per cent in the engraving. The money thus saved will be used for snapshot pages.

Students who have not had their pictures taken are asked to see Miss Harvey immediately or their class editor. The editors are Rose Joseph, senior; Dorothy Somers, junior; Clement Gasser, sophomore, and Marguerite Lucke, freshman.

The pictures of the organizations will be taken within the next two weeks as soon as the organizations editors, Thelma Gasser and Thelma Birely, have made the necessary arrangements.

Snapshots are coming in slowly as the six pupils trying out for snapshot editors have not done much work.

The football pictures have been practically completed, though a few more individual and some action pictures of the games will be taken. The athletic section will be worked out differently from last year's section.

The subscription campaign will begin next Monday after a temporary suspension this week due to the conflict with the numerous other activities. A meeting of the agents will be held Friday night in room 20.

Several positions are open on the staff and applications for these, and further tryouts for some of the positions filled, will be accepted.

THREE HUNDRED FORTY PENNIES ARE COLLECTED

About $3.40 has been turned in from pupils who forgot locker keys this year by Miss McCloskey, Miss Kinehart and Mr. Greely.

The lost locker keys turned into the office are Nos. 64, 66, 74, 217, 277, 281, 296, 308, 324, 335, 366, 373, 481, 488, 494, 503, 529, 840, 900, 961, 1120, 1169, 1338, 1360, 1438, 1447, 1523 and 1707.

STUDENTS ALLOWED FREE USE OF BEARD'S HISTORY

Students of 10-B United States history are allowed the use of Beard's history free of charge. In other words, it is used during the term as one would use a library book. The student must take care not to mutilate or destroy the book. In case of mutilation or destruction, the student will be charged $1.50 for its replacement. Ordinary wear and tear on the book by proper usage is expected.

Major Staff That Will Direct Editing and Financing Totem

Front row—Noble Miller, advertising; Richard Porterfield, advertising; Harold Bridge, business manager; Charles Tribolet, editor-in-chief.

The selection of the major staff of the 1925 Totem has been completed and the plans for publishing the book will soon be worked out.

Three girls and four boys constitute the major staff. Mary Monroe will be put in charge of the circulation campaign that will get under way next week.

Thelma Birely has begun work on the art which will carry out the historical idea chosen for this year's book. Esther Hafert will work on advertising. Others on the advertising staff are Noble Miller and Richard Porterfield. The naming of one of these three as advertising manager and the other two as assistants will not be made until February.

Harold Bridge has been appointed business manager and Charles Tribolet was made editor-in-chief last spring.

BAND WILL WEAR NEW UNIFORMS AT CARNIVAL

Presentations Planned by Band, Orchestra, Glee Clubs and Girls' Quartette.

The band will make its first appearance in its new uniforms on Friday evening when it will play at the Father and Son banquet at Franklin school. It then will return to South Side to play at the Senior Carnival.

Ralph Welch, the new drum major, will make his first appearance Friday and will demonstrate his power with the baton which was especially made for him by the manual training department.

Members of Band
The members of the band and instruments they play are as follows: Trombone—Maynard Patterson, Noble Miller, Ralph Frank, Jack Rodabaugh, Winfield Ray, and Ivan Osterman; cornets—Allen Mason, Ralph Welch, LaVerne Seigel, Richard Jeffries, Joe Matlock, Orien Patch, Sam Foy, Junior Groth and Maurice Felger; baritone—Eugene Mitten and Gerald Botterman; tuba—Ronald Smith; clarinets—Stanton Tucker, Maurice Crosby, Charles Rice and Judson West; saxophone—Carl Speckman, Paul Berlien, Kenneth Meyer, Herbert Snyder, Gerald Ammerman, Harold Bridge, Joe Little; drums—Robert Nosselt and Robert Schumann.

Orchestra to Play
The orchestra is scheduled to play at the McCulloch school on November 20 for the open night at that school, and will present the "Three Springs" cantata in the session room on November 21, along with the Girls' Glee club and other organizations.

A girls' quartette has been formed and is composed of the following members: Thelma Birely, Ruth Wehmhoff, Marjorie Matlack and Dorothy Kohlmeier. They will make their first appearance at the Senior Carnival tomorrow night.

MANY FRESHMEN TO ENROLL IN FEBRUARY

About one hundred and seventy freshmen are expected to enroll at South Side in February. Approximately seventy will come from the South Side grade school, sixty from the James Smart school and forty from the Hoagland school.

FATHER-SON WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED

PUPILS WILL ARRANGE OWN SPRING PROGRAMS

Only Those Receiving Passing Grades Monday in All Subjects Get This Privilege

Class programs for next semester will be made Monday by pupils in all the subjects which they are carrying this term. The schedule of classes is printed on page eight of this issue of the Times.

The programs will be made out on the back of the grade cards which the pupils will get Monday. The pupils are expected to carry these home and plan their work for the spring under the supervision of their parents. The cards, completely filled out, are required to be handed in Tuesday morning to the first hour teachers.

Only two classes, in the large number scheduled, had to be changed to avoid conflict. Latin 8 was changed from the first to the fifth period and one class of Latin 3 has been changed from the seventh to the fifth period.

English leads in the number of classes, there being a total of forty-two. The other departments and their number of classes follow in order: Language, thirty-five; mathematics, thirty; history, twenty-three; Science, twenty-two; commercial, fourteen; manual training, eleven; domestic science, ten; art, three; music, six, and journalism, three.

SOUTH SIDE BOYS ASKED TO JOIN Y. M. GLEE CLUB

At the present time twenty boys, two of them South Siders, have enrolled in the Y. M. C. A. Glee club which was recently organized by Mr. Wiener, of the Y. The boys from South Side are Edward Hulse and Bob Miles. Mr. Wiener says that there are still places open for first tenors and would like to have South Siders try out.

The club practices every Wednesday and is now occupying invitations to sing at the churches almost every Sunday. It has had a request to sing at Paulding, Ohio, and will help entertain at the older boys' conference at Peru November 29, 30 and 31.

Substitute Pleases
Miss Demaree and some of her friends arrived after the meeting had begun to hear Mr. Caldwell talk at the State Teachers' convention. After the talk she was asked how she liked the address. "Very much. I always wished to hear Mr. Caldwell speak," replied Miss Demaree. The speaker proved to be a substitute for Mr. Caldwell, who was unable to be present.

SENIOR CARNIVAL OPENS DOORS TO PUBLIC ON FRIDAY

Acts by Times Staff and Dance By Vesta Johnson and Thelma Birely in Main Shows.

COMMITTEE SELECTS
VARIOUS SIDE SHOWS

Music for Dancing in Cafeteria To Be Furnished by MacDonald's Trio.

The Senior Carnival will open promptly at 7:30 Friday evening with the main performance in the gym, the side shows in various rooms and dancing in the cafeteria. There will also be booths in the halls, at which a person can satisfy the desires for candy and ice cream.

"The main show will consist of an act by the Times staff, a dance by Vesta Johnson and Thelma Birely, some tumbling by a couple of clowns, and some selections by the girls' quartette. The South Side band will furnish music." This was the announcement made by Edward Hulse, who, together with Robert Miles, constitutes the main show committee. Admission to this performance can be gained by a Senior Carnival ticket.

Dozen Side Shows

The side show committee, consisting of Robert Hanna and Tom Shulze, have about a dozen side shows under consideration and will make their final selection from these. Miss Pittenger says: "It doesn't matter much of the twelve they choose, they are all fine." These will be held in different class rooms and admission to them will be in addition to the cost of the ticket.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by the MacDonald Trio. There will also be an extra admission for this feature of the carnival.

Tickets on Sale

"Tickets have been on sale all this week and the number of persons wearing Senior Carnival tags is growing rapidly," states Ward Dilline, in charge of the sale of tickets. These can be obtained from Edward Hulse, Ward Dilline, Tom Shulze, Dorothy Cline, Robert Miles and Robert Hanna, the class officers. The price of each ticket is twenty-five cents.

The poster committee, headed by Dorothy Cline, has seen to it that pupils of both South Side and Central are aware of this big event and know that there is fun and eats for all at the Senior Carnival.

The affair this year is a combination of Gym-Jam and Senior Circus. It will be given on November 14, the day before the Central-South Side football game. As everyone will be eager and full of enthusiasm for this big event, the persons in charge of the carnival are expecting a big crowd.

REPORT CARDS TO BE GIVEN OUT ON MONDAY

Grade: To Vary From F to A;
Cards Due at First Period
Classes Tuesday.

The mid-term grades will be given out next Monday, November 17. The cards will be secured in the gym, following out the procedure of other years.

The teachers will put the grades of each of her pupils on the cards during the recitation period. The cards are to be taken home and elections of subjects and program for next term can be made on the back of the cards. The value of the letters used in grading is as follows: A is 95; A- is 90; B is 88 or 89; B+ is 85; B- is 80; C+ is 78 or 79; C is 75; C- is 70; D is 60; and F which means failure, is a grade below 60.

If everyone turns his card into his first period class on Tuesday filled out correctly, the honor roll will be ready for the November 20 issue of the Times.

GIRL RESERVE CLUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING

So-Si-Y Members Present World Fellowship Pageant; Candy Sale Held November 6

The So-Si-Y and Friendship club united in holding a "World Fellowship" meeting in the club rooms of the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday. The So-Si-Y had charge of the program.

The main feature of the program was a "World Fellowship" pageant given by various members of the So-Si-Y.

Participate in Pageant
Those who participated in the play and the people they represented are as follows: Thelma Gasser, Columbia; Mary Monroe, American Indian; Betty Newell, Indian; Florence Hazlett, Japanese; Evelyn Miller, Chinese; Betty Law, Italian; Nona Wilkey, Russian; Vesta Johnston, Japanese; Ruth Watkins, Spanish; Evelyn McGinnely, Spanish; Marjorie Matlack, French; Beatrice Hueganard, French; and Cornelia Bade, Chinese.

Rose Kronmiller was the pianist and Elizabeth Kline the reader.

South Side Victory Saturday Will Cinch Rastetter Trophy

—Courtesy of 1924 Totem.

Rastetter Trophy
South Side will have to defeat Central only once more to gain permanent possession of the Rastetter Football trophy, symbolic of the city public school championship. The team and the fans are determined that the third victory will come Saturday when the Green meets the Blue.

South Side has held the cup for two consecutive years, defeating Central in 1922 and 1923. The names of the two teams have been engraved on the cup. As Central has never won this cup, none but South Side names are on it. The trophy was donated by William C. Rastetter, father of William and Helen Rastetter, students at South Side. His wife is the president of the Parent-Teachers' association. Mr. Rastetter has also furnished a basketball trophy.

"Y" CLUBS TO UNITE IN PRESENTING PLAY

"Nothing But the Truth" to Be Given November 25 at Central Auditorium

"Nothing but the Truth" is the name of a play to be given by the Inter-club Council at the Central high school auditorium, November 25. There will be both matinee and evening performances, starting at 3 o'clock and 7 o'clock.

In addition to this method of getting funds for the organization magazines will also be sold by the council. The pupils have their choice of selling one of the following: "Ladies Home Journal," the "Country Gentleman" and the "Saturday Evening Post."

The following cast for the play has been chosen:

Robert Bennett ..... Harry Chomas
E. M. Ralston ..... Paul Steir
Dick Donnelly ..... Deane Outshall
Clarence Van Dusen ..... Bob Miles
Bishop Doran ..... Eddie Clapham
Gwendolyn Ralston ..... Sarah Miner
Mrs. E. M. Ralston ..... Pearl Koegel
Ethel Clark ..... Margaret Rose
Mable Jackson ..... Dorothy Martin
Sable Jackson ..... Katherine Altet
Martha ..... Elizabeth Suter

SET OPEN HOUSE FOR EIGHTH HOUR CLASSES

Parents Invited to Visit Recitations; Grade School Will Have Same Schedule

Annual Open Night at South Side, part of Educational Week observance, will be held next Thursday evening when the eighth period classes will hold recitations at 7:30 o'clock. Parents of South Side students are invited to come to the school that night and visit any of the classes they wish.

The eighth period recitation will be dropped from the regular curriculum that day. Pupils who do not have class that period are required to go to either Room 8 of the library while the rest of the students are reciting.

Grades Have Same Hour

The South Side grade school will also recite the eighth period. The program for American Educational Week is as follows:
Monday, November 17—Constitutional day.
Tuesday, November 18—Patriotism day.
Wednesday, November 19—School and Teachers' day.
Thursday, November 20—Illiteracy day.
Friday, November 21—Physical Education day.
Saturday, November 22—Community day.
Sunday, November 23—For God and Country day.

South Siders Lead in Junior Hi-Y Attendance

In spite of the fact that the Junior Hi-Y attendance from South Side is said to have fallen off one-fourth in account of the Wednesday evening band practice, South Side's record on the attendance board at the Y. M. C. A. is 103 in comparison to the 85 of Central.

At the last meeting an announcement of the annual father and son banquet was made. This banquet will be held to increase the interest in the national father and son week of November 9 to 15.

Lectures on Advertising

Mr. Murphy gave a short discourse on advertising last week in his first period economics class. He used two copies of the Literary Digest as examples and pointed out the good features of certain instructional advertisements. He then demonstrated a few undesirable qualities and gave the class a good foundation for judging advertising.

TIGERS TO FIGHT WELBORN MEN FOR GRID TITLE

Central and South Side Elevens Primed For All-Important Fray at High School Stadium Saturday.

GREEN CONCEDED EDGE
OVER ANCIENT ENEMY

Records Indicate South Side May Have Margin of Three Touchdowns.

The Tiger of Central will leave his home in the jungles and invade the stadium Saturday afternoon to prey upon the Fightin' Green of South Side. This jungle tyrant, snarling from the catastrophe of last week's defeat by Elkhart and starving for the delights of victory will spring from his lair to match its fighting prowess with the driving, smashing victory hunters of South Side.

This annual football classic is the home coming day for both schools and enthusiasm and rivalry are always in vogue on this occasion. As it is the final game of the season and the game by which either team may regain its good standing after important losses, the players will be in the battle playing all the football they know. Both teams work up and look forward to this game because of keen feeling which dominates the heart of each player: the feeling to compete and excel in a sportsmanlike manner.

Large Crowd Expected

The spacious stadium is predicted to be filled to capacity by the over-enthusiastic students and alumni. This will be the first time a Central-South Side gridiron tilt will have been held in the high school athletic field.

Owing to the fact that it has won in previous years and the splendid condition of most of its players South Side is conceded a slight margin over Central. South Side is heavier and balanced more evenly than the Central outfit. Central has enjoyed only an ordinary season but is primed to do its stuff against the Green and White.

Season's Scores
During this season, South Side has outscored its opponents two to one, while Central has less points than her opponents. Central's record so far this season is:

Central, 18; Columbia, 15.
Central, 18; Bluffton, 11.
Central, 7; Decatur, 13.
Central, 0; Emerson (Gary), 77.
Central, 66; Plymouth, 0.
Central, 13; Portland, 13 (tie).
Central, 0; Elkhart, 64.
Total—Central, 122; opponents, 178.
South Side's record for 1924 follows:

South Side, 68; Auburn, 6.
South Side, 25; Portland, 6.
South Side, 26; Peru, 6.
South Side, 13; Logansport, 7.
South Side, 6; Huntington, 13.
South Side, 19; Wabash, 33.
South Side, 26; Kendallville, 10.
South Side, 19; Tech (Indianapolis), 17.
Total—South Side, 202; opponents, 98.

Both Played Portland

The only games from which dope can be taken are the Central-Portland and the South Side-Portland frays. Central tied with Portland at 13 all. South Side swamped Portland, 25 to 6. According to these figures, South Side should have the advantage by three touchdowns.

However, this is not a big enough margin for a South Side team to tackle a Tiger because the Blue and White is apparently twenty points better against South Side than against any other opponent.

The following men will probably start:

Stiegler ..... LE ..... Brubaker
Jasper ..... LT ..... Schopf
Lange ..... LG ..... P. Rahn
Martin ..... C ..... Martin
Berdleman ..... RG ..... Dehaven
Rodebush ..... RT ..... E. Rahn
Hockmeyer ..... RE ..... Thiele
Paulsen ..... QB ..... Staley, Welsh
Baker ..... LH ..... Currie
Nobles ..... RH ..... Aldrich
Ramsey ..... FB ..... Richendollar

The officials will be: Referee, John Miller (Indiana U.); umpire, Billy Muldoon (Cornell); head linesman, Zeb Carman (Purdue).

South Siders Contradict Opinion Of Artist About American Women

Distinguished Australian Describes American Women as "Painted Dolls"—Judged the "Whole by a Few," States Mary Travis When Asked Her Opinion of His Comment.

"He didn't see South Side high school girls," stated Miss Pittenger, when asked what she thought about the statement made by a distinguished Australian painter in a recent visit to our shores, that American women are "painted dolls."

The students and teachers of South Side are of the opinion that this painter only saw the frivolous women.

Miss Ley said he must have referred to the general type seen on the streets and not to the more serious women of today. "The real American girl thinks too much of her natural beauty to spoil it by covering it up," Miss Ley declared.

"He didn't take women as a whole," is Dorothy Cline's opinion. "In European countries, especially France, the society women are more noted for their extreme vogue than those in America."

Lottie Dignan states: "This is true of a certain type, and anybody not believing me should just take a walk down Calhoun street."

Mary Falk's statement varied from the rest when she said: "The women of America are patriotic and wear their colors."

Mary Travis also is of the opinion that he only saw a certain class. "Of course, there is a certain class who could be considered painted dolls, but this artist should not judge the whole nation by a few."

DROP IT IN!

There are many things that get to the TIMES through the box posted in the entrance to Room S, but many more items could be published if they were but contributed. Good jokes, society items, tips on happenings that are of interest to the school, want ads, suggestions for improving the TIMES, open letters, and such articles, within reason, are always accepted.

Excess seldom leads to success.

We'll see you all at the Senior Carnival to-morrow night.

Let's make tomorrow so Kelly Green that even Dublin would look pale in comparison.

"Veni, vidi, vici". How many will be able to say this about their grades, Monday?

A son always regards his father as hero until he tries to help the boy with his algebra problems.

Some of us seem to think the proposed Child Labor amendment should be made to cover too much home work and collateral reading.

It was only six years ago, at the eleventh hour on the eleventh day of the eleventh month, that the Armistice, ending the great World war, was signed.

The results of Saturday's game are most important to us for several reasons. If we win, we will, of course, acquire the championship of Fort Wayne public high schools; but besides this, we will also gain permanent possession of the Rastetter football trophy and retain our record of no defeats by Central's football team.

To win, the team must have support. We have a good team, a good opponent, a good field good competition in yelling, good everything. Are you going to give the team good support?

Saturday we may play our last football game of the season. Of course, we will mourn the passing of the grid season with its crisp days, spectacular runs, that winning touchdown, the tense moments, and finally that flaut of Green and White after the final gun, whether it spells victory or defeat after we have put our best into it. Also the glorious gridiron hero, helmeted and jersey clad, passes into the background.

But, not long do we grieve. In only a few weeks an equally attractive sport forges into the limelight. The hardwood court game with its clever plays, tricky pass work, speedy dribbling, and keen shots holds you as tense, offers as keen sensations, and binds the student body as closely together. A new hero appears. The net contest and grid fray have long been rivals. We do not attempt to settle an argument of many years by deciding which is the greater, but we must admit they're both mighty fine in their respective seasons.

The Totem campaign is under way. This year's staff has many new features and ideas which will be worked into this year's book. Pictures of both the senior and lower classmen will help make the annual an ideal memory book. Later, what could give you more pleasure than looking at the pictures of the school, class rooms, the good old teams that brought glory to the school in your day, the faculty, the musical organizations, fellow club members, students who have in any way distinguished themselves and the snapshots? Would you enjoy anything more than the recollection of school festivities the witty remarks and characteristics of your friends? Of course, you wouldn't.

Aside from the attempt of the staff to give South Siders a book portraying the real life and atmosphere of the school, an endeavor is being made to make the annual a prize winner. If this is to be accomplished, you, not the other fellow, must cooperate with the staff by handing in snapshots, by subscribing and urging others to do so, bringing in advertisements, or in any way helping the staff reach its goal.

The year book will again be offered at two dollars. This can be paid in as many installments as the subscriber needs. Few, indeed, are the students who could not, by this method, have a Totem. The circulation department has established its goal. It is not too high for South Side. It is up to you to help the school reach it.

It's Up To You!

First, which of the above conditions do you prefer? Secondly, which case is true at South Side? Of course, everyone will prefer the organized to the individual or small section yelling; but we hate to admit that we belong to the unorganized class. Yet, what is worse than hating to admit it, is realizing the condition and not doing anything to better it. That is our case.

Almost everyone knows that South Side yelling has been miserable so far this year. Why? "Too many cooks spoil the broth." So, too, many yell leaders spoil the yelling. Four cheerleaders do not get the crowds to yell with the same coordination that one leader can procure. Most all the big universities, where yelling is really studied and developed, have only one or two yell leaders. They are the best that the school can produce, and they control those enthusiastic, noisy and restless crowds as no professor or speaker could do. One man, if capable and suited for the position, if gifted with the power of leadership and personality, and if respected and admired by the student body, can do it, and do it better than any four or five yell leaders will ever do.

A Mite of Verse

TO THE MOVIES

I
Supplanter of imagination; thought
Annihilator; maker of clay dreams;
Banisher reality for that which seems
But is not; in your web of fancy caught,
We feel, and feel, and feel, till surfeited
With undirected, inchoate upsurge
Of feeling, lacking action which might purge
Emotion into life unlimited;
Lacking the magic words that stimulate,
Whether in print or speech, the languid mind
To grope amid the gloom toward the gleam
That only for mankind can compensate
For life's turmoils and buffets which he finds
Who seeks the real amid the things that seem.

II

Feeder of thirst for romance; fancy's guide;
Destroyer of humdrum, and friend
Of fairyland and wonders without end;
The magic Bagdad carpet all may ride;
The enchanted horse that instantly
transplants
Its rider at his will; the chaperone
To all society; with you alone
We rise triumphant over circumstance
And live vicariously as courage bids
But prudence counsels, indulge our hearts
That beat against their prison bars in vain
With dreams of freedom, prying at the lids
Pandora-wise, which spite of all our arts,
Keep hope within but let out woe and pain.

Do You Know

What gives the freshmen that hunted look?
It's an inferiority complex.
Why sophomores are so insignificant?
It's a deficiency in thyroid.
How juniors get so conceited?
Their endocrines are ossifying.
Why seniors are such noble creatures—such supermen—such ornaments to society?
Their pineal glands have calcified.

Read A Bit

"Marie Chapdelaine" is a story of the back country of Quebec. Marie is the daughter of a French-Canadian pioneer whose passion was for the chase rather than for the tilling of the earth. She saw few visitors from the outside but these few found her beautiful and desirable. This is a modern story written in classic style.

"Heart of the Rose" is a tiny book that should be read by every freshman girl for the moral that is taught.

A TEACHER.

The Principal Says

The student who is loyal to South Side will gain the respect of fellow classmates. If South Side is courteous to visiting teams, she will gain the respect of their schools.

Amen
Mr. Makey: "Most pupils come into the room, slump into their seats, and say, 'There are eight questions, thirty pupils, and so there are twenty-five chances out of one hundred that I'll be called upon and seventy-five that I won't. Praise the Lord from whom all blessings flow!'"

Mixed Signals

Mr. Gilbert in Chemistry class: "Now, are there any questions pertaining to this football game?"

Mr. Murphy: "In the Bible one often reads the word 'fuller.' Does anyone know what a 'fuller' is?"
"Bernice Richart: 'A brush.'"

Brilliant remarks of Miss Demaree's sixth hour class:
Ruth Hull—"Pocahontas saved the life of William Draker L—"Captain John Smith rewarded Pocahontas by marrying her."

The Class Prexy Knows
Edward Hulse, translating Virgil which should be

AFTER THE CARNIVAL

Edna: "Did you see how Charley limps? He hurt his leg in the football game."
Cappy: "Charley-horse?"
Edna: "No, Charley Brubaker."

Tenshun! W. C. T. U.

Louise Piatt, in rebuttal: "We don't want to see drunkards in public, lying around in the gutter; for myself, I would rather see them in private."

Our Allen

Allen bought an auto car,
of 30 horse or so;
It traveled fast, you may believe
where'er he wished to go.

When he was reeling off the miles
at sixty seconds flat,
he failed to see a rock ahead and hit it j u s t i k e that

The auto s g r b k f t

and spun q u i t e h a l f a w a y

Then r e u p o n i t s d r i v e w h e e l s and turned clean u n a o p a s i d n

They gathered up the pieces,
But Allen made no fuss,
He'll put them all together and make a Jitney Bus.

Miss Work (reading notice): "The orchestra will be on hands at 3."

The Cat's Out

C. Bade (translating Cicero): "It is not my fault, fellow citizens, but the fault of the 'Times!'"

—AND OUT SHE WENT

Elsbeth: "What are your five cent bars?"
Clerk: "The whole middle shelf is five cents."
Elsbeth: "All right, I will take the whole shelf."

Doing Well

Stranger (looking at Miss Harvey's "coop"): "Sa-that's quite a good looking car you have there. What's the most you ever got out of it?"
Miss Harvey: "Six times in one mile."

Ought to Help

A nursemaid rushed into the presence of her mistress and shrieked: "Oh, my goodness, ma'am, the twins have fallen down the well! What shall I do?"
The mother announced calmly: "Go to the library and bring me the last number of 'Modern Motherhood'.
There's an article on 'How to Bring Up Children.'"

Pity the poor copy reader when he gets something like this: "The night was dark, and still they played on, the day was a beautiful one and there was a large crowd present, those who enjoyed the affair were Lucy Whiet, Ruth Richn, Bare Flora, Messer's Artie Mar-tain Georgewys, and bub bech. after the game the storm broke and the crowd were most drowned,

And Then He Was

A modest youth, on going to the office to inquire if the Dean was busy, twisted his words and said: "Is the Dean dizzy?"

From the Literary Undigest

She hid the wine after the wedding in the cupboard.
The speaker referred often to his notes while he was talking on his cuff.
Mrs. Adams placed the soup when the man had finished eating on a tray.
The one-armed man grabbed a gun from the shelf and shot off his other arm.

SERVICE TOUCHDOWNS

Crossing the goal line for the winning points means victory for your eleven.
A fine service team has for years been hitting the line hard for touchdowns and goals in the insurance field.

It's A L L A M E R I C A N in itself, with the seven linemen spelling L-I-N-C-O-L-N and the four the highest ideals and emphasizes the most wonderful spirit of service loyalty. When the whistle blows for the big game of life you're started right, if you

FIFTEEN PRIZES TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL CONCERNS

Will Be Presented Lighting Contest Winners By December 15; Worth Five Hundred Dollars.

FIRST NATIONAL AWARD WILL BE $15,000 HOME

Any School Child Over 10 Years Of Age Eligible to Compete; Rules Explained.

Fifteen local prizes will be awarded before December 15 to the ones making the highest rating in Fort Wayne in the international home lighting contest. The total cost of the Fort Wayne prizes will be $500. The local prizes are:

1. Fada Neutrola radio set with built-in loud speaker. . . . . $22.50
2. 5-tube radio set or fur neck piece. . . . . 100
3. Boys' or girls' bicycle. . . . . 50
4. Order for dress or suit of clothes. . . . . 30
5. Gold watch or traveling bag. . . . . 20
6. Sweater or electrical grill. . . . . 10
7. Gold pen and pencil set. . . . . 10
8. Tennis racket or hat box. . . . . 10
9. Kodak or electric hot plate. . . . . 10
10. Fishing rod or boudoir lamp. . . . . 10
11. Electric marcelling or curling iron or skates. . . . . 5
12. Fountain pen or electric cooker. . . . . 5
13. Thermos picnic jug or bottle set. . . . . 5
14. Set of books or radio head set. . . . . 5

Besides the local prizes a $15,000 home will be given as the first international prize, and five scholarships to American or Canadian colleges or universities.

The contest will end December 1 in both the United States and Canada. The twenty-five best essays in Fort Wayne will be sent to New York to compete for the international prizes. The work will be judged on:

1. Knowledge of the lessons as shown by the essay.
2. By the pasting of the fixtures in the primer.
3. Originality of ideas and clarity of language in the essay.
4. Thoroughness and neatness of work.

The purpose of this contest is to inform the people of the proper use of electric light. If the lighting in the home is well shaded, plentiful, and in the right places there will be less eye trouble in the future, the sponsors say.

The regulations follow: "Registration cards may be secured at school. After returning the card signed, you will receive a Home Lighting Primer. This primer tells you how to win the prizes. After doing the work you are told to do in the primer write your essay. That essay must not be over 600 words long. Write in ink and on only one side of the paper. In the essay tell how you would make the present lighting in your home better and why you would make each change that you make. "If you think the lighting system in your home is good, then tell why you think it is good. Tell how many watts should be used in the bulbs for each fixture. When the essay is written, fasten it to your Home Lighting Primer and send it to the local judges. This must be done before December 1, 1924."

Has Play-Writing Contest
A play-writing contest for the high schools throughout Minnesota has just been announced. The judges will be the president of the University of Minnesota and two newspaper men, one from St. Paul and the other from Minneapolis. The plays must suggest some health idea or motif. Entries will close March 1, 1925.

Test Memory for Music
A music memory contest is being conducted at the Allegan high school of Allegan, Michigan.

Knows Play Well
A student in the 10B of the Jefferson high school, Lafayette, Indiana, recently won a contest in English when she recited 164 lines from "The Merchant of Venice."

To Go to Prison
The students of the Central high school, Kansas City, Missouri, have a chance to visit the Federal prison at Leavenworth. One of the faculty will act as guide.

Chance for Latin Stars
A Latin vocabulary match has been conducted at the Manual Training high school of Kansas City, Missouri.

Become Good Swimmers
Forty students of the Manual Training high school, Kansas City, Missouri, swam fifty yards which makes them eligible for life saving practice. To pass this test the girls must swim fifty yards any stroke, be able to do the face float, side stroke, back stroke, and the puppy paddle. After the test all the girls who had passed it were rewarded with buttons.

Safety First Drill
The Nicholas Penn high school in Chicago, Illinois, recently received a ten thousand dollar organ. It is the fourth largest high school organ in the country.

Gets Large Organ
In a recent fire drill at the Roosevelt high school, Seattle, it took two minutes and a half to get all the students out.

Limits Exchange List
The Hyphonerian, published by the Mansfield high school, Mansfield, Ohio, has limited its exchange to fifty selected papers. The papers to be received are to be the best in the United States. The South Side Times is on the list.

Wanita Barber gave a party last Saturday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed by Edna Dean, Ruth Barber, Virginia Kinerk, and Eddie Kelly, Paul Mesing, Garth Remmel and Raymond Girard.

The Junior Hi-Y orchestra at last seems to about have become a successful venture, after it seemed doomed to almost certain failure. Mr. Cafero, a well-known orchestra leader of this city, is helping organize the boys into a successful aggregation. He seems greatly interested in the boys' spirit and is very anxious to assist them. "Anything to help the boys," he says.

At the present time the orchestra consists of Tom Ward, piano; Paul Berlien, saxophone; Ned Perkins, violin; Bob Nosset, traps; and Gerald Amerman, saxophone. The traps player, Bob Nosset, who but recently joined the orchestra, is a big influence upon it. Jack Niebergal and Joe Little are expected to join the orchestra soon.

Covers were laid for Hildegard Seibel, Greta Astrom, Dorothy Troendel, Phyllis Tothill, Marjorie Reeves, Mary Hughes, Margaret Rose, Evelyn Metsker, Kathleen Grier, Sarah Miner, Bernice Richard, Florence Sterling, Margaret Holden, Margaret Jane Hoffman, Mary Snooks, Camilla Waterfield, Marcella Evanson, Bernice Centlivre, Mary Lang, Mary Cooper, Kathryn Dye, Mildred Schroeder, Ruth Klachn, Jeanette Sultz and the hostess.

Diddy Dildine entertained at dinner last Friday evening. The guests were Mary McCurdy, Edna VanTidbury, Dorothy Bales, Ethel Fishman, Freda Fletcher, Evelyn Metsker, Dorothy Martin, Katherine Bechtel, Pauline Bowerfield, Dorothy Horstmeier, Vallette Wellman, Marguerite Luecke, Dorothy Underwood, Josephine Hyman, Ruth Horstmeier and Dorothy Cline.

Kathryn Bell entertained a number of her friends at her home on Anthony boulevard recently. Bridge was enjoyed during the evening after which the hostess served refreshments.

Katherine Bechtel, of South Broadway, entertained a number of her friends at dinner last Saturday evening. Those who enjoyed this delightful affair were Lucy Pullman, Maxine Groth, Rosella Polloch, Florence Bash, Hazel Schele, Dorothy Martin, Margaret Metzner, Hazel Menefee, Esther Lowery, Ethel Fishman, Josephine Hyman, Dorothy Cline, Wilda Bowser, Florence Buosser and the hostess.

Preline Fletcher gave a very clever "hard time" party at her home on South Broadway. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening. Those who enjoyed this affair were Margaret Rose, Frances Wagner, Mary McCurdy, Ethel Fishman, Sue Countryman, Vianna Keesbury, Evelyn Metsker, Dorothy Somers, Helen Rastetter, Dorothy Cline, Boverie Potts, Dorothy Bales, Ruth Richey, Eddie Clapham, Eddie Hulse, Kip Sullivan, Bob Hanna, Jim Newell, Bob Miles, Chris Branning, Park Williams, Howard Crispe, Lorne Bergel, Tom Shulze, Jerry DuWan, Jack Lighthill and Charles Brubaker.

Jane Stringer entertained a number of girls with a dinner party at her home last Thursday evening. Those who enjoyed the affair were Jo Dinklage, Hazel Cruse, Camilla Waterfield, Lu Branning, and Bertha Branning.

Lucille Lapp entertained a number of her most intimate friends at her home last Saturday evening. Bridge was played and at a late hour a delicious luncheon was served to Helen Crawford, Beatrice Roshier, Lucille Grosvener, Lillian Rolf, Velma Rolf, Mary Barnes, Helen Masters, Louise Mee, Florence Phelps and Beatrice Riecke.

Wanita Barber gave a party last Saturday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed by Edna Dean, Ruth Barber, Virginia Kinerk, and Eddie Kelly, Paul Mesing, Garth Remmel and Raymond Girard.

The Junior Hi-Y orchestra at last seems to about have become a successful venture, after it seemed doomed to almost certain failure. Mr. Cafero, a well-known orchestra leader of this city, is helping organize the boys into a successful aggregation. He seems greatly interested in the boys' spirit and is very anxious to assist them. "Anything to help the boys," he says.

At the present time the orchestra consists of Tom Ward, piano; Paul Berlien, saxophone; Ned Perkins, violin; Bob Nosset, traps; and Gerald Amerman, saxophone. The traps player, Bob Nosset, who but recently joined the orchestra, is a big influence upon it. Jack Niebergal and Joe Little are expected to join the orchestra soon.

PHILALETHIANS HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

Miss Shulze Gives Talk On Boston, the Most Literary City In the United States.

"Boston is the most literary city in the United States," stated Miss Shulze, school librarian, in the talk on Boston and the various historical places near there, given before the Philalethians at their meeting Monday in Room 10.

A post card projector was used to illustrate the many beautiful and historical places which Miss Shulze described.

Historical Places
She especially spoke about the historical places; such as Paul Revere's home, Lowell's home, Longfellow's home, and the Old North church. A lover of antiques would, she explained and illustrated how these places were furnished with very costly antique furniture.

Since she is a librarian, she especially pointed out the wonderful points of the Harvard or Widener library. It is the third largest library in the United States. The Widener library was erected by the parents of Harry Elkins Widener, a Harvard graduate, who was a victim on the Titanic. The library is the largest building belonging to Harvard.

Interesting Epitaphs
Miss Shulze also read some very interesting epitaphs which were on the graves of the old residents of Boston. One very curious epitaph was:

"Pause here, my friend,
And cast an eye,
As you are now
So once was I.
As I am now
So you will be,
Prepare for death
And follow me."

A humorous student of Harvard has scratched this beneath the epitaph:

"To follow you
We're not content
Until we know
Which way you went."

All members of Philo who have unexcused absences are asked to pay ten cents for each absence to Lucille Grosvener or Frances Wagner.

Next Meeting
The next meeting of the Philalethian Literary society will be November 24. A play will be given, and the roll call is to be answered by a quotation from Wordsworth, Shelley or Keats.

In it will be pictures of every football man who has played for South Side this year. These will be close-ups and therefore distinct. In addition there will be a number of action pictures, taken with a Graflex camera that show the team fighting to win. Two of these pictures show South Side scoring points against its opponents.

Young Student From Scotland Now Attending South Side High

Jean Herd, Excellent Scotch Student, Arrived in America October Thirtieth and Came to Fort Wayne the Fifteenth; Has Good Recommendations From Dunbarton Academy.

"Oh, East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet," wrote Kipling thirty-five years ago. For many years we have discarded that notion! America is only eighty hours from Europe by air; a cablegram may reach Europe in less than five minutes; a fast steamer plows her way across the Old World in less than a week; wireless messages flash back and forth from coast to coast continually; and so the stream of international mingling and communication runs on its interminable course!

South Side is richer today because of this tendency of restlessness and international action. From the picturesque country of Scotland across the Atlantic there has come to South Side a young Scotch student, Jean Herd. Her dark hair, soft blue-gray eyes and rosy cheeks are typical of her wonderful Scotch race.

Born in Scotland
Fifteen years ago Jean was born at Dunbarton, Scotland, fourteen miles from Glasgow. Dunbarton, Jean informs us, is about the size of Fort Wayne.

Carried Many Subjects
Scotch high schools have a regular six-year course and Jean has had more work in Latin than in her other subjects which are: English, sewing and history. Therefore she is a senior in Latin and a junior in other subjects.

Jean's curriculum last year in Dunbarton Academy was: English, Latin, French, history, geometry, music and gymnasium. Mr. Null, who helped make out her program, said that she has very good recommendations from her Scottish school.

Work Harder Here
"The work is different here," Jean said in her delightful voice. "In Scotland we have about twelve lines of Latin a day and here we have forty, and it takes so long to do it."

"I like my Latin class the best of all, however," she added wistfully, "because the students there are more friendly."

Jean and her mother disembarked at New York from the Columbia, October 13, and arrived in Fort Wayne October 15. Mr. Herd was already in the United States. Jean's first day in South Side's classrooms was October 28.

No Basketball There
"We did not play basketball very much in Scotland, but we play football, tennis and hockey," she answered.

EIGHT HUNDRED ENROLL FOR FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Four Hundred and Three Pupils Lured by Four-Year Latin Course Offered Here.

Indicative of the interest shown in foreign languages is the fact that almost 800 students are studying at least one foreign tongue. Comparison shows that there has been a decided increase in language classes this term.

Latin, a four-year course, lures 403 students, more than all the other languages put together.

Spanish is next in popularity. Due to the fact, perhaps, that many students desire only two years of foreign language, and this can be mastered in a two-year course. Then, too, students often take Spanish their first two years and Latin in their junior and senior years.

Two Courses in French
French is offered for either four years or a course of two years, special for those who have had a course in some other language. One hundred and twenty-three students are taking French.

German has been replaced in high school and plans are being made to have a four-year course in this language, as it seems that the 112 students taking this would like to complete the study, and this is impossible in a two-year course.

Names Show That A South Sider Is Never Lonesome Wherever He Goes

Scenery, Places, Animals, and Persons Will Remind Him Of Familiar Names Borne By School Mates; Enrollment Lists Furnish Material For Menu and House Furnishings.

A South Sider determined to take a motor trip. He finally decided to go in a Power Karr, though he had his choice of a Mercer (David), Mitchell (Helen), Stevens (Harry), White (Garth), Cole (Richard), and a Davis (Dorothy).

His journey led through beautiful scenery and he passed by the Brooks (Midred), Glen Lake, the Long (Louise) Beach (Ada), a Crick (Marjorie), the Falls (Dorothy) and the Fairfield (Violet).

The Lords (Dale) and Nobles (Velda) were sauntering through the great Park (Ruth) as he passed.

Goes on Travels

He traveled North (Robert) to Jackson (Violet) and West (Judson) to Halifax (Lois). Men of all occupations are found there: Carpenter (Ruth), Carrier (Midred), Dyer (Grace), Speaker (Doris) of the Word (Adeline); Sellers (Verna) of Potts (Beverly), Mason (Alice), Kopp (Minnie), Keene (Irene) Joker (Gertrude), Hale (Mary) Rider (Betty), Little (Joe) Baker (Harold), Waggoner (Dorothy), Barber (Ruth), Baumgardner (Pauline), Gasser (Thelma), and the Winner (Dwight) of the Wager (Clara). An Idle (Ruth) Coon (Clair) answered the Bell (Marjorie) of the hotel at which he stopped. He paid him three Pence (Robert) and went to his Chambers (Effie).

Attends Church
Next morning he went to Church (Eleanor). Two Brothers (Tom) sat in front of him. The minister had a long Beard (Kenneth), and Buckles (Frances) on his shoes. He gave a Rapp (Wilhelmina) on the table, meaning that he wanted to be Herd (Jean). The service was Dull (Verna) so he went to the Chapel (Beulah).

Afterwards he ate a lunch of a Wiener (Richard), a Dill (Thelma) pickle, a Graham (Dorothy) cracker, and Rice (Charles). The Grubb (George) cost him a pretty high Price (Thelma).

Sees the Zoo
He paid the Bill (Calvin) and went to the zoo, where he saw a Leach (Viola), a Blue (LaVon) Crane (Elizabeth), and a Young (Ruth) Baer (Flora) eating Bales (Dorothy) of Hay (Albert) which were kept in Barnes (Mary).

There were Teeters (Jack) and a Horn (Florence) for the children. He walked many Miles (Robert) and became Haggard (Auburn) with weariness and finally sat down.

Takes in Sights
From where he sat he could see a Rose (Margaret) with a long Root (Fayma), many Holmes (Evelyn) and the Gable (George) of a Garrison (Albert).

A Welsh (Margaret) Mann (Dorothy) came by and sold him a Mitten (Eugene) and a sprig of Holley (Elizabeth). He ordered a Davenport (Gervae), and several Crates (Dalton) of things when he went back to town.

Then he went home declaring that this was a Keene (Irene) way to spend his Summers (Pierce).

"To Cram the Day Before a Test Is Futile," Think Many Students

Some Of Them Assert That A Few Students "Get Away" With Cramming, But All Agree That Earnest Daily Effort Shows in Average Work.

Little cramming for examinations is done by South Side students, as most of them say that since the practice does them no good, they do not attempt it.

"Of course not!" Clara Sherbondy said when rendering her opinion as to whether she thought cramming was of any avail. "Anyway, the things that I study before a test are not the questions that are asked," she added sarcastically.

"When some students cram they sometimes make as good grades as those who study the lesson day by day," asserts Louise Pollock. "That, anyone will admit, is unjust to the conscientious worker at the time, but in the general grades of the term the one who has crammed lacks the knowledge of many details that are needed."

"Cramming is certainly futile," Elizabeth Crane declared when inter-

MARINE BAY PLAYS TO CROWDED HOUSES

Six Thousand Five Hundred Hear Afternoon and Evening Programs; Many Selections Offered

Over four thousand pupils and teachers heard the Marine band Thursday afternoon, November 6, in our gymnasium. The gymnasium was packed to its greatest capacity.

The program began at three o'clock and lasted for an hour and quarter. Mr. Gillie introduced the leader, Captain William H. Sautlemann. There were two soloists; Frank Wibletz-houser, saxophone, and Wilber D. Kieffer, xylophone. Eight numbers were played including "Hi Guany," "Gomey," "Whispering Flowers," "Von Blon," saxophone solo, "Theme and Variations on a Tyrolean folk song," "Buck," "America," "Thursdays," "Entrance of the Guests to the Wartburg," "Wagner; solo for xylophone, "Valse Caprice"—Rubenstein; "Comin' Thro' the Rye"—Bellstedt, and "Slavonic Rhapsody"—Friedmana.

In the evening eight different numbers were played. About 2,500 were present.

The tour will end November 23, after having lasted nine weeks. Although seventy-five are in this band, only forty-five are on the road.

DINNER TO BE SERVED IN CAFETERIA ON OPEN NIGHT

Parents and Friends are Asked to Enjoy Evening Meal at School on November 20

Dinner will be served in the South Side cafeteria on Open House Night, November 20, from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. Miss Dixon, cafeteria manager, announced yesterday. She urges that students bring their parents and friends to let them know what the meals and service here are like.

Last year dinner was served in the cafeteria on Open House Night and nearly two hundred persons attended.

The menu next week will include: Fricassee chicken, baked ham, escaloped oysters, candied sweet potatoes, pumpkin pie and cranberry jelly. In fact, all Thanksgiving time food will be served.

Student Breaks Into Limelight; Receives License for Radio Set

Harry Collier's Set

Once again a South Sider has achieved singular success in work outside of school. Harry Collier, licensed radio operator, has put his spare time to good use and now has gained prominence in the radio world.

Harry started in radio and electrical work at the age of ten, first having a telegraph and then a wireless. Just after the war he made his first radio. This was a crystal set and it was very inefficient. Harry said, when he was interviewed, that he was thrilled when he heard a buzz over this. This just added coal to the fire and from the crystal set he built a successful one-tube set.

Gets License

For five years he worked with receiving sets, experimenting with different "hook-ups." Two years ago this summer he applied for an amateur license. After qualifying he received it in June.

He began operating from this time and was one of the most consistent operators in the city. He has worked stations in Canada and in all corners of the United States on a very low power transmitter. He has great hopes of getting across "the pond" this winter for he has recently installed a more powerful transmitter with excellent results.

Joins Wolf Hong

Last summer the American Radio and Relay league had its first Hoosier convention here, largely through the efforts of the "Knights of the Midnight Key," a local organization to which Harry belongs. Harry was initiated in the "Royal Order of the Wolf Hong" during this convention. This organization is known all over the world and is the only secret organization of amateurs.

Passes Test

Recently the radio inspector came here to test all amateurs. Harry was the first to take the test and passed 100 per cent. He received his first-class license, Monday, October 23.

Harry has built many sets and hopes to continue his radio work at the Washington Radio school.

BILLION CALORIES ARE SWALLOWED

Rib Fattening Beans and the Lowly "Spuds" Go in Great Quantities Down Students' "Red Lanes."

If gustatory achievements are a fair means of judging, then South Side students, as a whole, are either Irish or Bostonians. In the past year the students have hung up a record for eating beans, that might make even Massachusetts envious. The cafeteria has fed us sixteen hundred pounds of beans in the past year, or roughly speaking, 1,865,000 legumes. Figuring one thousand pupils to the high school, an average of 1,865 beans per student were consumed in the last year. If ten beans can be conveyed to the mouth at one time, then the student had to raise and lower his fork 186 times. The school as a whole had to spend a thousand times that exertion.

While the number of potatoes the students have devoured is somewhat smaller, 96,000 potatoes is no weakling's diet. These potatoes composed the six hundred bushels used by the cafeteria.

On the same basis of figuring used for the beans, each student has a right to claim ninety-six potatoes, over one-half bushel.

As beans and potatoes are very fattening, it is no wonder South Side has so many plump persons.

Hears Psychology Talk

Mr. Murphy declared enthusiastically Monday that one of the best lectures he ever heard was given by a lady at the teachers' convention at Indianapolis last week. The speech hinged on the psychology and physiology of the high school boy and girl.

Times Wins Favor

"The Echo," published by the Abraham Lincoln high school of Council Bluffs, Iowa, printed an article recently, the content of which was: "We are glad to see you back again, South Side. Your paper is up to its old standard: very newsy, interesting, and well balanced."

Have you joined the crowd with a Senior Carnival tag?

PUBLIC SPEAKERS START ON NEW PHASE OF STUDY

Coolidge Favored in Majority of Presidential Speeches; Gump Is Supported by One

Mr. Makey's public speaking class has finished its presidential speeches and has started another series.

Coolidge had a majority of speeches in his favor, while Davis and La Follette had a close race for second place. Andrew Gump, the great friend of the people, was a poor fourth in the presidential race. He was only supported by one speech and was attacked viciously by the speakers for the other candidates.

The class is doing something new with its latest series of speeches. Mr. Makey is demanding the brief and a copy of the notes from every speaker before he starts his speech. The brief is supposed to have been memorized by the speaker, and the notes should be as short as possible.

SENIOR ART STUDENTS MAKE USEFUL ARTICLES

Senior students in art are very busy making useful articles for the home. Mary Travis, Clara Sherbondy, Dorothy Cline and Mary McCurdy are busy enameling flower bowls, fruit dishes and shoe trees. Veda Stevens and Lorna Frauenfelder are working on designs. Some of the designs are placed on salt and pepper shakers, bread boards, candlesticks, and shoe trees. The students are also making designs for book ends.

Works at Aurentz's.

"I work to make extra spending money. It helps out a good deal toward paying for my Times, Toten and other things," says Harriet Goyer, '26. She works at Aurentz' from 6 p. m. until 11:15. "On Saturdays I sometimes work from noon until 5 p. m.," she continued. "It is very interesting work because I can study the personalities of all types of people."

Don't forget the Senior Carnival.

TWELVE SCRIBES TO ATTEND MEET

Will Represent Times and Toten at Central Interscholastic Press Convention at Madison, Wis.

PUBLICATIONS IN CONTEST

About twelve delegates from South Side will attend the fifth annual Central Interscholastic Press association convention, November 20 and 21, at Madison, Wisconsin, where the Times and Toten will compete with approximately 1,000 publications for national awards.

The convention will be conducted along the same plans as formerly. Over 100 people have been selected to arrange the program and entertainment.

Cups for Grand Prizes

Grand prizes will be a 24-inch loving cup to the newspaper and annual judged the best in the United States. Permanent possession of a cup will be gained by holding it three times or two times in succession.

Each high school publication entered will be classified according to the enrollment of its school. There are also divisions for junior high schools and colleges.

These divisions will be adjudged separately, the five highest contenders being "All-American" newspapers, magazines and annuals. The next 10 per cent will fall in First Class, the next 20 per cent in Second Class, other worthy ones being rated as Third Class. From the "All-American" papers and annuals, excluding those from colleges and universities, will be picked the two receiving the cups as grand prize.

Scorecards Kept

The judging is to be done by score cards, each department of the paper receiving a score of excellent, good, fair, poor or no grade.

The program has been outlined, consisting of addresses, round table discussions, a business meeting and a session for giving awards. A new amusement feature of vodvil given by delegates has been introduced.

The C. I. P. A. is also conducting a story-writing contest. The Times has submitted a news story written by Bud Beck and one of Wyss' brilliant sport stories.

Alumni

"Geometry is essential," said Violet Price, '24, who is now attending the Fort Wayne Art school. "Tell the boys and girls to be sure to take this subject, as one finds unexpected uses for it," she said to Miss Paxton recently. "The other day we were having a lesson in color and the students who had no geometry were unable to grasp it."

Alumni

Virginia Gaskins, '24, writes from Ferry Hall, a school for girls in Illinois that it the South Side Times' copy of the Times Friday afternoon. She feels sure that if the paper keeps on as it has started out this year, it will equal its past records. Virginia has shown the paper to the girls at Ferry Hall and they are enthusiastic over it. She thinks that Ferry Hall is a dandy school but that South Side has it beaten.

Wants More Social Sciences

"In all education for citizenship talks, the emphasis was placed on the individual duty of the citizen. Civics and history must make a personal appeal. Some speakers advocated a recess on emphasizing natural science, giving social science a chance to catch up—and in the meantime placing our main emphasis on this latter science," stated Mr. Murphy when asked about points of interest at the convention.

Does Double Duty.

Dorothy Schiefer, '25, is one of the South Side students who is holding down two jobs this year, school and library work. She is working at the Pontiac branch of the public library from one to six every day except on Fridays, when she works from three to five. Dorothy says she likes her work very much, especially the monthly check.

Class Music Clubs Work

The class clubs are very active this year. They are working harder than ever. November 21 is the date for the first musical to be given by the music department.

MISS DIXON DESCRIBES IDEAL MENU FOR LUNCH

"An ideal menu for a noon lunch would consist of two vegetables, a salad, a roll, a desert, and above all, a glass of milk," Miss Dixon, cafeteria manager, stated yesterday. This menu would average between twenty and twenty-four cents.

No Plans For Election.

"No election of freshmen class officers will be held until the students show the desire of organizing their class," was the statement made by Mr. Harris last Monday.

Surprise Teacher

Happy birthday to you, Happy birthday to you, Happy birthday, dear teacher, Happy birthday to you. This familiar strain was heard from Room 10 one day last week when the pupils in Miss Demaree's room learned that it was her birthday. Three of the girls presented her with gum, and two gave her lollipops, wishing her a happy birthday. Miss Demaree was very surprised as she thought no one knew the date of her birthday.

We're going to the Senior Carnival. Are you?

South Siders Busy
South Side's debaters are hard at work for the first debate. The subject is "Censorship of the Movies" and the debaters are looking up everything in the library on the subject.

They are also attending all the movies possible to see whether censorship is really necessary. Seven states now have moving picture censorship and bills providing for censorship are before many state legislatures.

In addition to this there is a National Board of Review in New York which censors the pictures. This is not connected with the government, however, and many people favor government censorship.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB IS PREPARING FOR SHOW

The Boys' Glee club met for its regular meeting Wednesday, at which time more old southern negro songs were practiced for the minstrel show they are going to give. The only person outside of the boys to take part in this will be Miss Hadsell, who will do a dance characteristic of the negro race.

The band that will make its appearance in uniform Friday night at the Senior Carnival and at the South Side-Central game Saturday will represent the work of Roland S. Schafer, director of music at South Side, and John Verweire, nationally-known composer and band leader.

Mr. Schafer organized the band last year, getting only a few recruits at first. He stuck to the task and built up a large organization. This year he not only has the regular band but a beginners' band of about twenty pieces. Due to pressure of other work, it has been necessary for him to get assistance in directing them.

He was fortunate in enlisting the services of John Verweire. One of Mr. Verweire's compositions was played by the United States Marine band at its appearance here last week.

JOINT MEETING PLANNED BY U. S. A. AND U. P. O.

Pageant to Illustrate "World Fellowship" Will Be Presented by U.S.A. Girls at Next Meeting at Y. W.

The next meeting of the U. S. A. club, on November 17 at 3:15 in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms, will be held jointly with the U. P. D. club, an organization of freshmen and sophomore girls of Central high school.

The theme of the meeting is "World Fellowship." A pageant will be given by the girls from South Side, members of the U. S. A. club, to represent the topic of the meeting. The girls will also write letters to girl reserves in Japan.

"Urge that all the members of the U. S. A. come out and represent their club," Miss Simon, the leader of girl reserve clubs, is urging.

STREET NAMED FOR STATESMAN

Founders of Fort Wayne Give John C. Calhoun's Name to City's Main Thoroughfare.

Calhoun street, on which our school is located, was named for John C. Calhoun, who at that time was at the height of his fame. It is not known whether or not Barr and McCorkle, the founders of Fort Wayne, favored the policies of Calhoun on state rights, the Journal-Gazette states.

The year Fort Wayne was being planned, Calhoun was elected vice-president of the United States, under John Quincy Adams. He was re-elected four years later under Jackson.

He was elected a senator from South Carolina in 1832 and was made secretary of state during Tyler's administration in 1844. He was a strong advocate of state rights and of the policy of the slave holding states. He died in 1850.

ART CLUB TO MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Art club will meet in Room 38 next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Refreshments, stunts and plenty of amusement are promised by the social committee.

Beulah Corwin has been appointed chairman of the program committee, while Iva Riley, Doris Buirley and Geraldine Grover will see that the "eats" are on hand.

The program committee is asked to report at Room 61 for a short business meeting Friday afternoon.

Hears Former Teacher

While attending the teachers convention at Indianapolis, Mr. Davis heard and enjoyed most of all the speech of Professor Raleigh Schorling, who is professor of mathematics at the university high school at Ann Arbor. Professor Schorling spoke on "Individualizing Instruction in Mathematics." Mr. Schorling is president of the National Mathematics society and is a personal friend of Mr. Davis.

Get Purdue Debris

Purdue university, at Lafayette, has presented a copy of the 1924 Mid-Century Debris to South Side high school. It was sent to Mr. Harris, principal of the school. The Debris will be put in the library a little later in order that students can have access to it.

Janitors Use Many Conveyances For Coming to Work at School

Automobiles, a Bicycle, a Car pass and Shoes Are Means Of Getting Them to South Side; One Janitor Drives a Dodge and Another a Ford.

"I walk to school," says Mr. Brown, one of the janitors, "so I can whistle, watch the birds and pretty girls. If I would drive I would not have a chance to look around but would have to watch where I was going."

Mr. Brown's method of getting to school is not copied by all the other seven janitors, for some ride on the street cars, some pedal to school on a bicycle and some let the gasoline in their automobile do the work in bringing them to the building.

Mr. Mason goes Mr. Brown one better as he rides his bicycle to school. He comes very early in the morning and says he enjoys a "bike," for he gets lots of fresh air and exercise.

Mr. Klemm walks to school from his home on Downing avenue. He is not very far from school and doesn't want people to think he is lazy, so he walks, even though he says he would like to ride.

"I think it is cheaper to have shoes repaired than buy gas and repair a car that has been in an accident," says Mr. Junk. He evidently thinks he would be a poor driver and couldn't possibly stay in the road.

"I do not believe in wearing out shoe leather or in buying gas, so I get a weekly pass," states Mr. Stahl. He explains that as he has business down town quite often, it is convenient to go on a street car and that he knows he is safe.

Mr. Ward also rides the street car. He says that since he has to get to school so early that he prefers riding in place of walking so that he can get a few more minutes of sleep.

Mr. Murphy, who is also a janitor, drives a Dodge to school and parks it at the side of the school building. He says he enjoys driving but that someone played a joke on him the other night by disturbing the ignition system on his car so he couldn't get it started. He didn't like that very well but yet he prefers driving to walking.

Librarians Pleased With Students' Book Selection

"Many Students Prefer Old Books by Dickens and Stevenson to the Novels of the Late Story Writers," Gladly Boast School and Public Librarians.

Stevenson and Thackeray are the two authors whose works are paged most in our school library by South Side students doing assigned reading. Miss Shultz stated that the students peruse some of the best books for voluntary reading.

She finds that the most popular are "White Company," by Doyle; "Mother," by Kathleen Norris; "David Balfour," by Stevenson; "Turmoil," by Tarkington; "High Adventure," "Jim Davis," "Pirates of '76," "Mutineers," "Dark Frigate," "Robinhood" and short stories by O. Henry and Poe.

Librarians Obliging

One can always receive the assistance of both Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Thompson, our librarians. They both praise the students for their courtesy and appreciation.

Miss McKaw, of the South Side branch of the public library, said that she finds Mark Twain, Stevenson, Tarkington, Doyle and Dickens to be the favored authors of high school students. Her list of books included "Tom Sawyer," "A Connecticut Yankee," "Treasure Island," "Penrod," "Gentleman from Indiana," "Tale of Two Cities" and practically all the works of Doyle.

Boys Like Detective Stories

The boys prefer western and detective stories for lighter reading, while the girls choose more widely.

Her only criticism of high school students is that they wait until a few days before a book report is due and expect to read a book of several hundred pages in one or two days. Then there is such a demand for the books that she is not always able to meet the many calls for them.

With The Classes

Mr. Swank, of the county schools, was an interested visitor in the manual training department, November 4. Mr. Swank is introducing manual training in the Wayne township and other schools. He was especially interested in the work of the seventh and eighth grades and also conferred with Mr. Spalding regarding the course of study, equipment and the like. Mr. Chappell and Mr. Schelschmidt were also consulted concerning their departments. The teachers wish to announce that visitors are welcome at all times.

Mr. Arnold was sick two days during the past week. A remarkable thing was shown when his classes in drawing and woodworking continued, in orderly fashion, despite his absence.

On Wednesday the members of Miss Woodward's 9B English classes each told a short story which they had read recently. As a whole the stories were very well told.

On Friday Miss Woodward's 9B literature classes had their final test over "Kidnapped."

Richard Porterfield gave a very interesting report in English VI on Thackeray's "The Virginians." He showed pictures of the various places he mentioned in the novel. Arthur Martin gave an interesting report on Kingsley's "Hypatia."

Miss Paxton's classes in solid geometry have begun the study of polyhedrons. The remaining work of the semester relates to prisms, pyramids, cylinders, cones and spheres.

Kathryn Guyer and Byron Mowrey have been absent over a week due to illness.

Vera Mueller was the only one out of two classes containing forty-five Caesar students to get 100 per cent in a recent test.

Chester Blouwers, a 9A from Central high school, entered South Side this week.

Miss Esarey's 9A literature classes have finished the study of Quentin Durward. They will take up Marmion next week.

The 9B English classes will begin work with the Odyssey next Thursday.

Walter Bieberich and Louise Long were absent all last week.

Miss Demaree's English V class, eighth period, took the final test on the "Tale of Two Cities" on last Thursday and Friday. They began the study of the "Vision of Sir Launfal" on Monday. The first is an English novel by Dickens. The second is a poem written by Lowell.

Miss Work's Cicero class had a quiz on the first four chapters of Cicero's Second Oration against Caeline, last Monday the third period.

Maurice Crosley and Dean Shaffer both returned after an absence of four weeks.

SOUTH SIDE SWEEPS TO VICTORY OVER TECHNICAL ELEVEN

KELLYITES RALLY IN LAST QUARTER TO DEFEAT TECH

Push Over Two Touchdowns When the Score Is 17 to 6 Against Them; Aerial Game Wins.

ALDRICH, CURRIE MAKE ALL POINTS FOR TEAM

Team: Evenly Matched; Both Resort to Overhead Game in the Last Quarter.

Undaunted by a 11-point margin against them, South Side's gridders came from behind and swept the Tech eleven off its feet, nosing out a 19 to 17 win, last Friday afternoon in the stadium, in the greatest game in which a South Side team has ever participated. In spite of a freezing gale, the student body turned out in large numbers and were rewarded by seeing a game loaded with nerve-racking thrills.

The teams were as evenly matched as they could possibly be. South Side's offensive held the sway in the extreme periods while Tech held the advantage during the intervening quarters. Both teams used nothing but straight football, sprinkled with an occasional pass, throughout the first three sessions. In the final period overhead work stood out prominently and it was this style of play, coupled with several sleight-of-hand tricks, that enabled South Side to score two touchdowns in the closing minutes of play.

Tech Tries Passes
The vanquished team, seeing that defeat was almost certain, opened up with a beautiful aerial attack which netted several good gains but was ripped in the bud by the alert and cool-headed South Side backs.

The Game
Technical won the flip and chose the south goal. Balay kicked off to Currie, who returned the ball to the 30-yard line. Aldrich smashed off left tackle for twelve yards. Richendollar gained eight through the center of Tech's line. Currie made first down on an end run. South Side was fighting with determination and waging an attack which could not be denied. Aldrich, Currie, and Richendollar battered, smashed, twisted and turned their way to the Tech 10-yard line. Tech held for downs. On the first play Reese fumbled and Ed Rahe recovered it. Aldrich darted around left end for a touchdown. The try for point went wide of its intended mark.

South Side was in possession of the ball in midfield as the quarter ended. Technical's defense braced and held South Side. The line plunging of Wilson and the broken field running of Balay placed the oval on the South Side 10-yard line. Wilson tried two line bucks but the South Side line was impregnable. Balay scored when he hit off tackle successfully. He added the extra point on a drop kick. The score at the end of the half was: South Side, 6; Technical, 7.

Between halves the South Side band struck up a few selections. The whole student body was well satisfied with the team's showing. Wilson, Tech's colorful fullback, was the talk of the crowd.

Second Half
Thiele kicked off to Meyer, who was downed in his tracks. Tech opened up with a powerful offensive which could not be halted. South Side's defense was playing only mediocre ball at this time. The strong wind handicapped Currie in his punting and placed Tech in a position to score. The ball was advanced to South Side's 15-yard line, from which Balay booted a drop kick which was good for three points. South Side kicked off to Tech. Tech's offense led by Teete, Balay, and Wilson carried the pigskin to the 40-yard line. Teete was injured while carrying the ball. Jackson substituted for Teete. Tech advanced the ball to South Side's 30-yard line, from which Jackson by some clever broken field running scurried across the goal for a touchdown. Score: South Side, 6; Tech, 17.

Fourth Quarter
At the start of the final quarter, South Side launched a brilliant attack which gave them possession of the ball on Tech's 20-yard line. Aldrich sifted through the entire Tech team for his second touchdown. Currie's kick for extra point was good but a linesman was offside and rendered the

C. C. GRIDDERS DOWN HUNTINGTON ELEVEN

Rout South Side's Victors By Overwhelming Score; Superior in All Departments.

Central Catholic high school battled Huntington to a 30 to 11 defeat last Saturday at Lincoln Life field. Huntington, earlier in the season, defeated South Side, 13 to 6.

Huntington scored in the last minutes of the game when Coach Koehl's third string men were in. It was in the second quarter when the squirming Irish backfield worked and battered through the Huntington line for long gains that scored two touchdowns.

Irish Get Stronger
In the second half the Irish showed the best form, playing the bewildered Huntington team off its feet. The Irish line held like a stone wall throughout the game. In the last two minutes, after numerous substitutions in the Catholic team, Huntington was able to score after a long pass.

point illegal. Aldrich injured his knee while tackling a Tech back and Brubaker was inserted into the game.

South Side cut loose with all the football it knew in an attempt to win. Tech punted and Brubaker returned it to Tech's 30-yard line on a fake place-kick formation. Currie hurried a pass to Brubaker on Tech's five-yard line. Currie dodged and twisted through for a touchdown. Currie added a point on a dropkick.

In a vain attempt to win Tech started a forward pass attack which terminated when Brubaker intercepted a pass which was intended for Cliff, who was lying out on the extreme edge of the field. The game ended with Tech in possession of the ball on its own 40-yard line.

GUARDING FROM REAR WILL BRING PENALTY

Several Minor Changes Made in Basketball Code By Joint Rules Committee.

Net fans will notice few changes in basketball rules this year as the joint rules committee at its annual meeting made only minor changes in the playing code.

One of the most important interpretations was making guarding from the rear a foul if there is any personal contact. Heretofore this was left to the judgment of the officials. Now there will be no question about calling this foul.

"Traveling" Curtailed
The player, according to the new regulations, must get rid of the ball before his "pivot" foot leaves the floor. It will cut down the tendency to "travel" with the ball.

Last season a player was allowed one step and the ball was supposed to leave his hand before the other foot touched the floor. It amounted to a step and a half.

The word "pivot" was defined so that an official can discriminate between correct pivoting and traveling with the ball.

Under the new ruling a substitute sent into the game must actually play before being withdrawn.

More Work For Umpire.

The umpire's duties were expanded so that he can call out of bounds on his side of the court and also toss the ball up in scrimmages near him.

GRADE SCHOOLS TO HOLD FOOTBALL TOURNEY HERE

Prizes to Be Given for Proficiency in Punting, Drop-Kicking, and Passing

The grade school football tournament will be held Tuesday, November 18 at the South Side stadium at 3 o'clock. All the schools in the city will participate.

Boys that are large enough to kick and throw a football are and are doing passing work in their lessons will be allowed to take part.

The judges will be Ward Gilbert, Lundy Welborne and the principals of the schools that take part.

Prizes will be given to the boys that are winners in the three events: punting, drop-kicking and passing.

SECONDS OPEN COURT SEASON WITH VICTORY

Defeat New Haven Varsity by Margin of One Point; Hold Lead Throughout Game.

LOSERS' RALLY NEARLY TURNS DEFEAT INTO WIN

Score Nine Points While Holding Green Pointless in Closing Minutes of Play.

The South Side second team pried the lid off the basketball season by defeating the New Haven varsity, 26 to 25, in an exciting game Saturday night at New Haven.

Although outweighed, the seconds jumped into the lead at the beginning and held it throughout the game. The first half ended 12 to 9.

New Haven Rallies

In the second half the Kelley Klads started off with a rush but were nearly tied in the middle of the second half. The Green again pulled ahead and had the score 26 to 16 when the New Haven tossers started a desperate rally that ran their total from 16 to 25. Just before the gun sounded, Hiser, of the home team, dropped the ball through the net and brought his team within one point of South Side.

The entire South Side team played well. Fleming scored three field goals in the second half and one in the first, while Simon played well until forced out of the game on personals.

CENTRAL OVERWHELMED BY ELKHART'S ATTACK

Fumbles Lost Two Chances To Score; Visitors' Goal Not Crossed This Season.

Central high fell a victim by the score of 54 to 0, Saturday at the stadium, to the invincible Elkhart eleven that has not been scored on this fall. Elkhart, backed by a thousand rooters and a band and drum corps, outplayed Central in all departments of the game.

Central carried the ball into scoring distance two times during the game, but lost the ball on fumbles. Peterson, of Elkhart, was the outstanding player of the game, going over Central's line for four touchdowns. He carried the ball for numerous long gains.

Central Line Erratic

Central's line played off and on football, holding well at times and leaving large gaps at other times. The aerial game played an important part in the game, Elkhart gaining many yards with the overhead play, though Central was successful in spearing several of their passes. Central attempted to gain yardage by this means, but Elkhart was superior in this branch of the game.

TENNIS COURTS TO BE READY NEXT SUMMER

The tennis courts at the north end of the stadium will be put in condition early next year, according to Mr. Collier, business manager of the schools. The ground is in good shape but the courts are not measured off and the net posts are not in.

Drill Held This Evening

All girls who couldn't come out Wednesday evening for the Indian club special drill for gym exhibition are asked to meet in Miss Hadsell's office this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Long and Short of Football Team: Ed Rahe and George Nulf

The Matt and Jeff of South Side's football team are Ed Rahe and George Nulf.

Ed Rahe, who is six feet two inches tall and weighs 165 pounds, has played two years of football as a regular and is now completing his last at South Side. George Nulf, who is not much over five feet tall, and weighs 130 pounds, is playing his first year for South Side and has two more years ahead of him.

Rahe plays at right tackle and Nulf substitutes for Ed Aldrich at right half. Rahe has made the all-city team for the last two years and is considered a heady, dependable linesman. Nulf makes up in speed what he lacks in size and has given good account of himself this year.

Though there is much difference in their size, both are alike in fighting ability.

The final game in the Wabash Valley Football conference was played Saturday at Peru, when Wabash won by the score of 33 to 14. Wabash has gone through the season without a defeat and has the undisputed claim to the title.

Huntington finished second and South Side third. There was a three-way tie for fourth place.

Two of Wabash's victories came over her nearest competitors, Huntington and South Side. The only game that Huntington lost was to the Wabash eleven. South Side lost her two games to Wabash and to Huntington and in turn has wins over Logansport and Peru.

The schedule for next year in the conference will be the same, except that the places of playing have been reversed. South Side will play Wabash and Logansport here next fall and will journey out of town to meet Huntington and Peru.

TOURNEY CHANGE HARMFUL, ASSERT SPORTS EDITORS

Say New Plan For Distributing Funds Will Cause Few Big Schools To Bid For Sectional Meets.

CLAIM SYSTEM UNFAIR TO CONDUCTING SCHOOL

Actual Loss To Some Will Probably Result Is Believed; Editors Like the Old Way.

That the changes made in the method of distributing funds of the basketball tournaments will do great harm to the net game in Indiana, is the opinion of sports writers in the state. The new system they attack, provides for the equal distribution of funds to each school entered, instead of distributing them on the basis of number of season tickets sold by each school.

South Side would be sure to lose money because of the large amount of expense the school would have to bear. The Wabash Valley Football conference has gone on record against the change.

Enthusiasm Jolted
An article pointing out the dangers likely to arise under the changed system appears in the latest issue of the Basketball World. The writer says: "Basketball enthusiasm received a severe jolt at the state meeting of the organization last month due to some radical changes effected by the vote of some of the smaller high schools in the state. As a consequence many of the larger schools which heretofore have held the sectional, contemplate not bidding for the tournaments this year because of the new ruling adopted in giving the smaller schools an equal split on the gate receipts after payment of some expenses and a small allotment to the school holding sectional, regardless of the number of tickets each school has sold for the sectional meet."

R. L. Hesler, special correspondent for the Crawfordsville Journal, has interpreted the situation in this manner:

On Dangerous Ground
"High school basketball is treading on dangerous ground, at least a certain element in high school basketball is doing this, and unless great care is exercised the popular Hoosier sport may find itself in a very badly disarranged order."

"Basketball in Indiana has had a remarkable growth in the last ten years and today the Hoosier state holds the most enviable position in the entire country as far as the court game is concerned."

Will Cause Trouble
"Thursday at Indianapolis a majority of the schools in the state association held a series of meetings at which radical changes were made in the rules governing the play of all contestants. Some of these rules may have been justified while others are bound to cause trouble and possibly a breakup of the association."
"Through the clever work of A. L. Trester, state secretary, and his assistants, a powerful association, the finest in America, has been formed. This association has approximately 500 members all functioning in an orderly and satisfactory manner."

Radical Step
"For years it has been the custom to hold the sectional tournaments in the larger circles throughout the state. Thursday a radical step was taken and if carried out means that many of the larger schools will abandon their plans to again sponsor the sectionals this year."

"In the past the school under whose auspices the tournament is conducted has received a guarantee of $100 and a certain amount of the door receipts determined by the number of season tickets sold. Many of the smaller schools have claimed this method to be unfair and are now demanding that the receipts be divided equally among all contestants."

Change Is Unfair
"Such a change would be very unfair to the school conducting the tournament and oftentimes would result in a financial loss to that school. Some of the larger schools whose sectional tournaments have been held in the past have balked at this plan and declare that they will not handle the tournaments under such an arrangement."
"This would mean that the sectionals in many centers would have to be transferred to smaller towns with limited seating capacities. Many of the fans would be unable to get seats under such an arrangement and the game would suffer to a great extent."

Demands Harmful
"While the smaller schools should be given every consideration it is believed that their demands in some respect are unfair and instead of proving beneficial would result in placing a handicap on the state association."

"Under the present arrangement the smaller school has the same chance to profit in a sectional tournament as the larger school."

Hard to Get Centers
William Frank Fox, basketball authority with the Indianapolis News writes, after a tour through Indiana: "I found out that there is a great deal of discontent among the larger towns about that basketball barge known as the annual sectional conflict and I want to tell you that it's going to be as hard to find a sectional center this year as it would be to get a ticket for a football game between Illinois and Notre Dame."

South Side Gridders Eagerly Awaiting Chance to Battle Traditional Rivals From Central in Annual City Title Scrap

SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SQUAD, 1924
With a fairly successful season behind them and with only one game more on the schedule, South Side's pigskin chasers are prepared to give everything they have Saturday when they meet Central. Though the dope favors South Side, the emerald clads know that they will have a battle royal when they meet the Tigers.

HOME NET FANS TO SEE THIRTEEN BATTLES IN GYM

Best Teams In Northern Indiana and Other Parts of State Are Booked To Play Here This Winter.

TWO CENTRAL SCRAP'S
HIGH SPOTS OF SEASON

Richmond and North Manchester, 1924 State Finalists, Will Play on Local Court.

Thirteen home games will be offered on the basketball menu this winter. Seven out-of-town games will also be played. The thirteen games on the local hardwood court will be with the best teams of northern Indiana and with some of the strongest of the downstate teams. Two of the most important games will be with Central, one game being played in January and the other in February.

State Finalists Here
Richmond and North Manchester, two teams that played in the state finals at Indianapolis last March, will appear here. Richmond is the team that put South Side out of the running in the first game at the state classic. Kendallville, South Side's friendly enemy, will play here this year. Huntington, who gave the Green and White such a battle in the last game in the regional, will open the season on December 6.

Logansport, under the expert tutelage of Coach Wells, who has brought one team into the state championship, will be here the middle of January. Manual Training, of Indianapolis, will be one of the biggest attractions near the end of the season.

Among South Side's most important games on foreign floors are the ones with Shelbyville, last year state finalists, South Bend and Hartford City, which is being coached by Gullion, former Purdue star.

The Schedule
The schedule is as follows:
December 6—Huntington. Here.
December 12—Garrett. There.
December 13—Kendallville. Here.
December 19—Columbia City. Here.
January 3—Portland. Here.
January 9—West Lafayette. There.
January 10—Angola. Here.
January 16—Montpelier. There.
January 17—Logansport. Here.
January 20—Central. Here.
January 23—Wabash. There.
January 24—Culver. Here.
January 30—Shelbyville. There.
January 31—No. Manchester. Here.
February 6—South Bend. There.
February 7—Richmond. Here.
February 13—Hartford City. There.
February 14—Central. Here.
February 20—Open.
February 21—Manual Training. Here.
February 27—Peru. Here.

FRESHMEN WIN VICTORY FROM RHINIES OF C. C.

Our Boys Show Regular South Side Fight in Preliminary to Huntington-C. C. Game

South Side freshmen, who have been practicing diligently for the last four weeks, were repaid by an 18 to 6 victory over the Central Catholic freshmen in the preliminary at the C. C. Huntington game.

Howard Distal was the outstanding star of our freshmen, making all 18 points for South Side.

The South Side freshmen showed the renowned Green and White fight throughout the game.

Sport Shorts

What do you think of the team now? Are we going to beat Central?

It's a good thing that game was played on Friday or there would have been many absences on Monday due to lack of recuperation.

Who was the outstanding star of the Tech-S. S. game? We would have to mention the whole team because each player played his best.

Couldn't we entitle the backfield of Staley, Aldrich, Currie, and Richendollar as the "Four Horsemen." They surely rode rough-shod over, through, and around the Tech team.

Charlie could be well included but we would find it necessary to change the title. Chuck ran wild the few minutes he was in the game.

Schopf is a mean end, isn't he?

Aldrich celebrated his return to the lineup. Aren't we glad he had all that saved up? We needed it.

Currie was just as good as ever.

Staley reminded the fans of Stuhl-dreher of Notre Dame by the mechanical precision with which he ran the team.

Rich showed the Tech line what a real fullback could do.

Eddie Rahe and Abe Martin helped heaps by their recovery of fumbles.

When Aldrich hits them they go like this

When "Rich" hits them they go like this

Anyhow they lose their equilibrium.

Huntington will be our first hardwood foe. The Wardoites will play here on home territory on December 6

Rival Coaches Again Will Have Their Elevens Meet in Battle

Courtesy of News-Sentinel

Mark Bills and Lundy Welborn will once more meet in gridiron strife tomorrow. True, they will not don moleskins and will not come in bodily conflict. Theirs will be a battle of wits. They are the coaches of the contending Central and South Side teams and what their teams do in the game will decide which is to win this battle of brains.

These two coaches confronted each other last year, Welborn as coach of the Wilkinson high school team and Bills as mentor at Noblesville. Welborn's men won that game, though he says that Bill's gridders furnished the toughest opposition of the year.

Let's fill the stadium so full Saturday that if it would be seen from an aeroplane, one side would seem one solid, excited mass of Kelly Green.

Central is determined to fill its side with Blue rosters. And they're also determined that their rosters will be anything but blue at the end of the game.

And the Lundy men are resolved that South Side will not be green with envy at the end of the game.

The feminine pedagogues surely are stepping gayly over the hardwood. Every member of the team is a star, and they are determined to make things "hot" for the class teams they meet.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS BEAT FACULTY WOMEN'S TEAM

Three Sets of Second Year Girls Vanquish Teachers in Close Contest

PRACTICE SCHEDULE—GIRLS' BASKETBALL
November 14—Freshmen.
November 17—Soph. Junior, Senior
November 21—Freshmen vs. Faculty.

The sophs defeated the fair pedagogues, 22-18, in the first basket ball practice for the girls held last week. It really couldn't have been called a game as no time was kept, and three different sets of sophs stacked up against their teachers.

Miss Perkins at side-center, and Miss Thorne at center make a combination that can't be beat. The Misses Mott, Pittenger and Esarey are competing for the hard job of guard. Miss Woodward is another candidate for the side-center berth, while Miss Hadsell, and Miss Bert are bearing the job of forward upon their shoulders. This scoring machine is expected to turn out to be a smooth working article, because they totaled eighteen points in their first game.

Miss Hadsell is expecting to have the class schedule with Central arranged soon.

Carrots Put on List
As Miss Dixon insists that carrots are non-harmful for basketball training, Miss Hadsell has given her consent that girls be allowed to eat them.

LEADING ROOM AGENTS SEND RECORDS HIGHER

Battle Is On To See Which Can Obtain Best Percentage; Poorer Rooms Same.

Twelve rooms are over the hundred per cent mark this week as a result of the agents' attempt to see which can remain at the top.

There are very few improvements shown in the poorer rooms this week. This may be due to the inconsistency of the agents in their work, or the lack of school spirit of some pupils.

In those rooms where there are one or two who can not subscribe for the Times, they are asked to kindly get someone outside of school to subscribe and in that way fill their vacancy. These subscribers will be mailed their paper," he added.

In order that more pupils may subscribe, promissory notes have been issued which will come due November 30. It is requested that more pupils subscribe as the percentage of the school will be an important factor when the Times is judged at the C. I. P. A. convention.

If any wish to sign notes they may be procured from Chester Wyneken's office, opposite Room 36.

STUDENTS HAVE BIRTHDAYS SOON

Youngest Will Reach Age Of Thirteen While More Approach Seventeen Years.

Sixteen students of South Side will celebrate their birthdays in the coming week.

Samuel Newell and Craig Lanbenstein are fifteen years old today. Tomorrow both Jack Baals and Carl Frederick will be fourteen, while Elizabeth Halley will reach the coveted age of seventeen years.

Pauline Slaker, who will be seventeen years old, too, is the only celebrant of November 15. On the next day, Ivan Rinehart and Kathryn Henline will be seventeen years of age. Lloyd Roe and Arnold Bescke will have birthdays on November 17.

The most popular day of all is November 18, for it has four celebrants. Clarence Young will be thirteen, George Brinkman and Charles Waltemath, both fifteen, and Herbert Weinraub "sweet sixteen." November 19 claims Elizabeth Schaefer and Paul Staigh, both seventeen.

AT THE RIALTO

In chapter three of the police serial "Into the Net" featuring Edna Murphy and Jack Mulhall and showing today, tomorrow and Saturday at the Rialto theatre, the call goes out from police headquarters to all stations notifying them to watch for car No. 042133, for in the car is Natalie Van Cleef, caught in the toils of the net of a clever gang of criminals. Detectives were on guard at the opera house to prevent this very happening, but Dr. Vining and his assistants chase through the congested traffic on New York's world famous thoroughfare—Broadway, Times Square, Fifth Avenue—and on Brooklyn bridge comes a thrilling climax.

Hold Your Breath Pep—punch—laughs—thrills—that's the Al Christie feature, "Hold Your Breath." It has all the breeziness of those uproariously funny Christie comedies in addition to a whole of a story of a girl reporter. And it has one of the greatest comedy casts ever assembled. Irrepressible Dorothy Devore, who has starred in numerous Christie comedies and played leads in features; Walter Hiers, jovial plump comedian; Tully Marshall, one of the greatest character actors on the screen; Jimmie Adams, Priscilla Bonner, Jimmie Harrison and Lincoln Plumer comprise less than half the cast, but these names are enough to give you an idea of the high-class quality of the production. If you want a good time or are itching for excitement come to the Rialto today, tomorrow and Saturday and "Hold Your Breath."

MUSICAL TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY BY SCHOOL TALENT

Girls' Glee Club to Present Cantata Entitled "Three Springs," by Bliss

SOUTH SIDE ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY SELECTIONS

P. T. A. in Charge of Selling Tickets; Money to Be Used for Band

The South Side musicale will be given in the sessions room on Friday, November 21, at 3 o'clock. Boys and girls of considerable talent are included in the program.

The main feature of the musicale consists of a cantata to be presented by the Girls' Glee club, which is composed of more than one hundred girls.

The entire program has been arranged as follows:
Selection.....South Side Orchestra
Vocal Solo.....Marjorie Matlack
Violin Solo.....Jack Teeters
Cello Solo.....Frederick Pierce
Selection.....Girls' Quartet
Thelma Bireley, Ruth Wehmhoff,
Marjorie Matlack, Dorothy Kohlmeier.

Canta, "Three Springs".....Bliss
Girls' Glee Club.

"Three Springs" is a story of three springs that rise high on the mountain side under a willow tree. One is blue, one is white and one is gold. The dip of the willow branches bids each a fond farewell.

First, in the little limpid pool they listen to the Butterfly's advice to the ambitious Lily—"be content," then down the Brook they flow merrily, cheerily, until they come to the Three Little Falls, where it is "rough and dark" but "cool, oh, cool."

They go down the sluggish, slow-moving river, hearing the song of the rowers, then "leaping and falling" they shoot over the "Great Waterfall," and at last from the tip of a wave out on the ocean vast, they are drawn up by the sun to the soft clouds above, to be wafted back to their lovely home, high on the mountain-side.

Tickets for this musicale will be sold by the Parent-Teachers' association. The money will be used to help pay for the band players' new uniforms.

FATHER-SON MOVEMENT CONSIDERED SUCCESSFUL

A. G. Barry Is Toastmaster at Junior
H-Y Banquet Held
November 12

"The father and son movement is becoming more successful every year," exclaimed Toastmaster A. G. Barry to eighty-five fathers and sons at the Junior H-Y banquet, November 12. He, the father of Ralph Barry, a South Sider, called attention to the fact that South Side had the largest attendance and that all the speakers were South Siders.

Page Robinson's orchestra furnished the music before the following program:
Father and Son Songs.....Everyone
"We're Glad You're Here".....
"Thank You".....E. W. Pierce
"What I Expect of Dad".....
"What I Found About the Boys at Camp".....Frank Ruf
"What I Expect of My Boys".....
"When We Were Boys".....R. G. Ewell
E. A. Richardson, a noted humorist, kept the "papas and kids" as he put it, laughing at his acts for about fifteen minutes. Then after each fellow gladly introduced his dad, they enjoyed themselves the rest of the evening with various games in the boys' department.

GOT YOURS YET?

Nine hundred samples of "Glo-Co" hair dressing are being distributed by the Star Confectionary through the TIMES. The regular cost of this sample is ten cents, making the lot worth ninety dollars, but arrangements have been made through this paper by which they will be given free. A copy of the ad for "Glo-Co" that appears in this issue must be exchanged for the sample. There might not be enough bottles to go around, so we advise you to get yours early.

"Year Book is Necessary Part of High School Life," Students Say

Some Suggest Departments That They Think Could Be Improved; All Believe In Backing Staff and Hope That the 1925 Totem Excels Other Two Issues.

"The publications of a school are a necessary part of it," is the conclusion of many active South Siders when giving their opinion about the Totem. One point seems to be driven home to them that each student should purchase a Totem if he wishes his high school career to be complete.

James Willson, South Side's hero of the clay court, says, "I think last year's Totem was about as good as a high school annual as has been published. Very few people appreciate the amount of work it represents."

We all agree with him when he adds, "I hope the 1925 Totem is even better than last year's wonder. I like the senior section best because it is devoted to those whom we will not see in high school again."

Mary McCurdy said, "I think that a high school annual is a very desirable, if not necessary, part of high school life."

"The Totem is one of the best annuals in one of the best high schools in the United States," our snappy little yell leader went on. "Surely everyone will want one of these books. In future years, when we are through school, we will appreciate having a Totem more than we do now."

"I believe the annual is a vital part of school life and I intend to get one this year," Frances Buckles declared. "I wish, however, that more departments could be represented in our annual. I think this would make the Totem better than it was last year."

"Although I have never owned a Totem," Mary Hughes commented, "I have heard and seen a great deal about the Totem. I think a fine way to show school spirit is to back the Totem staff so that they can make this year's the best ever."

Edward Hulce, senior class president, carries practically the same thought because he said, "I think we should all support the Totem staff because in that way only can they bring honor to the school. The Totem helps to foster school loyalty by informing everyone of events and happenings at school."

"I liked the Totem last year but I expect to enjoy this year's book even more, for I hear it is to contain more pictures and jokes," Gertrude Brouwer declared. "I like these selections better than any others. Everyone should back the Totem to help make it the finest in the United States."

Bud Beck, who devotes a great amount of time to the Times, exclaimed: "Sure, I am going to buy a Totem. I have a hunch that it's going to be a bigger prize winner than ever before. I think the book as a whole is mighty fine, but I wish the jokes could be improved."

Our famous football team captain said: "Naturally, the athletic section interests me most. I think that as athletes play a big part at South Side they should be played up big."

"I back the Totem," he concluded, "because it is a part of the school, and I am all for South Side."

"I am very much interested in the Totem and I expect to buy one," Don McCucas stated emphatically. "So far, I don't know very much about this year's book, but I am going to support the staff and help all I can to boost the 1925 annual."

SOUTH SIDE IS VISITED BY NOTED HUMORIST

"Wonderful school," exclaimed E. A. Richardson on his short visit to South Side, last Thursday morning. Mr. Richardson, known to his readers as "Big Rich" is one of Indiana's noted humorous poem writers.

He likes South Side's spirit and remarked about South Side being represented by the great number of fathers and sons at both H-Y banquets where he gave a few of his selections. "I have heard of South Side and it deserves all the praise given it," he told us.

"Big Rich" spent the week-end at the Y. M. C. A. He expressed the desire to visit South Side again.

To Go to "Pen"

A party of cadets from the Westport high school, of Kansas City, Missouri, is being organized for an excursion to Fort Leavenworth to visit the federal penitentiary and the United States disciplinary barracks. They are to be shown through the whole prison.

Scouts as City Officials
A senior of the Marion high school acted as city mayor for one day. The other city officers were also filled by boy scouts. In addition to fulfilling all elected offices, the scouts acted as traffic officers and really arrested some people who broke the laws. The mayor praised highly the work of the boy scouts.

Move Quickly

A fire drill was recently conducted at the Addison Junior high school of Cleveland, Ohio. It took one minute and fifty seconds to clear the building. This was very good for a school of its size.

SCRIBES DECIDE MADISON TRIP

Will Leave Fort Wayne on Thanksgiving Noon and Will Return Following Sunday

TO "SIGHT-SEE" CHICAGO

Twelve people are expecting to represent South Side at the Central Inter-scholastic Press convention to be held at Madison, Wisconsin, November 28 and 29.

There are nine from the Times staff: Bud Beck, Cornelia Bade, Pauline Baumgartner, Margaret Welsh, Helen Crawford, Lucille Grosvenor, Ruth Eickmeyer, William P.anness and probably Mary Falk.

The Totem will be represented by David Bridge and someone else not yet decided upon. Miss Harvey will go on behalf of both publications. George Wyss may also go. Lucille app is planning to go, also.

The delegates are planning to leave at 12:55 p. m. Thanksgiving day, arriving at Chicago at 4:55. A trip through a newspaper plant will probably be arranged, as the train for Madison does not leave until 2:01 the following morning. They arrive at 7:30 a. m. just in time to register, and then attend the opening meeting.

The local scribes will spend from 1:20 to 11:30 Sunday morning journeying from Madison to Chicago. They will leave at about 1:15 and arrive home at 7:25.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE CHRISTMAS PLAY SOON

Playlet Will Be Presented at Little Art Theatre on December 19 and 20

The Children's Players club recently founded by Mrs. Virginia Philley Withey was formed for the purpose of directing the members toward a more serious study in dramatic art.

This club has about twenty-five members, the majority of whom are rehearsing the "Bird's Christmas Carol." This play is to be presented at the Little Art theatre Friday evening, December 19, and matinee and night December 20.

The officers of the club are Mary Hale, president; Virginia Drage, vice-president; Helen Crawford, secretary; Betty Hutchins, treasurer; Helen Novitsky, chairman of line program committee, and George Thinklam, stage manager.

The cast for the "Bird's Christmas Carol" are:
Carol Bird.....Virginia Beverford
Mrs. Bird.....Mary Hale

CHEMISTRY LAB DRAWS DEVOTEE

Ex-Centralite Puts In Many Hours a Day Here Helping
Mr. Voorhees.

While the school hours tick merrily on and most of us, in our folly, are groaning under the huge assignments inflicted upon us by our teachers, Stanley Guenther's brother, graduated from Central. He says that he has no special ambition but, nevertheless, Mr. Voorhees says with a just pride, "I think he will be a chemist!"

"Perhaps," Stanley answers, and then adds modestly, "I am going to enter the University of California in January."

A few hours every day are spent by this industrious young man in the chemistry laboratory at South Side. He has worked in the storehouse cleaning it and refilling the bottles. He has also prepared many solutions for Mr. Voorhees' classes. This task requires no mean amount of chemical skill and knowledge.

Besides this time spent at South Side he is also carrying fifteen hours' work in the Indiana University Extension course. Mr. Voorhees taught Stanley at Central and now has him as a student in the U. C. course.

Mr. Voorhees can not refrain from breaking out in praise of the youth. "Why, he is my right-hand man!" he will exclaim.

"Oh! I am only fooling around," Stanley will rejoin quietly.

MISS MILLER'S PUPILS MAP ELECTORAL VOTES

Every pupil in Miss Miller's history classes made a map last week of the election of 1924. The electoral vote of each state was indicated, and the number of electoral votes which each presidential candidate received. The total vote was 270, the total number of senators and representatives. Indiana has 15 electoral votes.

GLEE CLUBS PLAN TO GIVE PERFORMANCES

"The Girls' Glee club will give a Christmas cantata and shortly after this performance the Boys' Glee club will give a minstrel show, for which the exact date has not yet been decided upon," stated Mr. Schafer when interviewed this week.

MRS. KARL BOLANDER ADDRESSES ART CLUB

Gives Talk on Practical Art; Girls Quartet Entertains, and Social Time Enjoyed

The benefits of an art club was the theme of the art meeting which was held Monday, November 16.

Mrs. Karl Bolander opened the discussion by giving a general talk on practical art such as would be applied to a home: interior decorating, color harmony, adaptable furniture, and the selection of articles for the home. The keynote of the discussion was, "Beauty in Common Things."

The girls' quartet gave a number of selections which were very interesting.

The remainder of the program was a reading by Mary Hale; songs by Thelma Bireley; violin solo by Jack Teeter, and a reading by Evelyn Schwartz.

After the program a social time was enjoyed.

PEDAGOGUE GIVES WORLD WAR COSTS

Uses Striking Local Illustration to Demonstrate Enormous Cost of the Great World War.

In a unique manner Mr. Murphy recently presented the relative costs of the World War.

"There are approximately 12,000,000 Dodges and Fords in use now," Mr. Murphy stated. "If we could set them in a straight line they would circle the world one and one-half times. If we put five men in each car we could accommodate all the men engaged in the World War."

He paused a moment to allow the students to comprehend this as best they could, and then went on: "If the cost of the World War was computed in silver dollars, there would be 10,000,000 tons," he said. "This would fill 333,333 carloads. We would need 3,333 trains of 100 cars each to carry it. This amount computed in gold weighs 580,000 tons."

Using a local illustration, Mr. Murphy added, "Take the First National Bank building, place the Shoff building on it and then set the Keenan Hotel on top of the other two buildings, and have a cube as high, long, and wide as the distance from the street up to the top of the three buildings, then we would have a large 'enough place to hold the dollars.'"

Give Sacred Program

The Cherokee Glee clubs of the Cherokee high school, Cherokee, Oklahoma, gave a sacred program at the Methodist church Sunday, November 3.

Miss Tucker Recovers

Miss Tucker has been discharged from the Irene Byron hospital and will go to her home in Indianapolis, near Indianapolis, next Saturday.

ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE NIGHT HELD HERE THIS EVENING

Class Rooms Open for Inspection from 7:15 to 8 o'clock;
Students Are Urged to Bring Parents to See Building Features and Equipment

DINNER WILL BE SERVED IN CAFETERIA
TO THOSE WHO WISH TO COME EARLY

An Entertainment by the South Side High School Quartet and Orchestra Will Be Held in Gymnasium After Classer are Over

Outsiders will be given an opportunity to gain an idea of our school and student body, and to view our equipment at Open House this evening. The purpose of Open House Night is to bring greater co-operation between teachers, parent, and pupil. Activities will commence at 5:30, at which time a chicken dinner will be served in the cafeteria. At 7:15 class recitations will begin and at 8:00 o'clock a musical program will be given in the gymnasium.

The dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. The menu will include fried chicken, baked ham, escalloped oysters, candied sweet potatoes, pumpkin pie, and cranberry jelly. This meal will be served under the direction of Miss Dixon, manager of the cafeteria.

The musical program which follows the class recitations consists of the following numbers:
Orchestra.....Jack Teeters
Violin Solo.....Marjorie Matlack
Vocal Solo.....LaVerne Siegel
Cello Solo.....Frederick Peirce
Orchestra.....

Mr. Schafer has charge of the entertainment and plans to charge ten cents admission. The proceeds will be used to defray the cost of the new uniforms for the band.

The times staff, which usually meets the eighth period each day in room 20 will have an exhibition in the center corridor to show the remarkable growth of the paper since its inception a little over two years ago.

A volunteer laboratory class in chemistry will work during open house in the chemistry laboratory to find out the food value of rolled oats. This class usually meets on Tuesday afternoon but asked permission to demonstrate to the visitors tonight the educational value of chemistry and to show the excellent equipment.

Beginning at 7:15 tonight, the South Side grade students will also hold open house. They occupy practically the entire southern portion of the building and a capacity crowd is expected to hear them recite.

There will be thirty-one high school classrooms busy tonight, and practically every grade of each subject will be represented. The regular programs for the eighth period classes will be carried out, and outsiders are allowed to go from room to room as they wish.

The eighth period will be dropped from the regular schedule today and all those who do not have a class that period are required to report tonight at the library or the session room and stay there during the recitation hour.

The following list of teachers, rooms, and subjects for tonight will be a guide for those less acquainted with the school.

JOYFUL VACATION
ONE WEEK AWAY

Students Already Planning
What They Will Do During Thanksgiving Holiday.

At 3 o'clock on Wednesday, November 26, with jubilant shouts, a crowd of happy students will rush out of the South Side high school. Each will have his individual ideas of spending his brief holiday and will be endeavoring, amid the clamor, to communicate it to as many of his friends as possible.

Some will leave town, others will have parties and dances, while the luring young hunters will double. They will have to add one more groan to the festive board by the contribution of a pair of fat young rabbits (fond hopes doubtless to be shattered by the apparently premeditated absence of the rabbits).

A more sedate group will follow these bubbling spirits out of the school. In this group will be the principal and teachers. By the smiles on their faces it is apparent that they also welcome the brief respite from their daily tasks.

On the following Monday morning before 8:20, a crowd of solemn students and teachers will walk slowly into school. Some will bear evidences of severe pains caused by eating too freely of the Thanksgiving feasts while others will show the round of merriment by their heavy lidded eyes, but all will be ready to resume their studies in earnest after their vacations.

MR. NULL FORCED TO CHANGE HIS CLASSES

"My new duties as supervisor of English will not affect my work here at South Side, except that next term I will conduct only two classes instead of three," said Mr. Null this week.

His new position has forced Mr. Null to give up his afternoon classes so he has exchanged one of his classes with Mr. Makey. Mr. Makey is now taking Mr. Null's eighth period class while Mr. Null has Mr. Makey's third period class. As the classes were doing the same work, no difficulties are expected. Mr. Null now has classes the first three periods.

Dig Up Old Lore
The class studying Virgil in the Yakima high school of Yakima, Washington, have been studying mythology. Special reports have been made on early bread and wine making and the structure of Greek and Roman temples. A special study of English words derived from the Latin is made in all Latin classes.

To Donate Books
"Bring a Book" is the slogan for the week at the Central Catholic high school of Toledo. In order to add to the library, outsiders are asked to bring books to the school. If no books can be obtained, money donations will be accepted.

Should Watch Bulletin Board
All girls out for basketball should watch the bulletin board outside Miss Hadsell's office to know when their group practices basketball. A change in time may be made.

Will Officiate
Mr. Davis is arranging a schedule for officiating at high school and college basketball games. He has four engagements to date.

Inspect Flour Mill
The physiology club members of the Wichita, (Kan.) high school were taken on a very interesting trip through the Red Star Flour mill. They were taken to the top of the mill which is one hundred eighty-seven feet high. They were shown how the wheat is ground into flour. The entire trip took about one and a half hours.

How do you like the program of your choosing?

When, oh, when, do these cross word puzzle fiends find time to get mere assignments?

If your grades weren't A's this time, begin now to make them so for final semester grades

One disadvantage in being an upper classman is that you're considered too grown up to forget an assignment, lose a book, or study the wrong lesson. But many are they who, despite this disadvantage, would keenly enjoy passing out of the "mere freshman" stage.

The debate schedule starts soon. Good, although largely green material, is on hand. The public speaking department, at the beginning of the term, said it would be satisfied with the support of only ten per cent of the students. Not even five people, beside the debaters themselves, made up several of our debate audiences last year. Surely, South Side can do better than this to promote her growth in this pursuit.

The progress of the band has been remarkable. From a tiny group of earnest and persevering boys, who would not believe South Side incapable of producing a band, it has grown to the now well organized and attractively garbed outfit that displayed its ability, the result of the efforts of the directors and of practice, at the Senior Carnival and the Central game.

Two years ago, at a certain football game, a tiny group, practically unknown, untrained, and certainly unheralded, took its place before the rosters and gallantly played the old school song. The crowd jeered and mocked these boys, who are largely responsible for our band of today. Did these boys give up? Indeed not. Urging and encouragement brought in more and more boys until the band which struck up "To The School That Has No Equal" Saturday was turned out.

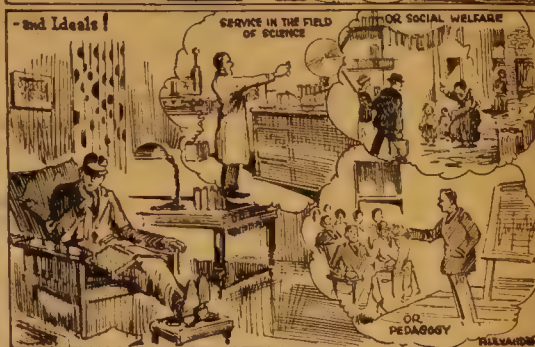

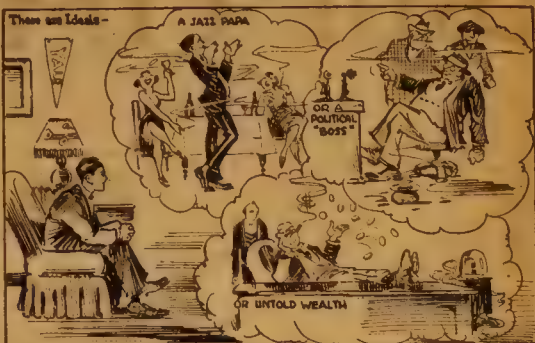

There has been quite a misunderstanding on the part of some people in this school in regard to the cartoon and subsequent editorial in the Times last week. The sole purpose was to challenge the school to better cheering, but, because a single cheer-leader was pictured, some have taken it for an indirect "slam" at our cheer-leaders. Far be it from any sort of the thing! The varied results in yelling are due not to the lack of effort among the leaders, but to the indifference with which the rosters regard them. The single cheer leader depicted unification rather than any certain person, and any interpretation that took for granted that the Times was "knocking" our leaders missed entirely the spirit of the cartoon. "For Green and White with Main and Might" has been, and will continue to be, the slogan of the Times.

As you enter the building your eyes fall on an immense display of green cardboard, marked off as a miniature football field. A player, with ball held securely, is about to move down the field. This is a device of the Totem circulation department to record the progress of the subscription campaign. Each ten yards will represent a certain number of subscribers.

The campaign is very much like a football game. When we've reached the established goal we scored a touchdown. The campaign is unlike a grid fray in that the contestants need not be limited to eleven men. Everyone can and must take part. The hanging back of a few will prevent the team from making its yards. Get into the fight! Don't let negligence, the opponent score a single point. The Totem agents are the men eligible to carry the ball, but often a score is the direct result of hard tackling, an impetuous line, or a forward pass. Those are your jobs. At any rate get the ball to those who can score.

A Totem victory means as much to the school as a football win. In this fray not eleven but over a thousand are contending, and you're one of them.

Ideals!

A Mite of Verse

HAM AND—

Jim's place can boast three waitresses, You never have to wait.
It's ham and eggs, roast pork, roast beef,
Baked beans, spare ribs, or lamb.
Sweaty and greasy, but smiling and calm.
Molly, or sal, or Peg
Bawl out your order, slam down your drink;
You're served there in no time at all.

Molly serves you ham and eggs,
Coffee hot she brings,
Blushes at your words of praise:
"Speedy kid," you say.

Or Sally brings you proteids,
Carbohydrates, too,
Blushes at your words of praise:
"Speedy kid," you say.

Or Peggy brings you energy
And courage for life's fight,
Blushes at your words of praise:
"Speedy kid," you say.

Molly, or Sal, or Peg
Will serve you with ham and eggs:
But one feeds the beast,
And one feeds the man,
And one feeds the god in you.

In Other Schools

Good Traffic Week

Good Traffic Week began at the Tech high school, Indianapolis, this week. This is to keep students from running down the halls. Everyone must keep to the right and must not shove or cause disorder.

Debate Capital Punishment

A debate will be held at the Northern high school, of Detroit, Michigan, between teams representing the senate and the house of representatives. The subject of this debate is: Resolved, That Capital Punishment Should Be Abolished in the United States.

Enter Lighting Contest

Thirty-four students of the Hutchinson high school, of Hutchinson, Kansas, have signed up for the Home Lighting contest. Great interest is being shown in this contest.

Student Government Debated

A very interesting debate was given October 15 in the Mitchell high school, of Mitchell, Indiana. The question debated upon was "Resolved, that the Mitchell high school should adopt the student government plan." It was stated that the plan worked very well in other schools.

Make Christmas Presents

The manual training department of the Hutchinson (Kansas) high school is preparing to make Christmas gifts. The beginners class are making waste baskets while the advanced class is making tables, cedar chests and piano stools.

Gets Support

The Nautilus, from Bartlesville, Oklahoma, reports that their drive for subscriptions goes over big. Three senior rooms and one junior room have gone 100 per cent for Nautilus subscriptions.

Visit Art Institute

Ten members of the Art club of the Kansas City, Kansas, high school took a trip to the art institute to see the exhibition of Chinese works sent from Ton Ying, dealers in oriental antiques. The paintings were very quaint, most of them being colored brown with small red spots.

Pupils Are Managers

Another victory! The Roosevelt high school of Seattle, Washington, is the only high school in the state that has a lunchroom managed by the students. It is reported that they are making it a success.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

To the Editor:
I am much interested in the discussion over the junior prom. Why should we have a prom at all? It is merely an affair which can be enjoyed by only one class of students—those who are accustomed to the formal dance as a means of entertainment. It seems to me that an entertainment by a class for a class, should be broad enough in its scope to include all the members, and should therefore be supported by all. Surely those students, many of them students in fact as well as in name, who for various reasons are barred from the customary junior prom, are deserving of some consideration in such a matter. And yet the defenders of the prom dare to accuse the rest of selfishness, just because they wish to have an entertainment where all might be welcome.

Have we, the juniors of South Side high school, the courage to disregard tradition and custom; to set for ourselves and those classes to follow, a new social standard?
Come on, juniors, one and all, stand up for your rights!
D. E. L.

To the Editor:
In accordance with what "Merely a '26'er" wished in last week's "Open Letters," I am going to express my opinion in regard to a junior prom for our class.

I am sorry the writer of last week did not come in contact with my thoughts or at least one person would have been found who is not in favor of a prom.

No doubt the "prom" would be a success both financially and socially if we gave it, but this is not the reason for the opposition.

The objection is due to the fact that the so-called "Junior Class Prom" is an affair for a certain group of juniors instead of for the entire junior class.

Many, although I admit I have not expressed their desire for another kind of social event, either some sort of party or a barn dance.

If any group wishes to exhibit clothes at a prom, eliminate this reason by having a "style show."

Come on, juniors, boys as well as girls, let's have a vote, and decide the question in a logical manner.

Not "Merely a '26'er," but a Regular "26'er."

Read A Bit

"Every American citizen is entitled to a liberal education. Without this, there is no guarantee for the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand."
—President Coolidge.

Good Company

Today I have grown taller from walking with the trees,
The seven sister-poplars who go softly in a line;
And I think my heart is whiter for its parley with a star
That trembled out at nightfall and hung above the pine.

The call-note of a redbird from the cedars in the dusk
Woke his happy mate within me to an answer free and fine;
And a sudden angel beckoned from a column of blue smoke
Lord, who am I that they should stoop—these holy folk of thine?
—Karl Wilson Baker, in "Blue Smoke."

We need the Ladies' Home Journal. Do any students take it, who would be willing to bring the old numbers regularly to the library?

The Dean Says

A school patriot is known by the interest which he takes in his regular school work. Why not show your loyalty to South Side high school by bettering your scholarship record before the end of this semester?

Atta Boy, Bob
Harry Wedler, in a speech in public, shouting: "La- Pollette sat there, silently, at the Republican convention, and stood for his ideals."

Miss Work: "What kind of pronoun is 'hic'?"
C. Cven: "Repulsive."

M. McCune (translating Latin): "You prepared fire-brands and faces to burn the city."

That Quieted Them.

The only son had just announced his engagement to his family.

"What? That girl! She squints!" remarked his mother.
"She has absolutely no style," added his sister.
"Red-headed, isn't she?" queried his aunt.
"She's fidgety," said grandma.
"She hasn't any money," put in his uncle.
"She doesn't look strong!" exclaimed his first cousin.
"She's stuck up!" asserted his second cousin.
"She's an extravagant thing!" interposed his third cousin.

"Well, she has one redeeming feature," said the son thoughtfully.

"And what's that?" asked the family in chorus.
"She hasn't any relations," was the quiet reply.

Who?

Florence Hazelett (calling at Majestic theatre): "I wish to reserve a seat for 'The Fool'."

The pup stood on the burning deck—
The flames leaped up around his neck.
Hot dog!

Mr. Makey: "Our classes are changed. You will have no for a teacher now. Mr. Null will give you your first grades and then blame me for the second grades!"

Mr. Whelan: "What is soil made up of?"
Student in P. G. class: "Dirt."

NOW THAT WINTER'S HERE—

Recipe For a Bluff.

One unlearned lesson; one unprepared senior, one confidential facial expression, one dozen big words, six oratorical gestures, six miscellaneous replies which will throw the instructor off the question; mix all ingredients with hot air. Mix quickly and do not allow ingredients to cool. The result will be a bluff.

By Fords?

Bright Sophomore translating Caesar: "He arrived to that part of the Helvetian army which had not yet been crossed."

Wm: We Learn in Latin Class.

Caesar was a Roman, he went to Roman schools, Caesar studied Latin, learned all the cock-eyed rules; Caesar wore a toga, and his feet in sandals hid, On Saturday nights he took as bath, as all good Romans did.

Crassus was a soldier guy, he was a Roman, too, He led a little legion in the old "Exercitu." He went with Julius Caesar, when he went to fight the Gauls
And according to this Caesar man, he made some darned good hauls.

Pompey was so treacherous. Caesar crossed the Rubicon, So Pompey fled from Caesar and Caesar chased him on. When he chased him out of Italy, he said, "The die is cast."
And just about two months from then, Old Pompey breathed his last.

Brutus was a wicked one, who made a little plot, Stabbed poor Caesar many times, and made him living, not.
Then Antony woke up in time, and called the people down
Who rose up in their anger, and ran Brutus out of town

English!

"What is the theme of this poetry or song?"
Pupil: "She sings about the country guy."

Mr. Davis to Freshman Latin student: "What is the word for punishment?"
R. H.: "Latin."

After Virginia Hackney and Helene Foellinger had been standing in front of the closed door of Room 34 debating for some time whether they should go in and as their test grades, the following conversation took place:
Virginia: "If you will go in first, I will talk first."
Helene: "All right."
Virginia opened the door and they went in. Miss Fish was not there.

Miss Esery: "Where do you usually see the sun rise?"
Marjorie Stephens: "In bed."

Mildred: "In what quarter was Sprunger hurt?"
Dick: "In the knee."

Wanted by the freshies—The 'mumps', so they can be as well as the seniors.

Ruth Wehmhoff gave the following answer in a music appreciation examination: "Giovanni Rossini spent all these later years happily dying at Ruelle, France."

Found on a freshman composition: "Two men had a horse which were nearly alike."

Margaret Welsh (translating Vergil): "The servant made bread from the baskets."

Miss Miller: "Mr. Murphy, I have a new boy in my class and I want a Beard for him."

Everett W. (in English class): "We met Mr. and Mrs. White who we found to be a delightful person."

Mr. Greely (In math problem about retaining walls): "Where is an illustration of retaining walls in Fort Wayne?"
Tom Staley: "Down at the Allen county jail."

ECONOMY WINS

The pages of history are filled with the deeds of self made men. Abraham Lincoln was a typical example.

He was born in poverty and adversity was his daily companion yet he became one of America's immortals.

Lincoln overcame by thrift. "Teach economy. That is among the first and highest virtues, and begins with saving money," said the greatest of them all.

SOUTH SIDE SMASHES WAY TO WIN OVER CENTRAL TIGERS

GREEN WINS GRID TROPHY BY ROUTING TIGER TEAM

Light Blue Team Unable to Halt Charges of Heavy South Side Backfield; Green Grid Machines Makes Eighteen First Downs to Central's Three

RICHENDOLLAR HIGH POINT MAKER WITH FIVE TOUCHDOWNS CREDITED TO HIM

South Side Uses Straight Football to Win; Tigers Fight Until Final Whistle Against Big Odds; Green Line Holds Well

The husky Green and White gridsters trampled the Tiger of Central into submission by overwhelming them in a spirited battle by the score of 46 to 0 last Saturday afternoon.

South Side's superior football ability, its confidence obtained from its usual victories, its weight and speed, were too much for the light and inexperienced team of Tigers. By smashing, battering, scampering, and twisting its way from one goal line to the other the South Side backs were able to score seven touchdowns while its strong forewall rendered every Central attack futile, many times breaking through the line and mashing up the Blue plays before they were under way.

Because of the slippery condition of the field, South Side used straight football; only once attempting a pass which Central intercepted and which gave her only chance to score. At no time was the Green clad outfit forced to open up. Within the first minute of the game South Side had started to pile up its mountainous score when on the first kickoff from the backfield men picked the spheroid from the air and raced eighty-five yards for a touchdown. This play seemingly blighted Central's every hope of winning.

In defeat the crestfallen Tiger preyed ferociously on the Green but was repulsed on every move. Time after time driven back to her own goal line the Tiger battled its antagonist with unyielding fight in order that it might not defeat but that it might stem the onrushing rising tide caused by South Side's mighty attack.

Central's offense led by Paulsen, Ramsey, and Nobles was able to score only three first downs against her traditional conqueror's eighteen. Bawker, Central's best bet, was forced out of the game in the first few minutes of play. Currie, South Side half-back, was a marked man, and got away for only a few substantial gains. While the Tiger was centering its defense to stop Currie, Staley lashed on Richendollar and Aldrich to do most of the work.

From the time of the first kickoff, the South Side attack was led by Melvin Richendollar, who pierced the Blue line at every vulnerable spot, until the last quarter when he was taken out to give Dildine, a senior, a chance to perform against the downtown team, after Richendollar had scored five touchdowns. On the opening kickoff Richendollar preceded by a flying wedge interference surged his way through the entire Central team for a touchdown. Richendollar was the human battering ram of the Green backfield. Craving for work he carried the ball on about every alternate play and made runs from five to eighty-five yards in length. Currie and Aldrich contributed their shares of yardage but their work was overshadowed by the consistency of the hammering fullback. Staley ran the team in his mechanical way and used good judgment in his choice of plays. The South Side line charged and blocked to perfection. It opened holes in the feeble forewall of the Blue that were large enough to drive a wagon through. On defense the ends and tackles were crashing in on the Central backs and many a time threw them for losses. Martin played his usual bang-up game at center and on every offensive play he was through the line and had Central's safety man effaced.

The Game
Central kicked off to Richendollar on his fifteen yard line. Following a flying wedge interference he raced the ball over Central's goal line for the first South Side score. Currie missed his attempt to add a point by kicking. South Side kicked off to Central. Central staged a lively attack and advanced the ball for two first downs on line plunges by Ramsey, Paulsen, and Nobles and a forward pass from Nobles to Hockemeyer. Then a bad pass from center blasted Central's offensive rally. South Side gained possession of the ball on Central's forty-yard mark. On a series of line bucks by Aldrich, Currie, and Richendollar the ball was advanced within the shadows of the Blue goal posts. Richendollar smashed the center of the line for his second touchdown. The try for point failed. Score: South Side, 12; Central, 0.

Second Quarter
With the consistency and regularity that the surging sea sweeps the rock-bound coast of New England, the South Side fullback swept over Central's torn and tattered line. At the start of the second quarter Paulsen punted to Aldrich on Central's thirty-five yard line. On two line smashes Richendollar carried the ball to Central's ten-yard line from which on a fake line buck Staley crossed Central's goal line. Currie kicked goal. South Side kicked off to Paulsen. Central fumbled and South Side recovered. Richendollar smashed the center of the line and tore loose for a twenty yard run to the goal line. Currie added the extra point on a drop-kick. South Side kicked off to Central on her twenty yard line. The half ended with Central in possession of the ball. Score: South Side, 26; Central, 0.

Third Quarter
Central's line was almost demoralized by the onrushing, knife-like charges of the South Side backfield. After several line plunges by Currie and Richendollar, South Side was again in position to score. Richendollar crossed the line for another touchdown. The try for point failed. Score: South Side, 32; Central, 0.

Fourth Quarter
Central made her best bid for a touchdown when Nobles intercepted a South Side pass and ran twenty yards before being hauled down by Richendollar on the Green's twenty-yard line. A pass over the goal line was incomplete and South Side got possession of the ball on her twenty-yard line. Coach Welborn put in all his seniors and irregulars at this stage of the game. Aldrich, Richendollar and Currie left the field getting a big ovation from the stands. By consistent gains the South Side backs carried the ball to the four yard line with only one minute to go. Dildine, who subbed for the mighty Richendollar carried the ball over Central's line as the final gun was shot. Nulf drop-kicked for the extra point.

BAND AT GAME EARNS FAVORABLE COMMENT
"Where's the band?" was heard over the crowd when the drum was heard. It remained a mystery until someone glanced at the north gate. There the band stood, arrayed in beautiful white uniforms and green caps. They marched six abreast the length of the field. They turned and finished playing the piece in front of the Central crowd. Then came the surprise. They marched into single file and formed an S in the center of the field. At the sound of the drum major's whistle the school song was started, bringing the large crowd on the east side of the stadium to their feet. After the song was concluded they returned to their former positions, marching around the field to their seats on the east side. Between the first and second half the band repeated the same drill as part of the snake-dance on the field. They put a very clever end to the game by playing the bugle call. They were seen in the snake dance and were praised for their dignified appearance.

FACULTY MEETS JUNIORS IN "FEM" GAME FRIDAY

Cuts in Class Squads Will Be Announced December 18; Newcombe Game at Exhibition

The feminine pedagogues are still practicing their basketball faithfully and will meet the junior girls in a practice game tomorrow after school. Miss Hudsell and Miss Bert, the flashy forwards, have their scoring machine working perfectly and they expect to snow the Mildredites under with an avalanche of goals. The rest of the team is in good form and they hope to atone for their defeat at the hands of the sophs by triumphing over the juniors.

The class squads will be cut and the notices posted on December 18. Until then all the girls are required to come for practices. Miss Hudsell is reducing the squads at this time in order that those not retained will be able to break training rules during Christmas vacation. Those who make the class teams will have special training rules during vacation time prescribed for them.

The aspirants for the varsity will have a try-out on December 22. Only girls from the upper classes are eligible to play on the varsity. An exhibition newcombe game will be a feature of the girls' gym exhibit given on December 13. The seven girls on each team will be chosen from the stars of the fourth, fifth, and sixth hour classes.

GILBERT PLANS TO ORDER BASKETBALL SUITS SOON

Will Purchase Uniforms for Entire Squad and Class Teams; Present Outfits Unsatisfactory

New equipment for the 1924-25 basketball team has not been ordered because of unsatisfactory style and color.

Mr. Gilbert's plans are to order one new complete outfit for this year's basketball team and forty new uniforms for the class teams who are going to play interclass basketball throughout the season.

BASKETEERS WILL BEGIN PRACTICE WITHIN WEEK

Plenty of Competition Expected as Several New Men Will Report for Drill

Unless another football game is scheduled, varsity basketball practice will be started this week. A meeting was held in room 94 last Friday at which the names of all trying out for the team were taken.

Monday, Coach Wardo Gilbert lectured the boys on the fundamentals and training rules. Several new men will try out, among them Duwan, of Kendallville, and Baker, of Decatur. Each position will be fought hard for and the old men will have to fight harder than last year.

RADIO PROGRAM WILL BE HEARD AT MATH-SCIENCE

Stuart Windt Will Give Talk on "Red Tape of a Radio License"

A discussion on "Red Tape of a Radio License," by Stuart Windt, will be the principal talk for the Math-Science meeting to be held Friday, November 21, at 7:30 in Room 96.

After the lecture, Mr. Hull will "tune in" and entertain the club with a radio concert. If the time permits, the social committee will conduct games. "Eats" will be served by the committee of which Florence Hansen is in charge.

Central wins the laurel wreath for fine yelling. Even in the face of defeat the Tigers kept growling until the very finish.

SPORT SECTION IS GREAT SUCCESS

Comments Are Made by Various People Who Are Interested in Sports.

That the sport pages in last week's Times were very good, in fact, the best ever, was expressed by all the intimately connected with the sport world, when they were asked by an inquisitive Times reporter. The Times has been striving to make each sport page a success, and the sport section preceding the famous Blue-Green game was meant to be a triumph in journalistic art.

Miss Hudsell said: "Splendid—wonderful!" when asked her opinion of the section, and her sentiments indicated the sport lay-out was the success it was meant to be.

"I like all the sport pages in the Times," was the opinion of Mr. Hein, who is drilling the second basketball team. The biology professor was very frank for he said that he didn't notice anything special about last week's effort.

At first Mr. Greely said, "No, I don't like it," when asked the same question by the inquiring reporter. But then the famous Greely grin broke forth, and he said that it was very good, and that the Sport Short were exceptionally fine.

Wardo said that it was unusually good. "I didn't see anything wrong with it, so I guess it was pretty good," was the candid opinion of Lund, Welborn, the mighty little football coach.

Mr. Gilbert Speaks
Ward O. Gilbert addressed the Parent-Teacher club of the Hamilton school Tuesday evening, November 18, on the "Value of Athletics." Mrs. Harry Thomas of Chubbuck, president of the Parent-Teachers club at that place and a reader of note, gave several choice readings.

GRADE SCHOOL FOOTBALL TOURNAMENT POSTPONED

The grade school football tournament has been postponed till Tuesday, November 25, because of the snow.

It will be held at the same place South Side's stadium, at the same time, 3 o'clock, and the same judges. Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Williams and the principals of the schools that take part, will officiate.

TIGERS INSTEAD OF S. S. FRESHMEN DEFEAT C. C.

The November 13 issue of the Times stated that the South Side freshmen defeated the Central Catholic freshmen. The team that defeated the Central Catholic team was a bunch of pick-ups who called their team the Tigers. Some of the fellows were from South Side and some were from the James Smart school. This team has nothing to do with the South Side freshman team.

MUCH PEP INSTILLED AT MEETING FRIDAY

Student Body and Faculty Turn Out One Hundred Per Cent for Gym Session

A very enthusiastic pep meeting, in which the whole student body and faculty turned out one hundred per cent, was held in the gymnasium the first period Friday morning.

The cheering was enthusiastically carried on both by the students and the teachers. The band was keyed up to the highest point and showed the audience that they were ready to "do their stuff" at the Central-South Side game.

Speeches were given by most every member of the team and were received with keen appreciation. Among the teachers that gave short talks were Mr. Schmeltzried and Miss Bert, two new teachers at South Side. Other interesting talks were given by Mr. Harris, Mr. Greely, Mr. Voorhees, and Mr. Gilbert.

RECORD BREAKING CROWD ATTENDS BLUE-GREEN GAME

South Side Athletic Association Funds Are Greatly Increased by Large Gate Receipts

Three thousand, five hundred and thirteen people filled the stadium last Saturday to witness the annual Blue Green football classic. This was the record-breaking crowd of the season. As a result of the athletic association were swelled by the $591.25 that was South Side's share of the large gate receipts.

Two entrances were used for this game. Mr. Hull and Mr. Gould manned the entrance on the east side, which was for the South Siders, while Messrs. Rising and Suter took care of the west entrance for the downtown school.

Sport Shorts

South Side's quartet of cavalymen rode roughshod over another foe, crumpling it into submission, and winning by the score of 46 to 0.

Richendollar can very appropriately be called South Side's battering ram.

He was surely red-hot from the start.

Aldrich got away for some pretty runs in his last game of football with South Side.

Currie, Aldrich, and Staley are the boys who played their last game in the backfield for South Side.

Martin, Rahe, Brubaker, Thiele, Kelly, Hanna and Hoffman donned their moleskins in their finale at South Side.

Can you imagine a more glorious way to end up your football relations with your alma mater than to make a touchdown in the last second?

Ward Dildine enjoyed that experience last Saturday.

Of the list of seniors on the football squad, Brubaker, Currie, Thiele, and probably Martin will promenade on the hardwood this winter.

Wiener, Duwan, McCormick, and Sprunger of the under-classesmen will be seen tossing the leather sphere at the loop in the next few weeks.

South Side football teams are just like good wine: the older they get the better they get. Take a slant at the scores of Central games with South Side since 1922:

1922—South Side, 9; Central, 6.
1923—South Side, 28; Central, 0.
1924—South Side, 46; Central, 0.

After a muddy game one little freshee inquired who would clean the team's suits. Her bright sister answered that the scrub team, of course. That's a fact, honest.

Didn't the stadium look grand filled with people and lots of green, blue, and white?

And didn't the band look "grander" in their spiffy white uniforms? The bandmen deserve a lot of credit for their snappy playing and for their clever marching up and down the field.

Eddie Clapham's white auto was another feature that startled everyone during the rest period. His "four wheels—everything breaks" circled the stadium in a mad ride and nearly demolished the band and some lolly-pops.

The snake dance held during the half pepped everyone up an awful lot. And after the gorgeous victory half of South Side surprised the people downtown with another parade in honor of the win.

Mr. Miller, the referee, saw more action than the players. He would dive into the midst of every scrimmage, and after all the players were untangled his red sweater always seemed to be on the bottom.

WINNING FOOTBALL

Takes More Than Speedy Backs

You've got to have team-work and interference. You can't win all life's battles by speed, either. You need "assistance" to gain success, and wealth, and the other things you want, just the way the man carrying the ball on the gridiron needs it.

Money in bank will "take out" the opposing obstacles and open the way to victory.

With the Classes

Mr. Gould is conducting an osmosis experiment in his room, the apparatus for which extends to the ceiling.

The students in Mr. Gould's botany classes are studying a soil experiment which shows the receptivity and retentivity of the soil and why forest soils help to prevent floods.

Mr. Greely's college algebra class is studying mathematical indication.

Poinsettia Plant in Blossom

There is a poinsettia plant with six large red blossoms, in the botany greenhouse. This plant is about five feet tall.

Rose Kronmiller conducted Miss Demaree's English VI class the sixth hour Monday, while Miss Demaree copied grades on the pupils' cards.

Esther Doehman, who had been absent a long time because of the illness of her mother, came back to school Wednesday of last week.

The Home Lighting contest is arousing considerable interest among the students, probably because of the attractive list of prizes offered.

Austin Bergdell has quit school.

Mr. Arnold's manual training boys are visiting furniture stores to get ideas of styles of furniture and measurements to ascertain proper proportions. The manual training department gives a boy a chance to learn good design in the selection and manufacture of furniture.

The boys of Mr. Thomas' classes are making free hand sketches of all machines in the forging shop. These drawings of machines include the forge, electric press-hammer, the drill press and the iron cutter.

Elizabeth Halley has left school.

Kathryn Isoyer and Byron Mowery have been absent because of illness.

Albert Schroeder was absent last week due to illness.

Mr. Richardson, an entertainer from Evansville, visited school Thursday morning. He was greatly impressed by our large and excellent school plant.

Mr. Whelan's 10-A physical geography students have recently begun the keeping of a detailed weather record, a part of which is to be a check upon the accuracy of the weather forecast.

Miss Paxton's second period arithmetic class has had six tests during the past semester. Helene Foellinger made 100 per cent in each of these.

Miss Work's 12-A Vergil class has completed Book IV of the Aeneid.

Miss Kiefer's 9A literature classes all had literature tests on the first twenty-five chapters of Quentin Duward last week.

The cantata, "The Three Springs," will be given by the girls' glee club in the session room November 21. The orchestra will assist the glee club in this musical.

Mr. Rothert's Vergil class finished Book I of the Aeneid, Tuesday.

All of the freshman literature classes will finish their present selections by the twelfth week and will begin their new selections the thirteenth week. The 9B's will finish "Kidnapped" and begin the "Odyssey." The 9A's will finish "Quentin Duward" and begin "Marmion."

AT THE RIALTO

Fun that is productive of spontaneous laughter, is served up with a large ladle in "The Yankee Consul," with Douglas MacLean in his newest production, which comes to the Rialto today, tomorrow and Saturday. MacLean is undeniably and irresistibly funny. As the rich young Ainsworth who is tired of an interrupted life of ease and luxury, and who finally goes to work the first time in his life, he presents a picture of hilarious comedy as good or better than any of his previous successes. It is romance and exciting adventure from the moment he finds himself accidentally at sea on a boat bound for Rio and mistaken for the "Yankee Consul." Of course there is a pretty girl in the film, who is Patsy Ruth Miller, in one of the most charming roles he has yet portrayed.

Social leader a thief, to cover up her financial losses woman aids crooks. If you were a society woman who had suffered great money losses would you stoop to being the dupe of a gang of criminals in order to keep up appearances in your social set? Mrs. Pawcette, who lured Madge Clayton into the net of the criminal gang who abducted her and who has not been heard of since, is such a woman. In chapter four of the police serial, "Into the Net," Mrs. Pawcette is assigned a task by Dr. Vining which she is afraid to attempt, and yet dare not fail to accomplish. This chapter of "Into the Net," which is showing at the Rialto today, tomorrow and Saturday, also gives an excellent example of the manner in which detectives shadow a suspect, Bert Moore, follows every move of Dr. Vining, but the doctor has been trailed before, and he cleverly turns the tables, getting not only Moore, but also Clayton in his power.

GRIDIRON HEROES OF HIGH SCHOOLS ARE ENTERTAINED

Interesting Talks are Given to Gridders by Faculty Members and Coaches of Both Schools

ALDRICH AND OTHERS NOT ABLE TO ATTEND

Mr. Byron Somers, Former President of School Board, Is Host and Toastmaster

The members of the Central and South Side football squads were the guests of Mr. Byron Somers, former president of the school board, at an elaborate dinner at the Anthony hotel last Friday evening at six o'clock. About sixty-five players attended this banquet. L. C. Ward, superintendent of schools; principals Harris of South Side and Croninger of Central, Miss Hawkins of Central, and Coaches Bills and Mendenhall of Central, and Welborn and Gilbert of South Side, also attended.

It was regretted that Captain Aldrich, Richendollar, and Rastetter of the South Side squad, and Miss Harvey of the same school were unable to be present.

In answer to Mr. Somers' toasts, many fine speeches were given. Some of them were: A story of his college football experiences when he attended the state normal school at Terre Haute, by Mr. Harris; benefits derived from football, by Mr. Croninger; another on the same subject by Mr. Ward; How a substitute who was never in a real game deserved as much credit as a regular player, by Mr. Welborn; and talks of a similar nature by Messrs. Gilbert and Mendenhall. Miss Hawkins also spoke, the subject for her speech being on how athletics benefit the high school.

It was planned to elect a captain for next year's football team, but this was called off by account of the absence of the present captain and several players. A meeting of the team will be called sometime this week, and then the captain of the '25 grid team will be chosen.

RADIO PROGRAM HELD BY MATH-SCIENTISTS

Stewart Windt Describes How Radio Licenses are Obtained; George Grubb Also Talks

A talk on "The Red Tape of a Radio License" by Stewart Windt was the principal feature on the program for the Math-Science club meeting held Friday evening, November 21, in Room 96.

Stewart illustrated his talk by passing around certificates and the license which he had obtained in the process of getting permission to transmit code. He also showed the club cards which he had received from various stations throughout the country.

George Grubb explained some of the abbreviations used in transmitting and receiving code.

A radio concert furnished entertainment for the club until the meeting was adjourned.

Before the program, games such as "A what? A rooster?" "The Priest of Paris Lost His Hat" were played in Room 38. The eats committee served apples and fudge.

About forty students, along with five faculty members and two visitors, were present.

Band Given New Uniforms

The uniforms worn by the band members of the Bartlesville high, Oklahoma, were presented to them by the Lions club of that city.

Weekly Assemblies at Wyandotte

Assemblies are weekly occurrences at Roosevelt high school, Wyandotte. These programs are in charge of the different classes and are held on Friday. The faculty this year will give a series of talks on the works of art about the building.

ANOTHER RECORD

The TIMES greets you today with a six-page mid-week issue and announces that there will be the usual edition of next week. This stunt of putting out a paper, regardless of a two day's vacation breaking in, has never been attempted before. Two years ago this paper published an issue during Thanksgiving week, but none during the preceding or following weeks. Last year this was reversed, with an issue both before and after, but none during, the week of Thanksgiving. In other words, you are receiving three papers, one of which is six pages, while you got only two the year previous, and one the year before that, at no change in subscription rates.

Thanksgiving Was First Holiday To Be Observed By Americans

The Day Was First Observed By a Small Group of English Colonists More Than Three Centuries Ago; Now It Is Observed Nationally.

Thanksgiving day is our oldest American holiday. It was the first holiday of the young Pilgrim republic in Plymouth in the autumn of 1621.

It was first observed by a little group of English colonists who were just emerging from a period of hardship and suffering in which they had lost half their number by death. They had just garnered their first harvest. It wasn't much of a harvest, but they thought it was and were grateful for it. Never since more than three centuries ago has the thought that prompted the observance been permitted to relapse.

Presidents Approve Day

In the early days of the colonies the observance of Thanksgiving was repeated often, congress urged days of thanksgiving during the revolution, and in 1874, for the coming of peace. Since 1863 presidents regularly have set aside the last Thursday in November for reflection on what has been made possible only through co-operation with eternal truths.

Nation Changed Greatly

Conditions have changed in three hundred and three years which have come and gone since the first observance of Thanksgiving day. The proclamation announced to half a hundred is now issued to a hundred million. The little republic has become a large republic. The loyalties expressed in the Mayflower compact have become larger and wider.

VARIED STUNTS AT GYM EXHIBIT

Miss Hadsell Outlines Interesting Program for Night of Kendallville-S. S. Game

DANCES MAIN FEATURE

"The gym exhibition given this year will be the most spectacular affair ever held in the city," stated Miss Hadsell, physical director, yesterday. It will be held on December 13, the night of the big Kendallville and South Side basketball game.

Some of the exhibition features will be the Lo Tota street dance, Dal Dance, the Horse Dance, the Indian Club drill, S. S. H. S. stunts, Miss Hadsell's daily dozen, newcomb game, the Irish jig, and last, but not least, the girls of the eighth grade will appear in a special feature.

La Tota is a special street dance done in costume. The language of the tambourine is portrayed by the fast, snappy dance.

From Sweden come the Dal dance, a most delightful folk dance full of wholesome fun.

The color scheme and reduced lighting effect in the Horse dance will make it the most spectacular feature of the program.

The Indian club drill is the surprise of the evening. Something different in clubs will be shown.

Mr. Greely has asked for a repetition of the S. S. H. S. stunt. The girls are obliging his request.

A demonstration of regular gymnasium work by a picked group taught by Miss Hadsell will be held.

An exhibition of newcomb, the game which has become popular at South Side this fall, will be shown.

The saucy Irish jig, so representative of Irish gaiety, will be given by the seventh grade girls.

Team Has Banquet

For winning their final game the eleven of Oakland, California, was given one of the most elaborate banquets ever had in a high school. This banquet was given by the fair sex of the school. The table was shaped like a football.

Class Visits Gas Company

The chemistry class of the Yakima Washington high school paid a visit to their city gas plant recently. This visit was to show the chemistry pupils how coal gas is made. The assignment the next day was to produce notes and drawings of things seen at the plant.

Club Planning for Big Christmas Party to Be Held Tuesday, December 16

Thirty-five boys attended the last meeting of the Junior Hi-Y to hear Miss Pittenger's speech on "Girls." With probably the best attention paid to any speaker, the fellows listened to Miss Pittenger give her ideas, complimenting the "now-a-days" girl.

Miss Pittenger asked the members "Is such a girl to be found?" Few expressed their opinions, but it was agreed that South Side had many such girls.

After the speech, the club discussed its business. The members expressed the desire to occupy two pages in the Totem, this year, and also to have a page for the Junior Hi-Y orchestra.

Further plans were given for the Christmas party, to be held Tuesday night, December 16. This party will include a bobbed ride and special entertainments.

Graphs Exhibition

There will be exhibition of graphs from students of second period, algebra 2 class in Room 36. The graphs will illustrate subjects of interest to students. The subjects range from weather reports to distances our team will travel to games this winter.

Band Uniforms Ordered

Thirty-seven band uniforms have been ordered for the band members of Ponca City high school. They are to be made in the school colors and will be worn for the first time at the Thanksgiving game between Blackwell and Ponca City.

DR. C. E. BARKER LECTURES FIRST PERIOD MONDAY

Lays Strong Arm, Clear Mind and Brave Heart are Necessary for Success

HOWS HOW AVERAGE PUPIL GETS LESSONS

A Broken Character Is Very Difficult to Mend," Said Mr. Barker

In one of the most interesting and beneficial lectures ever delivered at South Side Dr. Barker, one time physical advisor of President Taft, delved into student life and study and revealed to high school students the exact circumstances surrounding their life and study.

"Most students," Dr. Barker said, "think that an education consists of attending high school and college and 'getting by' as well as possible. The chief purpose of an education, as Mr. Huxley defines it, is to train the mind and will to do the work you have to do when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not."

"There are three things which must be done by the students here if they wish to succeed after they finish school. You must have strong, healthy bodies, clear minds and brave hearts. One can dispute fearful handicaps, develop a strong constitution, one can develop a clear mind, by the right method and everyone can have a brave heart, one which gives him courage to say no to the places he should not go and to the things he should not do. Dr. Barker then went through a humorous demonstration of the way the majority of students study.

After this humorous part of his speech Dr. Barker spent five minutes in bitterly denouncing petting parties and apparent "love." "The high school student may think he knows just how far to go in these matters but he does not! His ruination will have occurred before he realizes the wrong and it is very difficult to mend a broken character."

TWO DEBATE TEAMS TO BE NAMED SOON

Two Groups at Present Engaged in Analyzing Debate Subject on Movie Censorship

"Immediately after the Thanksgiving vacation the two debate teams will be picked," stated Mr. Mahey, the debating coach.

Those who are out for debating have been divided into two groups, each group taking one side of the subject. Resolved, "That the State of Indiana Should Be Empowered to Censor Motion Pictures Presented for Commercial Purposes."

The following people were selected for the affirmative: Gertrude Schuelke, Ruth Eickmeyer, Thelma Gasser, Power Karr and Lucille Lapp, while Louise Platt, Elsie Crane, Dorothy Emrich, Franklin Smith and Carl Rohrer were chosen for the negative.

Each member of the squad is analyzing their side of the question in order that the work may be done more thoroughly.

PENNY COLLECTION IN OFFICE GROWS

School Waxes Rich on Profits From Telephone and Use of Master Key.

"Make your head save your heels" could appropriately be said to many South Side students who are forgetful to leave their locker keys elsewhere other than in their pockets. A thought in time would save an excuse or two. It would be unnecessary for pupils to go to Miss McCloskey, Miss Rinehart or Mr. Greely to get the master key if they would think of his in the morning. The fee charged for opening a locker is a penny.

Many students make use of the telephone in the office and pay the penny fee. The students seem willing enough to pay the penny for the use of the phone. The money is used partly for the trivial expenses in the office.

Since the beginning of school over $4.80 has been collected. In other words, over 480 students have forgotten their locker keys or used the phone.

SCRIBES DEPART TOMORROW NOON FOR CONVENTION

Six Girls, Four Boys and Faculty Advisor to Represent South Side Publications at Madison

ABLE SPEAKERS SIGNED TO ADDRESS MEETINGS

11 Phases of Newspaper and Year Book Problems Will Be Discussed in Sectional Meets

Eleven delegates from South Side will entrain at 12:55 p. m. tomorrow for the Fifth Annual Central Inter-Scholastic Press Association convention, held in Madison, Wisconsin on November 28 and 29. They are: Margaret Welsh, Lucille Lapp, Heler Crawford, Ruth Eickmeyer, Bud Beck, Cornelia Bade, Pauline Baumgartner, Harold Bridge, Noble Miller, William P. Van Ness and Miss Rowena Harvey. They arrive at 7:30 a. m. Friday morning.

The convention program, as announced by the Scholastic Editor, promises well. The opening address on Friday morning is by George B. Hambrecht, state director of vocational education. He is followed by Edward A. Birge, president of the University of Wisconsin, and Willard G. Bleyer, director of journalism in that school.

On Friday afternoon the convention breaks up into sectional meetings, involving eight separate groups. These round-table sessions are opened by a short talk by the leader. Discussion will then follow. Miss Harvey will be leader at one of the meetings of the faculty advisors.

On the program are a convention volball, a carnival ball, a mixer and a banquet. At 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon the last assembly is held during which awards will be announced and trophies and certificates granted.

The local representation will leave on Sunday morning and expect to arrive home at 7:25 p. m.

All of the South Side delegates will be looked after and housed by loyal alumni now attending the university. Esther Palmer, '24, who is majoring in journalism at the university, has provided accommodations for the six girls in the house where she lives.

Paul Hess and Paul Rohrer, both members of the class of 1923, who are rooming together at the university, have made arrangements for housing the boys at the same place where they live.

THANKSGIVING VACATION CALLS OFF HI-Y MEETS

"No Hi-Y meetings this week," said Mr. Hamilton, the boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "The fellows need a rest before tackling the turkey." The meetings have been so regular that a cancellation of one meeting would be expected. The committees, however, will probably meet in planning their big Christmas parties, to be held December 16 and 18.

Mr. Hamilton added that he hoped that many fellows would attend the older boys' conference in Peru Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

BOYS ASKED TO STAY OFF GYMNASIUM FLOOR

As the girls have only Monday and Friday evenings, beginning at 3 o'clock, on which to practice, the boys are asked to stay off the floor at such time, and preferably out of the gymnasium, as they have been interfering with recent practices.

MR. CLARK SUGGESTS HELPS FOR HEATING

Greatest Aid Will Be Keeping the Windows and Doors in School Closed

"Since cold weather is coming and the school must be warm," Mr. Clark, engineer, said. "It is our duty to keep it warm. To do this we must have the co-operation of every pupil and teacher in South Side high and grade school to help us in our work."

After a short pause he offered a valuable suggestion. "Every door and window should be closed at all times, since our system of heating, a direct-indirect method which, in order to work well must not have any outside air to come in contact with it. If there is a window or door open in one room it takes more warm air for that room, and does it no good, thereby robbing adjoining rooms of the heat they need."

"The heat in each room should be seventy degrees," he went on in further explanation. "If any room is too hot or cold we would like to know so we may ascertain the trouble."

He also gave his thanks for our expected future co-operation.

Mr. Stahl Busy

Mr. Stahl has made a plover to remove snow from the sidewalks. He replaced the broken glass in Miss Pittenger's bookcase door. He made a top for the storeroom in room 40.

Fairfax Has Staff Dinner

The Fairfax high school staff members had the first of their monthly staff dinners October 17, at the Smith-Williams hotel. They call themselves "News Hounds," and have chosen a small hound for their mascot.

FORTY UPPERCLASSMEN WIN DISTINCTION IN SCHOLARSHIP

Number of Juniors and Seniors on This Year's Honor Roll Exceeds Number on 1922 and 1923 Rolls; Juniors Have Largest Increase

SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN LAG BEHIND RECORD SET BY 1923 UNDERCLASSMEN

Out of One Thousand One Hundred Sixteen Pupils Enrolled in School Six Percent Made the Honor Roll; Three Students Make Five A's

The number of juniors and seniors on this year's honor roll exceeds the number of upperclassmen on the honor rolls of 1922 and 1923, but the sophomore and freshman lag behind considerably. The juniors have the largest increase.

The honor roll in 1922 had on it fifteen seniors, in 1923 there were eighteen seniors, this year there are twenty. On the honor roll in 1922 there were eleven juniors, in 1923 sixteen juniors, and this year there are twenty-two.

The 1922 honor roll had twenty sophomores, the one in 1923 had ten, and this year's fifteen. In 1922 the freshman had twenty-five honor students, last year they had only fourteen, and this year only eleven.

The junior class leads in the number of honor students, while the freshman class has the least.

The honor roll contains the names of forty-five girls and twenty-four boys.

Helene Foellinger, Thelma Burley, and Carl Kohrer are the only students who made five A's. Twenty-nine people made four A's and thirty-five made three.

Out of the one thousand, one hundred sixteen pupils enrolled in school six percent of that enrollment made the honor roll, which means that they are passing in all subjects and have at least three A's.

Twenty-three percent of the people whose surnames begin with the letter "E" made the honor roll. The "H's" follow closely with 19 percent. The "I's" and "C's" are about equal, having 13 percent and 12 percent, respectively. Nine percent of the "H's" and "S's" and seven percent of the "C's" and "M's" made three or more "A's."

The honor students are as follows:

When school work and outside activities get too close together, both usually get a hard knock.

Now, not three weeks before the end of the semester, is the time to bring your grades up to a higher standard.

Athletics have always received our utmost support. Certainly we are broad enough to include debating, music, and scholarship.

Be it ever so abbreviated, there's nothing like a vacation. Have you noticed that we have three days in which to recuperate from the effects of the Thanksgiving dinner?

From nothing comes nothing. A splendid application of this principle is the display of no effort in a certain subject. The grade—well, at least not much better than nothing.

In only a short time the basketball season gets under way. Thirteen home games, many of them against exceptionally strong teams, have been scheduled. The team can't lose—if the gym is crowded with people who are willing to yell.

Tomorrow the Times' delegates leave for Madison to attend the Central Interscholastic Press Association convention, where all high school publications in the country will be judged. Hopes and expectations are high. They should be. The staff has put its best into the paper. Can you truthfully say that you have given your best?

On every hand, signs proclaiming the Totem campaign can be seen. Everyone knows what the Totem offers to subscribers, a real reproduction of school life. Just how big the year book goes over, rests on your shoulders. It's the prompt subscriber that really shows his earnestness. Students can make as small a deposit and payments as they could wish. There is no excuse for not subscribing. Not doing so shows only unwillingness to give the staff support.

Effort versus brilliancy is a battle which began back in the dim, dark past and is still being waged. Time has shown that effort in all but a few cases has come out ahead. Why? Because effort results in steady, reliable work, while brilliancy produces erratic, and less dependable material. In the class room, effort produces a good daily grade, brilliancy a few exceptional ones. Effort most always results in a high test grade; brilliancy, with no effort, seldom does. The grades are then averaged for the final mark, as the points in a game are totaled for the final score. Notice how often effort comes out with colors flying.

Thanksgiving, with its splendid board, groaning under its load of turkey, cranberry sauce and pastries, is here again. How changed is this festivity of ours from the original! More than three hundred years ago, in a small snow-laden, New England colony, sparsely settled, unprotected from the icy gale that bent the young saplings in its path and sent the waves dashing angrily against the rocks, threatened by the hostile savages, the Puritans, those stalwart, firm and courageous pioneers, after their first year in America, despite the many graves holding their loved ones, their longings for their old, cheer homes back in England, and their dread of this life of warfare, and discomforts, came together for a feast of thanksgiving.

In comparison with our splendid lot, how little they had for which to be grateful. Yet, is our gratitude as great? Do we still have the real Thanksgiving spirit? There is much room for doubt. To many, the day has become merely one of eating and vacation. Every one of us has something for which to be thankful, why not celebrate tomorrow with the idea that the founders had in mind?

Opinions Are Varying Concerning Value of Vacation Assignments

General Idea Seems To Be That Students Ought To Have Assignments, But They Should Not Have Too Much Work Over A Vacation Period.

South Sider's, apparently, seem to be average human beings. Some dislike preparing lessons on vacation days, even though they think that teachers should make assignments during those days of rest.

Some of the teachers seem to agree that it is of little value to give assignments over vacations because that is a time free from studies.

"I think," Mildred McCune says, "that we should have assignments over vacation. We can keep in touch with our lessons more. Anyway, when students have a long vacation they should be willing to spend a few hours on study and keep up their work."

Mary Alice Tannehill agrees precisely with Mildred McCune. She declared: "We should have assignments over vacation. When there is a vacation and we have no assignments most of us come back to school and do such poor work that we bring our grade to a very low mark for that week. I takes about two days for some students to get to work after a vacation."

Pedagogue Gives Opinion
Mr. Murphy entertains a slightly different opinion. "I don't think it is of very great value to give out assignments over a vacation. Some conscientious students, however, would work, but a vacation should not be taken up by a great amount of school work. A vacation should be had!"

"Oh, I really don't know," Horace gnew answered when asked whether he thought vacation assignments should be given out. "I never work over vacations, however, and accordingly I guess I don't believe in much work at that time!"

Ruth Kettering in a lengthy discussion voices exactly the opinion of the ideal student, one who thinks that a student's main business is "work." If South Side could have more like her, it would excel in scholarship. "Every good listener can hear lots of discussion for and against the teacher making assignments over vacation periods," she said. "The reasons pro and con are as numerous as the discussions and from them we can make a fair deduction of what the student body thinks about this question."

"The scholar who is aiming high and whose ambition is to achieve something worth while would consider it time wasted and opportunities lost to come to class the first day after vacation with no real work to do. Wasted time has always been the enemy of success."

"When we leave school at 3 o'clock of any school day we know that our work for the next day should be done before school time the following morning. This is accepted by most students as a fair method of procedure during regular or on consecutive school days. Why then is it not a fair method of procedure on the day before vacation and the day following it?"

"We will come to school Monday following with no lessons and unless the time is spent in reviewing the vacation night as well as extended Tuesday. If such an argument has any merit, then no school should be held Tuesday, and so on."

"A 'no assignment' vacation except and only with the understanding that the work lost must be made up in the following days."

"Heights by great men reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight.
But while their companion slept
Were toiling upward through the night."

A Mite of Verse

THE SCIENTIST

What through uncounted ages God has done
Behind the veil of seeming, you disclose
(By virtue of the Godhead from which rose Man and man's arts, his hopes, his quickening sight),
Prometheus-like, new fires to save the race,
In endless struggle with the beast and night,
Lest it should live content in some low place,
Not yours the blame if some should use your gifts
Obscenely, worshipping false gods of fear,
Or lust, or hate; or others close their eyes,
Refusing honor to the force that lifts
And upholds man along that high career
Which God ordains if man shall win the prize.

THE FROM AGAIN
To the Editor:
I have been greatly interested in the letters that have been published in this column in regard to the Junior Prom. It seems to me that there is a lot of unneeded arguing about the "prom." This will get us nowhere, and help cause hard feelings among the juniors. Some folks say the seniors want us to give them a prom. Aren't they to be our guests? Do not guests take the entertainment offered them? Do they have to "foot the bills?"

Now let us look for something that our class can all come to. What would you think of having a banquet? It can be put over big. The dinner could be served at either 6:30 or 7 o'clock and a few toasts might be given. Then after this a short play could be given by the juniors to entertain the guests. While the play was being given, the tables and chairs in the cafeteria could be taken out and the room prepared for a dance. This, in my mind, should satisfy the wants of all the juniors, giving to those who do not want dancing other entertainment, and dancing to those who do want it. Let's all forget this talk that has been going around and get down to our lessons. Then when we have a meeting and a vote taken, "hash" it out there.

A 26'ER.

HIGHER IDEALS
To the Editor:
The old saying, "Hitch your wagon to a star," evidently has a great deal of truth in it, but glancing at the "stars" to which some people "hitch their wagons" this saying has been abused.

In our time the "stars" appear to be hitched to "outside activities" instead of being hitched to a desire of gaining knowledge.

In due time we will be back to the ancient stage when bodily strength was considered more of an asset than mental ability.

One of the Fort Wayne pastors used for the text of his sermon November 9: "Know Thyself and Be True." This text was taken from the many true spoken words of that famous Greek philosopher, Socrates. How many of the students of the South Side high school know all or part of their weaknesses and faults? And if we do know them how many of us admit to ourselves we have them and try to overcome them one by one? The writer has just as many faults as anyone and tries as well as she can to "get the best of them."

MANY LOST LOCKER KEYS AWAIT OWNERS
Many lost locker keys have been turned in at the office and Mr. Harris has requested that the students look through the following list to see if they key is among those turned in and, if so, to call for it at the office.

The following locker keys have been turned in: 7, 65, 74, 104, 217, 222, 250, 256, 292, 296, 335, 365, 366, 737, 424, 481, 488, 503, 535, 573, 576, 581, 585, 587, 644, 726, 729, 745, 746, 838, 840, 895, 937, 961, 1169, 1360, 1447, 1512, 1562, 1707. Four key rings were turned in with numbers, 375, 536, 147, 1438.

A Thanksgiving Fable
It was a hungry pussy cat, upon Thanksgiving morn,
And she watched a thankful little mouse, that ate an earn of corn.

"If I ate that thankful little mouse, how thankful he should be,
When he has made a meal himself, to make a meal for me!"

"Then with his thanks for having fed, and his thanks for feeding me,
With all his thankfulness inside, how thankful I shall be!"

Thus mused the hungry pussy cat, upon Thanksgiving Day;
But the little mouse had overheard and declined (with thanks) to stay.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS S. S. OPEN HOUSE NIGHT

Cafeteria Serves 150; South Side Grades Also Observe Open House Night

A large number of parents attended the annual "open house" night Thursday evening, November 20. A dinner was served to about one hundred and fifty people at 5:30 in the cafeteria. The class recitations continued from 7:15 to 8 o'clock, when a musical program was given in the gymnasium.

The dinner was served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Dixon, the manager of the cafeteria. The menu included fricasse of chicken, baked ham, escalloped oysters, candied sweet potatoes, pumpkin pie and cranberry jelly. Miss Dixon reported that the crowd was unusually small, considering the size of the school, though they seemed enthusiastic to have the opportunity to visit the school while in operation.

The musical program, which began at 8 o'clock, consisted of the following numbers:

Selection..... Orchestra
Violin Solo..... Jack Teeters
Selection..... Girls' Quartette
Cornet Solo..... LaVane Siege
Cello Solo..... Frederick Pige
Vocal Solo..... Marjorie Matlack
Selection..... Orchestra

A price of ten cents was charged for the entertainment by Mr. Schaffer, who directed the program. The proceeds amounting to $99.10 will be used to defray the cost of the new band uniforms.

The Times staff had an exhibition in the center corridor to show the remarkable increase in the growth of the paper since its organization about two years ago. A copy of each paper issued this term was posted on the wall.

The South Side grade school was also attended by a large crowd of interested parents.

In Other Schools

To Study Steel

A short course of six classes on "The Effect of Fabrication and Heat Treatment on the Physical Properties of Iron and Steel" will be started very soon at the Technical high school of Hammond. The classes will be conducted by a Purdue university engineering extension specialist. A class of one hundred is expected to attend.

Write Historical Play

The members of a history IV class at the Hammond high wrote plays last week. The best was presented before the class. The play concerned a trial during the English middle ages.

Do Actual Selling

Twenty-seven students of the Hutchinson high are going to manage a dry goods company of that city for one day. The practical application of their studies will prove to be of valuable service to them. They will be placed in the various departments according to the positions they are best fitted to fill. They will be aided by the regular clerks.

Visit Mill

The Architecture club of the Englewood high took a trip through the lumber mill. The club witnessed the processes of making doors, window sashes and interior trim. They also observed the manner in which wood is veneered and watched the manufacture of doors and cabinets. Another expedition to a stone quarry is being planned.

Gives Pigeons to School

Twenty fancy pigeons were presented to the zoology department by a graduate of the same school, the Englewood high. The pigeons are of many colors and odd descriptions.

Has New Filing System

The Bloomington high has a new system of filing cards. By this method the file is so arranged that the credits of the pupils are on one side and the program on the other. Much time will be saved by this method when looking up the program or the credits of a pupil.

Swedish Explorer Lectures

P. A. Thelin, a Swedish explorer and lecturer, who spent twenty-five years in Alaska, gave lectures in the Central auditorium of Evansville, Indiana, on the resources and history of America's northernmost possession.

Plan to Aid Santa

The Friendship club of the Hammond high school is planning to assist at the Brooks house at Christmas by giving presents to the children of the day nursery and by giving entertainments on Friday nights.

Pleasant Task

A composition class of the Manual Training high school, of Kansas City, Missouri, recently wrote descriptions of their teachers. This was done so as to give the pupils practice in writing accurate descriptions.

New Pupil Enters

Russell Lapp, a freshman, has entered school. He has been enrolled in Peru high school.

Plan Vocational Conference

Plans have been made for a meeting of the vocational conference which will be held next spring at the North Central high school of Spokane, Washington. Out-of-town schools will send representatives to this conference. They are planning to accommodate a large representation and all indications show a great success.

City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne will celebrate its centennial soon, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note.)

Old National Bank

"We are indeed proud of the South Side high school because in this institution you have represented most keenly the growth, advancement, and spirit of our progressive city," said H. C. Paul, president of the Old National bank of Fort Wayne recently.

The Old National bank is one of the oldest and strongest banks of the city. The bank was founded in 1835 and under the name of The Branch Bank of Fort Wayne, State of Indiana. It was then located on the south side of Columbia street between Calhoun and Clinton streets. The bank was next located at the corner of Main and Clinton street in 1837. The name of the bank was changed to The Old National bank, in 1884. In 1891, the bank was built at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets, which is its present location.

The officials of the bank are: H. C. Paul, president; Stephen Morris, vice-president; Stephen Morris, cashier; Amos Richey, assistant cashier; F. K. Jurgensen, assistant cashier.

The bank employs only men and women who are efficient in mathematics and bookkeeping along with other general qualifications.

Thyra Jurgensen and Ruth Richey, daughters of the two assistant cashiers, both go to South Side.

Tokheim Oil Tank and Pump Company

The Tokheim Oil Tank and Pump company began at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in 1902. In 1918 the company moved to its present location, Fort Wayne. The situation of this manufacturing company is on Wabash avenue, in the eastern side of the city.

The line of work that is carried on is the manufacture of oil tanks and pumps. For this work skilled mechanics are needed, also common laboring men.

The officials of this company are R. P. Diserens, M. B. Muxenson, and C. O. Griffin.

Alice, the daughter of Mr. R. P. Diserens, is attending South Side high school at present.

Mr. Muxenson says that South Side high school has a wonderful gymnasium and he greatly enjoys the games that are played there.

Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce with its fourteen hundred members of business and professional men is the largest civic organization in the city.

Its work is carried on through nine bureaus, each bureau covering a certain phase of work. These are: The Civic and Municipal bureau, The Retail Merchants bureau, The Wholesale and Jobbers bureau, The Legislation and Taxation bureau, The Conventions, Tourists, and Publicity bureau, The Traffic bureau, The Real Estate, Housing and Insurance bureau, The Industrial and Good Roads bureau and The Civic bureau.

As is seen by the names of these different divisions practically every civic and business movement can be carried through by means of these bureaus which are composed of men especially interested and enthusiastic in the certain type of work carried on by their special department.

As an example of the kind of work done by the civic and municipal bureau consider the "Better Yards Week" and "Flower Festival" held in our city recently. And did this, as some people erroneously think of the Chamber of Commerce, interest the "business men only"? No, it is a purely civic affair which is staged for making Fort Wayne a better and more beautiful city.

"The Outbound-Get-Acquainted Tour" which was held recently, first, to enable Fort Wayne merchants to become personally acquainted with their out-of-town customers; and second to build good will for the city, was carried on by the Wholesale and Jobbers bureau. The Chamber of Commerce was the big factor in bringing the International Harvester company here.

The Fort Wayne club has been organized for seven years. Its board of directors consists of the officers of the club and the directors of the various bureaus.

TEN PUPILS ASSISTED DAILY IN MATH CLASS

There are about ten pupils who attend the mathematics help classes daily. The attendance is irregular as every day new faces are seen. This class helps the pupils who have been absent for a few weeks to make up their work. In this way it is saving some pupils from failing. As a whole the class is doing very well.

ORGAN RECITAL PLANNED BY CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Organist at Trinity Episcopal Church Will Play at Special Musical Service in Evening

The Third Organ recital by Warren Hackett Galbraith, organist and choir-master of Trinity Episcopal church, Fulton and Berry streets, will be rendered at a special musical service to be held at the church on Sunday evening, November 30, the full vested choir assisting.

The program will include five organ and two choral numbers, and there will also be a short choral service. The composers represented are Rossini, Wagner, Mendelssohn, H. Elliott, Button, C. Warwick Jordan, R. P. Stewart and J. D. Spedding, the last four being modern English composers of note.

The soloists will be Arthur Beddoes, Forrest Fisher and Wilmer Cook.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this recital and the other services at Trinity Episcopal church, where visitors are always sincerely welcomed.

ONLY TWO PAIRS OF TWINS HERE

South Side High School Falls Behind Many Schools in Number of Doubles.

Although some schools boast of their great number of twins, South Side apparently can shower all its boastfulness on only two pairs, both feminine.

Alice and Agnes Wehmeyer, juniors, are seventeen years old. Neither takes the same subjects as her twin sister. Alice carries English, general history, botany and bookkeeping, while Agnes takes algebra, English, Spanish and bookkeeping.

Mary and Martha Sherman last semester carried the same subjects and made the same grades in them, but this year their programs are different. French, United States history, geometry, English, Latin and gym are taken by Mary. Martha signed up for United States History, English, geometry, Latin and gym. These twins were fifteen years old on August 17, the same month in which the Wehmeyer twins' birthday comes in.

"D" IS GIVEN AS SIGN OF UNFINISHED WORK

"A 'D' simply means unfinished work," stated Mr. Harris. "The time it takes to make up this unfinished work depends on the amount of work that is unfinished. It might take one day or several weeks. If this work is not made up the pupil fails in that subject at the end of the term," he added.

SOPHOMORES PLAN BIG PARTY AFTER CHRISTMAS

"The sophomore plans have not yet been completed," stated Dale Shimer, president of the sophomore class, this week when interviewed. "We have had a meeting of the officers and have selected Mr. Virts and Miss Fiedler for our faculty advisors. We are planning to have a big sophomore party in the near future and this is going to be the biggest in the history of the sophomore class," he said.

BOOKKEEPING STUDENTS KEEP CAFETERIA BOOKS

The pupils in Mr. Parks bookkeeping classes are giving part of their time to work on the cafeteria books.

Each day for the past week a pupil in each class has spent a period in posting.

After the transactions are entered Mr. Parks will make financial statements covering the present semester up to Thanksgiving.

South Siders Have Multitude Of Reasons For Giving Thanks

Reasons For Thanksgiving Vary From Being Thankful for the Privilege of Going to South Side to Rejoicing Over Passing a Chemistry Exam.

Varied reasons for being thankful were given by students here when asked recently what they were most thankful for at the time. Many are thankful for common, every-day things.

Gerry DuWan, with a great deal of enthusiasm, says: "I am thankful for our having won the Rastetter Football Trophy, showing what hard practicing and grim determination will do."

Clara Sheibondy states with a contented sigh: "I'm thankful that I'm passed in chemistry because—well, for different reasons."

"Thankful? Just because I belong to the best school in the United States, with the best paper, the best annual, the best team and by far the best students," was the emphatic declaration of Tom Ward.

Ruth Eickmeyer replied contentedly: "I am thankful for most anything that anyone could be thankful for."

TROPHY CASE NEARLY DONE; MUCH SKILLED WORK ON IT

Manual Training Teachers Promise Perfect Workmanship in Case to Hold Trophies

The long awaited trophy case is almost ready for our many trophies. The manual training department is guaranteeing an A-1 job on this case as Mr. Arnold said: "These trophies took great effort and pains to win. Therefore they must have a good place to be displayed in."

Mr. Chappell has charge of making the legs for the case and Mr. Arnold, the case proper.

Mr. Arnold promises to have this case ready in a very few weeks. He also added: "A trophy case without much design and beauty, would only take about two weeks to make, but as this is going to be one of rare beauty it is taking us longer to complete it as it will be perfect in workmanship."

EIGHT SOUTH SIDE FOOTBALL PLAYERS RECEIVE HONOR

SPORTS EDITOR SELECTS AN ALL-CITY GRIDIRON TEAM

Chief of Times Sports Staff Places Eight South Side High School and Three Central Catholic High School Football Players on Mythical Grid Eleven

OUTSTANDING PLAYER IN EACH POSITION MAKES CHOICE OF TEAM SIMPLE MATTER

Central High Fails to Place Man on Eleven Because of Scarcity of Good Material; Editor Believes Mythical Team Would Be Formidable in Game

TIMES ALL-CITY HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN

Name	Position	School
Brubaker	Left End	South Side
Schopf	Left Tackle	South Side
Mulligan	Left Guard	Central Catholic
Martin	Center	South Side
Libbing	Right Guard	Central Catholic

Currie	Left Halfback	South Side
Aldrich	Right Halfback	South Side
Richendollar	Fullback	South Side

By GEORGE WYSS

Sports Editor of the South Side Times

The management of the Times has requested its sports editor to select a possible mythical team from the three high schools of the city. I will endeavor to give my candid opinion and to choose men who are best in their positions regardless of creed or color. This selection is not official but the choice of only one man.

There was little difficulty in picking the team because of the outstanding ability of the players with the exception of a few. There were three ends, three guards, and two fullbacks who stood head and shoulders above the other men in these positions. A dearth of material was found at quarterback. Central was unable to place a man because of the infirmity of that team. The only man on Central's eleven who could compete with the other players of their position were Baker and Marks. Both of these men were injured and were unable to finish the season.

Brubaker is Best End
Brubaker and Thiele of South Side and McCormick of Central Catholic were undoubtedly the superior flankers. Brubaker is conceded a position with no difficulty. His incomparable ability to charge and to block in the line, his peculiar speed in running down the field under punts, his uncanny cleverness at snagging forward passes, his clean and terrific tackling, and his skill at sifting through interference have placed him in a class all by himself. He is the versatility personified. Although Brubaker was injured on two occasions during the season, he still had enough football in him to outshine the other pair of stellar ends.

Thiele was given the choice over McCormick of Central Catholic, because of his bulk and speed. McCormick is fast and light. Thiele and McCormick are equally good on offense. Each has wonderful ability to fend off interference and nailing the runner is his big asset. If there were two more ends to be chosen, McCormick of Central Catholic, and Kingsley, of South Side, would win berths.

Tackles from South Side
At tackles are Ed Rahe and Schopf of South Side. Both of these players were members of the mythical team last year and it is a cinch that they have improved immensely. There were no men at the tackle positions who could compete with this pair of huskies. They had line work down to near perfection. Their offensive work ripped up the strong lines of Tech and Wabash. They were each Gibralters on defense. Either man was immovable on defense and many times they broke up plays before they were properly executed.

C. C. Guards Best
To Central Catholic goes the position of guards. Mulligan and Libbing are built huskily and for service. They are speedy in spite of their weight. This pair has made Central Catholic's line impregnable and has checked assaults made by the Huntington and Payne teams.

Central had a scarcity of guards just as she had other good linemen. Mulligan was a bear for work. His efforts alone instilled his teammates with undying fight. Libbing is a big athlete but is clever at sifting through a line of offense. Phil Rahe of South Side was a good guard.

Abe Martin for Center
Martin, of South Side, is the selection at center. His tall, rangy figure and his unconquerably large hands were a great help to him in playing his position brilliantly. Martin is built ideally for a center. He is an accurate passer and a brainy player. He was an immovable bulk on offense. He could pass the ball to his backs and charge through to get the safety man. Defensively he was equally as good. He could tackle well. He was a clever diagnostician of the opponents' formation. Baltes of C. C. and Martin of Central were good centers but their playing was outshone by the lanky center of South Side.

C. C. Wins Quarterback
Lassus was given the position at quarterback over Staley, at South Side, because of his ability to carry and handle the ball. He played at halfback on the Central Catholic team but his good work was too much to let slip by unnoted. He was probably the most consistent ground gainer on the Catholic team. His elusiveness in a broken field was his specialty. Staley, of South Side, was a good number caller but lacked the color of a modern-day quarter.

Currie, Aldrich, Halves
Currie and Aldrich were the best halves. Aldrich has been probably the best halfback in the city in the last three years. He is a good punter and an exceptionally splendid passer. He was hard to tackle in the open and he could smash the line. He was a terror on defense.

Currie was the fast, dodging, twisting half that made gains against the best teams in the state. His work against Wabash and Tech was little short of miraculous. He was probably the best broken field runner in this part of the state. His ability to gain ground against all teams has made him a most valuable player. He was a good safety man and was a most deadly kicker.

Richendollar at Full
No team could be chosen correctly without including Melvin Richendollar, the smashing, driving fullback of South Side. He is built short and stocky. When he runs, he raises his knees high and gets a wonderful driving power. His unshrinking charges have played havoc with all South Side's opponents. He is a demon for work. He is the hardest man to tackle in local high school football circles. Many a time a tackler would hit him and bounce off just like a golf ball that had been thrown against a concrete wall. His ox-like strength by which he could manage to carry three or four men draped about him made him a consistent ground gainer. El-Hot, of Central, was a good fullback but was not the line plunger that Richendollar was.

This team of stars having a strong and heavy line, and fast and elusive backs is as formidable as any that could be chosen. The team is a good ground gainer having a wonderful passing combination and a set of backs that could rain yardage against the best. The defensive qualities of the team are not reproachable. The line hasn't a single weakness and the secondary is better than most.

Miss Hadsell is predicting one grand basketball season for the girls

There will be class and varsity games scheduled with the girls from Central High.

Last year the Mildredites won six out of nine games played against their down-town schoolmates.

This year they're planning to win all of the games scheduled.

This year soph girls boast more stars than any other class in the school.

Doris Brower, Nellie Merica, and there are going to be strong contenders for varsity berths, and the senior citizens from last year will have to struggle to retain their places on the main squad.

The inter-school games for the girls this season are planned to be the hottest ever played by a Fort Wayne girls' basketball team.

ELEVEN PLAYERS DOFF MOLESKINS FOR LAST TIME

Seven Linemen and Four Backfield Performers Will Be Lost to Team by Graduation

GOOD MATERIAL LOOMS FOR NEXT YEAR'S TEAM

Coach Welborn's System Has Developed Able Gridsters to Take Places on 1925 Squad

The Central-South Side game marked the final appearance of eleven of South Side's gridiron stars. Among them were Captain Aldrich and Currie, halves; Dildine, full; Staley, quarter; Brubaker and Thiele, ends; Rahe, tackle; Kelley, Hoffman, and Hanna, guards, and Martin, center.

In the Central game this group of sterling athletes fought their hardest and gave their best for it was the last time they would wear the Green and White on the gridiron and, more than that, it was their last chance to get a crack at the downtown school. These men have finished their high school football careers in the finest fashion imaginable. After defeating Technical, of Indianapolis, in a nerve-racking game by the score of 19 to 17, they came back and walloped their traditional rivals by an overwhelming count.

All Stars Lost
The passing of these men creates a deficit in the market of football material which every coach hates to see. Two of these players have represented South Side on the gridiron ever since the school was organized. They are Captain Edwin Aldrich and Edward Rahe. Rahe played all three years at the position of right tackle. He has the distinction of being the only man to play in every game that the Green has played. Rahe seemed to be immune to injuries for in the past three seasons his name never appeared on the hospital list.

Eddie Aldrich, the captain, has been the mainstay in the backfield for three autumns. His line plunging and end runs were a menace to each and every opponent. Captain Aldrich has not been quite as fortunate as Rahe in keeping shy of injuries. Eddie has taken more punishment than any two other players on the squad. These men have been honored by placing on the all-city mythical team in past years. They both bled favorably for positions again this year.

Backfield Hit
Brubaker, Currie, and Staley have finished their second year on the Green and White. Brubaker is one of the greatest ends ever turned out in the history of high school football of this city. He was most adept at handling aerial work. It is very plausible that he neither has nor has had an equal at all-around work at the wing position. He blocks splendidly and tackles hard.

Currie was the big star of the backfield last season. He has been called "The Rabbit" by sport writers. His wonderful offensive work made him a marked man. With mechanical perfection, quarterback Staley called plays which were most timely. His cool-headedness and quick thinking put him in a class with the best as a signal announcer.

Linemen Graduate
Martin at center, Dildine at full, Thiele at end, and Hoffman, Hanna, and Kelley, at guards, have either played their first year or have made their S for the first time. Martin was a bulwark of strength in the center of the line. Thiele at right end played like a veteran. His speed and size made him a valuable man. The trio of guards, Hoffman, Hanna, and Kelley, have won distinction for their everlasting fight. Hanna had been out for three seasons but due to the keenest opposition he had not made his S until this fall.

New Material Good
As the afore-said throng of athletes doffed their moleskins and jerseys, after the final deafening yells and shouts had cast their last echo in the distance, a new squad of huskies have stepped on the threshold to bear the colors of South Side on the gridiron.

Coach Welborn has a wealth of material with which to start the season of '25. On his list of proteges are the following: Schopf, Kingsley, and Wiener, ends; Dehaven, DuWan, and Staigt, tackles; P. Rahe and Sprunger, guards; Lombard, center; Welsh and Rastetter, quarters; Lighthill, Nulf, and McCormick, halves; Richendollar, full. All these men have had at least one year's experience. Welsh, Schopf, and Dehaven have played their second year.

DATE FOR PRESENTATION OF TROPHY NOT PICKED

"It has not been decided definitely when the Rastetter football trophy will be presented to the school," announced Mr. Harris, "but there will probably be a meeting of the school after Thanksgiving vacation at which the trophy will be presented, together with the baseball sweaters, which will be given to the team."

CENTRAL CAGERS APPEAR STRONG

Eight Letter Men Remain from Last Year's Squad as Nucleus for This Year

HAVE TEN HOME GAMES

Despite the probable loss of Kowalczyk, star center, who was injured playing football, Central will be represented by a strong basketball team this year. Eight letter men remain from last year's squad and this number is augmented by several promising recruits from the reserves and class teams.

Central has been working out for the last two weeks under the direction of Coach Murray Mendenhall and the squad now numbers approximately 50 men.

The following "C" men are practicing: Nobles, forward; Cockrel, forward; Buck, guard; Wulf, guard; Baker, guard; Hockemeyer, guard; Kowalczyk, center; Kessler, forward. Kowalczyk, the heaviest and biggest man on last year's team, is carrying an arm in a sling and it is extremely improbable that he will be able to play. The best that can be expected is that he will round into shape toward the latter part of the season, physicians say.

Central's 1924-25 season will be opened December 6 at Columbia City. Nine games will be played away from home and 10 here.

The following are showing up favorably in practice, according to Coach Mendenhall: Scott, Deal, Moral, Paulsen, Hamilton, Bertleman, Manth, Gutshaw and Ramsey. Stiegeler, Martin, Jasper, Webber, and Miller from the football squad are expected to report soon. Following is the season schedule.

December 6—Columbia City, there.
December 12—Decatur, here.
December 19—Angola, there.
January 9—Auburn, here.
January 19—Decatur, there.
January 16—Young America, here.
January 17—Warsaw, there.
January 20—South Side.
January 23—Warren, here.
January 24—Bluffton, there.
January 30—Hartford City, here.
January 31—Wolf Lake (Reserves also), there.
February 6—Huntington, here.
February 7—Kendallville, there.
February 14—South Side.
February 20—Freebel, of Gary, there.
February 21—Michigan City, there.
February 27—Portland, there.
February 28—Wabash, here.

SWIMMING CLASSES ARE MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

Girls at Y. W. C. A. Learn Rudiments of Swimming and Start on Careers as Human Fish

Much progress has been made in the different swimming classes at the Y. W. C. A. At first the classes were taught the correct form of breathing. Then they were taught the dead man's float, which was to show the prospective swimmers the buoyancy of the body. As soon as they learned the dog paddle they were taught to float and then to swim on their backs.

The classes are now learning the side stroke and also the single over-arm.

NEW GROWTH OF GRASS TO BE RAISED ON GRID

The football field has been covered over with new grass seed and fertilizer was thrown on top of the snow to settle down into the earth as the snow melted, this method making it easier and a better way to grow new grass and make the soil fertile.

This vast amount of invaluable material is due to the system which Coach Welborn has established at South Side. He has not only turned out a winning team this year but has looked forward to the next few seasons and has developed a sophomore material which will give the seniors a good run for their positions.

GREEN AND WHITE BASKETBALL MEN BEGIN PRACTICE

Large Number Turn Out; Coach Gilbert to Begin Weeding Out in the Near Future

PROSPECTS BRIGHT WITH LETTER MEN

First Game to Be Staged with Huntington Team on December 6

Basketball practice has been going along smoothly for a week and a half. A large number of hopefuls have turned out and have given Coach Gilbert plenty of trouble weeding them out. Although no cut has been made yet, some are sure to be cut in the near future. Practice has been confined mostly to basket shooting and conditioning exercises.

With five letter men out and practically all of last year's second team, the prospects are fairly bright.

Among those making strong bids for positions are DuWan and Wiener, centers. Wiener may also be used at forward. Brubaker is practically a certainty at one forward, with Rahe, Willson and Simon fighting for the other forward position. Currie and Thiele are fixtures which will be hard to replace at guards. However, Martin, of football fame, is working hard for a guard berth.

The first game is with Huntington here December 6. Huntington, with Clummer and Harlow back, looks for strong year.

EVENING GYM SCHEDULE IS BEING WORKED OUT

The schedule for the use of the gym has not been completed yet but tentative plans have been made.

Monday nights the girls basketball teams practice till 4:30 o'clock and from then on the inter-class teams and second team have the floor. On Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays the varsity gets the floor and on Fridays the girls' teams have the floor all evening.

DO YOU KNOW

that the Spalding No. M Basket Ball is the ORIGINAL ball of the game?

Its supremacy is due to the fact that it is UNLINED. LINING DEADENS A BASKET BALL.

The SOLE PURPOSE of LINING is to PRESERVE the SHAPE and STRENGTHEN the LEATHER.

The No. M ball is made of special quality leather from the Spalding Tannery in Leeds, England, the home of the world's most expert leather makers. It is the ONLY leather from which an UNLINED BALL can be made.

Several South Side Graduates
Are Employed By Lincoln Life

Interesting Features of the Business World are Related in Interview; Many Athletic and Social Activities are Enjoyed by Employees Throughout the Year.

The Lincoln Life Insurance company employs six people who formerly attended South Side; namely, Mary Foraker, 1923; Edna Wyneken, 1923; Edith Saffen, 1923; Edna Henderson, 1923; Paul Agnew, 1924; Howard McVay, 1924.

The high school graduate with commercial training is preferred for positions in the company. Typing is very essential, since eighty-five per cent of the work involves that type of commercial training.

Miss O'Rourke, head of the personnel department at the Lincoln Life said, "There are several things a boy or girl entering the business world should have: the desire to succeed, an interest in his position, the desire to learn something about the work of those around him, and the quality of being punctual. Girls do not progress as rapidly in the business world as boys. They do not take the same interest in their work; they waste more time."

"There is no position in the Lincoln Life that has no chance for advancement. There are no dead-end jobs. Progress is made by the employees, not the department head.

"The social activities have many phases. There is a Lincoln Life Social and Athletic association, and the employees may bowl, play tennis, basketball and baseball. Every month they meet and plan a party or picnic to which everyone is invited. During the winter, we have bridge tournaments for the employees to get better acquainted. Many plays are given by the employees on the stage in the recreational room.

"Three doctors and a nurse, who can be obtained during office hours and visit the sick members at their homes, assist in keeping up the health in this organization.

"There is a cafeteria, operated at cost for employees.

"The workers enjoy an unusual spirit of good fellowship originating in the executive staff and reflected throughout the organization.

"In respect to health, enjoyment, and beauty," Miss O'Rourke finished, "we have as fine a building as can be found in the United States."

"LONG AND SHORT OF IT" WILL BE DISCUSSED

Girls Will Interview Doctors and Will Report About Shampooing Hair

"The Long and Short of It" is the subject of the next meeting of the U. S. A. club. It will be held in Room 24 on December 1, at 3 o'clock. This is to be a health meeting and a talk on the care of hair will be given. Girls will interview different doctors before the meeting and will report the best soap that can be used for washing either long or short locks. The phrase, "Eager for Knowledge," will be emphasized. Games will also be played.

Do You Know?
the name of this book?

It will contain a copyrighted airplane view of South Side showing the school and stadium.

CAFETERIA SALES
SHOW INCREASE

The Bad Weather Causes One Hundred Per Cent Increase in Patronage.

An increase of about one hundred per cent in the sales in the cafeteria is made on days when the weather is so bad that the students are unable to go out of the building for their lunches.

"Any special assembly or meeting also tends to boost the sales in the lunch room," said Miss Dixon, manager of South Side cafeteria.

Not so many boys as girls eat their noon lunch at the cafeteria, but those that do buy heavier lunches, such as meat, potatoes, sandwiches and milk, while the girls select salads and desserts.

Paper money is plentiful on Mondays but on Fridays mostly dimes and nickels are used to pay for the lunches. This is probably due to the fact that students have obtained their allowances at the beginning of the week, and by the end of the week have dwindled the bills down to dimes and nickels.

BEDFORD FINDS NAMES ARE TONGUE-TWISTERS

The Stone City Student of Bedford, Indiana, must be having a hard time reading our Times, for they cannot pronounce many names of our South Siders.

The following is an article found in their exchange column: "We request that South Side Times from Fort Wayne run a pronunciation column. Here are some names found in their paper: Asineath Rodebaugh, Mereness, Eickmeyer, Rehast, Verweire, Demaree, Bolensbaugh, Schmalzried, Schuelke, Fraunfelder, Obenour, and Schmieder.

Negro Minstrel Given
A negro minstrel was given by the music department in Tulsa high school last Friday.

The dairy class of the agricultural department from the Ottawa Kansas high school is constructing a modern dairy barn. The barn is being built on the scale of one and one-half inches to one foot making it a actually constructed thirty-seven and one-half inches wide, seventy-five inches long, and twenty inches to the gable. The structure provides for twenty cows and is complete with modern tiling windows, sliding doors etc. The class plans to finish this in two weeks.

The seniors of the Central high school, St. Paul, Minnesota, are going to hold a sale of Christmas cards. These are being made by the students.

At the stadium high school, of Tacoma, Washington, there is just one more girl than boy enrolled. The totals are: boys, 829; girls, 830.

BOULEVARD NAMED
AFTER H. RUDISILL

Formerly Called Richardville Avenue in Honor of Chief of Miami Indians

Among the streets which were considered in the column of the Journal-Jazzette, named "Where Our Streets Got Their Names," appeared "Richardville Avenue," a street well known to a majority of South Siders.

It is almost an unknown fact that about 15 years ago this street was known as Richardville avenue.

It received its name from Jean Baptiste Richardville, chief of the Miami Indians.

A change was made to give recognition to a man who was the first real estate man to establish himself in Fort Wayne.

This man, Henry Rudisill, came here from Lancaster, Ohio, to look after the interests of John J. Barr, of Baltimore, who had come here in 1823 and purchased a tract of land from the government.

These lots were offered for sale on September 18, 1824—just a century ago last September.

Within a short time Mr. Rudisill became one of the foremost pioneers of his time. He served as postmaster and his grist mill on Spy Run avenue was a landmark until about 15 years ago.

The death of Mr. Rudisill occurred in 1858, after he had received an injury while superintending some work at one of his mills.

Miss Chapin Reports That Few People Have Been Absent During Past Few Weeks

The general health of the pupils of South Side apparently is much better as the absence list is not as large this year as it was in the corresponding time of other years.

"Possibly the desire to bring up the low grades received last week has had some effect on the students and is bringing about a better attendance," said Miss Chapin, study hall teacher. "Regular attendance is necessary for good grades," she continued.

Among those absent at this time are Helen Sherbondy and Mildred Soest. Eleanor Williams has returned after an illness of three days caused by illness.

PORTRAIT WORK ON THE TOTEM IS CALLED OFF

Remaining Pictures to Be Taken During Christmas Vacation or After the First of Year

BUD BECK SELECTED TO EDIT THE ANNUAL

Staff Is Making Great Progress on Book; Color Scheme Has Been Selected

"Portrait work for the 1925 Totem has been suspended until Christmas," stated Bud Beck today. "We expect a great many of the remaining pictures to be taken during Christmas vacation," he continued, "as both the students and the photographers will have more time then." He said that all seniors have been photographed and that lay-out work will soon start. Final pictures for football were taken Monday, and for seniors, Tuesday.

There have been several changes in the staff recently, the most important of which is the naming of Bud Beck as editor-elect in place of Charles Tribolet, former editor, who became ineligible several weeks ago on account of grades. The term "editor-elect" means that Beck is serving in an unofficial capacity. He will remain general manager of the Times until a series of tryouts for his successor has been completed. The rest of the staff, as it stands at present, follows:

Plans for the book are crystallizing rapidly. One of the novel features it will contain is a copyrighted airplane view of the school and stadium. The color scheme is to be gray and white, which will express and heighten the historic theme of the book. The cover will be stiff, with beveled edges. The design for it has not been chosen, several being submitted from large cover concerns.

Another attraction is the opening section of eight pages. The head man of the art department of the Indianapolis Engraving company is designing these. His paintings, which will be reproduced in full colors exclusively in the 1925 Totem, will be original and will fit perfectly with the scheme of the book, as they were taken from the history of Fort Wayne.

The honor roll of the Anderson Senior high school, Anderson, Indiana, is going to be re-established soon. The roll will be divided into two sections, the first being made up of students making A in every subject they are taking. The second group will consist of those pupils making all A's and B plus's.

Enter Essays
One hundred and thirty essays on the Home Lighting contest were entered by students of the East High school of Aurora, Illinois.

LOST AND FOUND

Compacts, fountain pens, books, knives, pencils, and locker keys by the score, are just a few of the articles lost each day. Nearly everything found is turned in at the office, but the loser seldom calls.

To give another service to its readers, the TIMES will publish each week a list of lost articles. In case someone calls for an object that has not been brought in, a brief description of it will be printed.

Problems of Mothers and Fathers of High School Students to Be Discussed

MRS. H. A. RAY TO SPEAK

The Parent-Teachers association of the South Side high school will hold a meeting on Friday, December 5 in the Room S at three o'clock. One of the most interesting parts of the program will be addresses by prominent people. Mrs. H. A. Ray will tell of "Some of the Problems of Mothers of the High School Students," and Judge Ballou will give his version of "Some of the Problems Which Confront the Fathers of High School Students."

The program will also include several musical selections. Mrs. Warren Smithley and Mrs. H. Mauk will entertain with a piano duet.

It is hoped that many parents will avail themselves of this opportunity to come and enjoy this program.

James Smart Annex and Forest Park Buildings Will Be Completed for Next Semester

"I do not know at present when the Harrison Hill school will be ready for occupation," stated Mr. Ward. "But probably not for next semester. None of the pupils will be transferred until the building is completed. Then all the South Side grades will be moved at once."

He further stated, "The Forest Park building is nearly finished now and will be entirely completed by next semester. The James Smart school annex will also be occupied at that time."

The furniture, window curtains, and all the other necessary articles have already been purchased for the Harrison Hill school, so as to be in readiness when the building reaches the stage of completion when these can be installed.

South Side Has Several Veteran Players; New Players Will Gain Chance to Star

The "Fighting Green" will open its season against the strong Huntington high school five Saturday night. Huntington will bring its entire squad in a preliminary game the South Side seconds will do battle with the Huntington seconds.

Huntington has not as yet developed any individual stars but the team as a whole is expected to be strong. Harlow is the only regular left from last year but Klummer is a rangy center who will have to be watched. Newell and Bucher, subs from last year, are counted on to come through.

There is considerable discussion as to who will start the game for South Side. Coach Gilbert intends to use many men in hope of getting a good combination. Captain Brubaker will start at forward with Thiele and Currie at guards. Wiener and Duwan will both be used at center with Wiener probably starting the game.

It will probably be decided at the last minute who will start at the other forward. Wilson, Simon, and Rahe are all working for the berth. The first game will start at 7:30 with the last game an hour later.

GIRL RESERVE CLUB
PLANS UNIQUE PARTY

Japanese Frolic Is Arranged by So-Si-Y Social Committee for Tomorrow Night

A Japanese party, a most unique affair of the season, is being planned by the social committee of the So-Si-Y and will be given tomorrow evening in the music room.

All members attending are asked to wear kimono to carry out the plans of the committee, of which Elizabeth Kline is general chairman and Miss Woodward faculty advisor. A Japanese luncheon is to be served in the domestic science rooms from several booths, after a gay promenade through the various halls. Wafers, ice cream, and tea will make up the menu.

A committee of Mary Alice Tannehill, chairman, Noma Wilkey, Mildred Crane, Frances Wagner, and Mary Monroe, will have charge of the decorations. Mildred Obenour, Virginia Bell and Margery Burres will provide for the entertainment.

Vesta Johnson with her committee of Lucile Dutton and Frances Wagner will serve the refreshments.

TWO CONTESTS HELD IN MISS FIEDLER'S CLASSES

Pupils Improve in Speed and Accuracy; Mary Hughes and Ruth Carpenter Are Winners

A great deal of enthusiasm has been aroused in contest work in two beginning algebra classes taught by Miss Fiedler. There were actually two separate contests. The one covered problems in multiplication and division and the other covered work in equations.

First, preliminary contests were held in Room 28 by the entire classes. The winners of these were as follows: Harold McMahon, Ruth Carpenter, Ralph Frank and Frederick Stephen of the morning class, and Don McLucas, Robert Van Ness, Virginia Seemeyer, Claire Staley and Mary Hughes of the afternoon class. These people, the winners of the preliminary contests, then met in Room 28 on Monday, December 1 for the finals.

Mary Hughes won the final contest for multiplication and division and Ruth Carpenter won the final contest for equations. They are the champions of the two classes.

"This work has resulted in a marked improvement in both speed and accuracy," says Miss Fiedler.

U. S. A. Sells Candy
Home-made candy was sold by members of the U. S. A. club on Monday, November 24 at the door of Miss Rinehart's room number 52. The $4.07 which was made from the candy sale will help to pay for the group picture in the Totem of all the U. S. A. members.

STUDENTS TO ADDRESS
MATH-SCIENCE MEETING

"The Cultural Value of Mathematics," a talk by Veda Stevens, and "The Earth's Brother Mars," by Kathryn Chapman, will be the chief features of the Math-Science club meeting to be held Friday, December 12, in Room 96.

The games for the evening will be in charge of Mr. Greely, a faculty advisor of the club. At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served. Everyone is urged to come to this meeting.

FORT WAYNE BOYS
LEAD CONFERENCE

Forty-six Boys Attend the Annual Boys Meeting Held at Peru

CENTRAL BOY ELECTED

Forty-six boys and three men from Fort Wayne "Y" attended the fifth annual boys' conference at Peru, November 28, 29 and 30. This is the largest group of boys that ever attended the conference from Fort Wayne.

The boys were an enthusiastic crowd and had a large share in the conduct of the conference. The officers conducted the meetings, served on the conference committees, wrote up the findings in the farewell meeting, giving their impression of the conference. In the opinion of many boys this conference was one of the best ever held.

Harry Thomas, of Fort Wayne, was elected president of the conference and was presented a gavel by R. J. Duke, leader of the conference. Thomas responded in a brief speech of acceptance and took up his duties. He held the affairs of the conference in a very humorous-like way.

Thomas is the president of the Central Hi-Y club, having been a member of the team for two years. He was a member of the team during his freshman and sophomore years. The election took place immediately after the banquet on Friday night.

The Jefferson club, of Lafayette, made a good impression at the conference. Roy Brown of their club was elected vice-president of the conference. Brown conducted the devotionals at the Saturday morning session. The gospel team of the Jefferson Hi-Y club had charge of the services at the First Presbyterian church of Peru on Sunday morning.

Much favorable comment on the service was made by the members of the congregation, the pastor and visitors. The Fort Wayne Boys' Glee club sang at the Saturday morning and Saturday evening sessions.

DEBATE TEAMS NAMED;
TO SPEAK DECEMBER 12

Affirmative Team Will Appear
Here and Negative at Leo;
Discuss Movie Censorship

The debating teams will make their first appearance on December 12. The affirmative team will be at South Side and the negative team will be at Leo.

The members of the teams, as announced by Mr. Makey on November 26, are as follows: Affirmative, Lucile Lapp, Power Karr and Elsiebeth Crane with Louise Platt as alternate; negative, Dorothy Emrich, Ruth Eickmeyer and Gertrude Schuelke, with Carl Rhorer as negative alternate.

Meetings are being held by the teams on every night except Monday as this night was given to the Times because several debaters hold prominent positions on the Times staff.

The judges for the debates, as far as is now known, will be O. M. Brunson, boys' secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Albert Schaff, of Milligan and Schaff, and Otto Scheimann, of the Bowser Trust company.

On December 12, the Leo affirmative will debate with South Side negative at Leo and South Side affirmative will debate Bluffton negative here at South Side. Then, on the following Friday, December 19, South Side affirmative is booked against Huntington negative at Huntington and Central affirmative, against South Side negative at South Side. An admission of ten cents is charged for each debate.

Finish Speeches
Mr. Null's and Mr. Makey's classes (English 7) finished Burke's speech on Conciliation. Last Wednesday they had the final test. They started Macbeth, Monday.

STATE LATIN CONTEST
SET FOR EARLIER DATE

Freshman Group Split Into Two Divisions, Adding One More to Previous Four Sections

The state Latin contest which will be held in the near future will be conducted on the same lines as the contest series of 1923-24. Mr. Rothert, head of the Latin department, stated yesterday.

"A slight change is made in the number of divisions or classes," he said in explaining a few facts concerning this year's contest rulings. "Last year there were four divisions; for the coming contest there will be five. The first division is sub-divided into 1A for pupils who are completing first year Latin the fall semester, and 1B for those doing this the coming semester. Division II is for pupils completing Caesar either mid-year or at the end of the year. Division III takes care of Cicero students, while division IV is for those taking Vergil."

The dates for the various contests are somewhat earlier in the year than last year. The local contest will not be held later than February 13, 1925. The county examination comes two weeks later on February 28. The district examination occurs March 25, and the state contest either April 11 or April 18.

Mr. Harris has already sent the card enrolling South Side in the contest.

Part of Pen Found

That the lower part of a lady's gold fountain pen has been found in Rudolph's Dry Goods store, was reported to Mr. Harris by Mr. H. A. Koene-man. The loser is requested to call for it at 318 Kinnaird avenue.

THIRTY-ONE COMPETE IN LIGHTING CONTEST

Thirty-one South Siders handed in essays in the Home Lighting contest recently closed. The contest rules required the arranging of lights in the rooms in the Home Lighting primer and the writing of an essay of not more than 600 words on the value of good lighting in the home.

The first international prize is a $15.00 model electrical home, and several other prizes are college scholarships. Besides these there are many valuable local prizes to be given by the judges here.

"CHARM SCHOOL" GIVEN
BY SO-SI-Y MEMBERS

Service Committee Active During Thanksgiving Season; Distribute Baskets to Needy

The regular meeting of the So-Si-Y club was held Tuesday at three o'clock in Room 24. "The Charn School" was chosen as the name for this meeting because a play by this name was presented by various members of the club.

Dorothy Eymann and Miss Thorne faculty advisor of the program committee, had charge, and assisted the girls in giving their parts.

Dress, health, recreation, voices manners, and personality were portrayed during the progress of the playlet.

Lucille Lapp played a violin selection and was accompanied by Isabel Walters at the piano.

During the past few weeks the service committee has been accomplishing much. The club joined with the U. S. A. club in arranging Thanksgiving baskets. There were six baskets in all and were delivered to large poor families, several having seven or eight children.

Each basket contained a chicken and in some cases two, if the baskets went to a large family. Besides the chickens each had one peck of potatoes, two pounds of cranberries, three pounds of apples, two loaves of bread, three pounds of sugar, two cans of vegetables, one can of milk, one can of fruit and a sack of cookies.

Practically every girl contributed and those who were in charge were Florence Hansen, Eleanor Colson, Elizabeth Schmidt, Pauline Baumgartner, Elvah Fashbaugh and Ruth Eickmeyer. Gertrude Schuelke also took a hot Thanksgiving dinner to a blind lady.

Further service work is being done by Cornelia Bade and Eleanor Colson, who are teaching at the Fort Wayne Settlement school on Saturdays, while Elvah Fashbaugh help entertain the children at the Day Nursery.

CARELESSNESS OF PUPILS
CAUSE WORK FOR JANITORS

Lights and Doors Broken and Seats in Gymnasium Are Damaged by Boys

When Mr. Stahl was interviewed by a Times reporter, it was found that he had more than his share of troubles most of which were due to the deliberate carelessness of pupils.

In the gymnasium, the backs of the seats are being continually bent over and damaged by boys, a large plate glass in the northeast door was broken, and two exit lights and a light shade in the boys' shower room were destroyed. In each of the above mentioned instances the wrongdoer was unknown.

In order to make conditions more sanitary, the janitors oil-mopped all the classrooms, the library and the cafeteria during vacation. A bulletin board was put up in Mr. Gilbert's office, and it was necessary to make a wood panel in the door which was broken in the athletic director's office.

Special Work

Mr. Murphy's class recently had special work on interpretation and construction of the constitution, pointing out the distinction between the two terms: that the interpretation has to do with legal matters and is specific, while construction is political and deals with the constitution as a whole.

Second highest journalistic honors in the country for publications of high schools of any size were won by the South Side high school at the fifth annual convention of Central Inter-scholastic Press association held at Madison, Wisconsin, November 28 and 29. The Times was one of the four All-American newspapers chosen from the different divisions for the final decision for highest honors, and ranked first in its class, while the Totem, also rating first in its division, was rated second in the United States to the Quiverian, the All-American annual of the Kansas City high school, Kansas City, Kansas. The Quiverian and Totem also finished in this order in the national Arts Craft Guild contest.

The South Side publications and those of the Kansas City high school were the only two schools in the country that gained All-American ratings on both newspaper and annuals.

Since the western school has an enrollment of about two thousand, compared to South Side's number of eleven hundred, the papers and annuals of these two schools were in different classes.

Miss Harvey is the only faculty advisor in the United States to place all publications in the All-American class. Kansas City high school has a different advisor for both newspaper and annual. The newspaper advisor has no other work than just to look after the paper and her journalism classes. The annual advisor gets classes off to look after the Quiverian.

Although the Times did not win first place in the All-American contest, the average honor for the school exceeds that of last year in that the Totem did not place at all then.

Four newspapers, three from division I and the Times from division I were sent to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for final judging by members of the Milwaukee Journal staff. Saturday noon the results were wired to Madison and were announced at the general convocation of the delegates that afternoon. The Southerner of South high school, Minneapolis, was announced as the grand prize winner.

The annuals were judged on the basis of a score card. Each department was rated excellent, good or fair.

Silver loving cups were awarded to the best magazines, newspapers and annuals and parchment certificates were given to the others ranking high in their division. The Times and Totem both received one of these.

Exactly 254 papers, 53 magazines, and 203 annuals were entered in the C. I. P. A. meet this year and approximately one thousand delegates were present, the largest in the history of the association.

The Central high school Spotlight won an all-American rating in the same division in which the Times took first place, but the Caldron failed to enter.

Miss Harvey was honored by being elected president of the newly organized National Association of High School Teachers of News-writing. Miss Harvey is also a member of the executive committee that will have charge of the research work that will standardize teaching methods and courses of study in high school journalism. The growth of this subject has been so rapid that it was felt that some study along this line was needed.

The Times delegates were: Hubert Beck, Cornelia Bade, Helen Crawford, William Van Ness, Margaret Welsh and Pauline Baumgartner. Hubert Beck and Harold Bridge were Totem representatives. Miss Harvey went in the interests of both publications.

Central was represented by four people: the faculty advisor, Mr. Richardson, the editor of the Caldron, the editor-in-chief and news editor of the Spotlight.

At Madison, the representatives attended addresses, round-table sessions, which were devoted to the discussion of newspaper and annual problems, and the usual entertaining features such as the banquet, carnival ball and the convention vodvil. A display of high school publications was given in the stock pavilion where all the convocations were held.

"To foster a democratic spirit in the school ought to be one of the aims of the high school publication," said Mr. V. A. Shea, professor of English at the University of Wisconsin in his address at a mass meeting. He also gave some examples of papers that had nothing in them but outside activities, especially athletics.

"If the paper could play up the educational and intellectual side of the school for which the institution was intended, the school would be able to stem the tide of the excess of outside activities," he continued.

Mr. C. H. Gardner, of the university, speaking on "School Publications as Advertising Media," remarked, "Although advertising in high school papers brings some results in the present it has a great influence on the future buying power of the students."

Have you done your Totem shopping?

Only twenty-one more days of study—then Christmas vacation!

Of course, every one has his likes and dislikes, but in a few cases there seem to be only dislikes.

Did you pretend to be properly shocked at your own gustatory attainments on Thanksgiving day?

The honor roll was splendid. It doubtlessly proved that South Side's scholastic ability equals that of her physical prowess.

If necessity is the mother of invention, the ancients certainly must have been hard up for something to do, when they invented geometry.

Have you thought at all about your semester's grades? Don't forget that you get out of a subject only as much as you put into it. An F preparation won't net an A in the end.

'Tis said that thought has its regular cycles. It's too bad the circumference can't be arranged especially for tests, so as to recall all the discussions and thoughts on the subject at the time they're needed.

Work on the Totem is progressing rapidly. The convention at Madison has filled the staff with new and better ideas. Pictures of the various clubs have been taken. Everything indicates that the 1925 Totem will be thee Totem.

In two days we meet Huntington in the first net fray of the season. Prospects on the hardwood court look promising this year. Huntington has always loomed up a dark spot in our horizon. In almost every contest they have played a tit for tat game. They handed us a defeat in football this year and hope to crown this with a win Saturday. Our thinly clad are as determined to give them a dose of their own medicine. Are you going to be there to see them swallow it? Our schedule is a stiff one. We have a good team. Can the rooters be depended upon?

Some of us seem wholly deceived in how a person who skips or cuts class should be dealt with. Although you think and know it's wrong and far from "cute," you laugh and make the person feel as if you admired his cleverness in getting away with it. Why do you do it? Because you lack the spirit and courage to brave his contemptuous opinion. You are afraid of talk. You let your principles be overrun by a truant.

You, regardless of your importance or popularity, are a leader in a large or small circle. Others, few or many, look up to you. In the face of that, can't you buck up and stop being easy with these "quitters?"

Again South Side's publications have brought distinctive honor to the school. Both the Times and Totem, at the Central Interscholastic Press Association convention, rated in the All-American class and were judged best in schools with an enrollment of seven hundred to fifteen hundred students.

Many pupils are of the impression that the school lost. This is incorrect. The awards are more extensive than those of last year, when the Totem received no rating. This year, the Times is one of the four best papers in the United States and best in its division, while the Totem is best in its division and also second best in the United States.

South Side and Kansas City, (Kan.) high schools were the only two institutions in the country to get both publications in the All-American class.

This Week's Best Editorial

90 PER CENT LACK CHARACTER

Statistics gathered by Swift & Co., as reported in The Journal, show that ninety per cent of the boys and girls lose their first jobs. Chief among the reasons for this is lack of character and moral courage.

Consider this from the standpoint of honesty alone. The employer pays the time and best efforts of the employee, and in accepting a position, the employee is morally obligated to give these. This obligation once entered into, common honesty demands that it be fulfilled cheerfully, willingly, and loyally. This attitude cannot fail to beget a love for the work, and instances are rare indeed where one who is fond of his work does not succeed.

Instances too numerous to mention might be sighted where the employee lacked the technical knowledge necessary to a satisfactory discharge of duty, but where his sense of honesty and justice led to such effort and stern self-discipline that the technical handicaps were soon mastered.

It is told that Andrew Carnegie, when a boy, was employed to take care of an engine at the munificent remuneration of $3.00 per week. He was entirely unfamiliar with the operation of an engine, but he remained on the job three days and nights in succession until he had mastered every detail of its mechanism. Is it any wonder that, with such qualities, he attained the enviable distinction of being the most successful business man of his generation?—West High Weekly.

To the Editor:
Saturday our basketball team will play its first game of the season. Have you purchased your season ticket, so that you can go to this and the other games? I think every student who can afford a season ticket should get one. The team needs backing and it's up to us to do it.

But the money that you will pay for your ticket is not all they need. Come to the games and yell! The team will play much better if it knows that you are on the side-lines rooting for them.

We have defeated Central in both basketball and football, but we have never defeated them in yelling. Now, during the next season let's get some pep and show everybody that we can and will yell.

"A ROOTER."

The chief influence in the forming of character is what we ourselves do. The way to learn perseverance, regularity, promptness, justice, kindness, team-spirit, initiative, responsibility is to begin early to practice these essentials.

A Mite of Verse

ONCE UPON A TIME

The good ship "Once Upon a Time" With softly purring motor waits (If ear is tuned to sound so fine) For voyagers beyond the gates Of here and now and time and space. On board, I doff the chains of fate; With light's own speed the stars I chase (Myself sole captain and sole mate), Or linger for ten million years To watch the glowing atoms chill To human, penitential tears Or mortal vesture of a will.

The first man lifts for me his voice; With earth's first singer I rejoice: All tears, all smiles, all battles fought, All victims, victors, I miss naught.

VALETE

Panders for Death, by whose insidious arts He steals upon his victims unaware, Leaving his wake of wretchedness and care To gnaw like cankers in their dear ones' hearts; Agents of terror; instruments of fear In the long nights when loved ones sweat through pain That love would share but that your wiles restrain; Source of despairing memories dark and drear; Your empire narrows; now the balance shifts; Death sees his minions flee, and yields his foe.

A score of years; as science one by one Subdues each dread disease and lightly lifts From homes of pain the pall of care and woe, Full filling years from Death's dominions won.

MANY JOURNALISTS MAKE HONOR ROLL

Five Percent of Student Body Garner Over Fourth of Scholastic Honors.

Beside spending many hours after school on journalism work, a greater part of the staff of our Times and Totem have succeeded in making mid-term honor roll.

Twenty-eight percent of the mid-term honor roll includes members of both publications though members of both publications staffs compose about only five percent of the student body.

The only two freshmen on the Times staff made the honor roll. One of them, Helene Foellinger, made five A's and Margaret Pocock, the other freshman member, made four A's.

The three sophomores reaching the honor roll and also the Times staff are Eldora Colson, 3 A's, Mary Hale, 4 A's, Olive Prine, 3 A's.

Nine out of the ten juniors on the staff were on the honor roll, or almost one-half of the juniors on the honor roll were members of the two staffs. They are Pauline Baumgartner, 3 A's; Ruth Eickmeyer, 3 A's; Mildred McCune, 3 A's; Maynard Patterson, 4 A's; Mary Pocock, 4 A's; Elizabeth Schmidt, 3 A's; Gertrude Schuelke, 3 A's; Dorothy Somers, 3 A's; and Thelma Buirley, 5 A's.

Six out of the twenty making the senior honor roll are on the two staffs. They are Helen Clapesattle, 4 A's; Ruth Mae Dawkins, 4 A's; Margaret Welsh, 4 A's; Tom Staley, 3 A's; George Wyss, 3 A's, and Bertryl Merrill, 4 A's.

ALERT HISTORY PUPIL FINDS ERROR IN DIGEST

Miss Miller's United States history students are wide-awake, industrious pupils. In the Literary Digest of October 18, an article entitled, "Will Theodore Roosevelt the Second Be a Second Theodore Roosevelt?" This error was noted by them: "Altho it has never happened in American history, there is no constitutional barriers to prevent the son of a president reaching the white house."

Franklin Smith wrote a letter to the editor of the Literary Digest stating that John Adams and his son John Quincy Adams had both reached the white house, and received this reply: "The error you note in your letter of November 2nd was noticed only after the Digest had gone to press, too late to correct it. I am glad to know you read our pages so closely."

Very truly,

Dictionary of Assembly Pests
The note fiend: This pest is in the wholesale business. He has nothing to write about, but likes to play. He scribbles a note to Sally, an excuse to Agnes, and a threat to Jimmy. All go via the "Air Route," and some day he'll go via the "Boot Route." Let the poor kid play if he wants to; he's wasting his own time. At least he's not noisy.

The chatterbox: This ceaseless producer of a thousand whispers is getting stale. His mouth is always agape, and some day he'll find a book filling up the opening. A waterproof muzzel couldn't keep this polly from jabbering. Lessons—He doesn't need to study. His average in three subjects is 70, and in the fourth is 71. This noisy pest is a real drone-buzzy but not busy.

The regular Webster consultant: This Dictionary hound is not in search of knowledge. He trends the path from his seat to the stand for recreation. The poor boob likes to look at the pretty pictures. A rattle or some paper dolls might keep him seated.

Drotsky Himself: This poor unfortunate thinks he's in a boiler factory. Books, rulers, pens, pencils—all rush to meet mother earth with a crash. The clumsy rummy is a genuine pest. He pushes everything overboard. If it wasn't for his hands he'd make an excellent pianist. All he needs is rubber books or a padded cell.

The Weary One: He thinks that assembly seats should be plush covered so he can sleep more soundly. The drowsy old owl has learned the art of sleeping with his eyes open. If the poor boob would try sleeping nights, he wouldn't need to keep the rest of the assembly awake with his snoring. He wakes up every five minutes to look at his watch, groan, and turn over. Some day he'll wake up and find himself sleeping.

Your Neighbors: All pests.
Yourself: The perfect student.

NEW SECTIONAL TOURNNEY PLAN SENT SCHOOLS

Rule Adopted at State Teachers Convention Found to Be Both Unpopular and Impracticable

DIVISION OF PROFITS BASED ON DOUBLE PLAN

Half Would Be Distributed on Basis of Season Tickets; Half Equally to Schools

The plan of conducting sectional basketball tournaments as adopted on October 18 at a meeting of the directors of Indiana High School Athletic association has been decided by an almost unanimous dislike to be neither feasible nor practical.

The board of control of the association issued recently, in referendum to the former plan, a more modified plan on which each principal of the high schools of the association will be asked to vote.

The board of control together with A. L. Trester, permanent secretary, has studied carefully the stipulations of previous sectional basketball contracts from sundry angles. All satisfactory and available tourney invitations have been examined. These reports cover all tourney expenses to the individual school, including lodging, meals, transportation, and sale of tickets. Every suggestion made by the participating school has been weighed in the balance.

The following fundamental principles to which each member of the I. H. S. A. A. has been directed, under the solution of the new contract:

1. All of the seven hundred sixty members of the I. H. S. A. A. should give this their best attention and should keep in mind the benefit of the association in general.
  2. The tourneys should be conducted for the benefit of the school children and the community in which they live. The interests of the game, the weight of the elements of good fellowship, and the development of genuine sportsmanship should be above all the principles of the tourneys.
  3. The price of the tickets should be made such that the association will not be branded as a commercial organization.
  4. The school and community should be remunerated adequately for their work.
  5. The participating schools should receive entertainment for their teams, their transportation expenses, and a division of the net receipts on a fair basis.
  6. The participating schools should share, to a certain extent, pro rata in the net receipts. The receipts should also be distributed in proportion to enrollment and to sale of season tickets.
  7. All parties should, in a considerate manner, play the game of tournament participation, tournament courtesy, tournament co-operation and tournament sharing.
  8. Good fellowship, clean athletics, fair competition, honest dealings, and genuine sportsmanship are obligated from all parties.
- After careful reasoning in order that the tournament contracts may become more feasible and practical, the board of control has presented its results of many weeks of pondering to the approval by the ballot of the participating schools. The I. H. S. A. A. has been recognized as the best association of its kind in the country. It has made an appeal to the fairness of each of its members to help uphold and maintain the standards which it has set.

The newly proposed sectional contract scheme is:

1. All legitimate expense except for transportation shall be paid from the gross receipts.
  2. The center high school shall receive one hundred dollars ($100.00).
  3. The transportation shall be paid.
  4. The center high school shall receive one hundred dollars ($100.00).
  5. The I. H. S. A. A. shall receive five per cent (5%).
  6. One-half of the balance shall be divided pro rata among the participating schools.
  7. One-half of the balance shall be divided on the basis of season ticket sales in the local communities.
  8. The board of control shall pass on all reports by the center school and all the participating schools.
  9. The center school shall furnish a complete financial report to the I. H. S. A. A. and to each participating school soon after the tournament.
- The board of control thinks this scheme the most practical because it is dividing a part of the receipts pro rata and another part according to the sales of season tickets which will financially aid those schools exerting the most effort and showing the most interest. It will also be noticed that the I. H. S. A. A. has cut its own interest in the dividends from ten per cent (10%) of one half to five per cent (5%) of one-quarter.
- This plan illustrates very reasonably the parties who share in the receipts of the tourney. They are: First, the I. H. S. A. A. administration; second, the participating schools; third, the center school or the school holding the tournament.

Bales, Miss Hadsell. The above picture shows last year's victorious varsity basketball team. These successful Mildredites met the Central girls and defeated them by a large score.

Although quite a few of the girls have been lost by graduation, Miss Hadsell has a wealth of material in the sophomores, juniors, and seniors, and expects to build the most successful varsity ever produced at South Side. In fact, the sophomores are such stars, that the coach says that those of last year's varsity will have to work extremely hard to retain their berths on the squad.

CENTRAL PLAYERS FOUND INELIGIBLE

Todd and Zink Cause Forfeit of Two Games and Suspension From Association

SIX BASKET GAMES OFF

Central high school of Fort Wayne was dealt a crushing blow when the principal, Fred H. Croninger, received word from A. L. Trester, secretary of the Indiana High School Athletic association, that Central high school has been suspended from the association until January 15, 1924, for playing two ineligible men on its football team.

According to the constitution and by-laws of the association, a player moving from one town to another cannot participate in high school athletic contests of any sort until after his first full semester in the new high school, providing his parents do not also move their residence. In the cases of Thurl Todd and Rome Zink, who took their residence at Fort Wayne at the close of last summer without their parents, the rule was violated and has called for suspension of the violating parties.

Besides its suspension from the I. H. S. A. A., Central had to forfeit two of the four games in which the ineligible players participated. Games were forfeited to Columbia City and Bluffton, which were the two teams that Central defeated early in the season. The games with Emerson, of Gary, and with Decatur were lost by Central at the time they were played and, therefore, caused no change on Central's won and lost column.

As soon as the ineligibility of the players was discovered, they were cut from the squad. Central coaches did not play these men because of their flashy ability on the gridiron, as either player was of only mediocre ability. Central's suspension from the association affects basketball games with Columbia City, Decatur (two), Angola, West Newton, and Auburn. On January 16, Central is scheduled to play Young America. This will be Central's first game of the season unless non-member teams are played.

Central looked forward to this basketball season with the highest hopes. The return of the entire team of Tigers which displayed such wonderful ability last year was looked upon as a fortunate omen. However, Kowalzyck, the star center, will be unable to play because of his arm, which he had broken during the football season. He is expected to get in shape near the close of the season.

The South Side-Central games will not be interrupted by Central's suspension. The first South Side-Central game is scheduled for January 20.

FIVE LOCAL GRIDDERS ON MYTHICAL ELEVEN

Brubaker, Rahe, Schopf, Currie and Aldrich Placed on All-City Team

The all-city high school eleven chosen by Bob Reed, sports editor of the Journal-Gazette was probably as evenly divided as possible because so many of the players of all schools were stars. South Side had five men placed on this mythical eleven. Central Catholic high ranked next with four men, while Central placed with two players.

George Wyss, sports editor of the "Times" placed eight South Side men on his all-city team and the rest of the places were taken by Central Catholic men. Wyss and Reed agreed Mulligan, Brubaker, Rahe, Schopf, Currie and Aldrich as men for their eleven. However, George put in Martin as center, while Bob placed Baltes in that position. Wyss also differed in that he had Libbing as right guard, Thiele as right end, Lassus as quarterback and Richendollar at fullback.

Mr. Reed's all-city eleven is as follows:

First Team	Second Team
Brubaker	Berghoff
E. Rahe	Jasper
Mulligan	Sprunger
Baltes	C. Martin
Libbing	G. Berdelman
Schopf	T. McCarthy
Paulsen	E. Thiele
Baker	GB. Steinbacher
Pequignot	HB. Nobles
Currie	HB. Elliott
Aldrich	FB. Richendollar

SEASON NET TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY

Season tickets for basketball will be on sale Monday, December 8. They will cost $1.00, and will admit one to six games. They are not good for the Huntington-South Side game which will be played Saturday, December 6, for the benefit of the band. Mr. Greely and Mr. Virts will sell tickets in rooms 94 and 146 respectively.

Sport Shorts

The lid of the basketball season is going off with a bang when the Wardoites meet their ancient enemy, Huntington, Saturday night at eight bells here on our own hardwood.

Last year the Wardmen walloped the Huntingtonites in one of the final games of the regional tourney. The score was 39 to 18.

Huntington was South Side's first foe last season. The Wardoes journeyed to Huntington and were defeated by a 22 to 18 score.

This year Huntington journeys here so the tables ought to be turned.

The girls have been working on their costumes for the gym exhibit, so basketball has suffered a little.

The gym exhibit is promised to be the best ever. Don't tell, but most of the dances are to be in costume and many new features will be introduced.

With the Classes

"I spent the Thanksgiving vacation in Fort Wayne at the home of my sister," said Miss Paxton. "She entertained our niece, Annis Paxton, from Camden, Ohio."

"The Girl and Society" will be taken up as a special topic in Miss Mott's 9B sewing class this week.

The wool dresses being made by the sewing classes are nearly all finished.

Miss Mott spent Thanksgiving at her home in Noblesville, Ind.

The glee clubs will present a very beautiful Christmas cantata, entitled "Noel," December 20. The last cantata "The Three Springs," was very successful and it is hoped this one will prove as good. It will be presented in the South Side gym.

The band will play for the Parent-Teacher association which meets Friday afternoon in Room S. The band will appear in uniform.

The string quartet will make its first appearance at the Christmas cantata.

The game Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock between Huntington and South Side is for the benefit of the band. The admission to this game is 25c.

The band will play at all the basketball games just as it played at the football games. They will always play in their uniforms.

All students of Miss Rinehart's 10B English classes took a test on two passages of "The Merchant of Venice." These are "Portia's 'Mercy Speech'" and a part of Lorenzo's speech about music. Many students made excellent grades on this test. A chance to make up this test is offered to those who received no grade or who were absent. These pupils are asked to report to room 52 immediately after school Thursday.

Agriculture has been the topic studied during the past week by Mr. Whelan's 10B physical geography classes. The topic was concluded by the showing of a large number of slides depicting farming methods in various parts of the United States and the world. The girls were interested to note that in practically every foreign picture, women were shown working in the fields with the men.

Isabelle Walters, a junior, returned to school Monday. "Issy" has been absent all this term because of illness.

Mr. Arnold and family spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Null spent his vacation "loafing around home." He said that he intended to go to Chicago but decided not to.

Mr. Gould brought a small shock of corn from his own garden to school last Monday. The stems will illustrate the monocotyledonous stems which the classes are now studying.

AT THE RIALTO

It is seldom even in pictures where one sees a gigantic avalanche come sweeping down a mountain, thousands of tons of snow and ice, boulders, earth, etc., and smashing in log cabins and sweeping down huge pine trees like they were toothpicks. In Norman Dawn's genuine Alaskan drama, made on the Yukon River and called "Lure of the Yukon," such a sight may be seen. While the spectacle is thrilling and awe-inspiring and a rare and wonderful sight to behold—few people realize the great effort in time and patience required to get the result.

In the first place, the cabins to be destroyed had to be built, as no one would allow his cabins to be smashed up just to amuse an audience. This item cost considerable money. While on top of the cliff huge amounts of ice and snow were gathered and set off with several thousand dollars worth of dynamite. In all, about five thousand dollars in time, cabins and explosives for one thrill. See "The Lure of the Yukon" at the Rialto Theatre starting today.

DEBATERS MEET BLUFFTON HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON

South Side Speakers Will Uphold the Affirmative of Question: "Resolved That the State of Indiana Should Be Empowered to Censor All Motion Picture Films Presented for Commercial Purposes"

NEGATIVE TEAM WILL DEBATE AT LEO; OTHER LEAGUE MEMBERS MEET FRIDAY

Orchestra Will Furnish Music Before and After Debate Held at South Side; Ten Cent Admission Charges to Provide Necessary Funds for Debate Trips

South Side's affirmative debating team meets Bluffton negative tomorrow at 3:15 in Room 38 and South Side negative contends with Leo affirmative at Leo at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to debate the question, "Resolved: that the state of Indiana should be empowered to censor all motion picture films presented for commercial purposes."

Lucille Lapp, Power Karr and Elizabeth Crane are speakers on South Side's affirmative team, with Louise Platt as alternate; Dorothy Emrich, Ruth Eickmeyer and Gertrude Schuelke, with Carl Rhorer as alternate, speak on the negative team that will represent South Side at Leo.

Bluffton is a new member of the Northeast Indiana High School Debating league and little about her debating qualities is known but a stiff contest is expected at Leo as the Leo teams placed well in the league last year are on their teams this year, while none of the speakers of South Side has ever debated before.

The judges for the debate with Bluffton will be: O. M. Brunson, director of boys' work at the Y.M.C.A., Otto Sheumann, cashier of Bowser's Trust company, and Albert Schaaf, who is Hilgeman and Schaaf, who is known as a successful public speaker.

The judges at Leo will be: Rev. R. A. Feustermacher, of Leo; Miss Ida Reed, English teacher, Spencerville, and Joseph Martin, ex-teacher, Huntington.

Mr. Shafer has promised that the orchestra will furnish music for the intermissions and before and after the debate. An admission of ten cents is being charged in order to provide the necessary funds for the trips. The subject for the debates this year is much more interesting to high school students than last year's on the League of Nations, because the proposal for censorship of the motion pictures would directly affect the entertainment of practically all the students.

The complete schedule of the Northeast Indiana High School Debating league for Friday, December 12 is this:

At Bluffton—
Bluffton Affirmative
vs.
Central Negative
At Central—
Central Affirmative
vs.
Huntington Negative
At Huntington—
Huntington Affirmative
vs.
Leo Negative
At Leo—
Leo Affirmative
vs.
South Side Negative
At South Side—
South Side Affirmative
vs.
Bluffton Negative

The debaters have been putting in a lot of extra time and for two weeks now have been meeting in Room 144 every afternoon except Monday for discussion of the question. If students come to the debate and hear the arguments the team advances and those of the opposing team as well, they can decide for yourself the relative strength and ability of the two teams.

Freshman Is Best Speller
A freshman, Dorothy Davis, was the winner of the school-wide fifty word spelling contest held at the Highland Park, Michigan, high school, October 9. The words were selected from the vocabularies of high school students. The two having the highest frequency of error were "exercises" and "propleers."

TALKS WILL FEATURE MATH-SCIENCE MEETING

Veda Stevens and Kathryn Chapman Will Discuss Topics on Mathematics and Astronomy

"The Cultural Value of Mathematics," a talk by Veda Stevens, and "The Earth's Brother Mars," by Kathryn Chapman, will comprise the program for the Math-Science club, which will meet Friday, December 12, in Room 36.

The social committee, of which Mr. Greely is advisor, will have charge of the games for the evening. Refreshments will also be served. "We want a record-breaking crowd," Pauline Baumgartner, president of the club, stated to the members this week.

PAGEANT HONORS HUNDRETH YEAR OF FORT WAYNE

Will Be Shown at Majestic Theatre Three Evenings and One Afternoon This Week

NINE EPISODES SHOWN IN HISTORY OF CITY

Bert J. Griswold Writes Historical Episodes; Production Directed by Esther J. Simon

"The Call of The Three Rivers," a pageant in celebration of the one hundredth birthday of Allen county, Indiana, and the town of Fort Wayne, will be staged at the Majestic theatre, December 11, 12 and 13, with a special matinee on December 13.

The pageant in 1916 was in celebration of the one hundredth birthday of the state while this is for the birthday of Fort Wayne. The spectacular episodes are by Esther Janet Simon, who is directing the mammoth undertaking. B. J. Griswold, author of "The Pictorial History of Fort Wayne," has written the historical episodes and is in charge of publicity. The foreword to each episode is by Edward J. Lennon, Jr. He will speak these lines at the pageant.

The Story
The curtain rises on an intimate home scene revealing a mother and her two children. The mother has finished telling the story of the Indians who heard the Call of the Rivers—the St. Mary's, the St. Joseph and the Maumee—and came to build their village at the joining place. The imagination of the children is enlivened, and they plead with their mother to relate to them the story which we are pleased to name "The Call of the Rivers." It is an interesting story—will instill in the hearts of every son a true story—and the authors hope it and daughter of Fort Wayne a deeper pride in the spot which they call "home."

The pageant opens with a sparkling allegory and ballet, depicting the beauty and power of Nature, and introducing the aboriginal characters of the historical episodes—the Indians.

The story is then of the coming of Vincennes, the fall of the French post, the capture of the English garrison, life in Kekionga, and the coming of Harmar's army. This brings the pageant to Episode V, the dedication of Fort Wayne, which tells of the defeat of Harmar, followed by the destruction of the army of General Arthur St. Clair, who was sent by Washington to build a fort at the meeting place of the rivers. Major General Anthony Wayne, hero of the Revolution, defeated the savages at the battle of Fallen Timber, near the present city of Toledo, Ohio, almost within sight of a new British fort erected defiantly on American soil. The exultant American army then marched to the junction of the St. Mary's and St. Joseph rivers and erected here the fort demanded by Washington, and dedicated it on the fourth anniversary of the defeat of Harmar on the opposite bank of the Maumee.

The Town of Fort Wayne
Then follows the beginning of the town, and the great canal celebration, which tells of the national congress, at the very moment of adjournment, taking the decisive step which resulted in the creation of a great artificial waterway, the Wabash and Erie canal, connecting the Ohio river with Lake Erie. With Fort Wayne as an important "seaport," the opening of the canal between Toledo and Logansport, was made the occasion of a great celebration here on the 4th of July, 1843. This episode gives a picture of the activities of the morning of the day of celebration held at Swinney's Grove (Swinney Park).

"The World War"
The magnificent part played by Fort Wayne and Allen County in the World War is treated in the pageant through the medium of an impressive spectacular scene suggestive of the sacrifices not only of those who gave their lives in the cause of world democracy, but those who served wherever they were called in the service of their country and the whole peace-loving world.

The spectacular finale opens with revealing the same home scene with which the prologue is introduced, the mother and her children listening to the climax of the fascinating story of Fort Wayne. When the tale is ended, it is the enthusiastic wish of the children that the people of each generation from the aboriginal period until the present shall re-assemble to receive the words of appreciation of their part in the unfolding story.

MANY STUDENTS ORDER ANNUALS DURING CAMPAIGN

Seven Hundred Fifty Have Subscribed; Expect to Reach Goal of One Thousand Soon

REMAINING PICTURES WILL BE TAKEN SOON

Plan to Renew Portrait Work About Christmas and Rush It Through

"At least 750 Totem subscriptions have been turned in, and I expect the mark to climb well over 800," Mary Monroe, circulation manager, stated Monday night at the close of the drive. "Undoubtedly this is the biggest success of all campaigns, and I am pleased with the result," she continued. Those few students that did not give a reason for not subscribing, and those who asked to be allowed to decide later on, will be seen personally, she said.

Payments of 25 cents or more will be accepted by the agent through whom the subscription was taken, or by Miss Harvey. Mary Monroe asks that payment be made as soon as possible.

"The staff has been greatly encouraged by the subscriptions, and is very much pleased by the support that the student body has given its plans," said Bud Beck. "Work has started upon laying out the senior pictures which will soon be completed and sent to the engraver."

The remaining portraits for the Totem will be started about Christmas, and will be rushed as fast as they can, in order to complete the class engravings. Plans are being carried out in order to get the book out several weeks before school close.

JUNIOR HI-Y PLANS BOB-SLED PARTY

Bob Ride to Be Followed by Entertainment at the Y; Party to Be Given December 16

Many entertainments and lots of fun are being planned for the Junior Hi-Y Christmas party, Tuesday, December 16. The program committees promise that everything is practically "all set" and they guarantee a good time during the whole party, from 7:30 to 10:30. Part of this party includes a bobsled ride that will end up at the "Y" where Santa Claus will open the door to one merry, merry Christmas "blow out."

A new idea of the "sign-up" method was worked out by the president and the boys' secretary at the last meeting. This method has promised that the majority of members and their "Christmas belles" will attend. The others seem too bashful to ask "her."

The party starts about 7:30 at the "Y." The first thing on the program is the bobsled ride. If snow fails to appear, an old-fashioned straw ride will fill the place of the bobsled ride. About nine o'clock the crowd will return to the "Y" and the games and eats will start. Between the games, special entertainments by the orchestra or by individuals will take place.

Page Robinson's orchestra has been hired for the party night and it will add much to the success of the party. Robinson's orchestra "made a hit" at the Junior Hi-Y father and son banquet, so an appointment was immediately made for them to play at the Christmas party.

"All that remains unsettled is to get all the fellows and their girl friends to attend," said the boys' secretary.

ANNUAL FROLIC OF HI-Y HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Program Committee Expects Crowd of at Least Eighty at "Hard Times Party"

Having been postponed for one week, the annual Hi-Y frolic will be held Thursday, December 18.

The program committee is planning to hold the "do-ins" at the "Y" in the form of a hard-time party and are sure of a crowd of eighty. This is to be the only Hi-Y party and many plans are withheld as being secret and surprising.

The regular meeting of the Hi-Y will take place as usual tonight and the program, as outlined for December 18, will be held at tonight's meeting. The topic for discussion is "The Hi-Yers attitude toward student activities." Many fellows are expected to attend and further plans for the Christmas party will be given.

DR. BARKER MAY LOSE VOICE, PHYSICIANS FEAR

Dr. Charles E. Barker, who recently spoke to South Siders in a mass meeting in the session room, is confined in a hospital at Grand Rapids, Michigan. At the time of his lecture here, Dr. Barker had a very weak voice and physicians at the hospital fear that he may lose his voice. He is a great chautauqua lecturer.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA TO BE THIS MONTH

Date Set for Either December 20 or 21; Will Be Presented in Gymnasium

The Christmas cantata will be given either December 20 or 21 in the gymnasium by the glee clubs.

The cantata, a composition by Bliss, is made up of various Christmas songs. It is a very beautiful composition and, with the splendid talent of the members of the glee club, promises to be the best program given by the music department.

The orchestra will open the program with an overture. Other parts have not been decided upon definitely. A definite date and time for the musical will be announced later.

WARDOITES HAVE TWO BATTLES ON THIS WEEK

Basketeers Meet Garrett on Their Own Floor Friday; Play Kendallville Here Saturday Evening

LARGE AUDIENCES ARE EXPECTED BOTH NIGHTS

Good Fight Expected from Garrett; Green Out to Avenge Last Year's Defeat

The "Green and White" five, still smarting from their defeat at the hands of Huntington, will journey to Garrett Friday night for a game with Garrett high school and return Saturday to battle our ancient foes from Kendallville.

Little is known of the Garrett team, but they are always hard to beat on their own floor. As it is such a short distance to Garrett a large crowd is expected to accompany the team.

"Gerry" DuWan will get a crack at his old teammates Saturday night, and he is especially anxious to do his stuff against them. We also have a defeat at the hands of Kendallville last year which needs to be wiped out. Captain Henry of Kendallville is the big star, but we feel confident that Currie will stop him.

There will be no preliminary game Saturday night on account of the gym exhibition to be given by the girls. This, however, will be well worth seeing. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock with Yarnell officiating.

PHILAETHIAN MEMBERS PLAN CHRISTMAS PARTY

Money Taken in at Play to Be Used for Phila Totem Picture

December 19 a Christmas party will be given for the Philaethian members. It is not yet certain as to where it will be held.

The play "While Brother Phil Was Walking" was repeated Monday, December 8. Prelina Fletcher played "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven. Ruth Wehmoff sang "Memory Lane" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses." An admission of ten cents was made. The money that was made is to be used for the Totem picture.

FORTY "JAP" MAIDENS ATTEND SO-SI-Y PARTY

Thelma Birely and Vesta Johnson Dance; Margery Burres Gives Reading

About forty girls attended the "Jap" party given last Friday evening by the So-Si-Y girls for the members of the Friendship club. It was held in the music room, which was decorated with gayly colored lanterns and fans.

Thelma Birely and Vesta Johnson gave a Japanese dance in costume. Margery Burres entertained with two readings. The first was "Bill from Boston" and the last "Kitty of Coleraine." Both proved very amusing.

Refreshments of ice cream, cakes and tea were served from the domestic science rooms.

"CARE OF FEET" SUBJECT OF SO-SI-Y PROGRAM

Dr. Osborn Will Lecture; Dorothy Eymann Has Charge of Meeting

"Food, Feet, and Fun" are the subjects to be discussed at the next So-Si-Y meeting Tuesday, December 16.

Dr. S. P. Osborn, a foot specialist, will give a talk on the subject.

Dorothy Eymann, chairman of the program committee, will have charge of the remainder of the meeting.

To carry out the program games will be played to create fun and refreshments will be served.

GYM EXHIBIT TO PRECEDE SATURDAY'S NET CONTEST

C. I. P. A. DELEGATES TELL STAFF ABOUT CONVENTION

Writings in Each Edition Will Be Criticized for Benefit of the Staff

Short talks on the convention at Madison were given and there was a discussion on the newspaper in general by the students that represented South Side at the convention at Madison, Wisconsin, at the Times staff meeting held Thursday in Room 20.

Helen Crawford, together with Margaret Welch and Cornelia Bade, gave interesting talks on "The Good and Bad Points of a Newspaper."

Pauline Baumgartner told how the Times staff could get more advertisements and how much advertisements really contribute to a newspaper.

Bud Beck gave an interesting discussion on the newspaper in general. "By this method everyone should learn the good and bad points of a newspaper, and will be able to hand in good write-ups that need no correction," he asserted.

Miss Harvey told the staff why the South Side Times did not win first in the United States and explained the fact, which many students have misunderstood, that South Side did not lose but took higher honors than last year.

BEST PRESENT OF ALL

Christmas vacation begins at 3 p. m., Tuesday, December 23. School opens again on Monday, January 5, at 8:20. School will be closed for twelve days during the Yuletide.

There are now only eight more school days before Santa Claus' annual visit, or only thirteen days altogether.

After Christmas, only fifteen school days remain before the new semester starts.

Seniors Entertain Sophs

The senior class of Port Huron high school gave a class mixer for the new sophomores. It turned out very successfully. There was a variety of amusement for the students; a movie, dancing, and cards. It is an annual affair and put on very cleverly.

Debators Theme of Censorship of Movies by State Discussed

Some Think Movies Are All Right, While Others Believe In Censorship; Others Say That Existing Censorship Laws Are Not Enforced Properly.

Discussing a subject very interesting to high school students, the debaters will soon match their oratorical power with Bluffton in a verbal battle on "State Censorship of Movies." Since this is a subject replete with points to be contested pro and con, and since it is a matter of personal interest, South Siders should take great interest in the debate, because it touches a subject they all can argue over among themselves.

Considerable comment has been raised in the last five years by critics, that many entire films should be discarded because of their unfitness for either an amusement or educational venture. But many folks protest and say that there is nothing wrong with the movies! Others stand agast and say that the majority of crime and lawlessness is traced back to some movie and that someone should have power to prohibit the use of such films. To the former line of reasoning and, perhaps, less forcefully, most South Side students cling.

Edna VanTilbury says emphatically without regard to the obstacles arising if she would attempt to prove her points: "Censorship of movies would tend to take away from the people of the United States the right of freedom of speech and press that is given them by the constitution. Furthermore there is no need for such censorship because the various states have laws to prohibit the exhibition of immoral pictures."

CARTOON SERVICE

You probably have noticed that the TIMES is carrying as a regular feature the cartoons from the pen of Alexander, creator of Billy Stiff. Having worked on student publications, and keeping in touch with editorial staffs, he knows the field and covers it well. In the November issue of the "Scholastic Editor," the official publication of the Central Interscholastic Press Association, this service is advertised as follows:

"The South Side Times of Fort Wayne—winner of the All-American Class C. I. P. A.—uses both Billy Stiff and our Editorial Cartoon Service. Our cartoon features will be the same for your publication!"

These cartoons are being used by a great number of student publications, and are proving immensely popular.

Are you planning to go to the girls' gym exhibition?

Just eight more school days until Christmas vacation!

The Kelly Klads face a busy week-end. They will meet Garrett there tomorrow night and Kendallville on the home floor Saturday night. A season ticket, lots of enthusiasm and willingness to yell make up a real South Side rooster. Do you belong to this class?

In this whirl of activities, varsity games, basketball practice, debating work on the school publications, club work, and band and glee club practice, it is hard to find time to keep your scholastic record up to its standard.

Outside activities do have a tremendous effect on our school life. Their part is far from trivial, and should receive some of your time and interests, but not too much.

A 1925 Totem would prove a splendid gift.
Better suggest it to dad.

Tomorrow night marks the beginning of our debate schedule. The affirmative team meets Bluffton here. Although we all can't go to the out-of-town debates, we can support the Talkin' Green when they're here. Your attendance will help this department gain a stand on the right side of the "won and lost" column.

Scholarship is the fundamental reason for your coming to this institution and should therefore play the most important part. If you fail in this underlying reason, your high school career has been a failure, although you may have been most successful in outside activities. A good plan to follow would be to get assignments first and then take part in as many activities as you can.

This year's Totem is slowly molding itself into shape. Many of the individual and group pictures have been taken. Both the editorial and business departments are busy, and are trying to produce "the best yet" annual. A book, a masterpiece in year book production as well as a "true to life" portrait of school activities, is the dream of the staff.

You could not possibly find so easy and yet so complete a way to preserve your school memories. Every organization, music, debating, athletics, publications, and scholarship will have a part in the book. It will contain pictures of every one in school and not just those of the seniors, as before.

The Totem campaign is under way. If the annual's to be the "best yet," you'll have to help by being prompt in subscribing. Don't wait until the last week of the drive to sign up. The book is being offered to you at the same low price and can be paid for in as small payments as any one could wish. You'd better sign up and start saving your pin money now.

A law in physics says, "Everything continues in its state of rest or uniform motion in a straight line unless it is compelled by some external force to change that state." It could well be applied to us. We travel through life in a more or less straight, narrow path until the effect of others begins to show itself. The strong characters of our friends and elders, their aid, an education, and experience, all outward forces, tend to shove us out of this narrow rut. In some cases the outward force is not strong enough, then the individual grows up to be very ordinary, narrow-minded and incapable. In other cases the external force is too strong. It will not allow our own personality to develop, but makes us just like the masses, or it may tend to mature the person too rapidly, making him think himself superior to his friends and really too good to humble himself to such an extent to enjoy their companionship.

A little will power and perseverance can keep us from these extremes. Too strong external forces tending to produce conceit can be overcome as well as too weak a force resolving in an uneventful and inglorious life.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, but will be published unsigned if desired.
Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

Boosters to the Fore

Another opportunity to support a South Side team will be given us Friday night, when the debate schedule starts. Last year the support given to this department was miserable. At one debate not more than five people were present. Certainly that doesn't come up to the records we've set in other pursuits.

The debate squad can and, with the proper co-operation, will add laurels of victory to those already in the possession of the school. Without a doubt athletic contests appeal to a greater part of the student body, than does debating, but that does not excuse our utterly neglecting this department. We want our school to stand for more than supremacy in athletics. We want it to top the list in debating as well. A good way to get it there would be to show the debaters that you're back of them by turning out for at least the home contests.

They Helped Us Win

The saying has always been "Patronize Your Advertisers." But how many people really do this? I do not say that you should go to a store that has an ad in the Times, and buy something you do not like. When you start out to buy something go to a store that advertises and see what they have. If you do not like it, you need not buy, but this at least shows the firm that you have seen their ad.
If we patronize the people that advertise in the Times, the next time a solicitor asks him for an ad he will say "Yes" more quickly. Many people just advertise "out" and out.
After this, let's make the ad help the advertiser as well as the Times.

Publications and School Spirit
Are Praised by Journal-Gazette

"Institution Has Signalized Its Course with a Story of Settled Achievement" Reads Editorial in Local Newspaper After Learning of Times Awards at C. I. P. A.
Convention.

"Leadership Maintained" was the title of an editorial appearing in the Journal-Gazette early last week in which the publications and predominating school spirit of South Side were lauded.
"With an institutional life of just two years, South Side has signalized its course with a story of settled achievement," the editorial reads.

Fort Wayne's people will not be grudging in their admiration for the work in journalism carried on in the South Side high school. That institution from the first set a high mark in its efforts for the superior conduct of its publications and has not been since then satisfied with inferior accomplishment. The conference of high school publications, held at the University of Wisconsin, has bestowed new honors upon the South Side publication. The Times, the weekly newspaper issued by that school, is given second place in the All-American for schools of any class and first place for schools of its own class, while similar distinction is accorded the Totem, South Side's annual.

What is most striking in this repetition of honors for the South Side school is the evidence it gives that there is complete maintenance of spirit, a spirit which is brilliantly reflected in its publications. There

HUNTINGTON WINS OPENING CONTEST BY SLIM MARGIN

Old Rival Able to Defeat South
Side's Five by One Point
After See-Saw
Game

BRUBAKER SCORES OVER HALF OF TEAM'S POINTS

Red-Clads Draw Away in Last Few Minutes of Game; Kellyites Appear Strong

The South Side basketball tossers pried the lid off their 1925 season with Huntington and found that the initial contest contained some of the bitter taste of defeat. South Side went down for the count by a one point margin, after the fiercest struggle against her age-old rival. The score, which hovered to and fro, similar to the motion of a pendulum, finally ended with Huntington in the foreground of a 20 to 19 score.

Huntington is conceded the better team of that evening by no more than one point. The fact that she was more able to score consistently on her shots attempted was her only advantage. Huntington had played one game earlier in the season. Saturday night's performance was the first occasion on which the Green and White netters performed on the hard-wood
this autumn.

Huntington had a well-balanced team of weight and speed. Although several of her players are inexperienced, her chances of rounding into shape, by tournament time, a very formidable aggregation are other than dull. The Lime City's offensive play is formed about a good pivot in Hum-mer, the star center. He can advance the ball down the floor wonderfully well. He has the knack of keeping the opposing back guard guessing by his continual threats of passing or shooting.

In defeat South Side waged a game fight. The Green and White was doomed by Fate. Never yet has South Side opened a successful basketball season with a victory. From what was indicated Saturday night, Coach Gilbert can again entertain the thoughts of a championship team.

South Side battled Huntington to even terms throughout the first half.
The lead was held by the Green and White team until a few seconds before the end of the half, when Hum-mer balanced up things with a pretty nail goal from under the basket.
Early in the second half Huntington took the lead. The score was tied at 16 and then the Huntington lads got careless and dropped in a few baskets before South Side could again score. Brubaker caged the leather sphere just as the game ended. This brought the South Side score within one point of its rival's.

A line of distinction designating the superiority of either team of last Saturday night could be of none other than the hair breadth variety. The teams were so evenly matched that a break either way would have changed victory into defeat or vice versa.
Huntington was fortunate in making her attempts at goals count while South Side blew many easy shots.

Captain Brubaker led his teammates in a splendid manner. He accounted for more than half of the Green points by scoring five times from the field. Willson counted thrice. Hummer, of Huntington, was the mainspring in his team's attack.
He totaled eleven points on five baskets and a free throw. Smith scored four points and Fordyce contributed four.

The Game
Captain Brubaker found the loop first, shortly after the first whistle, when he made a ring from beneath the basket. Willson tossed in a beautiful shot from the side of the floor.
Hummer sifted through the South Side defense and counted on a short shot. Fordyce registered on an under-the-basket shot after the Huntington squad displayed some clever offensive team work. The ball was raced up and down the floor with lightning speed. Brubaker again registered on a close-up shot. Willson widened the gap by adding a pair of markers on a medium-length shot.
The stellar Hummer and Smith knotted the score by producing four points between them. Currie then hit the basket for his first time this season on a long rainbow shot. Fordyce again made the score boards register even when he dropped in his second marker. Brubaker and Hummer contributed one field goal each for their respective sides. The half ended with both sides on an equality at 14 all.

Second Half
The game continued to afford thrills and to display a brand of ball which was almost inconceivable at this early stage of the season. Hummer skid-ded around Thiele for his fifth field goal. This unraveled the knot in the score. Thiele half-way bridged the gap by scoring one point on a free throw. Smith maintained a two-point margin by adding a point on a toss from the charity lane. Willson balanced the ledger by dropping in a field goal from the vicinity of the seventeen-foot mark. Smith again loose for a field goal. South Side passed up a chance to even up things by missing a pair of free throws.
Hummer conceded Huntington's scoring on a free throw. Brubaker re-entered the game after a few minutes' rest and scored a field goal.
Thiele attempted a long shot but missed just as the game ended. The final score was 20 to 19.

The line-ups and summary:
HUNTINGTON. SOUTH SIDE.

Sport Shorts

The season for tickling the draperies and for breezing the curtains has begun.

Wasn't that a hold old game for an opener?

Captain Brubaker surely looked like Thee Leader of his quintet of netters last Saturday.

Chuck retained his old name as "Flash-of-the-Hardwood."

Willson's contributions were most timely.

DuWan played a whale of a defensive game against Huntington.

Currie and Thiele will be fixtures at the guard posts. Their playing will be hard to beat in high school basketball.

South Side hasn't won the initial game in any of her three starts in basketball.

The two seasons previous to this one Coach Gilbert turned out championship teams.

Things look bright for another successful season and a trip to Indianapolis.

Teamwork is the cry.

What the team needs is the old drive and short pass.

The band sure was a big unit at the game Saturday night.

The crowd was wild when our seconds played the Huntington seconds
this autumn.

South Side is surely backing their teams with plenty of pep.

This week's drilling will show much better brand of basketball for the next two games.

There was a zippy crowd at the opener last Saturday night.

If all the games are like the first one on the menu, the South Sides will be nervous wrecks before the season is over.

To Brubaker goes the honor of the shooting the first basket of the season.
It certainly gave the fans a thrill when he sank the pretty basket and broke the scoring-ice for the Green.

The band furnished a lot of pep before the game and during the halves.
They deserve a lot of credit for their clever marching during the rest period.

The preliminary was an exciting appetizer for the main dish on the bill.

Huntington with her small band of rosters had an awful lot of pep. Their "Tington" locomotive could be heard at all times above the din made by the South Side rosters.

Doc Currie gave the fans a thrill when he sank one of his long-distance specialties and put the Wardoes in a four-point lead.

The yelling certainly sounded good for the first of the basketball season.
Maybe it's easier to yell in the gym than in the stadium.

Didja notice how many older people were there and rootin' for the Green and White? Basketball is a sport that is enjoyed by young and old.

Well, Kendallville is the next foe on our hardwood. Let's hope it's another thriller.

Before the game the girls are going to have their gym exhibit. Let's crowd the gym for this as well as for the big game.

The new electric scoreboard attracted quite a bit of attention at the game. This is quite an improvement over the old one they had last year.
It is operated by the score-keeper on the press bench.

SCHOOL HOLDS PEP MEETS TO BOOST TOTEM, DEBATING

Mr. Harris, Mr. Makey, Hubert Beck and Mary Monroe Are Thursday's Speakers

"This pep meeting is to boost the Totem and debating," said Mr. Harris at the meeting held in Room S last Thursday, the second period, for all students in rooms below forty.

Bud Beck gave a talk on the Totem as it was the first year, as it is this year and as it will be next year. He briefly described the Totem's cover, style and first eight pages for next
year.

"We need co-operation to make the Totem a success," said Mary Monroe the circulation manager. She read the names of the Totem agents, who in turn gave short talks either on parts of the book or urged that high school students bring in their subscriptions Monday, the day when the campaign officially began.

Mr. Makey talked on debating. The names of the debaters of both the negative and affirmative teams were given. The schedule of schools and the places where debates are to be held were also given.

The meeting ended by Mr. Harris giving a short discussion about his annual and the value it is to him at the present time.

FACULTY DEFEAT FRESHMEN IN BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Two Students Help Fill Out Faculty Team; Smother Freshmen
in Score

The feminine faculty basketball aggregation added to their laurels by defeating the freshe girls in a practice game. No score was kept, but Miss Hadsell claims that they fairly snowed the little ones under with a big score.

Many of the girls had a chance to play because the coach ran in several sets of freshmen to oppose the faculty. As only four faculty members turned out for this fray, Gertrude Brower and Wilma Kronmiller were added to the faculty team. To Gertrude goes much credit for her scoring for the faculty.

Miss Hadsell says that there are many good players on the freshe squad, and she expects to have a good team to send against the Central las-ties in the inter-school games.

CENTRAL HIGH NET SQUAD DOWNS W. JEFFERSON FIVE

Blue Team Plays Practice Game Despite Its Suspension from State Athletic Association

Central's net men, who have been put out of the Indiana Athletic High School association, have been practicing for the last three weeks, won a game from the West Jefferson Street church team Friday night, winning by a score of 55 to 9 in a practice game.

A good workout was given to the members of the team, using practically every member of the squad this game, showing the weak spots. Nobles and Baker showed best for Central, while Windmiller starred for the church team.

The line-up and score:
CENTRAL (55) W. JEFFERSON (9)
Nobles ..... F. .... Windmiller
Diehl ..... F. .... Wright
Jasper ..... C. .... Holt
Buck ..... G. .... Huffman
Wolf ..... G. .... Brump
Field Goals—Nobles, (6); Diehl,
(3); Jasper, (3); Buck, (1); Wolf,
(3); Scott, (2); Morrill, (2); Baker,
(5); Windmiller (3); Wright, (1).
Foul Goals—Jasper, (1); Holt (1).

INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL GETS UNDER WAY IN WEEK

Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Faculty and Two Freshman Teams Enter;
First Round Begins December 11

Class basketball will be started
Thursday, December 11. Mr. Welborn is in charge of the class teams.

There are six teams that will take part: The seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, freshmen reserves, and the faculty.

In the first round the seniors will play the freshmen, the juniors play the sophomores and the freshmen varsity will play the reserves. The faculty will play the winner of the freshman varsity-reserves game.

STATE PRESS AWARD FOR TIMES RECEIVED

The above cup was received by the South Side Times for having the best weekly or semi-weekly paper in the state, at the convention of the Indiana
High School Press Association at Franklin college.

The convention was held October 25 but due to a delay in engraving, the cup did not arrive until November 20.

The trophy is of silver on an ebony base and is lined with gold. On the outside of the cup are engraved the letters I. H. S. P. A., Class B, Indiana,
First, 1924. Class B is the division for weekly and semi-weekly papers.
Class A for daily papers and Class C for those published bi-weekly and monthly.

The cup will be placed in the library until the trophy case is finished.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" MAKES HIT WITH AUDIENCE

Farce Well Acted by High School
Cast; Four South Side Students
Have Parts

The play, "Nothing But the Truth," which was given Wednesday by the Hi-Y boys and Girl Reserve clubs was a huge success. The parts were well played and carried off with ease.

From the very start the audience was given many laughs. The problems of Bob Bennett were pathetic, serious and yet at times he had the audience roaring with laughter. Another good laugh was furnished when Bishop Doran acted upon the hint from Bob and "hollered loud" for his money.

From the minute E. M. Ralston lighted the cigarette for Mable Jackson until the clock struck four the next day, the plot thickened and just when it seemed that Bob would weaken the clock struck four and he was able to vindicate himself, the twenty-four hours being up.

The play was directed by Miss Symmons and Mr. Wiener. The parts that the South Side pupils played were:
Margaret Rose, Ethel Clark; Dorothy
Martin, Mable Jackson; Robert Miles,
Dick Donnelly, and Edwin Clapham.
Bishop Doran. The Central pupils were Catherine Alter, Sable Jackson; Pearl Koegel, Mrs. Ralston; Sarah Miner, Gwen Ralston; Paul Stier, Mr.
Ralston and Perry Thomas, Bob Bennett.

The play was equally attended by South Side and Central. The Clay school orchestra played several selections and Marjorie Matlack, of South Side, sang.

MRS. EDSON ADDRESSES MEMBERS OF U. S. A. CLUB

Gives Talk on "Long and Short of It;"
Debate Is Also Held

"Make yourself be like you. Do not fix your hair like another just because it becomes that person, but dress your hair to suit yourself," said Mrs. Edson to the members of the U. S. A. club last Monday afternoon. "I have had short hair practically all my life, because of necessity. Nevertheless, it is my hair, my very own and I have to make the best of it. I am making the short as long as I can."

After Mrs. Edson's talk a debate was held on the subject: "Resolved, that girls and women should have long hair." Marjorie Crick and Mildred Kessler represented the affirmative.
Mildred Chenoweth and Florence
Phelps took the part of the negative.
Dorothy Hoffman gave two readings in Swedish dialect.

It has been urged that all members do not forget to make things for the Christmas bazaar. Also remember to bring toys for the toy shop.

ART CLUB WILL SELL CANDY DURING WEEK

A candy sale will be given by the members of the art club some time next week, the date for which will be announced later. This was decided at a short business meeting held in room 61, Tuesday evening after school. The proceeds of this sale will be used for the Totem pictures of the art club.

DRAMATIC STUDENTS WILL PRESENT PLAY

Several South Siders Have Parts in Drama, "The Bird's Christmas Carol."

"The Bird's Christmas Carol," under the direction of Virginia Philley, will be presented at the Little Art theater, corner Berry and Lockhill streets, Friday evening, December 19, at 8:15, Saturday and Sunday afternoon, December 20 and 21, at 2:15.

"The Bird's Christmas Carol" is a three-act play written by Kate Douglas Wiggin. It is a play that will be enjoyed by both young and old. The second act portraying the "Ruggles Family" will give everyone a good laugh. The weaving in of a little romance in the last act brings the play to a convenient close.

The characters in the play are nearly all honor students of dramatic art of 1923 and 1924. The program will be as follows: Prologue—Evelyn Schwartz
First Act—Scene Carol's Boudoir.
Second Act—Scene the Ruggles' "settin' room."
Third Act—Scene same as first.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
Carol—Virginia Beyerforden
Elfrieda—Helen Crawford
Jack Bird—Walter Roembke
Mrs. Bird—Mary Hale
Mrs. Ruggles—Clara Clara Philley
Sara Maude—Virginia Drage
Clem—Betty Hutchins
Susan—Dorothy Strong
Peter—Jane Grove
Peoria—Grace Butler
Corny—George Tinkham
Ely—Mary Ellen Woods
Larry—Helen Novitsky
Dr. Voss—H. A. Philley
General Understudy—Dorothy Hoffman
The South Side Orchestra will play.

WEARERS OF BLUE GIVE ALUMNI FIERCE DRUBBING

Ex-Tigers Are Taken Down, 41 to 13; Blue's Seconds Also Defeat Those of Grads.

Central's varsity squad won easily over the alumni last Friday night by a 41 to 13 score. The alumni displayed little offensive strength and seldom worked the ball up near the basket, while the present wearers of the blue sank many short shots for field goals. Nobles and Jasper, each getting five field goals, were the star scorers. Workman, an alumna, also played consistently. The first half ended 24 to 9 for the varsity.

In the preliminary the alumni were forced to take another defeat, as their seconds were beaten by the seconds of the Centralites, 30 to 24. Line-up and score of Varsity-Alumni game:
Varsity—Alumni
Diehl—E. Workman-Koegel
Nobles-Scott—F. Carroll
Jasper—C. Nul-Sherwin
Baker-Buck—G. Adams
Wolf-Morrill—G. Florence
Field Goals—Workman (3), Koegel, Siferwin, Florence, Diehl (2), Nobles (5), Scott (2), Jasper (5), Baker, Buck, Wolf, Morrill, Free Throws—Diehl (2), Jasper (2), Baker, Workman, Referee—Miller.

MATH AND MARS SUBJECTS AS MATH-SCIENCE MEETS

"Cultural Value of Mathematics" and a talk on "Mars" were given by Veda Stevens and Kathryn Chapman at the meeting of the Math-Science club held in Room 96, last Friday at 7:30. Games consisting of "Three Deep," "Simon Says" and "Cat" were played in Room 38, where refreshments of twenty-five members. Only two faculty members, Mr. Whelan and Miss Thorne, were present.

Christmas Spirit By Alex Wenstrom

With the coming of winter we exchange memories of limpid lakes and beautiful woods for the reality of snow and cold, crisp weather. It is only natural then that our thoughts turn toward Christmas, for to us, who live in a northern climate, CHRISTMAS has always been connected with snow and biting weather. The Christmas season is a time when we note in the surrounding atmosphere a joyousness and friendliness which causes us to be more kindly and more genial to the rest of the world. It should not be the time when we feel obliged to give expensive presents to friends and relatives or feel hurt when we fail to receive such from them. The real purpose of Christmas is to forget all personal grievances and get to celebrate in a fitting manner, a universal holiday and one of most general interest, the birth of the Christchild. The true Yule-tide spirit is a spirit of joy—joy that comes from making others happy by showing them that one remembers and cares. Instill that spirit into yourself and your associates. The custom of giving valuable presents—valuable in a financial sense—is fast losing its popularity and being considered unnecessary in expressing true Christmas spirit. These can be better substituted by inexpensive gifts, or even postal cards, that come from the heart, ungrudgingly, and with the sole purpose of sending greetings of good cheer. They will stir long forgotten memories in the souls of old friends. But let us not try to make Christmas happy only to our friends. Carry out the Christmas spirit by spreading cheer to the needy and unfortunate who hardly know of its pleasures. The satisfaction of doing something worthwhile will make you happy and you will better enjoy the Yule time. Among the things which we have always associated with Christmas is the Christmas bell. We have grown to accept the bell just as much a part of Christmas as the giving and receiving of presents. It is symbolic of the cheer and joy that manifests this period. The custom of ringing bells at Christmas time has been handed down through the centuries until it has become closely associated with Christmas. Ringing of bells means 'Rejoice' and it is the one time of year when we all sing "Joy to the world—." This year let us spread abroad the spirit that the bell represents. Let us make it enter the hearts of all, and fill them with that indefinable something, that strange intermingling of love and awe, of mirth and happiness, of joy and goodwill toward fellow-beings. And above all, let us try to keep the Christmas Spirit so that the entire year will be a period of "Peace on Earth, Goodwill toward Man."

VACATION IS SIGNAL FOR PICTURE TAKING

Okeh Slips May Be Obtained from Miss Harvey or at Jefferson Studio

Picture-taking for the Totem will be resumed next week, and will continue for about one and one-half months, when the panels for all classes will close.

Students are urged to take advantage of the fact that immediately after Christmas there is a decided lull in the photographer's trade and this, coinciding with vacation, makes an opportune time for student portrait taking. All orders for pictures, which are simply okeh slips, should be gotten from Miss Harvey in Room 20 before vacation whenever possible. Arrangements have been made with the studio, however, to issue these to persons unable to get them beforehand.

To help in financing the engraving for the individual pictures, a charge of one dollar each order is made. This must be paid when the okeh is issued.

Engraving work has started, thirty-five panels representing over 300 pictures being sent Monday night. The work of cutting and mounting these was done largely by Mary Travis, Ruth Watkins, Chester Wymken and Doris and Thelma Buirely. Organization pictures that were taken on the north steps were sent also.

Plans for the historic section are being made, and will be announced after vacation.

CAFETERIA TO PURCHASE AN ICE CREAM CABINET

An ice cream cabinet will be installed in the cafeteria for the purpose of helping to keep ice cream frozen. This cabinet will be installed by the Furnas Ice Cream company during the Christmas vacation," Miss Dixon stated today. It will be operated by electricity.

WARNING NOTICES WILL BE SENT TOMORROW

Warning notices will come out Friday of this week. They will be sent to those who were passing at mid-term, but whose work since then has been below passing. Pupils who were marked failing or conditioned at mid-term have already been notified and will not be further notified.

ART CLUB SOLD CANDY AT LAST WEEK'S GAME

The candy sale given by the Art club at the South Side and Kendallville game Saturday night proved very successful. Eighteen dollars was taken in during the evening. This money will be used in paying for the Art club picture which will be in this year's Totem.

GYM EXHIBITION GIVEN FRIDAY PRECEDING GAME

Annual Affair Presented By the Girls' Gym Classes; Spanish Dances Feature of Entertainment.

EXHIBITION SUPERVISED BY GYM INSTRUCTOR

Grades Also Aid In Entertainment; Large Crowd Enjoys Stunts.

The annual girls' gym exhibition was given Saturday night, preceding the Kendallville-South Side game, with a great success. The program was given in the presence of a large crowd and was well enjoyed by all. The entire program was under the personal direction of Miss Mildred Hadsell.

The first dance was a Spanish street dance, called La Jota. The Spanish costumes added greatly to the number.

The girls then gave a demonstration of their gym exercises that they take daily at school.

The Dal dance, which was a Swedish dance or woodmen from the forest, was greatly appreciated.

ANOTHER ACHIEVEMENT

The TIMES announces an issue on the Thursday morning following vacation, which means writing and editing the paper in practically two days. Other years the staff has taken between one and two weeks to produce an issue, resulting in a great deal of the news being too aged to be published. At a staff meeting it was decided to throw aside the tradition about recuperating from vacations, to get back on the job, and to work with vim.

MAKING The Times A REAL NEWSPAPER

The trophy case, which Mr. Arnold and Mr. Chappell are making, is now almost completed. The present coat of varnish which was applied to the case last week was sanded Monday and the second coat was applied yesterday. Mr. Chappell has completed the base of the case, including the six legs and the frame joining them. "We are almost sure that the case will be finished by Christmas unless some serious accident happens at the last minute," said Mr. Chappell, when interviewed by a Times reporter.

PHILALETHIANS PLAN BIG CHRISTMAS PARTY

Surprise to Be Given Guests; Committee Chairmen Promise Novel Christmas Program

Christmas comes but once a year with its jollity and cheer. Bringing friends once more together. Even in the worst of weather; So the plans are well begun. For a lot of Christmas fun, At the school which you know, Please do come—the date's below.

The Philaethian Christmas party will be given tomorrow night at 7:30 in the cafeteria. All members are urged to be present, and should sign up in Room 10 by Thursday.

Edna Van Tilbury and Dorothy Somers have charge of a big surprise. "Dancing and various Christmas games will be played," announced Ruth Barber, who is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Geraldine Lower, chairman of the publicity committee, will have the cafeteria decorated in keeping with Christmas.

"We will have something novel that is appropriate for this season," stated Helen Rastetter, chairman of the refreshments committee.

U. S. A. PREPARES TOYS TO GIVE POOR CHILDREN

Few Are Present at Meeting But Much Is Accomplished; Ask That More Attend Next Meeting.

Presents were wrapped and Christmas carols were sung by the members of the U. S. A. club which met in Room 24 last Monday afternoon, December 15. The toys brought by the girls were: dolls, horns, ducks, fans, boxes of tinker toys and many other presents for the poor families of Fort Wayne.

Only a few members were there, and it is urged that there be more at the next meeting. Miss Rinchart and Miss Mereness were the only faculty advisors present.

TROPHY CASE IS NEARLY READY FOR INSTALLATION

The trophy case, which Mr. Arnold and Mr. Chappell are making, is now almost completed. The present coat of varnish which was applied to the case last week was sanded Monday and the second coat was applied yesterday. Mr. Chappell has completed the base of the case, including the six legs and the frame joining them. "We are almost sure that the case will be finished by Christmas unless some serious accident happens at the last minute," said Mr. Chappell, when interviewed by a Times reporter.

SOUTH SIDE AND CENTRAL TO DEBATE MOVIE QUESTION

South Side Negative Team Debates Central Affirmative Tomorrow at 3:15 in Room 38; Prominent Local Men to Judge Teams According to Their Merits

SOUTH SIDE AFFIRMATIVE DEBATE TEAM TO MEET HUNTINGTON NEGATIVE THERE

Affirmative Team Wins Over Bluffton; Leo Defeats Negative; Outcome of Debates Tomorrow Difficult to Forecast from Former Record

South Side's negative team debates Central's affirmative in Room 38 tomorrow at 3:15, on the question, "Resolved: That the state of Indiana should be empowered to censor motion pictures presented for commercial purposes."

Central won from South Side last year in the debate on the League of Nations but this year the negative team of South Side will do her best to outstrip Central's affirmative team. Although South Side lost from Leo and Central won from Huntington last Friday, that is no reliable forecast on the debate for tomorrow, because, after all, the decision rests in the hands of the judges and these will be entirely different judges for this debate.

Two lawyers, Arthur Parry and Clarence McNabb, together with F. R. Neff, who has charge of the Indiana University extension courses, will be the judges. They are required to judge on the relative merits of the teams without regard to their personal opinions before they hear the debate.

The teams, as they will debate here, are as follows:
Central Affirmative
Donald Close—First Speaker
Traverse Chandler—Second Speaker
Ruth Hurst—Third Speaker
South Side Negative
Dorothy Emrick—First Speaker
Ruth Eickmeyer—Second Speaker
Gertrude Schuelke—Third Speaker
Alternate—Carl Rohrer.

The affirmative team of South Side meets Huntington sometime tomorrow at Huntington. No word has been received as to the team and judges there but Lucile Lapp, Power Karr, Elsie Crane, and Louise Platt will represent this school.

The complete schedule of the Northeast Indiana High School Debating league for Friday, December 19 is this:
At Bluffton: Huntington affirmative vs. Bluffton negative.
At Central: Leo affirmative vs. Central negative.
At Huntington: South Side affirmative vs. Huntington negative.
At Leo: Bluffton affirmative vs. Leo negative.
At South Side: Central affirmative vs. South Side negative.

The South Side affirmative team won its first home debate this year from Bluffton by the decision of 2 to 1. The subject for debate was, "Resolved: That the state of Indiana should be empowered to censor motion pictures presented for commercial purposes." The debate contained a great deal of pep and enthusiasm.

The members of the Bluffton team were: Martha Goff, first speaker; Mildred Patterson, second speaker, and Ellis A. Steiner, third speaker.

South Side's team was: Lucile Lapp, first speaker; Power Karr, second speaker, and Elsie Crane, third speaker.

Christmas Tree Custom Originated in England in First Century, A. D.

Thorn Tree Sprung Up When Joseph of Arimathea Thrust His Staff Into the Ground Christmas Eve; Glastonbury Abbey Erected at Spot in Memory of Miracle.

One of the most fascinating stories of the first Christmas tree centers in Joseph of Arimathea, when he journeyed from far Palestine into what is now England to carry to the world the story of Christ.

Many, many years ago when Joseph of Arimathea came from Palestine to England to tell the English people all about the life and death of Christ, there had never been a Christmas tree in any country in the world. Very few people lived in England at that time and those who did live then were wild, rough men and women who did not welcome strangers to their land.

"Joseph and his friends were glad enough when they reached England after a long and stormy voyage on the ocean—for in those days there were no comfortable big ships such as we now travel on. They had come all the way from Palestine in a little open boat exposed to bitter winter weather, and cold and tired and weary of the sea."

"After they landed they started to travel back into the interior of the country, hoping to find some kindly shelter. But no one would receive them. On Christmas eve their food was gone; they were exhausted and almost perishing with cold when they came to a little hill, that ever since that day has been called Weary-all. There Joseph, in deep discouragement, dropped down on a rock to rest.

"I have strength to go no farther," he declared. "My courage has departed and my hope is as dead as this staff in my hands."

"As he spoke Joseph thrust his staff into the ground. Suddenly, to the amazement of them all the dead wood began to grow. It put forth branches covered with green leaves, and then before their wondering eyes the tree blossomed every Christmas eve, and the fame of the repeated miracle spread over all the land. Even today, if you should go to England, you can go to Glastonbury and some one will show you where the thorn tree grew.

"The Christmas tree we have and this first Christmas tree all blossom for the same reason. Only instead of living flowers, the Christmas trees today blossom out with lights and shining ornaments and glistening stars put there by loving hands because the baby Christ was born."

Treat yourself to a real Christmas present, ■
1925 Totem.

About the most agreeable gift for a teacher from a student would be an A recitation on Tuesday.

A good way to start the new year right would be to return all the pencils you borrowed during the current term.

Most of us never realized just what the girls' gym department was doing until the gym exhibit last Saturday. It certainly was a pleasant surprise.

By the way, Christmas vacation is only five days off. Then a whole week in which to forget (or review, as the case might be) Latin, geometry, and history.

Columbia City is our next hardwood rival.
They clash with the Green and White Saturday night in our own gym. If they come up to the standard they set in the tourney last year, the game should be a good one.

In making out your New Year's resolutions don't forget that one of old standing, "I will prepare my assignments every day to the best of my ability." It's an easy one to make, but, oh, how hard to keep! But it's the keeping of resolutions that makes them amount to anything.

Central vs. South Side, tomorrow night. No, not in an athletic contest but in a conflag of tongue and wits will we meet our old-time rivals. It's excusable not to attend the out-of-town debates but certainly not the home debates.
Would you miss a basketball game with Central?
If not, don't miss the debate.

The caging squad faces the hardest schedule in our history. Several of last year's state finalist teams are booked to meet us here. The team looks good, but what about the rooting sections?
Our yelling never has come up to the standard set by other departments of the school. Yet, this is one department that takes in the whole student body. If every individual who laments our poor yelling would sit in the rooting sections and yell himself, there would be no room for complaint.

Centuries have passed and with them customs, traditions, and hosts of great leaders. One day Christmas, observed hundreds of years ago, has come down to us as full of beauty and sincerity as then. Its worldly characteristics, holly, mistletoe, fir trees, gift giving, and the yule log, have been greatly modified in their use, but the underlying spirit, "Peace on earth, good will toward men" is the same. That spirit has not been marred by hundreds of years of handling, but has grown to mean all the more.

The "Adeste Fideles" and "Silent Night" of Yule-tide fill us with a faith and brotherly love that no other songs can do.

Regardless of the way in which you celebrate this day of days, whether it be in luxurious banqueting, in a gay whirl of activities, or around a humble family group, there is one common unifur, which binds all mankind together despite race, language, social or financial standing. That is the real Christmas spirit, greater by far than the love that promotes gift giving, the spirit that impels you to wish "Merry Christmas" to everyone and raises you above the hard, unflexible realities of life.

Folks say that Yule-tide, its carols, and traditions, have been lost to us. They haven't. We do not display as much ceremony as did the people of other centuries. The ever whirling round of activity will not permit it. But even in the heart of these twentieth century creatures is a secluded niche where the Christmas spirit has established itself.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

"Say it with merchandise" seems to be the spirit with which many enter this festive season. The days of fervent shopping which precede the events are filled with disappointments and the additions of many names you have forgotten to your Christmas list. A desire to procure gifts that will amaze your friends with their beauty and elaborateness, and a hope that the ones you receive in return will be as pleasing settles over you. Then Christmas day itself with its surprises, disappointments, and six or seven unexpected and unprepared-for gifts, comes.

If you have a spirit like this, you can't really enjoy Christmas. Gift giving with the proper motive back of it is all right, but it loses all its beauty if the "giving spirit" is lost. If your friends don't like you without splendid gifts, their not really friends and not worth your trouble.

A Mite of Verse

THE HELPER.

I passed him every morning. He was dressed
In shabby raiment, with a frequent rent
That stared at all the world. His face expressed No keen intelligence. His time was spent,
Till evening called a halt, in slacking
time
And mixing mortar for the lofty pile
Of that cathedral where from time to time
My purpose was to worship. All the while
His mind sank to the task whence
He
He Sea

At last the church was finished. He and I—
We met upon the corner. His face filled
With ecstasy. He stopped me passing by.
"Is it not beautiful? I helped to build it."

In Other Schools

Squads Assist in Clean-up

Traffic and clean-up squads have been organized at the Newton high school, Newtonville, Miss. These are co-operating with the faculty in efforts to stop tardiness and to better the conditions of school, lunchroom and campus.

War on Smoking

The student body of Senn high school, Chicago, has united in banning smoking by students in the school's environs. The owners of school stores have promised their co-operation.

Boys Like Housework

A Homecraft course is offered to the boys this year of the Northern high school, Detroit, Mich. About twenty-one boys are enrolled and it is claimed they do more work and do it faster than the girls.

Reinstate Latin

The study of Latin is being reinstated in the course of studies at the Richmond-Burton high school, Richmond, Ill., this year after an absence of three years.

Cass Asks for Linotype

Cass Technical high school, Detroit, wants a linotype machine added to the Cass Tech printery. If this is done, Cass will be classified as having the most modern high school printing shop in the state of Michigan. In addition, Cass will then be able to print its own paper, The Technician.

Pupils Enjoy Noon Movies

To give the students the necessary recreation, moving pictures are being shown during the noon recess daily to the boys and girls of the East
Technical high school, Cleveland, Ohio.
After the opportunity to relax and forget their worries, the students are better fitted for the afternoon's work.

The Dean Says

Christmas is and should be a happy season. It is the happiness which grows out of love and service and good wishes. We wish for all that your good times may enable you to look backward with joy and satisfaction, and to look forward with courage and confidence; that you may have the pleasure of giving and the blessing of receiving; and that the Christmas tide may bring health, honor, and happiness to every member of South Side.

Martha McPitenger.

Read A Bit

The new book by Ralph D. Paine, "Blackbeard, Buccaneer," is a thrilling tale of the days of the colonies and of American pirates, and is filled with the tang of the sea, the smell of tar, and the din of battle.

Radio fiends will like to see "Letters of a Radio Engineer to His Son."

Girls, don't fail to look over the little book, "Charm of Fine Manners."
It is on the display shelf in our library.

This Week's DATE JOURNAL

SOUTHERN SPICE

E. S. (in Spanish. Supposed to translate "The horse with the black spot on his breast"): "The horse with the black mane in the front."

Mr. Null's advice to girls: "Girls, run, throw snowballs, go skating, go sleiding and get the right tint in your cheeks instead of artificial painting and—you'll get it on in the right place."

Betty Zoll looked in the Ki's for Kaiser.

Bigamy?

Mr. Null: "The man got married and had a wife."

Seen on test paper:

Along the bridge Lord Marmion rode,
Proudly his red roan charger trode,
His head (helm) hung at the saddle-bow.

Irene E. (reciting stanza from Marmion): "His forehead by his cascade (casque) worn bare."

Chester W.: "The Hi-Y is going to have a hard luck party."

Bob Stark: "I used to live in Salt Lake City."
A. Bonehook: "Were there any Mormons there?"
Stark: "Oh, yes, all makes of cars."

Marjorie Bell (translating Latin): "You will have to kill another Greece."

Mr. Makey: "Who is Graymalkin, Robert?"
Bob Miles: "Graymalkin is a gray cat and the cat is the spirit of one of the switches."

While in Madison, Wisconsin, Bud Beck and Beanie Lapp started walking home on Saturday, but did not reach home until Sunday.

A. Dildine: "Why doesn't Santa Claus come in a Ford?"

J. Stringer: "Gee I don't know. Why doesn't he?"
A. D.: "Because there isn't any Santa Claus."

H. Wedler: "The crusaders brought back mules, donkeys, horses, figs, watermelons, and other fruits."

Bright student: "Otto the Great subdued the Hungarans in 1941 and died in 971."

Then Tired Trouble Began
A low mumbling of voices was heard, now and then a soft giggle, several heads were buried in books. The bell rang. Faces grew puzzled, as the youths looked alternately at the door and then at their watches. There was no loud laughing; no noise. Soon five minutes passed.
Wasn't he coming or was he late? The door knob rattled.
Mr. Voorhees came in to his first hour class and said—"Tire trouble."

Like Teachers Now

L. Grosvenor (in history class): "The early pioneers had large hardships."

I Luv Me

Mr. Davis, in Caesar class: "I am always enthused when I discuss Browning. Did you ever notice that great men have enthusiasm about some thing like that?"

Gillettes for Christmas

In history class, talking about the next day's lesson on a map class: "Is the 1783 map in Woodburn-Moran's or Beards'?"

Miss Miller: "You can find it in your own history.
You all have Beards."

brand of gum that Hanna chews!"

Miss Work says: "If students took more care of tense in their preparation for Latin, there wouldn't be so many tense moments in class."

Yes, a Harp

Mr. Schmalzried (talking about possessions in the eastern hemisphere): "Now, do you think we ought to have any possessions in the other world."

Her Nose?

P. Baumgartner (during basketball practice): "I blew before she jumped the whistle."

Vera B. (reading from "Marmion"): "Twixt Newcastle and Hollywood." (It should have been Holy-Rood.)

ON A HARP?

Student giving a report on the life of Thomas Jefferson: "His father died and continued to study music."

Mr. Murch: "Remember to spell receive and relieve.
Keep 'lice' in your head and you will remember that 'i'
comes before 'e'."

Harold Baker: "There were 253,000 bloodsheds in Italy."

"What did you do with that theme you wrote?"

Miss Demaree said to me.
"I guess I tore it up," said I.
"Best thing you ever did," said she.

There once was a maiden antique
Who went to the movies each wique
She would have gone more
But alas she was pore
And it seems she could not catch a shique.

Doris Speaker, translating Virgil: "They took the things down to the sea in crooked ships."

Mildred: "I just had a hard test in Logarithms."
Violet: "Gee, if Botany is that hard I am not going to take it."

Miss Rinehart: "What killed the Mariner's companions?"
Fred Peirce: "Death."

WHERE, OH, WHERE???

Where can a man buy a cap for his Knee or a key for a lock of his hair,
Or can his eyes be an academy

Because there are pupils there,
In the crown of his head what gems are found,
And who travels the bridge of her nose,
Does the calf of his knee become hungry at times,
And devour the corn on his toes,
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail,
Where's the shade from the palms of his hands,
How does he sharpen his shoulder blade???

I'm hanged if I understand.

Ain't it a grand and glo-o-orious feeling, when about this time you have a "fall-out" with your best girl?—
Oh, boy!!—

Robert Dyer looked up "divers" in the dictionary and found the meanings "various" and "sundry." Then, in Literature class, he explained the phrase "divers kind of flesh" as meaning "sun-dried meat."

Edwin Clapham (translating Virgil): "Aeneas stopped and held his foot."

M. S.: "I am going to have my head washed and trimmed."

"Run along now, sun," said the cloud, "while I have my shower."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

In remembrance of the waning year and the coming of another season when "home keeping hearts are happiest," the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company wishes all its friends a very Merry MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY
NEW YEAR.
May there be for you many glad returns of that magic day of days when joy comes over the hill and every heart is young.

This is the Christmas thought we would

Reporter Gets Much Information
On the Popularity of Names Here

Miller Is the Most Popular Last Name, With Twelve Representatives, While Smith Runs a Close Second; First Names Are Spelled in All Manners Imaginable.

The Miller family has swept the Smiths, Bells, and Joneses from the throne of reigning names at South Side. When twelve bearing the family name of Miller signed registration cards, they outstripped the numerous and oft-reigning Smiths by two.

The professions and trades are well represented in addition to the Millers, by the following: the Bakers with three, cooks three, Taylors one, Carpenters two, Dyers two, and Barbers two.

Several belles are attending South Side, including Annabelle, Marjorie Belle, Mae Belle.

Girls do not seem content with just one variation in spelling from the original. Catherine, Cathern, Katharine, Cathryn, Kathryn, and Katharine vary from the uniform spelling. Ann may be either Anne, Anna, Annetta, or Annette, and Margaret may be Marguerite or Margareta. Others that differ are: Edyth, Edith; Lucille, Lucile; Faye, Fay; Mae, May; Loretta, Lauretta; Nadyne, Nadine; and Helen, Helyn, and Helene.

Many combinations of names, when pronounced, produce musical sounds, such as Mary Lemyra, Catherine Ann, Mary Louise, Betty Kathryn, Ruth Mae, Mary Avanel, Vera Louise, Glesna Marie, Mary Frances, Margery May, Myrtle Louise, Mary Janette, Delores Earla, De Neal, and Marcelle Helen; while there are several odd names as, Aseneath and Eldora.

The colors represented are three Browns, one Blue and three Whites.

The only member of the royalty is Queen Esther Hafert.

South Side has two Cranes, eight Bells, two Baers, three Halls, one King, one Karr, one Park, two Roses, one Ball, one Falls, two Plaigs, four Harts, one Horn, one Lighthill, one Rhine, one Ray and three Rahes; two Davenport, three Scotts and two Bades.

Faculty Members Have Great Number of Home Brighteners

Ages of Children Run from Mr. Rothert's Son Carl, a University Graduate, to Emma Rose Spaulding, Age Eleven Months.

Many of the men teachers do not leave their troubles behind them when they go home from school, as fifty-four per cent find more trouble at home. The total number of these "troubles" are twenty-five children. Seventy per cent of the men of the faculty are married, as only six have not yet embarked on the matrimonial sea. Fifty-four per cent of the men teachers have children.

Mr. Voorhees has one "small" daughter, Mary Louise, a student at the Fort Wayne Art school, who is a graduate of the Fort Wayne High school and has studied one year at Indiana University.

Mr. Null at home is under the supervision of two girls and a boy. Katherine, the more experienced in that line, is thirteen and is in the eighth grade at South Side, Robert, next in line, is ten and a member of the fifth grade. Margaret carries the iron rule regardless of the fact that she is only two.

Mr. Rothert has two "young" children in his family. Carl is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is one of the officials at the Chamber of Commerce. Paul, the "baby" of the family, is an alumni of South Side and is at present pursuing his studies at the University of Wisconsin.

Ruth Fineta Morris has at the advanced age of three, a vocabulary of 1,400 words. At the rate she is going, she will be a great little "talker" in a few years.

Charles Welborn will be expected to become a great athlete, as he is the son of our football coach. This prophecy will not come true for several years as Charles is only two.

Mr. Greeley has an excellent chance for working overtime, being the father of two boys. Horace, who is not too old to be turned across "Dad's" knee, is a student at the Hamilton school. John, the most successful in ruling, is only three and has not yet started on the road to higher education.

Can you imagine Mr. Hull being managed by two girls? Betty, the "big chief," is studying in the South Side grade school. Ann is the four-year-old "sub chief."

Allison Arnold may soon be selling "hand made" furniture, if present appearances are not deceiving, since he already knows the meaning of most manual training terms and the use of many tools. He's two.

Martha Jean Thomas has an excellent opportunity of being "spoiled," as she is the only daughter of our own Mr. Thomas, one of the instructors of "home making."

If you want a musical name, consult Mr. Chappel before the price of changing your name is increased. This is unnecessary in the case of his two daughters, Ina Claire, aged four, and Rosemary Gae, a first grade pupil at the South Wayne school.

Miss Emma Rose Spaulding has the distinction of being the youngest of the faculty children. It does not seem probable that she will follow in her father's footsteps, since manual training teachers are usually chosen from the other sex.

The career of James Morris Murphy is undecided as he is too young to have much voice in his affairs. If his father has any part in James' future, he will be hurling history questions at a class in a score of years from now. By the way, he has seen only two summers.

Mr. Gould's daughters have had many years of experience in ruling him. Katherine is attending the South Side high and Pauline is in the 6A at South Wayne.

Mr. Makey would have a very difficult time to escape his "troubles" as they number five. Do you suppose that they give their father any advice concerning English? Wait until you learn their ages before you give you the final answer. Herman is in the 2A at the Riverside school. Miller will enter in February, while Ferdinand, Thomas, and Sarah Jane have not discontinued playing with toys.

THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE CRAZE

The cross-word puzzle fad had a great and hypnotizing hold on one young member of the Hart household. Marjorie the young eighteen-year-old girl of the family was dead to her surroundings, oblivious to all else but the cross-word puzzle. Her mother found her working on one of those "pesky puzzles," as her father described them, one morning while the bacon in a frying pan right at her side was burning with all its burnable energy. Scoldings, punishments, all were in vain. The cross-word puzzle had her in its grip. Even her basket ball hero could not rescue her from its clutch.

The next day Marjorie came in from school at noon as hungry as could be, planning to finish her latest cross-word puzzle right after dinner. How amazed she was on entering the house to find her brother, her mother, and her sister all engrossed in the solution of various cross-word puzzles. They paid no attention to her at all. She went into the kitchen. Not a thing was on the stove. The teakettle was empty, so was the refrigerator. The table wasn't set. What could it mean? Well, she had to get back to school, so she hurriedly gathered up some left-overs and, having eaten her lunch, rushed back to school just in time to avoid being tardy. She usually walked home from school with Marjorie, but today he came to her and said, "I'm not going home with you today Marjorie, if you don't mind. I have some important work to do after school." Marjorie was surely surprised and, as Bob walked away, she saw part of a cross-word puzzle sticking out of his pocket. What was the matter with everyone? Had they all gone crazy? When she reached home, the dishes were just as she had left them after lunch, and none of the beds were made. Her mother was still working on a cross-word puzzle.

Marjorie wished that she would never see the horrid things again. That evening she called Bob up. "What do you want, Marj?" he asked impatiently. "Oh, I'm lonely and just wanted to talk." "What! Talk! Well honest, Marj, I'm awfully busy trying to solve this cross-word puzzle. Why aren't you working on them? If you call up some other time when I'm not so busy—" Bang! went the receiver and Marj rushed upstairs to rave and fuss where no one could hear and laugh at her.

"Oh, how I hate cross-word puzzles!" she cried. "I don't dare say anything either or I'll be laughed at because I was so crazy about them myself. Well, I'll pretend I don't care and try to stand it. This can't last very long."

But it did last too long to suit Marj. At the end of a trying and nerve-racking week, she had finally persuaded the folks, including Bob, to go out for a ride. She stayed home on the plea that her head was aching. Bob, however, needed a little rest considering what she was undergoing.

They had been gone about a half hour when Marj began the execution of her plan. She searched the house from attic to cellar, gathering every visible cross-word puzzle as she went. Finally she finished her search and came downstairs to perform the final step of her plan. Straight to the fireplace she walked and started throwing the cross-word puzzles into the fire, one by one, breathing a great sigh of relief as she watched them burn. As the doorbell rang. The folks were back!

"Oh, so little Marj has at last had enough of cross-word puzzles." "Imagine Marj burning cross-word puzzles!" this from Jack. "We watched you through the window and saw you burn them," taunted her sister.

"Now maybe I'll get a little attention," murmured Bob. "Now maybe my dishes will get done," this from mother. "Now maybe grades will go up," said father adding the final touch. "Oh! I think you were all so mean! What on earth did you ever act so absolutely crazy for? You have disgusted me with cross-word puzzles forever and ever, and I never want to see one again as long as I live! So there!" This ended in a sob as Marj broke down from the reaction of the nervous strain of the past week.

"Well you see, Marj," explained Bob kindly, "We hated to see you injuring your health and ignoring us and everything, so we decided to try and show you how you were, by giving you a dose of your own medicine. Maybe we were too hard on you, but we're sure sorry if you were. But, oh Marj, I sure am glad you're over the craze because, I will confess, I was terribly jealous of the cross-word puzzle."

Make Cross Word Puzzles. The teachers of the Central high school of Kalamazoo, Mich., are permitting their students to make cross-word puzzles and fill in Latin, German and Spanish words.

What's in a name?" someone asks. "Lots," echoes John Calvin Coolidge Smith. "Less," says Harper Penley Roosevelt. "Nothing!" snaps Livingston Carmichael, disgustedly. All of which goes to prove that you can't give a person a name and expect him to live up to it. By a mere whim of chance, however, young Woodrow Wilson Brown may tread in a few steps of the illustrious statesman of whom he is a namesake. Livingston Carmichael insists that parents should show some consideration for other peoples future feelings before they decorate them with a name a yard long. He even suggests that people be allowed to choose their own names.

Long ago, around the time of the Revolutionary War, names for girls were plain, simple and decidedly Puritanical. Every girl would be either called Conscience, Prudence, Priscilla, Faith, Hope, or Patience. Do you remember the story of Waitstill Baxter? Sweet, old-fashioned names they were but who can imagine any of our young women answering to the name of Prudence or Patience?

Next in order of precedence comes the era of Nancies, Janes, Hannahs, and Sarahs, to be followed by Sophias, Tabithas, Phoebe, Penelope, Miranda and Abigail.

Around 1850 many of the most beautiful names were shortened to Polly, Peggy, Betsy, Hanny and the like. Ethel and Gladys were unheard of then. French sounding names were popular. Arrobela, Victoria, Marcelle, Jacqueline, Isabelle, Ethelinde and Charlotte became quite the thing. Finally less sophisticated names were chosen such as Agnes, Amy, Ruth, Helen and Clara. Now old-fashioned names are beginning to come back slowly and you often hear Jane, Lois, Lydia and the ever-popular Mary Ann. The name Betty is fast disappearing.

Men's names, on the contrary, have remained much the same. Robert, Charles, Hugh, Joseph, and Frank have been heard for centuries. For a while, however, one heard nothing but Abner, Aaron, Caleb, Elisha, Enoc, Ichabod, Silas and Reuben.

If girls names were shortened, there certainly is hardly a boy who has not at one time received a nickname of some sort.

POLICE ARREST BOYS OF ROOF OF SCHOOL

Suspect Their Attempting to Break Into Gym; Ordered to Appear in Court

Charging that after climbing on the roof and breaking a skylight in order to climb inside the gymnasium to see a basketball game, twelve boys were arrested last Thursday night. There has been previous annoyance with persons being on the roof, but each time the police were called the culprits had disappeared. Thursday night, however, Acting Sergeant Wilson, Patrolman Blessing and Patrolman Mooney were on the alert, and the fellows were caught.

All twelve boys were ordered to appear in the city court court Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock before Probation Officer Fred Klein.

HELLO IS LEARNED TO BE AN INSULT

Modern Greeting Is Traced Back to Russian Method of Urging on Dogs In Hunt.

To say "Hello" to your best friend is enough to make him your enemy for life if he knew it. "Hello" is just a clear-cut, concise way of saying, "Go, chase a wolf."

"Au loup" was the Russian way of urging on the dogs in a wolf hunt. Later the French began to use the word as a greeting, calling it "a loup." Then it was taken up by the English-speaking people, who added an "h" and said "halloo." The Americans Americanized it, changing it to its present form, "hello."

Moral: If you want to play safe, don't use this word at all.

NOTICE

There is a standing invitation to all pupils to come and visit the shop and see the type of work produced by the amateur cabinet-makers. Any teacher will be glad to explain anything to you.

MR. ARNOLD.

School Gets Owl. A prize specimen of a long-horned owl has been recently added to the biology collection of South Side high school, Minneapolis. The long-horned owl is the largest of the owl family. It has a wing spread of nearly four feet, a length of twenty-four inches from the bill to the tip of the tail, and horns which are one inch long.

With the Classes

Harmony classes are now working on inversions and cadences.

Music History classes are now interested in musical progress of different nations.

The orchestra is busy rehearsing on the Christmas cantata "Noel." They will accompany the glee clubs at this program. The string orchestra will also play at the cantata.

Next semester all music organizations will be on period time. The glee clubs, bands, orchestras, and quartettes will all be on period time.

The music room is furnished with several special music mottoes which were made by the Art department.

Miss Woodward's 9-B Latin class had a test last Thursday. Frieda Soladean and Charles McAfee with 100 per cent stood as models for the class.

The 10-A mechanical drawing classes are designing screw threads for bolts. In this they make use of algebraical formulae which they learned in their algebra course.

The 10-B pupils in Mr. Arnold's mechanical drawing classes are drawing parts for machines.

The 9-B's are producing many elaborate pieces of furniture in the manual training shop for their homes. Many cedar chests, hall racks, tables and stands are in their collection.

Marjorie Reeves will spend her Christmas vacation in the South.

The 9-A cooking class of Miss Mendenhall are having simple meal service. Breakfast was served Tuesday and Wednesday.

An especially fine collection of pictures have been collected on the Crusader by Clara Doegenes and Virginia Bell in the 11-B General History class. Original maps are being made in the 11-B General History classes now.

Miss Keep's cousin from Ludington, Michigan, visited the 10-A geometry class.

Lakes, wells and springs came suddenly into view last week in the physical geography room when an attempt was made to illustrate the action of ground water in one of the sand tables.

Mr. Whelan's 10-A physical geography classes paid a visit to the weather bureau on top of the Tri-State building and were given much information and very courteous treatment by the weather man.

In a 9-B vocabulary "spell down" in Miss Work's classes, the following pupils were standing after one hundred and seventy-five words had been given, first in English, then in Latin: Esther Hanning, Mary Hughes, Virginia Seemeyer, Arthur Grayless, Dorothy Troendle and Don McLucas.

Raymond Shaffer and William Weddle cleaned, arrayed and filled the reagent bottles in chemistry laboratory. Ralph Welch, taking chemistry one, period six, volunteered to fill the distilled water bottles in chemistry laboratory. He is also growing large and perfect crystals of copper sulphate. He hopes to have some fine specimens.

The fourth period college algebra class made slide rules as an assignment.

James Rosenberger has been absent for two weeks because of illness.

Russell Gresely, of Hoagland, Indiana, visited Miss Woodward's 9-B English class last Tuesday.

Miss Kiefer considers herself fortunate because of the eleven freshmen who made the honor roll seven are pupils in her classes.

In a recent test on Canto I. of "Marmion," Margaret Pocock answered six out of eight questions by quoting in Scott's own words, passages varying in length from six to forty lines.

James Rosenberger has returned to school after an absence of two weeks due to illness.

Kathryn Goyer returned Monday after an illness of five weeks.

The students in English V took their test in the outside reading last Friday. The examination covered the poems of some of the American poets.

Miss Andrews, of Decatur high school, visited Miss Demaree's English V class last Thursday.

The 9-A cooking classes of Miss Mendenhall are in keeping with Christmas. They are making Christmas candies.

The 9-B woodworking classes of Mr. Spalding are having talks this week on applying of stains and varnishes to their respective pieces of furniture which will be made by them soon. The "finishing" of furniture is one of the most important talks of the furniture maker.

Mr. Spalding's grade classes are making "walking wampi" which will be used as Christmas presents.

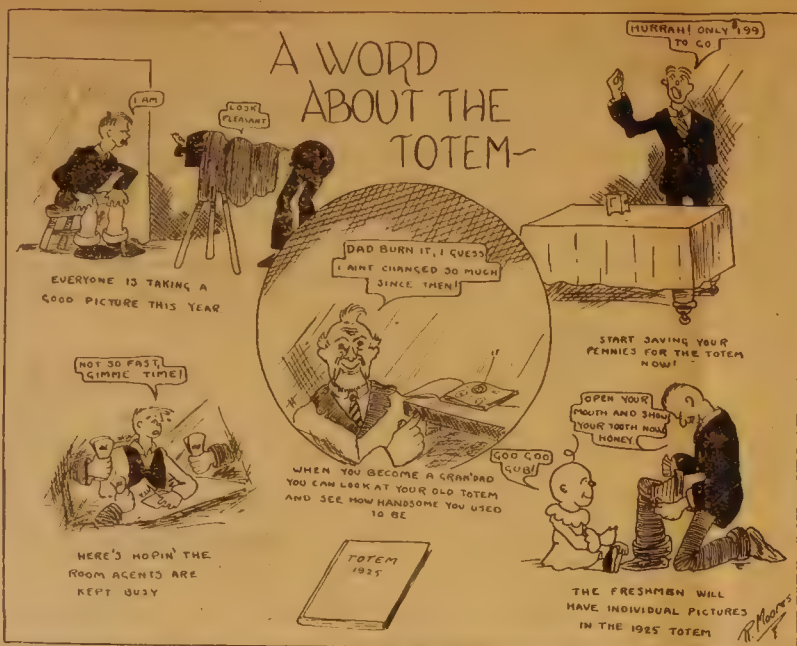

A comparison of the Magna Charta and the Constitution of the United States has been made by Miss Smeltz's classes in American history.

Among those who have returned after a week's absence on account of sickness are James Rosenberger, Jane McBride, and Martha Lewis.

Quite a number of Miss Rehorst's 10-B girls have made pretty silk dresses in class, to wear to the holiday parties.

Mildred Krick entered Miss Mott's seventh and eighth hour class on Monday.

Mr. Gould has in his room a very large paper white narcissus of three flower cluster from one bulb. Altogether he has seven clusters in the dish in blossom.

RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED REGARDING MR. MCMILLAN

Sentiment Of Teachers Is Expressed In Resolutions Drawn Up By Four Association Members.

The feelings of the teachers regarding the death of Mr. McMillan, who, until his death, was a teacher and supervisor of English, were expressed by resolutions passed at a recent meeting of the Fort Wayne Teachers' association.

The committee appointed to draw up the resolutions consisted of Mr. Benjamin Null, Miss Emma Kiefer, Miss Mary Cromer and Miss Esther Erickson. Miss Kiefer and Miss Erickson were former students of Mr. McMillan.

The Resolutions.

The resolutions passed were as follows:

"The passing of six weeks' time since the death of William L. McMillan has not lessened our sense of loss. More and more, as the days and weeks go on do we realize how inspiring was his personality, how helpful his counsel, and how cheering his presence. "For those of us who had known him as a teacher before we knew him as a supervisor the loss is doubly great; but at the same time, the memory is doubly precious. The period in which we sat in his classes was only the beginning of a helpful guidance that has continued through the years. He was a real friend to all who had been his pupils. He never forgot of them. Years after they had left his class-room he would call the name and express interest in success. To the timid and the taken among them he was ever to give a bit of wholesome advice and encouragement.

A Great Teacher.

"He was a great teacher. He gave to his work a scholarship that was rare. He was well qualified to teach in schools much above the secondary. He might have been assuming, but he was not. He had his profession at heart. He was always aggressive, and advanced with an enthusiasm which increased with years. He was kindly, yet firm. He believed in honesty and hard work and taught them both; but first he followed them himself. "As a supervisor, he was helpfulness personified. No teacher ever dreaded his visits. He came to encourage, not to condemn. His criticism was always constructive, and so carefully given, that it scarcely seemed criticism at all. And yet it was effective; for the teachers under him, like his pupils loved him and valued his opinion. His directions were definite and consistent. The teachers in his department knew toward what end they were working. They had confidence in their leader; they were sure of his unfailing recognition of honest effort; they were happy in their work.

Counsel Valuable.

But his work as a counsellor extended not only beyond his own department, but even beyond the profession. His keen understanding of human nature, his alertness to all things going on about him, and his unerring judgment made his counsel valuable to many, and many sought it. He gave his advice freely, but in such a way that those asking it never felt belittled. His superiority was always felt, but it was never resented. His word was usually accepted as final, and time invariably proved that he was right.

"He was a 'good fellow.' No apology is necessary for the word 'fellow,' for his many friends called him 'Mac.' Everyone was glad to see him. Unless formality prevented, he was always made the center of the group, and all listened for the clever joke, the flash of wit, and the consummate judgment. He was always the same. Even illness did not affect his spirit. He was too brave to fear death and too fond of life to let even the slightest shadow fall upon it.

"The end came as he would have had it come. In the midst of activity and plans for the future, he laid down his work, certainly knowing that it had been well done."

Alumni

Evelyn Bales and Toay Underwood, members of the 1924 graduating class, have received special honors at Ward-Belmont college. Evelyn, who will be remembered as the captain of the girls' basketball team, has been elected president of the freshman class. Helen Toay Underwood has been elected treasurer of the same class. Toay will be remembered as the leading lady in "Gypsy Rover," the opera given by the South Side Glee club last year.

Virginia Gaskins, who is attending Ferry Hall, Lake Forrest, Illinois, will arrive in the city tomorrow to spend the vacation with her aunts and sister on West Creighton avenue.

Harriett Scott, '24, will spend the Christmas vacation with her parents on Miner street. She is attending Muncie Normal school at Muncie, Indiana.

Students Have Varied Opinions About Conditions For Studying

Library, Study Hall and Home Are Common Places for Study; Quietude and Reference Work Are Chief Attractions of Library While Fear Induces Home Work.

Upon being interviewed, Dorothy Tucker, with a show of interest, says: "I study best in the study hall. There is no one in there to bother me. I am not interrupted in the study hall except when a notice is read. There is nothing else to do in there but look around and naturally I get tired of that, so I am sure to study."

Cappy Twining, who is of the opinion that home is the best place to study, says: "It is easier for me to study at home, because at school in either the library or study hall there are things happening all the time to distract me from my work." Still another is of the same opinion that "Home, Sweet Home" is the best place to study. Neehan Knight says: "Every morning I get up early to look over the lessons for the day, for at that time my mind is clear and I can concentrate more earnestly. In this way my lessons are learned much easier than if I would try to get them at night."

SOUTH SIDER FINDS POLISH WAS FAKE

David Mercer Brought Nickle Polish to Chemistry Laboratory for Analysis

After a fake salesman had induced his brother to buy some nickle polish to use on the automobiles in the garage where he was working, David Mercer, a chemistry student under Mr. Voorhees, became suspicious and brought the polish to school to find out what ingredients it contained.

A salesman appeared at the garage recently, David tells us, and offered some nickle polish for sale. He enumerated the supposed virtues of the polish, and finally became very urgent to make a sale and receive the money immediately because he had to leave Fort Wayne that night to keep an engagement elsewhere.

David's brother bought only a small amount of the nickle polish, and becoming suspicious, because of the demand for immediate cash, brought some of the substance to school. The ingredients were easily detected in the chemistry laboratory and the polish was used on a piece of nickel. The metal became very bright at first but later turned gray and dull. Some mercuric nitrate, which turns metal very bright and then acts identical to the so-called polish, was prepared in the laboratory and used on the nickle. The two solutions acted in a similar manner, thus proving that some people constantly keep an eagle eye open for fake salesmen and their wares.

TWO CONTESTS WILL BE PLAYED HERE SATURDAY

Reserve Teams Will Meet in Opening Game at 7:30 P. M. and Varsities Clash
at 8:30

PORTLAND TO FURNISH HOLIDAY NET FEATURE

Will Oppose Green on January
3; Currie Expected Back in Lineup This Week

A double basketball attraction will be offered to the South Side rooters Saturday night when the strong Columbia City squad will play the Kelly Klads two games. In the first, which begins at 7:30 p. m., the two second teams will meet. The big game between the varsities will come one hour later.

The next basketball game on the schedule will be staged during the Christmas vacation when, on January 3, the Green netmen will play Portland on the local hardwood.

The second team is expected to put up a good game against the Columbia City reserves, as they have won two games and have lost none. From the way some of the reserves performed at Garrett last week it looks as if some of the second-string men may have up to the varsity positions.

Little is known of the Columbia City team except that they are going strong. They got off to a rather poor start but have in their stride recently. Few South Side fans can forget the scare they gave the locals in the tournament last year.

On Saturday South Side may be without the services of Gerry DuWan, who has a slightly injured hip. However, Currie will have sufficiently recovered to play any may be used at forward. Coach Gilbert is changing his squad around to find the best combination. Sprunger at floor guard is a real find and with a little more experience will make a great player.

Mr. Heine will officiate in the first game with Jess Reno in the big game. Portland will offer a real combat as that school is eager to wipe out the sting of defeat suffered in football. Homer Stonebraker will referee the Portland game.

Sport Shorts

We are all hoping that Captain Chuck can keep up his average of five field goals a game.

Chuck has played three games and has counted fifteen times from the field.

We should say that he has attained the height of consistency.

We're all behind you, Chuck! Keep it up!

Bill Thiele surely plays his position to near perfection.

Did you notice the difference when Bill was resting upon the side lines?

DuWan showed his love for Kendallville when he clinched the victory for South Side by scoring a field goal in the closing minutes of the game.

Currie went wild at Garrett when he scored five field goals.

He demonstrated his ambidextrous qualities by shooting, passing, and dribbling with either hand.

But to Doc's ill-luck, he was the victim of a severe charlie-horse after the game.

Sprunger didn't go so terribly bad for his first game. Did he?

He played floor guard more proficiently than the person who invented the position.

Bill Thiele's strong defensive work made Gibraltar look like an infirmity.

Henry, Kendallville's star forward and captain, didn't seem frightened by the large crowd.

Did any of you pupils ever take notice how diligently the football men are still working out, with nothing to look forward to but the bleak winter and the remote football schedule of 1925?

These boys deserve plenty of credit for their untiring love of the gridiron sport.

They say it is a game in which the proof that "When a man's man" is taken for granted.

We all hope that these athletes will be rewarded by playing on a team that has a most successful season.

ELECTRIC SCOREBOARD TO BE GIVEN THOROUGH TEST

New Board In Gymnasium Is Here
On Trial; Decision Not Yet Reached.

The new Campbell electric scoreboard, which is manufactured by the Recording Device company, of Indianapolis, and has been on trial for the last two games, is a big improvement to the South Side gym and helps the spectators a great deal to look to the south end of the gym and see the big white numbers. The points are automatically marked up by completing the circuit at the officials' bench by switches. It has not been decided as to whether South Side will take the board or not, but it is being given a thorough test.

BRUBAKER PILES UP GOALS FROM FIELD

Charlie Brubaker, captain of the Kelly Klads, has been "hitting 'em" with regularity since the opening of the season. In each of the three games played he has scored five baskets from the field. He leads the squad in number of points scored.

KENDA'VILLE BOWS TO S. S. WARRIORS

Fine Team Work, No Individual Starring, Is Feature of South Siders' Game.

FINAL SCORE IS 29 TO 26

Playing her second game in two nights, South Side opened hostilities with Kendallville in the best of condition without the services of Currie, the flashy floor guard, who was injured in the Garrett game of the previous night. Kendallville, who was thought to be no more than a mediocre team, staged a game that made many a former struggle seem meek. South Side showed her superiority by coming out on the long end of a 29 to 26 score.

In a game loaded with thrills caused by the unceasing fight, the Green carried away first honors with nothing left for Kendallville but to go down to a glorious defeat at the hands of a better team. Playing and scrapping every minute of the game, Kendallville put forth one of the most nerve-wracking games ever witnessed in the South Side gym. Led by her captain, Henry, the shining forward, Kendallville rallied in the second half of the game which produced the greatest uneasiness and discomfort for the Green and White followers. After South Side held a commanding lead of eleven points, Henry came through with a quartet of field goals and a pair of free tosses which made the South Side situation look anything but too favorably.

Captain Brubaker and Sprunger, who was playing his first game in varsity uniform, carried the brunt of the South Side attack.

Henry was the outstanding player on the Kendallville team for he, single-handed scored eighteen of the Kendallville points. The South Side team as a combination shone brilliantly. An individual luminary could not be mentioned. Brubaker and Sprunger hit the basket consistently, while Thiele and DuWan presented an air-tight defense.

Scoring was started when Sprunger dribbled down the floor to the seventeen-foot mark and breezed the net for two points. Captain Brubaker cut loose with a marker from beneath the goal. A moment elapsed before Henry could slide down the side of the floor and register two points for his marker. Brubaker kept his team four points ahead by scoring on another short shot. Wiener added a point from the charity lane. Wagner made a beautiful field goal for Kendallville. Rahe substituted for Richendollar an dmade known his admission into the fray by contributing a set of points on a field goal. Brubaker counted for the third time from the field on a medium range shot. Henry put his team in the running once more by dropping in a pair of field goals. Hart made good an attempted free throw and South Side led by only one point. Then Sprunger counted from the floor. Fleming, also making his debut as a varsity player, contributed generously to the South Side cause by adding three points. Just before the half ended Brubaker eluded the opposing back guard under the basket and scored again. The first half ended 18 to 10 in favor of South Side.

Kendallville made a weak rally in the very beginning of the second half when Henry and Shrieber counted two points each. South Side called on her heavy artillery and besieged the opponents' goal with a fusillade of shots which netted three field goals. DuWan, Sprunger and Brubaker did their stuff to darken the most sanguine hope of the Kendallville team. Sprunger scored again and widened the breach to eleven points. Then while several South Side second raters were performing, Henry counted four times from the floor and twice from the free throw lane. To make matters more uncomfortable for South Side, Libey shot from medium range and put his school in lead by the scant margin of a single point. With but four minutes to go, Coach Gilbert replaced the second string players and South Side rallied with a pair of baskets by Sprunger and DuWan which

GREEN AND WHITE BEAT GARRETTITES

Green Downs Strong Red Team
By Score of 35 to 27 In a Hard Fought Battle.

FIRST HALF ENDS IN TIE

The Green basketball team successfully smashed their way to a 35 to 27 victory over Garrett in their first out-of-town game last Friday.

Only by exhibiting rare form for this stage of the net season did the Green win its victory on the road. The game was fast and hard fought, and both teams demonstrated wonderful basket shooting ability. South Side was in the lead throughout most of the game except when the count was even.

Garrett opened fire and scored seven points before the Green could penetrate the opposing defense for a field goal. Led in the rarest accuracy in shooting by Currie and Brubaker, with DuWan a close second, South Side soon tied the count at nine. After untying this knot, South Side took the lead but at the time of the end of the first half Garrett had crept up and was on even footing with the Greens, with the count at 14 all.

Garrett scored three points in the beginning of the final half. While Garrett was stranded at the seventeen mark, South Side reaped a bountiful harvest of twenty-one points after displaying a most powerful offensive. Garrett rallied toward the close of the game but could score only ten more points.

The South Side attack was led offensively by Captain Brubaker and Currie, who scored eleven points each. DuWan came next with seven and Richendollar followed with five points. Thiele's defense work was most creditable. His strong and steady game carried South Side through all of Garrett's rallies.

Burch and Hollopeter divided the scoring honors for Garrett, with seven points each.

FIRST CUT IN GIRL'S BASKET SQUAD IS MADE

Cuts for Girls' Class Basketball
Are Posted On the Gym
Bulletin Board
Today.

CLASS TEAM CAPTAINS
HAVE BEEN SELECTED

Varsity and Class Teams Will Play Two Games Against Central.

The squad cuts for girls' class basketball will be posted today on the gym bulletin board. The girls retained on the sophomore, junior, and senior squads will be eligible for the varsity.

The cuts are being posted before vacation so that the girls not retained will be able to break training rules during vacation. Those kept or will have a lighter training diet to follow until after the holidays.

December 19 and December 22 are the dates set for the varsity try-outs. No freshmen are eligible for the varsity.

The basketball captains were chosen last week by the class teams. Maxine Schmieder is the leader of the strong senior aggregation. Cornelia Bade was chosen as the pilot of the junior team, while Velda Nobles is captaining the sophomore outfit. The mighty little freshies have not chosen their captain yet. The girls chosen as leaders of the class teams are all veterans and are capable of piloting their charges to a successful season against Central.

Two games will be played against the down-town school by each class team and by the varsity lassies. Last year the class-Mildredites had a good season against the Blue and White girls. The junior and freshie girls won both games played against the Centralites. The seniors split their double bill, while the sophs lost their games, one by a 6 to 4 tally and the other by a 6 to 5 total.

Miss Hadsell is confident of repeating the previous victories and of adding other scalps to the ones already garnered by her charges. She is predicting a very strong varsity and hopes to triumph twice over the Tigerettes. Last year the Mildredites met the Schwabites once and defeated them on their own floor by a 14 to 9 score. The schedule with Central has not been arranged yet but will be fixed after the vacation.

SP<sup>O</sup>RT GUS<sup>H</sup>

Onesover in the N-ws predicted we'd beat Kendallville by five points. Oh, well, a three-point margin is almost a five-point one.

The girls' gym exhibit held before the game made a big hit with the audience.

"Swinging the Lights" took the bouquets. It certainly was spooky to sit in the dark and watch the girls swing balls of fire around. However, when the lights went on, it was revealed that the girls had been tossing Indian clubs that in some mysterious manner had been set ablaze.

The S. S. H. S. stunt put on during the rest period was an old favorite that is always popular. It surely gives one a thrill to see the girls come clashing out, and then form the S. S. H. S. on the gym floor.

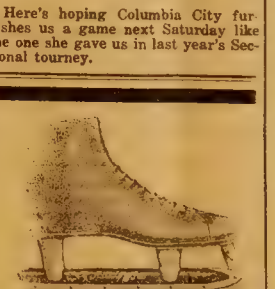

Flashlight pictures were taken of the above stunt when the girls were stretched out their nicest. The Totem had them taken.

During a thrilling moment of play, everyone was startled by a Boom! and a sudden flash of light. Some thought that the gym was being bombed, but it was soon discovered that another flashlight picture had been taken. Totem again!

Fans were dismayed to see "Doc" Currie not in uniform, and perched on the side-lines. Poor Doc had his leg injured in the Garrett fray and was hardly able to hobble around.

After the game many excited rooters thought surely that their throats were split. During the part of the contest that Kendallville held their hair's breadth lead, the din made by Green, Red, and White rooters fairly made the gym shake.

Here's hoping Columbia City furnishes us a game next Saturday like the one she gave us in last year's Sectional tourney.

"For heaven's sake, who turned those lights off?"

"Gee, but I'm glad gym is over with until next week."

RECORDS ARE SMASHED IN SEASON TICKET SALE

Five hundred and thirty-three season tickets were sold at the time the Times reporter interviewed Mr. Greely, the treasurer of the athletic association. Probably more have been purchased since the paper went to press. These tickets will remain on sale until there are no more purchasers for them.

Mr. Greely sold 179 tickets, while 88 were purchased from Mr. Virts. At the Kendallville game, 212 of these pasteboards were handed out to eager buyers. The Parent-Teachers' association did their bit by selling 39, while Mr. Agnew of the grade school disposed of 15.

PEDAGOGUES LIKED SCHOOL SPORTS

Teachers Went Out For All Teams: Everyone Played Instead of a Few Stars.

Basketball, football, and baseball have been the major high school sports for many years, because even when some of our most noted pedagogues attended high school they participated in these sports. The Times reporter asked some of the faculty just what games they played when they went to school (a long time ago) and nearly all were unanimous in saying that the sports that thrill the average South Sider were the sports that thrilled them.

Mr. Vorhies proved to be an exception. The chemistry professor said: "We played such games as shinny (that's old fashioned hockey), anthony-over, and draw-base. Everyone took a part in these games and they didn't sit back and watch a few stars play."

Mr. Makey was on the track team at preparatory school. He said: "I went out for football, baseball, and basketball; but they fiddled so much time away before they practiced I never was able to stay because I had to work."

Mr. Greely was a football man in his high school days. He was on the varsity three years, and he also won his letter in baseball when he attended Indiana University.

Mr. Murch, a certified basketball and football referee, received his early sport training in high school. He also played basketball in college.

Mr. Beine played baseball and basketball and won his letter in these sports at Purdue.

Wardo said, "I played football, basketball, and baseball. Basketball was not started until my junior year in high school. I played on the baseball team six years." No, he wasn't a six-year man. He started playing on the high school varsity before he graduated from grade school.

It's interesting to know how Wardo made this high school nine. Each team had to furnish their own balls. One day our coach found a nice, new baseball and the captain of the "kid" team said that Wardo could play if they could use his ball.

Mr. Welborn played football and baseball in his college days, and won his letter in both sports.

BUNKER HILL BEATS CHILE BY ONE POINT

The Up High of Bunker Hill defeated Breeze of Chile in an overtime battle. Following are the teams' line-ups:

Water ..... F ..... Thief
Rags ..... F ..... Clock.
Fire ..... C ..... Gun
Cop ..... G ..... Brakes
Glue ..... G ..... G.

Fire tapped off to Water who sifted through for a field goal. Soon after Rags tore through for a basket. Fire got warmed up and made a pretty one. Cop was fouled for pinching Thief. Thief made both shots good. Gun got the ball on the tap-off and shot a pretty one. Thief stole through for a basket. Clock hurts his hand when he struck Rags and called for time out. Brakes shifted too much and during the time out Coach Four-wheel sent in invalid. Shortly after the half ended at six all.

When the last half opened Water dribbled up for a basket. Invalid got better and with a long shot tied the score. Shortly after Thirsty went in for Water. Foot kicked Cop, and Cop, after taking a rest, made his free throw good. Glue was sticking to his man quite well when Eyes, the referee, saw with foul Foot. Foot tied the count.

Clock would not work so an overtime was added. When one minute was up the referee's whistle blew out Fire so Ashes substituted. Ashes burned Thief's foot and the referee called it a foul. Thief made his free throw good, putting Chile in the lead by one point. Weaver went in for Water, who got cold. Just as the game ended Weaver made a basket, thereby winning the game.

Latin Shown as Far From "Dead" Language in Schools

Classical League Investigation Reveals 940,000 Children Still Study It in America—More Than All Other Foreign Languages Combined.

Latin, the "dead" language that refuses to die, is enjoying a popularity which is in striking contrast to what was prophesied for it by its detractors six or seven years ago. Even advanced modernity does not spurn its use. The recent report of the American Classical League on the investigation which it conducted in more than 2,000 high schools in this country during a period of three and a half years establishes beyond a doubt the holding power of Latin in secondary education.

The investigation revealed that 40,000 or fully 30 per cent. of the total enrollment of students in all secondary schools during the year 1923-1924, took Latin and that this number exceeded by 16,000 the combined total of pupils who studied other foreign languages. This army of Latin students is being trained by a small force of 23,500 teachers, half of whom are called upon to give instruction in one or more other subjects. The crowding of Latin pupils into school courses has served to emphasize as never before the existence of an acute shortage of trained Latin teachers, probably the greatest problem that confronts classical education in America.

Latin in Every-Day Life

Within the last twenty years a steady and intensive campaign has been conducted in this country against the accepted usefulness of classical training. The American Classical League has been organized to combat it. Its constituent members, the various classical associations in this country, have undertaken a thorough inquiry into the various phases of the study of Latin—its relation to English, the relation of the Roman political system to our own, of Roman history to American liberties, of Roman institutions to our own social fabric.

TOURNEY COMPROMISE FAVORED BY SCHOOLS

Overwhelming Vote for Change in System of Dividing Up Tournney Finances

An overwhelming majority in favor of the compromise plan for holding state high school basketball sectional tournaments resulted from the referendum vote conducted by the Indiana High School Athletic association, A. L. Trester, permanent secretary, has announced from his office at Anderson, Ind. The vote was 506 for the new proposal and 62 against.

Under the plan approved by the referendum, the school holding the tournney will be given $200 of the receipts for expenses. Half of the remainder will be divided equally among the teams participating, and the other half will be divided on the basis of season tickets sold by each school.

Considerable agitation and dissension was aroused among schools of the state when the association at its fall meeting proposed that the center school be allowed but $100 and to divide the remainder equally among the teams participating, regardless of the number of tickets sold by each.

So many objections and so much dissension was aroused among the schools that the state associations and the board of control met last Saturday and evolved the plan which was submitted to the 760 principals of the state association the forepart of the week and which was so overwhelmingly approved.

The new plan is said to be fair to all parties concerned. It is a compromise plan and embodies the following points:

1. All legitimate expenses, except for transportation, shall be paid from the gross receipts.
2. The center school shall receive $100.

3. The transportation shall be paid.
4. The center high school shall then receive an additional $100.

5. The I. H. S. A. A. shall receive five per cent.

6. One-half of the balance shall be divided pro rata among the participating schools.

7. One-half of the balance shall be divided on the basis of season tickets sold in local communities.

8. The board of control shall pass on all reports by the center school and all reports by participating schools.

9. The center school shall furnish a complete financial report to the I. H. S. A. A. and to each participating school soon after the close of the tournney.

The sectional tournament for this district will be staged by E. Chicago high school, while the regional tournney may be sponsored by one of the Gary schools, providing either wishes to act as host to winners of sectional tournney.

Faculty Members Disagree on Merits of Crossword Puzzles

Three of Teachers Interviewed Favor Cross-word Puzzles, Three Dislike Them, and Two Others Have No Opinion in Regards to This Subject.

The cross-word puzzle craze has met with as much enthusiasm among faculty members as among students. However the members of the faculty as well as the students are divided in their opinions, as a recent interview showed. The following are some of the statements made:

Mr. Harris: "I have worked just enough cross-word puzzles to know what they are like and I think they might train the student in mental alertness, but I think them which his time may be spent." Then with that smile we are all so familiar with he added, "Of course it would be a good pastime for married people who spend their time quarreling."

Miss Demaree: "I think they are a benefit to the student if he looks up every word, nevertheless I don't spend much time on them."

Miss McCloskey: "I have too many cross-word puzzles to work out on my themes to be bothered much by the ones in the papers. I do not think the students increase their vocabulary much, as I think it is merely a passing fad."

Miss Shultz exclaimed very enthusiastically: "Oh, I think they're fun. Everyone needs a certain amount of play, and as long as he plays at something harmless—well, so much the better. It is a nice pastime. It is educational as it increases the vocabulary, and increases the knowledge of spelling. Some colleges are considering it as a course. They should be."

City Builders

Wayne Oil Tank and Pump Company The Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company is situated at Tecumseh and Canal streets and covers more than two city blocks.

The concern originated in 1891 but was incorporated in 1910 at its present location. The buildings which the company now occupies have been constructed from time to time since 1914. The officers of the corporation are: William Griffin, president; C. S. Guild, secretary, and E. A. Cern, treasurer.

The principal work carried on is the manufacture of gasoline pumps and tanks, but oil burners and oil storage equipment are also manufactured on a large scale. Recently the Wayne Water Softener has been added to its list of products.

For shop work, high-grade machinists and workmen are required, any person under eighteen years of age not being permitted to work. For office assistants and salesmen they desire a young, progressive and energetic type or person who is not under sixteen. In the office two hundred and seventy-five persons are employed, seven hundred are employed in the factory and the sales force consists of four hundred people.

Branch offices of the Wayne Tank and Pump company are situated in all the large cities. The company has been incorporated in England and France, and representatives have offices in most of the European capitals.

City Light and Power Works

The office of the City Light and Power works is located on Berry street east of Barr. The building was erected in 1908. At that time the amount of k. w., which represents the amount of power the firm generated, was 1,000. Now there are 12,500 k. w. The value of the plant in its beginning was $336,000. The present value of this utility is $1,560,000.

The City Light and Power works furnishes the electric lights for street illuminations and residential sections as well as power for commercial purposes. It also generates the current for the water works pumping stations.

The firm has 16,000 customers of which Mr. Frank Dix says, "Through their co-operation and by their support they have made this utility possible and have made it prove the best asset to the people of Fort Wayne."

The officials of the City Light and Power works are composed of the mayor, William Hoesy, board of public works, the superintendent, Frank Dix, and the secretary, Robert E. Kelly.

It is their plan to employ highly qualified electricians, engineers and firemen. The firm's payroll is made up of some two hundred employees.

When Mr. Dix was asked his opinion about South Side he replied, "Well, we think it's wonderful. I had a daughter, Dorothy, who graduated from there in '24."

Frank's Dry Goods Store

"We think South Side is the best school in the world and are mighty proud of it," Mr. Eugene Frank, of the Frank's Dry Goods store says.

Frank's Dry Goods store was started in 1869 by Marx Frank, father of Theodore, now president. The store started in a small way on the corner of Berry and Calhoun streets, where the United Cigar store now is.

At first they only had six employees but gradually hired more until they now have one hundred and fifty-six regular clerks, and about thirty Saturday high school girls, fifteen of whom are South Siders, ten Centralites, and five from other schools.

The store has changed from its first location, now occupying the greater part of the same corner with the exception of two small rooms on the corner, and one in the rear on Berry street. They recently remodeled and enlarged, taking over all of the second and third floors, and putting in a new shoe department on the second.

Theodore Frank's son, Eugene, is secretary and treasurer, and his son, Jack, is assistant merchandise buyer.

No special training or qualifications are required except that the person employed is bright and pleasant, energetic, honest, and takes an interest in his work.

The Junior Prom.

To the Editor: There has been much controversy as to whether or not we should have a Junior Prom in 1925. In such a large group of people of so wide a range of opinions and ideas, I doubt very much if it can be decided satisfactorily; that is, unless it is decided for us. We were told last year that if the juniors went into debt there would be no prom this year; but the juniors did not go into debt.

It has been suggested that a party be given that all can enjoy. That is very nice, but if you have a party without dancing only one group of students would enjoy it because many people do not like to play "Three Deep" and "Drop the Handkerchief," and that is about all you can do when the crowd is so mixed.

I am very much in favor of having a party that all will enjoy and would like to submit a plan. Why not have an orchestra and permit those who wish, to dance and have the cafeteria fixed up for games or anything else that would amuse the crowd? Some, no doubt, would enjoy both features.

What do you say, juniors?
A SENIOR.

Potatoes Prevail.

Potatoes are still the prevailing food in the cafeteria. Two hundred and twenty-five bushels have been purchased in addition to the 130 bushels of potatoes that are already in the cafeteria room.

ABOUT EIGHT HUNDRED SIGN TO TAKE TOTEM

Next Monday Is Last Day to Make Payments on Pledges

"The student body, as a whole, responded very well to the call for subscriptions. Seven hundred and ninety students signed pledges—about 77 per cent of the number of students enrolled," reports Mary Monroe, the Totem circulation manager.

"The biggest difficulty in view now is to get the students to fulfill their pledges. This note calls for payment of at least twenty-five per cent within two weeks' from the date they were signed. That two weeks' terminations next Monday. Last Monday, about two hundred students had paid part or all of their subscriptions."

Of these two hundred subscriptions, at least three-fourths come from about ten rooms. Lottie Dignan, agent in Mr. Murphy's first hour class, has thirty subscriptions to her credit. This room is 110 per cent. The next highest room is Mr. Arnold's. Jack Rodebaugh has made that room 88 per cent. Mary Falk stands next in the line with 86 per cent. Miss Bert's class, with Ronald Matlock as agent, is 79 per cent for the Totem. Elizabeth Suter, agent for Miss Kiefer's first period class, has made that room 62 per cent. Vesta Johnston's room is 54 per cent for the Totem. James Willson is agent for Mr. Gould's class, which is 53 per cent.

Reports from Rooms 12, 85, 92 and 140 have not yet been turned in. As soon as these reports are in a definite report from the circulation department will be given.

City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne will celebrate its centennial soon, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note)

Thirty Years of Merchandising The Patterson-Fletcher Company

The young people of Fort Wayne today look on our thriving institutions and take them as a matter of course—little realizing that back of every successful business there is an interesting story of vision and conquest.

Thirty years ago, there came out of southern Michigan, a young man who was to have a part in the building of one of today's greatest merchandising establishments. After years of painstaking service to the employer and to the public, came the opportunity to "step up higher" and the clerk and buyer of ten years, became partner, president and general manager of the incorporated company of Patterson-Fletcher.

In 1895, the first year that Mr. Fletcher was in the merchandising game in our city, the yearly business totaled $48,000—last year Patterson-Fletcher company did a cash business of $1,016,544.24 in men's, young men's and boys' clothing, shoes, furnishings and accessories.

The present owners of the company are Harriet T. Patterson, Harry P. Fletcher, and A. F. Kinnard.

The Fletcher family are especially interested in South Side high school. Mrs. Fletcher was on the school board when the building was constructed. Miss Lavon Fletcher, a student at Lake Forest, is a South Side graduate and the present student body has two representatives of the family, Prelina and Bartlett Fletcher.

Successful business as well as successful lives are built on honest, hard work, the ability to dream, the determination to make dreams come true and planning a program that will serve most people best.

Years ago, a program was laid to guide the "ship of merchandise" of Patterson-Fletcher company—how well the program has succeeded is best exemplified in the present great store serving Fort Wayne and the buying public within a radius of seventy-five miles of our city. With merchandising policies governing the store, there were policies governing those who would be associated in the business—fairness in all things was one of the essentials that help build this great establishment of today.

In selecting men and young men—character is the one thing that carries more weight in favor of or against the applicant and character means those things that are the very foundations of all worthwhile things—a fellow that's honest, that's industrious, that plays fair, who wants to serve, the young fellow who knows what he wants and has ambition and determination to succeed. One rule that they have always held to is not to hire a young man who is a cigarette smoker—years of experience with young men with the cigarette habit have been costly and brought many sad experiences. They say to the young man—"Cigarettes are harmful to the growing mind—they're injurious to general development—give up cigarettes or give up the opportunity of joining our organization." Among forty men and young men in their employment today there is not a man who is a cigarette smoker.

As Patterson-Fletcher company has grown Fort Wayne has grown and what, a few years ago, were woods, farms and cow pastures, are now our fine residential, business and industrial sections.

In speaking of the growth of Fort Wayne, Mr. Fletcher says: "Our public school system has kept pace with a fast-growing community. South Side high stands as a monument to the heads of our public life, our city officials, our school board and a citizenship that dreamed dreams and out of those dreams gave to our youth of today an institution that is recognized as an educational plant of the highest type."

Out of this character building plant, the superior character of Mr. Harris and his teaching staff, are going young men and young women with the right aspect to life—fitted in body, mind and thought to meet life's problems. South Side high school building, supervisors, teachers and student body are a credit to Fort Wayne, and as Patterson-Fletcher company has grown because they have served—so will the service of a school be reflected in the business, social, religious and political of tomorrow, that each and all reach forward toward the highest ideals of life."

Ft. Wayne Building Supply Company

The Fort Wayne Builders Supply company was started in 1904 at Gay and Hayden streets. It at first occupied but three building lots. In 1905 the business became incorporated. John Suelzer, one of the best pioneer building contractors, was the main factor in making the business a success.

At present his son, John Suelzer, Jr., is general manager and, together with E. C. Miller, salesmanager, is taking care of the business part of the work.

The growth of this company has been remarkable. Mr. Suelzer stated that he believed the Fort Wayne Builders Supply company has made more progress than any similar organization in this city. From three lots to three acres, from a one-horse delivery outfit to eight motor trucks and also three horse-drawn vehicles; from a humble little work-shop to a now improved office and factory is a glimpse of its progress.

This company handles all kinds of lumber and a general line of merchandising for the mason, plasterer, paver and sewer builder.

Persons who are versed in the knowledge of building materials and general construction are especially desired by them for employees.

In 1923 an apprenticeship course was started. High school boys are given a year at the machines, a year at the bench and are then taken into the office to work. During this time they are given a correspondence course in carpentry, drafting, plan reading and estimating. From the time the boy starts working he is paid regular wages which are increased as he is advanced.

A planing mill is operated by the Builders Supply company. It turns out any kind of wood-work and in particular architectural wood-work.

Christmas Spirit

A Merry Christmas is there any festival that we celebrate throughout the 365 days of each year that awakes such strong and heartfelt associations as Christmas. The joy of one Christmas seems to overflow into another and we surrender ourselves completely to the glad activities of the day. Carols are sung; spruce, holly and evergreens are everywhere in evidence as symbols and emblems of our faith. As the years are added to our lives, some of us pretend to have become too wise to be moved by lighted candles or stirred by children's voices singing of angels and shepherds, but deep in our hearts we are eager eavesdroppers when century-old mysteries of love and sympathy and friendship are told. We acknowledge to ourselves our individual interest in stockings that take on grotesque shapes and hang gaping with gifts for early marauders on Christmas morning. It is a wonderful thing; a beautiful sentiment, that this festival which commemorates the announcement of the religion of love and peace should be made the season for the gathering together of family relations and connections. It is fitting time for the drawing closer again those bonds of kinder hearts which the cares and pleasures and sorrows of the world are continually operating to cast loose. This season of the year is a constant reminder of savory odors and overestimated appetites, or gathering about the rallying place of our affections, there to grow young and loving again among the endearing memories and mementos of our childhood. It is a season when we all want to be in step and in tune with the spirit of the day; a time when department store crowds and jams don't tax our patience. We are only bent on making some one happy—often by a little token, some little thing we have saved our money to buy or something into which we have knit or woven our loving thoughts and appreciation of their friendship and associations. Yet—when we think seriously of it—how futile is a material gift to express all the good will, cheer and kindly expressions of our feeling. Behind it all there is only a desire to show our feelings, and with words and smiles we often can convey just as good greetings. Really, it is a person's face that determines his thought, and often at this time of the year we remember our friends with monetary gifts when our faces could accomplish the same results. No amount of mental concentration can change the color of a person's eyes, lengthen or shorten a nose, or increase or decrease the height of his forehead. They are our inherited and fixed assets. We may not be responsible for the story which our peculiar facial markings show. The thoughts and feelings we entertain and cherish have a way of leaping into the face. They appear and disappear, yet always leave a track behind them. The same thought or feeling usually pursues the same path, each time leaving its groove in greater and deeper distinctness until others see what sort of thoughts have passed that way. By them we advertise our deeper thought of kindness, good will or human red-bloodedness. We are told to look at a person's eyes for honesty, the mouth for weakness, the chin for strength, etc., but it is the mouth through which any expression of these traits becomes better known. So this year, let every one of us do our part toward making happy all those with whom we come to contact. A smile, a card, a friendly greeting equally as expressive of our feelings as some high priced gift. Some folks go through life with faces the same length as telephone post. This is unnecessary. When we realize that 66 muscles are needed to create a frown and only 15 to smile we think how easy we have been to work our faces overtime. Greet others with a smile. Fill every day with the spirit of Christmas and we will be more contented and happier; we will spread the feeling of goodfellowship, charity and love, and be better for it, for we will have assisted in bringing sunshine to others all the year.

PIQUORIAN CALLS TIMES A SPLENDID NEWSPAPER

Our South Side Times received considerable praise in a recent issue of "The Piquorian," which is edited by the students of the Piqua (Ohio) high school. Special credit is given the various sections.

The comment reads: "Another paper that is full of 'pep' and good reading matter is the South Side Times from Fort Wayne, Indiana. The articles and jokes are splendid, while the sports section, with its article, 'White Lights for the Green,' is very well put together."

THREE BOBS AS BAND DRUMMERS

Two Freshmen and One Sophomore Help Make South Side Band

"He's the cutest drum player in the South Side band," exclaimed a nice little girl at the last football game. "Guess I'll yell at him." So as the band paraded before the crowd, she raised her head and yelled, "Hello, Robert."

All three drum players turned around and smiled. "Looks like they are all Robert," laughed someone in the crowd.

He had told the truth, for the drum players are Bob and Bob and Bob. As to which one the girl meant we will add, "Aren't he cute though?"

The only light on the subject is that it is either Bob Thompson, Bob Nossett or Bob Scheuman.

Bob Thompson is a freshman and has already entered into more school activities than most juniors and seniors. He is in both the beginners' and the main band, a regular member of the Junior Hi-Y, belongs to the Glee club, is a snapshot editor of the Totem and is holding a job. Bob is one exception to the saying that activities and school work don't mix, for he is getting A's and B's. His next semester's program is filled with classes and no study periods.

Bob Nossett is also a freshman. His footsteps are right with Bob Thompson's. He is in both of South Side's bands and also in the News-Sentinel band. He is a member of the Junior Hi-Y and uses his musical ability in the Junior Hi-Y orchestra. In reply to a description of him, look him over when you see the Boys' Glee club quartet.

Bob Scheuman can say the first two years in the band are the hardest. He is a sophomore and will be a junior at Christmas. Bob and his drum are always where the band or orchestra is. He also is a member of the Junior Hi-Y and Glee club. Jim Willson's orchestra boasts Bob as its drummer.

German Classes Hold Contest

In the two German classes a contest was held Friday regarding the congregation of a German verb. Arnold Besenke was the "champion" in the first hour class and Kathryn Henline in the eighth hour class.

ADDITION TO SOUTH SIDE IS TO BE MADE SOON

Addition To Be Made On Lots South Of School Some Time In Near Future.

An addition to South Side, including forty recitation rooms, an auditorium and a girls' gymnasium, will probably be built in several years on the lots south of the school to make room for the rapidly increasing student body.

At a recent meeting of the school board plans were made for the purchase of twelve lots south of Gumpers avenue. A building similar in architecture to South Side will be built.

"The South Side high school will probably reach its normal capacity of fifteen hundred students in the fall of 1926," Mr. Harris stated this week when interviewed by a Times reporter to find out how soon the addition would be needed.

SUCCESS IS PREDICTED FOR NEW PROGRAM PLANS

"The programs that were made out by the students are quite well done," Dean McAfee stated this week after she had looked over a number of them. She says that the new plan makes her work and Mr. Harris' much easier.

She has not looked over enough papers to be able to tell the favorite hours of the students but says that nearly all of them will be allowed to have the classes they elected.

To Form Student Constitution

The Newton high school of Newtonville, Massachusetts, is blazing the trail to something entirely new to high schools. It is a constitutional convention, similar to the National Constitutional Convention held after the Revolution. The purpose of this convention is to draw up a plan of school government.

Lakewood Has Ink Machine

Lakewood high school, of Lakewood, Ohio, has an ink machine. When one drops a penny in a slot and turns a knob, ink flows into the cup on the right. The student fills his pen, pulls out a pen wiper attached to a spring reel, wipes his pen, and moves on. The old ink is deposited in a cup on the left.

A Real "Charm School"

The girls of Roosevelt high school, Seattle, Washington, have organized a "Charm School." The object of this school is to define charm from all angles, and to find out just what charm consists of. The subjects to be discussed at the "Charm School" are "How should I walk, how should I stand, how should I sit, so as never to appear awkward, embarrassed, or ill at ease? What is the proper manner of introducing a boy friend to my parents? Should I rise when being introduced to an elderly man, etc.?" Later, a question box will be introduced which will provide another means of gaining information. Throwing still more light upon the subject, demonstrations of the right and wrong way of being charming will probably be given.

The gym girls played the new-come game. This game was scored when the server's team returns the ball to the opponent's field. The ball is counted dead when the player fails to catch it. The team rotates when the server loses a point.

The seventh grade gave an Irish jig. The costumes were in keeping with the Irishmen.

The gym was darkened for two minutes while the girls gave a dance, swinging the lights.

The eighth grade girls gave gym exercises also.

The last dance before the beginning of the game was the Horse Dance.

Between the halves of the game the gym girls gave the S. S. H. S. stunt.

points, upheld the argument that Indiana should not be empowered to censor motion pictures. State censorship will fail; the shows are good or the people would not attend them and censorship has been unsuccessful where it has been tried.

The decision was rendered by O. M. Brunson, A. H. Schaaf and Otto Scheumann.

Music was furnished by the band before the debate.

Leo defeated South Side's negative team at a debate at Leo which also was three to nothing in favor of Leo. The judges were: Rev. R. A. Feustermacher, of Leo; Miss Ida Reed, a teacher of Spencerville, and Joseph Martin, of Huntertown. Ruth Eickmeyer, Dorothy Emrich, and Gertrude Schuelke, with Carl Rohrer as alternate, spoke for South Side.

SOUTH SIDE STUDENTS LIKE REFERENCE WORK

South Side students have a great liking for reference work, according to reports from the library. Records show that from 800 to 900 books are checked out of the library each week. During the month of November, 2116 books were taken from the library. Of this number only 146 were fiction. The greater part consisted of magazines, civic books, art books, histories, etc.

"The students are prompt, to a great extent, about returning the books," says Miss Shultz.

"THE COVERED WAGON" AT THE BROADWAY

It seems almost superfluous to tell Americans anything further about "The Covered Wagon," which is the best known as well as the best motion picture ever made.

Although "The Covered Wagon" unfolds a most heart-warming love story amid its atmosphere of thrilling adventure, the significance of this monumental movie goes far beyond that of any other love-drama ever produced.

The spirit of "The Covered Wagon" is the spirit of America. The raw courage, the vision, the amazing adventures and hardships of the pioneers and women who opened up the western wilderness and made our great country what it is today—all this lives vividly before your eyes in this picture.

Not a foot of "The Covered Wagon" was made in a studio. Out in the western desert, ninety miles from a railroad, 5,000 actors, including 2,000 full-blooded Indians, worked for four months to film this sincerest of all cinema documents.

"The Covered Wagon" ran two years on Broadway, 34 weeks in Los Angeles, 23 weeks in Chicago, and similar periods in other cities.

See the Indian fight, the nine-mile prairie fire, the fording of the river, the buffalo stampede in "The Covered Wagon"—drink in the intensely patriotic spirit of the picture—and you'll know you've had the time of your life!

"The Covered Wagon" is coming to the Broadway theater for a four day run, starting December 28 to December 31.

AT THE RIALTO.

"The Sixth Commandment," which is the chief screen attraction at the Rialto Theatre, is a story of the young man who brought up in a beautiful environment, has a change of mind when he believes that the girl he loves so dearly has become a girl of folly and he starts to throw discredit to the winds when the unexpected happens. "The Sixth Commandment" in telling a big romance has a threat of adventure woven throughout that makes it all the more exciting and interesting. In the cast appear William Faversham, Charlotte Walker, Edmund Breese, John Bohm, J. Neil Hamilton, Coit Albertson, Kathleen Martyn, Sarah Wood, Consuelo Flowerton, and Charles Emmett Mack. It was directed by William Christy.

Added attractions: "Into the Net," chapter 8, "The Escape," International News and Pathe-Review.

HISTORIC SCENES OF FORT WAYNE IN 1925 TOTEM

Bert Griswold, Author of "The Call of the Rivers," Selects the Photographs.

ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN WILL START THIS WEEK

All Advertising Space Will Be Taken Soon; Circulation Assistants Named.

Reproductions of the paintings of early life in Fort Wayne that are in the new First National Bank will appear in the Totem as a part of the scenic and historic section, which will be a big feature of the annual. This section will contain photographs of the city's historic spots selected by Bert Griswold, who wrote episodes of "The Call of the Three Rivers," the pageant celebrating the hundredth birthday of Fort Wayne and Allen county, and is the author and compiler of "The Pictorial History of Fort Wayne." There will be a brief story connected with the section that will be run in with it.

It was announced that all remaining organization pictures will be taken at the end of this week or the first of next.

Advertising plans are being finished and the campaign will start this week. All the space will be taken within two or three weeks, at which time the budget will be re-checked and a definite price for printing can be set. Any suggestions as to advertisers will be gladly accepted by Harold Bridge, Dick Porterfield, Queen Esther Hafert and Noble Miller.

All class panels that have been laid out are engraved, and all organization pictures taken have been finished, making a great advantage over other years.

A large number of students who signed blanks promising to subscribe for the Totem within two weeks have failed to make even an initial payment, and the circulation department is endeavoring to secure at least one payment from every one before the end of the semester.

Four senior assistants have been appointed to speed up this work. They are Helen Crawford, Lucille Lapp, Horace Agnew, and Robert McAfee.

Mary Monroe, circulation manager, says: "On the part of most students failure to pay is due to forgetting to bring the money. The blanks that were signed are not promissory notes. No one will be listed as a subscriber until he or she has made one payment. It would enable the business staff to adjust its expenditures and would forward work on the year book."

GLEE CLUB PRESENTS CHRISTMAS CANTATA

Few Attend "Noel"; Good Program Pleases Attentive Audience

The Christmas cantata "Noel," given by the Glee club Monday evening, December 22, proved very successful despite the fact that it was attended by such a small number of persons.

The program was opened by the orchestra, followed by the opening chorus.

The solos of Ruth Wemhoff, Thelma Birdy, Marjorie Matlock, John Steinman and Mr. Schafer were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

The string quartet was very good, this being the first time they had played in public.

Almost everyone agrees that the two numbers rendered by the brass quartet were the best part of the program.

The cantata as a whole proved to be the best musical ever given by the Glee club but was not attended as well as it should have been. The audience was very attentive during the entire program so everyone was able to hear the solos well.

CHRISTMAS BRINGS 262 WARNING NOTICES

When children are small they are told at Christmas time the story of what the bad little boys and girls will get for Christmas—only a packet of sticks. When these children become high school pupils they hear another story. Instead of the usual package of sticks they will receive warning notices for Christmas.

Last Friday 262 warning notices were sent out, against 700 last October. However, those who received failing grades at mid-term did not receive warning notices.

The English department sent out the most warning notices, 63 being sent for English failures. Mathematics ranked second with 57, and Languages and Science tied for third with 35 apiece. The Commercial department sent out 27, the History department 24, while 12 Manual Training, three Art students and two Domestic Science students received notices. No warning notices were sent in Music or Physical Education.

THREE ALREADY SIGNED FOR SPEAKING CONTEST

Extemporaneous Contest January 16; Beck, Gasser and Karr Will Talk.

"The extemporaneous contest will be held Friday, January 16, in Room 144, at 3:15," stated Mr. Mahey this week.

Three students have already signed up for the contest. They are: Hubert Beck, Thelma Gasser and Power Karr. Other students will probably sign up before the contest, states Mr. Mahey.

The subjects for discussion will be announced three days before the contest. An hour before the contest begins, each speaker will receive the subject which he will talk on.

Last year the contest was won in both semesters by Josephine Dinglage, who graduated last year. Other winners are Paul Oliver and Mary Forker.

The winner of the contest will have his name engraved on the Lange cup.

SANTA CLAUS PRESENT AT PHILAETHIAN PARTY

The Philaethian Christmas party, which was given Friday, December 19, at the cafeteria, was a great success. About thirty-five members were present.

Margaret Welsh, costumed as Santa Claus, was the big surprise. She was the hit of the party. Everyone who was present was given a gift.

After the playing of many Christmas games, dancing was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served.

What They Did

Miss McCloskey stayed home during Christmas vacation and cleaned house. She also learned to fire the furnace. As it was 17 degrees below zero, she thinks she had a pretty good try-out.

Mr. Null did little odd jobs during vacation. The chief thing he did was to make a combination mantel and book-case in the manual training room at South Side.

Miss Ley, instructor of the Art department, spent part of her vacation in Ohio, visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Schafer spent the holidays at Mr. Schafer's home. Mr. Schafer sang with the Knight Templars in the program Christmas morning. They also attended the holiday dance given by the Knight Templars. They attended several dinners and other parties, having a real good time.

Mr. Rothert spent his vacation at home.

"Stayed at home and kept the furnace going," said Mr. Murphy.

Miss Mendenhall, the domestic science teacher, spent her vacation at her home in Westfield, Ind.

Miss Mereness, the domestic science teacher, spent part of her Christmas vacation with relatives in Wisconsin. She returned home before New Year's.

"I had a good time on my vacation," said Miss Pittenger, our dean, when asked how she spent her Christmas vacation. The whole of her vacation she spent in Indianapolis, her home. While there she attended a family Christmas party, at which her mother was present.

Mr. Murch enjoyed his vacation immensely, as he went hunting up in Michigan.

Mr. Gould stayed home the entire vacation enjoying himself by eating candy and feeding coal to the furnace.

Miss Thorne spent the Christmas vacation with her sister north of Huntington and New Year's with her brother in Peru, Ind.

Miss Rinehart spent her vacation at her home reading, sewing, and writing letters of thanks for the presents she received.

Mr. Parks attended the National Commercial Teachers' Federation, which met at Louisville, Ky., during the holiday vacation. There were about three hundred teachers present, representing all sections of the country. The program on commercial subjects was well up to the standard, and the hospitality furnished by the city was very commendable. The federation for next year will be held at Cincinnati, Ohio.

"I just stayed at home and rested during my vacation," said Mr. Whelan when he was interviewed.

Miss Harvey sojourned the twelve short days with her parents in Indianapolis.

Miss Dixon spent the Christmas vacation in Cleveland, Ohio, visiting friends. While there she saw the miracle play in which Lady Diana Manner and Rosemary Pinchot took the leading parts.

Miss Shultz spent most of her Christmas vacation working in the library cataloguing books.

Mrs. Thompson spent her vacation home. She says the most interesting part of her vacation was when she heard the Liberty Bell ring 148 times over the radio.

I. H. S. A. A. MAKES BASKETBALL RULES

Schools May Have Only Twenty Games; No Player to Play In More Than That Number.

CLASS GAMES ALLOWED

At the last meeting of the Indiana High School Athletic association it was announced that no basketball games should be played by players or schools prior to October 1 or after the state final basketball tourney. According to a statement issued by the Associated Press, Secretary Trester says the rule applies to "inter" games and not to "intra" games. Practice in basketball and regular gymnasium work of which basketball is a part, are permitted at any time providing such are "within-the-school" activities, he continues. The rule providing for a maximum of twenty games, Mr. Trester emphasizes, is interpreted to mean that any team representing a school may have twenty games on the regular schedule. In other words, the first team, the second team, the vocational team, etc., may each have twenty games. An individual player may play in twenty games and may play on different teams, providing that he does not play in more than twenty games. Twenty games for each team and twenty games for each player are permitted on the regular schedule.

If a South Side player played in a second team game and then a first he would have been said to have played in two games, and would so have two less left in which he could play.

Teams may play in two tourneys in addition to the state tourney and in addition to the twenty games on the regular schedule, providing the number of games in one of these two tourneys are counted in the twenty games permitted for the regular schedule.

"The I. H. S. A. A. does not have at present and it has never had a rule regarding mid-week games. Our association has assumed no responsibility in this field," Mr. Trester adds.

The board reaffirmed former decisions that "practice games" between schools and teams other than intra-school teams were games and as such are bound by I. H. S. A. A. rules. It was decided that the rule stating that all tourneys other than state tourneys should be held prior to February 1, applies to tourneys within the state.

Sectional track meets will be held at various centers to be selected later than May 16, and the final meet the following Saturday, May 23, 1925.

GIRL RESERVE CLUB TO FROLIC MONDAY

"Impartial In Judgment" Is the Theme to Be Represented at the Party.

"Choose Your Own" is the name of the next meeting of U. S. A. to be held on January 12, in Room 24, at 3 o'clock. This meeting will be given as a party. It is to represent a part of the code, "Impartial in Judgment."

This club made $12.00 on the Christmas bazaar held at the main entrance on Tuesday before Christmas.

Miss Paxton did about the same. "We entertained one guest, Miss Lena McQuilsten, from College Corner, Ohio," she said.

Coach Gilbert spent Christmas day with his mother at Indianapolis, coming back for the remainder of the vacation to drill the basketball squad.

Coach Welborn and family spent the holidays with relatives at Indianapolis, Ind.

Coach Heine worked throughout the holiday season in his little store in Bloomingsdale.

Miss Smeltzly spent her vacation here with her mother, entertaining friends.

Miss Chapin spent the holidays at home quietly because of the death of her sister a few days before Christmas.

Miss Demaree went to Bloomington during Christmas vacation, to attend her niece's sixth birthday.

Miss Mott spent the first part of the Christmas vacation in Sterling, Ill., visiting her brother and family. The latter part she spent at home in Noblesville.

Miss Miller spent the first few days of the Christmas vacation visiting relatives in Marion, Ohio. The remainder of the time was spent in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Hull spent his vacation in "keeping the home fires burning." He did not go far from Fort Wayne at any time.

Mr. Voorhees, chemistry teacher, spent his Christmas vacation at home. During some of the time he tutored in chemistry.

Miss Hadsell, physical training teacher, visited her family during the Christmas vacation.

Mr. Spalding spent his vacation helping his wife entertain her uncle and cousin from Mexico, Mo.

Mr. Arnold and family spent the holidays in Cleveland and Ashtabula, Ohio.

Miss Bert spent her vacation at Tipton, Ind.

THE LAST LAP

"Oh, Skinny! Only fourteen school days left in this semester! Hooray!" shouts the happy freshman as he enters the school this morning. This leaves only 112 periods, or 5,040 minutes, including lunch hours and study periods.

The semester officially ends on Friday, January 23; but school will be dismissed on the preceding Wednesday, allowing a day to the pupils in order that they might baffle in case they expect bad news on Friday, when the grades will be given out.

MISS ALDRICH CONDEMNS CIGARETTES AND TOBACCO

Noted Social Worker of Presbyterian Church Speaks to the Student Body December 18.

By asserting that it takes a vast amount of nerve for a boy or girl to stand up alone for what their parents or elder persons interested in their welfare, tell them are right, Miss Maude M. Aldrich, of the Bureau of Children and Family Welfare of the Presbyterian church, threw down her gauntlet, challenging the students in a mass meeting the second period on Thursday before vacation.

"There are many harmless habits which we form when we are so young that we cannot remember when we first did them," Miss Aldrich said. "For instance, stretch out your fingers and then lock your hands. Your right thumb will be on top, of course."

"Now," she added with a chuckle, "lock your fingers and put your left thumb on top. You will find that you must stop and think before you do it, and it is the things in life that you must hesitate at that demands good, healthy reasoning."

Miss Aldrich, almost immediately, plunged into a graphic description of the cigarette and tobacco ravages on our young manhood.

"Don't for a dare, a joke, or anything else smoke the first cigarette," she admonished. "Jack Dempsey refused $30,000 to allow his name to be used as a cigarette advertisement."

"Will Hart, the movie hero of the American boy, does not smoke cigarettes in his private life. You may protest and say he does in the movies! The 'cigarettes' he uses in the movies are made from wood shavings, and he is paid $1,000 a month by tobacco manufacturers to set this trap for our boys."

The Panama canal cost four billion dollars, and the American youths not yet reached maturity smoke up seven or eight Panama canals a year. It is also a fact that the younger a boy is the worse the tobacco effect is, and a smaller dose of nicotine would kill a person than strychnine or opium. Boys! there is one more thought I would leave with you. You know that you would not ride a bicycle if you would have to get out and pump a leaky tire constantly. Surely you do not want nerves that need to be soothed by a cigarette every fifteen minutes!"

Leaving the cigarette question, Miss Aldrich commented on our social and scholastic life.

"On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights every student here belongs at home getting his lessons and needed rest. On Friday night suggest that a good rollicking party, perhaps, is all right as long as it does not go too far. There should be no wall flowers at a party of this sort. Everyone should enjoy the wholesome games."

"Girls should always remember that they should not dress immodestly and make a physical appeal. If a girl cannot appeal to a boy friend or other person by a personality or intellectual appeal, then I pity her, indeed," the speaker said.

"You students will think more about the qualities of character of those whom you associate with. You ought now to have happy high school friendships—not desperate high school crushes," Miss Aldrich said in finishing.

LACK OF HEAT CAUSES DEATH OF MANY PLANTS

Due to the fact that the engineers did not sufficiently heat the botany greenhouse over vacation, about $50 worth of plants were frozen. About fifteen plants belonging to the various teachers, including thirty plants of Mr. Gould's, were killed. The teachers, feeling that their plants would be well taken care of in the greenhouse placed their plants there.

A WORTHWHILE FEATURE

Perhaps you have been interested in the poems that this paper has been publishing under the title "A Mite of Verse," and you have been wondering at their range of subjects and the unusual method of writing. They have been copyrighted and published under the heading of "Contrasts"—a most interesting little booklet.

Most people say that verse is an uninteresting—fault of verse and not of the persons. But if one would read "A Mite of Verse" and do a bit of thinking about each one, he would soon realize his misconception.

Their author is one of the most versatile persons in South Side. Herman O. Mahey.

GREEN AND WHITE DOWNS PORTLAND

Team Plays Steady Game; Wiener and Rahe Star With Three Baskets Each.

BRUBAKER SCORES FIRST

The South Side net squad followed out Captain Brubaker's New Year's resolution when they defeated Portland by the score of 31 to 21 at the South Side gym Saturday night. At the rest period the Green was leading by the score of 12 to 6.

The game started out in an apparent runaway for South Side. Portland did not connect for a field goal until after twelve minutes of the first half had been played. But during the second half the visitors hit the basket with more regularity but could not overcome the sharpshooting of the Green firing squad.

Brubaker started the scoring for South Side with a field goal after the ball had been raced up and down the floor with neither side being able to score. He counted on a foul a few moments later. Phil Rahe then came through for a pair of baskets which boosted the South Side score to seven points. Portland had scored only one point up to this time. Currie counted on a long shot. Brubaker, of Portland, scored the first field goal for his team after twelve minutes had passed. Brubaker and Rahe scored points on free throws and the half ended 12 to 6 for South Side.

In the second half Wiener and Rahe hit the basket consistently. Wiener broke loose for three field goals. DuWan was re-entered into the game and scored six points during the second half. Brubaker of Portland kept his basket hot by ticking the drapees three times from the field. Bowman and Humphries each scored a pair of field goals during the second half.

Line-up and summary:
Portland (21) South Side (30)
Brubaker F. Brubaker F.
Bowman F. Rahe F.
Humphries C. DuWan C.
Jettens G. Currie G.
Money G. Thiele G.

Field Goals: Brubaker 4, Bowman 2, Renner 1, Humphries 2, Brubaker 2, Rahe 3, DuWan 2, Wiener 3, Currie 2, Free Throws—Bowman 1, Jettens 2, Brubaker 1, Rahe 3, DuWan 2. Substitutions—Renner for Bowman; Bergman for Humphries; Humphries for Bergman; Wiener for DuWan; DuWan for Wiener. Referee—Reno (Wabash).

TEACHERS ARE ATHLETES OUTSIDE OF CLASSROOM

Heine, Davis, and Welborn Do Daily Dozen Juggling "Refs" Whistle at Net Frays.

Three of the men teachers of the younger set do their daily dozen every so often by refereeing basketball games. They are the Messrs. Davis, Heine, and Welborn.

In fact, Mr. Davis gets a work-out very often, because he referees out-of-town games, two and three times each week. Many of the strong teams in this part of the state, such as South Bend and Mishawaka, have known his services as "ref."

Mr. Heine can juggle a referee's whistle as well as he can the long names in his biology book. Last year he refereed some of the preliminary games for the Green. He has no definite plans for the near future, but maybe the fans will see him on the hardwood again in his official capacity.

Mr. Welborn is a basketball man as well as a football one. He first appeared in the basketball world of South Side as official for the preliminary between Columbia City and South Side. He may be used as referee again. It all depends on Mr. Greely, the "big boss." He is the man who chooses the officials for the games.

'BIRD'S CHRISTMAS CAROL' HAS SOUTH SIDERS IN CAST

Mary Hale, Betty Hutchins, Vir-Drage and Helen Crawford, all students at South Side, played in important roles in the "Bird's Christmas Carol" at the Little Art theatre Friday and Saturday, December 20 and 21. The entertainment was considered a success by all who saw it.

PLANS ABOUT FORUMS TO BE MADE SUNDAY

"Forums will be held this year if it is possible to get them started," stated Mr. Brunson's assistant at the Y. M. C. A. More definite information may be received concerning them after the committee meeting that is to be held January 11.

MR. HARRIS RECEIVES SON FOR CHRISTMAS

Mr. Harris, our principal, received a very beautiful gift for Christmas this year. Ben Alan, a nine-pound boy, arrived on December 23.

VARSITY GIRLS SCORE VICTORY OVER ALUMNI

Former South Siders Are Defeated In Lop-Sided Game By Score of 32 to 4.

Because of the star basket shooting of their forwards, the Mildredites defeated their alumni sisters by the top heavy score of 32 to 4. The game, which was played as an appetizer for the main Varsity-Alumni dish offered by the boys, was very lop-sided and thrilling because the Alumni, lacking two basket-hitting forwards, offered little opposition. The first half ended 24 to 0 in favor of the Varsity.

To Gertrude Browner goes the laurel wreath for star shooting. The little forward sank nine field goals before she was taken from the game. "Max" Schmieder, her forward partner, contributed three goals to the total. During the second half, Miss Hadsell changed the entire line-up. Mary Tannehill and Clara Wager took the forward's shoes. Mary showed her stuff by sinking two long-distance baskets.

During this time the Alumni were powerless. Dorothy Bales and Alice Mason guarded their older sisters so well that they had very few chances at the basket. When they were able to get near the goal, their shots failed to register. The four points were scored by Toay Underwood in the early minutes of the second half.

When the final gun went off, nearly every member of the Varsity had had a try at their older sisters, and the final score was 32 to 4.

The line-ups:
M. Schmieder. F. T. Underwood
D. Minier. F. P. Folsom
M. Berlien. C. E. Bales
V. Stevens. S. C. E. Wyneken
D. Bales. G. D. Dix
A. Mason. G. M. Schmieder

With the Classes

The public speaking class is now taking up delivery. Before this, the arguments and speeches were the vital points.

An extemporaneous debate was held in Room 144 on the question, "Resolved, That we have vacation only on Christmas and New Year's day and not for the entire two weeks." It was rather curious that every member of the public speaking class took the negative side of the question and showed remarkable concern for Mr. Mahey. "You see," they said, "he needs a rest."

On Tuesday before vacation the various German classes sang some of the well-known German Christmas songs.

Nellie Grim was absent several days before the holiday vacation.

Marjorie Reeves spent her vacation in Florida and reports a very enjoyable time.

"Many of the boys of the 9-A wood-working classes are now finishing their projects," stated Mr. Chappell the other day to a Times reporter. "Finishing is the last series of processes in wood-work. It includes sanding, staining, shellacking and varnishing. This takes very careful work and extends over a long period of time. In industry, finishing is a separate trade. It takes skilled work and a great deal of knowledge of the blending of colors and knowledge of stains on various kinds of material in order to be a good finisher. It makes no difference how well an article is made, if it does not have a good finish, its commercial value is nothing."

There are five new L. C. Smith typewriters in the Commercial department now, making thirty-eight machines.

A special study of the three great painters: Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo and Raphael, has been made in Miss Smeltzly's general history classes.

Each member of Miss Demaree's English VI. class on Monday did something to entertain the class. The program consisted of a short play, readings, and music. James Miles brought his collection of Indian relics and gave an interesting talk. Helen Masters wrote an interesting class prophecy, based on "Westward Ho!"

Miss Mott's girls are learning to use the attachments belonging to the sewing machine. The hemmers, tucker, gatherer and binder, seem to be quite fascinating in their possibilities. The girls already see that they are really time-saving devices. The classes are now working on textiles, wool in particular, the production, preparation, spinning and weaving. The study of materials as to knowledge of choice and care will follow.

A large coconut fruit was on exhibit in the botany laboratory December 21. This was of especial interest since it was the seed and husk. Usually it is only the seeds which we see. This one was sent through the mail with postage and label pasted on the outside.

Each student of Mr. Whelan's Physical Geography classes has recently been assigned one magazine article of a scientific nature which he is to write up in form suitable for reading in class. As many of these are being given as time permits.

The Frigidaire ice cream cabinet has now been installed in the cafeteria. This cabinet was installed by the Furnas Ice Cream company. There is no ice used, electricity is the means by which the ice cream is frozen.

DEBATERS DEFEAT HUNTINGTON TEAM

South Side Affirmative Wins at Huntington While Negative Team Loses to Central

CENTRAL HEADS LEAGUE

STANDINGS

School	Won	Lost	Pct.
Central	4	0	1.000
Leo	3	1	.750
South Side	2	2	.500
Bluffton	1	3	.250
Huntington	0	4	.000

South Side's debating teams gained a victory at Huntington and lost to Central at South Side on Friday, December 19, ending the schedule of the series of debates on "Resolved: That the state of Indiana should be empowered to censor motion picture films presented for commercial purposes," with a percentage of 500. Whether or not there will be another series is undecided.

The negative side of the question at Huntington was upheld by Kathryn Stults, Lythe Fuehauer and Clyde Buckingham, with Bert Anson as alternate. The affirmative speakers were Lucille Lapp, Power Karr and Elsbeth Crane, with Louise Pratt as alternate. The negative maintained their stand by pointing out that the same logic which would demand censorship of the movies would demand censorship of the press and speech, and that censorship has failed. The affirmative team upheld their side by saying that additional regulation is needed, that the state is the most logical authority and that state censorship has been successful where it has been tried.

The debate with Central, held in Room 3, was hotly contested all the way through, and proved to be one of the most interesting debates ever held in this school. Central represented by Traverse Chandler, Donald Cluck and Ruth Hunt, said that censorship is necessary, that the power of censorship should be given to the state, and that state censorship has been successful where it has been given a fair trial. South Side debaters, Dorothy Emrich, Ruth Eickmeier and Gertrude Schuelke, maintained that there was no need for additional regulation, that the same logic would demand censorship of the press and speech, and that our present laws are more in accord with American ideals than the laws of censorship. The debaters struck sparks several times, and once Central charged misrepresentation of authority by South Side. In the rebuttal, the local team attacked the affirmative on the morality of several films which they had said were most disreputable.

The decision was two for the affirmative against one for the negative, given by Arthur Perry, Floyd Neff and Stanley Hamilton. Originally Clarence McNabb was to be a judge, but at the last moment was unable to attend and Mr. Hamilton was substituted.

Bud Beck presided for the home debate. The band entertained the audience before the judges arrived.

SPEEDY TYPISTS WIN AWARDS IN DECEMBER

I wish for South Side success in scholastic attainments, athletics, debating, music and all the activities which go to make up a great school.
—Herbert S. Voorhees.

My wish for South Side during the coming year is that the spirit of cordiality, good fellowship, and co-operation, so prevalent among students and faculty, may become even more so.
—Philip Greely.

There is a splendid spirit of co-operation between the student body and faculty of South Side. However, for 1925, I sincerely hope a finer spirit will be created; that South Side shall be noted throughout the state for her high standard of scholarship; that both students and faculty shall support the various activities of the school to the fullest extent; and that at all times we shall maintain the loftiest ideals.
—L. C. Schmalzried.

Each New Year's day is a milepost along the highway of life.

We stop to ponder what progress we have made; what failures we encountered; what we can do to make this new year the very best one of our lives—
Each to do his bit.

A part of the whole of it.
—Margaret M. Shulze.

I wish that the students of South Side would learn to spell separate, grammar, peapuptheiphphtheau, too, and other easy words; and that they would learn to be less wary of the dictionary. And I wish them every good thing that life has to give, for they are a choice part of the finest generation that the world has ever produced—the snow-whites of the good old days notwithstanding. They have faults, but with all their faults I love them still. May I be able to help them in some way to that which is fine and good.
—Benjamin Null.

New Year's wish for South Side is health. A body that will fill us with the joy of living and inspire us with equal enthusiasm for work and for play; health of mind, that will give us power to think clearly, to judge fairly, to meet our daily tasks with cheerful courage and to face them with a sense of victory, and to see the end of making the most of our opportunity. The knowledge is ours for the taking; health of spirit that will sweeten our friendships, strengthen our loyalty to each other and our school, and will cause us, out of the myriad influences that reach us daily, to hold fast only to that which is honest, just, pure, lovely and of good report.
—Milocent Work.

Last week about seven hundred and fifty people signed up for a 1925 Totem, promising that within two weeks they would make their first payment of a quarter or more. Very little of this has been turned in. We believe that this is due largely to carelessness and not unwillingness on the part of the student body. It is necessary that these first payments be made right away to pay preliminary expenses on the Totem.

The annual this year promises to far surpass last year's product and the most brilliant dream of any student. Can you think of any method so efficient and satisfactory to preserve school friendships or memories? Of course, you will remember distinctly the high spots in your four or more years, but it's those things in which you aren't so active and are likely to forget, that the Totem hopes to preserve for you.

If the Totem is to come out the super-product that the staff is hoping for, you must show your willingness to co-operate. The best ways we could suggest for your doing this would be, boost your rooms to the hundred per cent mark, hand in any suitable snapshots and have your picture taken if you haven't had it done already.

CARRY ON!

Nineteen hundred and twenty-five is here with its three hundred and sixty-five days to be filled to capacity with—

We will not know until December 31, 1925, whether this will be a year of happiness or sadness, of success or failure, or of victory or defeat. We can to a great extent influence what the year has to offer, but not entirely. We can often change defeat to victory, failure to success, and sadness to happiness by employing a generous measure of determination, perseverance, and will power, but there's always that portion of affairs that we can't affect.

If we all knew what the new year would bring, we couldn't enter upon it with the same enthusiasm and spirit that we do now. If we knew defeat was at the end, we couldn't venture into the unknown with any hope or self-confidence. If we knew glory and success sat crowned at the tape line that marks the end of this era, we wouldn't have to work, doubt and fear, and we would acquire a "matter of course" attitude toward life.

A building up of high ideals, ambitions, determination and character, as a whole, will help make 1925 a high spot in your life, and here's hoping that those events you can't alter and effect will hold only the best and worthwhile things of life.

Read A Bit

There is no royal speedway to success; in reality, there is no road at all. You must make your own road over a rough country. Some find an easier way than others; due in a few cases to good luck.

Some are stronger than others and go faster and further. Some find the way hard and progress slow. But you may be sure that no one reaches success who does not try and does not work hard for it.—Guy E. Tripp, Forbes Magazine.

"High Adventure" is a humorous and thrilling chronicle of Captain Hall who enlisted as an aviator in the French air service.

City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne has celebrated its centennial, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note)

Peoples Trust & Savings Company.

The Peoples Trust & Savings company opened its doors at 817 Calhoun street April 7, 1903. The directors at that time were: James M. McKay, Wm. F. Moellering, M. Chas. McDougal, Patrick J. McDonald, Henry Beadell, Aug. E. C. Becker, Wm. P. Breen, Wm. L. Moellering, B. Fitzpatrick, Robert W. T. DeWald, John Morris, Jr., and Wm. Stephen.

While primarily the corporation organized for the purpose of handling trusts of all kinds, the institution also included a savings and an insurance department.

From the very first the bank showed a very prosperous growth and on March 31, 1904, issued its first annual statement showing total deposits of $473,590.76; the capital stock was $200,000.00 and undivided profits, $5,870.17. The total assets were $687,149.35.

It is interesting to compare this statement with the last statement issued by the company as of September 30, 1924. The total deposits as shown on this last statement amount to $4,695,109.16. The capital stock still remains at $200,000.00, but the surplus has been built up until it is now $350,000.00—and the undivided profits, $6,249.62. This is the only banking institution in Fort Wayne, which has a surplus account larger than its capital stock, built up solely for the protection of its depositors.

In 1909 the Peoples Trust and Savings company found their banking quarters inadequate so they erected their own building at 818-819 Calhoun street in which they are now located. The Peoples Trust and Savings company in addition to the savings, trust and insurance departments which they had at the beginning, have installed commercial departments, contract collection department, safety deposit boxes, mortgage loan department, and in fact practically every type of banking service needed in a city the type of Fort Wayne. Mortgage loans which this company holds on property in Fort Wayne total more than $4,000,000.00, showing to what degree it has loaned its money towards the upbuilding of the city of Fort Wayne.

It is interesting to note that of the twelve men originally named as directors of this financial institution eight are still active.

In Other Schools

To Get Huge Stadium
Milwaukee (Wis.) high school will be presented in the near future with a huge football stadium, seating from 20,000 to 25,000 persons.

Gay Commencement Dresses
Rainbow colors for commencement dresses were the choice of a large number of the graduating girls of Austin high school, Chicago. It was also decided that any silk crepe may be used, but the material must not exceed $15.00. Light slippers and stockings may also be worn.

Favor Change in Name
At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City, Kan., it was suggested that the name of the Kansas City, Kansas, high school be changed to Walker high school in honor of William Walker, one of the first governors of Kansas. They decided to change the name because of there being three high schools entitled to the same name this school has now.

Strive for Good English

An entirely original plan was brought before the organized junior English class of Huntington high, (Ind.) to overcome all "have dids," "have wents," or "have saws." In the first week every time do, did, done; go, went, gone, or see, saw, seen were used incorrectly twenty-five per cent was taken off the daily grade; fifty per cent the second week; seventy-five per cent the third week, and one hundred per cent the fourth week. A compensation was also given for using the forms correctly.

SOUTH SIDE LISTED AS GOOD SCHOOL

Is Counted Among Sixteen of the Best High Schools in the United States.

A singular honor has been conferred upon South Side by the December issue of the School Review, a magazine of secondary education, which is numbered among our library periodicals.

Edith L. Hildebrandt, a teacher in Highland Park high school, Highland Park, Michigan, says in an article in the Review, that sixteen of the leading high schools in the United States have during the past year, co-operated in an investigation to determine the average spelling ability and the spelling difficulties of high school students. South Side, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is listed among the sixteen leading high schools.

This test, which was held at South Side, was to determine the average spelling of high school students. A fifteen minutes' theme written in class on any subject was required. Fifteen thousand five hundred students wrote and the average number of words misspelled was 2.77 for fifteen minutes, or eleven words an hour.

A few students misspelled "and" and "the" but a few exceptional students used unusual words and spelled them correctly. A few of these words were: interecine, chemerical, oscillatory, interplanetary, nonchalantly and scintillating.

The ten words most commonly misspelled and the number of students misspelling them, were: o'clock, 634; too, 573; experience, 562; there, 361; their, 350; didn't, 312; finally, 247; immediately, 244; stopped, 239; decided, 235.

Alas, he was excited,
And did not get it right.

"You cannot live without I
And each other must have we,
So are you tell I will me
If us me marry won't she?"

The poor girl was dumbfounded,
And knew not what to say,
But opened up her mouth,
And poured forth words this way.

"Oh dear boy, how we love us,
And me to love I we,
But you we I are never
Is able can us marry."

"Me ape a husband has got,
Him is I much do loves,
Alas, I is not are you have I,
Nor can it ever was."

They were discussing ways and means of getting down off an elephant.

"Well, how do you get down?" asked Bob.
"You climb down, of course."
"No," replied his friend Tom.
"Well, you grease his sides and slide down," suggested he other.

"Wrong again," insisted Tim.
"Then you take a ladder if one is handy and get down," was the next suggestion.

"No."
"Well, you slide down his trunk."
"No, you donkey! You don't get down off an elephant. You get it off a duck."

There is nothing the matter with the rising generation after it gets up.

NO BAD LUCK WISHED.
Mr. Murphy: "I think my boy has the whooping cough."

Geraldine Lower: "Have you ever had it?"
Mr. Murphy: "Yes."
Geraldine: "Oh! pshaw!" (evidently wishing to get out of civics class a while).

AND SQUIRREL FOOD.
Mr. Schmalzried: "Dr Carver is a man who has found over one hundred products from the peanut."
Chris B.: "What is one?"
Mr. Schmalzried: "Peanut butter."

GOOD DEFINITION.
Miss Demaree: "What does sophisticated mean?"
Elizabeth K. (Senior): "I don't know."
Miss Demaree: "You a senior and do not know what a sophisticated senior is! James, what does that word mean?"
James Nelson: "Sophisticated means over-conceited."

FORCE OF HABIT.

GREEN MEETS ANGOLA SATURDAY

GREEN SQUAD TO LAFAYETTE TOMORROW

West Lafayette Home of Three Regulars From Last Year's Crack Net Team.

ANGOLA TO FURNISH OPPOSITION SATURDAY

Local Team Will Probably Have Same Strength as In Recent Games.

Friday noon Coach "Ward" Gilbert, Mr. Greely, Frank Robertson and ten varsity net men will embark for Lafayette, where they will do battle with the West Lafayette "Red Devils." The "Red Devils" have three regulars from last year's team. In Cooper they have a center who will stack up with any center in the state, and Jamieson and Pierce, forwards, have been doing their share of the scoring this season.

The Green machine, which has not yet arrived to perfection, will probably be the same as last week.

The probable line-ups: South Side. West Lafayette. Brubaker. F. Pierce. Rahe. C. Jamieson. DuWan. C. Cooper. Currie. G. Piper. Thiele. G. Wilson.

Saturday the Green and White stars will furnish plenty of opposition for the Angola high school "Blue and Gold," who were defeated by the Kelly Klads in the tournament last year.

The probable line-ups: South Side. Angola. Brubaker. F. Pence. Rahe. F. Finner. DuWan. C. Fifer. Currie. G. Shank. Thiele. G. German.

GREEN SWAMPS COLUMBIA CITY

Many Score in the One-Sided Game; No Individual Player Stars.

SUBSTITUTES ARE PLAYED

South Side defeated Columbia City in a one-sided game by the overwhelming score of 43 to 19. In a contest which had been anticipated to be very close, South Side demonstrated her superiority throughout. Had the Green been the least bit more fortunate in scoring on close-up shots, she would have amassed a much greater total.

Columbia City was in the running for only the first few minutes of the game before the Green could solve Columbia City's defense. After a few minutes had elapsed, South Side, led by her brilliant captain, Brubaker, started to pile up a count which turned out to be the largest scored in any one game this season.

The South Side defense was air tight and had the Columbia City lads shooting from long range during the whole game. Thiele, Green back guard, played a commendable game by keeping the visitors out of his territory. He had the Columbia City men shooting too soon and as a result the ball hit wildly in the vicinity of the basket with very few attempts successful. Currie played well defensively, coming back on many occasions to help out the back guard.

The Green offense was led by Captain Brubaker, Currie, DuWan, and Wiener. The scoring was very evenly divided so that no one player could carry off the honors. Brubaker and Currie scored nine points each. DuWan counted for eight and Wiener registered seven. Many of the Green second raters broke into the scoring and helped boost the final total.

For Columbia City the outstanding star was Oman. He was the only reason that South Side did not broaden the breach in the scores. Oman scored five times from the field and twice from the free throw lane.

Coach Gilbert used practically all his substitutes during the game. The admission of the second string men into the fray caused little or no effect on the speed and scoring qualities of the team. Bill Thiele was the only player to go the whole route.

The Game. Wiener started for South Side when he counted on a free throw. He added another point on a free throw. Columbia City tied the score on three charity tosses. From this time on South Side was in the lead, never to be threatened. In a few minutes the Green piled up an 11 to 3 count. Columbia City called for time. At the end of the half South Side was leading by the score of 23 to 11.

Starting with an unrelenting attack on the basket in the second half, South Side enabled herself to add twenty more points to her score. DuWan, Currie and Brubaker bombarded the basket from every angle on the court. Many of Coach Gilbert's substitutes were put into the game to give them a test under fire. They all showed up well and continued to score against their opponents. The final count was 43 to 19.

In the preliminary the Green Reserves trounced the Columbia City Seconds by the score of 26 to 15.

Jess Reno refereed the main go and his work was praised by the fans.

Line-up and summary: Columbia City (19) South Side (43) Cummins. F. Brubaker. Rhodes. F. Rahe. Oman. C. Wiener. Boyd. G. Currie. Anderson. G. Thiele. Field Goals—Oman 5, Boyd 2, Washburn 1, Brubaker 3, Fleming 1, Rahe 2, Willson 1, Wiener 3, DuWan 1, Currie 4. Free Throws—Rhodes 1, Oman 2, Brubaker 3, Rahe 2, DuWan 1, Currie 1, Thiele 1. Substitutions—Anderson for Cummins, Kenner for Anderson, Washburn for Kenner, Allen for Washburn, Fleming for Brubaker, Willson for Rahe, DuWan for Wiener, Sprunger for Currie, Currie for Sprunger, Wiener for DuWan, DuWan for Wiener, Rahe for Willson, Brubaker for Fleming, Referee—Reno (Wabash).

CENTRAL GIRLS' TEAM HAS UNUSUAL RULES

Use Two Divisions of Floor Instead of Three; Makes Faster Game

The Central girls have been practicing their basketball under different rules than those used by the Mildredites. They are using two division rules instead of the three division rules under which they formerly played, because their gymnasium is so small it is hard to play the straight girls' game.

This two division ruling allows three forwards and three guards, instead of the two forwards, two guards, center and side-center that make up the line-up of the three division game. The game played by the Centralites comes nearer the boys' game than the one practiced by the Green and White. When the Green plays the Blue at Central the teams will follow the two division ruling and when at South Side they will play under the three division ruling.

No schedule has been arranged as yet, and as Central is not admitted to I. H. S. A. until January 15, the Mildredites will probably not play them until next term.

NORRIS MAKING GOOD ON UNIVERSITY TEAMS

LOUIS NORRIS Louis Norris, the star center of our basketball team last year, is making his mark in freshman athletics at Northwestern university this year.

Louis is one out of twenty-five freshmen to be awarded a numerical for football at Northwestern and is one of the eighteen men retained so far on the freshman basketball squad.

BASKETBALL RULES GET INTERPRETATIONS

Decisions Are Made at Meeting Of Big Ten Officials and Coaches.

The following interpretations of the basketball rules were formed at a recent meeting of Big Ten coaches and officials at Chicago.

1. Guarding from the rear. It was decided at this meeting that it was possible to guard from the rear without fouling but it was made plain that more often it would result in a foul. The inside arm, when used, will always result in a foul. Contact about the shoulders or the back will always result in a foul. When the defensive player strikes at the ball and misses, hitting the offensive player's arm, the result is hacking, a personal foul.

2. It was decided that two minutes should be allowed on all time outs, if desired.

3. When the ball is put in play from out of bounds, it is to be put in play not more than three feet from where it goes out of bounds.

4. If a violation is made, the player making the violation must hand the ball or pass it to the official or lay the ball dead at the spot where the violation occurred. If, in the judgment of the official, the player tries to kill time, a foul should be called.

5. At the meeting it was decided that there should be no violation at center or jump ball. It is not necessary for the player to keep his hand in contact with his back. He may use his arm at the side, but if his hand comes in contact with the opponent on the jump, the official shall call a personal foul. It is a technical foul to tip the ball on the way up.

6. The net is part of the basket and if the player touches the net in an attempt to get the ball, the decision is left to the official as to whether or not the player tried to knock the ball out of the basket. Two points shall be given to the opponent if a foul is called.

TEAM OF ALUMNI DEFEATS VARSITY

Game Fast But One-Sided; Fromuth and Norris Star for Old Timers.

REGULARS DO NOT PLAY

The South Side Varsity succumbed to the fast and powerful Alumni team by the score of 40 to 27. The game was clean and fast. The outcome was little in doubt from the very outset because in accordance to the twenty game ruling of the I. H. S. A. A. Coach Gilbert was allowed to play only those men whom he had not already played in their full quota of games.

Fromuth and Norris reminded the fans of South Side's teams of yore when they worked to almost mechanical perfection. This pair amassed enough points to win the game. Timely contributions by Wilkens, Williams, Parker and Plasterer kept the old grads well to the fore.

Phil Rahe and Dick Wiener divided the honors for the Varsity. Rahe scored twelve points and Wiener counted for nine. Currie played well at floor guard.

The game started out in a rush for the Alumni. Norris tipped in a short one from the side of the floor. The half ended 22 to 10.

In the second half the Varsity played much better and came within a point of scoring evenly with the Alumni. The Varsity counted 17 while the Grads stacked up 18. The playing of Williams of the Alumni featured the second half. The final score was 40 to 27.

SPORT GUSH

Onceover predicted that South Side would defeat Columbia City by a measly 10 points. We did. And as the team was full of the Christmas spirit they felt generous and doubled the ten-point margin just to give South Side a nice present.

Here's hoping that Onceover comes out right in the next prediction he makes. The first time we won by a three point margin instead of five like he said we would. Third time's the charm, y'know.

"Red" Fromuth, Louis Norris and Louis Wilkens graced the Columbia City game and got a rousing welcome from the Green yellers.

"Chic" Hahn was another famous alumnus who attended the game. Wish he had been there in his old outfit of football at Northwestern and is one of the eighteen men retained so far on the freshman basketball squad.

It's fun to watch the electric scoreboard. If the wrong score is indicated the numbers start at one, and keep on going until they stop at the correct total. Gee, 'spose the wrong score was up in the fifties. You'd get dizzy watching the thing work.

Didja notice that Columbia City honored our school song by standing when the Green was singing?

The Mildredites had a snap of it in their Varsity-Alumni "prelim" game. Their little forwards tossed 'em in with accuracy and completely white-washed their former team-mates.

New Song

The following song is contributed by William Barr, who submits it for approval as an athletic adaption of "Doodle-do-doo."

Come on, Oh South Side! Come on, Oh South Side! Show 'em your stuff, Show 'em your stuff, Come on, Oh South Side! Come on, Oh South Side! Don't take their bluff, Don't take their bluff, They may be good But we are their betters, We'll tangle them up in South Side's strong fetters. We're with our team Wherever she's seen, We doodle-do-doo—we do.

GIRLS VARSITY SQUAD PRACTICES ON FRIDAY

Girls Have Strong Teams; Varsity and Squad Cuts Posted On Bulletin Board.

The sophomore and senior girls will hold a basketball practice tomorrow after school. All junior girls on the varsity squad are also permitted to cavort in this practice session.

Miss Hadsell has a strong varsity squad for this year. M. Schmieder and D. Minier, stars from last year, will also scintillate this season. G. Brouwer, the sophomore find, did her stuff in the Varsity-Alumni game and has proved herself a diamond of first brilliancy.

The varsity squad is as follows: D. Minier, captain; M. Canada, V. Stevens, P. Baumgartner, E. Hart, C. Bade, D. Bales, F. Wagner, M. Berlien, B. Huguenard, E. Miller, R. Watkins, A. Wehmeyer, M. Monroe, V. Fell, B. Newell, E. Holmes, M. Tannehill, V. Nobles, D. Bauer, M. Koster, C. Wager, A. Mason, M. Roth and M. Jones.

The class squad cuts have also been posted. The girls remaining on the freshman squad are: G. Hart, B. Jenkins, M. Rahe, A. Elder, J. Rank, L. Toensing, I. Miller, L. Taster, D. Grooms, W. Kronmiller, M. Mossman, V. Lower, A. Miller, E. Wilson, A. Ward, P. Toothill, and R. Strobel.

The sophomore girls are: V. Nobles, captain; D. Bauer, E. Ballare, M. Canada, W. Englehart, G. Guebard, E. Holmes, M. Koster, M. Miller, M. Roth, M. Shalley, K. Sellers, G. South, C. Hixon and A. Fishback. The juniors are: C. Bade, captain; A. Wehmeyer, C. Wager, M. Tannehill, P. Baumgartner, V. Fell, E. Kytler, G. Rodsbaugh, B. Huguenard, V. Bell, M. Metzner, R. Watkins, and E. Schmidt.

The seniors are: M. Schmieder, captain; D. Minier, A. Mason, V. Stevens, D. Bales, M. Berlien, E. Miller, F. Wagner, V. Johnston, M. Monroe, B. Newell, C. Waterfield, G. Tower, and E. Hart.

CENTRAL NETMEN PLAY STURGIS ON SATURDAY

Central will play her last game out of the State Athletic association this coming Saturday night. Central's suspension will be lifted January 16 and her first game in the association will be played with Young America. Not much has been heard of Sturgis this year but with the material left from last year's team they are expected to be much stronger.

ARTHUR BERIAULT TO READ SHAKESPEARIAN PLAY HEHE

Reader of Classic Plays Will Interpret Shakespearian Play "Midsummer Night's Dream" During Eighth Period Tomorrow in Room S

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING CONTEST WITH FOUR CONTESTANTS TO FOLLOW

Speakers to Discuss Day Nursery; Narcotics and Boards of Trade; Winner Will Have Name Inscribed on Lange Cup; Beriault Will Be One of Judges

Professor Arthur J. Beriault, of Indianapolis, will interpret "Midsummer Night's Dream" in session room tomorrow afternoon during eighth period.

Mr. Beriault is not an upstart elocutionist as he has had experience in this line of work for twenty-five years. He has taught expression and public speaking in colleges.

Mr. Null, who has known Professor Beriault for many years and has worked with him as a coach of plays, declared that Professor Beriault is the best interpreter of classic literature that has come to South Side. He will probably read in some of the Shakespearian classes as he is to spend the entire day here. He will be one of the judges in the extemporaneous contest.

He is well acquainted with the faculty here as he played in a chauteauqua company several years ago in which Mr. Schafer was a musician. He also knows Miss Harvey.

Tickets Ten Cents
The tickets will be on sale the seventh period tomorrow, at the price of ten cents. Students will report to eighth period classes and those who have tickets will be excused to go to room S.

Extemp Contest
Following the entertainment, the extemporaneous speaking contest will be held in room S. The extemporaneous contest bids fair to become an important school affair this year. Even though three of the speakers have never appeared before in the contest their work on the debating team and in public speaking assures us that they are not in the class of amateurs.

The four entries are, Hubert Beck, Thelma Gasser, Power Kary, and Ruth Eickmeyer. Hubert Beck was an entry last year in the contest won by Josephine Dinklage.

The winner will have his name engraved upon the beautiful Ralph Lange cup which is in the library. The names of Paul Oliver, Mary Forker, and Josephine Dinklage are on the cup at present.

Subjects for Discussion
The subjects for discussion were given out Tuesday, and the contestants will draw the subject upon which they will speak one hour before the contest tomorrow. The subjects are: Day Nursery, Narcotics, and Boards of Trade.

Mr. Arthur Beriault will be one of the judges. Rev. C. J. Cromer and Mrs. W. O. McBride will comprise the other two judges.

SOMETHING NEW!

In its next issue the Times will start The Mirror, a feature entirely different from all others. It is essentially a column of opinion and comment. The writer is Hubert Beck, who has been associated with this paper for three semesters, and is now its general manager. He will give his honest efforts toward making it both interesting and helpful, and take full responsibility for all his articles.

The Mirror will continue regularly if the school shows interest in it.

another effort in making-

The Times

Brighter and Better Than Ever!!

NEXT ISSUE OF TIMES

Since recitations will end Tuesday, the next issue of the Times will appear on Friday, January 23, when it will be distributed free at the time the pupil receives his program.

With each group of cards in the gym, there will be a pile of papers, one for each pupil whose name appears in that group. There will be no extras, so each student is requested to take only one paper.

On Tuesday the drive for subscriptions will officially open.

CORNELIA BADE TIMES MANAGER FOR NEXT TERM

Experienced Staff Member Will Assume Duties of General Manager Beginning With Next Issue

WYNEKEN WILL DIRECT BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Pauline Baumgartner Becomes Copy Editor; Helen Crawford Advertising Manager

Cornelia Bade, '26, will be general manager of the South Side Times next spring and will assume her new duties with the next issue of the paper, was announced this week by Miss Harvey, faculty advisor, in regard to staff changes for next semester. According to the rules of the paper, the general manager holds his position for only one semester.

Bud Beck, who will relinquish the general manager ship, will become student counselor, his chief duty being to mark each week's paper for errors and to offer suggestions for betterment.

The position of editor, left vacant by Cornelia Bade, has not been filled, several week's of tryouts being necessary to determine her successor. William P. Van Ness will continue as managing editor. His chief assistants will be Elsiebeth Crane, news editor, and Pauline Baumgartner, copy and make-up editor.

Business Manager
Chester Wyneken, at present circulation manager, will become business manager to succeed Maurice Miller, who has been forced to drop Times work because of the exceptionally heavy course he will carry next spring to complete his high school course.

Wyneken will also look after the circulation, being assisted by Clara Sherbondy in charge of out-of-school subscriptions. Wyneken will choose at least one other circulation assistant and a business assistant within a short time.

Helen Crawford will become advertising manager to fill the place left vacant by Pauline Baumgartner's transfer to the editorial staff.

The following desk editors will assist Pauline Baumgartner in the handling of copy: Ruth Eickmeyer, Elizabeth Schmidt, Margery Burres, Jack Clayton, Tom Ward, Ruth Mae Dawkins, Gertrude Schube and Mary Hale. The proofreaders will include Mildred McCune and Margaret Welsh. A schedule of hours for the copy and proofreaders will be made later.

Department Editors
The successor to George Wyss, sports editor, a January graduate, has not been chosen. Tryouts will be held. Rose Joseph will continue as girls' sports editor; Mary Falk, as society editor, Mary Hale being named as day editor.

OFFICERS FOR U. S. A. CHOSEN LAST MONDAY

Virginia King, President; Virginia Hackney Vice-President; Marcell Baals, Secretary

The theme "Choose Your Own" was represented by the election of officers for the coming term at the meeting of the U. S. A. club held in room 38 at 3:00 o'clock last Monday, January 12. The new officers are: Virginia King, president, her opponent was Florence Phelps; Virginia Hackney, vice-president, ran against Virginia Beourne; Marcell Baals, for secretary, defeated Irene Kene and Elizabeth Suter, treasurer, won over Marguerite Schwiwer by one vote.

Mildred Kessler played two selections on the piano. Musical chairs and other games were played. Refreshments were served after the program.

Miss Simons announced the Annual Girl Reserve banquet to be held at the Y. W. C. A., Thursday, January 22, at 6:30. The dinner is 50 cents a plate.

The girls should be collecting things for the future rummage sale.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS GET NEW YEAR'S GIFT

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thomas, of North Seminole circle, received a very welcome New Year's gift, namely, a son, Walter K., December 30, 1924, at the St. Joseph hospital at 11 a. m.

Mr. Thomas is a forging teacher of South Side and Central high schools.

BECK AND WYSS WIN IN NATIONAL PRESS CONTEST

Story by Times' General Manager Awarded Second Place in Event for News Stories

TIMES IS ONLY PAPER TO WIN TWO PLACES

Wyss' Story on Huntington Football Game Takes Third Place in United States

That the South Side Times had again achieved high national journalistic honors was revealed in the announcement received this week from the Central Interscholastic Press Association, with headquarters at Madison, Wisconsin, stating that in the recent national news writing story Hubert Beck had received second prize and that George Wyss had taken third highest honors in the United States in the sports writing contest. The South Side Times is the only paper in the country to win prizes in both of these contests conducted by the C. I. P. A., which is composed of approximately 800 schools.

The story submitted by Bud Beck dealt with the convention of the Indiana High School Press association, one of a series of four articles that Beck wrote on this subject. The first prize was awarded to Harriet Johnson of Central high school, Minneapolis. Miss Johnson wrote an interview with Henri Verbrughe on 'high school orchestras. Because the material for her story was more difficult she was given the prize, although the announcement says that Beck's article was "a bit more perfect in its technical structure and language."

The sports story written by George Wyss covered the Huntington football game. Wyss is now also writing sports for the News-Sentinel. The sports editor of the Beacon, Ellsworth, Kansas, took first, and the Red and White sports editor of Vallejo, California, took second.

PHILAETHIAN OFFICERS NAMED FOR NEXT TERM

The Club Will Have a Bohobled Party Friday and Musical on Monday

Edna Van Tilbury was elected president of the Philaethian Literary society at the meeting in Room 10, Tuesday.

The other officers elected were: Margaret Rose, vice president; Helen Masters, secretary; Margaret Welsh, treasurer; Elizabeth Kline, sergeant-at-arms; Dorothy Somers, chairman program committee; Geraldine Lower, Prelina Fletcher, Frances Wagner, Beatrice Rieke, and Lillian Rolf, members of program committee; Dorothy Boles, chairman publicity committee; Kathryn Chapman and Mildred Scott, members of publicity committee.

If the weather permits, a bobbed party will be given tomorrow evening. All girls go to Room 10 and sign up.

A musical will be held at the home of Dorothy Somers, Monday evening, January 26.

PUPILS SERVED ALMOST AT COST IN CAFETERIA

The cafeteria has fed between three and four hundred persons each day during this semester. During the first three months of school the profits of the cafeteria were only twenty-six dollars; a fact which shows that food has been sold at cost for the benefit of the pupils.

BIRTHDAY GIFTS DUE TWENTY-FIVE

This Number of Students Will Celebrate Natal Days Within Coming Week.

Now! Everybody together—let's sing "Happy Birthday" to the twenty-five students who will celebrate their natal days this coming week.

Betty Hutchins is fourteen, Jamie Hankee and Walter Kester, each fifteen, and Mary Harmeyer, sixteen years old today, January 15. Tomorrow there is one less. Helyn Weir Marie Brown and Beatrice Rieke will be fifteen, sixteen and seventeen years, respectively.

Both Gladys Mumy and Kathleen Grier reach their sixteenth birthday on January 17. Lester DeHaven reaches his seventeenth, while Leola Swank and Ruth Hull can count eighteen candles on their birthday cakes. Mary Stover, fifteen, is the only celebrant of January 18, so don't forget to greet her.

Two sets of twins on January 19 Juanita Koch and Mathilda Wiebke will both be fifteen years old and Ruth Doenges and Dorothy Dungan, both seventeen, could be called the other set. Bob Hanna will be eighteen January 20 has only one set as only Frank Taylor and Warren Wedditt will be the same age, seventeen. Billy Bassett will be fourteen, and Franklin DeWald will be fifteen years old but Walter Baker attains the exalted age of nineteen years on that day.

Next Wednesday, January 21, Gertrude Lockhart will be sixteen and Dorothy McCurdy eighteen.

FEBRUARY GRADUATES, 1925

Martha Ruth Brown, Ralph E. Coblentz, Roland Conley, Kathryn A. Diggs, Dorothy Alice Eymann, Florence Naomi Hazlett, Arta Pauline Jamison, Rose Joseph, Howard Norman Koehlinger, Rose-Marie Kronmiller, Clifford Mann, Geraldine E. Markwalder, Dorothy K. Martin, Charles G. Meyer, James S. Newell, Arthur W. Sprandel, William Forest Weddle, Garth White, Walter F. Trautman, Clarence L. and Van Zile, George Joseph Wyss.

FORUM TOPICS ANNOUNCED BY INTER-Y COUNCIL

F. M. Price and Ralph Welsh Will Lead Discussion at First Meeting on January 18

SPONSORED BY HIGH SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS

Arrangement Committee of Eight Elected at Y. W. C. A. Last Sunday Afternoon

There will be two series of forums, the first of which will start next Sunday afternoon and continue over a period of four weeks, it was announced by Inter-Y Council, after a two-hour session at the Y. W. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. The schedule follows:

Sunday, January 18
"Inter-school Spirit"
Leader—F. M. Price.
Chairman—Ralph Welsh.
Sunday, January 25
"What's the Matter with Us? We're all right!" (2)
Leader—Mrs. C. T. Lane.
Chairman—Leah Peters.
Sunday, February 1
"Customs versus Convictions"
Leader—James Strachan.
Chairman—Bud Beck.
Sunday, February 8
"Quest of the Best"
Leader—Mrs. A. B. Lewis.
Chairman—Ruth Knatz.

The Sunday afternoon forums are sponsored by the high school organizations of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., including both South Side and Central. They are planned by the Hi-Y clubs, the So-Si-Y and Friendship clubs, the Junior Hi-Y clubs, and the U. S. A. and the U. P. D. clubs, who take the responsibility of directing the forums. The arrangements committees are: Maynard Patterson, Robert Scheuman, Paul Stier and Billy Crane and Bertly Merrill, Jeanette Duryee, Arna McFarland and Ruth Winter.

Regular Programs
Group singing will open the program. The leader will open the subject and then lead the discussion, which usually lasts well over an hour. The conclusions are then drawn up, if there is not too much discussion of opinion, and refreshments are served.

"Inter-school spirit," the subject for next Sunday, is most timely, coming but two days before the South Side-Central game. The leader who is F. M. Price, assistant superintendent of schools, is very talented in leading discussions, and it is felt that such a subject at such a time will not lack interest.

"The Forum is open to any person in high school, and I believe that out of an enrollment of two thousand there will be a record crowd," stated Mr. Brunson, boys' work secretary.

SCHOOL BOOK STORE TO SUPPLY STUDENTS

Mr. Parks to Distribute Books to Teachers Who Will Sell Them in Classes

The school book store will again be in charge of Mr. Parks. It will open on Monday morning, continuing the sale on Tuesday and Wednesday at various periods during the day.

The new books that have been included in the South Side list are: "Brigitte Ankerback" and "Immense," which are both German books.

Mr. Parks will also have charge of the distribution of the books to the various departments, where teachers will have charge of selling them in certain classrooms.

The bookstore has proven to be very economical to the students, saving them a great deal of money as books are sold at cost.

READINGS AND MUSIC ENTERTAIN GRACCHI

The members of the Gracchi club held their regular supper meeting at the Y. W. C. A., Monday evening. About fifty girls were present. Betty Peters and Katherine Strong, pupils of Mrs. Virginia Philley Withey, gave several humorous readings and Dorothy and Eleanor Pierce played two musical selections. Louise Reiter had charge of the program.

The girls made plans for a bobbed party which was held last evening. The Gracchi will serve at the annual girl reserves' banquet, January 22 at the Y. W. C. A.

FIGHTING CENTRAL OPPOSES SOUTH SIDE JANUARY 20TH

Tiger Will Match Scippiest of South Side Teams in First of Series of Annual Games Held in the South Side Gym

CENTRAL CONCEDED TO BE STRONGER THAN IN OTHER TWO YEARS OF CONTESTS

With Veteran Players in Both South Side and Central Lineups One of the Most Thrilling Games of the Season Is Expected Between Old Rivals

Next Tuesday, the Tiger of Central will prey upon the Green of South Side in the first game of the annual series between the two schools. This game is anticipated with the greatest enthusiasm by every basketball fan of the city. It is a classic in which the students of the school place their most ardent desire of winning. No matter how poor a season either team has encountered

MANY PUPILS TO COME FROM GRADE SCHOOLS

Freshmen to Enter from Hoagland, James H. Smart, and South Side Grade Schools

The enrollment for next term is estimated at twelve hundred pupils.

Cards of pupils just entering have been sent in from the three junior high schools. About forty will enter as freshmen from the Hoagland school, about sixty from the James H. Smart school, and approximately the same number from the South Side grades.

This makes a total of one hundred and sixty freshmen who are entering South Side high school this coming term. This will counter-balance the number that will leave.

JAN. 31 DEADLINE ON TOTEM PANEL

Juniors and Sophomores Must Have Pictures Taken by That Time

ASK PAYMENTS AT ONCE

"All junior and sophomore pictures must be taken by the end of the first week in next semester if they are to appear in the Totem," stated Bud Beck. "Saturday, January 31, is the absolute deadline, and the panels will close at that time. Freshmen will be given a month longer," he continued.

Work in getting senior activity lists has started, and all seniors should get a blank at the office, and fill it out this week. It is imperative that these be handed back to the office at once.

Remaining events such as club elections, senior play, honor roll, etc., will be added by the class editor.

"Circulation plans are coming along nicely," announced Mary Monroe, circulation manager. "It is very desirable," she added "that all initial payments be made at once."

Approximately eight hundred students signed up, promising to subscribe to the 1925 Totem. Of this number 180 have not yet made even one payment on their pledges.

The circulation records are based on the first four classes this semester. To avoid confusion and errors, the circulation manager asks all students who have not paid their pledges, to do so before Wednesday. This will lessen the possibility of mistakes in checking up pledges.

Stubs, numbered to correspond with the index cards and bearing the amount paid to date, will be distributed today. All persons, who have paid their pledges, and who do not receive a receipt stub, are asked to report to Mary Monroe, circulation manager, in Room 20 after the eighth period today. Room agents should turn in all money before that time. In this way a general check of the file can be made.

South Side Pupils Take Places In Interscholastic Contest

Hubert Beck

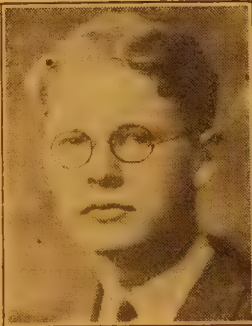

George Wyss

Hubert Beck and George Wyss are the two South Siders who won high honors in the Central Interscholastic Press Association contest. Hubert Beck won second in the United States with a story on the I. H. S. P. A. convention at Franklin. George Wyss placed third in the country with a sports story on the Huntington game.

Cornelia Bade

Chester Wyneken

Cornelia Bade and Chester Wyneken have been selected to hold the highest student positions on the Times during the next term. Both are juniors and have had experience on the Times staff, Cornelia as editor and Chester as circulation manager.

Better end the old term right by bringing in that payment on your 1925 Totem.

The beginning of the semester might be a good time to renew a few of the many broken New Year's resolutions.

'Tis said "We may all have what we like, simply by liking what we have." We wonder if the author forgot about final exams.

Another says "As we advance in life we learn the limits of our abilities." We can appreciate this, and wouldn't wonder if the author got inspiration during a Latin test.

Next Tuesday evening marks another clash of the Blue and Green. Central's record is obscure and hard to compare because she has met so few of our contenders because of her elimination from the Indiana High School Athletic association.

Central's rivals have been mostly church teams, but her practices have been hard and consistent. The Blue, according to her fans, are good for ten more points when stacked against the Emerald Klads than against any other team.

The locals are not over-confident, and realize the fight that Central will no doubt display.

The games last year speak for themselves. That Central will enter with an "only the final whistle spells defeat" spirit, which is only overcome by a good defensive and offensive game, accompanied by a lot of fight and the same spirit.

This spirit is produced to a large degree by the support of the rooters. A crowd, filled with pep and willingness to yell, instills the team to a "we can't lose" determination.

The millions of dollars spent each year on pencils, books, and tablets and the great appropriation made each year for elementary and high schools and for colleges, make us believe that this is the age of education. Yet only about one and one-half per cent of the wage earner's salary is used for the support of schools in comparison with twenty-two per cent spent for luxuries.

The amount spent for chewing gum each year, $50,000,000, greatly exceeds the amount spent for elementary schools, $20,400,000.

The amount spent for colleges and high schools is only about one-half as great as that spent on pop, candy, and other "eats" consumed between meals.

The amount spent on cosmetics exceeds by $750,000,000 the amount spent for education.

Just about one week remains in the present term, crammed with tests, reviews and long assignments necessary to complete the required course. Outside organizations, too, in nearing the close of their program are planning special meetings. This last lap in the semester's race is like the rapids in a seemingly quiet stream. The student-body represents the oarsmen. Only those students, capable of managing their work, determined to do it well and end the semester with a good grade, the proof of constant effort, will successfully pilot their crafts across the rapids to the shore. The weak student, carried along with the masses, incapable of concentration and real study, barely getting his skiff to the brink of the rapids, at this time shows his inability and careless attitude by unprepared assignments.

Each type enters the rapids, the whirlpool of school activities, with its own attitude toward the challenge, to prove his ability to finish well those things which they have undertaken. The real student accepts the challenge, enters the swift current with a determination not to become languid in daily preparations and not to be carried from his course by the surging force of outside activities. The indifferent pupil, caring little if he fails, for he considers it inevitable and beyond his control, enters the fight with a "why worry" attitude and thinks it useless to end the semester with prepared recitations. If he realizes that he is failing, rather than display any effort or interest, he gives up all attempts and condescends to let Fate run her course—in this case a direct route to an F.

Cherish Friendships

To the Editor:
Chums! What thoughts does this word suggest when it is given the slightest consideration? Does it suggest a light mind, frivolous person who can hardly be considered a chum, or does it suggest a person who can be called a true friend at all times?

School life, with its good times and supposed-to-be hardships, is the chief factor which influences our friendships. Our friendships may be good or bad according to our associates during school life.

The value of good, worth-while friendships, is incalculable, because our present ones tend to influence our later life, for right here and now, with our friends, bad, good or indifferent, we are forming our character for later life.

IMPORTANCE

Sir Egotism was about to leave the magnificent Order of Truth. He had been selected by King Reward, who acting on the council of a bribed advisor, had chosen him as the best swordsman in the order.

Now Sir Egotism actually was a good duelist, in fact, he admitted it himself.

On the day that he was to leave the order to go into the service of the king, Sir Egotism betook himself to the temple to receive the blessing of the Knight of Wisdom, the old gray-haired sage who was the personal advisor of the Grand Master of the order.

"What will the order do without my leadership and the skill of my blade?" pompously inquired Sir Egotism when he was conducted into the presence of the old gray-haired knight.

The sage slowly raised his eyes from the chart he had been studying and gazed at the intruder. His piercing eyes seemed to penetrate his visitor but his voice held a gentle, almost pitying note as he made his answer, "Men may come and men may go but the Order of Truth goes on forever."

"Bring me that bowl of water there on that stand," he continued, pointing to a beautiful vessel sitting on an ivory pedestal near the door of the room.

Not comprehending the full significance of the words and thinking that he was about to receive the blessing the knight hastened to obey.

"Look thou here thou foolish knight," commanded the sage as he thrust his finger into the bowl of water. Then as he slowly withdrew it, "Seest thou the place where my finger was?" The sage paused a moment to allow his visitor to grasp the full significance of the act and then concluded as he turned back to the chart, "Such a hole dost thou going leave in the Order of Truth."

Many people in this world of ours accomplish little and although they appear to be busy, are, generally speaking, failures, because they spend all their time wondering how the world would get along without them and telling other people what they are going to do in the future.

One of the greatest enemies of progress is the tendency of some leaders to become inflated with their own importance so as to cause them to neglect their duties and to forget the feelings of others. The person who really is important usually appears to be very commonplace and seldom refuses a task or boasts about what he has done.

As Shelly has said, "The man who dreams himself great and important that the world is his footstool, will sometime learn his folly."—The North Central News.

A Mite of Verse

TEMPORA ET MORES

A. D. 25

Upon the sanded floor the lions' rage
Is matched against the gladiators' arm;
Or with forged weapons and brute force men wage
A mortal combat each to other's harm.

A. D. 1925

Upon the hardwood floor the athletes meet
To pit endurance, skill, and speed, suffused
With lightning thought; both brain and brawn compete.
Not brutes, nor with brutes is their manhood used.

THE RUINS

Milleniums past, a bustling city stood,
Teeming with men with pride of race and place,
Seeking by diverse devious paths the grace
The gods bestow on those who seek the good,
The true, and beautiful; ardent to find
What each one deemed the beautiful and true
That he might quaff the good nor taste the rue,
The eternal breathless quest of humankind:
Here stood that city, where no jungle beasts
Roam undisturbed by any fear of man,
Where tangled vines embrace with tightening span
Once worshipped deities; the jackal feasts
Where once men labored for perpetual fame,
A ruin unremembered, lacking even a name.

Read A Bit

If you like good Western stories, you'll like "Gold," by S. E. White. The "forty-niners" of this story make their way to the land of golden promise by the Panama route. They seek a fortune, hoping to pick up a hatful of gold a day. The four young men who form a partnership stand by one another through all kinds of ups and downs.

If you liked the "Blazed Trail" by this author, you'll be sure to enjoy "Rules of the Game." Bobby Orde is a vigorous football captain type of fellow, who makes a sad failure of office routine but finds his niche in managing men in the great forests of California's Sierras.

GREEN TO WHET APPETITES FOR TIGER BARBACUE

Red Fruit of Logansport Ripening Nicely Under the Gardnership of Clifford Wells

WELLS HAS CULTIVATED A GRAND PRIZE WINNER

Emerald's Appetite Good; Fans
Hope Berries Will Not Leave
Bitter Taste Behind

The Loganberries, of Logansport high, will form the home basketball repast for the hungry net fans this week, this dish being offered Saturday night in the gymnasium. The players will break their week's fast tomorrow night when they will journey to Montpelier for forty minutes of net work.

Both of these games, though expected to be strenuous, will be but side dishes, in the minds of the fans, who are whetting their appetites for the big Central game next Tuesday evening, when they hope that the Tiger meat will form a delectable dish.

Berries Are Tough
It is expected that the Berries will be hard to down, as they have been too tough a proposition for most of their opponents to masticate this year. Much of their ability to "stay on top" is due to Clifford Wells, their mentor. Wells is considered one of the most expert producers of strong teams in the state. His Bloomington team in 1919 was such a peach of a combination that it drew down the state sweepstakes in the final tournament at Lafayette.

The Loganberries thoroughly upset the Wardmen last year, but the Kelly Klads have had a special diet of stiff practice lately that have put them in good form for their attempt to pluck the Berries from their heights on the vines of success.

Wissinger is the choicest berry on the team and it is expected that the Green guards will give him plenty of attention.

Little is known of the Montpelier five this year, but it is feared that the small gym floor there will handicap the movements of the South Side trenchermen.

The probable lineups for Saturday night are:

South Side	Logansport
Rahe	F. Rice
Brubaker	Terry
DuWan	C. Wissinger
Thiele	G. Kendall
Currie	G. Pettit

ATHLETIC DEBT TO BE WIPED OUT BY NEXT GAME

Proceeds from Logansport Game
Are Expected to Clear
Total Association
Deficit

ASSOCIATION NOW HAS MANY NEW OUTFITS

Large Sums of Money Were Given Recently to Support
Band and Girls Athletics

The receipts from the Logansport game Saturday night are expected to wipe out the last of the athletic association's deficit and the profits from the Central game next week are expected to provide the organization with a comfortable working capital, after a period of indebtedness incurred in making large purchases of equipment and giving generous sums to support the band and girls' athletics.

The athletic department has on hand 70 complete football and basketball outfits, in good condition, worth approximately $3,000. In addition class and varsity basketball uniforms have been purchased in abundance.

The deficit would have been more than wiped out in December, but the association gave during that month $300 towards equipping the band and $260 for the support of girls' athletics. The Central and Huntington games were the most profitable, while the greatest expense was caused by the purchase of equipment.

The itemized statement, as authorized by Philip Greely, financial manager of South Side athletics, follows:

ANGOLA FELLED BY SLASHING ATTACK

South Side Meets Team Equal in Ability But Win Battle,
27-24

RAHE PILES UP BIG SCORE

Being red hot at the start of the game South Side opened up with a bewildering, dashing attack led by Phil Rahe and Bill Thiele and set back Angola by the score of 27 to 24 after a hard-fought game. In the game South Side spurred twice. The first drive netted thirteen points and the final attack rolled up eight points.

Phil Rahe was the hero of the opening dash to victory, when in the first ten minutes of play South Side had scored thirteen points, the brilliant basket tossing of Rahe credited him with eight points.

Thiele Saves Game
In the closing minutes of the fray after a spectacular pace had been set by each side and had ended with South Side leading by a single point, Bill Thiele pulled the game out of the fire by scoring two field goals after the process of doubling the full length of the floor and finding several on-warding opposing players.

For Angola Shank and Fifer were the shining lights. Shank scored only two field goals, the first two of the Angola attack, but his all-around floor work won the admiration of all the spectators. Time and again he broke up South Side passes and prevented the Green from scoring on open shots. Fifer registered four times from the field.

Angola Clever
Angola was probably the most clever opponent South Side has engaged this season. Each member of the team showed signs of real basketball ability. The players could dribble, feint shots and passes, pass accurately, and hit the basket when in shooting range. Their offensive and defensive formations were formed quickly and for thirty minutes had the Green baffled as far as solving the defense for close open shots was concerned.

Brubaker opened with two points for South Side. DuWan pitched a free throw for an extra point. Rahe scored his first field goal on an open shot from the foul line. Pence broke the ice for Angola on a free toss. Rahe counted again from the field. Rahe duplicated on a short shot. Rahe added two more points on charity throws. Dayhuff and Lininger added a pair of points on free throws. Shank found the basket for four points in two successive shots. Sprunger was substituted for Currie. Sprunger added a point for the Green on a free throw. Wiener went in for DuWan. Lininger tossed a free throw for Angola. The half ended 14 to 10 for South Side.

Second Half
Rahe started the scoring in the second half on a field goal from short range. Fifer retaliated for Angola. Pence reduced the Green lead to three points when he registered a free throw. Pence scored three points for Angola. Currie sent a long rainbow shot through the curtains from the center of the floor. Brubaker widened the breach to five points when he connected for a free throw. Pence reduced the lead to two points on a shot from under the basket. DuWan scored on a short shot. Lininger came through for Angola on a basket from medium range. Thiele thrilled the fans by dribbling practically the length of the floor for a short shot. Fifer kept his team in the running on a close-up shot. Thiele again brought the fans to their toes when he took the ball off the one backboard and dribbled the length of the floor, passed two waiting Angola guards, and shot another basket. Brubaker made the last basket for South Side. Fifer added two points for Angola. The score: South Side, 27; Angola, 24.

In the preliminary the South Side Reserves had an easy time defeating Woodburn 37 to 15. Lineup and summary:

Angola (24)	South Side (27)
Dayhuff	F. Rahe
Fifer	F. Brubaker
Douglas	C. DuWan
Pence	G. Currie
Shank	G. Thiele
Field goals—Fifer 4, Lininger 2, Pence 2, Shank 2, Rahe 5, Brubaker 2, DuWan, Currie, Thiele 2.
Free throws—Dayhuff, Lininger 2, Pence 2, Shank, Rahe 2, Brubaker, DuWan, Sprunger.
Substitutions—German for Dayhuff, Lininger for Douglas, Dayhuff for German, Wiener for DuWan, Sprunger for Currie, DuWan for Wiener, Currie for Sprunger.
Referee—Smith.

BASKETBALL TO BE ADDED TO W. V. A. C. IN 1925

South Side, Member of the Conference, Will Compete for the Trophy

South Side, as a member of the Wabash Valley Athletic Conference, will play several games with other members of the conference next year. The other members of the conference are Wabash, Peru, Huntington, Kokomo, and Logansport.

Bringing basketball into the conference this way will eliminate the county tournaments. Teams will be rated by the percentage of points for games won and lost, as was done in the football conference. The winning team will receive the conference trophy, which will be similar to the football trophy that Wabash won this year.

COACH OF FLASHING HARDWOOD NET SQUAD

Coach Gilbert

Mr. Gilbert, more well-known as Wardo, has run our team through such rigid practices that it has developed into a team well worth donning the Green and White. Though fans expected our team to be "shot" this year, following the graduation of so many stars, Wardo has developed a combination that has delighted the school by its playing.

SOUTH SIDE TO HAVE STRONG GRID ENEMIES

Ten Games Are Scheduled; Six
Here and Four Away
From Home

Ten games with some of the strongest teams in the state comprise the South Side football schedule for 1925 which has been announced by Phillip Greely, faculty manager.

The carded game with Bloomington still is pending as contracts have not been returned by the southern school but it is believed the contest is assured. Muncie is a new team to be met this coming season. Bloomington and Muncie are two new strong football teams who will play the Green in the 1925 season. Both our southern state teams and are expected to put up a great battle against South Side.

There are four Wabash Valley Conference teams to be played which will make the schedule one of the hardest that the Green and White has ever stacked against.

Technical of Indianapolis will be played there and are expected to have a whiz-bang team. The 1925 schedule:
September 12—Alumni here.
September 19—Bloomington here.
September 25—Garrett here.
October 3—Peru there.
October 10—Logansport here.
October 17—Huntington there.
October 24—Wabash here.
October 31—Muncie there.
November 6—Technical there.
November 14—Central here.

SPORT GUSH

Whew, if there are many more games like last Saturday's, the South Siders will be noted for their grey hair.

When Thiele came though in the last half with two field goals, he was the answer to the maidens'—and everyone else's—prayer.

Y'know, when the school song was being sung, the Angola players and all those in the gym stood and honored South Side.

This was heard in the crowd: "Gee, I think our team is cute!"

And somebody else called Jimmy Willson a regular li'l lightning-bug. He's here and when you look again he isn't, so "lightning-bug" fits him.

The band deserves more applause than it has been getting. Why, the struttin' of the drum major is alone worth the price of admission.

Is it necessary to "boo" a player when he misses a free throw?

The fat player on Angola's five drew a lot of attention. One fair fan said: "He has too much adairdupois." We like that word adairdupois—but we feel that it isn't spelled right.

Howja like Woodburn's Green and White suits? Pretty nifty, eh what? But then our Wardoes plain white outfits with the snappy green trimmings take the cranberries.

We wish to apologize to Gertrude Brouwer for omitting her name from the lineup of the Varsity-Alumni game. Gertrude was the star forward who started the game instead of Doris Minier.

LAFAYETTE WINS OVER WARDOITES

Ahead One Count After South Side Rallies Strongly in Last Half

KELLY KLADS FIGHT HARD

South Side lost her first game of the season on a foreign court when she went down to defeat at the hands of the fast West Lafayette team at Lafayette last Friday evening by the score of 31 to 30. The game was hard fought throughout. West Lafayette held an eight point advantage at the end of the half at which time she was leading 19 to 11. South Side braced in the second half and outscored her opponents nineteen to twelve but the rally fell short one point and the Green was forced to take the small end of the count.

The rally which started in the beginning of the second half was led by Sprunger who had been substituted for Wiener. Sprunger cut loose with three field goals and one free throw. Rahe played a consistent game at forward and scored three field goals.

Tries New Combination
Coach Gilbert tried out his new combination, which after a slow start, proved to be the fastest he had thus far assembled. Brubaker played practically the full game at forward guard and played an enviable game. Thiele at back guard stopped many of the opponents' attacks and in addition to which he slipped down the floor for two pretty field goals from long range.

Captain Jamieson and Cooper were the luminaries on the Lafayette team. Cooper's sole efforts which produced seventeen points were the only reason that his team kept in the running. Jamieson dropped in five nice long shots which were most timely.

GIRLS' CLASS TOURNEY TO START JANUARY 23

Freshmen Meet Juniors in First Class Basketball Game of the Season

The girls' inter-class basketball tourney will start a week from tomorrow, January 23, when the freshmen stack up against the juniors. On January 26 the sophomores will meet their upper-class sisters, the seniors. The finals will be run off on January 30 when the winner of the first match will play the winner of the second.

The varsity girls will play in this first class tournament, but they will not be allowed to participate in the next joust that is staged.

Miss Hadsell stated that it was very important that every girl come out for every practice.

Marjorie Mossman was chosen captain of the freshman squad.

The Mildredites have been undergoing stiff practices at the hands of Coach Hadsell. Last Friday the sophomores and seniors had a "scrimmage" practice and played two hard games. On Monday individual girls received the attention and group practice was abandoned for the time being. The girls are rapidly rounding into shape for the coming tourney.

"The Store That Does Things"

Sport Shorts

Just think, five more days left until the Green battles the Fighting Centralites.

The Green needs more offensive drive.

With the score 19 to 11 at the half, the Fighting Green staged a whirlwind rally but could not overcome the lead gained by the Lafayette men.

More pep is needed at the games.

Angola surely was hitting the old ring last half of the game.

Thiele certainly was the man of the minute.

"Come early" is the slogan for the Central-South Side battle.

The crowd expected is estimated at 6,000. You know the meaning: "Come early and avoid the rush."

No tickets will be sold at the game (there won't be any left).

Kowalczyk is the new Tiger captain. We hope he will lead the BLUE team.

"Say it with yells!"

Mr. Greely and Mr. Virts will be pleased to see you with 50 cents for a ticket now!

"No Pass Outs." Do you believe in signs?

Mr. Greely said: "Don't ask me to pass out!"

Captain Bru"baker." Maybe the last two syllables mean a hot game.

Again we say: No tickets will be sold at the game.

Altogether this time—"Yell!"

the-basket bombardment. Thiele has been playing a remarkable game at backguard. He has far outshone any rival he has met. He is counted on to do big things against Central.

Central has a good pair of forwards in Nobles and Diehl. Nobles is a long, lean boy who is plenty fast and clever with the ball. Diehl is built more stockily and is a good running mate for Nobles.

Kowalczyk

Kowalczyk is the star center. He towers six feet-four and is almost a sure bet for the tip-off. He jumps at center and drop back to back guard. Baker is the all-district floor guard of last year and it is said that his work has not been impaired since last season. Jasper plays center after the tip-off and is a mean man to stop under the basket. He and Nobles have scored the majority of Central's points this year.

Central Reinstated

Central will be reinstated in the I. H. S. A. A. today and will meet Young America tomorrow night. Central received a suspension of several weeks for playing two ineligible men on her football team. Although Central was not in the association, she kept in trim by playing non-members and local independent teams.

CORNELIA BADE TIMES MANAGER NEXT YEAR

sistent society editor; Helene White, alumni editor, and Helene Foellinger, exchange editor, with Margaret Po-cock as her assistant.

The rest of the present staff will be reporters until it is seen that they would fit in better in some other capacity.

Olive Prine will continue as assistant advertising manager, though it is probable that one or more assistants will be named later.

Experienced Staff

"The Times staff for the spring semester seems very capable," Miss Harvey said in commenting on it yesterday. "All of the members are experienced and they will be assisted by a group of five reporters. The staff this spring with about forty experienced members will be in decided contrast to that of last fall, when only nine experienced members were left for a nucleus for the new staff. If we published a good paper during the fall months, we should put out a much better one in the spring."

"None of the positions is permanent. If an appointee fails to live up to expectations and a reporter appears capable of filling the position to better advantage, a change will be made."

Miss Harvey believes that the beginning journalism class will contain some good material that will shape up for the staff positions next fall.

CENTRAL SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE BIG STREET FAIR

Central Students Will Take Part in Parade to Be Followed by Entertainments at School

Wednesday, January 21, is the date set for the great street fair given by the senior class of Central high school.

All students of South Side are cordially invited. The fair opens at 7:30 o'clock and no one will be admitted into the building without a ticket. There will be side-shows and booths of all kinds. Later, in the auditorium, the students will put on a vaudeville which is to be the best that Central has ever held.

There will also be dancing in the gymnasium later in the evening. The music will be furnished by the Club Royal orchestra.

Tickets are now on sale for twenty-five cents each by Central students, and will also be sold at the door on the evening of the fair.

WORK TRIG PROBLEMS CHRISTMAS VACATION

Calculate Distances Between Buildings, Measure Lot and Stake Position for House

Members of Mr. Virts' trigonometry class returned to school several days during the Christmas vacation to work problems in practical surveying. The seven boys, Allen Mason, Tom Shulze, Clarence Van Zike, Carl Rohrer, Arthur Sprandel, Arnold Besecke, and Clifford Mann, carried out some interesting measurements.

A transit, the instrument used in such problems, was brought out to school, and as this was the only time at which it was available, the students willingly agreed to return and solve the problems.

The boys also worked some problems out of doors. On a day when the temperature was about four above zero the boys went to Rudisill boulevard and ran a base line east almost to Piquis. They were in such a position that they could see the top of the Packard Piano company water tank, and the spires of St. Patrick's, St. Peter's and the Zion Lutheran churches.

By the use of trigonometry they calculated the distances to and between them. The boys also went to South Wood Park and measured off Mr. Virts' lot and put up stakes where an imaginary house should go.

AT THE RIALTO

War romance and history interwoven in Napoleon and Josephine to be shown at the Rialto for two days only, the Rialto management secured this wonderful picture at a great expense due to the many requests by students of the various schools and our many patrons, with no increase in admission prices.

The screen story shows how Napoleon's disregard of the laws of mortality led directly to his downfall as predicted by Empress Josephine in her famous prediction.

"Napoleon, my master, my emperor, my lover, if you outrage God's laws and cast me off, as surely as I will die so will your star of fortune set."

Actual history is the basis of the story and lends the film a fascination that is nothing short of marvelous and will appeal to both young and old. We urge all history students to see this wonderful feature.

TIMES CAMPAIGN WILL BE BEGUN MIDDLE OF WEEK

Room Agents To Be Chosen In First Period Classes as Was Done Last
Year

FIVE SPECIAL EDITIONS
TO FEATURE SEMESTER

Cost of Nineteen Issues To Be
$1.20; Pupils Will Save 45
Cents by Subscribing

The Times subscription drive will begin just as soon as the room agents are chosen, which will probably be Wednesday or Thursday of this week. The plan will be the same as that of last term, one room agent being chosen from each first hour class, who will take subscriptions and see that the papers are delivered each Thursday morning to their respective rooms.

Last term there were nine hundred and fifty paid subscribers, and it is hoped that at least one thousand and twenty-five sign up for this term. To day a paper is given to every pupil, but the next regular issue, which will be published on Thursday, February 5, will be given only to subscribers. There will be nineteen issues altogether, fourteen regular and five specials. These, if purchased separately would cost one dollar and twenty cents, so each pupil by subscribing will save forty-five cents.

Pupils and teachers are asked to co-operate with the circulation department and agents by bringing their seventy-five cents as soon as possible.

Pupils who have been agents before and again wish to hold this position are asked to see Miss Harvey or Chester Wynken today or Tuesday. Persons who have never been room agents and wish to hold this position are also asked to apply immediately.

Mr. Agnew has agreed to hold a meeting of the upper grade pupils about Wednesday of this week to interest them in the Times. Arrangements will be made to deliver the paper to them and get news from them if they are transferred to their new building at spring vacation.

Mail subscribers who paid for but one term are asked to remit payment for the spring term immediately, as today's is the last issue of the fall semester.

EXCHANGES COMMENT FAVORABLY ON TIMES

The exchanges which are received sometimes comment the Times favorably. Below are some of recent ones received.

From the Centralian of LaPorte, Indiana, comes this:

"The biggest and one of the best of Centralian's exchanges is the South Side Times from Fort Wayne. We like the article entitled 'Shoe Leather Being Saved by Many Who Have Bicycles or Automobiles'. This is a fine paper and is welcome on the Centralian's exchange list."

The Gabbler from Chillicothe, Mo., says: "Please accept a perfect tribute—you have a better paper than we."

In the Optimist from Titusville, Pa., was found this note: "South Side Times—An exceptionally large school paper with all kinds of news and plenty ads."

Injured Foot Heals

Robert Bill, who was absent from school for several days before vacation on account of an injury to his foot, has returned.

Have New Well

A well which will be capable of pumping one thousand gallons of water an hour is near completion at the Vallejo, California, high school. The total cost of the well and a new pneumatic pumping system which will be installed soon will range between $500 and $600.

Students Visit Print Shop

The students in the art classes of the Central high school, Kansas City, Missouri, made a visit to the print shop. The purpose of the trip was to view the progress made by the printers on the linoleum cuts which had been designed by the art students.

GET THE NEXT ISSUE

The Times' subscription campaign gets under way today with the appointment of room agents. Since the next issue will be given only to subscribers, payments and notes should be in by Tuesday, February 3.

The staff will endeavor to make the regular spring editions, the April Fool and Faculty issues and the Tournament Specials measure up to, if not surpass those of last spring.

If you wish to keep informed on what the clubs are doing, what individuals are accomplishing, what athletic and debate teams are achieving, what progress the classes and departments as a whole are making, what unusual and interesting things are happening around school, a complete account will be found in

EIGHT DEBATE AWARDS WILL BE GIVEN SOON

The debating pins for this year will be awarded to Ruth Eickmeyer, Elsiebeth Crane, Power Karr, Louise Platt, Carl Rohrer, Gertrude Schuelke, Dorothy Emrick, and Lucille Lapp. They have been ordered through the Koerber Jewelry store, but it is not known just when they will arrive.

The awards will be given out early this semester.

EICKMEYER WINNER IN EXTEMP BATTLE

Defeats Power Karr and Bud Beck In Close Contest; Wins the Lange Trophy

Ruth Eickmeyer, '26, won the extemporaneous speaking contest held last Friday in Room 144. As a reward she will have her name engraved on the Ralph E. Lange trophy.

Ruth's topic was "The Day Nursery." She showed that it is a benefit to our city because families are kept together where they would otherwise be separated, and children are more benefited than if they were placed in an orphan's home or left to roam around the streets.

The other speakers were Power Karr and Bud Beck. Power's subject was "The Board of Trade." He showed that this board provides the best method of marketing grains. Bud's topic was "Narcotics." He showed that they are harmful, that they accomplish no good which can not be accomplished in some other way, and that they can be done away with.

Eight minutes was given for each constructive speech and five minutes for rebuttal. Two minutes were allowed between the last constructive speech and the first rebuttal.

The judges of the contest were James Houghton, Rev. Mr. J. C. Cromer, and Mrs. W. O. McBride.

BASKETBALL TICKETS PUT ON SALE TODAY

Pasteboards to Cost $1.00; Saving of $1.25 on Six Home Games

Season basketball tickets for the next six games are on sale now. The price is $1.00. The games with teams which were in the state finals last year, Richmond and North Manchester, and the Central game, will be fifty cents. Admission to the other games will be twenty-five cents. The total cost of the games would be $2.25. Thus a season ticket means a saving of $1.25.

Tickets can be purchased in the office, from Mr. Greely in Room 94, or from Mr. Virts in Room 146.

The schedule of the remaining home games is:

Culver—January 24.
North Manchester—January 31.
Richmond—February 7.
Central—February 14.
Manual Training (Indianapolis)—February 21.
Peru—February 27.

MATHEMATIC-SCIENCE CLUB HEARS EDUCATIONAL TALKS

Cornelia Bade and Forest Weddle Speak at Meeting Last Wednesday

"Our Own Numerals and Those of the North American Indians" and "The Influence of Coal Tar on Civilization" were educational talks given by Cornelia Bade and Forest Weddle at the Mathematic-Science club, Wednesday, at 7:30 in Room 96. The first of these talks explained where our numerals and those of the Indians originated. In the other, all the different products were enumerated which are made from coal tar.

The two committees appointed were the constitutional and nominating. Miss Paxton, Kathryn Chapman and Allen Mason will try to find the old constitution. If it is not obtainable a new one will be drawn up and submitted to the club members at the next meeting. Mr. Whelan, Gertrude Schuelke and Maurice Felger will select the nominees for the election of officers which is to be held at a called meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting which will be announced later.

"Good Morning," "Prince of Paris" and "Dollar, Dollar" were played. Each member was served with ice cream in Room 96.

Junior Hi-Y

The Junior Hi-Y is the only freshmen and sophomore boys' club in South Side high school. Its purpose is the encouragement of clean sports, clean habits, clean scholarship, clean speech, and all things which are necessary to the development of a clean character.

The club meets every Wednesday evening in the banquet room of the Y. W. C. A.

At the dinner some prominent men speak to the boys on a popular subject. Then the two clubs, Central and South Side, separate and have their own business meeting. After the business session Mr. Brunson leads the club in bible study. The boys also enjoy many social events during the year.

SPEAKER CHOSEN FOR GRADUATION

Dr. J. L. McBrien to Give Address For Both Central and South Side

SENIORS PLAN FUTURES

"One speaker will deliver both the South Side and Central high school commencement addresses next June," L. C. Ward, superintendent of schools, announced recently.

Dr. J. L. McBrien, professor of public speaking, English and dramatics at the State Normal school at Terre Haute, has been secured to deliver the addresses. The exercises will be held in the South Side gymnasium on the afternoon of June 10 and 11.

The commencement exercises will be held at 2:30 o'clock on each day. South Side graduates will receive their diplomas on the first day and the Central graduates on the second day.

L. C. Ward stated that one man has been obtained to make both commencement addresses so that no comparison of ability of different men could be made between the speakers for the two schools. The speaker is noted for his oratorical ability and is in constant demand during the spring months for school graduating exercises.

Before becoming affiliated with the Indiana State Normal he was superintendent of public instruction in Nebraska.

The majority of the twenty-one January graduates have already decided what they intend to do. Twelve are going to continue their studies at other institutions, five are undecided, and four are going to work. Several are going to work till the fall and then go to school. The three graduates Northwestern will claim are: Florence Hazelett, Rose Joseph, and George Wyss. Clarence Van Zile is taking a course in show-card writing and soon will study illustrating. Geraldine Markwalder is enrolled in a two-year course at the Art school. Ernest Smith will go to Muncie State Normal in the fall.

Dorothy Eymann is planning to go to Illinois university. Dorothy Mar-

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS MEET ON PERIOD TIME

Absentees of Music Classes Reported to Office as Those of Other Classes

All music classes and organizations will be on period time next semester. Before this, the band and glee clubs met after school. These meetings often conflicted with other engagements of the members. By putting all classes on period time every member will be required to attend this class just as he attends any other class.

The program for the week is as follows:

First Period—String quartette—Tuesday and Thursday.

Second Period—Harmony and history classes—every day.

Fifth Period—Orchestra—Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. Band, Tuesday and Friday; also on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sixth Period—Girls' Glee club—Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. Boys' Glee club—Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Eighth Period—Girls' quartette—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

No certain time has been set for the brass quartette.

The Boys' Glee club is working on a minstrel show to be given some time in February.

SOUTH SIDE GIRLS JOIN NEWLY INSTITUTED ORDER

Helen Hilgeman Wins Highest Office In Order; Eleven Local Girls Charter Members

Several South Side girls were among the fifty-four who became charter members of the order of Job's Daughters, which was instituted recently in Fort Wayne.

Those who are eligible for membership are the girls from 13 to 18 years whose fathers or brothers are Master Masons. At the age of 18 a girl is given a life certificate and she may attend all the meetings of the order, but she need not pay any dues.

Helen Hilgeman, of South Side, holds the most coveted office, that of Honored Queen. Other South Siders who are officers are: Mary Hale, Gertrude Bradley and Mervyn Welch. The other girls from South Side who are charter members are: Helen Crawford, Margaret McIntock, Deane Pfeiffer, Helen Sellers, Katherine Sellers, Marjory Burres, Ruth Mae Dawkins and Catherine Fries.

Both Buy Totems

Both of the foreign students, Ebbe Carlson from Sweden, and Jean Herd from Scotland, have subscribed to Totem. Approximately seven hundred students have made at least one payment on the Totem and many have completed their payments.

Made Business Assistant

Mary Pocock, '26, has been appointed assistant business manager of the Times. She will assume her duties with this issue, making out statements and keeping the books.

NEW YELLS WANTED

The cheer leaders request that the student body write new yells and songs to be used at athletic events. "Novel cheering always goes over big," they exclaim.

Contributions should be handed to the leaders or dropped into the Times' box in the entrance to Room 8.

SOUTH SIDE RECEIVES BIG FRESHMAN CLASS

S. S. Grades Heads List With 58; Smart and Hoagland Send 81; Harmar Enters Two

One hundred and forty-one eighth grade pupils will enter South Side high school today. This is the largest February freshman class that has ever entered South Side. ## "BRING PAYMENTS TO 20" IS EDICT

Subscribers Must Bring Money To Miss Harvey; Agents No Longer Responsible

HIGHEST PERCENT IS 109

Since there has been a change in rooms for the new semester, the last term's room agents will not be responsible for further payments on Totem subscriptions. Each student will have to see to his own. Money should be turned in to Miss Harvey or Mary Monroe in Room 20.

Room 4, in which Mary Falk was agent, comes first with a percentage of 109. Room 6 is next with 106 with Lottie Dignan as agent. Ruth Stroebel was agent for the gym class which met on Mondays and Thursdays. She has done exceedingly well, making a percentage of 93 in a freshman class.

The complete list is as follows:

Room No.	Agent	Teacher	Pct.
4	Falk	Voorhees	109
6	Dignan	Murphy	106
44	Rodebaugh	Arnold	106
Gym	Stroebel	Hadsell	93
22	Johnston	Murch	90
36	Danuser	Thorne	85

SEVENTY-FIVE PUPILS ATTEND FIRST FORUM

"Customs versus Convictions" Will Be Discussed by Rev. J. Strachan Next Sunday

The subject for the forum next Sunday will be "Customs versus Convictions." The leader will be Rev. James Strachan, with Bud Beck as chairman.

About seventy-five students attended the last forum of the year. The subject, "School Spirit" was discussed by Prof. F. M. Price. Ralph Welch presided as chairman.

Due to the coming game with Central, school spirit, in regard to athletics, was the chief topic. "My Attitude as a Winner" and "My Attitude as a Loser" were especially emphasized. Several ways in which we can show our loyalty by playing fair, playing hard, attending the games and rooting, and by refraining from jawing the referee.

In consideration of how wide your loyalty is, Prof. Price stated, "A restricted, narrow loyalty signifies a retardment of development."

The leader of the forum yesterday, which was "Quest of the Best," was Mrs. A. B. Lewis. Ruth Knatz, of Central high school, presided.

THELMA BUIRELY MADE PRESIDENT OF ART CLUB

Beulah Corwin, Vice-President; Mary Travis, Secretary, and Marcella Reitz, Treasurer, New Officers

Thelma Buiresly was elected president of the Art club at its first business meeting of the year on Tuesday, January 13, in Room 61. The other officers are: Beulah Corwin, vice-president; Mary Travis, secretary; Marcella Reitz, treasurer.

A short business meeting was held after the election. The next meeting will be held at the home of Dorothea Kohlmeyer on February 16. All members are requested to attend.

SCHMALZRIED LEADS LAST HI-Y DISCUSSION OF TERM

Nominations Are Opened for Coming Term; Election Will Probably Take Place This Week

A large group of fellows enjoyed the discussion of "Religious Life of a High School Boy" on January 15 at the last Hi-Y meeting of the fall term. Mr. Schmalzried started the talks by telling some of his personal experiences with high school boys. Some of the fellows then told just what the subject meant to them.

At this meeting it was announced that the ballots for electing officers for the coming term would be distributed at school and that the election would take place there. Unfortunately it was impossible to get the ballots there, so the election was postponed. It will probably take place Thursday, when the club meets.

DEATH VISITS FORMER SOUTH SIDE STUDENT

Norma Blecke, 17, a popular sophomore at South Side, died Tuesday afternoon, January 13, at the home, 602 Meyer avenue. She was ill three weeks. Besides being a student here, she went to the International Business College, and later worked for the Curdes Realty Company.

ELECTION IS FEATURE AT SO-SI-Y MEETING

Letters from Japanese Girl Reserve Sisters Were Read by Miss Symons

Elizabeth Schmidt was elected president of the So-Si-Y at the semi-annual election of officers held last week. Other new officers are: Lucille Grosvenor, vice-president; Mildred Kesterson, secretary, and Ruth Eickmeyer, treasurer.

The nominating committee consisted of last year's officers—Bertryl Merril, Dorothy Tucker, Dorothy Eychow, and Mary Travis—and the faculty advisors, Miss Pittenger and Miss Thorne and Miss Symons, secretary of the Girl Reserves department. After the election, Miss Symons read several letters which were received by girls of South Side and Central from Japanese girls. These were very interesting and were written in very good English.

Announcements were made in regard to the annual Girl Reserves banquet which was held last Thursday night.

The members are urged to save old clothes and shoes for a rummage sale which will be held in the near future. During the course of the meeting a talk was given by Mildred Oberfour on "Characters of Biblical Women."

At the conclusion Marjorie Matlack sang "All Through the Night."

TWO NEW TEACHERS ARE ADDED TO FACULTY

Miss Crowe Is History Instructor; Miss Oppelt in English Department

Miss Gertrude Oppelt and Miss Mary Crowe are two new teachers who have been added to the faculty. Miss Oppelt, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and Central high school, will teach English and Miss Crowe, a graduate of the same institutions, will be an instructor in the history department.

Miss Crowe taught at the Franklin school this fall and previous to the time at Chany, New York. She is a niece of Mrs. Mary Edson, a sewing teacher at Central, and is a sister of Eleanor Crowe, a '24 graduate of South Side.

BERIAULT IMPERSONATOR, DELIVERS ENGLISH COMEDY

Amid Bursts of Laughter Presents Shakespeare's Famous Drama, "A Midsummer Night's Dream"

In a highly entertaining reading of Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Arthur W. Beriault, dramatic instructor in the Metropolitan School of Music, Indianapolis, made his first appearance at South Side Friday, January 16.

The audience often burst into prolonged laughter as Mr. Beriault impersonated Puck, the elfin mischief maker. Likewise the actions of Titania, the Fairy Queen, Oberon, the two young couples, and Bottom, the Weaver, incited mirth.

Mr. Beriault said that out of the thirteen Shakespearean plays that he knows he likes "A Midsummer Night's Dream" best. He said he visits eighty high schools every year, but this is the first high school in Fort Wayne he has ever been in. He is very well acquainted with Mr. Null, and spent Friday reading Macbeth in the English classes.

GIRL RESERVE CLUBS PLAN RUMMAGE SALE

A mammoth rummage sale is being planned by the Girl Reserve clubs of the city, both grade school and high school. It will begin Thursday, January 29 and continue for one week at the Hinton restaurant on South Calhoun street.

The proceeds of the sale, which are hoped to tally $500 will be used to pay the pledge made for the swimming pool.

All old clothes and anything which is to be sold should be taken to Miss Thorne's or Miss Rinehart's room.

U. S. A.

The club is for freshmen and sophomore girls, under the supervision of three faculty members. The purpose is "To promote friendship through working and playing together. To be loyal to the school. To be earnest and truthful at all times."

Meetings are held every two weeks. At some of them, topics of interest to all high school girls are discussed, either by the girls or a competent leader. The social meetings consist of banquets, hikes, parties, and picnics. The service part of the name is not forgotten either as poor kiddies are remembered at Christmas and Thanksgiving.

PUPILS MAY BUY ALL TEXT BOOKS IN CLASS ROOMS

Book Store Under Management of Mr. Parks Will Be Open Today and Tomorrow

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT TO SELL MOST BOOKS

Math Department Orders 213 Texts; Only 70 Purchased for Spanish Students

The school book store will open this morning, continuing the sale of books on Tuesday, when the store will be open at practically all the periods that day.

Mr. Parks is in charge of the book store, and he also has charge of distributing the books to the various departments. The teachers of these departments will take the books to the pupils.

The students may purchase their books from the teachers in the following rooms on Monday only.

English in Room 8.
French in Room 92.
Civics and Economics in Room 6.
History in Room 8.
Latin, Scott, Virgil, in Room 34.
German in Room 30.
Mathematics in Room 94.
Biology in Room 91.
Botany in Room 76.
Chemistry in Room 2.
Physics in Room 18.
Spanish in Room 18.
Domestic Science in Room 79.
Physical Geography in Room 14.
Commercial Geography, book store window.

More books are to be sold in the English department than in any of the others. The number of books that were ordered for the English department were 1,823; for the mathematics department, 213; for the French department, 155; for the Latin department 141; science department, 115; German department, 97; and for the Spanish department, 70.

S. S. GRADES TO LEAVE AFTER SPRING VACATION

The new building for the grade schools is expected to be entered completed by the first week in April. This will enable the grades to move during spring vacation and classes will be begun in the new building after the vacation.

HARRISON DRUG STORE SOLD BY ALBERT KLEIN

The Harrison Hill drug store has passed from the hands of Albert Klein to Victor S. Kring and Henry Morrison. Mr. Kring was formerly a registered pharmacist at Meyer's drug store, and Mr. Morrison had half interest in the Broadway Pharmacy. Mr. Klein has written a "Ten Minute Book-keeper for Druggists" which he will sell.

"We wish South Side success in all things," said Mr. Kring when interviewed.

CHESTER WYNEKEN, CIRCULATION MANAGER

MISS HARVEY, ADVISOR

Welcome, freshmen!

Since many of us are following a program of our own making, there's very little room for complaint.

"To pass or not to pass" is no longer the question of the day, but right now is a good time to decide which it shall be this term.

Now since the finals are over and we know the worst or best, as the case might have been, there is only one thing to do. That's to begin all over.

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind."
It's nearly impossible when we've learned to love them as we have our Caesars, histories and geometries.

Each club, athletic team, and department in school is setting out to make this the best semester yet. If every single student would set out with the same spirit, the school as a whole would be the best yet.

Most of us have a change of teachers this new term. What we were and what we did last term is unknown to them; what we are and what we will do this new term they will soon find out. Make a good impression from the start. The teachers form their opinion of you and of your abilities from the very first day. Later in the term, it's always easier to live up to a good impression than to live down a bad one.

The Times' subscription campaign is now under way. The price, as usual, is seventy-five cents. With the spring semester, as old subscribers know, come the April Fool and Faculty issues and the big tournament specials. You already know what the Times is, and how convenient it is in keeping you informed on every activity in school. Other schools with the co-operation of each student have completed their campaign in one week. We, too, could with the same co-operation.

New students are entering high school today. Soon the question of choosing friends will arise both for them and for us. What sort shall we choose? Shall we take one who helps us mould a fine character, or one who discourages that sort of thing; one who helps us to nobler thoughts, or one who scoffs at them; one who is democratic, or one who "sneers at men of lesser worth"; and, finally, shall we take one in whose presence we strive to be better men, or one who drags us down to our very worst self? We shall meet many people today, and perhaps unconsciously we shall take their measure. Then, we shall choose. Soon everyone will be able to see what kind of persons we, individually, are, because you know, "birds of a feather all flock together." Your friends reflect your virtues or vices.

Have you invested in a season ticket? If you haven't you had better look ahead in the schedule. Five strong teams are stacked against the Green in the remaining games. North Manchester, who opposes the locals on Saturday, is already known to fans for her fine brand of basketball.

Richmond, another state finalist, last year defeated the Kelly Klads in the first game at Indianapolis. The Richmond "Red Devils" are known throughout the state and will without a doubt show fans some real playing.

The Central game on Valentine's Day needs no boosting. The Blue and White Tigers are determined to make this Central's year, and realize that a victory over the South Side crew will help make it so. Manual Training High of Indianapolis and Peru, both strong quintets, will meet the team here February 21 and 27.

The season tickets are selling at a dollar, and even if you have missed the first game, it will prove a saving of one dollar.

A glance back over the accomplishments of this term shows great advancement in every department. A uniformed band, an all-American paper, a winning football team, a fine start in basketball, larger glee clubs and orchestra, a good debate team, a larger enrollment, a prize-winning Totem have engraved South Side's name even deeper upon the records.

A glance ahead for next semester looks just as bright. No sudden decline looms in sight. Material for future teams and organizations has been trained.

You naturally wonder how the semester's success came about. There are just two things behind every one of them, good leaders and co-operation on the part of the students. This last reason makes you directly responsible for a part of next semester's success or failure. This responsibility requires the best that's in you in those activities in which you are participating and your wholehearted support of the things you are not active in. If this duty is assumed and executed by each student, the success of last semester will be equalled, if not surpassed, next term.

A Mite of Verse

A WINTER MORNING

Within the hollow caverns of the night
We heard for hours the drip, drip,
Drip of rain.
And turned, impatient, waiting for the light.
At length, when cold had checked that drear refrain,
Up from the east flamed forth the fire of day.
In magic light revealing shrub and tree
Gem-laden, shining—bole and branch
—as gay
As once Aladdin in the cave did see.

MARA

The days of patient, servile waiting ceased.
Now lay he silent, powerless, serene:
That tongue was hushed that oft had dripped with words
That like corroding acid ate her heart
And fired her soul with agony which she Concealed from all the world with hollow smiles;
Dead was the force which through two score of years
Had crushed her hopes, desires, and weighed her down
To shameful servitude of hate and hate;
Calm was the spirit which had stormed through life,
Twisting and marring all that blocked its path.
There lay he dead.

And in the lonely quiet memories came
Of all that life had promised. She had looked For understanding love, a child, a home,
A growth of soul to make a fool of death.
Instead for forty years she had been bound
To that whose empty shell she sat beside,
Stunted, repressed, degraded to the depths,
Deceiving friends with outward show
of peace.
Now was she free, but now she could not dream.
What worth had freedom when the soul was crushed?
And as she faced the hopeless, futile years—
The hot tears came.

HERMAN O. MAKEY.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

Lock 'Em Up

To the Editor:
There has been much disgusting comment recently because some of the teachers have locked the lockers that were open. It seems to me that some students are wasting much time in arguing about it when they know that it is a proper thing for a faculty member to do, to try to keep things in order around school. As long as lockers remain open, just that long will people deliberately remove other people's belongings from their proper places. It doesn't take a half-minute longer to stop and close a locker when it has been used, so why harp someone's nerves when you go to your locker and find that someone interested in your welfare has locked it. How about it students? Think it over!

BOOSTING LOCKED LOCKERS.

Annoying Feet

To the Editor:
While at the Central game I noticed that many people think they are comfortably established when they perch their feet on the seat in front of them, thus occupying two seats while paying only the price of one. This may seem perfectly all right in the eyes of these persons but I am not of the same opinion. After I had brushed the dirt off my coat and had been kicked in the ribs several times I soon formed my opinion of the person in back of me and wished to change my seat. It is very annoying to be punched in the back and my good clothes damaged by being used as a door mat. Let's keep our feet on the FLOOR.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN!

Twice a day, the tide comes in from the ocean, and twice a year the new freshmen flood into the high school. Both come with mechanical regularity. But all tides are not alike. Each comes in bringing new material, and reaches a different level upon the shore. The tide is a part of the ocean, and in the same way the freshmen are a part of the school. We all sincerely hope that this new tide of freshmen who are just coming in will reach a higher water mark on the shore than a tide has ever reached before. We will be very proud of them, and stand back of them just as the old ocean stands behind the oncoming tide and helps to push it further up the shore.—Yakima.

In Other Schools

Debating Club Organized

A Patrick Henry Debating club has been organized at the Aaron Grove Junior high school, Denver.

Students Control Study Hall

In East Denver high they have a system to run their study halls whereby three head students can expel anyone who is disorderly to the other study hall conducted by teachers.

The Principal Says---

1. Set a definite time to prepare each lesson.
2. Subscribe for the Times and take an interest in some of the activities of the school.
3. Respect your teachers and your fellow students.

The Mirror

By BUD BECK

(Publication of this column does not necessarily imply the paper's agreement with the author's opinions.)

Knocking or Boosting?

Criticism is like matches—dangerous, but useful. If given in the attitude of that of knocking, much harm and ill feeling result, but, if in that of boosting, good will and progress follow. A coach points out the weaknesses of his men that they might recognize and overcome them, just as one's best friend is the one who criticizes him helpfully.

Now this feature is primarily a column of opinions and observations. A critical observation is a criticism, so by the axiom of equals, we see that all the critical opinions and observations in the Mirror will be criticisms. We'll try to boost, not knock!

A Zealous Fan

One of the redeeming features of the game was that, although the team lost, the rooters conducted themselves well. There was, however, a certain person, supporting South Side, that jeered the referee and called Kowalczyk insulting names. Two members of the band and another person turned to him and told him to "pipe down," and as a result were hooted at by the fan and his companion. It was gratifying to note that the hot-headed person was more careful with his remarks after the incident.

Good Losers

The story serves to show what a Good Loser really is. He is one that can drink the bitter dregs of defeat and not blame the official, not alibi, not hold a grudge against the opponents, and not be un sportsmanlike. These three South Side rooters wanted Central to have a square deal, so they were willing to swallow cur remarks to uphold the Green and White. Being good losers is a greater virtue than being victors, bold and arrogant.

What Central Said

In the most prominent place of the first page of the Spotlight, issued before the game, we read:
For the last two years the Blue and White of Central has been trampled in the dust of defeat by South Side. . . . The teams of the former have gone down to defeat, fighting to the end. Nevertheless, they were defeated.
This year, Central will turn upon South Side and, fighting to the end, will defeat the Green and White. Central has not won seven straight games because of the ban, but she has state championship aims. The Blue and White of Central will rise to the heights.

Thrift Week

National Thrift Week should not pass without observance in the high schools, where habits are developing. How much good would be obtained by a movement to get elderly people to vote, when young people who are just beginning to exercise that right, and who must continue with it as long as they lived, are not included? It is true that high school pupils cannot carry out the "Own Your Home," "Make a Will" and the like creeds, but they can be thrifty.
The movement had its beginning in 1894 in the "Economy Club" at the Dayton Y. M. C. A. In 1916 the movement, still sponsored by the Y, took national form, and has grown to its present significance.

What Is Thrift?

Thrift is not a pinch-penny practice, not a nickel-nursing creed, or not miserliness, but careful spending and wise saving. High school pupils can be taught thrift.

Thrift With Health

We all know the virtues of thrift with money, but the thought never occurs that one can spend his body wisely and save it carefully. We are not going to mention smoking now, but who might curse. . . . But a budget for our pocket-book?" you say. "Why, I do not set aside a certain amount of my spending money for this thing, and a certain amount for that. I spend whenever I want, and for whatever I want!"
The fact remains that one really has a mental budget, and if your friend Henry" immediately you begin to think, "Can I afford to spend that dime? Don't I need it for something more useful? How many dimes will I have left if I spend this one? Am I getting more dimes soon?"

Thrift With Time

Here is where one can really be thrifty, and where most of us are not nearly as thrifty as we should be. We should make a budget of our time as well as our money. "But a budget for our pocket-book?" you say. "Why, I do not set aside a certain amount of my spending money for this thing, and a certain amount for that. I spend whenever I want, and for whatever I want!"
The fact remains that one really has a mental budget, and if your friend Henry" immediately you begin to think, "Can I afford to spend that dime? Don't I need it for something more useful? How many dimes will I have left if I spend this one? Am I getting more dimes soon?"
We need to spend our time as carefully. Ask yourself, "Can I spare the time for this thing? Will I get the full value for my time, or will I pay too high a price? Just why should I do this thing, anyhow?"

Read A Bit

Janice Meredith is a vivacious maid of fifteen at the time the story by that name opens. As heroine she is made the center around which the most thrilling episodes of the Revolution revolve. It is a capital story of adventure and hair-breadth escapes. Janice's lover is the trusted friend of Washington. . . .

"Queed" is the story of the evolution of Mr. Queed from a dried-up, eccentric little person to a normal human being who falls in love with Sharlee Wayland, a charming girl.

Nothing Else

M. Schroder: "I think I have a cold or something in my head."

K. Thompson: "Probably a cold."

Excuses for Being Absent

(Note—These are handy to have on hand to use in place of "I had a cold," "I had to go to a funeral," or "I had to take care of my mother," etc., which are rather moldy now.)

1. I worked so hard on my geometry that I sprained my brain and had to stay home.
2. My doctor told me to reduce, so I stayed home and rolled on the floor all day.
3. My cat had the whooping cough and I had to take care of it.
4. I ate so much for breakfast that my pants burst and I couldn't come to school as my other suit was at the cleaner's.
5. One of my roller skates got a puncture and had to be towed home.
6. My goldfish died and I had to go to its funeral.
7. I had to cook my breakfast and I got sick from it.
8. Coming in on the car from Steilacoom I saw a poor fish on the bank of a little stream. I couldn't bear to see it die, so I got out at the next stop to put it in. I fell in doing it.
9. Something blew up downstairs during the night and I had to stay home to help pop fix up the kitchen where it happened. Pop wouldn't say what blew up.

Deep Stuff

"A man learns most who begins at the bottom," remarked the philosopher.

"How about the fellow who is learning to swim?"

Do U UU 12?

Kt had a little Ford,
For she was very YY,
A raid a day afforded EE,
And sights to feast her II,
All the JJ did Nv her,
And often tried to TT,
But KT spurned their MT talk,
And called them NMEE.
Kt says her Ford XLL;
I repeat that she is YY.
And says they are EZ to UU
That they are just her SII.

Bargains

Mr. Bell: "Why are the grades so low since Christmas vacation?"
Robert: "Well, after the holidays everything is marked down."

As Testa Reveal It

The English church was known as the Angelic church. Index was a book that people learned to read from. Dissenters were a group of a certain religious union. Alexander showed the Greeks he had a head for a leader.
The Epicureans thought death was the end of all things. The Stoics thought they would be better after death.
Alexander married the East and the West.

One of the laws to follow is that of incoherency. (And they proceeded to do it!)
A chemical law is a statement of uniform mode of human behavior in materials.

Electrolysis is decomposition of electric current by means of water.

My favorite character in English history was Henry VIII. He had six wives and killed them all.

The chief clause in the Magna Charta was that no free man could be thrown into prison or put to death without his consent.

Edward III would have been King of France had his mother been a man.

The king was not permitted to order taxis without the permission of parliament.

A Dark Tragedy

He awoke with a star, conscious of a presence near him. All was dark save for the gleam of light above. Then someone spoke, "Now, I have you in my power. My time has come." He turned toward the low voice. "In a few minutes you will be no more."
Then he found his voice and said, "Henrietta ain't these serials bad enough without you reading the subjects aloud?"

Fairy Tales

"No, really, I wasn't going any place."
"The line is busy!"
"I'm so sorry."
"I can't help it; I didn't get your letter."
"What a lovely dress, dear; perfectly stunning!"
"I was sent to the office, but it wasn't my fault."
"I should have had a passing grade too, but—oh—teacher's pet!"
"Do come, I want you so bad—and—well, we can't get along without you."
"Don't cry, it won't hurt long!"
"Yes, your powder's on straight!"
"Sure, go ahead, it won't make me feel bad at all."

Proof

Given—A freshman.
Required—To prove a freshman is an affliction.
Proof—A freshman is new; new equals not stale; not stale equals fresh; fresh equals smart; smart equals pain; pain is an affliction.
Therefore, A freshman is an affliction. (Quantities equal to the same quantities are equal to each other.)

Feb. to June?

Sept.—I am going to study this year.
Oct.—I have got to begin studying this year.
Nov.—I must begin to study soon.
Dec.—I should have started studying sooner.
Jan.—I wish I had studied.

Easy Stuff!

Chester W. (picked up a book of Caesar): "Oh, say, this Latin's easy; wish I'd kept on. Look here (pointing to several passages) 'Porte dux in a ro'—forty ducks in a row. 'Passus sum jam'—pass us some jam. 'Bonis leges Caesaris'—the bony legs of Caesar. 'Caesar sic decat unde cur, egressi lictum'—Caesar sicked the cat on the cur; I guess he licked him."

To the Freshmen!

Chalks and pencils everywhere,
Chewing gum beneath the chair,
Pencil sharpenings on the floor,
Initials carved upon the door,
Funny pictures on the wall,
Paper scraps along the hall,
Things are in an awful pass,
Blame it to the Freshman class.

What the wood-turning class said when attractive young women teachers came to visit.

The class—Just our luck! Didn't get to show off.

Howard Beazel—Of course, I had to ruin my job.

Jack Bell—Why did I skip school?

Millard Bennett—Darn it, had to take care of the tool room!

Van Bowser—Doggon it! Mr. Chappell had to show me how to do it right just at that time.

Clement Gasser—Naturally, my lathe would have to be out of commission.

Jack Kauffman—Might know I'd have to take time to sharpen a tool.

Paul Kniffen—Oh, sure! I had to be caught doing my daily dozen.

Paul Berlin—They had to come just while I was making out the bill.

Dick Newcomb—Why the heck did I finish my lamp so soon?

Pierce Sommers—Just while I was up to the office, too!

Jack Nibergall—Yes, and there I was, in another room staining my candle holders.

Mr. Chappell—Why didn't I wear my new tie this morning?

CIRCULATION OF BOOKS IN LIBRARY INCREASES

Students Are Taking Great Interest In Many New Books In School

The home circulation of books in the library so far this term is greater than the circulation of books for the first year.

During the month of September, in which there were sixteen days of school, there was a circulation of 1,285 books. During October, which had twenty-one days of school, there was a circulation of 3,302 books. November with seventeen days of school, had a circulation of 3,116 books. December with the same number of days as November, had a circulation of 2,719 books.

A total of 10,492 books was circulated during the four months of school of this term. This number during the four months has exceeded the circulation of books for the first ten months of school the first year.

The first year there were 1,536 books in the library with a circulation of 8,814. During the second year the 2,241 books in the library attracted a circulation of 17,598. This year the circulation will go over this mark as already the 263 books have had a circulation of 10,422. This is only the home circulation and each day there are more books read in the library than are taken out.

Nearly 600 students attend the library daily. There is an average of 75 students in the library a period with the exception of the fourth period, which is a lunch period, and the students may come in at any time and leave whenever they finish their work. There are three new magazines in the library this term, The Century, The Vocational, and The Design.

ART STUDENTS PURSUING 13 BRANCHES OF WORK

Three Classes of Two Periods Each Are Held Each Day; Sixty-two Students Enrolled

The art department has accomplished work of great interest among the students this semester. This department is divided into three different classes daily, two periods each.

The following is some of the work done by the students:

Architectural—Dean Shaffer, Darrel Mann, Dudley Wass, Lauretta Sell, Power Karr, Lottie Dignan and Harry Stephens.

Pastel Work—Geraldine Markwalder and Thelma Bireley.

Designing—Virginia Mills, Bertha Schroeder, Flora Baer, Lottie Hasson, Mary Travis, Dorothea Kohlmeier, Elfreda Dennis, Martha Wendorf, Louise Frederick, Madge Roush, Rebecca Andrews, Bertha Branning, Virginia Bell, Thyra Jurgensen, Juanita Koch, Helen Mitchell and Onley Wright.

Decorative Work—Catherine Childers, Kathryn Henline, Dorothy Martin, Margaret Metzner and Elva Miller.

Perspective Work—Helen Crawford, Zelma Repine and Margaret Seabold.

Leather Work—Reland Conley and Iva Riley.

Modeling—Dorothy Cline, Sidney Peers and Dorothy Bales.

Costume Design—Prelina Fletcher and Isabelle Wilkinson.

Posters—Clara Sherbondy, Beulah Corwin, Emily Waters, Thelma Price, Wilma Krommiller, Ruth Hull, Thelma Burley, Mary McCurdy, Sue Marie Allendorph and Tom Shulze.

Lettering—Gladys Snyder, Virginia Neireiter and Gerald DuWan.

China Painting—Stella Rupp and Gladys Gerber.

Art Construction—Geraldine Lower and Esther Enz.

In Other Schools

Takes Life Easy

The students of the Central high, Detroit, surely do take life easy, for they ride from one floor to another to their classes by means of elevators.

Noted Explorer Speaks

Donald MacMillan, distinguished arctic explorer, visited the public schools of Detroit. He delivered illustrated lectures on his trip in Greenland and in the neighborhood of the North Pole.

Girls' Band Organizes

The Girls' band at Hammond (Ind.) high has organized for the year. They have elected their officers and have made plans for a party and banquet in the near future.

Urge Parents To Visit School

Circular letters have been sent out to the parents of all students of the Florence high school at Florence, Colo., urging them to visit the school, encourage the teachers, keep in touch with their children's work, and among many other things show their willingness to co-operate with the school.

Visit Dairy

The vocational class of the Belford (Ind.) high motored to a dairy farm and inspected, scared, and judged the herd of Jersey cattle.

Study Digestion

The physiology students of the Kansas City (Kan.) high are studying the digestive processes of different classes of animals. The teacher has some very interesting specimens the teeth of herbivora animals, and also many different small reptiles.

Present Book Case to School

An oak book case, to be placed in the library, is the gift to be presented by the February class of 1925 to the Hyde Park high of Chicago.

Get Auditorium

The San Diego high is going to receive a beautiful new $280,000 auditorium building, seating 2,500 people in the auditorium itself. The building will also contain eight class rooms.

About one hundred and sixty new freshmen are today in our midst and twenty-one seniors have completed their courses. This makes our enrollment about twelve hundred and fifty. Why are we here? Are we here because the law compels us to go to school until we are sixteen years old? But, no! That can't be the answer, because there are many of us who are over sixteen and would not be affected by the law. Well, then, are we here to gain an education in the true sense of the word? It is doubtful. Dr. C. E. Barker said, "Getting an education is to train the mind and the will to do that which must be done when it ought to be done whether we like it or not." Not many of us are here to do this. If we are really honest with ourselves, we should confess that we are just "here, because we're here, because we're here, because—etc."

Ministers Say Classroom Cheats Are Destroying Moral Character

"The Cheating Student Is Likely to Develop the Same Traits of Character In After Life as He Has in School," Says Rev. Mr. White.

The student who cheats in any way in the classroom is swiftly tearing down his good character, according to Rev. A. J. Folsom, of the Plymouth Congregational church, Rev. James Strachan of the South Wayne Baptist church, and Rev. J. C. White of Simpson Methodist church.

Mr. Folsom feels that it is one of the worst things a student can do, for he says: "Cheating in the classroom tends toward breaking down the moral character of the student for he consciously destroys the personal sense of right. It constitutes the first steps in the training for criminal life."

"No great criminal ever leaps into the full stature of depraved life," he continued. "It is the product of practice and constant repetition. Embellishers point back to the period of their youth when they began pilfering answers in tests in school as an explanation of how they went wrong."

"We grow by tendencies and our mind and soul feed upon habits of thought and conduct. The student who cheats or steals gets by and feels a sense of smartness in his craftiness, but in the automatic judgment seat of his own soul he is laying the foundations of a depraved life and is paving the way to boundless unhappiness, disgrace, and shame. One might far better make a companion of a rattlesnake than to venture upon the habit of cheating."

"At first there is the blush of a bad conscience, mingled with a peculiar delight in having put it across. Later, the conscience, a quality of human life worth more than vast fortunes, becomes spent and crumbles away. It is far better to lose a game honestly than to win a game dishonestly, and it is far better to fail in an examination honestly than to pass with a sense of inner failure."

In conclusion he said: "No student can afford to cheat, for in it he surrenders the most valuable position he has, namely, a good conscience, a sense of right, and a deep conviction of personal fidelity."

"Student Cheats Himself"

Mr. Strachan, too, feels that it is a great menace. He says, "A man who cheats in the classroom would cheat anywhere and is not to be trusted in any walk of life afterwards, unless he changes his ways. Any fellow who is about to start out in life and who is cheating to get through exams will have a lower moral tone in everything he undertakes. He hasn't a clear idea of what education really means. He is cheating himself more than anyone else, for he doesn't hurt the school but only himself. He is unfair to his fellow students, however, and is a poor sport."

"No man can get far in life if he cheats, for he hurts and weakens his own character. He goes into the world with a decided handicap, for he has not tested his own powers, or given himself a real chance in school. If his cheating is discovered, no one will ever fully trust him again."

Mr. White agrees perfectly with his two colleagues. This is his statement: "No student can be either better in the classroom or to his student friends or instructor than he knows himself to be within his own conscience. No student's life will be better than that student's native character plus the highest sense of integrity. Character plus intensive truth equals high manhood. Therefore the one who uses other methods in the classroom than those that will indicate real honesty within will fail in his own estimation and in a like manner will be compelled to fall in the estimate of those who know and observe."

JUNIOR HI-YERS DISCUSS NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

Mr. Davis, of South Side, and Mr. Butler, of Central, Spoke at Supper

Only twelve South Side boys attended the last meeting of the Junior Hi-Y, January 7, as many Junior Hi-Y members are boy scouts and attended the scout contest held in the South Side gym on the same night.

One of the best suppers of this semester was served and the small attendance made it possible for it to be one of the largest. After the two clubs assembled in their club rooms, Mr. Davis of South Side and Mr. Butler of Central led discussion of "Why New Year's Resolutions?"

The clubs reunited after the talk and Mr. Hamilton, the Y. M. C. A. boys' secretary, gave full information about the "Camp Savings Club."

At a meeting after the club, arrangements for the Sunday Forum were made. Bob Scheuman and Tom Ward were appointed Junior Hi-Y delegates.

"A new year's resolution can not only be made on New Year's day but on any of the 364 days in the year," declared Mr. Davis. His opinion of the cause of making new year's resolutions is that no one is perfect and his first step toward that goal is to make a resolution.

Mr. Hamilton, in describing the "Camp Savings Club," told of the method of depositing a specified amount of money each week so that about your vacation money. Mr. Hamilton also described the new camp site on Blackman's lake, five miles north of Kendallville.

This tract of land is said to be far superior to the old recreation woods of Pottowatamie. Several Hi-Y members are expected to visit the new location during spring vacation and prepare the place for future use.

Praises Times and Totem

Lillian Lockridge, a former South Side student, is still interested in South Side's activities, and recently sent her subscription for the 1925 Totem.

"I was glad to hear of the success of the Times and Totem at the convention in Wisconsin," she said in her letter to Miss Harvey. "I have enjoyed my Times very much and am always eager to receive it each week," she commented further.

Exchanges For Totem

Miss Farrham, a teacher in Birmingham, Alabama, has sent Miss Harvey a copy of the Ridgely, their annual, and wishes to get a Totem. Two boys from Indiana won prizes. John Patten Crawford of Kokomo and Joe Kelly of Martinsville each won a scholarship.

Two Hoosiers Win

Julia Groo, 18, of Portland, Oregon, was winner in the National Lighting contest held recently. She will be awarded a $15,000 model electrical home, erected by the Lighting Educational Committee.

Two boys from Indiana won prizes. John Patten Crawford of Kokomo and Joe Kelly of Martinsville each won a scholarship.

Prize for Best Essay

The Keating School of Stenography is offering a prize of one hundred dollars to the girl at Central high, Spokane, Wash., who writes the best essay on "Why Girls Should Take Up Stenographic Work."

Gumps and Others Present

The Cresco high of Cresco, Iowa, recently gave a masquerade party. Everyone attended including the Gumps, the Nebbs, Jiggs and Maggie, and the Katzenjammer Kids.

All the Merrier

A teacher of the Kern County union high, Bakersfield, Cal., had written upon the blackboard in twenty-five different national languages, "Merry Christmas."

Vaudeville Successful

The senior class of the West high school, Minneapolis, Minn., made a total of $815.42 from its sunlit vaudeville, stamp and candy sale.

EIGHTEEN NEW BOOKS TO GRACE THE LOCAL LIBRARY

History Department Benefitted Most by New Books to Be Received Next Term

Practically every department of South Side will be aided by the addition of eighteen new books to the library this term. The history department, however, will be benefited most. The books which will be received are:

Handbook of Natural Resources—Comstock.
Indiana—Dunn.
History of Indiana—Esarey.
World's Commercial Products—Fremont & Chandler.
Brief History of the Great War—Hayes.
Civic Biology—Hodge & Danson.
Economic Zoology—Kellogg & Doane.
Historic Indiana—Levering.
United States in the World War—McMaster.
Opera—Aynsop—McSpadden.

General Biology—Heedham.
Indiana—Streightoff.
Conservation of Natural Resources—Van Hise, C. C.
Who's Who (latest edition).
Training for the Professions.
Encyclopedia Britannica (one set).

With the Classes

Mr. Arnold has his 9-B classes meet after school in order to finish the pieces of furniture which they have started. Saturday morning a number of boys were working in the shops. Many of the drawing students are working after school in order to make up work in drawing.

The final touches on the trophy case are being done, such as varnishing and rubbing down the finish. It takes a lot of "elbow grease" in this process.

Miss Demaree's English VI. class is now studying Sheridan's "The Rivals."

Miss Demaree's English VII. class had a final composition test Monday.

Arthur Leschinsky has left South Side high. He will make his home in Portland, Oregon.

Nellie Grim has left South Side high school.

Ada Beach has been absent from school for several days.

The 9-A domestic science girls of Miss Mendenhall are having lessons in baking. They have made muffins, cakes and pies.

Miss Miller's general history II and United States history I. classes have been making a series of maps. The first was the world in 1914, the second Europe in 1914, and the third Europe in 1921. There is one general history class and there are two United States history classes.

Tests were the order of the day last Wednesday in Room 30.

Problems in exchange and bank clearings were given as special assignments to Mr. Murphy's economics class.

The music history class is studying the music of the gypsies of Russia, Roumania, Serbia and Poland.

The band made a very good appearance at the last debate for which they prepared.

The Boys' Glee club will start work on a minstrel show which will be given in February.

The 10-A forging class is finishing the hammers which they have been working on. This forging involves considerable forging, tempering and polishing. This course is practically the same as that offered by most engineering schools.

As usual, during the last few days of the term, the manual training department resembles a furniture store with all the various pieces. The boys have learned a number of things in the making of their pieces, mainly carefulness, neatness, accuracy, appreciation of work done by others, accomplishment, stick-to-it-business, mathematics, characteristics of wood, hard knocks and how to overcome them. The pieces turned out by Mr. Arnold's classes are: spinet desk, library tables, telephone tables, cedar chests, pedestals, end tables, medicine cabinets, radio cabinets, dressing tables, etc.

In the botany department, seedlings of beans, peas and corn are being kept to illustrate seed germination.

The school has just purchased a new microscope for the botany department. This instrument is one of the best, as it magnifies nearly a thousand times. It is to be used as a demonstration instrument in showing bacteria and small algae and fungi, etc.

New Pupil in South Side

Helen McKinsley of Cleveland has entered the literature class of Miss Burns.

Cafeteria Jobs Open

Now is time for pupils to apply for work in the cafeteria during lunch periods next semester. Both boys and girls are needed.

Lost Articles Sold

The collection of lost articles in the office were put on sale last week. Although not all the things were sold, $3.88 was taken in.

Estimates Value of Education

Cornell University has estimated that a high school education is worth as much to a farmer as $6,000 worth of bonds bearing 5 per cent interest and that a college education is worth twice that amount.

Mrs. Frost is the new second cook in our cafeteria. She is taking the place of Mrs. Koehn.

City Builders

E. M. Baltes and Company

The E. M. Baltes and Company was begun in 1865 under the name of M. Baltes. At that time they only had one yard at the present location, 312 Harrison street. In 1899 the name was changed from M. Baltes and company to E. M. Baltes and company. They now have two yards. One near the New York Central railroad; the other at 312 Harrison street.

This business concern which was established 60 years ago now has Theodore C. Schwier as manager. This place of business buys and sells masons', plasterers', street paving and sewer supplies.

Since they only do the buying and selling of these various supplies, only common laborers and needed. They also have stenographers and bookkeepers.

"That the South Side high school is a wonderful school is impressed upon me by both my daughters, Marguerite and Hilda," stated Mr. T. C. Schwier. He also said, "considering its short existence, it is marvelous that South Side has excelled in so many things, both educational and athletic."

Marguerite Schwier is now a sophomore at South Side. Hilda, who graduated in 1923, was business manager of the Totem and assistant business manager of the Times. Her father stated that although she is attending college, she is very enthusiastic about everything that takes place at South Side.

Packard Piano Company

The Packard Piano company which is located at the corner of Fairfield and Packard avenue, began in 1871 and was known as the Fort Wayne Organ company. The work carried on was the manufacture of Reed organs. At this time the business was extensive and some of the products were sold in Europe.

In 1895 the name was changed to Packard Piano Co. and pianos as well as organs were made. Grand and upright pianos were made and when they were manufactured also.

In 1913 the making of organs was discontinued and Bond pianos were brought out for the market.

At present two hundred and fifty people who must have a mechanical education are employed in the plant. All of the men have been there over fifteen years. There are twenty-five men who have been there over twenty-five years, ten men who have been there over forty years and one man has been there fifty-one years.

The capacity is three hundred pianos a month. The products are sold throughout the United States by five hundred dealers.

Today the company is exporting many pianos in foreign countries especially in South America and Australia.

The company from the beginning has been building instruments that have a very high quality, the success of which is shown by the fact that this year the company is celebrating its fifty-fourth anniversary.

In 1894 a retail business began here with Mr. C. R. Moores as manager. This store was called the Packard Music House and is located at the corner of Wayne and Harrison streets.

The officials of the company are: A. S. Bond, president; G. M. Leslie, vice-president; J. M. Kuhns, secretary; C. J. Schumann, treasurer; W. H. Wiebke, assistant treasurer; H. W. Bond, superintendent, and S. C. Bond, assistant superintendent.

Mr. Moores, the manager of the music house, when questioned concerning his opinion of South Side high school, said: "I think South Side is a great school and the Times a wonderful paper."

Cole Jewelry Shop

The Cole Jewelry shop first opened its doors to the public April 12, 1924, under the direction of H. V. Cole. Mr. Cole reports that he is very pleased with the business, as it has just been doubled since he opened the store.

The line of work he carries on includes repairing, designing, selling and ordering anything in the line of jewelry.

Mr. Cole is the only official in the store but he says if he wanted help he would call for one of the highest character—one who is trained to business as a salesman or repairer.

When asked what his opinion of South Side is, Mr. Cole answers: "South Side is a wonderful school and if you'll notice the window display it is green and white. I'm for South Side."

The Cole Jewelry shop is located at 2724 South Calhoun street. Mr. Cole invites everyone to his store.

Fort Wayne Blue Print and Supply Company

The Fort Wayne Blue Print and Supply company, located at 1104 South Calhoun street, was founded at its present site in March of the year 1917. This firm, although it is comparatively new, has had a continuous growth and in the last year the volume of business has increased about thirty-three per cent.

The Fort Wayne Blue Print and Supply company makes up and sells blue line, black line, red line and photostatic prints. It also carries a large amount of supplies for drawing, and materials for use in an engineering room, in an architect's office and those used by the art departments of schools.

"Members of the firm have no children going to the South Side high school, but I live in that part of the city and of course, I am for you. This is a very good idea to put the histories in your school paper. It not only helps the different firms but adds news and interest to the South Side Times for the advertisers," said S. W. Workman who is the proprietor of the Fort Wayne Blue Print and Supply company.

Eagle Laundry

The Eagle Laundry was established July 11, 1900, and was known as the firm of Metzner and Miller. It was located at the southwest corner of Highland and Calhoun streets, where business was continued until November 6, 1912, when the firm was incorporated and moved into the present location at 1827-41 South Calhoun street. Here a modern, two-story brick building had been built and equipped for the handling of all classes of laundry work.

This plant prides itself on the high quality of its work and service, for it is considered one of the leading institutions of its kind in the state. The Eagle Laundry is known as "Fort Wayne's Wife Saving Station," because of the service it renders the housewife. The work of a good many Fort Wayne women as well as that of the women of small towns around here is considerably lightened by it.

The company was the first to motorize its delivery equipment and the first to install a Wayne Water Softener of industrial type for the purpose of supplying pure, soft water at all times.

In connection with its laundry work, it has a towel and cabinet supply service. This furnishes towels and soap to many offices of this city and supplies most of the barber shops and beauty parlors with towels and chair covers, all of which are thoroughly sterilized in the process of laundering.

The offices of this firm have always been staunch supporters of the southern part of the city having lived all their lives in this community. Especially proud do they feel of Fort Wayne's school system and of South Side high.

The officers are H. E. Metzner, president, and R. W. Metzner, secretary and treasurer. Both their families contribute to the South Side schools. Mary Louise Metzner is a student in the Hamilton school, while Margaret Metzner is a junior and Dean Metzner a sophomore in South Side high school.

Fitch, Fishing & Lumbard.

Just recently the Fitch, Fishing & Lumbard Insurance Agency was formed by the merging of Fitch & Fishing Insurance and S. C. Lumbard & Company.

The business of Fitch & Fishing was established in 1902. This agency does every kind of insurance business known in the commercial world.

The officers of this new corporation are as follows: C. B. Fitch, president; George W. Fishing, vice-president and treasurer, and Clifford M. Carter, secretary. There are five office girls working for this agency.

The business has grown to a very large proportion. The office is found at 208 Tri-State building.

This agency hires only those who are well qualified. Some of the qualifications necessary for positions with C. B. Fitch are good health, industry, accuracy and thoroughness, initiative, pleasing personality, expert typing ability, good shorthand, spelling, composition, and mathematics.

The officials do not have any children in South Side high school. Mr. C. B. Fitch has a daughter in Central.

Mr. Fitch said: "I think South Side is a splendid school. You certainly have pep in both your school work and athletics and are very industrious. I think you have a good paper and a fine team."

Medical Protective Company.

The Medical Protective Company of Fort Wayne, Indiana, has built for itself a distinctive place in the enterprise of this city.

It is an insurance company of national scope operating in every state in the union. Organized twenty-six years ago for the purpose of providing professional protection to physicians and dentists, it is the originator of its line and the pioneer in its field. During all of these years it has been, and is now, the only organization in existence exclusively engaged in its specialized endeavor.

Its remarkable growth and reputation have established The Medical Protective company upon a basis of financial strength and service integrity as sound as any American insurance company of any class.

In the minds of the medical and dental professions everywhere, malpractice insurance and Fort Wayne are synonymous. Both occur on the thought of either.

The company employs nearly one hundred people, occupies a large part of its own building at Berry and Webster streets and brings hundreds of thousands of dollars into Fort Wayne every year.

Byron Somers, president of the Medical Protective company, highly commends South Side's faculty and student body, and particularly praises the Times and the Totem. He heartily congratulates South Side on her recent journalistic honors.

Mr. Somers' daughter, Dorothy, is a pupil at South Side.

Gilmartin Lumber Company.

The Gilmartin Lumber company, 117 Murray street, was begun thirty-four years ago, under the leadership of E. F. Gilmartin. From 1890 to 1912 the business was under the direction of Mr. Gilmartin, changing to a partnership in the latter year. For twelve years a partnership existed, and in 1924 the company was incorporated. The officials of the company are: M. J. Gilmartin, president; E. F. Gilmartin, treasurer, and F. J. Gilmartin, secretary.

"The only employees of the company who would be benefited by a college education, would be those in the office," E. F. Gilmartin said. "A few more, perhaps, would find value in specializing in some subject. For instance, the foreman in the carpenter shop needs a great amount of mathematical training."

"I have always thought a great deal of the South Side high school," Mr. Gilmartin went on. "It is not only producing an excellent scholastic record, but it is also endeavoring to build up athletic records, equal to the scholastic records. It is indeed a wonderful school."

Thelma Hurst, who was absent a considerable length of time before Christmas because of illness, has returned.

MANUAL ARTS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT FIRST MEET

Ernest Warner, Hoagland School, Chosen President; R. M. Spaulding, South Side, Sec'y-Treas.

The Manual Arts club elected officers at its first meeting held Thursday, January 15, at the Chamber of Commerce. Those chosen were: Ernest Warner, of the Hoagland school, president; R. M. Spaulding, of South Side, secretary-treasurer; C. O. Mays, of Central, publicity agent; G. H. Russell, of Central, chairman of the program committee.

The purpose of this organization is to promote a better understanding among the teachers, so that more effective work may be done and also to acquaint the general public with the work of the Manual Arts department of the schools.

The club at present includes the seventeen manual arts teachers of the Fort Wayne schools. It is planned to invite the teachers of Allen county schools that teach this line of work.

The club meets at the Chamber of Commerce on the second Thursday of the month.

GOOD NOTE BOOKS KEPT IN SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Exceptionally good note books were kept by students in the science department last term.

Those in Mr. Gould's classes are: Thelma Bireley, Esther Roush, Ase-nath Rodabaugh, Helen Rastetter, Marvella Reitz and Elizabeth Kline. Phil Rahe, Edward Bourns, Junior Groth, Ruth Kettering, Maynard Patterson, Beatrice Rieke and Noble Sprunger are those who kept the best notebooks in Mr. Hull's classes.

RULES FOR NEW PUPILS

1. All slips for absence or tardiness are issued in Room S.
2. An excuse for all absence stating time and reason is required on return to school. Only sickness is excused absence.
3. Failure to return absence slips the same day issued, means remaining 9th period the following day.
4. Tardiness is not excused.
5. All pupils are required to be in their seats at ringing of second bell.
6. Slips are not issued for lockers during study periods.

Library Rules

For the benefit of new students entering the school this semester the following rules are published: Sign the correct number of your seat in study hall for the period you are in the library. Do not bring text books to library—use library books and magazines only. Do not leave them on the tables, remember others wish to use them, too. If you cannot find what you want, ask the librarians; they are there to help you. If you wish to take a book home be sure to have it charged at the desk.

Times Receives Compliment

We find in the pages of the Nautlius, published by the Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. high school of Philadelphia, this compliment: "South Side Times—We are inclined to agree with the statement, 'Best High School Paper in the U. S. A.' This is the nearest to the 'real' thing we've seen. Good luck to you."

Algebra Contest Conducted

An algebra contest will be held at the Weatherwax high, of Aberdeen, Washington, this month. It will be conducted to see who is the best student in this subject. In a preliminary contest anyone making a grade of 80 or above will be eligible for the final contest.

WOUNDED VETS GET S. S. GIFTS

South Side Grades Send Wounded Veterans of War Christmas Stockings.

The South Side grade school students sent stockings filled with Christmas gifts to the inmates of the U. S. Veterans hospital No. 97, Chillicothe, Ohio.

Many letters of thanks have been received from the wounded veterans. This interesting letter was received by a student in the 1-B:

My Dear Master Charles:
Your very appreciated Christmas gift coming to me in the big red stocking arrived Christmas morning and it certainly brought a full measure of Christmas cheer.

I want to thank you Master Charles from the bottom of my heart and to you I extend a heart full to overflowing of best wishes for a long and useful life filled full of success, happiness, and prosperity.

Just a few lines about myself:
Before the war I was salesmanager of a wholesale paper company in California.

I took part in four major battles in France, Chateau Thierry, Belleau Woods, Saint Mihiel, and the Argonne Woods. I was wounded in the side and shoulder at Saint Mihiel on October 17, 1918.

I have been in the Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C., two and one-half years; and in this hospital since August, 1924. I expect to be discharged in January, 1925.

Again extending to you my best wishes for a very Happy and Prosperous New Year, I am Yours sincerely,
F. W. Spaulding.

POWERFUL QUINTET WILL BATTLE GREEN HERE SATURDAY

N. MANCHESTER "DOPED" AS SURE STATE FINALIST

Team Composed of Veterans Who Went to Indianapolis Last Year; Game Will Battle

WARDMEN WILL PLAY SHELBYVILLE FRIDAY

Campbellites Considered Member of Big Ten; Also Took Part in 1924 State Final Tourney

Friday's Game
Wabash, 30; South Side, 27

Two of the strongest teams in the state will be met on successive nights this week by the fast stepping Emerald Clads. The Green will play at Shelbyville Friday night against the famous Campbellites and on the night following the Wardmen will return home for a tough set to with the powerful North Manchester quintet.

The North Manchester game will interest the fans most since it will be a home game, but the one with Shelbyville will attract plenty of attention throughout the state. Both opponents are generally picked as members of the Big Ten, while many enthusiastic rooters from the northern part of the state are naming the North Manchester quintet as the likeliest team north of Indianapolis to win the state title this year.

Has Strong Team

Fans who saw the North Manchester team here in the regional last year were able to understand why that outfit was able to pile up such a big total against the Kelly Klads who the latter played at North Manchester. The team was composed of big fellows who played smoothly and confidently. The whole team was good. The North Manchesterites caused much favorable comment when they played at Indianapolis in the finals, even though they were not able to go far. Several of the big fellows are back this year and are going better than ever.

That they compose a "mean" quint is illustrated by the score of 72 to 8 that they piled up against Wabash last week on their own floor. This score in comparison with the South Side-Wabash score does not give a fair comparison of the North Manchester and South Side strength as the North Manchester floor is really the huge stage in their gymnasium and is confusing to teams not accustomed to the setting. South Side played Wabash on the latter's floor and fans know that South Side is best on her own big smooth expanse of hardwood.

The North Manchester tilt will undoubtedly test the Wardmen to the limit, but, irrespective of how it turns out, will be the best of preparation for the approaching tourneys.

Shelbyville Still Good

The Shelbyville game will be hard. The trip back and forth will not be the best preparation for either Friday or Saturday night's battles. The Campbellites are a new team on the South Side schedule, but are by no means unknown. Last year they set the state on fire with their playing, but because of their over-conviction fell an early victim in the state finals, though most all of Shelbyville migrated to Indianapolis, hoping to see Tim Campbell's boys annex the state championship.

The Camels are not rated quite as high as they were last year, but are always mentioned when the best teams in the state are spoken of. The trip and the foreign floor will be a handicap to the Green, but the Wardmen will be out to win as a victory will give them state mention as a probable dark horse.

Currie will be able to get into a uniform this week but will take some time to get back into condition, as his long illness has greatly weakened him. Doc was able to be up and around yesterday but is still far from his usual self.

SPORT GUSH

If this column was surrounded by a wide black border, it would surely express our feelings.

Still, it was Central's turn to win.

And, it was a good game.

Don't you just love to see the gym when it's chuck full o' people?

And did you see Mr. Schafer all dressed up in his white suit leadin' the band? Mr. Schafer, why don't you wear that white suit all the time?

We sat on pins and needles waiting for Central to spring a surprise. (They always do, you know). And we were agreeably thrilled when their "good-lookin'" cheer leaders changed from dark suits to spotless white one for the main game.

Those cards telling which yell is to be executed surely help a lot for organized rooting.

Didja notice Chester Wyneken a the Blue-Green game? He was literally "clothed" in the new in Sch-badges. Y'see, he had them pinned all over him. By the way, how do you like those badges? Aren't they cute?

Well, we guess there won't be any peace until Valentine's Day, when the Tiger will try again to bite the Ward-does' ears off.

Varsity material in abundance is foreseen for next year. In addition to the regular varsity substitutes, Ad Grodrian and Bill Rastetter showed most fight and pep among the newcomers.

A snake dance between halves on the playing floor, does not help our newly refinished hardwood a bit!

LOGANSPORT WINS FROM SOUTH SIDE

Captain Brubaker Carries on, Though Ill; Currie and Willson Disabled

SIMON LEADING SCORER

South Side entered the game against Logansport in a terribly weakened condition caused by the illness of Captain Brubaker, Willson, and Currie. With these three stars absent from the lineup Coach Gilbert was obliged to use reserve strength which was too weak to match the skill of the fast Logansport team. The Logansport team defeated the Green after a most fiercely fought game by a margin of six points, 23 to 18.

Captain Brubaker was put in the game in the waning moments. The South Side leader instilled much fighting spirit in his teammates but the time was short and the Logansport players had him covered on every turn. Brubaker got but one shot at the basket. It was very evident that the South Side captain was not in condition to play and had it not been for his fighting spirit he would have never entered the game under the circumstance in which he had.

Simon, who was filling Brubaker's shoes at forward, was the leading scorer of the evening for South Side. He hit the basket for three field goals and a pair of free throws. Sprunger, who took Currie's place, was next in rank with seven points. Thiele at backguard broke up Logansport's plays time after time. Thiele's good defensive work under the basket kept Logansport's score from mounting high.

Wissinger was the big gun on the Logansport team. His all-around ability to advance the ball down the floor by dribbling or passing was the main feature in the visitor's team play. His keen basket eye netted his team ten points including three field goals. Pettit, the husky backguard, was a demon on defense. He never let the South Side forwards have an easy shot at the basket. He had wonderful ability to break up shots and take the ball off the backboard.

Logansport started the scoring when Rice sneaked around South Side's defense for a short shot. Wissinger duplicated a moment later. The Green broke the ice when Wissinger fouled Thiele who made good his attempted free toss. Wissinger added three points for Coach Wells' boys on a field goal and a free throw. Simon was sent in for DuWan and went to scoring immediately when he pierced Pettit's defense for a field goal. Simon later added a point on a foul. Rice added a pair of points on charity throws. Rahe cracked the basket for a field goal. Wissinger scored from medium range before the half ended. South Side was trailing 12 to 8 at the half time.

Sprunger opened hostilities in the final period when he scored a point on Wissinger's foul. Thiele fouled Pettit and Logansport's stock soared two points higher. Rice came through with another field goal. Simon added a point to South Side's total. Sprunger made another point when Hupp was charged with hacking. The combination of Wissinger, Terry and Rice marched down the floor three times and scored that many field goals. Logansport had at this time amassed a total of twenty-one points. South Side was in the background by ten points. Simon went on a rampage and scored two field goals for the Green. He went the limit of the personal foul route and Captain Brubaker was sent in to take his place. Wissinger made a point on Rahe's last transgression of the personal foul rule. The South Side fans went wild when they saw their hero being injected into the game. Sprunger hit the basket from long range. He cut the visitor's lead to four points on a free throw. Logansport stalled with a few minutes to play. Kendall touched up the Logansport count when he made good a free throw by virtue of Wiener's foul. Final score: Logansport, 23; South Side, 18.

Win the First Game of Inter-School Series In Two Years By the Score of 25 To 18

3200 FANS FILL GYM TO SEE ANNUAL FRAY

The Blue and White Reserves Emerge Victorious After Close Game With Green Seconds

After being the victim of every Green and White onslaught in the city high school basketball series for two years, the Tiger of Central with its usual fight against itself for one evening at least, when it humbled the Green and White by the score of 25 to 18.

The South Side gym was crowded to capacity with a crowd of over-enthusiastic spectators and rooters of the two contesting schools. After the din caused by yells of encouragement and pleads had been finished, shouts of triumph and sobs of defeat were heard from the respective rooting sections.

Central was a worthy winner. The Tigers displayed more real basketball and fight than they did in former years. While the South Side defense had Nobles tied to post, the small but mighty Diehl cut loose with some good basket shooting and floorwork which spelled disaster for South Side's hopes of victory. Jasper kept up his good work and dropped in three pretty field goals.

South Side's playing was irregular and at times ragged. In the first half South Side put up a fight that kept the Tiger worried the full route. Brubaker, Rahe, and Thiele were South Side's luminaries. Brubaker inspired his teammates when after trailing by eleven points at one time during the first half he broke away for three field goals in less than two minutes' time. He started a rally which threatened Central's lead. In five minutes time South Side scored nine points and held Central to a free throw and a basket. The first half ended 16 to 10.

Coach Mendenhall of Central has a husky, rangy combination of speed and good basket shots that will develop into a most formidable aggregation. Nobles, Jasper, and Kowalczyk are tall and can play the game over the heads of most players. Nobles and Jasper played a good game against the Green in floor work and basket shooting. Kowalczyk played an air-tight game at back guard. He allowed only a few follow-shots and even at medium range, he kept the South Side shots hurried and which naturally caused erratic shooting.

The Game Play By Play

DuWan missed from the center of the floor. Nobles fouled but Sprunger missed the one shot. Thiele held and Baker counted the first point of the game. Jasper tipped one in from beneath the basket. Referee Olsen caught Brubaker holding and Jasper counted making the score Central, 4; South Side, 0. Diehl dribbled under for a two-point marker and South Side called timeout. The Blue stands were in a frenzy with the Tiger leading 6 to 0. Diehl snaggled a long side shot as play was resumed. Baker took the tip off from Kowalczyk and made a short one after some snappy passing with Diehl. Jasper dropped in a long one and made the count Central 12, South Side 0. It was Central's largest lead of the game and the Blue rooters were half delirious with joy at the prospect of an easy victory.

Nobles held and Rahe counted South Side's first point with a free throw. Brubaker dribbled under for a basket. Thiele tripped Nobles who counted one of his two tries. DuWan tipped one in from beneath the basket. Sprunger dribbled under to count and Captain Brubaker connected from out on the floor. Score: Central, 13; South Side, 9. It was the green-tinted section's turn to cheer and it almost raised the roof. Central took time out to halt the rally. Coach Mendenhall sent in Scott for Baker and Coach Gilbert retaliated by replacing Brubaker with Simon. Diehl connected for a free throw as play was resumed and Kowalczyk missed one. Diehl took a pass for an easy shot under the basket and made it. Sprunger made a free throw. Buck went in for Nobles. DuWan missed two free tries as the half ended 16 to 10 in Central's favor.

Second Half

Shortly after the half started, Thiele passed directly into Diehl's hands and the little forward sent Central's score up two points. DuWan counted on Scott's technical and Diehl came back with two points on DuWan's personal. Referee Olsen caught Jasper and Thiele in a mixup and called a double foul. Thiele registered but Jasper missed. Score: Central, 20; South Side, 12. Brubaker made a sensational basket. Diehl and Jasper each missed short shots under the basket. Sprunger held Nobles, who missed his one try. Scott fouled Thiele, who missed both tries. Baker went back in for Buck. Rahe dribbled under the basket and connected on a pretty shot. Rahe held Scott, who missed two tries. Thiele held Nobles, who made one out of his two attempts. Scott made a sensational basket from near the foul circle. Baker took a pass for an easy shot under the basket but missed in his anxiety to count. Kowalczyk fouled DuWan, who missed his one try. Jasper tipped one in and South Side again took time out. Score: Central, 25; South Side, 16, with six minutes to go. Wiener went in for DuWan and Simon for Sprunger. Sprunger was missing many shots. Rahe made one underneath the basket for South Side's last score. Wiener held Scott who missed his one try. Referee Olsen called a double foul on Thiele and Nobles and both missed. It was Nobles' fourth personal and Diehl replaced him. Jasper and Diehl

NET TOURNAMENTS ARE AWARDED FORT WAYNE

Sectional Tourney Will Be Played March 6 and 7; Regionals March 14

Fort Wayne has again been awarded the sectional and regional basketball tournaments according to announcement made Friday from the office of A. L. Trester, executive secretary of the I. H. L. A. A.

Sixty-four sectional centers have been chosen where net aspirants will combat on March 6 and 7. The sixty-four sectional winners will then compete in eight regional centers on March 14. Two teams emerging from each regional will journey to Indianapolis in quest of the "state champ crown." Here play will take place on March 22 and 23 in the Exposition building. The state will be arranged to hold 10,000 fans.

The regional centers with competing sectional winners are as follows: FORT WAYNE—Angola, Auburn, Columbus City, Kendallville, Warsaw, Decatur, Elkhart and Fort Wayne.

ANDERSON—Anderson, Greenfield, Indianapolis, Muncie, Newcastle, Noblesville, Portland and Winchester.

EVANSVILLE—Evansville, Jasper, New Albany, New Harmony, Princeton, Tell City, Vincennes and Winslow.

FRANKFORT—Attica, Clinton, Crawfordsville, Danville, Frankfort, Lafayette, Lebanon and Raub.

GARY—East Chicago, Kentland, Laporte, Mishawaka, Monticello, Plymouth, Rochester and Valparaiso.

KOKOMO—Flora, Huntington, Kokomo, Marion, Montpelier, North Manchester, Peru and Royal Center.

MARTINSVILLE—Bainbridge, Bedford, Bloomington, Brazil, Franklin, Linton, Sullivan and Terre Haute.

RICHMOND—Columbus, Connersville, Madison, Richmond, Rushville, Seymour, Shelbyville and Versailles.

FACULTY CAGERS LEAD INTER-CLASS TOURNEY

Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores Tie at End of Third Round; Teams Play Well

The third round of inter-class basketball was played January 8 with the seniors, juniors and sophomores tying with two victories and one loss and with the faculty leading with the highest percentage.

The class teams are showing a good brand of basketball, making the games faster and closer. The seniors easily defeated the reserves, 26 to 13; faculty defeated the sophomores, 20 to 12, and the juniors defeated the freshmen I, 19 to 13.

The following is the standing of the teams:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Faculty	2	0	1.000
Seniors	2	1	.667
Juniors	2	1	.667
Sophomores	2	1	.667
Reserves	1	1	.500
Freshmen II.	0	2	.000
Freshmen I.	0	3	.000

both missed several attempts in an unsuccessful mixup as the gun sounded.

Referee—Olsen, Gary.

Reserve Game

Central's other half of the double victory was won when the Tiger reserves dropped the South Side seconds in a hard-fought preliminary by a score of 30 to 28.

It was a game of thrills all the way with the second teams fighting with all the vigor of its first string brethren in the feature game. The lead switched from one side to the other with neither team ever leading by more than four points. Central led, 16 to 13, at the half.

The accurate basket shooting of Hockemeyer and Manth featured for the winners and the dribbling of Rastetter and net sniping of Staley for South Side. Lineup and summary:

Central		South Side
Hockemeyer	.....F.....	Richendollar	.....
Stiegler	.....F.....	Fleming	.....
Troyer	.....C.....	Staley	.....
Manth	.....G.....	Rastetter	.....
Lehman	.....G.....	Martin	.....

Field goals—Hockemeyer, 3; Stiegler, 3; Manth, 2; Troyer, 2; Nulf, 2; Fleming, Staley, 6; Dehaven, Grodian.

Free throws—Hockemeyer, 2; Stiegler, Manth, 3; Richendollar, Staley, Rastetter, 4.

Substitutions—Bayer for Stiegler, Kessler for Troyer, Mills for Lehman, Troyer for Kessler, Lehman for Mills, Nulf for Richendollar, Lighthill for Fleming, Grodian for Rastetter, Dehaven for Martin, Richendollar for Nulf, Rastetter for Grodian, Martin for Dehaven.

SOUTH SIDE DEFEATS MONTPELIER CAGERS

Green and White Wins in Closely Contested Game; Score 33 to 31

South Side won a hard-fought, closely contested game at Montpelier by the score of 33 to 31. The Green was leading at the end of first half, 18 to 11. Coach Gilbert was without the services of three of his star players, all of whom had won awards in basketball previous to this season. The men who were not in the lineup because of illness were Captain Brubaker, Don Currie, and Jim Willson. The Green and White jumped into the lead at the very outset of the game. With a lineup which had been thought to be weak South Side showed more form than it had in a long time. DuWan, Wiener, and Rahe kept up a steady bombardment of the goal during the first half of the game. Simon was sent in for DuWan and scored a field goal before the half was over.

Coach Gilbert made several substitutions at the start of the second half. Montpelier opened up with a pretty offensive and threatened to overtake the South Side lead. The gap was nearly bridged when Sprunger cut loose with a fusillade of baskets which kept his teammates in the foreground. The Green and White floor guard dropped in three long shots and added an extra point on a free throw. Thiele hit the basket from long range in the final period. Miller, Look, and Hoskins led the Montpelier attack. The final score was 33 to 31.

The lineups and summary:

South Side		Montpelier
Rahe	.....F.....	Hoskins	.....
Wiener	.....F.....	Miller	.....
DuWan	.....C.....	Look	.....
Sprunger	.....G.....	J. Walsmuth	.....
Thiele	.....G.....	R. Walsmuth	.....

Field goals: Rahe, Wiener, 3, DuWan, 3, Sprunger, 3, Thiele, Hoskins, 2, Miller, 5, Look, 3, R. Walsmuth, Corcoran.

Free throws: Rahe 3, Simon, 2, Sprunger, 2, Thiele, 2, Hoskins, Look, 2, R. Walsmuth.

Substitutions: Staley for Rahe; Simon for DuWan; Rahe for Simon; Corcoran for J. Walsmuth; McGrath for R. Walsmuth.

BLUE FIVE WINS TWO FIRST I.H.S.A.A. GAMES

Central Tigers Capture Close Games from Young America and Warsaw Quintets

Central, 48; Warren, 31

The Central cagers emerged victorious over Young America and Wabash in their first I. H. S. A. A. games of the season by 31-25 and 36-30 counts.

In the first contest the Tigers lead at the half 24 to 8. The rally of Young America in the second half nearly spelled defeat for the Central five, who were saved only by the score piled up in the first period. Jasper and Nobles starred for the Blue with five and four goals respectively, while Dunkin counted fifteen points for Young America.

The Blue and White squad overcame the Warsaw quintet in a nip and tuck game for the second win. Kowalczyk, star center, scored ten points for the Blue, while Nobles and Jasper connected for four goals apiece. Central lead at the half 22-15.

Lineup for Warsaw game:

Central		Warsaw
Nobles	.....F.....	Aker	.....
Diehl	.....F.....	Helwig	.....
Kowalczyk	.....C.....	Snyder	.....
Jasper	.....G.....	Guesso	.....
Baker	.....G.....	Loot	.....

Sport Shorts

Two tournaments again! Two vacations again! And then another trip to Indianapolis! Who could want more?

The two tourneys this year will not fatten the athletic treasury as much as formerly, but we're prepared to enjoy them as much.

At the next South Side-Central game there ought to be a pre-preliminary, so that the long wait will not seem so long.

Did you notice the tap-offs in the Central-South Side game. Hank was doped to have it all over Jerry, but our center, though two inches shorter, got at least an even break in the jumping honors.

The Exposition building, in which the state finals will be staged, will hold 20,000 rooters. Will see you there!

Currie and Theile Expected to Team Together Again Saturday

The "Old Guard" will probably be seen again on duty Saturday night for at least a part of the North Manchester game. The "Old Guard," in the minds of the South Side rooters, consists of Doc Currie and Bill Thiele. floor guard and back guard de luxe, respectively.

Currie has been getting a lot of publicity lately for what he hasn't done, for the hardwood flash was laid out for over a week by Old Man Grippe and the fans have been bemoaning his absence from the line-up. Currie was undoubtedly missed in the Central game for his floor generalship and basket shooting would have helped in wiping out that five-point margin. Currie played in all three of the games last year in which the Green colors floated above the Blue at the end of the games.

Sprunger is playing a whale of a floor game, but his marksmanship has slumped in the last few games. He is still young in the game and has not had the chance to pick up many of the points of the game that Currie has gained in his longer experience.

Thiele has "been himself" all year, stopping everything that has come his way, in addition to being a constant threat on the offense. He has been a bulwark of defense all year and has earned himself a reputation as being one of the best back guards ever seen on the local floor.

Betty Fonner entertained the members of the Rose Bible class Wednesday evening at her home on Woodview avenue. After enjoying Progressive bunco, the following girls were served a delightful luncheon: Margaret McClintic, Martha Sherman, Marjorie Homsher, Betty Rider, Mary Sherman, Ruth Parks, Ruth Parks, Ruth Pawlisch, Bee Hugenard, Mary Hale, Margaret Crosbie, Katherine Homsher, Agatha White, Betty Hackney, Mrs. Fonner, and the hostess.

A surprise party was given for Ruth Watkins Tuesday night at her home on South Calhoun street, the occasion being her birthday. Bunco and dancing were the main features of the evening. Those winning prizes in bunco were Mary Travis, Thyra Jurgensen, Morrel Travis and Ronald Matlock. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served. Those who attended this delightful party were the Misses Thyra Jurgensen, Virginia Pollock, Louise Pollock, Agnes Watkins, Beatrice Hugenard, Lillian Springer, Mary Travis and Morrel Travis, Walter Schmidt, Vernon Daseker, Cyril Wilson, Howard Welsh, Warner Buesching, Ronald Matlock and Edgar Frange.

Mildred Grosvenor entertained a number of her friends at her home recently. Bunco and dancing were enjoyed during the evening, after which a delicious luncheon was served to Mildred Chenoweth, Mary Sherman, Marjorie Homsher, Betty Rider, Martha Sherman, Virginia King, and Katherine Homsher.

Evelyn McGinley and Evelyn Miller spent the Christmas vacation at Warsaw, where they attended the Phi Delta Kappa dance.

Marcella Smith entertained a number of her friends recently at her home on the Sandpoint road.

Louise Ryberg entertained recently in honor of her house guest, Prudence Rombeau, of Pittsburgh, Pa. A delightful dinner was served at 6 o'clock, the color note being carried out in yellow and white. Bridge was enjoyed during the evening. Guests at this affair were Hazel Sloan, Mary Barnes, Ruth Albright, Helen Masters, Mary Anders, Mable Spath, Margaret Hemrick, Caroline Ryberg, William Benard, Harold Smith, John Freiburger, Ralph Hagb, Carl Exley, Ernest Pargman, Elwin Price, Charles Hilker, James Carlson, Orie Arlin and the honored guest.

Mildred Crane was hostess at a lovely party given recently at her home on Park avenue. Bunco was played during the evening and prizes were awarded to Lucile Dutton, John Sauer and Alfred Kohlbacher. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served to the following guests: Helen Minnich, Lucile Dutton, Alice Molett, Cora Miller, Madeline Childs, Betty Lowery, Josephine Guinn, Alfred Kohlbacher, Irvin Snyder, John Hodze, John Crane, Meredith Jones, John Sauer, Morgan Jones, Earl Lowery.

Clara Sherbondy entertained in a most-delightful manner last Friday evening. Bunco was played during the evening, after which the hostess served a luncheon, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white. The guests at this delightful affair were Lottie Dignan, Clara Henline, Nina Richardson, Helen Payne, Gladys Payne, Mildred Shook, Hazel Sloan, Velma Puff and Lorna Frauenfelder.

Helen Gaskins entertained Wednesday afternoon with a bridge party of lovely appointments. Bridge was played during the afternoon, after which dainty refreshments were served. Guests at this delightful affair were Rose Joseph, Betty Faye, Mary Palk, Helen Mitchell, Margaret Fredericks, Ruth Wemhoff and Lulalia Cook.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

Few of the seniors have obtained their class activities blanks to fill in for their individual Totem write-ups. The senior editor begins today to compile this section and must have these blanks properly filled.

They may be obtained from Deane McAfee in the office and when returned are to be put in the Totem postoffice box in the library. Senior honor roll, class play and other honors won during the spring semester will be put on by the senior editor, as has been done in the past.

Today, with short periods, is a good time to get it done.

DO IT TODAY!

SPEAKER IS CHOSEN FOR GRADUATION

tin will go either to Rockford or the National college in Chicago. Martha Brown will work until fall when she is going to Indiana university. William Weddle will perhaps take the Indiana University extension course. James Newell is not certain but believes he will go to some college. Arthur Sprandel will work a year and then enroll in the Indiana pharmacy school.

Arta Jamison intends to be a typist in some bank. Kathryn Diggs is going to continue working at Wolf and Desauer's and later, perhaps, at the Journal-Gazette. Howard Kronmiller and Charles Meyer are going to work. Rose Kronmiller, Clifford Mann, Garth White, and Walter Trautman are as yet undecided.

MANY USE MUSCLE IN FOLDING TIMES

Circulation Manager Calculates Movements Required To Prepare Paper for Distribution.

Every Wednesday, in the "cage" by the hallway which leads into the girls' shower rooms, several hard-working girls and boys report for the purpose of folding the South Side Times.

These students give up their pleasure in order to fold the papers and to furnish the Times' subscribers all the satisfaction possible.

"How many movements of the hand does it take to get the Times ready after it is placed on the press until it reaches the hands of the agent when calling for them?" This was the question placed before the circulation manager the other day by an interested subscriber.

"Well, it takes just 22,094 movements of the hands to get the paper ready for distribution by the agents and about 7,000 more movements are used in preparing some papers for the mail, making a total of about 29,094 motions," was the reply, after a little figuring.

If this figure be divided by seven, the number of people kept busy in folding the papers, it takes, at an average, 4,683 movements of each person folding and preparing the Times for distribution, which is done for the sake of aiding the subscribers.

The persons who fold the Times are: Clara Sherbondy, Mary Palk, Elizabeth Zoll, Flora Baer, Maurice Miller, Robert McAfee and Chester Wynken. Several persons help type the wrappers for the mail.

HARRISON STREET FITTINGLY NAMED

Boulevard So Called Because of Frequent Visits of Young Lieutenant Harrison.

Harrison street, now a boulevard, is usually thought of as a through street rather than as a historical spot. Although many cities can boast a Harrison street, few deserve it as Fort Wayne does.

About 1794, William Henry Harrison, a young lieutenant and aide to General Wayne, visited and helped in erecting the stockade at Fort Wayne. He, too, is credited with the plan used to defeat the Indians at Fallen Timbers.

Harrison became secretary of the Northwest territory in 1796, and in 1800 became the first governor of Indiana territory. He was often in Fort Wayne, where many memorable treaties were made.

During the war of 1812, he led his troops to the garrison at Fort Wayne and drove off the savages who had been besieging the fort for two weeks.

About twenty-five years later he became the ninth president of the United States, after being a United States minister to Columbia.

Do You Know

The cost of the construction of South Side high was $811,672.29, $53,619.23 being spent for the stadium and $69,326.29 for the equipment, such as chalk, erasers, desks, and chairs.

$80,000 is paid for the upkeep of the school yearly by the school board from the fund raised by city taxes. The repair bill for 1923 was $38,178. $8,100 was spent for 1,800 tons of coal, $7,209 for light, gas and water. The remainder was paid for painting the halls, the new dressing room for use of the stadium, and various smaller items.

The total salaries of the teachers and janitors are large expenses that must be paid by the board annually.

Meals Served By Class

One of the most interesting features of the home science course of the Northern high school, Detroit, is a series of dinners given by the members of the class. Each girl selects her menu, prepares the dinner and acts as hostess, while two other members of the class serve and wash the dishes.

The English VIII classes of both Mr. Null and Mr. Makey were entertained (or instructed) by victrola records of famous English poems. Mr. Makey furnished the victrola.

McCURDY'S LEG BROKEN WHEN TWO CARS COLLIDE

Howard McCurdy received a broken leg in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon at Calhoun street and Wildwood avenue. Howard was riding on the running board of Hubert Hayner's car with several other boys, when the car was hit by another, pinning McCurdy's leg between the running boards of the two cars.

He was rushed to the Lutheran hospital, and after an examination it was found his leg was broken just above the ankle.

The doctor stated last evening that his leg would have to stay in the plaster cast for six weeks, then gradually he could begin to walk about, but it will be quite a while until he can return to school.

TIMES CAMPAIGN GROWS STEADILY SINCE THURSDAY

Several Hundred Paid Subscriptions Have Been Secured; Two Rooms Reach 100 Per Cent Mark

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN IN STUDY HALL

Many More Subscriptions Are Expected During the Next Few Weeks

The Times subscription campaign which was started last Thursday has totaled up until Tuesday, several hundred paid subscriptions. Agents have been working hard and great increases have been shown daily.

Lottie Dignan, agent for room 61, and Mary Monroe, of room 22, have already made their rooms one hundred percent. Several more are near this mark. Room S has responded wonderfully this term, better than it has ever done before.

Promissory notes are issued today to all pupils who wish to take the paper and have not already subscribed. The room agents and their respective rooms are as follows:

HI-Y REPRESENTATIVES CONFER AT CONVENTION

Local Clubs Send Four Members To Attend Hi-Y Meetings During State Meet

That the Y. M. C. A. has entered a "new day" and that the outlook for the future is most hopeful was the key-note of the state convention of that organization, held in Elkhart last week-end, said the local delegates, Bud Beck, Ralph Welch and Harold Bridge. At the conclusion of the program on Sunday evening, a gift of $50,000 was announced as initial contribution toward a Y. M. C. A. building at Elkhart. A campaign to raise a total of $400,000 was instituted by the gift and plans for erecting a magnificent structure are being made.

"Fort Wayne ought to be proud that it has two first rate Hi-Y clubs," say the three South Siders and Page Robinson of Central. "They are among the lives in the state, and have fostered for several years a Sunday afternoon forum, the only one in the state. Kendallville became so enthusiastic about the plan and the results it accomplished that Mr. Brunson and perhaps several fellows are going to Kendallville Sunday to lead in their first forum."

The Hi-Y leaders' meeting was very instructive, each dealer telling what his club had done during the past year. Some had organized new clubs in adjoining towns, some had "gospel teams" which took over entire church services, and one had started a movement in bettering the morals in its school.

The main speaker of the opening banquet was Judson G. Rosebush, of Appleton, Wisconsin, a nationally known industrial financier. He pointed out again and again in his speech that the opportunity of the Y. M. C. A. is becoming broader and broader, and that the Y. M. C. A. is capable to seize the opportunity.

Operetta Books Expected

The books of the new operetta to be given this year have been ordered and are expected to arrive some time next week. Rehearsing for the cantata will start soon after the special program to be given by the two glee clubs is over. The cantata will be presented May 15.

Study Light

Light is the subject the physics II classes are now studying. Work on sound and music was completed early this week.

OFFICERS OF U. S. A. ASSUME NEW DUTIES

Two Discussions Enjoyed; Virginia Hackney Plays Piano Solo

The official Girl Reserve candle service was held for the installation of officers of the U. S. A. club last Monday in room 24. Those who will assume their duties at the next meeting are Virginia King, president; Virginia Hackney, vice-president; Mariel Baals, secretary, and Elizabeth Suter, treasurer.

Virginia Hackney began the program by playing a piano solo. Miss Simons led a questionnaire on "Points Girls Ought to Know About the Girl Reserve Club." A general outline of plans for this term was discussed by the members. The plans as yet have not been completed. An informal discussion was held in an effort to find a way to increase the membership.

"We hope to have very interesting meetings and a large membership. Also urge that many of the sophomore and freshman girls attend the next meeting," said Miss Rinehart, an advisor of the club.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS WIN MEDALS FOR WORK

Twelve Will Receive Awards; Point System Used as Basis of Receiving Rewards

To Hubert Beck, '25, goes the honor of receiving the first gold medal to be awarded to anyone in South Side journalism work on the Times. Four students have won silver awards: Maurice Miller, Cornelia Bader, Pauline Baumgartner, Chester Wyneken, and Helen Crawford. William P. VanNess, Lottie Dignan, Lucile Grosvenor, Mary Hale, Olive Prince, and Dorothy Schiefer are the six who have earned bronze tokens.

Miss Harvey explained the point system early in the fall to her journalism students, and revealed a method, partly devised by Hubert Beck, whereby each student could tabulate the number of points he had earned each week by work on the Times. A student with a total of 1,500 points would receive a bronze medal, one with 3,000 points a silver medal, and a student who had acquired 5,000 points would secure a gold pin. If a student, however, accomplished the work of a highly meritorious nature while holding a position of a certain rank, he will be rewarded at the option of Miss Harvey.

Hubert Beck, editor-in-chief of the 1925 Totem, has devoted so much time to the publications and has offered so many valuable suggestions for their improvement, that he is certainly deserving of a token for his excellent work. He has been an active worker on the publications for three semesters and now holds the coveted title of student counselor.

Chester Wyneken, who holds two important positions on the Times, that of circulation and business manager, has earned a silver pin. Maurice Miller, former business manager, who relinquished his position because of his heavy course this semester, will also receive a silver pin. The work of both Cornelia Bader, former editor, and Pauline Baumgartner, ex-advertising manager, has been of such a worthy nature as to warrant the award of silver pins to them. Helen Crawford earned enough points to give her the silver award.

All of the bronze pins were awarded for earning 1,500 points.

FRESHMEN WILL BE ASKED FOR TOTEM PLEDGES SOON

Circulation Manager to Appoint Agents; Expect Subscriptions from Yearlings

The campaign for Totem subscriptions among the new freshmen will start next week. Room agents have been appointed for the freshmen and the first period. The circulation manager hopes to secure at least one hundred subscriptions in this campaign.

The campaign conducted before the holidays netted about seven hundred paid subscriptions. Over eight hundred people signed up, promising to subscribe. It is very desirable that those who have not made good their promises should do so at once. Also, those who have not completed their payments should do this as soon as possible.

An effort is being made by the managers and the assistants to bring in as many outside subscriptions from alumni and others interested in South Side. They ask the assistance of every South Sider to raise the subscription total to one thousand subscriptions.

SPECIAL STREET CARS FOR BASKETBALL FANS

"Fifteen or more special street cars will be sent to South Side February 14 for the South Side-Central game," said Mr. Sheldon, of the Indiana Service Corporation. He is very much interested in the game and hopes that this number of cars will suffice the needs of the fans attending the game.

Clay Work Done

Helen Crawford is making an elephant out of clay in the art department. Dorothy Martin is making a girl leaning over a pond. Lottie Dignan also helps the school by making posters for the different organizations in school.

LARGE PRIZES WILL REWARD GOOD ORATORY

Five Thousand Dollars Will Be Awarded in the Finals of the National Oratorical Contest

CONSTITUTION OF U. S. TO BE ESSAY SUBJECT

Contest Considered a Clean Cut Contribution for Better Citizenship

The National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, which was conducted in the secondary schools of the nation last spring, under the auspices of representative newspapers, is to be repeated on an even larger scale this year.

"From now until the middle of March, South Siders can write their essays," says Mr. Makey, who has charge of the contest here. Around the middle of March the school orator will be selected.

Any student from South Side, under nineteen years of age on February 1, 1925, is eligible for entrance in the contest. The orator must be original, must not require more than ten minutes for delivery, and must be in any one of the following subjects: "The Constitution," "Washington and the Constitution," "Hamilton and the Constitution," "Jefferson and the Constitution," "Marshall and the Constitution," "Madison and the Constitution," "Lincoln and the Constitution."

The Indianapolis News, which sponsored the enterprise in this state last year, will, in co-operation with the Indiana Bar association, be its sponsor this year.

The national awards for the 1925 contests will be $5,000, divided as follows: First, $2,000; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $500; fifth, $400; sixth, $350, and seventh, $300.

Arrangements are under way which may mean the distribution of more than $12,000 in awards in Indiana. This amount is offered by the Indianapolis News. A grand state award of $500 will be given to the boy or girl who through the series of elimination contests, becomes the state champion, and five other awards—the one of $250, one of $100, and three of $50—will also be given in the state finals. All awards below the state finals will be financed by the local units of the Indiana State Bar association in conjunction with individuals and co-operating civic bodies. The prizes for each county will be $50 for first, $25 for second, $15 for third, and $10 for fourth place.

The United States is divided into seven zones for the contest, and Indianapolis is the competition center for the Central States zone. Six territories are set off in Indiana, while each is composed of a specified number of designated congressional districts. These districts will have a competition center designated for elimination of the county representatives.

From March 30 to April 3, contests will be held throughout the country to determine county representatives. Contests to determine district representatives will be held from April 13 to 17. The state finals are on April 24, the zone finals on May 1, and the national finals on May 8.

"Few movements in the history of American education have received such widespread commendation and support as the National Oratorical Contest. It was largely because of numerous and insistent requests from outstanding individuals and organizations that it was decided to repeat the contest, which has no commercial features and is treated throughout as a clear cut contribution for better and more intelligent citizenship," says the Indianapolis News.

Over 1,000,000 students in approximately 14,000 secondary schools participated in last year's contest. The final contest was held in Washington. The president of the American Bar association, Mr. R. E. L. Saner, presided, and President Coolidge delivered an address. The judges of the contest were the secretary of state and four associate justices of the supreme court of the United States. The final contest this year will again be held before the president and supreme court.

Miss Vivian Jenkins, of Martinsville, who is now a student in Butler College, won the Indiana final last spring. Marjorie Matlack was the only contestant from South Side who entered the contest, but more will enter this year.

NEW OFFICERS OF PHILO TO BE INSTALLED MONDAY

Pep Meeting To Be Held Remainder of Time; All Members Urged To Pay Dues

The installation of new officers and a pep meeting are to be the principal features of the next Philaethian society meeting to be held February 9, in room 10.

The club song and yells are to be learned for the annual banquet in March.

All members are urged to bring their dues to this meeting. Several girls have not paid their last semester's dues, and they are asked to bring them Monday.

Student Re-enters

Clarence Szink, a former South Sider, re-entered South Side high school Monday.

BULLETINS POSTED IN DIFFERENT WAY

Mr. Makey Puts Oratorical Contest Notice On a Board Made of Steel

A bulletin board is one of the most recent additions to Room 144. It is a wonderful affair with a deep green background for the bulletins. Although it has been in that room for an entire term, no one saw it until last Monday.

This board is different from other bulletin boards because it is made of steel and is really in three sections, each one numbered. "As you enter the room number 2256 is seen high up on the first section. At present this section is empty. Then comes number 2255, which holds the concluding part of the article which starts on section 1. This section is numbered 2254. All bulletins are pasted onto the board with push pins, little red and white stickers. The plans for the second national oratorical contest are now held by the stickers."

BOOKSTORE CLOSES WEDNESDAY NOON

Shortage of Science Books Forces School to Sell Books Two Extra Days

STUDENTS SAVE MONEY

Due to a shortage of physics, economics and domestic science books, the school book store was kept open until yesterday noon, after which it was necessary for students to go to the administration building to get books. According to previous plans the bookstore was to close after the ninth period last Friday.

Approximately $1,800 worth of books were sold during the first week of the spring semester.

The parents saved approximately $250 on books bought at school. It was to effect such savings that Mr. Ward had the bookstore started a year ago last September.

Mr. Parks, who handled the books, worked periods during the first week of school, as well as two and one-half hours before school. He taught no classes the first two days, but put in eighteen periods of work.

When Mr. Parks was unable to take care of the bookstore, it was taken over by Mary Monroe. He was also helped by Ed Perkins, who unpacked the books and arranged them on the shelves.

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT SO-SI-Y MEETING

Committee Chairmen Are Chosen; Programs Announced and Given to Members

The newly elected officers of the So-Si-Y were installed at the meeting February 3.

Those who now have charge of the meetings are: Elizabeth Schmidt, president; Lucile Grosvenor, vice-president; Mildred Kesterson, secretary; and Ruth Eickmeyer, treasurer. The president together with Miss Thorne, faculty advisor, and Miss Simmons, secretary of the girl reserve department chose the committee chairmen. Vesta Johnston was selected to head the service committee; Gertrude Schuelke was placed as chairman of the membership committee; the social activities are in charge of Thelma Gasser, and Mary Pocock leads the publicity committee.

The other members of the committees will be chosen by the chairmen before the next meeting.

During the meeting the programs for this year were distributed among the members.

The program for the year is as follows: February 3—Installation. February 17—Land Beyond the Ranges. March 3—Land of No-Play. March 17—Treasure (Our Land). April 14—My Land!! April 28—Treasure (Our Land). May 12—Memory Land (Grace Dodge). May 26—Greenland (Installation—Picnic).

WHO REALLY MAKES THE TIMES?

Is it the staff, or is it you?

Your likes and dislikes are responsible for about seventy-five percent of it. The rest of the load rests on the staff in trying to supply your demands. Doubtless, many of you never realized this fact. If that is true in your case, stop to consider. Do you like Billy Stiff? Do you enjoy the Mirror? Do you look forward to reading the Southern Spice column? Do you have ideas for any new features, cartoons, or novel issues?

You can deposit your ideas, objections, Southern Spice, or society news in the Times' box, found in the west entrance to Room 8, or Room 20, the Times' metropolis. Your assuming this responsibility will more truly than ever make

ROLL OF HONOR IN FALL TERM SETS NEW MARK

Ninety-Eight on the List; Seniors and Juniors Lead With Thirty and Twenty-Seven

NINE STUDENTS SHOW FIVE A'S TO PARENTS

Roll Contains Names of Sixty-Two Girls and Thirty-Six Boys

The largest honor roll in the history of South Side was announced yesterday by Mr. Harris. There are ninety-eight names on the list. The seniors, with 30, head the list. The juniors follow closely with 27. The freshmen come next with 21, and the sophomores are last with 20.

The honor roll has increased greatly as these records show. The number of seniors honored this year exceeds those last year by 11 and 1922 by 16. The freshmen surpass those last year by 7 and have four less than 1922. The sophomores gained 10 since last year but have the same as in 1922.

The honor roll contains the names of 62 girls and 36 boys.

Raymond Ewell, Carl Rohrer, Margaret Welsh, Pauline Baumgartner, Thelma Bailey, Mary Pocock, Gertrude Schuelke, Mary Hale and Helene Poellinger made 5 A's. Thirty-nine made 4 A's and fifty made 3 A's. Out of the one thousand one hundred and sixteen pupils enrolled here 9 per cent of that enrollment made the honor roll.

The honor students are as follows:

Seniors	A's

'QUEST OF THE BEST' WILL BE DISCUSSED

Ruth Knatz and Miss Anna Lewis Will Lead Last Forum of This Series

"Quest of the Best" will be the subject for discussion at the last Forum of this series to be held Sunday, February 8. Ruth Knatz of Central will be chairman, and Miss Anna B. Lewis dean of the girls at Central, will be the leader.

"Customs Versus Convictions" was discussed at the Forum held Sunday February 1. Hubert Beck occupied the chair and Rev. James Strachan, of the South Wayne Baptist church, was leader. Those present came to the conclusion that customs were the result of convictions, and that there would be no customs without "pioneers" in convictions.

Helen Crawford gave a reading entitled "Invy."

A picture of the Forum was taken. About one hundred high school people were present.

Plans for another series of Forum are under way. This will probably consist of four or six meetings.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED AT JUNIOR HI-Y MEETING

Fred Peirce, President; Foster Newell, Vice-President; Craig Laubenstein, Secretary

Another graduation semester has forced a change of officers in the Junior Hi-Y.

Election of the new officers took place after supper at the last meeting and the South Siders that attended made the nominations quite a political affair. The majority favored Fred Peirce for president; Foster Newell for vice-president; Craig Laubenstein for secretary, and William Baer for treasurer. All the officers are earnest workers, and were members last semester. "A good selection of officers," informed Mr. Hamilton, the boys' secretary.

Fred Peirce, the new president of the Junior Hi-Y, has much ability as a president. He was secretary of the club last year, although he ran a close race for president. Fred is a sophomore and has been a member of the Junior Hi-Y ever since he entered high school.

His job for the semester is told in the following outline made last semester:

- Feb. 4—Initiation.
- Feb. 11—Valentine Party.
- Feb. 18—"Lincoln's Chances and Ours."
- Feb. 25—"Clean Speech."
- March 4—Open.
- March 11—"Pets."
- March 18—"Anthony Wayne."
- March 25—"Why Join the Church?"
- April 1—Guess what (?)
- April 8—"Value of Track Athletes."
- April 15—Nomination of new officers.
- April 22—Election for next fall.
- April 29—Installation.
- May 6—Closing meeting.

Like South Side, freshmen?

Are you reading your own Times?

All books bought. All fees paid. All programs fixed. Now let's work.

"A smile though it costs us nothing, may win for us a fortune." Keep smiling.

Some students are already grumbling over their teachers. Probably vice versa, too. But remember that in making out the programs, we had a choice of teachers but the teachers had no choice of us.

The News-Sentinel for Wednesday, January 28, said, "It is almost a sure gamble that a Fort Wayne five will be one of the two teams to go to the state tourney from the Fort Wayne regional."

However the question arises for us to answer. "Shall it be Central or South Side that goes? We don't know; we can't find out; no one can be certain; but we have a mighty strong hunch as to who it will be. How about it, team?"

Have you the courage of your own convictions? Have you a backbone? Most of us have spaghetti where the backbone is supposed to be. But the question is whether or not we can stiffen up the spaghetti. Now we may be easily persuaded by some one else against our own convictions, and we may let some one else do our thinking for us, but what are we going to do when we have no one to lean on—when we have to stand alone. We don't know. All we can say is that some people live and learn, others just live.

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men." We recognize two kinds of verbal nonsense, humor and wit. Webster defines humor as the mental faculty of discovering, expressing, or appreciating ludicrous or absurdly incongruous elements in ideas, situations, happenings, or acts; in other words it is the expression of droll imagination. Wit, though given as a synonym of humor, is different.

It is abrupt, darting, scornful, and tosses its analogies in your face; but humor is slow and shy, insinuating its fun into your heart. Wit is more purely intellectual and implies swift perception of the incongruous. It consists typically in a neat turn of speech by which disconnected ideas are unexpectedly associated, often as being senses of the same word. Humor shows greater sympathy, geniality, and pleasantry and less of keen cold analysis. Thackeray called humor a mixture of love and wit.

Wit is evident in loud laughter, and true humor, in still smiles, which lie far deeper.

The cross word puzzle has captured the minds of the fickle student body and even some of the faculty are among the puzzle hounds. Vamps and jazz languish for lack of attention. Even they hunt for cross words. The great intellectual project, nowadays, instead of the proof of geometrical proposition or anything of that class, is the cross word puzzle. The poor, benighted fans rack their brains all night for a particularly hard combination—a three-letter word which is the plural of "am," beginning with "a" and ending with "e." They search through dictionaries, histories, books on synonyms, dead languages, encyclopedias, etc., etc., to find this word. Maybe they find it, but maybe they don't. If they do, they are wonderfully elated—until the next puzzle; if they do not find the required word, they are grouchy.

The electric light company has reported a greater consumption of light than ever before, and some say that the telephone company is establishing the automatic telephone because of such persons as call their friends and want to know what kind of animal it is that has a trunk, neck, and so on, and begins with "e."

In spite of all this, there is some good to these puzzles. People are learning to spell again, even if, in the learning, they ruin a lot of sweet dispositions. When they get on a street car, they pay their fare and retreat to the "innocuous," "desuetude" of a seat in the rear "alcove." Still, all words aren't so bad as these. So, never mind, fans. Though cross word puzzles may be a fad, they do have some educational value and you aren't absolutely wasting your time when working them.

A Mite of Verse

THE MACHINE AND THE MAN

I.
All day he stands before the grim munching
And awaits to feed its jaws insatiate
That twist and bend like any brute's elate
With easeful plenty. Yawning, he has seen
The wheels and cogs revolve, the belt glide round,
Has heard the subdued grind of metal at part
On part. In morning ever loath to start,
At evening ever glad to lose the sound
Which bears the tale of his most slight delay
Throughout the factory—but he has found
A comfort through the longest, drear
est day:
Though his employer he has never
seen,
His head it is he feeds to his machine.

II.
The mystic hands of those whose fertile brain
First visioned levers, wheels, and made them serve
As infinite projections of man's nerve
And muscle, shortening the savage
reign
Of the primal beast in man, and ushering in
An age when reason tempered nature's pains
And founded arts through surplus of man's gains
Those hands through others—all who helped to win
Man's freedom from dependence upon chance,
And helplessness before assailing
brutes,
And impotence to wrestle with the earth
For food and metal, over circumstance Triumphant, guide my feeble hands which shoot
The shuttle through the loom their minds gave birth.
—Herman O. Makey.

FIRST PARTING

Five years I've watched him play and grow—
Sometimes so fast, sometimes so slow,
And never till today I knew
How much of me into him grew.
I'm proud to send him off to school;
My silly heart pangs I must rule:
When he is gone I'll vent my grief—
Where is a dryer handkerchief?
—Herman O. Makey.

Read A Bit

Richard Carvel, hero of the book by that name, spends his early life in Maryland, where he is brought up by his grandfather, an ardent supporter of King George. He meets the lovely Dorothy Manners, who is shortly sent to London to make a brilliant marriage. Kidnapped by pirates, captured by Paul Jones with whom he enlists, and his reunion with his lady love make his career a varied and romantic one.

"Life of Alice Freeman Palmer," founder of Wellesley college, "Son of the Middle Border," "Boy's Life of Mark Twain," "Florence Nightingale," "Marie Antoinette," "In the Days of Queen Victoria," are some biographies that are sure to interest you.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

Best Yell of All

To the Editor:
Proposition I:
Theorem: If our yells are led by one person they are better.
Given: The South Side gymnasium filled to capacity with rooters and yell leaders during a game.
To prove: That the yells are better when led by one person.

Proof:
Well, I have at last arrived at the main part of this open letter. I hope by this time you have in mind the yelling at one of our games. The case which I am going to cite took place at the South Side-Logansport game. In all the yells except one, two or three people led the yells.
I will admit that the yelling was good to a certain extent; but when Bob Hanna stepped out and led the yelling by himself, the yell surpassed all yells we have ever yelled.
This, I think, is sufficient to prove that our yells are better when led by one person.

THE SCHOOL BAND

Why a boy should join the school band.
It gives him martial training without inciting war-like ideas; it is militarism with war left out; it teaches discipline, precision, obedience, attention; it develops group feeling, co-operation; it gives more pleasure along useful and practical lines and produces a whole lot more of real satisfaction than by spending the same amount of time, running wild with so-called gangs, perhaps spending hours at vicious pastimes.

While the boy is practicing and drilling he is not so apt to acquire the habit of the poolroom and soft drink habit, using profanity and falling into other mischievous actions. The boy with musical training is not an easy prey to the vice that so often fastens themselves upon the idle young fellow.

Belonging to the school band insures him against being lonely and ill at ease for something to do; it provides him exercise as well as restful pleasure and inspiration.

Most every boy in the grade schools, possessing the least bit of inclination towards music, should take advantage of the band instructions so that he will be prepared to enter the band at the time of his admittance to the high school.

An Honor Study Hall

Believing South Side high capable of conducting an honor study room, Mr. Harris asks that the idea be discussed among the student body, and says that such a room will be put in operation if it is wanted. When the grade schools move to their own new building during spring vacation, several rooms can be transformed into small study halls.

Mr. Harris' Plan

"There would not be attendance checking or a teacher in charge," he says, "as I am sure that if the right class of students are admitted, there will be no need for either. Members of the honor room need not attend, if they so wish."

In Other Schools

Many attempts have been made by other schools to further the "democracy" idea. There are various forms of student government and student control. An extensive "honor system" has been instituted in some places. Pasadena (Calif.) high school has a merit system, each student starts a semester with 100 points, adding or detracting to them according to his conduct, studies, participation in activities, and so on. The whole idea is based on development of self-reliance, honesty, and citizenship.

Results Accomplished

We read that success has been fair in most schools. The biggest problem is the person who willfully takes advantage of weaknesses in the system that cannot be strengthened. Some people deliberately cheat during an "honor" examination when students aren't numbered odd or even and when the instructor's back is turned. Some refuse to talk when questioned by student authorities. Some are antagonistic to those in charge and hinder them whenever possible. Of course, ideal conditions in government never can exist.

Advantages of Privileged Membership

If a means of allowing only those students who will conduct themselves properly to be members of the honor study room group, the hindrances of troublesome members will not appear and a quiet concentration atmosphere will prevail. If a member knows he can be removed from the group and be put back in Room S, he will not disturb his neighbors under any circumstances.

The Problem

But how can deserving students be selected? Should Miss Chapin, Miss Shulze, and Mrs. Thompson recommend candidates? Everyone would wish to be allowed to be a member. Once a group is established, it might be possible to meet once a week, say every Friday during the ninth period, to vote members out and in. For the persons that study in the honor room should determine those who should study with them, otherwise ruffians might be admitted. But who will choose the first members? And who would be considered as deserving to be voted in, and who voted out? And who would conduct the voting?

The Solution

Mr. Harris wants the students to settle these problems. The best place for the presentation of opinions concerning the honor room is the Open Letters column of this paper. They should be written plainly and signed. Names will not be published if the writer wishes.

"Quest of the Best"

Concluding the first series of Forums, the Y. M. and Y. W. high school organizations announce the discussion of next Sunday afternoon as "Quest of the Best" with Miss Lewis, of Central, leading. The local Forum has been so successful that several of its organizers will go to Kendallville on Sunday to aid in establishing a Forum there. At present there is no other in the state. There are many enthusiastic boosters for the Forum who think it as interesting and instructive as it is unique.

A Good Resolution

Here is an inspiring message from Mr. Gamel, who came to Fort Wayne a year or so ago through the efforts of the Rotary club. You will remember him by his series of illustrated lectures on "Life," and by his personal talks. Although the form of the message is a New Year's greeting, its inspiration merits passing it on. He writes:

"I AM THINKING ABOUT YOU—because just a little while ago—we looked level into each other's eyes and, as man to man, talked—open hearted—about some of life's real problems; and I am wishing that this NEW YEAR may bring to you, in ever increasing intensity, the determination to really BE the most worthwhile man you've ever dreamed of being, and I want to be—

Your Friend,
FRANK H. GAMEL.

THE FRESHMAN'S LAMENT

Monday morning,
Seven-thirty o'clock,
Johnny is awakened,
My, what a shock!

Bewildered, dumbfounded,
He tries to arise;
Then back on his pillow
His head again lies.

Back into dreamland,
Oh, blissful repose,
When again from below
Mother's voice arose.

"Yes, Ma, I'm coming,
I'm hurrying, too."
Oh Monday, blue Monday,
How I do love you.

Now, where are my shoes?
I left them right there,
And I can't find my hat,
It was on this old chair.

My papers and books
You are hiding from me;
For look as I may,
Nary one do I see.

"Breakfast?" "No, thank you,
Some other time, Ma.
I'm late now for classes
But please don't tell Pa."

Sitting up above the masses,
On the bleachers of the gym,
Far removed from tests and classes,
He sees her and she sees him.

Nothing mars the peaceful setting,
Oblivious of the world are they;
Teachers, duties, all forgetting,
They, to them, are naught but clay.

Pray, do not disturb their dreaming,
Leave them, leave them, all alone.
For on them love's light is beaming
As it ne'er on others shone.

Mr. Null: "Now why does this poem remind you of spring?" (Last line of poem—"Cuckoo, jug-jug, pue-wee, to-witta-woo.")

E. Fishman: "Well in the spring a person naturally feels kinda light and airy and—and—a—"

Mr. Null: "And kinda cuckoo?"

The Cycle

Six years: Nice mans.
Nine years: Carry my books.
Sixteen: I'll ask mother.
Twenty: Drive faster.
Twenty-five: Do call me up.
Forty: Nice mans.

Belgie Knows!

A freshman went to Hades once,
A few things there to learn.
Old Satan sent him back again—
He was too green to burn.

Our father slipped upon the ice,
Because he couldn't stand.
He saw the glorious stars and stripes
We saw our father land.

WELL SPENT IF FOR TOTEM

How dear to our heart is the old silver dollar, when some kind subscriber presents it to view; the liberty head without necktie or collar, and all the strange things which to us seem so new; the wide-spreading eagle, the arrows below it, the star and the words with the strange things they tell; the coins of our fathers, we're glad that we knew it, for some time or other 'twill come in right well; the spread-eagle dollar, the silver dollar, we all love so well.

Bob: "Did you see Szink back at school?"

Pim: "No, but I heard him."

Miss Harvey (in journalism class): "The first row pass to the front board and put your heads on."

I do not like my prof. at all,
In fact I think he's punk;
He sharpened his pencil with my knife
To mark me down a flunk.

Mr. Makey: "What does 'What is it the night mean?' mean?"

Vesta Johnson: "It means what time of day is it."

SOME BEANS!

Mr. Schmalzried: "Everything is intellectual in Boston. Why, even the baked beans have had a course in (B)browning."

HOW STRANGE!

Miss Miller: "What was the population of the East doing during Jackson's administration?"

Dean M.: "Going west."

Miss Miller: "What did they do when they went out west?"

Dean M.: "They left the East."

STUDENT OF KOKOMO WINS
THIRD PLACE IN CONTEST

First Prize, a $15,000 Home, Awarded to Julia Groo, of Portland, Oregon

Third place in the recent National Home Lighting Essay Contest was awarded a Hoosier, John Patten Crawford, of Kokomo, Indiana. Julia L. Groo, of Portland, Oregon, won first prize, a $15,000 home equipped with every electrical convenience.

The essay winning first place in Indiana and third in the United States is as follows:

After studying the Home Lighting Lessons, I found that the present lighting system in my home is as inferior to proper modern lighting as was Lincoln's pine knot to the first incandescent lamp.

I discovered that the following changes should be made to supplant our present obsolete lighting system:

Starting with our living room (13x15 feet), the ceiling fixture is antiquated, the red-hot filament is discernable, the wattage too low, and the fixture is not evenly balanced. I should use, instead, a semi-circular dome of milk-white glass, containing four bulbs of fifty watts each, suspended from the ceiling by chains. A wealth of light would be distributed over the entire room, so diffused and softened as to prevent eye strain. The living room desk needs a flexible mounted desk lamp with a tubular metal shade, and with a 25-watt bulb. There should be a silk-shaded floor lamp, containing two 40-watt bulbs, placed near the piano. Our flexible-neck, metal-shaded reading lamp is adequate for its purpose, as the filament of the bulb is concealed, but I should suggest a table lamp with parchment shade and a 50-watt bulb for the davenport table. The living room needs two two-way convenience outlets mounted in the baseboard; also two more about three feet from the floor.

The dining room (12x14 feet) needs a well-shaded chandelier, open at the bottom, hung about four feet from the ceiling and containing a 100-watt bulb to replace our obsolete fixture, which absorbs the light on its dingy reflector.

I should have colored candelabra fixtures for the buffet, so shaded that the lights would not be reflected in the buffet mirror, and containing bulbs of low wattage, as these will be more for decoration than light. The dining room should have three two-way convenience outlets.

Our kitchen (12x12 feet) ceiling fixture is too low and does not diffuse the light into obscure corners. I should use a dense, milk-white, all-enclosing glass fixture, flat at the bottom, mounted at the center of the ceiling, containing a clear 100-watt bulb. As the kitchen is small, this will be sufficient, but we need three two-way convenience outlets, one in the baseboard and two about three feet from the floor.

The adjoining pantry needs a frosted glass shaded wall fixture, mounted near the ceiling, carrying a 40-watt bulb.

The bedrooms (12x12 feet) need ceiling fixtures with frosted glass domes and 75-watt bulbs to replace the present ones whose shades do not completely cover the bulbs. I should have well shaded wall fixtures with bulbs of 25 watts each, mounted on either side of the dressers. There should be a reading lamp for each bed, and three convenience outlets for each bedroom.

As the bathroom ceiling fixture has no shade and is inadequate, I should replace it by a fixture mounted on the ceiling with a 50-watt bulb and frosted glass shade. There should be well shaded fixtures of 50 watts each mounted on either side of the mirror; also three convenience outlets, one about three feet from the floor.

I should suggest that each closet be lighted with a 25-watt bulb so installed as to turn on automatically as the door is opened.

For the front and rear entrances I should have clear 50-watt bulbs, enclosed in glass and metal shades, the former mounted on the ceiling, the latter suspended on the right side of the rear door.

The back porch (enclosed) needs a 50-watt ceiling fixture with a metal shade. As we have no basement, this concludes my plan.

NEWS-SENTINEL VISITED
BY JOURNALISM CLASS

Twenty Times Reporters Take Tour
Through Newspaper Plant; See
Preparation of Publication

The beginning journalism classes of last semester were taken through the News-Sentinel recently. This trip was taken so that the classes could get an idea as to how commercial newspapers are managed.

The students were first taken through the departments on the main floor. There are found the classified ad and editorial departments. The giant printing press is also on this floor. Then they were taken to the second floor, where they watched the linotypes, Ludlow machines, and stereotypers in action. All the machinery was explicitly explained by those who acted as guides.

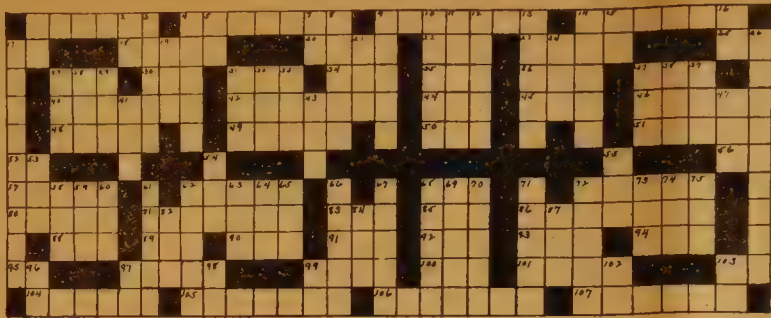

Those who took the trip were: Mary Hale, Margaret Welch, Helen Crawford, Eldora Colson, Mary Alice Tannehill, Gertrude Schuelke, Mildred Cune, Margaret Pocock, Mary Pocock, Ruth Egan, Lucille Grosvenor, Louise Pollock, Geraldine DeWald, Blanche Hall, Isabelle Guenther and Margery Burres.

Wins Dollar

Velma Puff, a graduate of South Side, had her saying, "Girls, do you know that each day you ride the cars you add another day to the life of your galoshes," hanging in the street cars last week. Her efforts were rewarded with a dollar.

Debate To Be Given

The first inter-class debate of the Fort Collins high school, Fort Collins, Colorado, will be between the seniors and the juniors, February 4, on the question, "Resolved, That the United States should join the World Court with the Harding Reservations." The seniors will take the affirmative side and the juniors the negative.

The cross word puzzle which appears in this week's Times was made by George W. Fishing, a member of Fitch, Fishing & Lombard, who last year purchased a half page advertisement in the Totem.

Mr. Fishing worked out the puzzle while confined to his home by illness. Shortly after completing the puzzle, Mr. Fishing was removed to Cleveland, where a goiter operation was performed. Mr. Fishing is still very ill.

Almost all the words used in the puzzle are terms used in high school.

Alumni News

Irene Hiler, Dorothy Bennett, Miriam Yoder, Manetta Schneider, Hil-dred Gruber, Ruth Wagner, Dorothy Verweire, Gladys Stringer, Paul Oliver and Verl Patterson, alumni, returned to Indiana University Monday morning after a ten days' vacation between semesters.

Eleanor McKinney, who is now attending DePauw University, was recently pledged Phi Omega Pi, National Eastern Star sorority.

"Red" Fromuth, '24, visited South Side last Thursday afternoon.

Adole Sundsmo and Nina Richardson, '24, have enrolled in a post-graduate course in typing and shorthand at South Side.

Cozette Garwood, '24, who is attending Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan, spent last week-end at home.

Dorothy Dix, '24, student at Miami University, returned home the latter part of last week.

Two former South Side honor students visited the commercial department last Friday. Walter Enz, '23, and Ralph Dornte, '24, are both Purdue students. Walter Enz is the best typist that has ever attended South Side. He gave a demonstration in the seventh hour class, writing 97 words a minute, from copy, without error. He has been out of school several years and is not in the habit of typing, as the only typing he does at college is matter for his own personal use.

Velma Puff, '23, won one of the first prizes in the ad writing contest held by the News-Sentinel.

Many of the alumni who are not going to school this spring are going to take Indiana University Extension work.

Theodore Huger, '23, editor of the Duffo Reflector, has received praise for his publication from Professor Richard Cordell, of Purdue University.

Visit County Institutions

The history and sociology classes of Hammond (Ind.) high school visited the county poor farm, the hospital for tubercular patients, and the jail at Crown Point and studied the conditions there.

Have Large Graduation Class

One hundred and twenty-eight seniors of the North Central high school, Spokane, Washington, received the greatest honor their school had to offer, their diplomas. This is indeed a large February class.

FAR-OFF STATIONS ANSWER
SOUTH SIDE WIRELESS SET

Richmond, California, Responds To Call of Operators, Hart, Windt and Racker

Operating successfully for the first time, the South Side high school wireless station called and was answered by stations from the Atlantic to the Pacific. They reached station GRQ, Richmond, California, and received an answer from there.

Those operating the station here were Kenneth Hart, Stuart Windt, and Kenneth Racker, with Mr. Hull supervising. As wireless sets can not be worked before 10:30 o'clock, on account of radio broadcasting, the operators did not get any of the stations until late.

A few of those reached were: 9HKV—Akron, Iowa. 8BSQ—Dayton, Ohio. 5ER—Memphis, Tennessee. 5ARB—Meridian, Mississippi. 5BK—Memphis, Tennessee. 6RQ—Richmond, California. Kenneth Hart was the one who got the California station.

"Our object now is to get England, and we are perfecting the apparatus now for that purpose," stated Mr. Hull.

Start Lunch Stand

Three students of the North Central high school, Spokane, Washington, have decided to go into the hamburger business. One boy will run the candy department, so as to entice the girls to spend their nickels there instead of the school cafe. They say they will not accept car tickets or stamps.

Agriculture Students Take Trip

To give agriculture students of Fond Du Lac high school first hand impressions of dairying and dairy products, subjects now being discussed in their work, classes in this course made a trip by sleigh to a farm. The head herdsman supervised a tour of the entire farm. The pupils received as souvenirs a half-pint bottle of milk.

GIRL RESERVE CLUBS HAVE RUMMAGE SALE

Great results are being accomplished by the rummage sale which is being held at 129 West Main street, sponsored by the Girl Reserve clubs of the city.

This sale opened on Monday, February 2, and will continue for two weeks. Rummage, such as dishes, curtains, men's clothes, children's clothes, sweaters, shoes, etc., will be gladly accepted during the next week.

Posters for advertising the sale were made by a window trimmer of Rurode's.

VIRGINIA PHILLEY-WITHEY GIVES TWO NEW PLAYS

"The Kleptomaniac" and "Who Is the Most Popular?" two one-act plays, will be presented February 6 at the Little Art theatre by Mrs. Virginia Philley-Withey. "The Kleptomaniac" is different from anything she has ever put on. It is much bigger and has a great deal of mystery connected with it.

Mrs. Withey is now in her new studio over the Jefferson theatre.

SOUTH SIDE BOOSTERS
BUY BASKETBALL PINS

Basketball badges were sold the week of December 20 to about three hundred South Side athletic boosters. These were worn at the Central-South Side game.

The badges are of celluloid and have a safety clasp. The badges are in the form of a basketball, with natural coloring. "South Side" is printed on them and green and white ribbons are fastened to the lower rim.

The Times purchased the badges at wholesale and the profits will be spent on the paper.

Films Shown

The physics class of the Auburn high school, Auburn, Ind., was instructed by an interesting and educational film. It gave every detail concerning how a four-cylinder Continental motor is manufactured. A film was also shown for the benefit of the physical geography class. These pictures concerned the process of getting rubber and making it into different articles.

Senior Play Announced

"Kempy" has been selected as the play to be presented by the senior class of the Huntington high school, Huntington, Indiana.

New Scheme Formed

The high school at Pedondo, California, has broken away from the old idea of having only two colors and has introduced a new scheme of having three colors.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENTS PURCHASE NEW LANTERN

New Type Of Screen Permits It To Be Used Without Darkening the Room

A new stereopticon lantern has recently been purchased from the Spencer Lens company, for use in all the science departments.

The lantern has a trans-lux screen. This screen is ideal for school room use because it can be used without darkening the room.

The stereopticon which was previously used did not have this kind of a screen, and it was quite difficult to get the room dark enough to show clear pictures on a sunny day.

When Mr. Voorhees was asked about whom the lantern was purchased for, he said: "It was purchased for the benefit of all the science departments, and for anyone else whom we can induce to try it." He added that it was especially for the biology classes.

PHILATHELIANS ENJOY MUSICALE AT SOMERS'

Dorothy McDougal, Helen Crawford, Mildred Berlein, Marjorie Matlack, Dorothy Somers Entertain.

Twenty members besides Miss De-maree, faculty advisor, were present at the Philatelic musicale, held at the home of Dorothy Somers on Packard avenue, Monday, January 26.

Readings, vocal and piano solos comprised the program, which was as follows:

Helen Crawford—"Now That Larry's on the Force," "Da Thief" and "Pastoral."

Marjorie Matlack—"Snowflakes," "Last Night," and "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Dorothy Somers—"To the Rising Sun."

Mildred Berlein—"The Last Leaf" and "Oh, I Dunno."

Frelina Fletcher—"Walster."

Dorothy McDougal—"Billy, Brad and the Big Lie," "Tale of Hard Times," "Last" and "Stell of the Movies."

City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne has celebrated its centennial, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note)

First National Bank

Mighty oaks from little acorns grow. Thus did the present magnificent building of the First National bank grow from a small, one-story rented building in 1835. This was first located on the south side of Columbia street, between Calhoun and Clinton streets.

Hugh McCulloch served as the cashier of our city's first bank. He earned the title of "the father of the National Banking System of the United States." The Fort Wayne bank opened with Allen Hamilton as its president and Hugh McCulloch as its cashier.

Two years later the business was removed to a two-story building at the southwest corner of Main and Clinton streets. This was the Fort Wayne branch of the State Bank of Indiana.

The First National bank was organized May 25, 1863, in the most gloomy hour of the Civil war.

The Hamilton National bank and the First National bank determined, in May, 1917, to unite their extensive resources and service into one magnificent enterprise, with combined resources of over $10,000,000, known at the beginning as the First and Hamilton National bank and now restored to the shorter name. It has resources now of more than $15,000,000.

The present officials are: C. M. Neizer, president; C. A. Wilding, vice-president; M. B. Fisher, vice-president; J. R. McCulloch, vice-president; H. A. Keplinger, vice-president; E. F. Yarnelle, vice-president; E. F. Scheumann, cashier; and C. H. Worden, chairman of the board.

In their wonderful new bank building are three beautiful paintings by Robert Grafton. At the south end of the lobby is a painting of "Building Fort Wayne." It depicts the building of the fort at the confluence of the rivers by General Anthony Wayne, in 1794. At the opposite end of this large public room, over the central doorway, is the second splendid painting by the same artist, entitled, "The Wabash and Erie Canal." This is a lively scene, full of color and action. It gives us a conception of the life of the forties and fifties in Fort Wayne at the beginning of transportation. Another painting of "The Coming of the Traders" is located above the mantel in the directors' room. These are paintings that all Fort Wayne should be proud of.

The First National bank wants employees who, besides being high school graduates, have had a business education. In regard to character, he must have absolute integrity and ability.

Mr. Neizer is very enthusiastic about South Side. He says, "We are all mighty proud of the South Side high school, and have observed with interest the wholesome impression it has made upon the educational life of Fort Wayne since its establishment. We like its aggressive spirit and are cognizant of the moral, educational and cultural gifts it is contributing to our community. We like the South Side boys and girls and wish them every success in preparation for the problems ahead."

Morris Plan Bank

"South Side high school has gained for itself an enviable reputation both at home and abroad. Every business institution in the city is proud of the school and the wonderful record it has made. This applies to its athletic activities and its wonderful school paper," said Theodore F. Thieme, president of the Morris Plan Bank when interviewed.

"The Morris Plan bank is glad it has been able to contribute something to the city of Fort Wayne of which it may well be proud. Our business is designed primarily to take care of the small borrower and saver," he continued in telling of the bank.

END OF WORLD FOOLS SIXTEEN

If End of World Comes Tomorrow Only Two Will Celebrate Birthdays.

Even though some people say that the world comes to an end tomorrow, we all hope for several more birthdays. If the world comes to an end tomorrow, only two of us will have birthdays before eternity.

Two days this week have no celebrants; the other days, together, have eighteen. Earle Brenneman is fourteen and Maurice Felger is seventeen today. Tomorrow there is one. On February 7, Floyd Flaig is fourteen and Harold Gebhart sixteen. After that day, Eddie Aldrich can learn how to vote. Clifford Baker is fifteen and Kathryn Twining and Otto Hans sixteen on February 8.

Jane Stringer is sixteen, Paul Kniffen and Mildred Scott seventeen, and Ethel Fishman eighteen next Monday. No one celebrates any birthday on Tuesday, but six will do so next Wednesday. Gwendolyn Harter will be fifteen, Harry Braden, George Dremer and Paul Marrs, all seventeen, and Lillian Rolf and Carl Rohrer eighteen on that day.

I. U. EXTENSION CLASSES BEGIN WORK NEXT WEEK

18-Pt.—I. U. Extension Classes . . . South Side Graduates and Teachers May Take Regular College Work for Full Credit

Seniors who completed their work for graduation last week and who do not intend to go to college until next September have an opportunity to earn college credits in Fort Wayne this spring by attending classes conducted by the Indiana University Extension Center. The classes begin on their scheduled nights next week.

A regular freshman college course consisting of English, French or Spanish, hygiene, physiology or eugenics, and mathematics or chemistry, is being offered. Other courses which are not strictly freshman courses that may be taken are: dramatic art, vocal expression, music, literature, public speaking, radio, accounting, and many others that are listed in the extension course bulletin. This bulletin may be obtained from the Extension Center office, which is located on the third floor of the Allen county courthouse. These credits are transferable to other universities.

A number of South Side teachers are also expected to take extension work this spring for the most part continuing courses that they began last fall. Some have announced their intention of beginning work in extension classes.

Two of South Side's teachers will conduct classes. Mr. Voorhees has courses in inorganic chemistry, qualitative analysis, and everyman's chemistry, which is a course of a non-technical nature. Miss Paxton will teach analytic geometry and general mathematics. Vernon C. Sheldon, who has coached the last two senior plays, will have classes in dramatic art and expression.

Central high school also has two teachers who conduct classes in the extension division. These are Miss Victoria Gross, Spanish and French teacher, and John A. Eising, mathematics instructor.

Other instructors are obtained from Purdue and Indiana Universities, and Indiana State Normal School, while others are full time extension lecturers. Regular college or university work is offered in the classes and full credit is given for work satisfactorily performed.

Have Old Student

As a person walks down the halls of the Addison high school of Cleveland, Ohio, he might see a man whom he might take for a teacher. However, he goes into the class-rooms and prepares for work as a pupil. He is a doctor who is studying for a state board examination and is a very earnest pupil. He is the oldest student in the school.

Have Stunt Day

Stunt day is an annual affair at Schenley high of Pittsburgh, Pa. It is staged by the mid-term grads who dress themselves in childhood garb. The boys wear white trousers and shirts with Buster Brown collars, which their friends autograph. Their neckties are the class colors. The girls wear red and white gingham dresses. In the afternoon a vaudeville show is put on in the auditorium.

Many Students Employed

The LaPorte high school, LaPorte, Ind., has twenty-seven per cent of their students employed in outside work.

"Morris Plan banks, of which there are over one hundred in operation in the principal cities of the nation, were organized about twelve years ago in order to give banking accommodations to the small borrower. Money is loaned at 8 per cent annum. Loans are usually made for a period of one year and are repayable at the rate of $2.00 per week on each $100 borrowed. This gives to the small borrower a long period of time and an easy method for the repayment of his obligation. In the short time that this company has been in operation we have made nearly 40,000 loans for about $5,000,000. Loans are made for any legitimate purpose.

"Our savings feature has attracted the large and small depositor for the reason that we pay 5 per cent on savings accounts. Interest is compounded semi-annually. This is 1 per cent more than is paid by any of the commercial banks in the city. Students would do well to investigate this feature of our business."

The president of the Morris Plan bank is Theodore F. Thieme; the secretary is Edward J. Lindman. The directorate is composed of Fort Wayne's prominent business men and bankers.

CLASS OF '24 TO GIVE GIFT TO SOUTH SIDE

Electric Scoreboard in Gym Is Being Considered as Suitable Gift to School

"The class of '24 is contemplating the purchase of the scoreboard in the gym as their gift to the school," stated Willis Carto, president of the class.

"We think this will be a gift appreciated by the school, and also useful to everyone who attends the games," he stated further. "However we may decide upon another gift which we consider more beneficial to the school."

John Koepf, president of the class of '23, said that that class had not yet decided upon its gift.

BOYS' PORTRAITS TURN TO BEAUTIES

Staff Casts Votes to Best Looking 'Girls' After Transformation Is Made.

Several members of the journalism class were grouped around the bulletin board in Room 20, eagerly watching a new notice being hastily put up by a fellow class-mate. The interested onlookers first saw three pictures being feverishly pinned to the burlap. Then came a sign which read "Beauty contest, put a check for your favorite girl on the paper beneath the pictures."

The brows of the onlookers began to knit into puzzled wrinkles, when the beaming worker paused, turned around to her few followers, and whispered a dozen words to them. A soft chuckle escaping from every lip would have depended into bursts of laughter, had not the sharp tingling of the bell cut into their mirth.

Those students, who had been "let in" on the secret, went to their seats and watched the students slowly filing in for journalism. It was more than mirth to see the students come in, gaze at the pictures of the three girls, take a glance at the conspicuous white paper beneath, and ask someone who had been informed of the contest. Harvey, who had been informed of the trick, repressed smile after smile, as eager glances from partakers of the plot shot her way.

After the period had ended a bold student put a check down for the girl he thought was the prettiest. Then followed a deluge of checks and heated arguments about the heart-shaped lips of the girl in the center picture. One commented on the clever bangs and dapper looks of another, and then the well-informed burst into prolonged laughter and said that underneath the red crayon representing rouge and under the pencil markings, which seemed to the uninformed to be the straight bows of girls, were hidden the suave and clear cut features of "Mademoiselles" Bud Beck, George Wyss and Chester Wyneken.

Those boys who had so boldly struck off checks on the paper, and who had teased about the girls' pictures, blushed furiously and left the room, leaving behind the echoes of a torrent of epithets hurled at the clever artist's hands who had created girls' features from the pictures of boys.

Ch nimble fingers of art! What canst thou not transform?

SLIDE RULE ARRIVES FOR USE IN ROOM 138

The long delayed slide rule, expected to be used in calculations in solid geometry, has arrived in Room 138, in charge of Miss Paxton. It is used to shorten the processes of multiplication, division, square root, cubic root and many other arithmetical processes. On Thursday Miss Paxton demonstrated it to her geometry I, II and III classes. Mr. Voorhees is also interested in having his chemistry students make use of it.

BULLETIN BOARDS POSTED IN ROOM 20 FOR STAFF

A new bulletin board has been put up in Room 20 for the benefit of the staff. Each week a copy of the Times will be posted, on which the reporters and advertising solicitors mark their contributions to that issue. By this points for awards are more accurately kept account of.

EATS IN CAFETERIA DRAW FRESHMEN

Heavy Lunches Are Consumed During First Week of New Semester.

Um! Those beans look good! Oh, dish out some of the macaroni! Oh, yes, I believe I could eat potatoes yet, too!

These are a few of the statements made by a freshman as he passed along the goodies in the cafeteria and selected for a lunch meat and macaroni and cheese, Irish potatoes, baked beans, and a steamed pudding.

Evidently something besides the general looks of high school had attracted this boy's eyes.

"In the majority of cases, during the first week of school, pupils' eyes are larger than their stomachs," stated Miss Dixon, director of the school cafeteria, "for they sample most everything," and eat to their heart's content.

As a rule it takes more food to serve the same number of people during the first week of a new semester than later on in the year.

One day last week two hampers of sweet potatoes and two bushels of Irish potatoes were consumed, while on an average only two and a half bushels are used.

Y. M. C. A. GYM CLASSES GIVE BIG DEMONSTRATION

Large Numbers Attend; Swimming Pool Open House and Demonstration Is Planned for March 20

More than five hundred persons were present at the mid-year demonstration of all gymnasium classes of the Young Women's Christian association which was given on the evening of January 30, in which about one hundred and fifty girls and young women took part. The demonstrations were in charge of Miss Laura Chandler, Miss Florence Pickard and Miss Esther Thomas.

The program was opened at 8 o'clock with a grand march. A dumb-bell drill, an interpretative dance, "The Fawn," apparatus floor work, a three-ring circus with boom, horse, ring and rope exercises, pyramids on rings and parallel bars, a drill carrying orange and blue wands, a folk dance, "Swedish Schottische," singing games, a flag drill, other interpretative dances, "The Greeting" and "The Scarf Dance," and marching tactics were all features that made up this unusual program.

After the demonstration the B. T. A. basketball team defeated the Hoosier Paint girls by a score of 17 to 7.

Plans are made for an open house and demonstration in the Y. W. C. A. swimming pool on Friday, March 20.

MUCH PAPER IS USED AT SOUTH SIDE HIGH

A large amount of paper has been used during the last semester. Mr. Harris, upon being interviewed, set the consumption at "something less than a ton and a half." Miss McAfee, who is well informed, made the statement that by far "too much paper" had been used.

There have been many uses for paper during the last term. Bulletins have been gotten out two or three times a week, vast amounts of paper were used for examinations, paper was usually kept in the library, and with the increase in size of the Times, more paper was used for that.

GRACCHI MEMBERS ENJOY PLAY, "A WORD TO THE Y'S"

Next Meeting To Be Held February Ninth; Sixty Members Present at Last Meeting

"A Word to the Y's," a little two-act playlet, furnished the entertainment at the Gracchi club meeting which was held Monday night, January 26, in the Y. W. club rooms. About 60 girls were present.

The play was comprised of nine members of the club. The cast was as follows:

Hannah Homeless	Mabel Boroff
Jenny Jobless	Mary Forker
Healthless Twins	Erma and Verma Fitch
Susie Styleless	Helen Benton
Bertha Brainless	Louise Reiter
Priscilla Peppless	Eva Meyer
The Nice Girl	Catherine Lott

HONOR LIST

Many people who have found articles in or around the school building have taken them to the office. Some of these persons are: Howard Swank, Kenneth Flaig, Maurice Crosby, Mr. Parks, William Batr, Vivian Mossman, Luther Pohl, Maxine Frazier, Evelyn Goddard.

*A grade pupil.

Miss Harvey's United States history classes visited the library during their class periods. The purpose of this was to get the pupils acquainted with the position of references and other books in the library. Miss Schulze told the class how the card catalogue was used and then she showed them the history references. They examined the magazine file also.

Miss Smeltzly has ordered outline maps from the McKinley Publishing company, Philadelphia, Pa., for all her history classes.

The boys of Mr. Chappell's lathe class are now making drawings of the exercises which they will make. They are also familiarizing themselves with the lathe.

The lathe classes are so crowded that it was necessary to form a ninth and tenth hour class.

SOUTH SIDE'S NEMESIS LAST YEAR PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

SOUTH SIDE HAS STIFF PROGRAM OVER WEEK END

Team Goes to South Bend Friday; Richmond to Stack Up Against Locals Saturday

RED DEVILS COMPETE IN 1924 STATE FINALS

South Bend Holds Green to 27-25 Win in Overtime Game Last Year

This week end brings another tough assignment to Coach Gilbert's basket tossers. Friday night, the Green will be in action at South Bend against the high school team which forced South Side to its utmost to win last season by a score of 27 to 25 in an overtime game. Saturday, the Green will renew hostilities on her home floor against the Morton high team of Richmond.

The Saturday night performance is expected to draw a full house for every South Side fan will want to see what kind of opposition South Side met in the state tournament last year. The Richmond team has been going great this season and has held its own against some of the best teams of the state.

The Richmond teams come from that part of the state which is called the hotbed of basketball. Anyone who has seen a team or two teams from the southern part of the state perform will know from experience that basketball is anything but a pass-word.

In the state tournament last year, Richmond had a team composed of probably the best individual players of the state. Kessler, who played at floor guard, was awarded the Gimble Cup as a token of being the best athlete showing a wonderfully high-grade of sportsmanship.

This year the Richmond team is composed of practically an entire new assembly of faces. Reeg and Kelsey have been playing at forward and have been going great. Williams holds down the pivot position. Voss and Brown form the defensive department.

Is Rated Best

The South Bend team which South Side meets Friday is rated as the best team in the northern part of the state. It holds victories over the best teams in that region and is counted upon as one of the sixteen teams to appear at Indianapolis at the state final tournament.

South Side will be in good condition for this week's games. Although the sledding will be rough, the Green is confident of adding two victories to its string. Rahe's ankle has come back to its original condition and this clever forward will be ready to resume his duties at the command of the coach.

It is probable that Coach Gilbert will start Brubaker and Willson at forwards; Wiener at center; and Sprunger and Thiele at guards. This combination has been setting a rapid pace in the past two weeks and much is expected of it in the next two games.

Lineups for Saturday night:

Richmond	South Side
Reeg	F.....Brubaker
Kelsey	F.....Willson, Rahe
Williams	C.....Wiener, DuWan
Voss	G.....Sprunger
Brown	G.....Thiele

WABASH BASKETEERS TRIUMPH OVER GREEN

Winners Trail at Half But Tally Fourteen Points in Second Period

The Wabash high school basketball team defeated South Side in a hard-fought and closely contested game by the score of 30 to 27 a week ago Friday night. Wabash trailed South Side until the middle of the second half, when it stepped to the front through the basket shooting of Cornell, who dropped in five field goals during the second half. South Side led at the half time by the score of 22 to 16.

South Side looked like a sure winner during the first half. The Green got off to a flying start and set a wicked pace throughout the first half. Although she blew many shots, she was piercing the Wabash defense for a multitude of easy, under-the-basket shots.

Entering the second half with renewed fight, Wabash completely checked the Green avalanche at the basket. South Side did not get away for the easy shots in the final period that she did in the opening half. With an offense that was more than South Side could successfully halt, Wabash led by her captain, Cornell, hit the basket from anywhere on the court and outscored the Green 14 to 5. South Side scored a field goal and three free throws during the second half.

Line-up and summary:

South Side (27)	Wabash (30)
Brubaker	F.....Ross
Rahe	F.....Vice
Wiener	C.....Cornel
Sprunger	G.....Bundy
Thiele	G.....Knee

Referee—Arbuckle.

JIMMY WILLSON GOES BIG IN RECENT GAMES

Jimmy Willson

Jimmy Willson is the most recent meteor to flash into brilliancy in the basketball world at South Side. And this meteor shows no sign of burning out or sizzling out. His game last Saturday was his best, and fans are hoping that South Bend and Richmond will be humbled this week partly by means of his marksmanship.

SOPHS CAPTURE FIRST INTER-CLASS TOURNEY

Three Small Tournaments Will Be Played to Determine This Year's Class Champs

The sophomores won the first of the three little class basketball tournaments to decide the girls' class champs of the school. They defeated the juniors in a fighting battle by a 26 to 16 score. If the sophs win another just they will be the official class champs for this year. The ruling is that whatever team wins two out of three tourneys will become the "champions." However, if no team wins two games, the winner of the last tournament will be the champs.

Gertrude Brouwer was the star, as she had eleven field goals to her credit. She broke the ice for the sophs in the first minute of play and after that the little girls, under Gert's leadership, piled up a comfortable lead and never were in danger. In the last half the juniors made a spurt, but were not able to overcome the score already stacked up against them by the younger Mildredites. Nobles and Koester, the sophomore guards, played a good, hard game and were instrumental in keeping the score of the juniors below twenty.

Ruth Watkins was the shining light for the juniors. She made six field goals for the honor of her team. The junior guards also performed their duty well. Both teams showed plenty team work and the passing of the girls was a feature of the game.

The line-ups:

JUNIORS	SOPHOMORES
Watkins	F.....Brouwer
Wager	F.....Merica
Bade	C.....Bauer
Fell	S.C.....Guebard
Huguenard	G.....Nobles
Bell	G.....Koester

Referee—Hadsell.

FIRST ROUND OF PLAY

The juniors and sophomores won the right to play in the finals of the tourney by defeating the freshmen and seniors last Friday. The junior-freshman match was a mild fray, ending in a 15 to 5 score. The seniors and sophs had a battle royal, and the little girls had to overcome a six-point lead to win by the 24 to 18 total.

Gertrude Brouwer again was the star of the afternoon. The little sophomore gathered in ten field goals and two fouls for the team. Maxine Schmieder, the veteran senior forward, plucked six goals from the scoring tree. The guards on both teams were plenty hard and played a clean game.

Ruth Watkins and Clara Wager divided the scoring honors for the junior class. The freshman team was knit together rather loosely and didn't furnish much opposition for the upper-class girls. The freshmen forwards had much difficulty in making the ball go in the basket, but as that was their first stiff game they are expected to improve much.

The line-ups:

JUNIORS	FRESHMEN
Watkins	F.....Foster
Wager	F.....Wilson
Bade	C.....Mossman
Fell	S.C.....Rank
Huguenard	G.....Miller
Baumgartner	G.....Hadsell

SENIORS

Schmieder	F.....Brouwer
Minier	F.....Merica

Stevens	S.C.....Nobles
Monroe	S.C.....Koester
Bales	G.....Nobles

GIRLS' TENNIS CHAMPS GET RACQUET AWARDS

The gold and silver tennis awards, which are miniature tennis racquets, were given to the girls by Miss Hadsell this week. They were won last fall by the champs of the singles and doubles tennis tournaments staged by the girls.

Maxine Schmieder won a gold racquet when she became champ of the school by defeating Gertrude Brouwer. Gertrude received a silver racquet which was the reward given to each runner-up. Mary Monroe also received a gold racquet, when she and Maxine Schmieder won the doubles championship.

However, Max only received one racquet as they were the runners-up in the doubles tourney.

Play To Be Given
"The Importance of Being Earnest," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the senior dramatic class Friday night in the auditorium of the Wichita (Kan.) high school.

MANCHESTER FIVE DEFEATS LOCALS

Game Forced to Overtime by 31 All; Score at End Is 37-35

WILLSON IS GREEN'S HERO

In a game in which the Green displayed her smoothest and without a doubt her best brand of basketball of the season, South Side met defeat at the hands of North Manchester in an overtime game by the score of 37 to 35. South Side led at the halftime, 19 to 18. The score was knotted at 31 all when the regular playing time had ended.

In defeat the South Side team exposed a new hero. The limelight was focused on the clever little forward, Jimmy Willson. Since his return to the game after he had convalesced from the gripe, this aggressive player has scored no less than twenty-three field goals against three of the best teams the Green has played. After registering eight times from the field at Shelbyville, "Little Jimmy" came through with nine field goals and the prettiest piece of offensive work seen on the South Side gym this season. Jimmy banged the basket from every conceivable angle on the court. He had the North Manchester defense baffled at every turn. His dribbling, reverse turning, and basket shooting was just about as nice as could be asked from any one basketball player.

However, Willson had two close rivals when it came to all-around playing. Deardorf and Kraning, the nucleus about which Manchester has built a most powerful quintet, carried the brunt of the Northmen's attack. Deardorf and Kraning were just about everything the visiting team possessed. Deardorf's floor work and basket shooting were outshone only by the brilliancy of Willson's spectacular treat. Deardorf counted six times from the field and four times from the charity lane for a total of sixteen points. Kraning registered five field goals and a free throw.

The two teams were the most evenly matched that ever opposed each other on the South Side floor. Not at any time did either team hold more than a four-point advantage. From the first whistle the game developed into a white heat which kept the frenzied fans on edge every minute of the struggle. As furiously as could be imagined, these two powers combated each other with neither team showing enough superiority to be picked the master. Exerting an offense that functioned like clockwork and a defense that was as impenetrable as a stone-wall, each team raced the length of the floor alternately in possession of the ball for forty-five minutes of the most intense net performance of the season.

The lead switched to and fro at practically every basket. The score was even with only forty-five seconds to go and with North Manchester in possession of the ball. The up-staters played a defensive game and for the five minute overtime period.

The Game

DuWan got the tip-off and South Side missed two shots at the basket. Kraning broke the ice on a free throw. Willson made the first field goal of the game on a pretty shot from the corner of the floor. The ball swished through the net without touching the ring. Deardorf made a pair of free throws on Sprunger's foul. Willson pushed the leather through the hoop from beneath the basket. Kraning registered on a short shot when he was left open under the basket. Willson was uncovered near the goal and he took advantage of the opportunity. Brubaker connected from the vicinity of the red line. Thiele tossed a free throw on Kraning's foul. Deardorf boosted his stock on a pair of free throws granted him on Brubaker's foul. Deardorf scored from short range. DuWan added two points from the foul line. Brubaker counted from under the basket. Thiele fouled. Deardorf again broke loose for a short shot. Wiener was sent in for DuWan. Willson connected on a long chance. Wiener scored from under the basket. Deardorf tossed in another from near the basket. Willson added two more points on a field goal as the half ended. South Side was leading 19 to 18 at the end of the half.

Kraning put his team ahead on a field goal from the thirty-foot mark. Leffer made a point on Wiener's foul. Reber dribbled down the floor and registered two points. Willson made his sixth field goal on a chance well down the floor. Wiener pushed in a follow shot. Reber again scored a field goal. Kraning looped the sphere from medium range. South Side went out. DuWan went in for Wiener and scored two field goals from under the basket. Deardorf counted two points for Manchester. Willson dropped in a long one. Deardorf again counted for his team. Willson evened matters on a short shot. The score was tied at 31 all and the game was forced into an extra session.

Willson made a long shot immediately after play was resumed. Deardorf made two short shots. Leffer dropped in a long shot. Wiener scored from under the basket. South Side was in the rear by two points as the gun sounded the end of the overtime period. The scoreboard showed: North Manchester, 37; South Side, 35.

In the preliminary the South Side Reserves defeated Arcola 42 to 28.

Lineup and summary:

North Manchester	South Side
Cook	F.....Brubaker
Deardorf	F.....Willson
Kraning	C.....DuWan
Reber	G.....Sprunger
Leffer	G.....Thiele

Field goals—Deardorf, 6; Kraning, 5; Reber, 3; Leffer, Brubaker, 2; Willson, 9; DuWan, 2; Wiener, 3. Free throws—Deardorf 4; Kraning 2; Leffer, DuWan, 2; Thiele. Substitutions—Reber for Cook, Spiker for Reber, Simon for Brubaker; Wiener for DuWan, DuWan for Wiener; Wiener for DuWan. Referee—Buckner. Umpire—Gilbert.

Sport Shorts

Culver was swept off her feet the first five minutes of the game—everybody was hot.

P. Rahe went out with a sprained ankle.

Not much pep was seen at the game with Culver.

The team could certainly pass the ball in its last two games.

Jimmie Willson is sporting some new nicknames. "Greased Lightning" and "Lightning-Bug" are a couple of titles he earned by his speedy playing.

One fan said: "That boy is so fast that when he turns out the light he can get into bed before it gets dark."

And then another fan said: "You certainly have a hospitable bunch of rooters at South Side." But he didn't mean it that way. He then proceeded to rave about the razzing of the referee. These objectionable rooters were not students.

GREEN TOSSERS DROP FAST CULVER SQUAD

South Side Offense Working Smoothly; Got Off to Big Lead in First Half

The Green and White quintet came to its real self when it trampled Culver under foot in a 47-21 win. South Side displayed admirable form in its basket shooting and improved team play. Although the Green opposition was not the strongest, the players strutted their stuff in a manner customary to no other than a winning team. The half ended 28 to 8 for South Side.

With a smooth working offense functioning almost mechanically, led by a well-balanced pair of basket tossers in Captain Charlie Brubaker and Jimmy Willson, the South Side team got off to a big lead in the first half and was never pressed after the first few minutes of play. Captain Brubaker was South Side's luminary in the first half, when he connected for five field goals. Simon substituted for Brubaker at the start of the second half. Jimmy Willson scored twice in the first and four times in the second period. Jimmy entered the game when the first half was ten minutes under way. He substituted for Phil Rahe, who was taken from the game when he received an injury to his ankle.

Bill Thiele and Noble Sprunger resisted and rendered futile every attack organized by the Culver team to penetrate the defense set forth by the Green's pair of stalwart guards. Culver's shots were either from long range or hurried shots from the immediate territory of the basket. Never did Bill Thiele let one of the Culver forwards take his time and deliberately shoot at the goal.

Speyer and Clarence Banks were the whole Culver offense. Speyer is a little fellow but his speed and ability to handle the ball make him a continual threat to the opposition. Clarence Banks showed a mean eye for the basket when he registered four field goals. Brubaker ..... F.....C. Banks Rahe ..... F.....Speyer Wiener ..... C. Clarence Banks Sprunger ..... ## DOWNSTATE TEAM WINS OVER GREEN

Shelbyville Victorious in Tilt with South Side; Score Is 53-44

KUHN AND WILLSON STAR

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Jan. 30.—The Shelbyville Camels were victorious over the Green and White of South Side of Fort Wayne by the score of 53 to 44. The Camels were forced to exert themselves the full route to keep ahead of the hard fighting South Siders.

South Side opened the game with an attack that made them look like certain winners but the long strides of the Camel soon overcame this disadvantage and stepped into the lead, never to be headed. The outcome of the game was very precarious to either side. Shelbyville held the lead but with a fighting team like the Green hammering close at their heels made their position at the top of scoring anything but a certainty. The game was rather a free shooting match, with neither team putting forth much of a defense. Kuhn was the high point man for Shelbyville with ten goals from the field. Willson, the diminutive forward of the South Side team, was the leading scorer of his team with a mark on eight field goals to his credit.

SPORT GUSH

It was some game, wasn't it?

The Wardoes surely lived up to their title of "Fightin' Green." South Side ought to be proud of this smooth working bunch of sharp-shooters who worried North Manchester till that school saw red and green.

You know that Manchester fray brought back sweet memories of the Central games two years ago. You 'member how close they were? And how the yelling and excitement nearly lifted the roof as it did last Saturday?

Jerry DuWan used some of Red Fromuth's stuff when he carefully wiped off the faces of his co-stars during a time-out.

You'll have to admit that the game was a clean one, and that Buckner and Gilbert did a pretty neat job of umpiring and refereeing.

Nothing more is gained from razzing the referee than a bad name for the school. And surely no one intentionally means to blacken the Green of South Side.

Hello, Don Currie, we're awfully glad to see you back again, and we'll certainly be tickled when we see you cavorting on the hardwood again.

A Good Day's Business

By Alexander

What Is A High School and A College Education Worth?

It is $72,000, according to Dean Lord of the Boston University College of Business Administration; and the cash value of a high-school education is $33,000. The Boston institution has been carrying out a careful study of the earning capacity of college graduates, and the report just issued contains a number of interesting facts. According to a New York Herald Tribune summary, the average maximum income of the untrained man is $1,200 a year; that of a high-school graduate $2,200, and that of a college graduate $6,000. The total earnings of the three types up to the age of sixty are set at $45,000, $78,000, and $150,000. It is also estimated that while the untrained man at the age of fifty begins to drop toward dependence, the college man reaches his maximum earning capacity at sixty. As the report is quoted further:

The untrained man goes to work as a boy of fourteen and reaches his maximum income at the age of thirty. The figures show that more than sixty of every 100 untrained workers are dependent on others for support at the age of sixty. Between fourteen and eighteen, the four years which might have been spent in high school, the untrained young man usually earns not more than $2,000.

Society

Doris Bauer entertained with a lovely birthday party recently at her home on South Calhoun street. The guests included a number of her most intimate friends. Games were enjoyed during the evening and at the conclusion of the game dainty refreshments were served to the following: Marie Brown, Sylvia Berman, La Verne Baxter, Gertrude Bradley, Naomi Brenner, Mable Difenbaugh, Averda Difenbaugh, Marjorie Miller, Violet Jackson, Elizabeth Augsperger, Maxine Idle and Janet Bauer.

A pot-luck supper was recently enjoyed by a number of girls at the home of Mary and Martha Sherman. After the supper the following girls participated in progressive five hundred: Mildred Chenoweth, Marjorie Homsher, Virginia King, Mildred Grosvenor, Katherine Homsher, Betty Rider, and the hostesses.

Marguerite Schvieser entertained a few of her friends at her home on Pontiac street. At a late hour, after games had been enjoyed, a delicious luncheon was served to Mervyn Welch, Mary Hale, Virginia Trier, and the hostess.

Mrs. William G. Spencer and young son, Lewis, of Hillsdale, Mich., visited South Side recently. Mrs. Spencer spent the week-end with her sister Miss Burns. Lewis is two months old and was duly admired by the South Side faculty. Mr. Spencer is president of Hillsdale college.

Helen Mitchell gave a bridge party at her home on West Wayne street Friday afternoon. Those who attended were: Eulalie Cook, Kathryn Wenzel, Noma Wilkey, Ruth Wemhoff, Rose Joseph, Virginia Wilkinson, Dorothy McCurdy, Helen Crawford, and Helen Gaskins.

Delores Berberich, of Muncie Normal, spent the week-end with Louise and Virginia Pollock. She returned to her school duties Sunday evening.

Virginia Trier was hostess to a number of her friends at her home on Lake avenue Monday evening. Prizes in five hundred were won by Mervyn Welch and Marguerite Schvieser, after which a two-course luncheon was served to Bonnie Fries, Mervyn Welch, Mary Hale, Marguerite Schvieser, Margaret Maitland, Marguerite Rahe and Catherine Childers.

A hob-nobled ride was recently enjoyed by Virginia King, Wilda Bower, Dorothy Scott, Alice Diserens, Hester Mock, Dorothy Wilkins, Dorothy Underwood, Jane McBride, Tom Scott, Luther Pohl, Jack Niebergall, Van Bowser, Bruce Grosvenor, Leland Johnson, Winfield Ray and Bob Scheumann.

Marie Hegerfeld and Marie Moellering received recently at the home of the latter in Harrison Hill. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. At the conclusion of the evening a dainty repast was served by the hostess.

Velma Puff entertained a number of her friends at a delightful party last Friday evening. The guests were Hazel Sloan, Clara Sherbondy and Helen and Gladys Payne.

Lottie Dignan had as her guest last week-end Charles Brand, of Kendallville.

Mildred Kesterson spent part of last week in Plymouth, Ind., visiting friends.

LITERARY DIGEST ORDERED FOR HISTORY DEPARTMENT

Nearly Twenty-Five Hundred Magazines Purchased for Term's Work; Cost Exceeds $200

Two thousand and seven hundred copies of the "Literary Digest" have been ordered for the use of history and civics pupils this term, which will be delivered at the rate of one hundred and eighty copies a week. Two hundred and forty copies of the Review of Reviews have also been ordered, sixty of which will be delivered each week.

The total cost of these magazines is two hundred and four dollars. "No plan for the distribution of these magazines has as yet been decided upon," stated Mr. Murphy, "but will be some time this week."

Two other magazines to be used in the history and civics department this term are: "The Current History," and the "World's Work."

CASH PRIZES ARE OFFERED MEMBERS OF TIMES STAFF

Contest, Conducted by the Times For Encouragement of Better Writing, Will End June First

Cash prizes of $12.50, $7.50, and $5.00 will be awarded to the three persons having the greatest number of points in the news writing contest being conducted by the Times. Awards will be made June 1.

The purpose of the contest is to encourage better writing and for this end, the three best articles appearing in the Times each week, whether news articles, feature stories, editorials or Southern Spice, will be rewarded with three, two, and one points according to their rating. Every person on the staff is eligible to compete.

The stories will ordinarily be judged by Hubert Beck, student counselor; Cornelia Bade, general manager, and Rowena Harvey, faculty advisor. In case articles of the first two are being considered for prizes, Mr. Null, Mr. Harris, or other faculty members, may be called upon by Miss Harvey for their opinion.

No classification will be made in regard to the best news article, best feature, best editorial, and the like. The three best each week may be editorials, or they may be features or they may be Southern Spice, or they may include three of any one of these. Even an originally written advertisement may be included.

Student Wins Prizes

Ruth Mae Dawkins, senior, won two prizes in the News-Sentinel Right-Ad contest which is being held now. She won the second prize in an advertisement on Hilgeman and Schaaf, and the third prize on an ad for the Maxwell and Chrysler motor cars.

Glee Clubs Entertain Soon

The girls' and boys' glee club have entered earnestly into this term's work and are planning to give a program soon. On this program the girls will give several numbers alone and the boys the same, then there will be songs given by both clubs in unison.

Made High School Teacher

On account of the large enrollment in the Manual Training department Mr. Spalding was given several high school classes to teach and his grade school classes were transferred to Mr. Burton.

MORE BOYS THAN GIRLS ARE TARDY IN JANUARY

More boys than girls have been tardy from January 13 to 30. Thirty-one girls and forty-three boys, a total of one hundred and twenty-four, were tardy during this period. This makes an average of about seven pupils per day and eighty-six hundredths per cent of the entire number of pupils enrolled at South Side. This is considered a very small per cent.

BOY'S HOBBY SHOW HELD AT Y. ON VALENTINE DAY

Any Boy Over Ten Years May Enter His Collections in the Exhibit

Various exhibitions of handicraft, nature study, woodcraft, coins, stamps, insects, and other collections will be shown in the second annual Hobby Show, Saturday, February 14.

Any boy over ten years may exhibit as the show is under the auspices of the Boys' Division, Y. M. C. A. Any one who wishes to enter is asked to call at the Boys' Division, Y. M. C. A. or to telephone for information. The phone number is Main 4480.

Prizes, such as different kinds of fishing tackle, scout axes, hatchets, knives, etc., coins, stamps, and one really wonderful book on insects, will be given.

Much interest was shown last year, both among the contestants and the spectators. Eighteen participated in the show and a huge mob attended.

Allen Mason won the prize as having the most original invention. "It was rather a crude affair," said Mr. Brunson, "but it sure went." Raymond Ewell had a wonderful display of butterflies and Stanley Ewell, one of stamps. Eddy Dobler exhibited arrowheads. Various radios and parts of them and in fact something of everything was shown.

One boy can enter into as many classes of exhibitions as he cares to, provided his material holds out. Parents, teachers, and friends are invited to attend from 10:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

What Is The "Mirror"?

NEWS-SENTINEL WILL GIVE $285 FOR ORATIONS

Local Oratorical Contest to Be Held Sometime Between February 2 and March 27

FOUR STUDENTS HAVE SIGNED FOR ENTRANCE

President Coolidge Comments on First National Oratorical Contest Held in Memorial Hall

The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel is offering $285 as evidence of its belief in the great value of the oratorical contest on the constitution. An award of $100 is apportioned to winning orators in Allen county and $185 to the district. The county awards will be $50, $25, $15, and $10 to the four ranking highest. The district awards will be $100, $50, $25, $10.

The process of the Indiana contest is: February 2 to March 27—Writing of essays and selection of school orators.

March 30 to April 3—Contests to determine county representatives. April 6-10—Contests to determine congressional district representatives. April 13-17—Contests to determine six territorial representatives. April 24—State finals. May 1—Zone finals. May 8—National finals.

It is uncertain how many South Side students will take part. Those who are now preparing for the contest are Ruth Eickmeyer, Lucille Lapp, Power W. Karr, and Gertrude Schuelke.

It is not impossible for one of them to be at the national final. It is barely possible for one of them to appear at Indianapolis in the zone final. It is possible for one of them to be in the state final and it is yet more possible that one will be at the district meet. It is absolutely certain that one will represent South Side in the county contest.

"The National Oratorical contest on the constitution represents the most effective method of enlisting the interest of the young men and women of America in the study of our governmental institutions," declared President Coolidge at the final meeting of the First National Oratorical contest held in Memorial hall, Washington on June 6, 1924.

SOPHOMORES POSTPONE FESTIVAL TILL MARCH

Committees Have Been Appointed Who Will Work Meanwhile Until Date of Party

"Because of the Central game scheduled with Garrett here Friday, February 13, the sophomore party has been postponed to a later date, which will probably be some time in March," stated Dale Shimer, president of the sophomore class.

The committees which have been chosen are the entertainment, decorating, menu and clean-up. The following people have been appointed to serve on the committees: Entertainment—Dale Shimer, chairman, with Fred Seeman, Marguerite Luecke, Marjory Reeves, Margaret Scheenbe, Mary Hale and Winfield Ray as assistants.

Decorating—Greta Astrom, chairman, with Jack Lighthill, Dean Metzner, Hildegard Seibel and Bernadine Bennett as assistants.

Jack Rodabaugh, chairman of the menu committee, and Carl Murray, chairman of the clean-up committee, have not yet chosen their helpers.

Cafeteria Opened The South high school of Lima, O., opened a new cafeteria. A large steam table, electric stove, built-in cupboards, and a large refrigerator are only a few of the new features.

Many Are Tardy A dense fog that covered Kansas City, Mo., in the early part of the morning was responsible for forty-two cases of tardiness at the Westport high school.

A HELPFUL HINT

You have most likely noticed the regular appearance of Read-A-Bit on the editorial page. Aside from the interesting and valuable quotations which quite often appear in the feature, a concise description of several worthwhile books which can be found on the library's shelves is given. This feature is conducted by the librarian to help students in their selection of literature and to enable them to make the time they spend in reading worth their while. Intelligent use of the library will without a doubt raise one's scholastic standard. Since one can read only a very small part of the many classical and modern books, those we do choose to read should be the very best of each class. The average student is hardly capable of this choice, so consult Read-A-Bit and make

Jokes Cracked by Abe Lincoln Produce Laughter in Pessimist

Civil War President Cheered Friends and Enemies With "Southern Spice"; Uses Strategy To Get Rid of Thousands of Men Seeking All Kinds of Positions.

Everyone knows, or should know, the dates of Lincoln's birth and death, so there is no use of repeating them here. Lincoln, at the request of his friends, wrote a short autobiography. In this he says: "I don't know who my grandfather was, and I am much more concerned to know what his grandson will be."

He described himself thus: "I am, in height, nearly six feet; lean in flesh, weighing on an average 180 pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair, and gray eyes—no other marks or brands recollected." Of his education he says, "When I came of age, I did not know much. Still somehow I could read, write and cipher to the Rule of Three; but that was all."

Stories Galore Among the stories told of Lincoln these are a few: The President was pestered continually by all kinds of men who wanted all kinds of jobs. To relieve himself of these endless importunities Lincoln often resorted to stratagems. Of a man who wanted to be a doorkeeper in the House of Representatives he asked:

"Have you ever been a doorkeeper?" "Have you ever had any experience in doorkeeping?" "Well, no—no actual experience, sir."

"Any theoretical experience? Any instructions in the duties and ethics of doorkeeping?" "Umph—no."

"Have you ever attended lectures on doorkeeping?" "No, sir."

SOUTH SIDERS JOIN DE MOLAY SOCIETY

Fourteen Students and Three Graduates Become Charter Members of Organization

FIFTY-THREE BOYS JOIN Child Labor Question Is Decided Upon for High School Discussion This Year

Local Students Enter

Fourteen students and three graduates of South Side high school were included among the fifty-three boys initiated into the De Molay as charter members Saturday, February 7. Of these fourteen boys nine were appointed as officers, while all of the graduates received positions.

Donald Closs—Master Counselor. Miles Wilkinson—Senior Counselor. Traverse Chandler—Junior Counselor. Paul Beverford—Treasurer. Willis Carto—Scribe. Howard Crise—Chaplain. William P. VanNess—Lecturer. Harry King—Senior Deacon. William Ryder—Junior Deacon. Jean Morris—Senior Steward. Clifton W. Gross—Junior Steward. Maurice Miller—Marshall. Ralph Lange—Almoner. Milton Lower—Standard Bearer. Robert Carto—Sentinel. Howard Miller—First Preceptor. Carl Johnston—Second Preceptor. Milton Kline—Third Preceptor. Louis Wilkins—Fourth Preceptor. James Miles—Fifth Preceptor. James McFeely—Sixth Preceptor. Robert Duryee—Seventh Preceptor.

The South Siders who joined the organization are: Robert Charles Clauser, Robert Carto, sentinel; Howard Crise, chaplain; Robert Duryee, seventh preceptor; Cecil Harrod, Carl Johnston, second preceptor; Ralph Lange, almoner; James Miles, fifth preceptor; Stephen Miles, Howard Miller, first preceptor; Maurice Miller, marshal; George Simon, Wm. P. Van Ness, lecturer; and Richard Wiener. The graduates of this society initiated were, Willis Carto, scribe; Miles Wilkinson, senior counselor, and Louis Wilkins, fourth preceptor.

Harley Somers, the "Dad" of the chapter, and chairman of the advisory board, procured sixty members of the Indianapolis chapter to officiate in the initiation, which lasted from two till five-thirty o'clock. Horace Mitchell, of Indianapolis, was the state deputy who attended the ceremonies, being appointed by Arthur Robinson, state deputy, who was unable to attend.

The Reverend Louis N. Rocco, of Trinity Episcopal church, and the Reverend John C. White, of Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, gave talks to the boys on the benefits of Masonry.

The Order of De Molay originated in Kansas City in 1919, with twelve members and since then has become a nation-wide organization. It teaches the boys reverence, patriotism, filial love, clean living, and good citizenship.

Sons of Masons and their friends are eligible to membership in this boys' fraternity. Although the Masonic organizations are very interested in it, the De Molay members owe no affiliations to the Masons. Masons, however, are invited to attend meetings of the De Molay.

The order has been named for Jacques De Molay, the last military Grand Master of the Knights Templar, who died a martyr for his organization in 1314.

The expense to members is not great for most of it is paid by local Masonic bodies. After the initiation fee is paid there remains only dues which under the rules of the organization can not exceed $5.00 a year.

State Contest Will Be Held the Second or Third Friday of April

All Latin students of South Side except 9-B's, will take part in the second annual local contest tomorrow, the seventh and eighth periods, during which time they will be excused from classes.

Two winners from each division will be the participants in the county contest which is to be held at Central high school, February 28. The two making the highest grades in the county contest in each division will take part in the district contest which will be held at Central high school on March 28.

One winner from each division in the district contest will go to the state contest at Bloomington, which will be held either the second or third Friday in April.

Medals Awarded Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the three highest entrants in each division of the state contest. Five divisions are included in the Latin contest, as follows:

Division I. Open to all pupils who will complete the first year work in June.

Division II. Open to all pupils who complete the first year work this year.

Division III. Open to all who have finished Caesar and have taken less than a semester of Cicero or Vergil.

Division IV. Open to all pupils who have completed Cicero and have taken less than one semester of Vergil.

Division V. Open to all who are studying or have studied Vergil.

NOTED PSYCHOANALIST TO TALK TO TEACHERS

Professor Charles M. Newcomb Will Lecture at Central Auditorium Next Week

Prof. Charles M. Newcomb of Cleveland has been procured by the Parent-Teacher Association to deliver several lectures to mothers and fathers of Fort Wayne on February 17 and 18.

Prof. C. M. Newcomb

Professor Newcomb has been on the lecture platform for seventeen years and is an entertaining and forceful speaker. His manner of speech and easy style are delightful and at once place all in perfect harmony with the speakers. He is a prominent authority on child psychology and his talks are unusually helpful to teachers as well as parents.

Prof. Newcomb's general topic will be "The Mental Hygiene of Childhood." On Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock in the auditorium of Central high school the subject will be "The Mind of the Child." This includes a study of heredity and environment, habit formation, the role of the imagination, and the like. This is especially for teachers.

On Tuesday evening at eight o'clock Prof. Newcomb will speak on "Fear and the Authority Complex." This includes the idea of inferiority, stammering, and stage fright, the place of psychoanalysis, etc. This should appeal to fathers as well as mothers.

On Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock the second lecture especially for teachers will be given. The psychology of "Work and Play," is the topic including the play instinct, "dancing and movie madness," psychology of baseball, work and culture, what is education, training for leadership, etc.

On Wednesday evening the lecture will be particularly for "mothers and other parents" and is entitled "The Religious Education of the Child" with such subheads as morality and righteousness, selfmastery, qualifications for successful living, etc.

The admission is twenty-five cents and tickets may be secured from Mrs. Rastetter, president of the high school P. T. A., from Mrs. LaMar, president of the grade school P. T. A., or from either of the principals, Mr. Harris of the high school, or Mr. Agnew of the grade school. If tickets are bought from these, credit will be given to the South Side association.

PRIZE WINNING STORIES

Gertrude Schuelke won first, George Wyss, second, and Ruth Mae Dawkins, third, in the prize story contest being conducted by the Times. Gertrude Schuelke wrote the story dealing with the national oratorical contest based on the Constitution. Wyss was the author of the story on the North Manchester basketball game, and Ruth Mae described in a feature story the hoax played on several boys by doctoring their pictures to look like girls.

The successful authors will be awarded three, two and one points respectively. The contest will continue from week to week and the one having the most points in June will be awarded $12.50, the second highest will get $7.50 and third highest will receive $5.00.

The judges, Miss Harvey, Hubert Beck and Cornelia Bade, were practically unanimous in the selection. The beginning Journalism class in a secret ballot returned exactly the same verdict.

FIVE ROOMS REACH SUBSCRIPTION GOAL

Three Rooms Pass One Hundred Per Cent Mark by Getting Outside Subscriptions

Five agents now have their rooms 100 per cent or over. They are Lottie Dignan, Mary Monroe, Helen Sherbondy, Margaret Pocock and Robert Nossett. The teachers for these rooms are Miss Ley, Mr. Murch, Mr. Heine, Miss Harvey and Mr. Chapell.

The freshmen seem to be getting ahead of the upper classes in this term, as both Helen Sherbondy's and Robert Nossett's rooms are freshmen classes. The per cent of the whole school has increased during the week, as a great number of promissory notes have been signed.

The standing of the rooms is as follows:

Room.	Agent.	Percent.
61.....	Lottie Dignan.....	113
22.....	Mary Monroe.....	110

Have Left School Several pupils have left school this term. They are Edith Wartons, Edw. Gore, Dorothy Crawford, and Effie Chambers.

Rummage Sale Continues "Approximately $121 was taken in at the rummage sale up until Saturday night," stated Miss Rinehart. "The sale will continue all week," she further said.

MEDALS TO BE GIVEN TO STUDENTS FRIDAY

Eight Debating and Twelve Journalism Pins Will Be Awarded During 8th Period

Pins won by the students of the debating and the journalism classes will be awarded the eighth period tomorrow.

The pupils who will receive debating pins are: Ruth Eickmeyer, Elsie Crane, Power Karr, Louise Platt, Carl Rohrer, Gertrude Schuelke, Dorothy Emrich, and Lucille Lapp.

Hubert Beck is the only student in the journalism class who has earned a gold pin. Those who shall receive silver pins are: Maurice Miller, Cornelia Bade, Pauline Baumgartner, Chester Wyneken, and Helen Crawford. William Van Ness, Lottie Dignan, Lucille Grosvenor, Mary Hale, Olive Prime, Dorothy Schiefer and Mary Falk will receive bronze pins.

Visit Iron Works The chemistry II. classes of the Roosevelt high school of Spokane, Wash., made a visit to the Union Iron Works. They started in the room where the crude iron is melted and continued through the factory and ended in a large room where the finished articles are taken.

TIGER AND FIGHTIN' GREEN TO MEET IN SECOND ROUND

Final Game of 1925 Series to Be Played Saturday on South Side Floor Between Basketball Fives of Local Public High Schools

GREEN AND WHITE QUINT IS DETERMINED TO AVENGE DEFEAT AT HANDS OF TIGER

Central Doped To Have Slight Edge Over Green and White; South Side Fans Predict Outcome Will Be Different From That of Encounter on January 20

The second game of the third series of interscholastic relationship on the basketball court between South Side and Central will occur Saturday night. The objective of these series of games is to determine the city public high school champion. The game will be played on the South Side floor, as usual.

The Tiger of Central drew the first blood of the series when it defeated South Side on January 20 by the score of 25 to 18. Central showed good team play that night and she hit the basket with more regular consistency than did her Green rivals.

The Green was in the bottom of the rut at that time. South Side was forced to play with two regulars out of the lineup and one player in the lineup who was out of condition on account of illness.

The Central team has been enjoying one of the most successful seasons of her career. The Blue has ridden rough-shod over practically all the teams she has played so far this season. Only one high school team has been able to gain a decision over the Blue and White. That decision was by a margin of a single point.

The Green and White will take the floor with its full strength. This is probably the first time this season that the entire squad has been in condition to play. Currie will be in good shape after his four weeks' layoff. He saw a few minutes of action in the Richmond-South Side game and appeared to be going faster than ever. Don was in the game only a few minutes. He entered the fray when it was red hot but he accustomed himself to the atmosphere very quickly.

Has Slight Edge Central will enter the game with a slight shade over South Side. This edge is granted due to Central's victory over South Side earlier in the season. But the Green has showed such a wonderful improvement that the players will not concede the least advantage to the Blue. The loyal South Side fans are predicting an outcome of an entirely different nature than the one of January 20.

At the last meeting South Side played a more defensive game and let the downtown boys do the aggressive work. South Side will be the aggressor in the next battle. The South Side team has two years of the most inspiring tradition behind it. This will keep the green clad gladiators scrapping every second of the game. The record books show the following scores of previous games:

Jan. 23, 1923—S. S., 26; Central, 22
Feb. 17, 1923—S. S., 16; Central, 17
Mar. 3, 1923—S. S., 17; Central, 15
Jan. 22, 1924—S. S., 38; Central, 17
Feb. 15, 1924—S. S., 32; Central, 13
Mar. 1, 1924—S. S., 24; Central, 18
Jan. 20, 1925—S. S., 18; Central, 25

Total points—S. S., 181; Central 127
*These games required double overtime periods to decide the winner.

The following lineups will represent the two teams in the next game.

Central South Side
Nobles..... F..... Brubaker (C)
Diehl-Morrill..... F..... Willson-Rahe
Kowalczyk (C)..... C..... DuWan-Wiener
Baker..... G..... Currie-Spencer
Jasper-Wolf..... G..... Thiele

Friday the Green will travel to Hartford City to play the fast team of that place. This team from Hartford City is the one team that has defeated Central. The outcome of the game between Hartford City-South Side may throw light on the outcome of the Central-South Side game.

GRACCHI CLUB OBSERVES HEALTH WEEK AT Y. W.

In observance of Health Week at the Y. W. C. A., the program of the regular Gracchi meeting last Monday evening consisted of two plays, several group songs, and a health inventory. All members were pledged to the "Stand Up Straight" society.

Ethel Masterson and Deane McAfee were elected to represent the club in the "Young Girls in Business" conference to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich., on February 21 and 22.

The next meeting will be held February 23 at the Y. W. C. A.

SOUTH SIDE JOINS LINCOLN IN HONOR

Six Students Celebrate Their Birthdays Today; One on Valentine's Day.

February 12 produced Abraham Lincoln, who is one of the greatest men in history. Likewise, six of our South Side students are following in his footsteps on the way to greatness as the result of having this day as their birthday.

Cornelia Bade and Harold Baker are both seventeen, Mary Granger is fifteen, Nellie Grim sixteen, Esther Hanning fourteen, and Erich Lasch eighteen. We would naturally expect these students to develop into men and women almost as great as was Lincoln.

Valentine's Day is honored by but one student. Hillis Fitch will be eighteen.

The citizenship committee in the student government at the Mansfield (Ohio) high school is planning to stage a courtesy campaign in the near future.

Wall Street Day Held The economics class at Carr high, Pennsylvania, recently held a "Wall Street Day." A miniature stock market was made and stocks and bonds were exchanged among the pupils.

Courtesy Campaign The citizenship committee in the student government at the Mansfield (Ohio) high school is planning to stage a courtesy campaign in the near future.

It was Lincoln's expressed desire that the ignorant be educated. We are all attending South Side, but are we being educated?

Because of his character and his achievements we give to Abraham Lincoln our highest admiration, affection, and gratitude.

"In wisdom great, but in humility greater; in justice strong, but in compassion stronger, he became a leader of men by being a follower of the truth." President Coolidge, as Governor of Massachusetts, gave this in his proclamation concerning Lincoln.

"Honest Abe" was the name given to Lincoln in his youth. While he was tending his store, he noticed—too late—that he had given a woman the wrong change. She was six cents short. That evening he trudged mile upon mile to her home to return the money. After this he was always called "Honest Abe."

But under similar circumstances what would we have done? Probably, if we bothered at all about such a small amount, we should have inserted an ad in the paper and told the person to call for the change.

When Abe was nineteen, still living in Indiana, he made his first trip on a flatboat to New Orleans. He was just a hired hand, and he and a son of the owner, without other assistance, made the trip. Think of the toil and danger of it, the skill and courage that it took to face the waters with their varying currents, waves of passing steamboats, and the river outlaws. The nature of their cargo, sugar, made it necessary for them to linger and trade along the river plantations of Mississippi and Louisiana, and one night they were attacked by seven negroes intending to kill and rob them. They were hurt some, but succeeded in driving off the negroes and leaving their anchorage.

Suppose the negroes had succeeded; in that case, American history would have been different. We may wonder if the "hired hand" spared to emancipate those negroes or their descendants, thirty-five years later, did not think of them while writing his proclamation.

Lincoln's school training really began in Indiana. When he came here, he had hardly progressed beyond the alphabet. His textbooks were Webster's and Dillworth's Spellers, Pike's Arithmetic, and Murray's English Reader. The arithmetic he did not own, but he borrowed the book of a neighbor and copied a large part of it on sheets of paper. It was in one of the lower corners of one of these sheets that young Abe scrawled the four memorable lines of schoolboy doggery:

Abraham Lincoln,
His hand and pen,
He will be good,
But God knows when.

Then he borrowed these books, "The Kentucky Perceptor," "Sinbad the Sailor," "Scott's Lessons," and the "Revised Statutes of Indiana" from the neighbors. These constituted the scope of his scholastic ventures during the time he attended Indiana schools.

What would he say if he could see the Indiana schools of today—if he could see South Side?

Abe Lincoln was great, not merely in intellectual power, but in character. He was unselfish to the extreme. There was nothing that he would not bear uncomplainingly, if only the nation were served. Misunderstood, misrepresented and insulted, he bore it all patiently, never allowing his actions to be governed by his likes or dislikes, or by any considerations of himself. During the Civil War, Lincoln had in him nothing of the spirit of the conqueror. The language of hate he did not understand. Few men have ever come nearer than Lincoln to loving their enemies. "We are not," he said in his first inaugural, "enemies, but friends. We must not be enemies." He did not hate the South, but always before him was the vision of a re-united country. After his death, the South as well as the North mourned for him. And crowning everything, was his wisdom which placed him far above those with whom he came in contact. "His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man.'"

Will this ever be said of us?

Read A Bit

"Seventeen," by Booth Tarkington, is a tale of youth, summer time, and the Baxters family, especially William.

"Wonderful Escapes by Americans" is a book of true stories that recount the capture of the pioneers by Indians, war spying, escapes from Libby prison and Andersonville, slave fugitives, fire fighting, and tornadoes. All the stories depict grit and endurance.

PIECEWORK

What great machine the Chief Designer makes

I know not, never having seen the whole

For which I make a part: for my blind soul

Still labors darkling, while the Master takes

The parts, whatever they may be, to build.

I hear the clack and buzz from all about

Where other workmen turn their piecework out,

As blind as I, our tasks still unfulfilled.

"Could we but know what end our labor serves!"

My neighbor whispers, seeking thus to shake

Faith in the Master, and my hope to break

Which through the toilsome days my peace preserves

But the firm faith that some great end will be

From my blind toil abides and comforts me.

HERMAN O. MAKEY.

VISION

Three stone cutters were driving their chisels into a massive block of granite. A stranger, in passing, inquired of the first man what he was doing.

"I'm cutting stone," growled the laborer.

"And what are you doing?" he asked the second.

"I'm working for $7.50 a day," he replied.

The third man was asked the same question, and looking up, with a flash of earnestness he quietly answered:

"I'm helping to build a cathedral."

—The Torch.

Might not this be applied to school work? If it were, what would you be apt to answer?

"I'm studying."

"I'm working to graduate from high school."

Or

"I am preparing for the future by getting an education."

Have you vision? Are you cultivating it?—Roosevelt News.

About New Yells

"We want a lot of new and snappy yells!" exclaim the cheer leaders. They get no response. Notices asking the student body to submit yells are posted. No yells are handed in. Some persons complain about the cheering, but do not give the leaders any constructive suggestions. How in the world can the cheer leaders improve the rooting when they are doing their best now?

The problem lies with the student body, and there only can it be remedied. If they don't like the yells, let them write some new ones. If they don't like the words in the school song which says "For you we'll gladly die," let them find some new words. If they don't like the methods that the leaders use, let the leaders know, for they have been at a loss to know just what the school wants. At any rate, let's co-operate more!

The New Song

To Miss Work and Mr. Schaefer goes the distinction of composing a song which, it is hoped, will be adopted as the official one of the school. You will note that it was NOT student work, however. This goes to show that the faculty is trying to help the cheering instead of complaining about it. If such a fine song can be made by a few from the teaching force of forty-six, how many yells could the 1,200 students write?

Increasing the Honor Roll

Ninety-eight persons, making nearly nine per cent of the school, are on the last honor roll, the largest in the history of the school. This points to the fact that scholastic standards are becoming higher. Yet how many taxpayers of Fort Wayne know about this increase, compared to the number of taxpayers that know about the recent improvement of South Side's basketball team?

The Latin Contest, Too

And compare the interest and publicity given the coming Latin contest, with a possibility of a team duplicating last year's state honors, to that of the coming game with Central. Which is more indicative of a GOOD SCHOOL, a successful athletic team, or an excellent Latin team?

Something Interesting

Next week the Hi-Y club, which is sort of an abbreviation for the High School-Young Men's Christian Association, will put some plans before the students and ask their co-operation in carrying them out. Watch for them!

Is It Worthwhile?

You have been reading this column for several weeks. We have been trying to make it interesting and trying to make it WORTHWHILE. Drop a note in the Times' box or tell someone on the staff if you have any criticisms and if you think it worthy of the space it takes.

School Colors Chosen

Crimson and cream have been chosen as school colors for the Stadium high school, Tacoma, Wash.

Southern Spice, if placed end to end for one term, would reach around the school. Yes, and our yawns would engulf both the column and school.

Mr. Murphy in economics class: "My mother could get more out of a peach tree limb than anyone that I ever knew."

Mr. Null: "Edward Hulse, what is a cabbage net?" Edward Hulse: "A hair net for cabbage."

OBEYING ORDERS

Mr. Null (to senior English class): "You pupils are old enough to know how to punctuate correctly. You ought to be able to punctuate systematically without any hesitation. Learn punctuation rules so well that you will put down correctly all punctuation marks systematically."

The students proceeded to go about things systematically after that and everyone in the second row had their legs crossed the same way.

Sam (to classmate in manual training): "What are you making?" Spalding (overhearing them): "Too much noise."

Student (translating Spanish sentence): "Had it not been for his—er—trembling, he might have been taken for a—er—dead corpse."

GOOD EXPLANATION

My fingers are cramped with head-writing. I hastily scan over the lines, I am literally snowbound with copy For I am just doing work on the Times.

Sophomore: "Aw, shut up." Junior: "You're the biggest fool around this place." Professor (cutting in): "Boys, you forget I am here."

SOUNDS REASONABLE

Mr. Greely recently discovered a man searching for something under a street light. "Did you lose something?" he asked. "Yes, I lost a nickel." "Where did you lose it?" "I lost it about a block down the street." "Well, why are you looking for it here?" "There isn't any light down there."

Mr. Null (Trying to get a response to the query, "Would you like the life of solitude?—Solitude being the name of a poem): "Harold, I think you ought to be able to answer that question judging from the theme you handed in."

Harold Bridge: "Oh, that was just a theme."

A LIVING EXAMPLE

Mr. Null (12-A English): "Alexander looked at Thais, sighed and looked and sighed again."

LaVerne and Bernice look at each other and sigh, and look and sigh again.

Now, I'm not hard to please. I can forgive the guy that spilled ink all over my books. I can keep from swatting the guy that trips me on the stairs. I don't care how often a fellow borrows two-bits and forgets to pay it back. If the guy across the table wants to "whistle up" his soup and sop his bread in his coffee, he can. All these things, and many more, I can accept with grace, but—the guy that told me Physics was easy has got to fight!

WHAT LINCOLN WANTED TO KNOW

"I visited President Lincoln one day," said General Wilson. "With my brother-in-law. A few days later I visited the President again with my brother-in-law, Senator Dixon, of Connecticut, and a constituent of his, who was six feet ten inches tall. Well, we met, and for the first and perhaps the only time in his life the President was flabbergasted by the sight on a man looking down on him by six inches."

"Finally his face was overspread by that lovely smile of his, and he said: 'My friend, will you permit me to ask you a question?'"

"Why, certainly, Mr. President."

"I want to know," said Mr. Lincoln, "if you can tell when your feet get cold."

THIS MAKES ONE WEAK

It's hard to work on Monday after Two days' sweet vacation, And if I'm called on I can feel a Sickening sensation.

By Tuesday I'm just warming up, but Here I make confession That if the teacher calls on me, I Haven't got my lesson.

On Wednesday I'm one page behind and Filled with great elation, And then I'm asked for that one page, By awful recitation.

But Thursday I am primed and set for Everything they're springing, And my dumb luck, they reach my name just As the bell is ringing.

Then Friday I am restless and I'm Thinking of the morrow; I funk again; oh my poor heart is Filled with pain and sorrow!

Helen Weir delightfully entertained a few of her most intimate friends Monday evening, February 2. The evening was spent in playing buncos, after which a two-course luncheon was served. Those that attended were: Frances Algers, Maxine Canada, Corinne Hoover, Garnet Creigh, Maxine Charters, Catherine Mercer and Evelyn Zern.

Catherine Childers was hostess to a dinner party at her home on Central drive recently. Those who participated in this affair were Louise Ryberg, Louise Deahmery, Winifred Schwiezer, Bernice Carpenter, Miss Inez Kiefer and Miss Kelly.

Betty Zoll and Mary Falk motored to Peru last week-end to visit friends and relatives.

Members of the Art club enjoyed a party at the home of Dorothea Kohlmeier on Park avenue. Five hundred was enjoyed during the evening, after which a delectable luncheon was served by the hostess. The members enjoying this good time were Lottie Dignan, Mary Travis, Beulah Corwin, Clara Sherbondy, Thelma Buively, Ruth Bell, Marie Brown, Vera Bruns, Iva Riley, Pauline Hilbish, Thelma Buively, Marie Allendorph, Mildred Kesterson, Lauretta Sells and Grace Root.

Velma Roe was hostess at a lovely party recently. The guests were Dorothy Graham, Marcella Smith, Beulah Leips, Paul Lohman, Otto Burkhead, Russell Poorman and Loraine Chapman.

Ruth Romoser entertained a number of her friends at her home on DeWald street recently. Buncos and dancing were enjoyed during the evening, after which a dainty luncheon was served to the following guests: Marian Prange, Dorothy Melche, Leona Doehman, Evelyn Lenz, Mildred Lenz, Hilda Schwarze, and Elizabeth Gehring.

STUDENT DESCRIBES HONOR STUDY ROOM

Pupil's Work Must Average More Than 85 Before He Can Attend This Room

In response to the request that suggestions be given in regard to the proposed honor study hall which was discussed in "The Mirror" last week, the following letter was received:

"Last week I observed the writings in 'The Mirror' concerning the honor study hall. I formerly attended a high school which used this system and will try to tell you of it so that you can discuss the pro's and con's of the idea.

"Each week on Monday morning the bulletins were published in the hall of those people averaging 85 or over during the preceding week's work. The teachers said it was not much extra work to send their lists in, after considering the improvement in students' work. Those pupils could attend the honor study rooms. The regular study hall was kept for those who must report because of grades lower than 85 and those persons wishing absolute quiet to study or teacher's aid in lessons.

"There were four rooms, two for girls and two for boys, in which the listed folks could go to study. No teacher was in attendance and the room was always quiet; if it should happen that it became noisy the teacher of the adjoining class room took all to the session room, where they must stay for the coming three weeks during study times; but this seldom occurred.

"The pupils usually work quite hard to make the list for it is advantageous to be allowed to study in the honor room. In this room we could talk in low tones, and, as we all know two heads are better than one so you would often find a pair in one corner struggling over Latin, in another with their mathematics, or reciting their memory work to each other. Having a chance to compare answers or help of a fellow student or someone to recite invariably bettered their class recitations besides the struggle to keep on the list of those over 85.

"We could also leave the room to get more books or leave the building if we wished. You may say that they would waste their time and do no studying. If they do not study their grades must fall and then their freedom is taken from them until their grades are bettered again.

"This was very successful in that school and has been used quite a number of years. The students kept up their honor and the scholarship was fine. I am much in favor of such study halls in South Side."

Margaret Ellen Nichols entertained with a dinner Saturday evening. Those present were: Prelina Fletcher, Vianna Keesbury, Helen Rastetter, Helen Dodez, Josephine Dodez, Dorothy Bales, Pauline Bowerfind, Dorothy Lang, Marie Williams, Cappy Twining, Diddy Dildine, Ruth Richey, Anne Weaver, Dorothy Wilkens, Jane McBride, Margaret Luecke and Betty Rockhill.

Martha Sherman recently entertained the members of the Rose Bible class at her home on Sutfenfield street. Buncos was enjoyed during the evening, after which delicious refreshments were served to Betty Fanner, Betty Hackney, Bee Huguenard, Margaret McClintic, Mary Hale, Margaret Crosbie, Gladys Moorehead, Ruth Hull, Martha Rupley, Betty Rider, Marjorie Homsher, Katherine Homsher, Florence Phelps, George Ann Gilliom, Thelma Gasser, Mary Sherman, and Mrs. Fonner, teacher.

Frank Wedler entertained a number of his friends recently. The guests included Junior Groth, Bob Miles, Dale Lords and William VanNess.

GIRL RESERVE LEADERS HOLD WEEK-END COUNCIL

Delegates From South Side and Central Take Part In Program at the Y. W. C. A.

A conference for Girl Reserve secretaries and advisors was conducted at the Fort Wayne Y. W. C. A. over last week-end.

About fifty delegates, representing all parts of Indiana, and two representatives from headquarters at New York were present.

At the meeting on Saturday afternoon Miss Martha M. Pittenger, girls' dean of South Side high school, spoke on "School Co-operation in the High School."

Miss Florence Pickard, former girls' athletic director of South Side, who is now assistant physical education director at the "Y," talked to the delegates on "Ring Standards in regard to Health, Knowledge and Spirit."

Both Central and South Side girls took part during the course of the leaders' council.

Girls from Central carried out their part of the program, "Girl Reserve Song and 'Polylips'."

"Camp Ceremonial" was very effectively carried out by about 30 girls, six of whom were from South Side, under the direction of Miss Anita Belle Moore, of Terre Haute. This ceremony is the formal installation service adopted by Terre Haute Girl Reserves. The girls from South Side were Mary Travis, Ruth Watkins, Cornelia Bade, Florence Hansen, Edith Kyle and Marjorie Matlack.

The Fellowship banquet was named the "Hearty-Y" banquet to carry out the Valentine season together with the Y. W. C. A.

About seventy people attended the banquet, which was served by the Gracchi club.

"Want Ad" Column Created

A "want ad" column is the latest feature to be instituted in the Pantograph of the Kansas City (Kansas) high school. Articles lost, found, and to be bought or sold by students can now be profitably advertised in the Pantograph at a small charge of fifteen cents for two lines.

Botany Room Has Sand Table

The botany department now has a sand table which will be placed in the greenhouse to put the plants in. The table was transferred from Mr. Whelan's room to Mr. Gould's as Mr. Whelan had no use for the extra table and it could be used to advantage in the botany room.

STAR LATIN STUDENT LEAVES SOUTH SIDE

Hilma Hixon

Owing to illness, Hilma Hixon, a "star" Latin pupil, has been forced to give up her studies at South Side this semester.

Hilma is a senior and an honor student. She was very popular here owing to her scholastic achievements, and her extremely high rating in the state Latin contest last year. She anticipated entering again this year and Miss Work expected her to make an excellent showing. She has enough credits to graduate and she will probably do so this spring with the rest of her class.

She is living with her mother in a suburban home and at present is getting along nicely. Any of her friends who care to write her (or send Valentines) may do so by addressing R. F. D. No. 13.

HIDDEN CHAMBER UNEARTHED HERE

Projection Room Behind the Clock in Gym Has Long Been Unused.

Have you seen the little room behind the clock in the gymnasium?

Surely, there's a room; and for a long time its door has been forbiddingly locked; but one day it stood invitingly open and we, being quite curious, investigated.

How did we get there? You've seen the steps leading past the old scoreboard on the north side of the gym? These lead to this room of mystery.

Mr. Stahl, the custodian of the building, gave us the desired information about this room. It is a projection room for moving pictures, and so, of course, is fire-proof. The screen would be placed at the south end of the gym. As yet nothing has been done to further the silent drama in South Side, but some day the pupils from seats in the gymnasium will be watching their favorites perform.

Marcia Cornish, '24, is still seriously ill at her home on Thompson avenue, and is not expected to be able to be up for a month or more yet.

MATH-SCIENCE ELECTS ELEANOR COLSON, HEAD

Guest Night To Be Observed at Next Meeting; Raymond Ewell and Elsbeth Crane To Speak

Eleanor Colson, '26, was elected president of the Math-Science club at a called meeting of the club, Friday, February 6, in Room 94.

Other officers elected were: Mildred Crane, vice-president; Florence Hansen, secretary, and Allen Mason, treasurer.

Guest night will be observed by the organization for the benefit of new members, especially 10-A's, at its next meeting, February 20. All members are to bring one new member.

The program for the evening will consist of a talk on the "Origin and Development of Algebra," by Elsbeth Crane, and one on "Butterflies and Moths," by Raymond Ewell. He will illustrate his speech with his own collection.

MANY PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Orchestra, Band, Glee Clubs and Quartettes To Take Part In Concerts and Operetta

The plans of the music department for the rest of the semester are not definite; however, many interesting programs are being planned.

The orchestra is working on a symphony series put out by Frederick Stock, who is at the head of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. George Dasch, who leads the Little Symphony orchestra of Chicago, and Onbourn McConathy, who is at the head of the music department of Northwestern University. This course is a graded study in six series. The orchestra is working these pieces up for a concert to be given in the spring.

The band is preparing for a concert which will be given before the first of June.

The Boys' Glee club is working on a minstrel show and expects to give it in the near future.

Another operetta will be given in the spring this year. The name of the operetta and the dates on which it will be given will be published later.

MISS OPPELT ENJOYS SCHOOL AND METHODS

"I have noticed so many things at South Side that I just couldn't tell you all of them, but they are all good," said Miss Oppelt when interviewed last Monday regarding her impression of South Side.

"I will say that I have noticed the fine spirit here, not only that among the students but between the students and the faculty. It seems like a large family." She also liked the way in which the students respect the teachers and the care that everyone takes of the building.

She especially likes the way that the girls dress. Nearly all of them dress in a conservative way and not to the extreme as the girls do in some schools.

FIVE STUDENTS READY TO TALK ON CHILD LABOR

South Siders Will Argue Pros and Cons of the Proposed Amendment in Discussion Contest

SPEECHES TO BE GIVEN IN ROOM 38 TOMORROW

No Admission Will Be Charged;
Two Teachers Will Act
as Judges

"Our local discussion contest, which will be held in Room 38, tomorrow at 3:15 p. m., will be very closely contested," says Mr. Mahey, instructor of public speaking. Whether or not the proposed twentieth amendment should be ratified is the question on which all speakers are basing their arguments. The entries are all experienced, since Virgil Horn was on last year's debate team, and Ruth Eckmeyer, Lucille Lapp, Gertrude Schuelke, and Power W. Karr were on this year's. "We can count on the winner to give some strong competition in the county contest, which will be held on March 27," Mr. Mahey declares.

Year before last, Mary Forker reached the state finals, but last year Harriett Weiser was eliminated in the county meet.

Because of the nature of the contest Mr. Null and Mr. Mahey will be the judges for the discussion tomorrow. It has been decided that no admission will be charged.

The district contest for this year will be held on April 10, and the state finals will be two weeks later.

SMALL INCREASE SEEN IN TIMES CIRCULATION

Many Room Agents with Low Percentages Fail to Show
Gain During Week

The circulation campaign is progressing slowly according to the report of Chester Wyneken, circulation manager. All Times agents were appointed during the first week of school and some have made their rooms one hundred percent for the "All-American" but some have not even raised their percentage above the sixty percent mark.

This semester the Times is planning five extra special editions, and perhaps six. There will be two basketball editions, one April Fool edition, one teachers' issue, and one commencement issue. These, if purchased separately, will cost ten cents each. The other thirteen issues will cost five cents apiece, making a total of one dollar and fifteen cents. Since the subscription to the paper costs seventy-five cents, by subscribing, forty cents is saved.

In addition to the five special editions, the staff is attempting to make the paper a regular six-page paper.

Anyone who isn't in the school the first period and wishes to subscribe, may do so by bringing his money to Room 20 and arrangements will be made to give them their paper upon coming to school on Thursday.

The room agents, room number, teacher, and per cent of the rooms are printed below.

First President Strict Advocate of Truthfulness and Punctuality

Reknown Tale of the Cherry Tree Regarded as Fictitious; Return of Washington's Ghost Necessary to Decide Question; George Washington Praised by Earl Russell.

George Washington first saw the light of day on February 22, 1732, on a farm called "Wakefield," in Virginia.

The tale so many times retold about the cherry tree, which illustrates the truthfulness of George, is regarded as fictitious, but, unless his ghost condescends to visit some mortal and verify this story, the truth of it will undoubtedly remain in question. The following poem is intended to portray the facts of this famous story.

When George Washington was young and full of energy,
He took his little hatchet and chopped a cherry tree.
His father grew quite angry, this sorry sight to see,
For he was very fond of that young cherry tree.

And so he questioned George—"Who did this thing?" said he.
"I cannot tell a lie," said George, "I chopped the cherry tree."
His father then wept tears of joy, at such brave honesty.
"Your truthfulness is worth far more than it could be to me."

Punctuality was also one of Washington's strong points. When company was invited to dinner, he made an allowance of only five minutes for variation in watches. If the guests came late, he would say, "We are too punctual for you. I have a clock who does not ask if the company has come, but if the hour has come."

GIRL RESERVES CLEAR $375 AT RUMMAGE SALE

The Girl Reserve clubs of Fort Wayne cleared $375 at their rummage sale which was held the first two weeks in February. The purpose of this sale was to enable them to pay their pledges for the roof of the Y. W. C. A. swimming pool. The amount that the high school girls pledged may now be fully paid while that of the grade school girls will be reduced to a small amount.

HI-YERS TO DISCUSS SOCIAL LIFE OF BOYS

Club to Meet Tonight at Y. M. C. A.; Horace Agnew Elected President Recently

"Social Life of High School" will be discussed at the meeting of the Hi-Y club tonight at the Y. M. C. A. The subject for Bible study is "A Leader With a Purpose."

Horace Agnew, president, Ralph Welch, vice-president, Raymond Ewell, treasurer, and Maynard Patterson, scribe, are the present officers of the South Side Hi-Y club, having been elected at the last meeting of the organization.

The outline for the meetings for the spring semester is as follows:

February 26—Discussion, "Problems of Establishing an Honor Room"; Bible Study, "A Leader and His Convictions."

March 5—Discussion, "If Not Dancing, What? If Dancing, How, Where, When?" Bible Study, "A Leader's Need of Courage."

March 12—Discussion, "Girls"; Bible Study, "Team Work and Leadership."

March 19—Talk by Rev. Mr. Richardson, "A High School Boy's Religion"; Bible Study, "The Mind of a Leader."

March 26—Telling Whoppers. April—Spring vacation.

Bible Study, "A Man Among Men."

April 9—Discussion, "What Is Meant by Leading Church Life?" Bible Study, "Is Jesus Really our Leader?"

April 16—Bible Study examination.

April 23—Banquet to Teachers at South Side Cafeteria.

April 30—Discussion, "The Call of Summer Camping."

May 7—Mother and Son Banquet.

May 14—Hi-Y Picnic.

May 21—Election of Officers. Talks on "What the Year Has Meant to Me."

MRS. EDSON SPEAKS AT SO-SI-Y TUESDAY

Betty Newell Assisted by Margaret Crosby Give First Aid Demonstration at Meeting

"The Land Beyond the Ranges" was discussed thoroughly by Mrs. Edson, former supervisor of domestic science of Fort Wayne schools, at the So-Si-Y meeting last Tuesday. She told of the strife for higher ideas, always lying just beyond the range in every station and age of people's lives.

At the opening of the meeting the Girl Reserve code was repeated and songs, such as "Across the Hills and Plains," "Wear a Blue Triangle," and "I Want to Be a Girl Reserve," were sung.

Betty Newell gave some first aid demonstrations, showing what to do for a drowning person, a fainting person, a broken arm and a sprained ankle. Margaret Crosby assisted her in the demonstration.

New Orchestra Formed
A theater orchestra composed of Wichita (Kan.) high school students has been organized. This orchestra will play for all the school performances.

THEATER EXPERT WILL SPEAK HERE

Sheridan Festival Arranged In Honor of Richard Sheridan, Author of "The Rivals"

ENGLISH CLASSES INVITED

Clayton Hamilton, an expert on the theater, will talk today during the second period to all students having either English or a study period at that time. The subject of his lecture will be "The Stage of the Day of Sheridan." This program will be given in connection with the revival of "The Rivals," a play written by Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

This play was first produced 150 years ago and the Sheridan Festival has been planned in commemoration of this event. "The Rivals" will be given at the Majestic theater on February 25. Students taking English VI. will study this play some time this term.

Mr. Hamilton, who is associated with Professor Matthews in the department of dramatic literature at Columbia University, is known as one of the ablest lecturers in his field. He was dramatic critic of The Forum, The Bookman, Everybody's Magazine and Vogue. He has also written many books on this subject, the best known of which are:

"Materials and Methods of Fiction," 1908.

"The Theory of the Theater," 1910.

"Studies in Stage Craft," 1914.

"On the Trail of Stevenson," 1915.

"The Problems of the Playwright," 1917.

"Manual of the Short Story," 1918.

"Seen on Stage," 1920.

"Conversation on Contemporary Drama," 1924.

FRIENDLY RIVALRY SPURS ON ART CLUB SECTIONS

Winning Group To Be Entered by Losers; Play Given at First Meeting

The Art club held its second meeting of the new term February 16 in Room 61. The club has been divided into two teams and a merit system has been planned. Through this system the members of the club work for points, and at the end of the semester the team having the most points will be entertained by the losing team.

Points are given for getting new members, for raising money through selling old magazines and papers and for taking part in some program. Both sides have chosen very active and capable leaders to aid them in their strife for points. Thelma Buireley is the captain of team one while Clara Sherbondy leads team two.

After the meeting two very interesting talks on art were given by Marie Brown and Clara Sherbondy. The members were then taken to Room 28, where the lively play, "Elizabeth's Young Man" was presented. This was a clever comedy given by the officers of the Art club. The cast was as follows:

Miss Abigail Orr.....Beulah Corwin
Mrs. Lanning.....Thelma Buireley
Elizabeth.....Marcella Reitz
John Martin.....Mary Travis

The next meeting of the Art club will be March 2nd.

TEACHERS TO ENTERTAIN SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS

Reception To Be Given Monday, February 23, at Plymouth Congregational Church Hall

The Fort Wayne Teachers' association is to be at home to the members of the school board, superintendent, assistant superintendent, supervisors, and principals on Monday evening, February 23, from 8:00 to 10:00 p. m. at the Plymouth Congregational social hall.

The social committee has planned an interesting program of music and readings which will follow the first hour of games and social greetings. Refreshments will be served at the close of the program. The association has arranged this reception so that its members might meet in a social way the members of the school board and officers with the hope that on better acquaintance it may have an even better co-operation in its common work of citizen training.

There are now 418 members of classroom teachers and the membership is continually growing. It is the hope that every parent will become interested in this organization and will aid in the co-operation.

The South Side orchestra will furnish music for the event.

HILMA HIXON EXTENDS THANKS FOR GREETINGS

To express her gratitude for the many valentines she received from South Siders, Hilma Hixon, who was recently compelled to leave school because of illness, sent the following letter to the Times:

"As so many sent me valentines, it is impossible for me to write to each one, so I am taking this way of thanking you. They gave me a great deal of pleasure, for I didn't know I had so many friends."

Flax Is Studied
The sewing class of the Central high school, Muskogee, Okla., is taking up the study of flax. Reports will be given and notes are to be taken and kept in a notebook.

STUDENTS WIN PRIZES

Three original advertisements, written by South Side pupils, appeared in this week's issue of the Times. They were prepared for the News-Sentinel in the ad contest, and all three won prizes. The ads for Hilgeman & Schanz and L. E. Bowman, Chrysler and Maxwell distributors, were written by Ruth Mae Dawkins, 25. Raymond Ewell, also a senior, won a prize on the ad for the First National Bank. Hunt these ads ads, students! No doubt they will help you in winning a prize.

PHILOS INVITE GUESTS TO PATRIOTIC MEETING

Girls With B in English and Passing in Other Subjects Are Eligible to Membership

The Philaethian Literary society will hold a patriotic meeting Monday February 23, in the cafeteria.

All members are urged to be present and to bring a guest with them who is eligible to join the society. To be eligible one must have a grade of B in English and passing in other subjects. One has to be in the 10-A, junior, or senior year to be eligible.

At this patriotic meeting the song and yells will be practiced. All members are requested to learn the song and yells.

If dues are not paid within the first four meetings they will be doubled.

MATH-SCIENCE TO HAVE "GUEST NIGHT" FRIDAY

Miss Fiedler and Raymond Ewell to Give Talks on Algebra and Butterflies

"Guest Night," an annual affair of the Math-Science club, will take place tomorrow evening when every member of the club present will have another person, eligible to join, with him as a guest.

Plans are underway to make this year's affair exceed last year's. A program of special interest will be presented. A talk on the "Origin of Algebra" by Miss Fiedler, of the math department, and a talk on, and display of butterflies and moths by Raymond Ewell will be given. "Eats" have been arranged for by the refreshment committee, and all 10 A's, juniors and seniors are urged to attend.

TWO NEW SCRIBES WIN TIMES STORY AWARDS

William VanNess Heads List With a Story on Organization of Local DeMolay Chapter

William P. VanNess won first prize last week in the Times story contest with his front page story on the organization of the local chapter of the DeMolay fraternity. Gertrude Schuelke won second place with her article on the state high school discussion contest and Rose Joseph won third with a feature writeup of the projection room in the gymnasium.

VanNess' story was not only well written, the judges decided, but he also volunteered to take the story which was originally assigned to someone else. Rose Joseph's story also had the added merit of being a pick-up; that is, a story that was assigned to no one.

Gertrude Schuelke still leads in the contest for the awards of $12.50, $7.50 and $5.00, with five points. VanNess and George Wyss are second with three each, and Ruth Mae Dawkins and Rose Joseph have one point each.

Music Pictures Taken

Pictures of the music organizations of South Side are being taken this week for the Totem. The orchestra, girls' glee club and boys' quartet were "shot" Wednesday noon and all the rest will be taken Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ANOTHER CROSS WORD PUZZLE?

Almost everyone seemed to like the cross word puzzle which appeared in the February 5 issue, and seemed to think that it was to become a regular feature. It is the staff's desire to give subscribers features they will enjoy, but that is possible only to a certain degree. The best feature or editorial writer cannot be expected to suddenly become the producer of exacting crossword puzzles. Then you will ask, "Whose job is it?" Consider the small number of staff members and compare them with the many subscribers. Which group should have the ideas and time to "dope out" such a feature for the Times? Why the larger of course! Don your thinking cap and make this a regular feature of

TOTEM IS TO HAVE MUCH COLOR WORK

Specifications for Eight Opening Pages and Four Division Pages Changed; Will Use Five Colors

ROUGH PANELS TO CLOSE

"Plans for the Totem have been revised so much that new bids will be submitted to the printers in about a week," announced Bud Beck, the editor, this week. Changes are to be made in the borders, which will be printed in two colors instead of one, and in the eight opening pages and our division pages, which will be in five colors instead of three. Sub-division pages will be in color also. The cover will be even better quality than that of last year. "The added color work will greatly increase the cost of the book, and will be a big improvement over that of last year," he continued.

Freshmen have until the end of February to get their pictures taken. A charge of $1.00, which is paid to Miss Harvey in Room 20, is made for photography and engraving. The prices for a half dozen and dozen pictures are $3.00 and $4.00 additional, much less than usual rates because of the number of portraits. This reduced price will end February 26 after which time no Totem pictures will be taken.

Work is progressing on the sophomore and junior panels, and the freshmen will be listed soon, in order that they might be mounted immediately after the deadline. The senior panels are completed, nearly all of them being engraved.

Thelma Buireley, art editor, is sketching the designs for class officer panels, each of which will be the identical in size with the class panels, affording perfect balance. These will be completed within a week, and will be engraved immediately.

SOCIAL LIFE IS TOPIC FOR SUNDAY'S FORUM

Mr. Schmalzried Will Preside with Horace Agnew, Chairman; Glee Club to Present Program

"High School Social Life," will be the topic discussed at the next Forum, which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. Mr. Schmalzried, a history teacher at South Side, will lead the discussion while Horace Agnew, the president of the South Side Hi-Y club, will be the chairman. A program by the Y. M. C. A. Glee club will be presented.

About one hundred students from Central and South Side attended the Forum held at the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. "Is the Home as Important as It Used to Be?" was the topic discussed.

The students discussed the home as an educational, religious, cultural, social, and commercial institution, the family council, and the difference between the old-fashioned and modern home. Mr. Brunson, the secretary of the boys' department, led the meeting while Mr. Wiener presided as chairman.

MANY STUDENTS UNDERGO PRELIMINARY LATIN TEST

Two Pupils Having Highest Grade in Each Division To Enter County Contest

Approximately 300 South Side students took the preliminary test for the state-wide Latin contest last Friday. The contestants were allowed to write during the seventh and eighth periods and, if more time was needed, until 4 o'clock.

Ninety people were seated in the cafeteria and several classrooms were used for the rest. Miss Keefer, Mr. Parks, Miss Fiedler and Miss Thorne assisted the Latin teachers in giving out the test questions.

Mr. Rothert commented on the interest which the pupils took and said that for once Friday the 13th held no horrors.

Many of the papers have been graded but the winners cannot be announced until a later date.

Honor Roll Increases

Although the honor roll for the first quarter was unusually large at the Fairbury (Neb.) high school, the number has been increased from 85 to 110 for the quarter just completed. Of the entire school enrollment, 717, 15 per cent, are honor roll students, their grade averaging 89.5 or above.

MANY NET FANS VIEW GREEN-BLUE COMBAT

The South Side vs. Central game drew the attention of all Fort Wayne, but only 3,000 fans were able to view the combat. At the first game between the two schools, more tickets were sold than at the last one, but as many spectators had to stand, it was decided that fewer tickets would be on sale.

Band Makes First Appearance in Suits

The Bosse band boys of the Benjamin Bosse high school, Evansville, Ind., made their first appearance in their new uniforms of cadet blue and scarlet. The suits were made in the English military cut with semi-dress band caps.

GLEE CLUB SELECTS "ONCE IN A BLUE MOON"

"Once in a Blue Moon" is the name of the new operetta which has been selected by Mr. Schaefer. The books have arrived and the cast will be chosen within a week.

The operetta is very modern and the plot of the play is unusual. It promises to be even more interesting than "The Gypsy Rover," which was given by the two Glee clubs last year. Rehearsals for the operetta will start in a few weeks.

BOYS SUBMIT HOBBIES FOR SHOW AT Y. M. C. A.

Five Prizes Won by South Siders Who Entered Displays for Exhibition

Hobbies representing the numerous pastimes of boys formed an interesting display at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday when various collections were brought to the Y for a hobby show. Hundreds of people forming a steady stream passed through the boys' division to view the display. Exhibits were classified under seven heads as follows: Study, stamps, relics, coins, art, handicraft, and uniqueness. Prizes were awarded to the best display in each division.

Four South Side boys had entries in the exhibition. Allen Mason entered his gyroscope display; Harold Shookman his model miniature airplane of original design; Joseph Haffert his collection of arrow heads; Raymond Ewell his mounted butterflies, moths, insects, coins, flowers and plants.

All four of the boys won prizes for their entries. Raymond Ewell won first prize in the entries of natural study. He received an insect manual for his exhibition of butterflies and moths. He also had the second best collection of coins.

Joseph Haffert took first honors in the relic division. His prize was a pike bait. For one of the five best displays in the handicraft section, Allen Mason was awarded a plumb camp axe. A fishing rod was the prize received by Harold Shookman for his display of miniature airplanes in the handicraft division.

The judges for the show were J. L. Anguish, scoutmaster of the Fort Wayne Boy Scouts, and Paul S. Welty, Y. M. C. A. secretary.

TO START TOTEM DRIVE ON FRESHMEN CLASSES

Each Room to Have Agent to Conduct Campaign; Initial Payments Wanted

A Totem subscription campaign has been started among the new freshmen. It is being conducted through the first-hour classes. Room agents have been appointed in the seven first-hour freshmen classes. They are as follows:

Room	Teacher	Agent
142	Kiefer	M. Mile
94	Greely	L. Hus
90	Perkins	G. Broune
85	Mendenhall	D. Pollock
80	Spaulding
36	Thorne	M. Seave
32	Woodward	M. Walter
Gym	Hadsell	L. Waldenbury
Gym	Gilbert	P. Berlien

The campaign among those freshmen who are in the session room the first period is being conducted by Thelma Gasser.

Letters have been sent to all the alumni and to any outsiders likely to be interested. Students are asked to co-operate in securing outside subscriptions.

Ruth Egan has been appointed as an assistant circulation manager to take the place of Lucille Lapp, who has been transferred to the Times staff.

The circulation department is endeavoring to secure at least the first payment, which is twenty-five cents from everyone who intends to purchase a 1925 Totem. The circulation manager asks that every student co-operate with this department so that the records may be completed as soon as possible.

Meigs Says Successful Student Sure to Make Good in Business

Picks His Assistants and Partners from High Schools in Fort Wayne; Teachers Assist Him in Picking Out Students with Ability.

When C. A. Meigs was asked to write something about his business, he said he would be glad to do so, for the Fort Wayne high schools and teachers have been the cause of his success.

Beginning with Robert Hall in 1916, each time Mr. Meigs has needed another man on his force, he has asked the principal and teachers to suggest someone that they knew were "get-therer" men in their classes. Noble Lachot and "Ken" Dutton, both of 1919, before South Side was built, are now managers and partners in this optical shop at South Bend and Kokomo.

He also has two high school graduates away at college studying optometry and another Southsider now in school who will join him after graduation. So well have the dispositions and qualifications shown in the school life proven to be the men's traits in after life, that Mr. Meigs feels he is safe in banking on the teacher's selection.

"The lad that seems to jump ahead immediately after leaving school is not lucky but has laid the foundation to success by his habits and grit when

GIRL RESERVES PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR EXPANSION

All Girls in School Eligible to Membership in Either So-Si-Y or U. S. A. Clubs

PERSONS MAY REGISTER
HERE AT HALL BOOTH

Captains of U. S. A. Teams Will Compete for New Club Members

A Girl Reserve membership campaign will be held Thursday and Friday of this week. Girls at the booth in the front hall will provide membership cards and receive the twenty-five cents dues from both old and new members during periods 4, 5, 6 and 9. Freshmen and sophomore girls are invited to join the U. S. A., while the So-Si-Y is open to the juniors and seniors. Posters will indicate the increase in membership in each organization.

In the U. S. A. two teams, with Esther Ballard and Eleanor Wilson as captains, will compete for new members. It is not required that every girl pay her fee at the time she becomes a member, but it is desirable, as funds are needed at once.

The U. S. A. program for the ensuing semester will be given out at the next meeting, which will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is as follows:

February 19—Wide Open Windows. (Welcome to 9B girls.)

March 5—The Light in the Windows. (Recognition.)

March 19—The Windows of Our Souls. (Reverent to God.)

Some people can't even do their duty without making a fuss about it.

Usually a man who boasts of his bravery has not got nerve enough to push a setting hen off her nest.

"Coughing is a highly specialized art," says a health writer. Nevertheless, we contend that it's not a good class-room specialty, unless we haven't prepared the assignment and cough every time the teacher looks at us.

Why not let the other fellow talk for a change? Of course, we don't say that anyone should keep still altogether, but the other fellow would appreciate our courtesy and we might learn something if our own mouths were not in perpetual motion. On the other hand, when we have something to say and know that it is really worth saying, it is our duty to go ahead and say it, and let the other fellow do the "listenin' act."

To kill time is the weakest and most cowardly form of suicide, as David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University said in his essay, "Life's Enthusiasms." Sometimes wasting time is almost like murder, as in the case of the story that is told about the man, who was found lying on the side of the road murmuring what sounded like, "I ate one, too." He was rushed to a hospital. Always he kept murmuring the same words. For days, doctors tried to discover what kind of poison he had eaten. Finally, in spite of all the antidotes he had been forced to swallow, he became well enough to talk sensibly.

"Did you get the man who ran over me?" he asked the doctor in a weak voice.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"Oh," came the disgusted reply. "Here I've been telling you all these days that the license number was 1-8-1-2 and all you've been doing is wasting time and just about killing me with your antidotes."

An appropriate school song! How often have we wished for one? And now at last we have it—with music that has pep and vim in it, and with words that should be sung with real feeling, because we can do what they say. All along, we have been singing the praise of South Side high and flinging our colors free; and we shall always be loyal to South Side, for her honor is our pride, just as the song says. Let us thank Miss Work and Mr. Schaefer for the time, work, and thought that they put into it.

Latin, discussion, and oratorical contests! Here are three tests of intellectual ability and strength. For it takes strength to sit at home, night after night, and study derivatives or read dry, old, Congressional Records. It takes high ability to pass the test and come out on top. In other contests, you can use your body; here you must use your head and that, continuously. In other things, you can crash through to success, here you must keep your head cool, and think your way out, slowly, but steadily. You cannot rely on the rest, for if you win, it is because of your personal efforts; you have no one shouting from the bleachers and urging you on, but ambition tells you to work. And in the end, though you may not win the contest you are content with the knowledge that you did your best and will try again next time. This brings true progress.

"What are you standing still for?"

"Why don't cha' move?"

"Why don't you get a shot and roll the ball up to the basket?"

Questions like these are often heard at our girls' basketball games. To the uninformed on-looker, girls' games, in comparison with boys', are rather a good joke. Probably the rules are not understood.

Girls may not dribble or bounce the ball more than once; they may not touch their opponent; they must guard on a vertical plane; only the two forwards are allowed to shoot for baskets; the floor is divided into three courts in one of which the girls must stay, according to the position they are playing. These and other points make girls' basketball different.

If would-be critics will only read girls' basketball rules and remember that the value of the game is the team work, they will be more appreciative.

OUR COMMON HERITAGE

"The priceless privilege of American citizenship" has long been one of the stock phrases with which we have voiced our national pride, just as it was the proud boast of the ancient Roman that to be a citizen of the Eternal City was to be greater than a king.

As soon as possible we should make use of this "priceless privilege." When George Washington predicted that the federal constitution would endure as long as there remained "any virtue in the body of the people," he pointed out that one of the menaces to it would be "listlessness for the preservation of the national and inalienable right of mankind."

A Mite of Verse

YOUTH
Youth is the chrysalis (whence come the man),
In which the spirit grows its wings to soar
The tenuous atmosphere above the roar
Of groveling beasts; in which, by God's own plan,
Bright dreams prepare the sightless eyes to see
The nerveless heart to feel, the brain to think,
The soul to hope, the conscience not to blink.
But in the full glare of life's day to be Clear-eyed. But if, like ants, young manhood bites
The wings should waft it from ignoble scenes
Of unfaith, low aim, and content therewith,
What shame and folly that dread angel writes
When he records our deeds 'fore God!
What means
The chrysalis? Why fails the Thundersmith?

THE HANGING OF TALES

Shakespeare said, "And thereby hangs a tale." In our day we paraphrase these words to, "And thereby we hang a tale." No matter how small the reason may be, on it we can and do hang tales long enough to start the whole school talking. Not that we are intentionally malicious or anything like that, but—just imagine! I heard that so-and-so said that—Why, would you believe it—and hereby we hang our tale. And sometimes, unfortunately, the tale is not quite long enough to suit us; so we hang just a little more to it, not enough to make any difference really, just a little; and the one who receives our little tale hates to keep it for himself or to pass it on without doing his little part to lengthen it.

Thus it is passed on—lengthening and stretching and growing every step of the way until, when we hear it again, it hardly seems possible that it is the same little story which we whispered to our best friends, admonishing them never to "breathe it to a soul." So again we pass it on, and it goes its merry-go-round journey, never stopping, ever lengthening. And all because of our very proficient "hanging of tales," someone is wounded—someone hides a hurt heart under a defiant smile.

in Other Schools

New Course Offered
A course in dental nursing is being offered at the University of Minnesota. The course was organized five years ago, but is yet too new to be generally known. It is a two-year course leading to the degree of graduate dental nurse and prepares women for doing dental prophylaxis and educational work in public schools.

Examine Steam Ship
Sixty boys of the Electrical Engineering society of the Los Angeles (Cal.) Polytechnical high school recently took a trip to San Pedro and examined the U. S. S. California. They were taken through all parts of the ship.

Take Trip to Stock Yards
The Geography club of the Oak Park (Ill.) high school will visit the stock yards and packing houses. They will inspect these closely.

Read Many Books
A questionnaire to find out the results of outside reading shows a total of 2,819 books read since last September by south junior pupils of Colorado Springs, Colo. Some children read as many as forty books in that time.

Visit Places of Interest
The civics students of the Roosevelt high school of Seattle, Wash., recently visited the mayor's office, the treasurer's office, the jails, the morgue, and the license department.

Hold Shakespearean Contest
A Shakespearean contest will be held in the state of Washington. The purpose is to encourage training in spoken English and interest in Shakespeare in high schools. The judges will base the decision on the ability of the contestants to interpret the intellectual and emotional content of the selection.

Debating Class Organized
A debate class has been organized at the South high school, Minneapolis, Minn. Thirty-three students have already been enrolled for this study.

Boys Edit Page of Paper
Two boys from each of the Duluth (Minn.) high schools were chosen the first part of this week to edit the boys' page of the Duluth News-Tribune and will make its appearance in the regular Tuesday edition of that paper. This page will be planned, written, and edited by these boys and will contain editorials, sports, and news concerning the Boys' Week activities.

TO THE SPRING

Springtime, the best time,
The queen of all the year;
The song time, the best time,
The time of love and cheer.
The birds are singing in the trees,
A warble soft and sweet;
The robin with his breast so red,
Tips his head and chirps "tweet, tweet."
The trickling streamlet gliding
Through woods and fields and groves, Hears the Ocean King with all his roar,
And his fairies in the caves.
They're ringing in the springtime,
With their little fairy bells,
And they dance in a merry welkin
ring,
On the sand and wee sea shells.
And Father Sun looks down and smiles,
And his round face brightly beams;
The flowers nod their tiny heads,
In gratitude it seems.
Oh, may life feel its springtime
With its happiness and cheer,
Forever and forever
'Tis the best time of the year.
—Bertryl Merrill.

Saint Valentine Dethroned as Patron Saint of Sweethearts

Latin Word Valens, Meaning Gallant or Valiant, Is Confused With the Name of the Pious Bishop Valentine, Who Became a Martyr of the Christian Church.

Although all Valentine festivities and the unique day itself have passed for the space of a year, we might pause a few moments and learn a bit of the source of the customs of this recently celebrated day. Much humor is derived from the modern St. Valentine's entertainments, but some historians say that the original customs were very serious.

Custom, more potent than any other authority to man, has decreed that on St. Valentine's day, February 14, young and old folks alike should exchange missives and epistles, either comic or sentimental, in which the whims or the love of the sender is dispatched in prose, in verse, and in emblematic pictures. The reason for this custom can certainly not be traced back to the pious Saint Valentine, whose name honors this day. He can not be accused of writing love ditties; he was not a writer of love songs! There was nothing comic in the fate of the good saint who was beheaded!

Offer Explanation
The etymologists, however, have given us a very feasible explanation of how we happen to link St. Valentine's name with this day of love-sending missives. They point out that v and g were often interchangeable in popular speech, and as a notable example produces the words gallant and valiant, both of which spring from the Latin valens.

They then say that the Norman word galantin, a lover of the fair sex, was frequently written and pronounced valantin or valentin. From these facts they conclude that by a natural confusion of names Bishop Valentine was established as the patron saint of lovers and sweethearts, although he has no connection, not even an etymological one, with the latter class of beings.

Other Ideas Offered
Francis Douche, however, in his collection of "Illustrations of Shakespeare" (1807) upsets the entire train of thought when he says St. Valentine's day is nothing more or less than the Christianized form of the feasts of Lupercalia, which were held in the days of pagan Rome in the month of February in honor of Pan and Juno.

MORE EQUIPMENT; NOW MORE WORK

Three Science Laboratory Departments Received Needed Supplies.

Has it come to this that a teaspoon is classed under new equipment in the chemistry laboratory? And yet Mr. Voorhees calmly headed his list with a new teaspoon.

The chemistry department leads the other two science departments in buying the most equipment since the beginning of the new term. In addition to the teaspoon the chemistry department has received a new apparatus to determine the amount of sulphur and iron in steel; an apparatus to find the amount of carbon dioxide in baking powder; twenty-five new sets of weights, from ten to five hundred milligrams; six new distilling flasks, and a laboratory coat for the instructor. (Mr. Voorhees slyly added that this coat is for Mr. Gilbert.)

The physical geography department comes next in the list. Since the beginning of the term Mr. Whelan said that only a few things had been added to this department: a number of small magnifying glasses for minerals and soil, two new maps, summer and winter, of North America for the study of climate, and a few new contour maps.

A new plant stand, and a sand table from Mr. Whelan's department are the only things that have been added to the botany department.

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith, and will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room S.

Upper Classmen Invited

To the Editor:
I wonder how many 10-A's, juniors and seniors know that there is a Math-Science club here? All of the above mentioned who are taking or have taken a science or mathematics are eligible. We have good times at our meetings, not only in a social way but in discussing scientific and mathematical subjects. Oh, Yes! We have "eats," too. Our next meeting is tomorrow evening. It has been planned by the members as "guest night." Now members, please don't forget your guests. And the rest of you upper-classmen, don't be timid about coming if your fellow-classmen forget to invite you, for we've plans made for everyone.

ELEANOR COLSON,
President.
P. S.—Now don't forget, tomorrow is the meetin' night.—Pres.

On Spoiling the View

To the Editor:
If I may use this column to ask for a bit of information on etiquette, I would like to know whether or not it is polite to get ready to leave a basketball game about ten minutes before the end and then stand in the aisles and exits. I have seen many people do this and many stand directly in front of someone else, thus making it impossible for them to see unless they stand, too. Surely we ought not do it if it is not right.

I-WANNA-KNO.

Plane Trip to Orient

A junior of the Kakina (Wash.) high school is planning a trip to the Orient. He expects to leave Seattle or San Francisco and work his way, visiting Yokohama, Kobe, Manila, Shanghai, Hong Kong and Tokio. If possible he will be gone for three months. He is going for the experience, pleasure and the education.

City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne has celebrated its centennial, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note)

Eskey Dairy
The Eskey Dairy first opened its doors to the public in 1923. This dairy is the outgrowth of the Selley Dairy, which carried on the business from 1922 until 1923.

This firm carries on wholesale and retail business and delivers milk to all customers. The South Side cafeteria gets its milk from this concern.

The officers of the Eskey Dairy are: A. R. Selley, president; J. S. Seletzer, secretary, and H. F. Koene-mann, treasurer. Miss Betty Blausser is employed as bookkeeper and office girl.

The officers are very well pleased with the growth of the business. When the Eskey Dairy opened, the amount of milk sold was 60 gallons a day. At the present time it has reached 1,100 gallons.

The Eskey Dairy is located at Spring and Short streets.

Foster Manufacturing Company

Samuel M. Foster, of this city, was the originator of the blouse. In the winter of 1884-1885, Mr. Foster induced Jules C. Simon, who is now treasurer of this company, to join him in the waist manufacturing field, and he furnished us with a story of how he began making blouses.

One cold winter day Mr. Foster happened to recall that during the preceding summer he had bought some boys' unlaundered shirtwaists that were good sellers and hard to get. He fell to wondering whether they could not make some for next season using the material from the store and having the clerks cut them out. There wasn't one left in stock but inquiry among the clerks revealed the fact that one of them had one of his little boy at home.

When he brought it to the store the next day, it was worn out and faded but that little rag of a shirtwaist was the start of what little material success Mr. Foster has met with. He ripped it apart and made a pattern, and then cut and sewed it together. Then they secured patterns for different sizes.

One day it occurred to him to sell these to merchants and make a little profit so he mailed samples to different firms and started selling to stores.

The shirtwaist soon was an American garment. Mr. Foster says he will not claim that they made the first shirtwaist that was ever made in the United States, but he knows of no one that made them before they did but he adds that they were the first people west of New York to take up the manufacture of this garment.

Since the opening of this firm, they have had a great amount of business and are still progressing greatly.

The Foster Shirtwaist Manufacturing company is located at 417-423 East Columbia street.

The Koerber Jewelry Store

The Koerber Jewelry Store, 818-20 Calhoun street, was begun in 1865, under the name of Trenkley & Scherzinger. Its first location was in exactly the same place in which it is situated at the present time.

The two pioneer citizens, Mr. Trenkley and Mr. Scherzinger, carried on an extremely successful business, and were soon forced to move because of the inadequate space. In 1890 they moved one door north into a larger and better equipped building.

Mr. Scherzinger resigned from active business in 1902. It was at this time that Mr. Koerber became a member of the firm, and the name was changed to Trenkley & Koerber.

Mr. Trenkley retired in 1914. The firm then continued under the name of Koerber's.

Owing to the ever increasing and extensive trade, they again soon found that they must increase the size of their place of business. This time they moved back to their first location, taking on considerable more space, and in 1919 they opened to the public their large and thoroughly equipped jewelry store.

At the present time Koerber's is one of the best and foremost stores of its kind in the city and is managed by Robert Koerber, who has had complete charge of it since the retirement of his father.

Mr. Koerber commented enthusiastically on the wonderful school spirit of South Side, its organization and the grand opportunity its faculties provided for the various civic bodies in Fort Wayne to hold meetings and entertainments.

Citizens Trust Co.

"South Side is the most wonderful school I have ever seen, and it is a credit to the city," said William B. Gutelius, secretary of the Citizens' Trust company. He also said that we have a very worth-while paper and hopes that it will meet with as good success in the future as it has in the past.

The Citizens Trust company celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary December 15. Their present resources are $5,002,000. When they started business in 1899 their resources were only $101,607, which shows that they have grown considerably in the twenty-five years that they have been in business. The officers of the Citizens Trust company are: President, Judge Owen N. Heaton; vice-presidents, Edward F. Yarnelle and Wallace E. Doud; secretary, William B. Gutelius; assistant secretaries, Willard M. Thomas and Jay M. Brown.

Mr. Gutelius said that anyone who was a high school graduate was eligible to a position in the bank, although as yet only business college graduates have asked for employment.

Mayflower Mills

The Mayflower Mills were established in 1889 and at present have a capacity of 600 barrels of flour per day. They are only one officer, Mr. Truitt, who is the general manager, and who carries on the general milling and grain business, both domestic and export.

For employment at the Mayflower Mills good general education is needed.

LOCAL FAN SOLE ROOTER AT GAME

Follower of South Side Makes Special Trips to Attend the Shelbyville Contest.

A certain South Side enthusiast proved his loyalty to South Side at the Shelbyville game, where he was the sole rooter for the Kelly Klads.

It so happened that S. E. Williamson, who is connected with the Sherman-Williams Paint company, was attending a convention at Indianapolis at the time of the game and, as he is interested in South Side, he made a special trip to Shelbyville to attend the game.

There was quite a crowd and a lot of yelling but there was no other rooters for South Side. This did not keep Mr. Williamson from exercising his voice for the rooter "for South Side with main and might."

ed, the better the education the better the employee. Particular training, of course, depends largely upon the branch of work in which the employee is to be engaged. For stenographers Mr. Truitt especially recommends spelling and a good knowledge of proper sentence structure and punctuation. "We feel sure that graduates of South Side high school will have these qualifications and a very thorough and proper training," said Mr. Truitt, manager of the Mayflower Mills, when interviewed the other day.

Moss-Roberts

On January 1, 1920, Earle Moss and H. K. Roberts began dealing in Hup automobiles. Earle Moss was president of the firm and H. K. Roberts was secretary and treasurer. Their territory then included the whole Twelfth district. Some time after that two more counties were added to their territory, Adams and Wells.

In 1925 Huntington, Wabash, Miami, Fulton, and Kosciusko counties were added to their territory. This addition makes Moss-Roberts the Hup dealers for northeastern Indiana. They serve a population of approximately 450,000 people.

The service manager whom they employ must be a skilled auto mechanic. Besides the service manager they employ five other mechanics. In this way they are able to take care of all the cars which they sell. The five salesmen whom they employ need only a general education. "Any graduate of South Side would be capable of taking a position of auto salesman," said Earle Moss.

"I like South Side high school very much," stated Mr. Moss when interviewed the other day. He also said, "For several years I was state field secretary for Tri-State College. During that time I visited many schools and from that point of view I consider South Side an exceptionally fine plant. I was impressed very much by its spirit."

Cleary & Bailey

In 1893 Cleary & Bailey started in business at 812 Calhoun street under the present firm name. The increase in business was steady from the beginning up to the present time. The work that is carried on by this concern is job printing, which includes letter heads, envelopes, cards, and programs.

Cleary & Bailey is a partnership firm owned by Martin J. Cleary, Sr., and Thomas E. Bailey. Anyone wishing to enter into this firm to learn the trade of printing must take a five-year apprenticeship course. High school education of employees is preferred but not required.

Most of the small jobs of printing for South Side high school are done at Cleary & Bailey. This is the only firm of its kind in Fort Wayne that has run under the same name since they started business.

When speaking of South Side, Mr. Bailey expressed his opinion by declaring, "The faculty and pupils of South Side are to be complimented upon the progress they have made in every way since the school started."

The News-Sentinel

The News-Sentinel, which is located on the corner of Clinton and East Main streets, consists of two corporations combined, the News and the Sentinel. In November, 1917, the News, which was started in 1874, bought out the Sentinel, which was established in 1833. The two names were combined on January 1, 1918, forming the present name. The News was first located at Clinton and Washington streets and the Sentinel on West Wayne street.

This concern started out with $80,000 yearly income and now has a circulation of over 42,000 and a yearly income of $800,000.

The officers of this corporation are: O. G. Foellinger, president; F. G. Hamilton, vice-president; Miss M. Branning, secretary and treasurer, and A. K. Remmel, chairman of the board of directors.

Anyone applying for a position at the office must have a good moral character; he must be well recommended and have had some business experience in an office. A person with a high school education is preferred.

Willis Carlo, a graduate of South Side, is now employed in the office. Mr. Foellinger has a daughter, Helene, attending South Side.

QUALITY SERVICE

How far should a plumber go with his advertising? That's a question. In a certain city an excavation about the size of a grave was open in the sidewalk where a plumbing connection was being made. At one end of the grave-like excavation was a large sign, "Pile the Tumblers."

A stranger, in passing the place, stopped, read the sign, and then remarked: "Queer combination, but prominent cemetery—right in the center of town."

WHERE OUR STREETS GET THEIR NAMES

FAIRFIELD AVENUE
Until recently the uptown portion of Fairfield avenue was called Griffith street, named for the wife of Col. Griffith Ewing, whose maiden name was Charlotte Griffith. Because of its connection with Fairfield avenue, which runs south of Griffith street and beyond the city limits, the entire street has come to be known as Fairfield avenue.

The name commemorates the Fairfield family, according to a recent story in the Journal-Gazette. Captain Asa Fairfield and his brother Oliver came from Kennebeck, Maine, in 1834. Captain Asa Fairfield purchased 240 acres in what is now South Wayne, through which Fairfield avenue is extended. The present boundary lines are Taylor street, Broadway, Hoagland avenue, and Kinsmoor avenue.

The Fairfields brought their families here in 1834. Carriages were bought at Pittsburgh and loaded on the boat on which the travelers came on. These carriages were the first vehicles of the kind ever seen in Fort Wayne.

Captain Fairfield built the first frame house in South Wayne. He operated the first canal boat on the Wabash and Erie canal. He is said to have brought more money to Fort Wayne than any man who preceded him.

STUDENTS DEMAND MORE LUNCH TIME

Pupils Are Not Satisfied With the Periods Of Their Own Choosing.

Many changes have been made in the programs this year. The majority of pupils asked for two periods for lunch, and some that had two periods declared "two periods don't give one enough time to eat," and then tried to persuade Deane McAfee to give them three.

Some pupils said, "I signed up for this class but I'd rather have it some other hour," the real reason being that they preferred a different teacher. It was impossible to make these changes though. The majority of programs made by the pupils were left unchanged, although a few were completely changed, since too many pupils choose classes the same hour.

With the Classes

Miss Smeltzly's United States history classes had a brief discussion last Thursday on the historical and literary value of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Mr. Murphy gave his economics pupils special assignments for class reports.

Edith Kies, Clarice Wehmeyer, Catherine Buck and Amabelle Smith have returned to school. Their absence was due to illness from colds.

Mr. Makey's class in English VII has finished the introduction to Burke's speech on conciliation with America.

Mr. Stahl and his assistants have been kept busy oiling the corridors, washing windows and glass doors, putting a partition in the dressing room, making a bulletin board for Room 85, washing desks in Room S and seats in the classrooms, repairing seats in Room S, and a door in Room 6.

A test covering the reign of the Stuart line was given by Miss Miller to her general history II classes last week.

Maps of the territory of this country in 1861 were made by Miss Miller's United States history II classes last week.

'24 GRADUATES PLAN TO GIVE SCOREBOARD

Class Surplus of $214.78 Will Be Used as First Payment on Device

As a gift to South Side, the class of 1924 will present the school with the electric scoreboard which is being used in the gym for basketball games. At the close of school last June the class had a surplus of $189.78 and a dozen Totems. The Totems were sold to the Times for $25, making the total surplus $214.78. It is with this money that they will make the first payment on the scoreboard.

The complete financial report of the class is:

TWO GIRLS CLEAN SMALL GYM ROOM

Get Quite a Bit of Humor From Writings on the Wall in This Room.

Two brushes, hot water and soap were being dexterously wielded in the little room on the east side of the gymnasium known as the "Times Room." The sleeves of the two girls who were carefully scrubbing the walls were rolled up, far out of the reach of the soapy water and dirt.

Stroke by stroke, they spent in cleaning the wall of the disfiguring marks—pencil marks, names of individuals linked with other individuals—"cases" you might say, ink marks, chalk marks worn on by nothing more than constant touch and wear.

It was tedious work, the two workers, Lottie Dignan and Clara Sherbondy will tell you, to eradicate those unsightly spots from the walls of this much-used room. Just ask them anything about it, however, and they will say that they were more than repaid.

They will say that there was plenty of writing on the wall that a casual glance would not reveal—the names of frats, sororities, dances, etc., besides the innumerable "cases" and "crushes."

When it was finished, they surveyed their work with a tinge of pride, and vowed vengeance upon the first trespasser who would defile the cleanliness of the walls with any kind of a mark, and as a reminder to strangers they soon tacked up the sign: "No Loafing. By Order of the Dean."

Alumni News

Margaret Diserens, who is attending Rockford College, spent a few days last week visiting with parents and friends.

Elizabeth Smith, '24, is now an active member of the Community club in Fort Wayne. Last week Elizabeth participated in one of the debates which the Community club holds at each meeting. The question of the debate was: "Resolved, that the railroads have done more harm to the automobile for our country."

Verl Patterson, '23, who has been attending Northwestern University, returned home last week and is now enrolled in Indiana University Extension work. He says that he is going to enter Indiana University next September.

Mary Wasson, '24, is now employed at the Pigeon Wholesale Millinery company. She began the study of making hats at the Wolf Millinery shop last summer.

Dorothy Dix, '24, has taken a position in her father's office at the City Light company. Dorothy has enrolled in the English composition class of the Indiana University Extension.

Paul Hess, '23, former managing editor of the Times, returned home from the University of Wisconsin last week.

Eleanor McKinney, '24, student at DePauw University, recently made the freshman rifle team. Eleanor is considered one of the best marksmen in school.

Mildred Heintz, graduate of the '23 class, has one of the leading roles in "The Dream That Came True," a three-act comedy which the Fort Wayne Walther League is giving three nights this week. When in high school, Mildred took an active part in Glee club and Art club, and was Art editor of the 1923 Totem.

Deane McAfee is one of the two delegates from the Gracchi club to attend the Young Girls' Business convention at Grand Rapids, Mich., February 21 and 22. This convention will be composed of girls from such Y. W. clubs as the Gracchi club within a radius of 150 miles of Grand Rapids.

Several alumni enrolled this week in the English composition and literature classes of the Indiana University Extension course. They are: Deane McAfee, '23, Theodore Hugel, '23, Josephine Dinklage, '24, Dwight Myers, '24, and Vivian Crates, '24.

Elizabeth Adams, '24, writes home that there is no other university like Ohio State University. Elizabeth's likes in her course this year tends toward the language. Elizabeth can be remembered as the advertising manager of the Times and Totem last year.

Harriett Scott, '24, visited in the city last week-end. While here she attended the Central-South Side basketball game.

Ralph Wilkey, '24, visited the art department last Monday.

PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL SERIES DIVIDED EVENLY

CENTRAL FELLED IN CLOSE BATTLE WITH SOUTH SIDE

Teams of Sister Schools Evenly Matched; Neither Obtains a Greater Lead Than Five Points

3,200 FANS PACK GYM TO SEE BATTLE ROYAL

Green Reserves Tounce Blue Seconds in Preliminary by Score of 33 to 25

The Green and White quintet emerged victorious over the Tigers of Central Saturday night at the South Side gym by the close score of 22 to 19. It was the most interesting exhibition of basketball staged by the sister schools since the district tournament last year. The greatest factor of interest was that the two teams were very evenly matched and neither could gain a big enough advantage to feel sure of its lead. This fact spurred them to the utmost.

Fighting every second of the game, the two teams waged a most terrific battle. The score was tied on three different occasions. The lead switched five times during the course of the game. Neither team had more than a five-point lead at any time. At the start of the second half, Central stepped out to a five-point lead but was overcome by the superior sniping of the Green forwards while the South Side defense held the Tigers in check. Central's offense was completely disrupted after the first five minutes of the second period. The Blue scored only two points from the free throw line in the last five minutes of the game. At the end of the half, the score was in a deadlock, at 12 all.

Thirty-two Hundred Witness Fray

Nearly 3,200 frenzied fans packed every inch of available sitting space to view the second of the battle. The yelling of the ardent and loyal followers of the Blue and Green urged the respective teams to fight the most deadly battle and give forth every ounce of energy they possessed. The Central cheer leaders were decked out in their white uniforms and looked like a small army when they had all assembled on the floor. Before the game, the South Side cheer leaders presented the Central fans with a large heart bearing the inscription, "Greetings from South Side."

Rahe, Sprunger and DuWan were the outstanding players on the South Side teams. They scored sixteen of the Green's twenty-two points. This trio not only scored most of the points but counted from the field when baskets were most necessary. Sprunger was red hot at the outset of the game. This fighting guard played sensationally throughout the game but gained a most welcome hand when he dropped in three long field goals for the Green within the first five minutes of the game. Two of his baskets were on successive shots and were the first two of the game.

DuWan played a bang-up game while he was in the fray. This husky pivot man was in practically every South Side play. Rahe was a true hero by virtue of his efforts during the second half. After Central had jumped into a lead of five points and after Simon had cut the lead to three points, this flashy offensive thrust evaded the Blue defense for two field goals and two free throws. Like DuWan, Rahe did his best stuff of the season.

Hank and Wolf Star

Kowalczyk and Wolf carried the brunt of the Tiger battle. Captain Kowalczyk tallied only four points, all of which were made at the same moment when he tossed a goal, was fouled, and pitted two free throws, but his work under the basket at back guard was as flawless as could be desired. Wolf dropped in two pretty field goals for Central and in addition to which played a good floor game and gave everything he had for the Blue cause.

Reserve Game

In the game between the second teams of the two schools, the Green understudies romped away with Central reserves by the score of 33 to 25. South Side led all the way and had piled up a count of 24 to 14 at the half time.

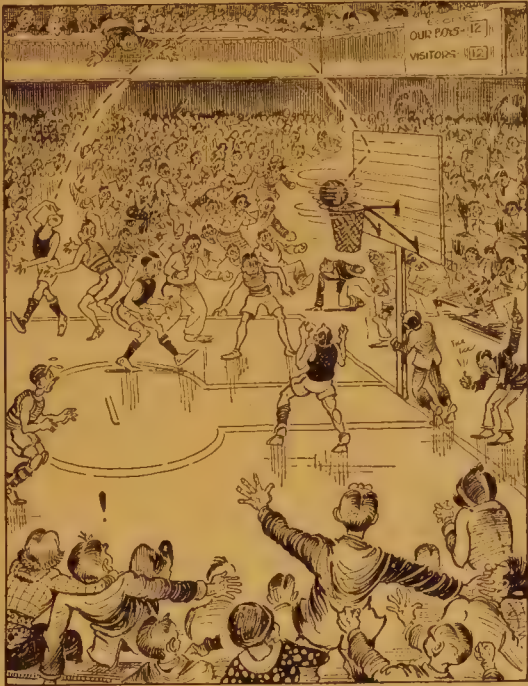

Branning was the big star of the game. He scored fifteen points during the prelim. He connected six times from the field during the first half. Staley and Staigt also played well for South Side. Manth and Bayer looked well in the Central line-up. The game was rough and fouls were frequent.

When Seconds Seem Like Weeks!

GREEN TOSSERS OPPOSE MANUAL IN HOME GAME

Past Records of Both Teams Give Promise of Sharp Battle for Saturday Night

FORMER BUTLER STAR COACHES STRONG LINE

Lineup Undetermined; Brubaker, Rahe, Wiener, Sprunger and Thiele Will Probably Start

The quintet of Manual Training high school of Indianapolis meets Coach Gilbert's basket tossers here Saturday night in the next-to-the-last encounter before the tournament.

South Side men have hit their stride, defeating Richmond, Hartford City and Central. Passing and floor work is improving with every game. Manual Training is having an off on season, winning from some of the best teams and losing to some of the poorest. In the fight for the championship of Indianapolis she gave the strong Shortridge team a real battle, so the Kelly Clads are expecting some real opposition on Saturday. Roland Jones, a former Butler star, is coaching the Indianapolis team.

South Side's basketball squad has been cut down to ten men, but, because of the ability of each, Coach Gilbert does not know the exact ones who will start the game. The probable line-up has Brubaker and Rahe as forwards, Wiener as center, and Sprunger and Thiele as guards.

After this game, the locals will have only the game with Peru on February 27 before the tournament.

SPORT GUSH

We have so much to gush about, but all that comes to our typewriter is "We won!"

A can of silver polish had better be added to the list of South Side supplies. It'll take a lot of the stuff to keep our trophies lookin' real shiny for another year.

Doesn't the gym look pretty when it's crowded? We thought that they'd have to park 'em on the rafters for that game.

Saint Valentine must be South Side's patron saint. We hope he liked the pretty hearts that formed part of the Green 'n White decorations. We did. Of course, the hearts were red, while the rest of the decorations were green and white.

And we hope that Central liked that big heart that our cheer leaders presented to them during an intermission.

We'll bet that the Blue were thrilled when their seven cheer leaders dashed forth.

Four of the seven were "old grads" from the downtown school.

They surely furnished lots of entertainment during the half. First, they staged a football game. And then, with solemn expressions, they all filed out, bowed low, and seemed to worship Allah, or, maybe they were calling down a blessing on their basket.

But our own little band-boys pleasingly surprised everyone when they opened up a new bag of tricks for the great occasion.

Didja notice the brave firemen and stalwart policemen?

We liked those blue 'n white-whaddya call 'em—that Central waved during their school song. In the vernacular, they were "plenty cute." (Are they pseudo feather dusters?)

BLUE-GREEN NET BATTLES WILL BE STAGED BY GIRLS

Opening Fray Will Be Held in South Side Gym Tomorrow Afternoon Open to the Public

FOURTEEN GIRLS REMAIN ON SOUTH SIDE VARSITY

Mildredites Defeated the Central Team Last Year; South Side Court Rules in Force

The Tigerettes and Mildredites will open this season's hostilities when the Blue girls journey here tomorrow. The affair will begin at about 3:30 o'clock and an admission of ten cents will be charged. A "howling mob" is expected from Central and the fair South Sideites are also determined to fill their portion of the gym with enthusiastic yellers.

Central plays one line rules, which approach boys' rules, while South Side follows the two-line ruling. Therefore, when the Mildredites journey in town they will follow the one-line rules, while Central will play the game tomorrow as South Side plays it. Last Monday our girls practiced on Central's floor, while the Schwehnites traveled up here to toss balls in our baskets.

Last year the Green girls defeated the Blue ones, and they are determined to repeat the process. Fourteen girls have been retained on the varsity after the final cut, and a team full of plenty of pep will be chosen from these fourteen to face the feminine Tiger. The squad is as follows: Veda Stevens, Frances Wagner, Beatrice Huguenard, Velda Nobles, Mildred Koester, Doris Minier, Maxine Schmieder, Doris Bauer, Alice Mason, Gertrude Brouwer, Nellie Merica, Violet Fell, Gladys Guibard, and Mildred Berlien.

GO-ED ATHLETES LOOKING AHEAD TO SPRING SPORTS

Indoor Baseball and Field Hockey Planned for Mildredites; Tennis Courts to Be Used

Indoor baseball and a little bit of hockey are down on the girls' sport card for spring. An indoor baseball tourney will be run through in the same manner as the one held last year. Last year's affair was a success and many enthusiastic girls became ardent baseball fans just by playing the indoor game.

Miss Haddell plans to start teaching the rudiments of hockey to the gym classes. If the stadium dries up enough to be played upon, the girls will do their playing on the proper place.

Tennis is really a fall sport and not much will be done in that line. However, as soon as the courts become dry and are suitable for playing, they will be given over to the energetic fans. Rules and regulations covering these courts will be drawn up later in the season by the coaches.

CALL FOR TRACK

A call for all track candidates to meet on Tuesday, February 24, at 3 p. m., has been issued by Coach Welborne and Coach Gilbert. This being the first year for South Side in track makes it all the more important to have a strong team. In basketball and football fine teams have been produced and it is up to the boys to make this sport as popular and as good as possible.

FRESHMEN CAPTURE LAST FRIDAY'S GAME

Freshmen Defeat Junior and Reserve Fives By 11 to 9 and 14 to 13 Scores

Freshmen	2	5	.286
Freshmen II.	1	6	.143

Two interclass basketball game were played last Friday, both of the freshmen teams scoring victories. The senior-sophomores game was postponed until tomorrow, while the faculty team was also idle.

Freshmen II-Junior Game

The freshmen II. finally broke the ice by scoring their first victory over the juniors, 11 to 9. It was close and exciting throughout all the contest. With the score tied at 9 all and one minute to go, Gerig sank a long arched shot from the center of the floor. The game was won. Bennett and Bell also played well for the freshmen. Welch and Fleming looked best for the juniors. Line-up and summary: Freshmen II. Pos. Juniors

Sport Shorts

Central seemed to be dazed after the game.

The final outcome wasn't much of a surprise to the South Side fans.

Decorations of both schools were good.

The valentine given by South Side to Central was a real surprise and gift.

The fighting Tigers upheld their name until the final minute.

Both teams were evenly matched in offense and defense.

The crowd was in a frenzy from the start until the finish.

The second team completed their season with a decisive victory over Central.

Hartford City expected to give the Green an eight-point drubbing.

Two more home games, then the two tournaments.

NO VACATION AT S. S. DURING TOURNAMENTS

Contrary to general expectations, there will be no vacation for either the sectional or regional tournaments to be held March 7 and 14. The next "off days" will be the spring vacation, from March 30 to April 3, inclusive.

GREEN HUMBLER HARTFORD CITY

Takes Early Lead and Squeezes Out One-Point Win; DuWan Leads in Scoring

The South Side basketball team defeated Hartford City there Friday night in a closely contested and hard fought game by the score of 27 to 26. South Side got the jump on the Hartford City team and held the lead throughout the remainder of the first half. Hartford City staged a threatening rally in the last half and at one time was in the lead. The South Side team fought madly, regained the lead and finally won out by the smallest margin possible.

Hartford City played a ragged passing game but showed bursts of speed. Hartford City outscored the South Side team from the field, but its floor work was so rough that the Green netted many points from the free throw line. The Hartford City fans were fouled twice for heckling the official. One player was removed from the game on personal fouls.

Passing Improves

South Side's fast, short passing attack worked more smoothly than ever. The Green players wove the ball in and out around the Hartford City defense for many easy, short shots. DuWan came to his own last night and led the team in scoring. The big center hit the basket four times from the field and pitched an equal number of free throws for a total of 12 points. Willson, sub for Rahe, was shot into the game during the waning moments and pulled two pretty field goals. Thiele, Brubaker and Sprunger played a whale of a defensive game and, in addition, tossed a field goal apiece.

Line-up and summary:

OFFICIAL OF FOSTER-RAHE
PRAISES SOUTH SIDE HIGH

Has Daughter, a Freshman, in High School and Son in the Grade School

Since the Foster-Rahe Furniture company started in 1868, fifty-seven years ago, at about the time the first red school houses were being built here, the members of the firm are able to appreciate the advancement made in education here.

Frank Rahe, vice-president of the concern, said this when interviewed: "Since that time we have seen bigger, better schools built, but we must take off our hats to the 'Dear Old South Side High' and the men on the school board who had the courage and foresight to construct such a wonderful building."

He further stated, "The only children attending South Side that we know of whose parent are connected with Foster-Rahe, are Maxine Rahe, '28, and David Rahe, '6A, in the grade school. They are my children and also the grandchildren of Col. D. N. Foster, the president of the firm. Several people think that Phil and Ed Rahe belong to me, but such is not my pleasure."

The Foster-Rahe company is located on Court street, and is one of Fort Wayne's most respected concerns.

TO SOUTH SIDE

How can we help our school? This concerns both me and you. We must boost South Side high. But in boosting not neglect to try To reach each student's goal. (In referring to the honor roll.) When we reach our aim, Then South Side will gain. Let's you and I try To do our best For South Side high.

FORT WAYNE SWIMMERS
SECOND IN STATE MEET

South Siders Take First in Back-Stroke and Second in Fancy Diving

The Fort Wayne Y. M. C. A. swimming team took second place at the state meet at Newcastle, Ind., last Saturday. The winner was Richmond, with a score of 43 points, while Fort Wayne scored only 23½ points.

Arthur Martin, Edward Cook and Edward Dobler are South Siders who swim with the Y team, or Triangle Aquatic club. These human fishes well demonstrated South Side's athletic ability, for "Abe" Martin took first place in the 100-yard backstroke event, while "Red" Cook tied for second in the state in fancy diving. "Eddie" Dobler swam in the 160-yard relay in which Fort Wayne took second place.

Martin received a loving cup as a reward for his victory, while Cook was presented with a silver medal. J. H. Slater, coach, is planning to hold a meet with Richmond some time in the near future.

The Fishman Store, 917-921 Calhoun street, has engaged the service of Mr. Harry S. Harris, for year with the J. L. Hudson Department Store in Detroit. Mr. Harris has specialized in hair bobbing and brings to Fort Wayne a knowledge gained in one of the largest and finest beauty parlors in the country.

Prices at Fishman's have not been advanced. Straight trims cost 50c bevelled and straight bobs, 50c, while shingle bobs cost 75c.

The beauty department of the Fishman store is ideally located. Away from the noise and hum-drum of the street it is still in the heart of the city and the popular place for the young high school miss who finds it convenient to have her hair bobbed after school hours.—Adv.

LATIN CHAMPS OF SOUTH SIDE ARE ANNOUNCED

Two Highest in Divisions IA, IIB, IV to Represent School; Ties Occur in Sections IB, II

TWELVE LOCAL PUPILS TO TAKE COUNTY TEST

Harlan, Hometown, New Haven to Be Only Competitors of Green, Next Saturday

Results of the local Latin test, which was taken by South Side pupils on February 13, are now complete. The following are the twelve people who had the highest grades and who will represent South Side in the county contest:

DIVISION IB.
Esther Hanning	97
Dorothy Troendle	91.2
Charles McAfee	91.2
DIVISION IA.
Olive Price	89.2
Margaret Pocock	84.3
DIVISION II.
Franklin Smith	93.7
William Dammeyer	93
Marguerite Schiewer	93
DIVISION III.
Pauline Baumgartner	99
Mary Pocock	96
DIVISION IV.
Helen Clapesattle	96.5
Forrest Weddle	93

Get Honorable Mention
Six other pupils whose grades were 90 or above deserve honorable mention: Marjorie Bell, 91; Eleanor Colson, 91; Dorothy Emrich, 92; Dorothy Davenport, 91.7; Addison Gordon, 90; and Bernice Jenkins, 90.

Only four schools, Harlan, Hometown, New Haven and South Side, are entering the county contest to be held at Central high school Saturday, February 28.

Last year South Side sent eight students to the county meet, six to the district meet and four to the state finals at Bloomington. Helen Clapesattle, then in Division III, received a bronze medal for third place honors.

The plans of this year's contests are the same as last year except that Division I has been divided into two sections, entitling each school to two more entries.

Twenty-two are tardy from February 16 to 20, according to a report made by Miss Chappell. There has been less tardiness lately but there is still much absence, due to illness. The tardy record for each day is as follows:

	Boys	Girls
Monday, Feb. 16	4	0
Tuesday, Feb. 17	6	0
Wednesday, Feb. 18	2	3
Thursday, Feb. 19	2	1
Friday, Feb. 20	1	3
Total	15	7

SCIENCE LANTERN IS PUT TO ODD USE

Mr. Voorhees Gets Clear Scenic Views by Placing Negatives in Machine.

Mr. Voorhees was poring over the new lantern which has been recently bought for the science departments. He was perfectly oblivious to the fact that he had onlookers in the room, who were as much absorbed in the working of the machine as he was.

One by one he placed the slides in the machine to see how he could arrange them so as to produce the best effects. Slowly, painstakingly, and often, he moved the rubber sheet up on which the pictures are thrown in order to get the exact distance from which the pictures could be best viewed. Likewise he altered the position of the lantern itself to get it in focus.

After the preliminary requisites of getting the machine in perfect focus, Mr. Voorhees and the few students watching him found a source of enjoyment in the slides that the chemistry teacher had on hand. Among the most important was the slide in a form of a tree, which had limbs representing the human family tree. Mr. Voorhees, with a touch of humor, now and then, showed the students that the snakes and lowly forms of animal life.

Then with a sudden burst of inspiration the "grand old man" of South Side disappeared into the stockroom and hauled out a box of camera negatives. These negatives were each held firmly between two cover glasses, and this glass was inserted in the machine. The electricity was then turned on and presto! a scene as pretty as any oil painting appeared on the rubber sheet. Mr. Voorhees was elated at the clear cut pictures, and he tried other views with the same success.

He then explained that the negatives belonged to his daughter, who took them with a dollar camera. He did not know before that films would show up in the lantern, but now he was assured of the success of the project, and with that familiar twinkle in his eyes he turned to the students and said, "You never can tell how a thing will work until you try it!"

FORTY-EIGHT TAKE PART IN BIBLE EXAMINATION

Eighteen of the forty-eight people who took the Bible study examination in the Central high school library last Saturday were South Side students. These papers were sent out to the state examining board at Indianapolis today.

Both Central and South Side classes will be continued and the next examination will be given the second Saturday of June.

RELIGION IN LIFE TO BE TOPIC FOR NEXT FORUM

Lucille Lapp Will Preside as Chairman; Miss Ida L. Jones Will Lead Discussion

"The Place of Religion in Life" will be the subject for the next forum, which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. Lucille Lapp, a pupil at South Side, will preside as chairman, while Miss Ida L. Jones, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will lead the discussion.

About one hundred pupils from South Side and Central attended the meeting last Sunday. "High School Social Life" was the topic discussed. Horace Agnew, the president of the South Side Hi-Y club, was the chairman and Mr. Schmalzried, a history teacher at South Side, led the discussion.

The way to succeed, according to Mr. Schmalzried, is "to smile once more than you weep, to rise once more than you fall."

The Y. M. C. A. Glee club furnished the music for the afternoon. Two boys of South Side, Robert Miles and Edward Hulse, belong to the Glee club.

HI-Y WATER POLO TEAM TO PLAY INDUSTRIAL MEN

General Electric, Triangle Aquatic Club, Wayne Knits and Hi-Y Are Members of League

Hi-Y clubs of South Side and Central are to compete with teams from different factories and organizations throughout the city. The teams playing in this league represent, General Electric company, Triangle Aquatic Club, Wayne Knittings Mills, and the Hi-Y clubs.

Water polo is played every Wednesday night, at 7:30 o'clock. The "Y" natatorium is open to the public, and some support from the student body is expected next Wednesday night.

On February 11 the Hi-Y team defeated the Triangle Aquatic club by a score of 7-2, and the Wayne Knits defeated the G. E. team by a score of 14-0. On February 18 the Hi-Y team defeated the G. E. team by 22-2.

The Hi-Y squad consists of: R. Bradtmiller, A. Martin, P. Berghorn, E. Dobler, W. Dildine, W. Doege, H. Kayser, R. Ewell, and W. VanNess.

"LAND OF NO PLAY" WILL BE DISCUSSED

Elsbeth Crane and Ruth Eickmeyer Will Give Short Talk on Subject

"The Land of No Play" is the subject for discussion at the next meeting of the So-Si-Y club, to be held next Tuesday, March 3, at 3 in room 24. This name was given to the meeting because of its connection with child labor and also to carry out the idea of "land," which is a part of all titles for the meetings this year.

Elsbeth Crane and Ruth Eickmeyer will give short talks on child labor and the proposed twentieth amendment.

Ruth Wemhoff will sing a solo and Mildred Berlien will give several readings.

The complete program is as follows: Devotion—Led by the president. G. R. songs—Entire club. Business meeting.

Solo—Ruth Wemhoff. Readings—Mildred Berlien. Talks—Elsbeth Crane, and Ruth Eickmeyer.

PHILAETHIANS TO GIVE ST. PATRICK'S BANQUET

Patriotic Program Presented on Last Monday; Helen Crawford Reads Life of Washington

"Our annual St. Patrick's banquet will be held March 13" was the announcement made by Edna Tillybury, president of the Philaethians, at a meeting of the club held last Monday in the cafeteria.

As the meeting was a patriotic meeting, the program was carried out accordingly. Helen Crawford gave the life of George Washington in verse. Dorothy Eymann played several selections on the piano. Mildred Berlien and Mary Hale gave interesting and amusing readings. Games and contests were held, Mildred Scott winning the prize offered in a cherry tree contest.

The Philo songs and yells were practiced. Ice cream and cake were then served to the girls.

Future meetings will be held in the cafeteria. Any girl who wants a Philo pin can sign up for it in Room 10, as pins will be ordered soon.

HORN WINS FIRST PLACE IN DISCUSSION CONTEST

County Meet To Be Held Before March 27; District Contest Will Be April 10

Virgil Horn won first place in the local discussion contest, an dthe right to represent the school in the county contest which will be held March 27. Power W. Karr won second place and Ruth Eickmeyer and Gertrude Schuelke tied for third place.

The discussion was on the proposed twentieth amendment and was held under Room 38 last Friday. Mr. Makey and Mr. Null were the judges. There were fourteen people present.

The winners of the county meet will compete for the privilege of representing the district. District contests will be held April 10 and the victors will meet at Bloomington April 24 for final honors.

Leah Peters won the discussion at Central high school.

ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON SHERIDAN'S RIVALS

Clayton Hamilton, Noted Theater Expert, Discusses Life of the English Playright

To an eager and attentive audience composed of the second period English classes, Clayton Hamilton, noted theater expert and associate professor with Professor Mathews in the department of dramatic literature of Columbia University, presented an enjoyable talk on "The Rivals," which was presented at the Majestic yesterday. His address was sprinkled throughout with witty comments and mirth-provoking remarks.

"The Rivals," springing from the pen of R. B. Sheridan in 1774, was a worthy product of the hand of the great literary genius. Mr. Hamilton stated. The play, which made its first appearance in 1775, was a dismal failure the first night. The comedy was five hours long and that night Sheridan rewrote it and cut it down to two hours and fifteen minutes. Sheridan was only twenty-three years of age when he wrote "The Rivals" and twenty-five at the time he produced "The School for Scandal." For two months he wrote on "The Rivals" and then laid it aside. Actors, however, looked him in a room and vowed to give him only bread and water until he would finish the play. He proceeded to complete the drama and soon wrote his way out of the room.

Sheridan's father was manager of a theater and his mother was a great novelist and playwright, so it is not surprising that the son should inherit such wonderful qualities of a writer. Sheridan composed "The Rivals" to get even financially with his wife, who was making a vast amount of money as a professional singer.

Sheridan was handsome, graceful, witty, and brilliant in everything except school work. His formula for life was to do everything every one else was doing, but to do it in a better way. The result was that everything he did was performed in an interesting manner, and he wrote two-thirds of the English dramas that have been written since the time of Shakespeare.

FREE-THROW TOURNAMENT AGAIN OPEN TO SCHOOLS

The annual state high school free-throw tournament, which is sponsored by the department of physical education of Indiana University, is again being held. It proved very popular last year, 629 boys and girls competing, and this year more are expected to take part. South Side, however, will not go into this for there are other things of more importance which Mr. Gilbert is planning to do.

SOUTH SIDE TO ENTER NEXT POSTER CONTEST

Mary Travis Wins Third Prize Last Year; Rules Are Announced for Schools

South Side will enter the second annual poster contest this year, which is sponsored by the Indiana Parent-Teacher association in co-operation with the Bureau of Visual Instruction of the Indiana University Extension Division.

Last year South Side won the third prize through the poster submitted by Mary Travis and also has the honor of being the only school having six posters on display at Indianapolis. Only one-third of the best of the posters were on display.

The rules of the contest, which is open to all the public grade and high schools of Indiana, are the same as last year, except that the contest closes at an earlier date, April 11, 1925.

All posters to be made must fall under one of the following general groups: the physical group, the mental and moral group, and the spiritual group. Each school sends in the three best posters in these groups.

Fifty-four of the best high school posters are now on file at the Indiana University and a school may send for those pictures which they especially desire to see. There are also forty-seven grade school posters on file. Of those on file South Side again breaks the record by having six there. These were submitted by Mary Travis, Thelma Burley, Flora Baer, Mary Wasson, Evelyn Bales and Ralph Wilkey.

"ONCE IN A BLUE MOON" CAST STILL INCOMPLETE

Selection of the cast for the glee club's operetta "Once in a Blue Moon" has been progressing slowly because Mr. Schaffer says that he is better able to select members who will fill the positions better if he takes more time.

Ruth Richey takes the leading part. Ruth Wemhoff, Ninah Knight, Thelma Burley, Mary McCurdy, Robert Nosselt and Melvin Richendollar are others who have been selected this far.

MAIL BOXES PLACED IN ROOM 20 FOR STAFF

Mail boxes similar to those of the teachers in the office have been put up in room 20 for the benefit of all members on the Times staff and principal members on the Totem staff. These boxes of forty-eight small compartments were made and are being painted by Chester Wyneke. Any news articles that are to be rewritten or anything that Miss Harvey wants the journalists to do will be put in these boxes.

WHY WE HAVE AN "OPEN LETTERS" COLUMN

Not to knock any institution but to provide an opportunity for students or faculty to express their opinions on the school's problems or to settle questions of dispute satisfactorily is the object of this feature.

Have you ever wondered about a certain point of etiquette or grammar, basketball rules, requirements for membership in certain organizations, library rules, requisites for graduation, grading system or any department in school? Of course you have. Then, without a doubt, others have wondered about the same thing, so why not have the question settled in this column, where others, too, might receive the benefit of the information?

Everyone has ideas and some of them would perhaps be beneficial to the school if expressed and executed. Perhaps that idea of yours regarding some detail in the management of the tournament or that plan for an unusual stunt in yelling is just the thing. Sending it in will more than ever make

ABOUT TWO HUNDRED JOIN GIRL RESERVES

So-Si-Y Secures One Hundred and Ten Members; U. S. A. Gains One Hundred Fourteen

Two hundred and twenty-four South Side girls became members of the Girl Reserve organization during the membership campaign conducted by the So-Si-Y and U. S. A. clubs last week.

One hundred and fourteen of these are U. S. A. members. The club was divided into two teams headed by Eleanor Wilson and Esther Ballard. The former team secured thirty-nine new members, while the other enrolled thirty-three new members.

The juniors lead in membership in So-Si-Y with sixty-seven members, while forty-three senior girls have joined.

A booth was placed in the hall at the main entrance, decorated with the Girl Reserve colors, posters, code, and triangle. One girl from each club took care of the booth. They were: Jean Gillie, Olive Price, Esther Ballard, Edith Kyler, Florence Hansen, Pauline Baumgartner, Elizabeth Schmidt, Helen Goette and Elizabeth Suter.

SOCIAL LIFE WILL BE DISCUSSED BY HI-YERS

"Leader and His Convictions" Is Topic for Bible Study; Mr. Harris Leads Last Meeting

"Social Life" will be the topic for discussion at the Hi-Y meeting, March 5 at the Y. M. C. A. The Bible study will be on "A Leader and His Convictions."

Problems of establishing an honor roll was the discussion led by Mr. Harris at the Hi-Y meeting last Thursday evening. Every one present was given a chance to voice his opinion of the plan, and it gradually waxed into an interesting debate.

Since no definite plans were reached, it was decided that every member who was interested in an honor roll should develop one phase of this system, and write to Bud Beck who will publish it in The Mirror. Almost all who were present were in favor of having an honor roll.

Mr. Schmalzried led a very interesting Bible study on A Leader with a Purpose. He took as the basis of his theme Carlyle's words, A Man Without a Purpose in Life is Lost.

MANY SNAPSHOTS WANTED FOR THIS YEAR'S TOTEM

Any Kind of Pose or View Wanted; Senior Panel of Totem Practically Finished

Funny snapshots, silly snapshots, odd snapshots, interesting snapshots and just ordinary snapshots of anybody and of anything that would be interesting to the school are wanted by the Totem. Get out your camera and see how many unusual pictures you can take in an hour! Take it to the parks and to the country, and "shoot" your friends in all the comic ways and in all the freak poses that you can! Make South Side's annual the most interesting ever! Get some good snapshots and make it a live book!

Such is the plea uttered by the Totem snapshot editors this week.

Studio pictures for class sections will be completed Saturday night, and the panels will be sent to the engraver's first of next week. The senior section is practically complete for the engraving is done and the activity lists are almost finished. Titles have been given to each senior as taken from the names of current movies.

HYGEIA IS CONSIDERED INTERESTING MAGAZINE

A journal of individual and community health is the Hygeia which is one of the most interesting magazines in the library. The Hygeia is published by the American Medical Association. This book is useful to any student taking biology, domestic science, or art.

As the magazine gives a great deal of information on the care of the human body it is of especial value to biology students.

Such accounts on Plain Facts About Health and Disease, Does Soap Kill Germs, Is Vaccination Worth While, are articles that the 10A domestic science pupils would find helpful in their work.

Art students would be eager to enter the poster contest that runs in the Hygeia.

FIFTY MATH-SCIENTISTS PRESENT FOR GUEST NIGHT

Eleanor Colson, New President, Takes Charge; Raymond Ewell Talks On Moths and Butterflies

Fifty were present at the recent Math-Science second annual guest night meeting which was held on February 20, in room 96 at 7:30 o'clock. Eleanor Colson, the new president, had charge of the meeting.

The main feature of the evening was a talk on moths and butterflies by Raymond Ewell. He has 250 specimens, all of which were displayed during the meeting. One species of moths, the largest of his collection, he got from the Philippine Islands. Another is one of the largest species in the United States, the Cecropia moth.

Elsbeth Crane demonstrated the method of multiplication used by the Russians during the war.

Pauline Baumgartner proved that two is equal one, according to an algebraic fallacy.

Ice cream lollipops were served at the close of the meeting.

"Birds fly," "Automobile," and "Bobbety-Bob-Bob" constituted the games which were played in the kindergarten room.

DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE TELL GRACCHI ABOUT TRIP

Representatives from Fort Wayne at Grand Rapids Convention Have Charge of Program

Members of the Gracchi club who attended the "Young Girls in Business and Industry" conference at Grand Rapids, Mich., last week-end, had charge of the program for the regular supper meeting Monday at the Y. W. C. A.

Lucile Magers told about the good times of the whole conference. Deane McAfee presented outlines of the discussions, which included a girls' personal responsibility, and her responsibility toward other girls, and toward her community. Edith Masterson discussed inspirational factors of the conference.

Miss Marie Umbach, the club's Y. W. C. A. secretary, gave a short account of the trip as a whole. Miss Josephine Renier, a student at Indiana University, and who accompanied the delegates to Grand Rapids, told about the journey there and back.

About forty girls attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 9, in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms.

CLASSES DO MUCH BLACKBOARD WORK

Mathematics Requires Most Space; History Rooms Come Second.

If you are ever curious, and no doubt you always are, it won't surprise you that some other student took a trip through the classrooms of South Side to see how much blackboard space was used, and what studies required more blackboard space.

The mathematics classes use most of the blackboard each day. These rooms—146, 28, 94, 138, and 36 are under the directions of Mr. Virts, Miss Fiedler, Mr. Greeley, Miss Paxton, Mr. Gordy, Miss Thorne, and Mr. Davis.

The history classes come next in the daily use of the blackboard. The eight history rooms are under Mr. Murphy, Miss Miller, Miss Smeltzly, Mr. Schmalzried, Miss Harvey and Miss Crowe.

The foreign language classes with seven rooms and eight teachers follows next. The teachers are Mr. Rothert, Miss Work, Miss Fish, Miss Woodward, Mr. Davis, Miss Brigham, Miss Perkins, and Miss Bert.

A Mite of Verse

ECLIPSE
Although the worshippers of day should fly
In rout before the lovers of the night,
And the dark moon blot out the sun
from sight,
And in mid-day the hoot owl joyful
cry,
And beasts and fowls believe the day
be dead
And yield allegiance to the fearsome dark,
And earth be reft of music from the lark,
And the swift shadows everywhere be spread;
Still would the sun its wonted orbit
keep,
Still shine as bright, untouched by that dark stain
Which earth-born natures see; it would remain
The king of day, and through the heavens sweep
In constant triumph, spreading light and life:
Soon must the moon, despairing, cease its strife.
—Herman O. Makey.

Read A Bit

"To know literature and to love it is to make our daily existence larger, richer, happier, by providing our selves against all emergencies with wise counsellors and faithful friends."

"Hero Tales from the Far North,"
"Through the Brazilian Wilderness," "Jungle Peace" and like accounts of scientific travel are books that not only relax but tone the mind. They remind us that intelligent men exist who find the pursuit and service of truth more engrossing than the making of a snug living and the competi-

THE FACE YOU SEE

The Japanese have an ancient legend of a mirror. The story tells how a man found one in the street, not knowing what it was. Looking at it, he saw what he thought was the picture of his father. He carried it home, as a treasure to be revered.
His wife, upon looking at it, saw her own face reflected and jealousy believed it to be the picture of another woman. There was trouble, of course, and a priest was called into settle the matter. He, looking at the mirror, saw what he believed to be the image of a holy man, and so he carried it off to the temple.

You are looking in the mirror of life every day. What kind of a face do you see there? The answer rests with you.
If you would see a pleasant, friendly face, you must show one to the world. If you want to see the good side of people, you must show your own best side. Be mean and unfriendly, and the world will reflect your spirit in cold hostility or indifference.
Be kindly, sympathetic, ready to help, ready to relieve the best and look for the best and do your best, and the mirror of your every-day life will smile back at you with a face of sweetness and light and good comradeship.—The Hutchinson Buzz.

Peru is bringing a strong aggregation of hardwood stars here Friday night, intent on humbling the Green in her last scheduled game. South Side, on the other hand, is determined to finish its season with a win.

Peru demonstrated its fighting spirit when it defeated Wabash, one of the teams which has defeated South Side. The Peruvians are just emerging from their recent slump, in which Huntington defeated them, and they are expected to be back into their regular running order before the twenty-seventh, on which date they plan to regain their former prestige in the basketball world.

INTER-CLASS TOURNEY
WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

Seniors or Sophomores Doped to Win Championship; Six Teams Entered

Six teams will begin hostilities tomorrow afternoon in quest of the class basketball championship. The tournament will get under way at 3 o'clock.
The champion team will probably be awarded jerseys with numerals.

The seniors or the sophomores are doped to win, although some upsets are possible. The class teams are just about evenly matched and a spirited tournament is looked for.
A meeting of the captains was held in the varsity room last Monday afternoon to draw for the order of play and to decide upon the rules. In the first game, the seniors will battle the freshmen II. This game should prove a good one because it took all that the seniors had to nose them out in a 20 to 19 victory two weeks ago.

In the second game, the reserves will stack up against the freshmen I.
The sophomores will play the juniors in the third game, which will also be a hot contest. The winning teams will then play out the games until the tourney is won.

The rules for the contest are as follows:

1. No second team man is eligible.
  2. Ten men shall be certified for each team.
  3. There will be 15-minute halves.
- Coaches Welborn and Gilbert will referee all the games and be in charge of the tournament.

No vacation March 6, but we'll be there just the same.

Currie came back to his own in the Manual-South Side game by sinking one of his long arched shots from the center of the floor.

And maybe Jerry didn't strut his stuff, eh?

Every Green player contributed to the scoring.

South Side's aquatic wonders came out conquerors over Lima last Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. pool.

Central experienced a little hard luck at Froebel Friday night.

Eliminating grammar, we can say Manual has a weaker team but ours is wonderer.

Jimmy Willson led his team-mates in scoring by counting five times from the field.

Our freshmen also displayed the old
Green-White fight.

The boys in that middle section
surely have the pep.

Our "Fighting Captain" knows the meaning of fight, we'll say.

Martin, on Manual's team, deserves our sincere applause, for his two "Currie specials."

Higgs was also one of the main cogs in Manual's scoring machine.

Central came "smilin' thru" at Michigan City.

Say, our girls' varsity didn't break
our Central-South Side record!

Our scrappy second team certainly piled 'em high in the prelim with LaOtto.

Staley, Richendollar and Nulf were high point men.

Thiele dribbles, guards, jumps, plays with lots of pep, and altogether, we couldn't do without him.

Sylvester had a good hunch on Saturday's game, but we can't say that his prayer was necessary.

The band is still going good.

Rahe, Wiener, Simon, Sprunger, and Staigt also helped put over our win.

FACULTY QUINTET WINS

Faculty, Reserves and Freshmen
I Fives Emerge Victors in Final Round of Play

Reserves	4	4
Freshmen I.	3	5
Juniors	3	6
Freshmen II.	1	7

The final round of inter-class basketball was played last Monday afternoon. The tournament, to be played tomorrow, will end the class games for the season. Games were won by the faculty, the reserves and freshmen II. The faculty team finished their basketball season without a defeat. The seniors were idle.

Faculty-Sophomore Game
The sophomore team was brought down to about even terms with the seniors again when the faculty romped to a 28 to 15 victory over them. The half ended 14 to 4 in favor of the winners. It was a lovely played game. The faculty's large score was due to passing the ball down the floor in perfect form and slipping under the basket for easy shots. The sophomore crew was slightly strengthened in the second half because of substitutions. Heine and Gilbert were high point men for the faculty, the former counting seven times from the field
while the latter counted four times.
The sophomore's scoring was more evenly divided.

Line-up and summary:

Junior-Reserve Game
The reserves added another victory to their credit by dropping the juniors, 29 to 23. The teams were evenly matched. Switzer and Rosenberger starred for the winners while Welch and Schmidt looked best for the losers.
Meshberger caged a pretty one from three-quarters length of the floor.

Freshmen II.-Freshmen I. Game
The freshmen I. sprang a surprise and defeated the sister team in a loose game by a 30 to 12 score. Good passing was the cause of the victory.
The way the freshmen were going it would take a pretty fast team to stop them. Summers, Newman and Smith formed the I.'s scoring machine while Gerig did most of the scoring for the I.'s. Szink displayed some exceptionally good guarding for the winners.
Bennett also played a clever game at back guard, blocking and breaking passes.

South Side has won the last four games. We intend to keep our stride.

Wardo is very much pleased with his players.

Manual Training high school was beaten by Shortridge by a small margin of two or three points. Short-ridge is one of the "Big Ten."

We have good chances.

Sylvester says that South Side will be one of the sixteen teams to battle

We hope he is right.

FIGHTIN' GREEN BEATS MANUAL
IN CLOSE GAME

Capitol City Lads Defeated 39-32 in Cleanest Contest of Season; Count Tied
Many Times

DUWAN AND WILLSON
STAR FOR SOUTH SIDE

Green Leads at Half; Piles Up Nine Point Lead at Beginning of Second Period

Coach Gilbert's Fightin' Green earned a decision over the Manual team, of Indianapolis, by the score of 39 to 32 at the South Side gym last Saturday night.

It was undoubtedly the fastest and cleanest exhibition of basketball that has been seen on the local floor this season. Both teams battled hard and put forth their last molecules of energy in order that victory might come to their schools. In the heat of the struggle both teams missed easy shots at the basket, but connected on chances which were more difficult.
This added to the excitement of the game. It was a customary occasion to see the ball swish through the hoop from long range.

After several minutes of mediocre playing, the Green, headed by Gerry DuWan, stayed an offensive that worked more smoothly than the rhythm of clockwork.

Although her defense was ragged at times, it braced in the pinches and held the Manual onslaught well in check. At the half time the Green was leading by the count of 18 to 14. Early in the second half, South Side stepped out to a nice point lead and held it until a few minutes before the end of
the game.

No Individual Stars

It would be a hard task to pick an individual star on the Green team.
The whole quartet worked so smoothly in every department of the game, that scarcely a flaw was evident in team play. Each member of the squad contributed to the South Side victory.

In its offensive team-play, the Green combination passed the ball with accuracy but missed several easy shots at the basket. South Side's offense was built around DuWan, who filled the pivot position in great style.
The big fellow was in practically every play. He dribbled, passed and shot with more accuracy than in any of his games before. Time and again DuWan dribbled the ball down the center of the floor into territory where he could shoot or feed the ball to the forwards, cutting in under the basket.

Jimmy Willson walked off with the scoring honors by counting five times from the field.

Gerry DuWan added six points to the Green total by hitting the net three times in field goals. His performance in those twenty minutes convinced the fans that he would be in the pink of condition by tournament time. Currie scored two field goals, one of which was a shot from the center of the floor. Captain Brubaker played his usual game. The Green leader counted seven points for his team on a pair of field goals and three free throws.

In the preliminary the South Side Reserves swamped LaOtto by the score of 58 to 12.

MILDREDITES CAPTURE
FIRST TILT OF SERIES

Fast Game Ends in 34-20 Count;
Second Battle to Be Staged
at Central

Playing a fast, clean, basket-shooting game, the Mildredites defeated the Central Tigerettes by a 34-20 score last Friday afternoon in the South Side gym. This was the first of a two-game series that is staged every year. The next game will be played in the near future in the gym of the downtown school.

Gertrude Brouwer again proved herself the star of the afternoon, by sinking fourteen baskets. She played a whirlwind game every moment that she was in the fray. The Mildredites played a swift passing game, and as soon as the ball was in their territory, one of the sharp-shooting forwards would sink a basket.

Louise Zwick was the Blue and White's scoring ace. She was put in the game at the beginning of the second half and scored four baskets to swell the Tigers' score. The Blue and White maids seemed rather lost on the big court, as the floor of the Central gym is much smaller than the South Side gym. The Green and White varsity lassies, under Geri's leadership, seized the lead early in the game and refused to relinquish it. At the first half the scoreboard showed 21-5 tally. The Central team used a different combination in the second half, and, although this proved effective in gathering some field goals, the Cen-tralites could not stop the heavy tide of field goals with which the South Side sharpshooters deluged the basket. The final count was 34-20.

TRACK SEASON LOOKS FAVORABLE FOR GREEN

Local Coaches Expected to Turn Out Good Squad; Track
Suits Ordered

This season looks favorable for a real track team to represent South Side, according to Coaches Welborn and Gilbert. These coaches have had considerable experience in training sprinters, and are expected to turn out a good squad.

A call was issued this week for voluntary runners. The track suits, sweat suits and track shoes have been ordered. This equipment will completely fit out the track team. The jumping standards, shots, hurdles and vaulting poles from last year will be used again this year.

The Green and White team will participate in events of two groups, field and track. The field events are high jumping, pole vaulting, shot-put, and broad jumping. The track events are the dashes, long distance runs, and hurdles.

The schedule for the Green and White track contestants has not been made out as yet, but a list of teams will be posted in the near future.

SPORT GUSH
Oh, Muse of us poor sport column (?) writers, please favor us with one little drop of inspiration.

"Ah", we cried, "it has come."
One more game on the schedule means one more victory.

Speakin' of victories, the girls and boys staged a double-header last
week.

The girls showed that the Tigerettes' growl was meaner than their bite.

The boys hinted to Indianapolis in their victory that they'd visit 'em again this year at the Coliseum.

"Daddy" Northrup, from Central, promised his Tigerettes a party if they'd defeat Our Girls.

'Stoo bad, Tigerettes, we're really awfully sorry. But, you've got another chance at the party cake. (But try and get it.)

Nice, shiny, pretty green hairbands decorated the shimmering tresses of our Mildredites. The Blue showed in Central's outfits on their middy collars (And also on their faces after
the game.)

Jimmie Willson seemed like a "skeeter" on an elephant compared to his "sparring partner" in last week's game. But he worried the elephant more than a regular mosquito worries a regular elephant. (No offense intended by calling the Manual man an "elephant." Perdonals moi.)

Hot dawggie, just think, on one week from next Saturday South Side will be host—hostess to eight sectional teams.

We thought that we'd get a vacation on the Friday before the sectional—we used to—in the good old days. But it seems that we thought wrong. Ain't it a shame?

Open Letters

All contributions to this column will be accepted providing they are of interest to the school and not longer than 200 words. Letters must be signed as evidence of good faith but will be published unsigned if desired. Letters may be put in Times' box in main entrance to Room 5.

To the Editor:

Well, did you ever? I know I never! Our boys do really have good manners in most cases, don't they? I always thought so. But listen, here's something that bothers me. Boys always let their girls get off the street cars first. Maybe they think it's manners to do that, because in nearly everything else it's correct to let the girl precede. But if they think so, they're wrong, because it's no fun for girls to have boys bowing and being so careful in everything else and then letting them take the high step down from a car without help, and sometimes the girl lands in mud or water and sometimes she has to wait for the boy to get off the car and open the umbrella, so she doesn't get any more soaked than she is by the time the boy comes trailing out of the car. Lots of embarrassing situations arise. However, it is a fact that all the best books on etiquette say that the boy should always precede the girl in getting off a street car. I hope some boys will read this letter, Editor, and know that this is from
AN EMBARRASSED GIRL.

EIGHT REGIONAL CONTENDERS TO BATTLE HERE MARCH 14

Elimination Will Narrow Entry List to Two Who Will Go to Indianapolis for State Finals; Two Rounds Will Be Played

FORT WAYNE SECTIONAL WINNER TO PLAY TWO GAMES SATURDAY IF NOT DEFEATED

Regional Tournaments Will Be Held at Eight Centers; Two Winners at Each Will Enter Finals; Probable Outcome of Local Regional Doped Out

Eight teams, for better or for worse, will start play in the Fort Wayne regional basketball tournament to be held at the South Side high school gymnasium March 14. Play will be begun at 10 o'clock with the winner of the Angola sectional playing the winner of the Auburn tourney. Play will continue until Saturday night, when the entries will have narrowed down to two survivors who will go to the state finals at the Exposition building in Indianapolis March 20 and 21.

The winner of the Fort Wayne sectional will swing into action Saturday afternoon against the winner of the Decatur tourney and, if victorious in this game, will play again at 8:30 p. m. Saturday night. The winner of this game will go to the state finals. It will be necessary for the two regional survivors to play through two rounds.

While the regional tournament is being played at Fort Wayne, other regionals will be played at the same hours in Anderson, Evansville, Kokomo, Frankfort, Gary, Richmond and Bloomington. This year none of the tournaments will be held under the management of colleges or universities, as has been done formerly, as the officials of the I. H. S. A. A. believe that the meets can be controlled better by high school officials.

Regional Schedule
The Fort Wayne regional schedule is as follows:

- 10 a. m.—Winner at Auburn vs. winner at Angola.
  - 11 a. m.—Winner at Columbia City vs. winner at Elkhart.
  - 2 p. m.—Winner at Warsaw vs. winner at Kendallville.
  - 3 p. m.—Winner at Fort Wayne vs. winner at Decatur.
  - 7:30 p. m.—Winner game (1) vs. winner game (2).
  - 8:30 p. m.—Winner game (3) vs. winner game (4).
- (Winners of games Nos. 5 and 6 to go to final tourney.)

Likely Sectional Winners
Elsewhere in the paper will be found the schedules for the other fifteen sectionals whose winners will come to the Fort Wayne regional. The dope on these winners is rather obscure, but many sport fans expect the following teams to win:

At Auburn—Auburn.
At Angola—Angola.
At Columbia City—Columbia City or South Whitley.

GREEN AND BLUE MEET IN SECOND HARDWOOD FIGHT

Mildredites and Tigerettes to Play Last Game of Annual Net Series Today

GREEN GIRLS TO PLAY UNDER DIVERSE RULES

All Are in Good Condition for Game; Big Crowd Wanted

Green meets Blue again on the hardwood when the Mildredites will attempt to trap the Tigerettes in their lair this afternoon. This will be the second and last game of the annual series.

The Mildredites were victorious in the first game, winning by a 34 to 20 score. This time "Our Girls" will play under different rules, even as Central was handicapped in the first battle. The Blue lasses are sure that they will make a meal of the South Side girls, while the Mildredites are just as sure that they will prove good hunters and bring home another Tiger skin.

There are several good reasons why the Mildredites will not be Tiger meat. In the first place, they all play together in grand team-work. Their passing is always good and almost always results in a basket. The guards understand Tiger methods and will know just how to keep the Blue from getting the ball. Center and side-center know every little point of the game and always put up a fight. And last, but not least, the forwards are all sharpshooters, and can make baskets from all angles on any floor.

Miss Hadsell urges that a large crowd journey down to see the fray, because support of the fans is always a factor in winning a game.

P. T. A. CLUBS TO HAVE CHARGE OF CANDY STANDS

The Central P. T. A. will have charge of the candy stand in the gym at the sectional tournament. Mrs. Henry Beadell and Mrs. H. E. Bireley will take charge of it for South Side during the regional tournament.

BUY IT TODAY

According to a 1925 rule of the Indiana High School Athletic association, one-half of the tournament profits will be divided among the competing schools, according to the number of season tickets each sells. The other half will be divided equally among the schools. Only the season tickets sold until tonight can be counted.

This new ruling has created great enthusiasm among the high school boys, and each is trying to sell its quota of tickets to get a share in the profits based on the sale of season tickets, so it is very probable that the school will have only its own quota to sell. A season ticket purchased before tonight will not only assure your admission to the Central game, but will increase South Side's share of the profits.

SMITH, PARKER TO "REF" SECTIONAL GAMES HERE

Will Smith, of Alexandria, and Horace Parker, of Richmond, referees of the local sectional tournament last year, will officiate in the same capacity this year. Both fans and officials were well pleased with their refereeing. Will Smith will be official No. 1, and Horace Parker will be No. 2. Smith will have the first game and Parker the second. They will continue to change through the schedule. Smith will referee the first game for both Central and South Side and will referee all the games for South Side.

BIG ISSUE

With 1,232 inches of reading matter in today's paper, the Times is giving its subscribers as large a paper as it has ever put out. The eight pages in today's issue are equal to nearly fourteen pages of the 5-column paper first published and is even larger than 10 pages of the 6-column paper that the Times next put out. It would have been considered quite a feat two years ago to put out fourteen pages of the smallest sized paper or ten pages of the 6-column paper, but the Times today is putting out a paper larger than either of these others would have been.

And, of course, these papers are being given to the subscriber without further cost.

LOCAL ORATORS WILL COMPETE NEXT THURSDAY

Many Prizes to Be Awarded to Winners in County, District and National Contests

FOUR HAVE ENTERED ELIMINATION CONTEST

Virgil Horn Will Oppose Leah Peters of Central in County Discussion Contest

The preliminary elimination in the National Oratorical contest on the constitution will be held next Thursday, March 12. The four local contestants, Ruth Eickmeyer, Lucille Lapp, Gertrude Schuelke, and Power W. Karr, are working on their essays. According to the rules of the contest, the orations will be original, will last no more than ten minutes, and will be about the constitution of the United States.

The Indianapolis News will give a total of $12,000 to winners of the contest in Indiana, and the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel will award $100 for winning orations in Allen county and $185 to the winners of this district. The county prizes will be $50, $25, $15, and $10 to the four ranking highest. The winner of the local contest of March 12 will speak sometime between March 30 and April 3 against the winners from other Allen county schools.

The contest has been received with great enthusiasm everywhere. All high schools of Allen county have entered. There is still one more week in which students of South Side can tell Mr. Makey that they wish to enter.

From March 30 to April 3, contests will be held throughout the country to determine county representatives. Contests to determine congressional district representatives will be held from April 13 to 17.

Horn in County Meet

Virgil Horn, winner of the first-round trial of the state discussion contest on the proposed twentieth amendment will compete with Leah Peters of Central in the county meet, which will be held some time before March 27. The victor will go to the district contest on April 10, and the finals will be held in Bloomington two weeks later, April 24.

TEN TEAMS WILL COMPETE IN LOCAL SECTIONAL MEET

Central and Arcola Will Start Hostilities in Opening Round at 2 o'clock Friday Afternoon; South Side Will Swing Into Action Against Lafayette Center Friday Evening

CENTRAL AND SOUTH SIDE DOPED TO MEET IN FINALS WITH TWO TITLES AT STAKE

Practically All Out-of-Town Teams Have Been Defeated This Season by Reserve Teams of Two Fort Wayne Schools; Tournament Officials Are South Side Teachers

With ten teams entered, the third annual sectional tournament, directed by South Side officials, will start play Friday night at 7:30 p. m. and will continue throughout Saturday, the final game to determine the sectional championship and probably the Fort Wayne high school basketball title also, coming at 8:00 p. m. Saturday night.

PAL O' MY DREAMS IS FORUM SUBJECT

Miss McCloud to Be Leader; Anne Weaver of Central Is Chairman

90 PRESENT LAST WEEK

"Pal O' My Dreams" instead of "Dates and Lemons," as previously announced, is the subject to be discussed at the next Forum, which will be held Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. from 3 to 4 p. m.

Miss McCloud, librarian of Central high school, will lead the discussion, and Anne Weaver, a pupil of Central will preside as chairman.

"The Place of Religion in Our Lives" was the subject of last Sunday's Forum. Lucille Lapp was chairman and Miss Ida L. Jones, of the Y. W. C. A., was the leader.

Marjorie Matlack entertained the audience with a few songs.

About ninety were present at last Sunday's Forum.

ART PUPILS MAKE SIGNS FOR SECTIONAL TOURNEY

Posters and Tags to Be Furnished to Keep Visitors from Losing Way in Building

Students in the art classes are making signs for the sectional tournament. They have made signs for the gym, cafeteria and for all the teams that will be here for the tournament. The signs for the teams are very attractive as they are made in the school colors of each visiting team. Aside from this little tags have been made for the sectional tournament. These are to be sent to the different teams participating in the sectional. There are tags to be sent to the representatives of the press, officials, timer, players, referees, door men, information assistants, scorekeeper and the coaches.

New Yell Leader

A new "yell leader" in the form of John Richard Virts arrived at the home of our mathematics teacher early this week.

Unless an unlooked for catastrophe happens, Central and South Side will meet in the final game. Eight out-of-town teams will compete, but as most of them have been beaten by the reserve teams of the two Fort Wayne high schools, none of them is receiving much consideration as a serious title contender.

At the same time, in sixty-three other sectional centers, other tournament games will be played between approximately 630 teams, representing all sizes and kinds of high schools throughout the state. The first round will cut this number in half, and three or four rounds will see this huge number reduced to 64 sectional champions, who will compete in the four regional tournaments that will be held one week later.

Fort Wayne Schedule
The schedule for the local tourney is as follows:

Friday
2 p. m.—Arcola vs. Central (Fort Wayne)
7 p. m.—New Haven vs. Maumee Township.
7:30 p. m.—Lafayette Center vs. South Side (Fort Wayne).
8:30 p. m.—Leo vs. Monroeville.
Saturday
9 a. m.—Huntersville vs. Harlan.
10 a. m.—Winner 2 p. m. vs. winner 7 p. m.
2 p. m.—Winner 7:30 vs. winner 8:30.
3 p. m.—Winner 9 a. m. vs. winner 10 a. m.
3 p. m.—Winner 2 p. m. vs. winner 3 p. m.

Doping the Results

A dopester can be fairly sure of the outcome of all but the last game. In the first round, Central should have an easy time eliminating Arcola and the New Haven five will probably eliminate Maumee township.

In the evening games South Side's varsity should be able to trounce Lafayette Center as the Green reserve team serve team swamped that quintet several weeks ago, and Monroeville looks better than Leo.

Harlan and Huntersville, both of which drew a bye in the first round, will meet the first thing Saturday morning, and the odds favor the Huntersville boys. Central will again swing into action Saturday morning and should be able to dispose of New Haven without great exertion. South Side and Monroeville will get a rest (Continued on Page 4)

Coach Gilbert Proves Ability By Developing Winning Team

Ward O. Gilbert

"Our coach" has really shown extraordinary ability. Most of the basketball team graduated last spring, but this did not daunt him. Out of a few men of mediocre ability, "Ward" developed a team that is strong and fast, that has wonderful passing and good floor work, and that is an all-around winning combination. Last year, South Side went to state, and the year before the team won the sectional tournament.

Mr. Harris Again in Charge of Sectional Tourney Here

Robert C. Harris

The big man back of both the sectional and regional tournaments at Fort Wayne, is Mr. Harris. He was in charge of both tournaments for the past two years, and managed things so well and delegated authority so carefully, that he was again placed in charge this year. Mr. Harris has a tremendous responsibility in seeing that all arrangements are properly made, that all receive a warm welcome and courteous treatment, and that the finances of the meet are well handled.

VICTORY MARKS
END OF SEASON

Wardettes Defeat Peru in Last Game of Regular Season;
Second Team Sees Action

CURRIE DOES "COMEBACK"

South Side ended the basketball season with a win by defeating Peru Friday in the last scheduled game, 30 to 15. South Side's second team was used during much of the game and as the Green was not pushed to win the game, it played mediocre ball at times. Peru was unable to hit the basket consistently, getting only one field goal during the first half.

South Side jumped into the lead at the beginning of the game and at no time did the Peru team even the count. The Green and White was leading at the half by the score of 11 to 4. Peru scored on two free throws and a field goal in the first half. The greatest trouble with the visitors seemed to be in their offensive attack. Although always trailing the Green, Peru played a stalling game when on the offense.

Second Team Starts

Coneh Gilbert started with his second squad, but soon sent his regulars into the game. Simon led in the scoring for South Side with two field goals and three free throws.

Although no individual player showed any unusual ability, the playing of Don Currie was the fastest seen in the game. He covered the floor with lightning agility and had the Peru defense guessing at all times.

Second Half FASTER

Both teams showed an improvement in their playing in the second half. South Side started with a rush and increased their already comfortable lead. Peru fought desperately to overcome the Green's lead, but the South Side defense was impenetrable. In the preliminary the South Side Reserves defeated the Monroeville team by the score of 41 to 18. City Builders

(Inasmuch that Fort Wayne has celebrated its centennial, the TIMES takes this occasion to inform its readers of some interesting facts concerning Fort Wayne's business and civic institutions that have helped to make the city what it is today. Ed. Note)

C. C. Schlatter Hardware Company

Early in the seventies, C. C. Schlatter, a boy out of school, learned to make four-penny nails, stay in brown-paper parcels without sticking through and also how to make a one-figure pay envelope stretch over an appetite that seemed ever growing. With one hundred percent push he tackled every job which helped him up his ladder of success.

In 1882, Mr. Schlatter left the firm of Morgan and Beach for whom he had been working, to start a store with a partner. One year later he bought out his partner and formed a co-operative corporation, which gives each clerk opportunity to buy as much stock in the company as he chooses.

Ever after this time his store made a steady rise in business by insisting on a competent force to wait on the public. He also demanded that all his employees have character, personality, honesty, and a smile for the public.

After many years of successful business, Mr. Schlatter died and the business responsibility was transferred to his son, Harry Schlatter, who is president and also the treasurer of the company. Mr. Schlatter is carrying on the same business principles as those of his father. The business has now grown to such an extent that the concern does wholesaling of hardware as well as retailing. They have a large storehouse on Superior street. The Schlatter company has traveling salesmen selling hardware within a seventy-five mile radius of Fort Wayne.

The officers of the C. C. Schlatter Hardware company are: Harry Schlatter, president and treasurer; J. C. Tricer, vice-president, and O. E. Richard, secretary.

Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette

The Fort Wayne Journal was established in December, 1868, by Thomas S. Taylor and Samuel T. Hanna, as a republican newspaper. Later owners were Clark Fairbanks and Judge Samuel Ludlum, Senator Thomas J. Foster, C. H. Eyansides, and M. V. B. Spencer.

The early publishers of the Journal considered their financial troubles a bit too heavy for individual owners, so a stock company was organized by Mr. Spencer, G. W. Lunt being named business manager, and George F. Shutt, editor. Shutt was succeeded by William P. Cooper and Mr. Lunt by Samuel Miller. Miller was succeeded by Colonel Charles A. Zollinger and Christian Bosker.

The Journal was purchased in June, 1890, the Gazette was absorbed by the Journal, both being issued as the Journal-Gazette, democratic. In 1917 the Journal-Gazette was sold by Andrew J. Moynihan, Martin H. Moynihan and Elizabeth Moynihan to Lew G. Ellingham and Edward G. Hoffman. Since then Mr. Hoffman sold his interest to Mr. Ellingham.

It is interesting to note that Lewis Wiley, the general manager of the New York Times, was once a reporter on the Journal-Gazette. Claude Bowlers, now principal editorial writer on the New York World, was once editor of the Journal-Gazette.

Recently the Journal purchased a Goss press for $90,000. Improvements have been made on the building now occupied by the Journal.

Two Basketball Trophies to Award
Winner of City Court Championship

William C. Rastetter

Storm Trophy

F. Storm

Two trophies, one silver and one bronze, will be presented the winner of the city high school basketball championship, a title that will probably be determined in the sectional tournament when Central and South Side meet in the final game.

These trophies are the bronze cup presented by William C. Rastetter in 1923 and the Storm award offered one year later. If South Side wins, it will gain permanent possession of the Rastetter cup. This would make the third Rastetter cup in possession of the school, as the football trophy was won last fall by the third straight win over Central and the Times cup was presented after the paper took first in the United States in 1924.

The Rastetter trophy, a three-year cup, was presented to the Fort Wayne high schools in 1923. The South Side high school has retained it for two years by defeating Central high school in the net games of both seasons.

The cup was presented by Mr. Rastetter to encourage the development of clean characters and sports. He will give a trophy for each sport as long as competition between the two schools retains its present fairness and sportsmanship.

Those on the team in 1923 were Wilkens, captain; Englehart, Fromuth, Norris, Wyss, Parker, Plasterer and Mayer. The 1924 team was composed of Wilkens, captain; Willson, Rahe, Currie, Norris, Wyss, Thiele, Brubaker, Wiener and Fromuth.

The Storm trophy was presented to the high schools of Fort Wayne in 1924, and South Side walked off with the honors. This trophy is to be given to the school that wins three years in basketball. South Side will try her best to get this basketball-shaped trophy. A win this year will give South Side two "legs" on the cup, while a defeat will put South Side and Central on an even basis.

TEN TEAMS WILL COMPETE IN LOCAL SECTIONAL MEET

Saturday morning as the result of drawing a bye.
Sunday afternoon will probably see Central playing Huntertown, with the done forecasting the elimination of the five from the county fair town.
South Side is picked to stop the further advance of Monroeville at the Green reserves beat this team last Friday, 41 to 18. This process of elimination, if carried out, will leave Central and South Side in the running for the sectional championship. The outcome of this game is the hardest to forecast.

Both Teams Strong
Each team has won one game from the other, and each game has been won under such circumstances that the rosters of neither school have been downcast. The first game was won by Central by a margin of seven points, but South Side rosters can point out the fact that Currie was confined to his bed with illness at that time and several other members of the team were not in the best of condition.

The second encounter was won by South Side, 22 to 19. Central supporters attribute their loss to the absence of Diehl from the lineup because of illness, and to the injuries to Leonard and Jasper, both of them being slowed down.

At the present time, all the certified players of both teams are in excellent condition, and the players formerly ill have taken part in recent games and are confident they have not gone back because of their illness.

Pick South Side
Though the margin of victory will be close South Side fans are picking the wearers of the Green and White. Their main reason for expecting victory is the great improvement shown in the team work of the South Side team. The team has shown steady betterment in this department of the game, which in turn has led to better shooting and more effective defense.

On the other hand, Central, though better than South Side in the first game, has not shown as much improvement as the Green and White aggregation, and, in fact, in several of her more recent games, has not played as good a game as they did at the first of the season.

Brubaker, DuWan, and Thiele are picked as sure starters, with the choice of floor guard lying between Sprunger and Currie, and with Rahe and Willson as the nominees for the other forward position. Sprunger has seen more action lately than Currie, because of the illness of the latter, but Doc showed in the Peru game that he has lost none of his old speed and craftiness. Willson has been hitting the bases well lately but is about on par with Rahe.

Tourney Management
The sectional tournament this year will be managed entirely by South Side high school teachers as officials.

Mr. Harris, as principal, has signed the contracts for the tournament, and is directly responsible for the way it will be carried out. Mr. Greeley, as in former years, will be in active charge of the arrangements and the pre-tourney ticket sale. Mr. Makey will be in charge of the ticket sale while the tourney is going on. Miss Harvey will be in charge of the information desk. Mr. Whelan will act as timer and Mr. Schmalzried will be the official scorekeeper. Most of these teachers have been carrying on like duties during the regular season.

Housed at Home
The teams will receive their noon and evening meal Saturday in the cafeteria, the meal being served under the direction of Miss Alma Dixon. None of the teams will be housed in Fort Wayne either Friday or Saturday night, as they have accepted the offer of four cents a mile for transportation home instead of over-night accommodations.

CLUBS ROTATE TO SELL ARTICLES AT TOURNEYS
Central will be in charge of decorating and selling concessions of the sectional tournament and South Side will take care of these things at the regional meet, according to arrangements made by the local high schools.

For this week's tourney Central will have charge of the decorating, P. T. A. cafeteria and concessions and the special issue of the Spotlight will be on sale.

South Side will assume the same duties next week for the regional and will also sell a special edition of the Times.

To Teach History By New Method
Instead of reciting, the pupils of the history classes at the Central high school of Evansville, Ind., will first study their assignment thoroughly. They will then explain by written outline, table map, pictures, or anything they think best, the assignment read. It is thought that by this method students will get a greater and more thorough knowledge of their lessons.

FREE! FREE! FREE!
How about a few snapshots for the Totem? A scene around school, a picture of your "gang," a funny snap of you or any of your school friends will be just the thing. If you haven't any, why not take a few now? Over the week-end will be a very opportune time. Here are a few directions. Take the pictures. Turn in the roll of film to some members of the Totem staff. They will then be developed at the Totem's expense, your original films paid for and the negatives returned to you.
Since snapshots make up one of the most interesting features in a year book, this is a fine chance for you to help make the 1925 Totem the best yet. Of course we all want it to be that, so make your friends "smile" and "look pretty" for a snap for the Totem.

Leo, Despite Handicaps, Enters Hard Fighting Team in Tourney

Leo high school must be respected for the courage of its convictions. It is convinced that its players will make a creditable showing on the hardwood at the sectional. Even though it may go down to defeat, its plucky fight against odds will win friends.
Leo has no gym and no place at home to practice. Out of an enrollment of 75, it has a total of forty-five boys from which to draw material for its team. Leo did not enter last year, but this year, due to the able coaching of K. R. Zent, Purdue, '24, it has made a big improvement over last year and about fifty proud rooters will follow the royal purple and white to the sectional.

The season's record is as follows:
Leo 10, Roanoke 25.
Leo 9, Roanoke 37.
Leo 23, New Haven 29.
Leo 13, Monroeville 15 (overtime)
Leo 18, Lafayette Center 25.
Leo 13, Monroeville 60.
Leo 30, Woodburn 12.
Leo 17, Harlan 18 (overtime).
Leo 23, Huntertown 31.

STAFF PLANS TO PUBLISH TEN-PAGE ISSUE OF TIMES

Times Will Be Sold at Regional; Spotlight Has Monopoly for Sectional

A ten-page edition of the Times for the regional tournament is now the object of the Times staff. Cuts of contending teams, their records and as much dope as can be procured, cartoons, the music and words of the new school song and other interesting cuts will help make this issue, larger than ever before attempted, a real success. This larger edition has been made possible because of the excellent co-operation of the advertisers.
The Times' regional special will be sold at the regional tournament, while the Spotlight will be sold at the sectional.

U. S. A'S WILL INITIATE NEW MEMBERS TODAY

Miss Pittenger Will Give Talk on Girls; Club Gains Seventy Members

The regular recognition and an informal initiation of the new U. S. A. members will be held at the meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock. After the initiation service Miss Pittenger will give a talk concerning girls. Lennie Jenkins will give a piano solo. Game will be played after the program. All the new members are asked to be present.

During the Girl Reserve campaign for membership the U. S. A. club took in seventy new members, making a total of one hundred and fourteen members of the club. Those who joined are: Lennie Allen, Dalm Anderson, Wanda Barker, Katherine Blackwell, Jeanette Blough, Martha Boucher, Druella Brown, Dixie Buchanan, Ruth Cavender, Catherine Childers, Alice Collier, Mary Cooke, Kathryn Dancy, Averda Duffenbaugh, Ruth Duggins, Grace Dyer, Melba Fannon, Grace Gaskill, Evelyn Goddard, Dorothy Groen, Kathryn Gutermuth, Rosanna Haven, Margaret Hemrick, Mildred Tolzwarth, Dorothy Horton, Betty Hutchins, Bernice Jenkins, Dorothy Jones, DeVona Kaehr, Nondie Kaylor, Florence Kendrick, Thelma Keener, Virginia Kinrick, Ruth Kohle, Lucile Lindeman, Margaret McCreary, Ruth McGuire, Hester Meek, Bernice Mercer, Alice Miller, Louise Newell, Dorothy Niebergall, Mildred Nicholas, Dorothy Oren, Olive Price, Katherine Pepper, Ethel Raney, Betty Ray, Helen Richle, Jeanette Rickie, Dorothy Rinehart, Esther Robinson, Germain Royhan, Virginia Risher, Caroline Ryberg, Maricle Roth, Gladys Roker, Hilda Sellers, Mabelle Shook, Helen Smith, Thelma Smith, Donna Snyder, Dorothy Underwood, Ruth Waldrop, Lucile Waltenburg, Betty Walters, Helen Weir, Ruth Wendall, Mary White and Wanda Worman.

Sport Shorts

Season tickets are $1.50. A person will not only save fifty cents by buying one of them, but will make sure of getting to see the final game, which will undoubtedly be between Central and South Side. If all the schools take their allotment of tickets, no general admission tickets will be sold. SO GET YOUR SEASON TICKET TODAY.

And don't forget to wear your basketball badge. Green and White colors show that you back the school in general, but a basketball badge shows that you are boosting the team IN PARTICULAR.

In other words, buy a season ticket and spend part of the difference.

Huntertown, New Haven and Arcola are hoped to put up the stiffest competition from the schools outside of Fort Wayne.

Wonder how the rivalry will be when a third high school is built here in our fair city. It'll be the eternal triangle then.

Just think, the seniors were picked to win the class tournament and were humbled by the freshmen. Perhaps it's a good omen that the Green just CAN'T be beat.

In the Central-Wabash preliminary, the Central reserves trimmed Arcola. As the Arcola boys knew at that time that they would have to play the Central varsity in the opening game of the sectional six days later, the fans wondered what they were thinking. Sad, sad thoughts, probably.

Every session of the Fort Wayne sectional will attract a host of Fort Wayne rooters. Central plays Friday afternoon and South Side Friday night, then, if everything goes right, Central will play Saturday morning, Central and South Side in the afternoon and both teams again Saturday night. Because of the lucky break in the schedule drawing, the sectional meet should be a financial success. This doesn't mean that a fortune will be made, but it does mean that South Side will not go in the hole as it might have done if Central and South Side had met in the first or second round.

Remember to get that season ticket TODAY.

The finals in the sectional will come on March 7, not March 17, but there will be plenty of the "Wearin' o' the Green" just the same.

But wear not only the Green, but a basketball badge to show you're with the team.

Track has gotten under way with daily work-outs. Seventy men came out for the first call and at least twenty more are expected as soon as basketball is over.

It takes more than a heavy snow to stop our track men. However, when it snows, they should be furnished with Eskimo dogs and sleds to make them resemble the Eskimo more closely.

It isn't too early to think of baseball, for the call for candidates will be sounded as soon as the basketball season closes. New uniforms will be ordered soon.

No basketball season will be complete without a senior-faculty game being played. The faculty can put a real team on the floor this year, as such players as Al Heine, Ora Davis, Lundy Welborn, and "Smally" Schmalzried, have been added. The seniors, though beaten by the freshmen, have really a good team. Let's set the date!!! Incidentally, the Totem and seniors need the money.

Central Tigers Thirsting for Chance to Spring Upon Green to Win City Title for First Time

Reading left to right: Mark Bills, assistant coach; Murry Mendenhall, coach; Hank Kowalczyk, captain; Jasper, Nobles, Morrill, Buck, Wolf, Baker, Diehl, Scott.

The Central high school basketball five has finished one of the most successful seasons recorded in the history of Central's basketball teams. The Blue and White quintet has lost but four games this year, getting a late start because of ineligibility. The Central squad, made up of two and three year veterans who have played together for one or two years, formed one of the smoothest machines for passing and scoring ever witnessed by Fort Wayne fans. Central will be one of the strongest contenders for the sectional championship here and will give South Side plenty of competition. The downtown team is composed of tall, brawny men and the aggregation is well balanced in size and speed.

"MAKE-UP" CLASS SERVES LUNCHEON

Bookkeeping Student Celebrate Made-Up Work by a Party in School.

Enlarging on the statement, "We ought to serve lunch to the many people staying the ninth period," made by Mr. Huddleston, a teacher of the commercial department, the students staying for him the ninth period February 26 served lunch in Room 24.

Having been compelled to stay in order to make up back work, the beginning bookkeeping class had had a regular session every ninth period during the week. At one of these sessions Mr. Huddleston made the suggestion, "We have such a large crowd here, it would be nice to have a tea party."

The following ninth period found the teacher's and students' desks laden with all kinds of cake, fruit and candy. A "help-yourself" method was used and "a good time was had by all," said Mr. Huddleston.

Though Central was unexpectedly defeated by Portland last Friday, the Blue went wild against Wabash Saturday and piled up the tidy total of 50 points to the Yellow's 13.

With two of our teachers, Lundy Welborn and Ora Davis, looking the referee's whistle in the Columbia City sectional tournament, South Side is making a bigger splash than ever in the basketball world.

The little teams that enter the tourney, though fairly sure of defeat, will be sitting in velvet when the tourney proceeds are divided. As half of the profits will be divided evenly among the teams, the eight out-of-town schools will get an ample check in return for their auto ride and brief appearance on the hardwood.

It is during these days that students realize that it takes one hundred cents to make one dollar. But one hundred and fifty cents will be enough to pay for 360 minutes of basketball. Cheap enough!!!

Luckily cough drops are cheap. Teachers know they are, so don't come to class Monday with the alibi that you are so hoarse from rooting that you can't recite.

On to the Regional!!!
Then on to the State!!!

WHITE TEAM TAKES LEAD IN ART CLUB MERIT WORK

Mabel Fell and Dorothea Kohlmeier Give Discussions at Latest Meeting of Art Club

The White team of the Art club, with its total of 625 points, has a big lead over the Green team with its 415 points, earned by the merit system, it was revealed at the Art club meeting Monday afternoon.

Talks were given at the meeting by Mabel Fell and Dorothea Kohlmeier. Mabel Fell discussed Egyptian art and Dorothea Kohlmeier told of the carving of General Lee and the Confederate soldiers that Gutson Borglum, the sculptor, was making on the side of a mountain in Georgia.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 16.

ENTERTAINED BY LOTTIE DIGNAN

Times Candy Seller Spills Money Box In Front of Door at Room 20.

Miss Lottie Dignan delightfully entertained a large crowd at school last Friday night after the Peru game.

After half the crowd had dispersed, Lottie Dignan and her assistant entertained the other half by spilling the money they had taken in from selling candy and ice cream, at the feet of the remaining people. Then started the grand search. As the light was dim, and the pennies the color of the linoleum, it was very difficult to see them. Miss Harvey, hearing the jingle of the coins, stepped out of Room 20 to see what was going on.

By this time Lottie and a few others were stooping down, searching for the far scattered pennies, nickels and dimes. When Lottie saw Miss Harvey she turned redder than a beet. Although most of the money was regained, it is very probable that some layed beyond recovery.

BEAT SECTIONAL ENTRIES

South Side Reserves this year hung up a real record toward which future second teams may strive. In its season of twelve games it has defeated every team on its schedule except the Central's Tigers, who managed to pull the first game away from them.

The boys on the reserves have defeated most of the teams scheduled to play in the sectional tournament as well as many others. They have scored an average of two points to their opponents' one.

Most of the second team games were played at home as preliminaries to the feature games of the evening. The results of the seconds' games are:

S. S. Res. . . 14	Huntington Res. . . 13
S. S. Res. . . 30	Garrett Res. . . 7
S. S. Res. . . 26	Columb. City Res. . . 15
S. S. Res. . . 37	Woodburn . . . 25
S. S. Res. . . 37	Lafayette Center . . . 30
S. S. Res. . . 28	Central Res. . . 25
S. S. Res. . . 38	LaOtto . . . 15
S. S. Res. . . 60	Harlan . . . 25
S. S. Res. . . 33	Central Res. . . 25
S. S. Res. . . 24	Arcola . . . 10
S. S. Res. . . 58	LaOtto . . . 12
S. S. Res. . . 41	Monroeville . . . 18

No Chance

I remember a cold, stormy night this year when my best girl Chum and I decided to go to the basketball game, which had been talked about so much, and we wondered whether it would really be one of those fast games or would the boys be slow and drowsy as we had seen them a couple of times before.

Well, my friend and I braved the storm and hustled for the gymnasium. As I told you a minute ago and when we passed the "Greasy Spoon" we noticed that it was way too early for the game to start so we stepped into the Star Confectionery and we heard a lot of fellows talking about the game and they said that it would be a dandy fracas and that the crowd would be so big that we would have a hard time to get a seat if we didn't go right over.

So my pal nudged me and we ran out but when we got to the gym we found that we were the first ones there and my friend looked around and I saw that she was worried because her face became so white and I said, Oh, Gert, why is it that your face is so white and she looked back at me and said, I'm afraid that we are going to lose this game because the odds are against us already, and I said, what on earth do you mean and she choked and her eyes, blinked and her whole anatomy shook as she managed to say, We haven't got a chance to win as even the bleachers are in tiers and so we both sobbed.

New Haven Comes to Tournament With Hopes For High Record

New Haven High School Basketball Squad

Top row, left to right: A. M. Tuttle, coach; Lloyd Arnold, Harry Frick, Kunderd, Clement Blaising, Ernest Hyser, Chester Rhodes, Walter Schnitker. The regular five is composed of Hyser, who is rounding out his fourth year on the team; Schnitker and Douglas Blaising, who have been on the varsity three years, and Erick and Rhodes, who are playing their first year. The first team averages a little better than 150 pounds.

Last year the New Haven fans bought about 40 season tickets, but this year they expect to come in bigger numbers this year unless the draw today places them against Central or South Side early in the meet. The season's record is as follows: Oct. 24—New Haven 29, Leo 23; at New Haven. Oct. 31—New Haven 31, Huntertown 22; at Huntertown. Nov. 7—New Haven 19, Churubusco 8; at Churubusco. Nov. 8—New Haven 25, South Side Reserves 26; at New Haven. Nov. 14—New Haven 25, Arcola 10; at New Haven. Nov. 21—New Haven 21, Monroeville 10; at New Haven. Nov. 26—New Haven 14, Union Center 47; at Union Center.

Between 30 and 40 boys are enrolled in the school. A. M. Tuttle, a 1923 graduate of Butler college, is coaching the team. Last year he was assistant coach at Mt. Comfort, the winner of the Hancock sectional and county tournaments.

Alumni News

Louise Allison, '24, spent last week in Bloomington, the guest of Dorothy Bennett, who is attending Indiana University.

Nina Richardson, '24, has accepted a position at the Lincoln National Life and began her work there last Monday.

Mary Hall, '23, has enrolled in a night course at the comptometer school. In the daytime, Mary is employed at Bowser's.

Louis Norris, '24, Roland Mackwitz, '24, and Jack Gilliom, '23, all of whom are attending Northwestern University, will be initiated soon into the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, a national fraternity. All of these boys were formerly popular students at South Side. "Louie" was a basketball and football star, Times and Totten sports editor. Roland Mackwitz was vice-president of the '24 class and one of the leading characters in the operetta, "The Gypsy Rover." Jack Gilliom can be remembered as an active member in the musical clubs and one of the principal cast in "The Bells of Beaulieu."

Mary Meel, '24, left last week for Ann Arbor, Mich., to visit her uncle, who is vocal instructor at the University of Michigan.

Vera Stevens, '24, who is attending Muncie State Normal, spent last week-end at home, the guest of parents and friends.

Helene White, '24, has a leading part in the play, "His Best Investment," to be given by the Simpson Dramatic club at the Emmaus hall, March 12. Helene has appeared in several plays this winter, which were put on in Fort Wayne and surrounding towns by the Dramatic club.

Naomi Crummitt, '24, who has a position at the Lincoln National Life, is taking a night course at the Central high school in sewing and art.

Miss Brigham, head of the French department, has formed a class of some of her former students. The class is meeting Friday evenings at Miss Brigham's home, and at present is reading LeMondé ou L'ou S'ennuie. The following people have enrolled in the class: Ethel Masterson, Annalisa Hoaglund, Edna Henderson, Fitzhugh Granger, Deane McAfee, Dorothy McDougal, and Catherine Roe.

Present Dutch Play
"Windmills of Holland" is an operetta which the Junior High of Kearney, Nebraska, is going to present. It is to be strictly Dutch, with starched clothes, wooden shoes, and windmills.

GREELY SEES ALL GREEN'S CONTESTS

Attends Total Of 114 South Side Games In Three Years' Time.

Philip Greely, business manager of the South Side athletic teams and mathematics teacher, has attended every athletic contest in which South Side has ever participated in its three years of existence. In these three years, South Side has played 23 football games, 73 basketball games, including all the tournament games, and 18 baseball games. This makes a total of 114 athletic events in which a team representing South Side has taken part, and at which Mr. Greely has been present, serving in the capacity of ticket taker, door-keeper, official at the games, and general official of tournaments. He has been as far east as Monroeville, as far north as Shelbyville, and as far south as Shelbyville.

Mr. Greely says: "I have never missed a game in which a South Side team has played. So far as I know no one else has a record approaching mine. When I do miss a game, I think the Times should print my picture."

Schools' Colors

The colors of all the teams that are playing here in the sectional tournament, with the exception of Woodburn, are listed below, so that rooters when they see colors will know whose they are:

Central—Blue and White.
Arcola—Green and White.
Harlan—Blue and White.
Huntertown—Orange and Black.
Lafayette Center—Purple and White.
Leo—Purple and White.
Monroeville—Blue and Gold.
New Haven—Purple and Gold.
South Side—Green and White.

FACULTY HELPS CHECK ATTENDANCE IN ROOM S

Different Teachers Take Roll Each Month; Mr. Greely Has Seventh Period Permanently

Because of the many duties Miss Chapin has in the session room, the teachers help in checking up the attendance of the students. The teachers are changed every month, although some teachers whose duties are lighter than those of others spend more time in the session room. Mr. Greely, because of his basketball work, has fewer classes than some of the other teachers and is appointed for the session room the seventh period every month.

Last month the checking was done by Mr. Schmalzried, Mr. Makey, Mr. Davis, Mr. Rothert, Miss Esarey, Miss Brigham, Mr. Greely, and Mr. Schafer. This month that duty is attended to by Mr. Virts, Miss Kiefer, Miss Thorne, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Heine, Miss Work, Mr. Greely and Miss Oppelt.

Next month's checking will be taken care of by Mr. Virts, Miss Rinehart, Miss Miller, Miss Demaree, Mr. Welborn, Miss McCloskey, Mr. Greely and Miss Thorne. In April those in charge will be Mr. Virts, Miss Fish, Miss Burns, Miss Crowe, Mr. Welborn, Miss Fiedler, Mr. Greely and Miss Thorne.

The last month of this semester will have Miss Smeltz, Miss Paxton, Miss Bert, Mr. Murphy, Miss Perkins, Mr. Gordy, Mr. Greely and Miss Woodward to check up on the students during their study periods.

These teachers also take care of the session room when Miss Chapin is busy with other duties.

Ten Commandments

1. Thou shalt not quit.
2. Thou shalt not alibi.
3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
4. Thou shalt not be a rotten loser.
5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.
6. Thou shalt not ask odds thou art unwilling to give.
7. Thou shalt always be ready to give thine opponent the shade.
8. Thou shalt not UNDER-estimate an opponent, nor OVER-estimate thyself.
9. Remember the game is the thing and that he who thinks otherwise is a mucker and no true sportsman.
10. Honor the game thou playest for he who playeth the game straight and hard wins even when he loses.

SOUTH SIDE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL PLAYERS

Branning Rahe DuWan Sprunger Weiner Brubaker Willson Lighthill Currie Fleming Thiele —Courtesy Journal-Gazette.

After a season of strenuous competition for berths on the team, Coach Ward O. Gilbert has named the men who will represent South Side on the hardwood during the sectional and regional games.

Only eight men may be entered in the sectional play, according to the rules of the Indiana High School Athletic association, but ten may be entered in the regional. The eight who will cavort in the sectional meet are: Brubaker, Currie, DuWan, Rahe, Sprunger, Thiele, Weiner and Willson. Simon and Branning are the two additional men to enter the regional.

Though these men have been chosen to wear the school colors for the tournament they have been aided in practice all winter by playing against the reserve team which contains some material that will be ready to step out for the varsity berths next year. The above picture shows the men who have formed the backbone on the first and second teams this year. They are, in order:

Charles Brubaker

Brubaker, the captain of the 'Fightin' Green, has been in every game of the season, playing with the old Brubaker fight. Chuck, on account of his speed, is called the "Flash of the Hardwood." This is his last year on the team.

Phil Rahe

Rahe has stepped out from a substitute's position last year to a place on the first eight. Though not of great poundage, he covers the floor with lightning speed and has a keen eye for the basket. He is a junior.

Gerald DuWan

Gerry came to South Side highly heralded and proved that prophecies sometimes do come true. He is a steady center and plays a consistent floor and shooting game. DuWan will be able to strut his stuff for the Green one more year.

William Thiele

Thiele, at backguard, has played a superb brand of ball this year. He has few equals on high school teams. His ability to stop two men at the same time has been the explanation of the low scores of the opponents of the Wardloites.

James Willson

Jimmy Willson is an essential part of the offense of the Green. Because of his speed he has been dubbed the "Lightning Bug." He has a dead eye for the basket from at the mid-range. He'll be in action again next year.

Noble Sprunger

This year Sprunger, a junior, came out for basketball for the first time but it did not take him long to find place on the varsity. He appears to be all over the floor at once and is in on most every play, both defense and offense.

Malvin Richendollar

Richendollar, a forward, is perhaps the scrappiest of a team of fighters. His heavy shoulders and speed carry him through most defenses for accuracy under-the-basket shots. Rich, however, often forgets he is not on the football field.

Jack Lighthill

Jack Lighthill, the sophomore flash, is an efficient man on the hardwood and also on the gridiron. He shows much fight, and will be of great value to the team next year.

Don Currie

Doc has played in tough luck this season, being ill during some of the most important games, but in his recent come-back he has shown that he has lost none of his old speed of foot and accuracy. He's always in the thick of the action.

Robert Fleming

Robert Fleming is a dead eye for the basket. This is his first year in high school basketball and will benefit much by experience gained this season. He will be back next year.

Chris Branning

Chris made up for lost time when he got on the squad at the beginning of the second semester for he has been rolling them through the hoop with such regularity that Gilbert picked him as one of the first ten.

Richard Weiner

Dick has been showing his stuff whenever he alternated with DuWan at the pivot position. Though not as husky as Gerry he is a dangerous man on offense and a good man on defense. He'll be back again next year.

FROSH I, JUNIORS MEET IN FINALS

Seniors and Sophomores Lose Out in First Round of Tourney

FROSH HOPE ARE GOOD

Finals of the interclass tournament were played by the freshmen I and juniors last Tuesday, March 3.

The first round of the tournament was staged Friday, February 27. The seniors and sophomores who were hoped to meet in the finals lost to the freshmen II and the juniors. The upper-classmen were defeated by an 18-16 score and the sophs by a 27-10 verdict. The freshmen I handed the reserves a 25-17 defeat.

Senior-Freshmen II Game

The freshmen were the first to upset the dope bucket when they defeated the seniors, 18 to 15 in an exciting contest. The seniors led at the half, 11 to 5, but the freshmen came back strong in the second period, making all long shots count. Jason Gerig and Dick Bell starred for the freshmen, each counting four times from the field. Good guarding was featured by Fay.

Lineups and summary:

Substitutions—Klein for Newman, Newman for Klein.

Junior-Sophomore Game

The juniors also upset the dope when they ran away with the sophomores by a score of 27 to 10. Fleming went wild and counted six times from the field and five times from the foul line. Welch and Garwood also contributed to the scoring. Schmidt played a good game at guard. Distel and Wambagans were closely guarded throughout the whole contest.

CENTRAL SQUAD ENDS SEASON WITH VICTORY

Tigers Swamp Wabash in Slow Game; Pile Up 50-13 Score

The Fighting Tigers of Central ended their regular season last Saturday night in a fitting manner by swamping Wabash under a whirlwind attack by a 50 to 13 score.

The Tigers started off with a rush that completely overwhelmed the visitors, and there was no question about the outcome from the opening minute to the end of the game. Every man on the Blue squad was connecting with the basket during the entire game. Jasper lead the Blue scorers with seven field goals. Diehl found the basket the second half and put three through the hoop. This was Diehl's first appearance on the home floor since he recovered from his recent illness.

Wabash showed some fight the first eight minutes of play but was soon checked by the onslaught of the Tigers. Wabash was probably one of the weakest teams Central has played this year. Wabash had no defense and not much offense.

Lineups and summary.

Wabash (13)

Vice.....F.....Morrill
Bellock.....F.....Baker

Free throws: Vice, Bellock, Cornell, Morrill 3, Scott, Kowalczyk 2, Jasper 2, Diehl 2.

Freshmen I-Freshmen II, Game

The freshmen I defeated their little brothers by a score of 26 to 14 in the second round of the tournament. Summers and Smith were high point men for the winners while Bennett and Bell looked best for the losers. Szink played a good defensive game. Newell also played well. The absence of Captain Gerig and Fay was felt considerably by the freshmen II. It would have been a close score had these two players been in the lineup.

Lineup and summary:

Freshmen I.

Summers.....F.....Newell
Feustel.....F.....Phipps
Szink.....C.....Bennett
Smith.....G.....Rommel
